But Mr. Field contends strenuously that this Act does not apply at all because the patient was not in the first instance, or indeed on the two occasions of admission, admitted as an indigent patient, but as a paying patient. This is undoubtedly true, but when the son ceased to pay there was no other source of income and she forthwith became indignt, and I cannot see that the mere fact of her having been entered as a paying patient and supported for a time by her son changes the facts that at a later period she became an indigent withing the meaning of the Act, and therefore to be maintained by the Municipality of which she was a resident.

The Counsel for the defence further urges that the Township is not responsible because the children are made so by the Parents Maintenance Act of 1921, Section 2. This defence must fail. Assuming that the hospital might have a claim against these children under the Act, they also have an alternative claim against this township, and there is no reason pointed out to deter them from proving against the defendant they may select; apart from this only two of her children are, as above stated, residents of Ontario, and it is not shown that either of these has any property or means by which to support their mother; in fact the contrary is shown. The other children are all resident outside of the province and therefore the Act is not applicable, or enforceable against them.

Notices Not Given.

A further defence is that proper notices were not given to the township. Under section 23, s.s 3 and 4 of the Act—as above stated the son Sidney paid for some time and when the account fell into arrears the Secretary of the Hospital Board wrote some letters to the defendant township calling their attention to the fact and asking for payment, and the objection is taken that these letetrs were signed by the Secretary-Treasurr of the Board and not by the Superintendent of the Hospital as provided by s.s. 3. This may be a good objection as the requirement being statutory should be construed strictly, but I do not think this section nullifies the liability expressly enacted in s.s 1. S.S. 3 must be read with the following s.s 4 with the provisions therein contained.

It is shown, however, that a notice under the Act was sent to the defendant township, signed by C. H. Mason, Secretary-Treasurer, of the hospital, and also by Florence Smyth, Superintendent of the Hospital on December 11th, 1923. No notice in relp thereto to the Superintendent by registered post was given by the Clerk of the defendant township that the patient was not a resident of the municipality. It is said that the Reeve of the Township informally notified the hospital authorities to that effect, but this clause of the Statute, too, if construed strictly, puts the defendant out of court and provides that the patient shall be deemed to be a resident of the township in absence of such reply. It is stated that the Clerk of the twnship in 1923 was a very old man and had instructions to reply but did not do so. This cannot I think help the defendant, as the first written notice disclaiming liability sent was that of March 26th, 1924, Exhibit 11, subsequent to the date of the issue of the writ which was the 24th of March, 1924.

Notices Not Late.

A further defence was that the plaintiffs did not give reasonable notice of the patient being there as an indigent and that therefore the defendant, if liable, would be liable only for charges incurred after the notice, or within a reasonable time before it. I cannot under the circumstances find that the notices were unreasonably late. The plaintiffs' officials were trying to locate the son Sidney and expecting to hear from him, and in my opinion acted with due reason and consideration for all parties concerned.

I think therefore that the defences all fail and that the plaintiff is entitled to recover the full amount claimed $891.00. From this must be deducted $157.50 paid on account by the son Sidney, leaving a balance of $733.50, for which sum, with costs, judgment will be entered. It was agreed that the claim should be considered up to the date of the old lady's death, June 14th, 1924.

It is further agreed on account of prospective absence of Counsel that all proceedings herein shall be stayed to the 1st of October next, and that either side my have twenty days after that date for appealing.

DATED at Peterborough this 9th day of July, 1924.

EDWARD HUYCKE,
Judge

AMUSING CASE COUNTY COURT

Kill-Joy With a Gun Breaks Up Romance on a Moonlight Night on the Norwood Road.

What's the matter with a car ride after the show, even if young couples do pause at the side of the road? But it's a different story if a farmer living nearby crawls up behind your limousine and shoves a revolver right in your romeo's face shortly after you have stopped on the Norwood road on a bright moonlight night just to gaze at the stars.

Such was the experience of a young Peterborough couple about 11.15 p.m. on June 19th last, and the kill-joy who crept up behind with a "gat," just for the sake of adventure, was the main attraction in a more thrilling scene in County Police Court yesterday afternoon when he was tried on a charge of unlawfully representing himself to be a police officer before His Worship Magistrate Langley.

The young juliet in this case was a rosy-cheeked blonde of medium stature, in her late 'teens or early twenties. She was calm and cool in the witness box and related the story of romance and adventure with clarity and precision.

"I picked her up on George street after she got out of the show," the young man explained. "We went for a drive and pulled the car up alongside the Norwood road. It was a bright moonlight night, and after we had stopped for about five or ten minutes I noticed a man about fifty yards behind us crawling on his hands and knees toward the car."

"What did you do then?" asked Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton, K.C.

"I jumped from the front to back seat, followed by my lady friend, and peaked through the glass in the back curtain."

"Then what happened?" he was asked.

"The man, as he drew closer, ran to the side of our car, and as I went to get out he shoved a revolver in my face and insulted us by using profane language."

"Is that all?"

"No; he asked us for the number of our car and our names. I asked him what authority he had for demanding this information. He replied that he could show me a button which would show me a thing or two."

"Did he produce it?" asked Mr. Hatton.

"No; he failed to produce it," the young man declared.

The Crown Attorney urged him to go on and tell what took place.

"Well, I got out and went around to the front of the car to crank it. He laid the revolver on the running-board and asked me for a pencil. My lady friend got behind the wheel to drive, and he picked the revolver up, shoving it in her face and said: 'I want that young chap to drive the car.' He then said: 'I had better go into town with you.' I pressed him to come, but he didn't.

"He then said: 'I will get my own car and you meet me in town at the Monro House.' I told him to meet me at the Police Station, and he replied 'Alright.' He then walked away. We watched him until he had gotten up the road apiece and then drove to town."

"What did you do and where did you go then?" the Crown Attorney asked him.

"I took my car to my own home, walked home with the young lady and came directly to the Police Station. As I saw no car waiting outside I didn't go in."

Mr. J. A. O'Brien, defence counsel, at this stage proceeded to query the witness.

Mr. O'Brien: "What time was it when you and your friend arrived at the scene of this incident?"

Witness: "About eleven or shortly afterwards."

Mr. O'Brien: "Are you and this young lady engaged?"

Crown Attorney: "What difference does it make—they had a right to be there whether they were engaged or not."

His Worship: "This man is charged with impersonation, and what you are asking will throw no light on the case."

The witness was not sure of the time he arrived at his home or at the Police Station. He couldn't even tell when he retired that night. He was not sure of the color of the gun nor did he have a knowledge of pistols, although he saw four years' service in the army.

"Well, did you notice any bullets in the revolver?" asked Mr. O'Brien.

"How could I notice; the gun was right at my nose and I couldn't see down the barrel," he replied.

"I can't tell you the color of his clothes. He was dressed in dark—that's all I know. I was watching his face and his arms," the young man said in answering Mr. O'Brien.

The young lady corrobated her friend's story in every detail and didn't require so much coaching as her escort in giving her evidence.

She, too, though quite explainant in relating the story of the incident, was quite vogue on the question of time.

"How long did it take you to walk with your friend from his home to yours after he put his car away?" asked Mr. O'Brien.

"About ten minutes."

"Did you talk long at the front gate?"

"No; not that night."

"Well, young people usually do," observed Mr. O'Brien.

This witness, too, remembered that it was a bright moonlight night in June when she and her companion were disturbed by a marauder with a gun whom she identified as the accused. Both crown witnesses were agreed as to that and emphatically declared that the prisoner at the bar was the very person who abruptly brought to a close their brief sojourn on the Norwood road amid quite solemnity on the bright June night in question.

But to the accused the whole thing was stupendous, outrageous and ridiculous. He denied any participation in the affair and proceeded to explain that on the evening of June 19th he drove to the city in his car about 7.30 p.m., picked up a couple of friends and motored out through Douro to Nassau, returning to Peterborough at 11 o'clock.

Continuing, he showed that after taking one friend to his home, he and the remaining gentleman partook of a midnight supper in a Simcoe street cafe. His story then outlined the drive to his friend's home, from where he drove to his own home in Otonabee, pausing to converse with an East City resident on Hunter street east on his way. It was 1.05 a.m., he declared, when he retired.

He was very accurate in giving his testimony, and had on his fingertips the exact length of time he spent in conversation with the different persons with whom he had been talking. The two friends who accompanied him on the drive through Douro corroborated the accused, and the witness who had lunch with him, during a vigorous cross-examination by the Crown Attorney, never waivered or departed from the defendant's citation of the evening's events. He, too, had a keen memory in matters of time. All three denied ever having been near the vicinity of Norwood road where the alleged impersonation took place.

Provincial Constable N. F. Maker testified that the accused admitted the charge when he served him with the summons to appear.

When asked by the Crown Attorney why he made that statement he replied that he was under the impression that the warrant was the result of a joke he played on a fellow about a month ago.

Mr. Hatton asked: "What was the joke?"

"I don't have to answer that," he replied.

"You answer it or take the consequences," His Worship interjected.

The witness explained that the joke he had mentioned arose over a deal he had with an East City butcher.

Mr. Hatton: "You are on oath and I want to warn you to reply to my questions as truthfully as possible. You have personated a constable on the road before, haven't you?"

Answer: "Yes."

Mr. Hatton: "How long ago?"

Witness: "About two months ago."

Mr. O'Brien objected to the Crown Attorney in going into this matter, but Magistrate Langley curtley overruled the objection, and Mr. Hatton continued to conduct the examination.

Mr. Hatton: "Who did you impersonate?"

Witness: "Constable Boyd."

Mr. Hatton: "You knew Mr. Boyd was a constable?"

Witness: "Yes."

Mr. Hatton: "Did you show your badge on that occasion?"

Witness: "No."

Mr. Hatton, turning to the drive through Douro, asked: "What were you doing around by the canal?"

Witness: "I went in for a swim and the others sat on the shore."

Mr. Hatton: "What did you have to eat in the restaurant?"

Witness: "Ham and eggs and coffee."

Mr. Hatton: "What did your companion have?"

Witness: "I don't remember. He paid for it."

Mr. Hatton: "You have such a wonderful memory, I thought probably you would know."

Mr. Hatton: "You said you always wear a light shirt at night. How's that?"

Witness: "I haven't a dark shirt, that's why."

Mr. Hatton: "Well, when a man goes to the trouble to make an alibi he could change his shirt pretty quickly and his trousers, too, for that matter."

Mr. Hatton: "Have you worn that shirt you have on ever since June 19th?"

Witness: "No; I change my shirt once in a white, don't you? This shirt has been washed three times since."

Mr. Hatton: "You seem to remember fairly well every minute and hour of how you acted on the evening of June 19th."

Witness: "Yes, because a young fellow with two others came to my place on the night of the 20th and accused me holding him up the night before."

Mr. Hatton: "And you called him a liar?"

Witness: "Yes."

Mr. Hatton: "Did you mean he was a liar?"

Witness: "Yes."

Mr. Hatton: "Then why did you go into all this preamble about dates and hours?"

Witness: "I didn't worry about it."

Mr. Hatton: "Well, it worried you enough to prepare a schedule of all that happened on the night before."

Mr. Hatton: "Have you talked the times over with these men (other occupants in the year) since the 19th?"

Witness: "No."

Mr. Hatton: "You never mentioned it."

Witness: "No."

Mr. Hatton: "That is most unreasonable, I think. I would have gone to see them."

The East City butcher with whom the accused declared he had spoken to on his way home on the night of June 19th was called by the defence. He corroborated the accused and his testimony concluded the case for the defence.

At the conclusion of the crown's case, Mr. O'Brien submitted to His Worship that the crown had failed to establish impersonation and asked for dismissal of the charge. He further declared that, granting impersonation, the prosecution could not succeed since there was no evidence before the court showing that the accused was not a police officer.

The Magistrate reserved his decision on the motion for dismissal, and ordered the defence to proceed. Judgment was reserved to 2 p.m. on Monday next.

EAST PETERBORO LOSES IDENTITY

One of Five Constituencies in Ontario to be Wiped Out By the Redistribution Bill.

TORONTO GETS THREE.

OTTAWA, July 12 (Canadian Press).— After many weeks of map-studying, of giving and taking, of the protests of members at the proposed loss of ridings and the merging of others, the report of the Redistribution Committee will be submitted to the House of Commons next Monday afernoon by its chairman, Hon. E. M. Macdonald.

That report will be unanimous as far as the Liberal and Conservative members of the committee are concerned, but four Progressives are dissenting because of riding losses.

Generally speaking, and as outlined in the House when the Prime Minister introduced the Bill at the beginning of the session, there will be 245 seats in the next Parliament of Canada, instead of 235 as at present, or an addition of ten.

The only Province to suffer a loss of seats is Nova Scotia, which must submit to the subtraction of two.

Ontario and Juebec remain unchanged, as also do New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Additions are made in all Western Provinces.

Ontario changes are as follows:

New constituencies, three in Toronto, West Essex, Kenora, and Rainy River, Sorth Temiskaming.

Seats eliminated, East Elgin, Simcoe South, North Ontario, East Peterborough, Lennox and Addington, and Dundas.

The transfer of two townships from Hastings to Peterborough East was one of the chief subjects of discussion in the Redistribution Committee yesterday. Differences narrowed down to one or two points that are difficult of solution.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July — The month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentry, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come on suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WILL TAKE UP GIRL MOVEMENT IN NEW SCOPE

Catholic Women's League Convention Discusses the Girl Problem at Length.

SPECIAL PRAYERS.

Study Clubs to Propagate the Catholic Doctrine in Relation to Civies.

EDMONTON, Alta., July 12 (Canadian Press). — Problems in connection with the work of the Junior Leagues Committee came under discussion at the morning session of the National Catholic Women's League convention.

Apparently difficulty has been experienced in some places, in securing the co-operation of the juniors. With a view to overcoming this, a committee on junior work presented recommendations which were adopted.

Outstanding among this was a recommendation that juniors be given a distinct sub-division of their own, of equal standing to any other subdivision in the diocese and subject to district sub-division by-laws. The scope of the work will be unlimited, but juniors will be urged to take up the girl guide movement, church extension work, and child welfare, and to co-operate with the national executive as far as possible.

Following this discussion centred in girl guide movement and ways and means whereby this could be incorporated in the work of the Catholic Womens League.

Several resolutions were dealt with, and it was decided to recommend formation of study clubs in leagues with the object of studying principally Catholic doctrines and the attitude of the Church to public questions, and afterwards of studying civics.

Unity of prayer for the work of the League will be encouraged, and members will receive Holy Communion once a month for this purpose.

April 26th, Feast of Our Lady of Good Counsel, was set as Catholic Women's League Day in Canada, to be celebrated according to the desires of sub-divisions.

The League pledged itself to raise $3,500 for Sisters of Service work, with the hope that this amount be doubled.

Resolutions expressing gratitude of the League to His Honour Lieut.-Governor Brett and Mrs. Brett for entertainment, and to speakers, hostesses, press, national executive, and others contributing to the success of th econvention were endorsed.

WITH THE FLYERS.

Two Expeditions Girdling World in Opposite Direction.

TOKIO, July 12 (United Press). —The British around-the-world Amphibian plane, piloted by Major Stuart MacLaren, left Kasumigaura to-day for Minato, according to a message from the former city.

The British expedition probably will follow almost exactly the same course taken by the American expedition, which is girdling the world in the opposite direction, flying from Mina to Yettoforu and Paramasiru.

At Paramasiru the expedition will overhaul the big Vickers-Vimy plane preparatory to trying the dangerous hight across the icy North Pacific to Attu Islands.

MUST BE SURRENDER.

Only Terms on Which Government Will Treat With Rebels.

(By U. G. Keener, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 12 —The Government has refused a request of the Sao Paulo rebels for an armistice ,announcing it will accept only unconditional surrender.

"The rebels requested an armistice yesterday. The official Joural Do Commercio said to-day, "but the commander of the Federal forces refused it and sent back this message:

"The Federal forces cannot treat with mutineers, and will accept only unconditional surrender."

All despatches from Sao Paulo today were reassuring, indicating that the Federal troops are gradually gaining ascendancy.

WOMEN'S HANDICAPS.

Headaches and Backaches Often Make Life Miserable.

A woman's health handicaps her almost always. She has pains and disabilities which do not afflict men. Nature does not give her a fair chance. Her blood is more often thin and poor than a man's, and she often neglects the first beginnings of ill-health. Many women who seemed destined to a life of frequent suffering have been freed entirely from their suffering through the wonderful blood-making qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Many a woman toils all day with a pain in her back and side, a burning headache, and a sense of having no spine left.

What a pity women will not listen to their friends whom Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved from their misery. Whenever a woman suffers they will help her—in youth, middle-age and afterlife. Mrs. John Mitchell of Middleville, Ont., gives her experience for the benefit of other women sufferers. She says: "Some years ago I was so badly run down I could hardly walk around the house. I tried to do a few chores but was able to do very little. My boys and husband had to do the rest. If I started up stairs I had to go very slow or I would fall, and I was just played out when I got at the top of the stairs. My head ached terribly, and my heart would beat violently. In this deplorable condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I had finished six boxes I felt much better. Then I got a further supply, and by the time I had taken these I could walk anywhere without being exhausted, the headaches had disappeared and I am now perfectly well. Any woman who is run down should not hesitate to begin Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once, as I am sure from my own experience they will build her up."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CANOE PARTY MISSING.

Three Hundred Take Part in Search on Lake Simcoe.

BARRIE, Ont., July 12 (Canadian Press). — Edgar M. Smith, manager of the Bank of Toronto at Elmvale, Herbert Hoskens, teller in the Bank of Toronto, Cobourg, and and Miss Margaret Murchison, the daughter of D. C. Murchison, of Barrie, and sister-in-law of Mr. Smith, are missing, and are believed to have been drowned in Lake Simcoe near here.

Although search has been made of the shores of the lake and of the islands, no trace has been found either of the missing party or of the canoe in which they set out from Big Bay Point on Thursday afternoon.

Hope of their safety has now been practically abandoned, but the search is being continued by about 300 people, including a number of Boy Scouts, who are on the lookout at Jackson's Point and other places on the lake.

Seven motor boats are being used in the search.

Edgar M. Smith was stationed for some time in Toronto with the Bank of Toronto there. Later he was in Cobourg, and two years ago he was transferred to Elmvale as manager.

HETTERICK GIVES TANLAC CREDIT FOR HIS HEALTH

Well Known Actor Says Medicine Is Best Stomach Tonic.

Frank J. Hetterick, Orpheum Theatre, Montreal, Que., popular assistant director of the Duffy Players, is another member of this celebrated company from whom the Tanlac treatment has elicited high commendation. Mr. Hetterick recently said:

"Never in my life have I felt in better health than now, and it is all due to the wonderful reconstructive powers of Tanlac. Previous to taking Tanlac I had suffered for two years from indigestion and was so run-down I could hardly stand on my feet. My appetite went back on me and I actually dreaded to eat on account of the pain and misery it caused me.

She was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital where her condition is said to be critical.

STREET RIOTING.

Trouble Started Owing to an Alleged Assault on Moslem Boy.

SIMLA, July 12. — Telephone messages report that serious rioting has broken out in Delphi. The trouble started in the great thoroughfare, Chandni Chewk, owing to an alleged assault on a Moslem by a Hindu, a 'dhobt,' or washerman. The crowd threw stones, but was dispersed.

The trouble broke out again, far more seriously immediately afterwards, and the bazaars were closed. The riot spread to the suburb of Sudda—Bazaar, outside of Lahore Gate.

British infatry and armoured cars are patrolling the city, but the rioting had not stoped at 8 o'clock last evening, and the number of persons injured is already large.

PREMIER OF EGYPT SHOT BY ASSASSIN

Zaghul Pasha Dangerously Wounded, But Recovery Is Expected.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 12.—(United Press).—Zaghlul Pasha, Premier of Egypt, was shot and dangerously wounded in a crowded railway station here this morning as he was about to enter a train for Alexandria. He was bidding good-bye to friends when an unknown man, who had wormed his way through the crowd, suddenly drew a small automatic pistol and opened fire.

There was great excitement for a time, and when the police arrived the Premier was lying on the station floor with a bullet in his right lung. He was taken to his home, where physicians made a hasty examination and declared the Premier's condition is satisfactory.

The man who fired the shots was set upon by the crowd and badly beaten before he was rescued by the police and taken to jail. His name could not be learned during the early excitement, nor was there any apparent reasons for his act.

There was tremendous excitement throughout the city, as it was first reported the Premier had been killed.

JULY TWELETH

Welcome Visitors," were prominently displayed at each station. Others than those who came to participate in the walk, hundreds arrived on the early trains to spend the day in Peterboro.

The strains of the Scotch pipers, fife and drum and brass bands provided a merry welcome for the visitors. The paraders could not help but walk with a sprightly step on a bright cheerful morning like today and music in the air.

Large numbers were at both stations to greet their friends. Children were playing about, thrilled by the strange notes of the Scotch pipers and fife bands. As the Orangemen marched from the stations, north on George and east on Charlotte, followed by bands of merry children and adults, vendors of ice cream and soft drinks were calling out their wares.

Messrs. Bob Hendry, Master of Lodge 1175, H. Sunman, Master of Lodge 80, and Geo. McCullough, Master of Lodge 50, were very busy directing their brethren and preparing for the great walk.

The streamers and flags strung across the street on George and Charlotte indicated the celebration aforehand. Everyone entered into the spirit of the occasion, adults and children alike.

CAMPBELLFORD BOY AT ALGONQUIN PARK

McLean Haig Describes Interesting Programme at Ahmek Camp.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 12. — McLean Haig, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. Haig, who graduated in Arts at Queen's University last spring, is now at Algonquin Park, in Ahmek Camp, where an outing for boys is held from 1st July to 15th September under the direction of Taylor Statten, the proprietor.

McLean, in a letter to his parents, gives a sketch of the daily life there.

The camp is divided into troops, and he has charge of one of these, and enjoys the work very much.

The boys rise at 7.30, and after a dip in the lake have breakfast. There is a sing-song at every meal, and this is impressive ,as over 180 take part. Before each meal the boys join in singing "Holy, Holy, Holy," or "Praise God from Whom all blessings flow."

Instruction classes are held every day from breakfast time until eleven o'clock, after which there is a general swim. The classes are addressed by Jack Miner, the famous bird man, and other speakers, who are experts in woodcraft and every form of outdoor life. There is a period of rest after dinner, which is followed by the "love" classes, when the boys are taught their duties to humanity.

Among those at the camp are Alex., son of Dr. F. C. Neal, of Peterborough, and a son of Rev. Dr. Edmiston, formerly of the same city.

Three miles across the lake there is a similar camp for girls, conducted by Mrs. Statten.

McLean Haig will go to Osgoode Hall in the fall to take up the study of law.

Six Hours Late.

The train that was wrecked between Birdsall and Blezzard's on Thursday reached here about 7 o'clock, and no mail was received here until that hour.

Postmaster Owen engaged a special automobile to bring the mail from the station, and singlehanded, as his staff had all left for the day, distributed it, so that at least boxholders who called were able to get their letters and papers.

REGULARS MISSING.

Lakefield Team Unable to Play Complete Line-up So Far.

LAKEFIELD, July 12.—The Lakefield baseball club and their numerous supporters are feeling rather sore at the insinuation in a recent resume of the East Peterborough League games that the village team are playing it "Spark Plug" for the rest of the league. To give a square deal to all the teams and to give barest justice to Lakefield, one must state the fact that in only two games this season has the village team had their full regular line up. Causes which no one could forsee made it impossible for the men to turn out; but they have won two games of the six which they played winning from Mackey's and the first game with Curve Lake. It is expected that for the remaining games the regular team will play and fans and grandstand umpires will be compelled to admit that a victory over Lakefield is hard earned and no walk over.

THE CAMPBELLFORD CHEESE FACTORIES

A Committee to Arrange For Meetings in the Future Was Appointed.

MARKET ERRATIC.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 11.—In response to a call sent out by H. B. Cowan of Peterboro, secretary of the Dairymen's Co-operative Ltd., a meeting of the officials of the various cheese factories in this district was hel din the Public Library. Of the 11 factories affiliated with the U.D.C. as the co-operative is now called, 10 were represented, Trent River being the only one that failed to respond. Before adjournment, it was decided to form an organization and a committee of three was appointed to arrange for similar meetings in the future.

The object of the gathering was to give the officials of the factories an opportunity to discuss the situation criticize and suggest improvements, the service that they are now getting Just as cheese boards in the past have always done.

W. W. Smith, general menager of the U.D.C. with headquarters in Montreal and Secretary Cowan were both present. After Fred Barnum of the Rylstone factory had been elected chairman, Mr. Smith addressed the gathering at considerable length, explaining the work carried on by the organization of which he is head, and giving interesting information with regard to the industry's out look.

The U.D.C. Mr. Smith said was started in a small way five years ago but so far this year its business had amounted to $100,000 a month, an increase of 53 per cent over that of the corresponding period of 1923.

Last week 3,500 boxes were handled and of this less than seven per cent was graded less than No. 1 A factory near Springbrook had made specials two weeks, in succession. Inspection this year is stricter than ever and not one box of No. 2 grade is allowed with No 1's.

The patrons get cold storage privileges at Belleville free of charge. Some factories ship late in the week and their cheese does not reach Belleville until Saturday and has to be kept in cold storage over Sunday. No cheese is graded until it has cooled down.

Producers are asked to co-operate with the management and to ship them chees early in the week so that it may be sold early instead of being carried over for another week.

Market Is Erratic

The cheese market is erratic. The shipments from New Zealand to England last spring were the heaviest since the war. The season here was backward but in spite of these facts the prices in May and the first half of une were good. The U.D.S., Mr. Smith said, was able to hold its own with the Belleville Board for the first half of the year and to beat it out in the second.

Benefit of Low Price

There are about 25,000 boxes of cheese consumed in England in a month when conditions are normal. If the price goes to a shilling a pound or more the consumption falls off but when it is less there is a steady demand for Canadian cheese. Of course the price in England depends upon what the Canadian producer is paid for his cheese.

Exchange Affects Market

The pound sterling is now worth about $4.34.50 cents less than it was before the war. Every time the rate of exchange drops four cents the price of chees in Canada falls one quarter of a cent per pound. If the Pwers ever clean up the mess in Europe and settle their differences with Germany the rates of exchange will become norma land the price of cheese here will go up.

Mr. Moore recommended that the cheese from Campbellford be shipped on Tuesday and that from Havelock on Saturday so as to reach the market on time.

Decide to Organize

Mr. Cowan asked for co-operation on the part of the producers. "You are us and we are you", he said and suggested that meetings similar to the one in progress be held at intervals. This idea was favored by Chairman Barnum and several others and on the motion of J. L. Doherty of the Buckley factory and William Clark of the Trent Valley, a committee of three was appointed to arrange for meetings in the future. This committee consists of William Rannie of Menie, J. L. Doherty of Brickley and Mr. J. Ross of Meyersburg.

Those at the meeting are now selling cheese under new conditions and are apparently satisfied with the change. A number of questions were addressed to Manager Moore and points not before understood by the members, were cleared up.

Appreciate Band

The Northumberland Regimental Band played at a lawn social in Brighton last week and how well toheir music was appreciated can be gathered from the following letter received by Secretary Roy Bell from A. E. R. Jones, manager of the Brighton branch of the Standard Bank and a member of the committee that managed the arrangements for the social.

"Dear Sir—I have much pleasure in enclosing herewith Bank money order for $50 in payment of services rendered at our garden party on the 8th inst. I may say that although your Band was a few men short, the music was more than up to expectations and we are being congratulated from every side and everyone felt that they had received a good deal more than their moneys' worth.

We feel that we would like to make this an annual event for the church and would as you to give St. Paul's church the first consideration for a date in Brighton about the same time next year."

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 12. — (Canadian Press).—With the Canad an crop reported as being curtailed several million bushels daily through lack of rain, wheat made a material fresh up turn in price yesterday. Closing quotations here for wheat, although unsettled, were 7-8 and 1c to 1 3-8c net higher, September. $1.16 3-8 and December $1.19 and $1.19 1-2 to $1.19 3-8. Corn finished unchanged to 3-8c advance; oats 5-8 to 3-4c up, and provisions 5c to 27c gain.

Except for one brief setback, the wheat market kept climbing through out the day. Attention centered almost altogether on the situation resulting from continued dry, hot weather in Canada. One authority here estimated that the probable yield in Canada has been reduced 30,000,000 bushels since July 1, and to his statement acquired heavy emphasis from a Canadian Government report which suggested that the 1924 crop in Canada would bet 143,000 000 bushels less than was harvested last year.

South Dakota and Montana complaints of dry weather tended some what to enhance wheat values and so likewise did a bulge in prices at Buenos Aires, as well as European buying here and at Winnipeg and also at the Gulf of Mexico. On the other hand, the movement of new wheat from the domestic harvest was steadily increasing and a considerable amount of the day's sales appeared to be from hedging.

Acute scarcity of immediate supplies of corn forced July and Septem ber deliveries to a new high price record for the season. No. 2 Yellow here, deliveries on the spot, commanded $1.11 a bushel, another top record.

Hot weather favoring corn growth however, eased December and May.

Oats averaged higher with corn, despite favorable crop news. Provisions, keeping pace with corn and hogs, reached new top prices for the season.

Owing to light receipts the sheep and lambs market was not established.

GERMANS FAKE WHIPPED CREAM

BERLIN, July 12. — The sale of whipping cream, outlawed early in 1914 as a war measure, is again permitted in Germany by government order.

This is the last of the food restrictions to be removed, and within a few days of the announcement every coffee house in Berlin was serving "whipped cream" in such amounts that the health authorities investigated and, it was stated, ascertained that a substitue of white of egg, evaporated milk and other preparations was being used.

Paul In Possession

By RUBY AYRES

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The story thus far:

When John Collinge died, he left behind him his adopted daughter, Wanda Griffin, a headstrong, passionate and overbearing girl, and his son Paul, with whom he had quarrelled, and who had gone abroad.

After the death, Paul comes home for the reading of the will, and to Wanda's surprise she finds she is disinherited, and that he is the heir.

Paul dislikes Wanda intensely because of her behaviour, and tells her she must leave the house immediately; she refuses and, in order to stay there pretends to be ill.

At last matters reach a crisis, and Paul orders Wanda out of the house She goes up to London with Mrs. Garnet, her one friend, with whom she is to live.

The day after she arrives, Clare's brother Harry, the "black sheep" of the family, comes home unexpectedly and falls in love with Wanda. One day Paul comes to see them. He accuses Wanda of being jealous of Clare, and, though she denies it, Wanda knows he is speaking the truth.

TO-DAY'S INSTALMENT.

XXV—PAUL TAKES THE LEAD

It seemed an unconscionable time till Paul turned round again; when he did he was smiling.

"Well, in that case," he said cheerily, "if I've made the unpardonable mistake of imagining you might be even in the slightest degree jealous of Mrs. Garnet, why on earth can't we all be friends together and enjoy ourselves?"

Wanda drew a deep breath. For a moment she could not find her voice, and when at last she succeeded it was jerky and uneven.

"We can, if you like," she said, trying to speak indifferently. "If you really want to take us out, I'll come."

He laughed outright.

"Thank you. I'm duly grateful, and in the meantime, how long do you propose to remain here?"

"What do you mean?"

He explained bluntly. "In this flat. I wonder you can breathe here after Grey Chumleys."

Her eyes filled with tears.

"It's Hobson's choice, isn't it?"

He made no reply, and she went on with an effort.

"Clare is kind, very kind, and she's not well off."

"I daresay you have been very good to her in the past."

"Do you think I can ever be good to anybody?" she asked cuttingly.

"I think," Paul said seriously, "that if you had had a decent upbringing, instead of being shockingly spoilt, you would have been a very charming girl."

"Thank you."

"Not at all." He glanced at his watch. "It's past five. I suggest we all go out and dine somewhere, say, at half-past six, and then I'll get a box for a show."

"Have you told Clare?"

"Not yet. I preferred to tell you."

"You mean us all to come?"

"Certainly. By the way, that fellow—Mrs. Garnet's brother, what is his name?"

"Courtney—Harry Courtney."

"Humph! Well, I've got an idea I've met him before somewhere."

"He didn't seem to recognize you."

"No, that's true. What sort of a man is he?"

"He's been divorced."

Paul raised his brows.

"Anything else against him?"

Wanda laughed; she rather enjoyed trying to shock him.

"A great deal, from what I've heard."

"He's not a fit friend for you, then," said Paul quickly.

"What rubbish! I'm old enough to look after myself."

"I know you think you are."

She frowned impatiently.

"Having grown tired of bullying me, I suppose you're going to try being a father to me. Is that it?"

"Did I bully you? Yes, I'm afraid I did," he added before she could answer. "That was my mistake. I ought to have tried some other way."

"I don't know what you mean," she cried out angrily. "No matter how you have behaved, or what you had done, I should have hated you just the same."

He laughed grimly.

"Would you? Yet at one time you contemplated the enormity of marrying me."

"Clare told you that."

"No, I overheard you say so myself. You have a very clear voice and the windows were open, and I happened to be in the garden."

"That was all nonsense," she protested, though her cheeks were crimson. "I often say things like that without meaning them in the least."

"You sounded sincere enough at the time. What made you change your mind?"

"I tell you I never meant it."

DOESN'T LIKE THE PRESS.

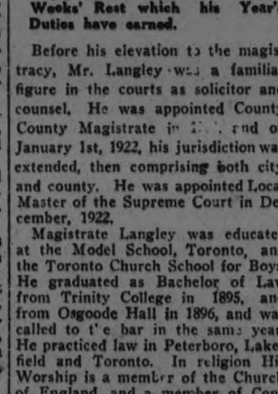
And R. C. M. P. Chief Denounces Movie Representations of His Job.

OTTAWA, July 12 (Canadian Press). — Notices regarding the Royal Canadian Mounted Police were mostly unwelcome, particularly notices from the movies, declared Col. Courtland Starnes, Commissioner of the R.C.M.P., before the twentieth annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada here yesterday.

"If the movies would only be induced to leave us alone" Col. Starnes exclaimed, adding that no individual officer or man stood to gain by praise in the press. He was judged by the work he did and the way he did it. The attitude of the R.C.M.P. toward the press was not hostile, but it was not one of dependence.

MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.



Don't stop saving just because a few investments are unprofitable. Loss of savings is no excuse for extravagance.

By A. W. WARNER
Veteran Financial Writer and Newspaper Man.

It seems as though a successful man ought to be smart enough to keep from getting stung. However, even the rich men and the so-called "captains of industry" make mistakes. Almost without exception a bunch of "cats and dogs" are found in the bottoms of their strong boxes after they die.

The rich man does not quit when he makes a mistake in investing his money. Perhaps that is one reason why he is successful.

After a few mistakes the natural temptation is to blow your money on the theory that it's all lost anyway. However, the best course is to keep on saving, no matter how many mistakes are made.

QUIET MARKET THIS MORNING

Auctioneer Headed Procession on a White Horse.

The farmers' market was without its usual quota of either vendors or customers this morning, at least, in the open section, where dozens of cars were parked against the curbs, several of them decorated with the gay colours of the day.

The auctioneer who usually holds the crowd had transferred his activities to the head of one of the processions, and was riding a white horse instead of exercising his vocal talents over sundry articles.

Strawberries were plentiful on the market this morning, selling generally at two boxes for a quarter, with some of the men disposing of their stock for eleven cents a box. They were good, red berries.

Cherries were 20 cents a quart, watermelon 10 cents a slice, bananas 40 cents a dozen.

Green peas and gooseberries were having a brisk sale, both up and down stairs. Peas in the pod could be bought for 3 quarts for 25 cents, or shelled for 35 cents a quart.

Small, delicate string beans were new arrivals, at 20 cents a quart box, white icicle radish and new turnips, fresh carrots and new beets were a nickel a bunch, and there were enormous lettuce heads at a dime.

New potatoes were 60 cents a peck, a few bags of the old variety selling for $2.25.

The fish man had a small stock, his only noticeable supply being a giant trout from Lake Superior, with immense head, the fish selling at 20 cents a pound.

There was a good deal of fowl on the market. Ducks, weighing 3 pounds and 7 ounces were a dollar apiece, young chickens 45 cents a pound, and older birds 20 and 25 cents.

Butter was selling at 30 and 32 cents a pound, eggs at 28 and 30 cents a dozen.

There were little green plants at one counter, asters at 20 cents each, and flowers were everywhere, roses, pink and whie and red, peonies, and lovely purple Canterbury Bells, frail pale pink Spanish poppies, and baby's breath, all the way from a nickel to fifty cents a bunch.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—The letter of Mr. G. N. Gordon, M.P., in your issue of yesterday states that I was in error when I stated to The Examiner that City Clerk Armstrong had acted as his agent in conveying to Mr. Denne a proposal from Mr. Gordon that Mr. Denne, as president of the Conservative Association, should assent to an acclamation in case Mr. Gordon became a Minister.

The facts are, so far as I am concerned, that Mr. Denne, a well-known Peterborough citizen, and I were standing in front of Mr. Denne's shop when he told me that Mr. Armstrong had spoken to him regarding the matter, and Mr. Denne asked me what I thought of it.

I understand now from Mr. Gordon's letter that Mr. Armstrong made no such inquiry, and was in no way mixed up in the matter at all.

This is a very strange allegation. Am I to understand that Mr. Gordon and Mr. Armstrong deny the truth of Mr. Dennes' statement to me as I give it to The Examiner? Mr. Denne is well able to defend himself, and while I must not do the City Clerk any wrong in the matter until the affair is further cleared up, I must hold to my opinion that Mr. Armstrong did speak to Mr. Denne, surely I can't be expected to declare on the evidence submitted so far that Mr. Denne did not relate the facts. It is a most peculiar case.

Mr. Gordon says he did not instruct Mr. Armstrong to act for him in any way concerning this proposal. Mr. Armstrong says he made no "proposal." Did he make anything else? That point is yet to be cleared up. J. H. Burnham.

These Are "Get There Days" Did You Get a Good Start This Morning?

If Not We Want You to Use Phospho-Cod Just Thirty Days and Get the Surprise of Your Life in the Improvement You Will Make.

These are the days of speed, the "Get There Days." Only a few centuries back it took months to cross the Ocean—now it takes less than a week. Only a few years ago doctors were bleeding poor, starved bodies for almost every ailment flesh was heir to—fever patients were refused water, the sick and ailing were shut up in closed rooms with the windows sealed shut and all God-given air and sunlight carefully excluded. But thanks to modern science and a wise Creator, a few rays of intelligence are now filtering through, and while the knowledge of how to fight disease and death is but in its infancy yet all intelligent medical men admit that prevention is by far the most effective weapon in the fight for better health, strength an physical perfection. A new Tonic Health Building Formula has been perfected which is accomplishing results that are making thousands glad. It has brought absolutely satisfactory results to many who were frail weaklings in search of health and strength who had spent years in trying first one thing then another. We have files full of letters and photographs showing the remarkable improvements of these people and telling of the satisfaction and help they have had from Phospho-Cod—this new Tonic Health Builder—and best of all it is not a secret or patent medicine as we freely give the formula to any one inquiring and publish it herewith and on every package. Phospho-Cod is the name we have given this formula and we make it from a Solution of Hypophosphites of Lime—Sodium—Potassium—Manganese—Juinine and Strychnia together with Iron Peptonate, Blood Root, Wild Cherry, Glycerine, and Rich Port Wine and a tasteless Extract of Cod Livers which has no unpleasant taste, grease or odour.

We Do Not Need to Tell the Well-Informed Physician that this formula is remarkably efficient, for the ingredients speak for it and prove that it is the most effective Body Building, Blood Making and Nerve Vitalizing Tonic ever offered to run-down, ailing men and women. That is the reason we say that if you are not bubbling over with the joy of living we want you to use Phospho-Cod for thirty days and get the surprise of your life in the improvement you will make. It is our belief that with the good, rich, red blood and the powerful, steady, steely nerves others have reported from the use of this splendid tonic that we can rebuild your health as we have done theirs—That we can build up your resistance to disease and all the numerous germs that attack the human body. That you can become strong, vigorous and healthy as your Creator intended you should be. That with increased health, strength and vigour you will become more successful and ambitious with a desire to enjoy life to its fullest. Maybe this doesn't appeal to you, and if that should be so, you have our apologies for having wasted your time in reading this ad. Also, we wouldnt want you to try our treatment, as we think you would not use it fairly, which would make it useless to you and harmful to us, because you cold not recommend it. But if you are sincere and need help such as we have described, go to one of the dealers listed below and start Phospho-Cod to-day with our assurance and guarantee that it will do exactly as we claim, for what we claim, or you may return it and we will pay the dealer ourselves.

PHOSPHO-COD is for sale in Peterborough by Bond's Drug Store; Campbellford, Fred. Wood; Warsaw, A. F. Choate; Norwood, K. G. Thompson; Marmora, J. P. Martin; Millbrook, Henry A. FARM NEWS

HENS CULLED BY O.A.C. EXPERT AS OBJECT LESSON

Twenty-five Per Cent of the 1,900 Examined Were Classed as Poor Layers

LOCAL FLOCKS GOOD.

Demonstrations Were Held on Farms in the District.

Poultry culling demonstrations held recently on sixteen farms in the townships of Smith, Dummer and Otonabee, resulted in the branding of between four and five hundred hens as poor producers and therefore inefficient members of the flocks. Their owners declared their intentions of disposing of most these rejects immediately. Their tails were clipped to mark and single them out from the fowls that corresponded in their lines and contour with the characteristics of the laying types and strains.

The total number of hens examined was around 1900, so that the percentage of culls was about twenty-five. The work covered four and a half days, for which a schedule had been drawn up, by Mr. F. C. McRae of Norwood, local representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Mr. McRae was assisted by Mr. C. M. Huntsman, of the poultry department of the Ontario Agricultural College, who performed the major details of the demonstration. It was arranged that the farmers whose homes were selected for these outdoor poultry classes should invite their neighbours. Their response was most encouraging, the average attendance being from twelve to seventeen persons, some of them women. In fact, a few of the farmers remarked that their wives were the poultry experts on their respective farms. At R. A. Garbutt's farm in Smith thirty persons assembled and this class was one of the best instructed in the whole five days. Valuable assistance was rendered Mr. McRae by the agricultural council of the county.

Places of Demonstrations.

The demonstrations were held at the farms of the following:

In Smith Township.—Walter McKee, Walter Garbutt, Allan B. Mann, David Lewis and R. A. Garbutt.

In Otonabee Township.—S. F. Redmond, Sam. Armstrong, Wm. Nelson, Mrs. Wood, Herb. McFarlane.

In Dummer Township.—George A. Dunsford, Edward Hamblin, David Taylor, Stewart Miller, David Rose.

Tabulated results of the culling were kept. At some places many medium hens were passed. As an example of the rejections Mr. Sam Armstrong's flock of 125 hens was found to include twenty-five whose bodily formation and framework was not built on the lines of hte best producers. It was stated that Mr. Armstrong has been shipping 720 eggs a week from his flock.

Mr. Huntsman's Instructions.

As a poultry specialist of the O.A.C., Mr. Huntsman gave the main instructions. He showed the farmers how to cull the flocks and after the preliminary and general object lessons he coached his classes in doing the work themselves. How to distinguish the layer from the non-layer or light producer was the subject of his introductory talk. Mr. Huntsman divided hens into two body types, one fat and fleshy and round of body, somewhat analagous to the bee type of cattle; and the other, hard to fatten, deeper in the body, more flat-sided, and broader across the back, similar in outline to the dairy cow's lines, reduced to hen-size.

Mr. Huntsman held up the skeletons of hens of these two general classes. One of them in its pullet year had laid 125 eggs and the other 225. The former could not be sweepingly condemned as a poor layer, in view of the statement by the Hon. John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, last winter in Peterboro', that the average production by the hens of this province was seventy eggs a year.

Pigmentation Tests.

Mr. Huntsman went into the pigmentation tests, applying chiefly to the lighter classes such as Barred Rocks, White Leghorns and Wyandottes. This proved an interesting topic, although too technical and intricate to be explained fully in a synopsis of the demonstrations. Some of the farmers hesitated about putting into effect the instructions they had received, but the two Government representatives insisted that the fullest personal profit of the work would be lost unless the laymen actually applied the lessons they had listened to. Repetition of the main topics removed doubts and unconfidence, and soon the farmers were deep into the work, and highly interested in applying the instructions and principles they had received.

Flocks Up To Average.

At the completion of his tour, Mr. Huntsman told Mr. McRae that the quality of the hens he had seen was well up to the average, and many of the flocks were exceptionally good. Eighty per cent. of them were Barred Rocks. Probably the best report of production was that made by R. A. Garbutt whose flock averaged 125 eggs a day for each hen last year.

Mr. McRae said he regarded the demonstrations as highly successful. He has been instrumental in culling about 2500 hens annually during the last four or five years.

CANADA HAS MADE GREATER PROGRESS THAN THE OTHER BRITISH DOMINION

Mistake Made in Comparing Progress Month by Month—Taken Over a Number of Years the Condition of Canada is Better Than Ever Before.

A BLOW TO CALAMITY MONGERS.

MONTREAL, July 12.—Some of those who are a bit depressed at the fact that business seems to show some slowing up are forgetting that conditions in Canada are fundamentally better than at any previous time in its history. Our foreign trade—war shipments excluded—is at a higher level; savings deposits are higher, measured in purchasing power of the dollars represented; national wealth per capita is greater and production in agriculture, forestry and mining larger than ever before.

It would be salutary occasionally to review the progress that Canada has made over a term of years rather than to compare this month's business with last month's business and worry if there is a small falling off in turnover and profits.

Another way to measure Canada's prosperity is to compare our position and progress with the next of British Dominions—Australia.

Canada has greater wealth per capita than Australia; larger savings deposits; higher agricultural revenue; much greater mineral production; a more highly developed industrial system; more important ocean shipping and, with it all, lower debts, federal and provincial, as well as lower taxation. In only two important economic branches of economic activity does Australia lead Canada. It has slightly higher foreign trade per head of population and a greater production of wool and cattle.

Here are some important comparative figures indicating the progress of Canada and Australia. The figures are authoritative, epomiled by The Financial Post, and in every case the most recent obtainable.

CAVAN CROPS ARE QUITE PROMISING

Fall Wheat Filling In and Early Peas Look Good.

CAVAN, July 12.—Crops of all kinds are coming on rapidly. Fall wheat is filling in this vicinity, and unless some misfortune, such as wet weather, resulting in sprouting occurs, almost every farmer will have at least one field to harvest. A few blades of loose smut has been noted.

Barley is, in most cases, completely shot. Early peas are in blossom and, so far, appear to be extremely good. Fields of peas are more numerous than usual.

Some farmers in this district have their early potatoes in blossom and state that small tubers one inch in diameter are growing at the roots.

Apple orchards do not appear to be as heavily laden with fruit as the profusion of blossoms promised.

Plums and cherries, also, are not going to be so plentiful as was indicated earlier, due to the dropping off of plums and the rotting of the cherries.

Better catches of turnips are noticed this year than for some years previous.

Almost every farmer states that the pastures are short, and the cattle falling off in their milk supply.

Weather Favorable.

The weather has been more favorable during the past month, for the growth of chickens and ducks. They need warm weather and not too much rain. A good food for young ducks after they are a week or ten days old, is bran moistened with buttermilk or sour milk.

This ration is good for growth and fattening if fed in generous quantities. For the first few days, bread soaked in water and fed quite moist, is good; in fact, it is better left floating in the water in which it is soaked.

A cake, mixed up of corn meal or Graham flour, and a smaller portion of bread flour, with soda in it, and mixed with sour milk, is also good. It should be baked, then soaked, before feeding, and fed moist.

Weeds Flourish.

Weeds have flourished well this season. The weather was so cold and backward in the spring, consequently the growth of the grain was slow, giving the weeds a great start. Trefoil, in the hay, has made great growth.

Mr. R. Matchett, Eighth Line, has made the first cutting of four acres of alfalfa. It is yeilding about a ton and a half to the acre.

Several fields of alfalfa, clover, and clover and timothy are noticed cut, but the rain has put a stop to haying for a few days.

FARM NEWS

TRENT RIVER, July 12.—The recent showers have been most beneficial to pasture land, which was beginning to look brown.

The latest price of strawberries was 10c per box, or three for 25c.

Mr. James Longmuir, whose farm is on Havelock Road, reports he has begun haying, which is an abundant crop; also he measured his rye, the height of which was 6 feet nine inches.

RAINS BRIGHTEN CROP PROSPECTS

Farmers in This Locality Assured of a Fair Yield.

In no industry is the hand of Providence more directly felt than by the farmer. His fate rests entirely on the good will of Him who controls everything. The success of the agriculturalist is dependent upon Mother Nature. He plants his seed and the sun, the rain and the wind may bring a season of plenty or a dearth.

This season was late in commencing—about two weeks later than usual—consequently we must consider conditions as they are in the latter part of June in an ordinary year.

The farmers of this locality had reason to feel gloomy about the prospects of this year's crop until the hand of Providence intervened about two weeks ago.

The recent rains have replenished the growing crops and have assured the farmers of this district a fair yield for their season's toil. A heavy crop is not expected, but more rain would brighten the prospects; and as the weatherman predicts rain, those engaged in agriculture have reason to be optimistic.

Reeve Morley Smithson, of the township of Otonabee, the agricultural mecca of Peterborough County, is quite optimistic, and reports conditions to be good in his township.

"We have nothing to kick about, and it is the general opinion that the prospects are good," said Mr. Smithson. "The rian has helped things wonderfully, but, of course, the season being late, there is the danger of having hot, dry weather, causing the grain to ripen too soon. But there will be a nice crop with good harvest weather."

The farmers in this locality are cutting alfalfa and clover. The alfalfa is generally reported to be good, and the clover a light crop.

Reports from most localities are promising. Conditions in Douro are hardly so bright. This township, unfortunately, was eluded by the recent rain clouds that shed heavy showers in the southern parts of Ontario.

CURTIS FAMILY AT WARKWORTH WERE PIONEERS

Well Known Farm in Percy Township Was Established by John Curtis in 1820.

STALWART LIBERALS.

C. H. Curtis, Present Owner, Produces Heavy Crop of Strawberries.

(By ALEX. McGREGOR.)

WARKWORTH, July 12.—If there is a glut of strawberries on the market this year, C. H. Curtis, who has a farm just outside the village limits, can be held to a certain extent responsible. Mr. Curtis, who is better known as "Hy." has an acre and a quarter of his best land—black loam—planted to berries which he set out in the spring of 1923 and in which by this time the plants have attained the proportions of a half-grown crop of potatoes. From this plot Mr. Curtis has from the beginning of the season been sending over 2,000 boxes a week to W. J. Oke, of Peterboro', and has also been shipping to a dealer in Campbellford, sending 1,000 boxes to the latter on Monday and duplicating the order on Wednesday.

The plot is certainly a credit to Mr. Curtis' taste and industry, the first feature noticed by the visitor being the entire absence of weeds and the regularity with which the plants have been set out. The vines are loaded and a picker can often fill three or four boxes without shifting position. The berries are all large, sometimes 13 being sufficient to fill a box. Even if Mr. Curtis were so disposed he would have difficulty in finding unusually large berries to put on the top of the boxes.

Thirty pickers are employed by Mr. Curtis during the rush season, the majority of them girls and women, who are paid two cents a box for their work, and some of whom are able to earn as high as $3.00 a day. The labor problem is the least of his troubles, if he has any.

Adjoining this plot Mr. Curtis has one and a half acres of plants which he set out this spring and which are all doing well. They will yield next season, and one planting generally gives returns for two years, after which they are plowed up, as by that time it is almost impossible to hold the runners in check.

Taking one day's work as an example: Last Monday was showery and all the pickers did not work but those who did gathered 1,400 boxes of berries, and at that did not get more than half over the plot.

A Pioneer Family.

The farm which Mr. Curtis owns, lying between the villages of Warkworth and Norham, has been in possession of the Curtis family for 107 years, the present owner representing the third generation. The first owner was John Curtis, a United Empire Loyalist, who settled on it in 1820, before one tree in the primeval forest had been cut down. It originally consisted of 150 acres, but the father later deeded one third of to his son Comford Curtis. George Yabsley is the present owner of this 50 acres. There was formerly a brickyard on this property where was manufactured all the brick used in building the village of Warkworth and houses of that material in the surrounding neighborhood. The house in which Mr. Curtis resides was the first brick residence erected in Percy Township.

Thomas Curtis, brother of the original settler, was born in the homestead 100 years ago, the first white child to behold the light in Percy Township.

Expert Penman.

Ransome Curtis, son of John, and father of "Hy," owned the farm after the death of his father. He was clerk of Percy for a number of years, and died 33 years ago. His wife, "Hy's" mother, is still living in Warkworth at the age of 81. Mrs. L. B. Glover, of Campbellford, is a daughter.

The late Ransome Curtis was noted as an expert penman, and his beautifully engrossed records of the official proceedings of the infant municipality of Percy are still admired by visitors. He kept a writing school in the village and one of his most proficient was the young lady whom he afterwards married and who survives him.

Highway Troubles.

Even in those early days there were disputes over highways. The original road from Norham to Warkworth bisected the Curtis farm, passing through the barn yard. Ransome Curtis donated the right of way for a new road between the two villages, the one now in use. Travelers, however, preferred and continued to use the old one. To stop them Mr. Curtis adopted the plan of putting up a large brick stable which effectivelt blocked it and ended further traffic.

A New Lloyd George.

Mr. Curtis, the present head of the family, was for three years a member of the Percy Council and was defeated for the reeveship in 1918 by John McCubbin, who at present holds that office. Since that he has kept out of public life, although still taking on a live interest in municipal affairs. He has talent as a public speaker, and is in demand as a member of delegations chosen to secure any concessions. The speech he made at the last municipal nomination in Warkworth earned for him the cognomen of Lloyd George. He is a Liberal by instinct, and heredity and, like everything else in life, takes his politics seriously.

Mr. Curtis recalls the time when his grandfather was over 80 years of age, the Conservatives, after a record of unbroken successes in Northumberland, met with reverse at last and the riding elected a Liberal. Returning home on the night of the elections the aged pioneer gave sincere thanks that the Lord had spared him long enough to see his county redeem itself and emerge from political darkness into light at last.

From such ancestors C. H. Curtis inherits his political principles.

ERADICATION OF MUSTARD TAKES LONG STRUGGLE

Seeds May Live in Ground Fifteen Years and Germinate When Turned Up.

METHODS SUGGESTED.

Cultivation and Spraying With Chemicals When Weed is Thick.

In reply to an enquiry as to methods of exterminating mustard, Mr. P. C. McRae has given the following information:

"I would say that owing to the vitality of the seed, mustard is a very hard weed to eradicate. The seeds, once in the ground, will probably liv for fifteen years and continue to germinate as they are brought near the surface. Hence it takes patience, a great deal of labor, and a long time to get rid of the weed, when it once gets pro cession of the land. They present only in small amounts, hand pulling is the best method, providing the pulling is done before seeds have formed; and as persons pulling in a hurry cannot wait to examine for seed, it is best to put the weeds, as they are pulled, in bundles where they can be burned when dry.

When Field Overrun.

When fields are overrun with the weed it is best to proceed as follows: Harrow stubble ground early after harvest, or gang plow and harrow. As soon as the weeds have had time to sprout, cultivate thoroughly; repeat cultivation at intervals; and rib up with a double mould board plow the last thing in the fall. Put in a hoed crop, either roots or corn, the following spring, and cultivate it thoroughly throughout the growing season. Cultivate and harrow well two or three times after roots or corn, paving first run the plow along each row of corn roots to cut the roots and turn them up; and rib up before the frost. (It the plow is used after roots or corn, it is likely to bring more seed to the surface). Sew a crop of grain the following spring and seed with clover Pull the weeds by hand out of the grain crop; rake a crop or two of hay, o lowing spring and seed with clover Pull the weeds by hand out of the grain crop; take a crop or two of hay, or pasture, and break up.

Spray With Chemicals.

It has been proven that spraying with chemicals can be used successfully to destroy mustard in cereal crops without injury to the standing grain. The experiments conducted by the botanical department of the O.A.C. would indicate that iron sulphate is on the whole the most satisfactory chemical to use for the purpose. A twenty per cent. solution of iron sulphate should be used (80 pounds to 40 gallons of water), and the field should be sprayed on a bright, sunny day when the young mustard plants are well up and just about to come into bloom. If the solu tion is applied too late some of the older plants will not be destroyed and may produce seed, and the results, therefore, will not be entirely satisfactory.

"An ordinary barrel sprayer with a hand pump or a potato sprayer with a broadcast attachment can be used to supply this solution."

WHEAT ACREAGE IN CANADA IS SMALLER

Four Per Cent. Decrease For Season of 1924, Official Records Show.

OTTAWA, July 12 (Canadian Press).—According to the returns made by crop correspondents at the end of June, says the bureau of statistics, the total area sown to wheat in Canada or the season of 1924 is 21,676,200 acres, as compared with 22,671,864 acres, the finally reported area for 1923. The decrease thus shown is 995,664 acres, or four per cent.

Fall wheat is represented by 733,700 acres, as compared with 815,706 acres, the area harvested in 1923, the decrease being thus 82,006 acres, or 10 per cent

Of spring wheat the area for 1924 is placed at 20,942,500acres, as compared with 21,856,158 acres in 1923, the decrease being therefore 913,658 acres, or four per cent.

For oats the area sown is 14,168,000 acres, as compared with 14,387,807 acres last year, a decrease of 219,807 acres, or 2 per cent.

Barley occupies 2,879,000a cres, a against 2,784,571 acres, an increase of 94,429 acres, or three per cent.

Rye shows 1,277,450 acres, as against 1,448,142 acres, a decrease of 170,692 acres, or 12 per cent. Fall rye is 965,100 acres, as compared with 1,097,982 acres, and spring rye is 312,350 acres, as against 350,160 acres.

Flaxseed shows an increase of 134,562 acres, or 21 per cent., the area for 1924 being 764,800 acres, as compared with 629,938 acres in 1923.

WHERE FARMERS PROFITED

Farmers generally made money on corn, cotton and potatoes last year, and lost on wheat and oats, reports the United States Department of Agriculture.

According to those who reported, wheat on 7852 farms cost $1.24 a bushel and sold for 99 cents. Corn on 11,238 farms cost 68 cents a bushel and sold for 81 cents. Oats on 8481 farms cost 52 cents a bushel and sold for 49 cents.

Cotton on 407 farms with yields of between 101 and 140 pounds of lint per acre had an average cost of 22 cents a pound and sold for 30 cents a pound.

Potato growers in various parts of the country showed profits of from $1.42 to $86.23 an acre.

HOW BABY BEEVES SHOULD BE FED

The following results of baby beef feeding trials, running 224 days, were reported at the fourth annual cattle feeders' day held recently at the University of Minnesota Farm, St. Paul:

1. Corn and cob meal proved superior grain for fattening baby beeves.

2. Purchase and use of linseed meal was profitable.

3. If silage is fed to baby beeves a protein concentrate should be included in the ration.

4. Addition of oats to the ration proved unprofitable.

5. The self-feeder may be used to advantage if a full feed of grain is to to be fed. It saves labor.

6. As a rule, it is most profitable to feed baby beeves until they are well finished before marketing them.

In ordinary use the pedal of a bicycle turns about 300 times in a mile.

RAM LAMBS PRICE CUT ON JULY 15TH

Saving to Local Farmers of $1,652 by Castration—Dipping Tanks Built.

A cut of two dollars in the price of ram lambs, effective on July 15, has been the reason for the castration and docking of 826 lambs in Peterboro' county since April 15, under the supervision of F. C. McRae of Norwood.

The district covered extended from Cordova Mines on the east to the Victoria boundary oi Ennismore on the west. Not one of the animals was reported lost, and the work itself meant a direct saving to the farmers of $1652.

The demand for castration resulted upon a regulation emanating from the Union Stock Yards, Toronto, and aimed at improving the quality of the lambs reaching the market.

Mr. McRae has also overseen the dipping of one thousand head of sheep, and in both these services has helped in the actual work. Four permanent dipping tanks have been built on the farms of Roderick Moloney, Douro, Sam Redmond and Fred McIntyre of Otonabee, and Thompson Brothers of Westwood.

The tanks are eight feet long, four feet deep and thirty inches wide, with a capacity of 175 gallons. Cooper's sheep dip is used to rid the animals of ticks, and the tanks will also serve for dipping calves in the Fall to remove lice. The sheep are dropped into the water, held there for a minute or two and walk out up an incline at one end.

TAKE CARE OF HORSES.

Horses should be treated like humans. Provide a barrel of water on the field for drinking. Let the horses rest and cool off at noon and at night before eating. Feed one-fourth the day's hay allowance in the morning, another fourth at noon and the rest at night. Wash their necks each day with cold water containing a small amount of vinegar.

GRASSHOPPER "FEED."

Polson bran mash is an effective way of destroying grasshoppers. For five acres mix 20 pounds of bran, one pound of white arsenic, two quarts of syrup, three oranges and three and a half gallons of water and sow broadcast over the infested area.

WASH BUTTER WELL.

Pains should be taken to remove as much buttermilk from the butter as possible. The butter should be washed after the butter milk is drawn off, the churn revolved eight, or ten times with the water, the water drained and washing repeated. Thus the undesirable buttermilk flavor will be avoided.

QUARANTINES LIFTED.

The quarantine against the foot and mouth disease in California has been lifted from practically the entire area. No cases of the disease have occurred outside California. Flare-ups of the disease are to be expected, but the U.S. Department of Agriculture has its forces ready to quell any outbreak.

FELT AND LEATHER.

Felt and leather are being combined in millinery, crowns of felt being joined to leather brims, or cutout effects of felt showing the leather beneath are popular.

MENACE OF WET HAY IS POINTED OUT TO FARMERS

Department of Agriculture Publishes Warning of Danger of Storing Wet Hay.

IMPROPERLY CURED.

Spontaneous Combustion Has Caused Many Fires on Farm Properties.

MILLBROOK, July 12.—Hay cutting, principally alfalfa, while not as yet general throughout the district, is still in progress on many farms. H. Paterson finished drawing in last week. A. Johnston and H. Hennedy are among those the village who have been cutting on their respective farms. Sweet clover, which is not extensively grown in this neighbourhood, is also ready for cutting. While some use it for their silos, and the cattle eat it readily, complaint is made that it is not a fat producer and this does not tend to its popularity.

The Department of Agriculture is sending out considerable literature warning of the danger of fire from spontaneous combustion should hay be stored in the barns while wet. There appears to be a general skepticism as to the reality of spontaneous combustion being the actual cause of many of the so-called "mysterious" barn fires, but facts and figures seem to leave little room for doubt. "An analysis of barn fires for the past six years shows that the largest number occurred from June to October, while a warm fall brings an increase up to November. Natural heating of the crop from hay going into the mow improperly cured is the cause assigned. Hard experience is a very expensive way to pay for refusal to heed the repeated warnings issued yearly."

Avoid storing hay in the mow where the drip from a leaky roof will add moisture is one suggestion offered. Spread as thinly as possible over the mow and sprinkle a pail full of salt on each load or two. Curing the hay thoroughly in the coil before hauling in is one successful farmer's method, while another follows the plan of curing in the windrow, turning the row over with the side-delivery rake two or three hours before drawing in to give the underside a chance to dry. Pack the hay properly into the mow, leaving no air pockets which are sure to cause heating, but above all else avoid hauling in while wet either with rain or dew.

Re-Seeding Fields.

Apparently a considerable quantity of the corn planted this season was poor seed, and several farmers are obliged to plough under the scattered grain which came up and re-seed their fields. Generally speaking, however, crop prospects throughout the district are very good.

Binder Twine Arrives.

The Millbrook U.F.O. Club shipped in two tons of binder twine the last of the week, which sold at $14.50 a pound. As the entire quantity was ordered beforehand it was rapidly disposed of upon being received at the station here on Friday.

Successful Gardener.

H. Lord, who has been most successful as a market gardener for the past two years, has green peas ready for use, and butter beans forming on the vines the blossom stage having passed. As far as can be learned this constitutes a record locally as least. Mr. Lord also has sweet peas in bloom and sent a supply to the Peterborough market on Saturday. In order to stimulate early growth and blossoming Mr. Lord shovelled away the snow in the fore part of the season to get his sweet pea seed in the ground in the fore part of April.

Strawberries Steady.

The local supply of strawberries more than meets the demand, the price having lowered from 26 cents per box to two boxes for the same money. The stores are supplied, and one or two of the local growers are disposing of their berries from house to house. T. Robinson has some unusually fine fruit in his garden, several berries measuring from three and one-half to four an one-half inches in diameter. This variety, as far as its eating quality is concerned, is of a delicious flavor, "meaty" in composition, and pleasantly lacking in an over supply of acidity.

The city markets complain of an oversupply of strawberries, some of the shipments being of poor quality. Dealers are looking for lighter offerings should the weather continue cool.

Market Prices.

Local prices this week include twenty-cents a dozen for eggs, of which a plentiful supply is being offered; thirty cents a pound for dairy butter, and thirty-five cents a peck for potatoes. Creamery butter is apparently not in stock. New potatoes, not home-grown, are expected in the stores this week to retail at sixty or sixty-five cents a peck. Lettuce and onions, which are more than plentiful, are selling at five cents a bunch.

Mustard Abundant.

The annual crop of mustard seems to have developed to an unusual degree in some fields, making it a matter of difficulty to distinguish what grain had actually been planted, so thick were the yellow blossoms of this pest.

Bush Crops Heavy.

Raspberry and currant bushes are loaded with fruit, heat and moisture making ideal weather for its development. Summer pruning of red raspberry bushes is not advocated by the Department of Agriculture, which states that for ever-bearing raspberries it is particularly necessary to permit the cane tips to grow without pruning at this season. Black and purple raspberries and blackberries give best results if tipped when the new canes are from 24 to 30 inches in height. They will then send out more thrifty branches from the main cane.

The worms which attack the currant bushes, and the rose slugs as well, are best controlled by spraying with fresh helibore in the proportion of one ounce to one gallon of water.

PONY HELPS IN EDUCATION

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., —July 12. —Miss Pauline Hessler, who graduated from the high school at Hughesville near here this year, travelled more than 6,500 miles on horseback during the four years of her school course, she estimated, having ridden a pony from her home to school and beack each day.

Last year Miss Hessler rode 1,600 miles from the time school opened until commencement. She declared the exercise "brushed the dust" from her brain and made her able to think and work better.

OLD PITCHERS IN THE MAJORS

A Dozen Have Been in Big Camps Twelve Years or More.

THREE ON YANKIES.

In the major leagues this season, there are just about an even dozen pitchers who have been in the main canopy 12 years or more.

Strange to relate, three of them are on the same club. Reference is made to Pennock, Bush and Shawkey of the Yankees. Each got his start with the Athletics back around 1912.

But despite their long service in big time, two of them—Bush and Pennock—led the American League gunners as late as 1922 and 1923. In 1922, Bush, by virtue of a sensational comeback, showed the way to the rest of the field, while Pennock, a team-mate, turned the trick last season. A pair of noteworthy records, indeed! The work of each played a big part in the success of the Huggins entourage those years.

Not only do the Yanks boast three of the oldest hurlers in the game in point of service, but in Sam Jones they have another who only lacks a season or so of being up as lengthy a time as Shawkey, Bush and Pennock. Jones, likewise, had a pretty good year in 1923.

That the Yankees have the oldest pitching staff in baseball is a well-known fact. They're veterans in every sense of the word. For a dozen seasons or more in the majors is quite a stretch for a pitcher. True, Cy Young, Matty and some of the other old-timers leaped far beyond that mark, but they were exceptions in more than one respect.

The present Huggins staff may keep hurling winning ball for some time to come. And then again it may not. It's problematical of course.

One thing is certain, however, and that is that Shawkey, Bush and Pennock, et al. can not go on indefinitely. They are bound to hit the shoots sooner or later. Obviously, it beehoves the Botham management to corral a bit of young pitching material for future use. Outside of Waite Hoy, who came up in 1919, the Yankees have none but veterans among their regular pitching corps.

As outlined at present, Huggins' staff faces ruin, should the pitchers falter simultaneously from the wear and tear of long service.

There are more than 60,000 autos in the Province of Quebec.

OLYMPIC GLORY SHINES AROUND SCOTCH STUDENT

Record Broken Twice Before Him Was Shattered in Liddell's Finish.

400 METRE RUN.

Tragedy in the Collapse of Imbach and Taylor, Ailing and Injured.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Colombes, France, July 12.—(Canadian Press). —Eric Liddell, thin-legged Scotch divinity student, won Olympic glory for Great Britain yesterday when he sped to victory in the 400-metre run with a world's record that brought to a climax the most sensational series of races ever witnessed in any internrational event.

The Swiss and United States stars before him had shattered the world's mark for the distance, but Liddell, undaunted, came back to the final test with an even greater speed that broke the heart of his nearest rival, Horatio Fitch, Chicagoan, who himself had set new record only an hour before in the semi-finals. Liddell's time for the distance was 47 3-5 seconds. Johnson of Canada, who had shown excellently in the trials, was fourth in the final.

When the world's record toppled for the third time in two days, Liddell stepped into a niche among the other Olympic heroes, embracing the greatest array any games have ever known. His victory was as decisive as it was startling, for, leading from the crack of the gun, he fought off his challenger, Fitch, in the stretch, and won going away by eight metres. Fitch had to be content with second, and Butler of Great Britain was third. On the stretch behind lay the prostrate forms of Joseph Imbach, the little Swiss locksmith, who virtually broke down after having beaten the world's holder for two hours, and J. Coard Taylor, of the United States, who, despite an injured ankle, had third place clinched with a closing rush, when he tripped over a lane marker and swirled heavily to the ground.

Taylor, semi-conscious, responded to the appeals of the onlookers to rise, and staggered across the finish, winning fifth place. Then he collapsed.

Farther down the track, almost unnoticed in the pandemonium that broke loose when Liddell broke the tape, another tragedy was enacted as Imbach lifted himself painfully from where he had fallen exhausted. He had gone to the starting pole ill and showed over the first half of the distance that he was badly off form. His collapse came as he was stumbling into the stretch. His condition last night was said to be not serious, but Taylor, who had to be carried off the field, was under medical care for a badly pulled ligament and lacerations of both knees.

This dramatic struggle of sinew and heart provided the greatest thrill of the sixth day's competition of the record-breaking games. The day otherwise was given over largely to colorless, prolonged elimination affairs for stirring fights yet to come.

Emerson Norton, of Georgetown, and Harold Osborne, Illinois A. C., the decathlon aces of the United States, were two, two in a brilliant battle for points over the first half of the gruelling ten-event contest, which will be completed to-day. The United States also captured the second heat of the 3,000-metre team race trials. The first heat saw Finland's cracks, Nurmi, Ritola and Tala, finishing one, two, three, giving the Scandinavians a clean sweep of the heat.

The United States, aided by the six points tallied in the 400-metre race, while Finland added nothing to its score, increased its point lead to 80½ over its nearest rival.

The total score now stands: The United States, 183½, and Finland, 103, while Great Britain, through its third spectacular track victory, jumped to 60½ in third place.

Finland, with a mighty corps of distance runners, facing further triumphs, promises to add heavily to its score.

BRITISH TOOK FOURSOME PRIZE

Duncan and Mitchell Defeated Hagen and Barnes of United States.

DUNCAN SHONE.

OXHEY, England, July 12.—(Canadian Press Cable).—George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, leading British professional golfers yesterday avenged their defeat of last year at the hands of Walter Hagan and Jim Barnes, of the United States, by defeating Hagen and his compatriot, MacDonald Smith, four up and two to play in their 72 hole match for a purse of £300 and international foursome honors.

On the first 36 holes of this year's contest, played at the St. George's Club, the British pair finished four up. At the conclusion of the last half of the match yesterday afternoon over the Oxhey course, the Americans had succumbed and Duncan and Mitchell prepared to split the £300 purse. Hagen and Smith will receive £50 each as the losers' end.

The United States contenders started yesterday's rounds confronted with the big task of overcoming the lead of four holes which their opponents had stowed away. During the first part of the morning round it looked as though they would do this easily. They were both driving long and straight and putting well. But at the tenth, Hagen started missing his five and six foot putts and from then on his green work was not in the championship class. In fact it was only average.

Yesterdays' battles, like those of Thursday, took place on the greens. Here, Duncan and Mitchell kept the upper hand even in the face of some brilliant work by Smith. The steady Californian saved the situation several times in both rounds with long, hard putts. But his approaches were sometimes short and the best he could do was to hold the second day's tourney on an even-stephen basis.

Duncan pleased the gallery of more than 5,000 spectators that followed the play by giving a masterly exhibition of his professional game. Never once did he fail to drive straight down the fairway. His short shots always hit the green and the few times his approaches found bunkers, he made the spectators gasp by his well-played recoveries.

There was very little fault to be found with the drives and seconds of the foursome. On several holes their drives lay huddled within a few feet of each other. This course, which is a paradise for ling hitters, is 6,478 yards in length and has eleven holes over 400 yards long.

DEMPSEY MEETS WITH CANADIAN

Renault Eager For Bout With Heavy Champion on Labor Day.

TEN ROUND BOUT.

MICHIGAN CITY, July 12.—Here's a piece of fistic news right off the toaster and it has a better than fifty-chance to stand up.

Despite statements to the contrary, Jack Dempsey, champion of the heavies, intends to fight one fight before the summer season ends.

And that fight will be held in the blue sky bowl in this picturesque village on Labor Day.

Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, who has been stepping high, wide and impressive of late, will be the champion's opponent.

The fight will be 10 rounds with no decision.

Frank Parker of Chicago—Lucky Parker they call him—will be the promoter.

A New Tex Rickard

Parker is the new Tex Rickard of the middle west. Parker promoted the Carpentier-Gibbons fight here and it drew a gate of $227,000, a record for a bout in which neither contestant was a champion.

Parker, on July Fourth, had two champions scheduled on the same card here—Harry Greb, monarch of the middies, and Abe Goldstein, boss of the bantams. It was not his fault the card was postponed on account of an epidemic.

Associated with Parker is Floyd Fitzsimmons, a close personal friend of Dempsey.

Generally speaking, you must lay the dough on the line for Mr. Dempsey. Friendships mean little or nothing in his combative career at the box office. There is, however, one exception. Dempsey will go out of his way to fight for Fitzsimmons. He has done it before and the dope is he will do it again.

Renault Eager to Go.

Fitzsimmons has asked him to accept the Labor Day date here and the feeling is that he will not decline.

Parker, the bank-roll man, is willing to slip the champion $300,000 in crinkly, gree notes. This is not to be sniffed at in any language. And it is soft money for fighting a stingless puncher like Renault in a no-decision fight.

The Canadian will sign if the champion comes to terms, as it is believed he will within the next 10 days.

Renault, encouraged by the stand Gibbons made against Dempsey at Shelby, and remembering that the awkward Firpo knocked the champion out of the ring, is said to be eager for the match.

Renault doesnt' think Dempsey can box well enough to put him away and he has a notion that he will make such a good showing that a return bout, with a rich purse involved, will be inevitable.

East Closed to Champ

Not that Renault would be fighting the champion Labor Day for nothing. His end, if the bout goes through, will be close to $50,000.

Parker feels that he can spend nearly $300,000 on a Dempsey-Renault match and still make money. The blue sky bowl will seat 40,000 That's amply big enough, with prices ranging from $5 to $35.

Another reason to believe this match may go over is that Dempsey hasn't a chance to fight in the east before next winter. Rickard has Firpo and Wills carded for late August. That will be his final gesture for the season in big league promoting.

HYDRO FOR FARMS.

New Line to Serve Farmers and Summer Visitors.

CHATHAM, Ont., July 12.—(Canadian Press).—The new Hydro line extending from Blenheim to Erieau Cedar Springs and High Banks, and which will supply many farm homes on the lake shore road, as well as cottages in the lake summer resorts, will be completed in a week's time, according to J. G. Jackson, manager of the local hydro system. It is expected that hydro service will be turned on in Erieau to-day.

LIQUOR RATE WAR.

One Captain Killed and Two Boats Raided by Pirates.

NEW YORK, July 12.—(Canadian Press). — In retaliation for rate-cutting on rum row, pirates have successfully carried out two raids off the Jersey coast and have seized $750,000 worth of liquors, according to information reaching the prohibition driectors of New York City. The captain of one of the raided boats was killed by pirates and his body was thrown overboard.

One of the vessels boarded was the French steamship Mulhouse, in command of Captain Ferren. The name of the other ship has not been revealed, but prohibition officials learn it was of foreign registry.

The raids are alleged to have been under the direction of one of the biggest bootleggers in the United States, who, it is said, conspired with others in New York and furnished a big speed boat manned by twenty or thirty well-armed gunmen and thugs.

CLOTHES TOO LARGE.

Jack Dempsey says the report that he had lost considerable weight in the movies grew out of the fact that a newspaper man saw him wearing some baggy, loose-fitting clothes while on location.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

And the Twins beheld a lovely little fairy.

The next night when Johnny Jump Up, the garden fairy, wakened the Twins and the three of them had climbed down the rose vine into the magic garden, the little fairy skipped over to a patch of yellow flowers and stopped.

"Do you know what these are?" he asked.

"Sort of," said Nancy. "I've seen something like them before."

"These are English primroses," said Johnny Jump Up. "In America, primroses are pink and purple, but in England they are yellow, and come out in the spring.

"Why don't you let them see for themselves?" said a silvery voice.

And the Twins beheld a lovely little fairy standing in the primrose patch. "The Fairy Queen said you had telephoned for three tickets to England," said the fairy, "so I got them and flew here as fast as I could come. But you are talking and talking as though you never would get through."

"Why, you're talking and talking yourself," said Johnny Jump Up crossly.

"Now you're both talking," said still another voice. "This is the talkiest place I ever saw. Now that you have your tickets and everything is settled, why can't we start?"

And there stood the titmouse.

"We're ever so much obliged for the tickets," said Nancy to the primrose fairy. "And I'm sure Johnny didn't mean to be cross."

"Of course I didn't," laughed Johnny merrily. "I was only fooling. Please excuse me."

"Oh, do come on," begged the titmouse. "It's a long way to England and back and the moon looks wet. I'm sure it will rain."

So away they went on the titmouse's back.

As they flew toward the east they met the sun.

"Hello," he called down. 'Have a good time."

And bye and bye they came to England.

"Down there is London Town," said Johnny Jump Up, pointing to a city so big the Twins could not see the end of it.

"That's famous for lots of things. London Bridge that's always falling down, and the place Dick Whittington came to before he got his cat and became Lord Mayor, and the place the little boy came to get himself a wife because the rats and the mice did lead him such a life, and the place Puss in Boots came to, and everything.

"And it's the place the king lives," added Johnny Jump Up. "And the queen, too, and the Prince of Wales, and a lot of other important people."

"But where are the primroses?" asked Nancy. "I don't see one."

"Of course not," said Johnny Jump Up. "They're out in the country. Fly on, titmouse."

Johnny Jump Up wa right. The world was yellow with primroses out in the country. And a lovely sight they were.

"Is that all there is in England—London Town and primroses?" asked Nick.

"Goodness, no!" said Johnny Jump Up. "But if we stayed to see one hundredth part of it all we wouldn't get home until the week after next. Home, titmouse, if you please."

BOY DROWNED IN LAKE.

Son of Member of Saskatchewan Legislature Was Eighth in Week.

SASKATOON, Sask., July 12.—(Canadian Press).—Morris Hermanson, 13 years old son of Albert Hermanson, member of the Saskatchewan Legislature for Canora was drowned in Edward Lake, 25 miles north of Watson, Sask., Thursday afternoon while bathing. SIGNS OBSCURE TRENT'S SHORE

Trespass Notices Along the Marshes Theaten Weight of Courts Upon Intruders.

MIDSTREAM FREE YET.

Notices warning trespassers with dire effects of the law are so numerous along the upper Trent from Rice Lake to Hastings that they obscure the shore line. It is not that they reach along the front of the marshes like stretches of city billboards, but that one's attention is so held by the series of scrawled threats that the details of the scenery are almost entirely overlooked.

Trappers and hunters are singled out by these signs along the weedy frontage of the riparian properties. Evidently acting upon the strength of judgment given at Cobourg some years ago, the farmers claim possession of the marshes conterminous with their land. These marshes were formed by the raising of the water level at Hastings when the dam was built, and although it was generally understood by the public that the farmers had been compensated for their inundated property and that the marshes were as free as the river itself, these obtruding and minatory notices indicate a confidence of possession which tends to keep passersby at a safe distance. Since the tourist traffic into this district has created an asset which even the Governments recognize it would seem that these waters should be kept clear of restrictions instead of being cluttered up with them. Fishing trips to the Trent leave the wonder as to how long it will be before the public is excluded not only from the marshes, which offer duck-hunters their only opportunity, but also from the river itself. Within the last few years the people have been crowded out into midstream from the shore stretches which have been declared private preserves, but which have been traditionally open to public access.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

BIG CAST IN "GREAT WHITE WAY" AT CAPITOL

5,000 Actors, Including Many Celebrities, in the Most Ambitious Film of the New Year.

Broadway in all its glitter and glow, and everybody who is anybody in the gay life of Gotham, are shown in an exciting cycle in "The Great White Way," at the Capitol Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The spectator goes unchallenged behind the scenes of the theatre and discovers some of its many fascinating secrets. He learns all the details of a big prize fight and experiences all the thrills of a big horse race. This is the most illuminating film of the gay life in New York that has ever been made, and it has been made with overwhelming extravagance and unfailing dramatic power.

Luther Reed, the scenarist of the play, has kept close to the spirit of the original story by H. C. Witzer. Joseph Urban has arranged the picturesque settings, using real theatres, real prize rings and the real race tracks for the sets of the story, while E. Mason Hopper must have had a riotous time marshalling the several armies of extras who crowded the big scenes with life and animation.

The story centers about the love affair of a musical comedy star and a champion of the prize ring, and the course of true love runs according to form, which means that it is far from smooth. The progress of its lively episodes cover wide fields, from the roof of Madison Square Garden, showing hundreds of "pugs" going through their arduous training, on to the mysterious regions back of the stage, from there to fashionable hotels, and on into the mysterious places in Madison Square Garden where the prize fighters get ready for their bouts. Belmont Park race track is the background for more scenes, with an actual race to make you sit up and shout with excitement. Finally an actual bout in Madison Square Garden culminates a picture that is one big thrill after another until the two lovers, having passed through enough excitement to make a half dozen ordinary films, find comfort in each other's arms.

There has never been a play in either the speakies or the movies presented with such an overwhelming cast of celebrities as this new film spectacle as the Cosmopolitan Theatre. Characters who appear in a scene of only a few minutes duration are played by men and women who are known throughout the entire country.

For instance, the private office of a great editor is shown, we see Arthur Brisbane's actual office with Mr. Brisbone himself seated at his desk. A group of newspaper artists enter one by one for a brief confab, and the audience has glimpses of Harry Hershfield, the cartoonist; Nell Brinkley, Winsor McCay and a lot of others.

In another scene Ned Wayburn is revealed putting a group of Ziegfeld Follies girls through the mazes of a real rehearsal, in a real theatre, which happens to be the Frolic, where Mme. Petrova is acting at present.

Later these same girls are revealed giving a performance which reaches one of the several exciting dramatic climaxes.

In the big cast Anita Stewart leads with an excellent performance as the musical comedy star, with Oscar Shaw as the welterweight champion who delivers such telling blows on the lady's heart. T. Roy Barnes is his own happy self as an all-too-confident press agent.

As villians of the deepest dye Hal Forde, Olin Howland and an unidentified fat man do some of the dirtiest work ever seen on the screen. Their misdeeds make all the trouble for the star and the champ, and Harritte Underhill confesses frankly that her heart almost stopped beating when she saw the fat villian put dope in the champion's broth just before the bout.

Merely to give a list of newspaper men, the cartoonists, the folk who appear at fights, at races, in the big restaurants, to say nothing of the policemen and firemen who figure in the thrilling fire scene, would require the telephone book itself.

OTTAWA, July 12.—Gossip is strong and recurrent in parliamentary circles, that Hon. Charles Murphy, the Postmaster General, will shortly resign, and be succeeded by A. F. Healey, M.P., for North Essex, says the Citizen.

BEAR SHOWS FIGHT.

Attacks Two Men in Launch and Was Finally Killed.

SAULT STE. MARIE, July 12. — Three Esanola men, travelling in a launch on a lake back of the paper town, came upon a big bear standing on a log near the shore. When the launch, which was travelling about 6 miles an hour, was abreast of the bear, the animal dropped into the water, and gave chase, eventually overhauling the boat. It was determined to come on board, and in its efforts tore off a portion of the gunwale.

The animal was belabored with pike poles and axes, but it knocked the axes from the hands of the men.

One of the men finally landed a heavy blow, splitting its head, and the animal sank.

Wolves are also causing great losses to the cattle and sheep men, and reports of their depredations come from different parts of the district.

A number of carcases of partly eaten cattle are lying in the bush near Rydalbank, and a hunt may be organized there to rid the district of the pests. A big lynx was seen yesterday at Carterton.

A NEW MINISTER.

Rev. Lancaster Hughes Has Had a Varied Experience.

On Sunday, July 13th, the Rev. J. Lancaster Hughes will close his ministry of three and a half years at Stoney Lake Mission. On July 13th he commences his duties at St. George's Church, South Peterboro, and Sunday, July 20th, will be his first Sunday in charge of the services in this church. Besides this, he will assume charge of Zion Church, Otonabee.

Born in Widnes, Lancashire, England; Rev. Mr. Hughes first served the Church for ten years as a lay evangelist and missionary, working in both country and town parishes in various parts of England, with three years in Leith, Scotland.

Having decided to seek Holy Orders, he joined the Brotherhood of St. Paul, and undertook the theological course at Little Bardfield, Essex. Here his career was marked with great success, both in the examinations before the Diaconate, 1921, and the Priesthood, 1922. In each case, Mr. Hughes obtained the first place in the list of candidates.

It was about this time, in 1920, that the Lambeth Conference was held. Feeling that this would be an opportune time to apply for service overseas, Mr. Hughes applied for and obtained an interview with the Bishop of Toronto. This interview resulted in the removal of Mr. Hughes and his wife (who is also a native of Widnes, Lancashire, England) to Canada, Toronto Diocese, in January, 1921.

He was immediately appointed to the charge of the Stoney Lake Mission, which consists of the churches of St. Aidan's, Young's Point; Holy Trinity, Haultain; St. Matthew's, Hall's Bridge. Besides this, services are held at the schoolhouse, Deer Bay (Harvey Township) and up to the beginning of the present year (while it was included in the Mission) the Church of St. Mark's, Warsaw.

His work here has been successful to a marked degree, and his parishioners will be very sorry to lose him as their leader.

A BIRTHDAY EVENT.

Captain James Hill of Orillia Celebrates Ninetieth Birthday.

Captain James Hill of Orillia, celebrated with his sons, his ninetieth birthday, Saturday, July 6, 1924.

Captain Hill was born in the County of Antrim, Ireland, and went to sea at the early age of 14. During his 25 years at sea he visited practically all parts of the world, sailing his ships over the Seven seas.

Coming to Canada in 1872 he settled in Medonte township, where he spent 40 years on his farm. Thrice he mourned the loss of a very dear one: his only daughter dying in 1884, his youngest son, Thomas, of Craighurst, in 1918, and his dearly beloved wife in 1915, at the age of 87.

At the ceelbration were gathered five sons with their wives: Captain Sam of Orillia; James of Elmvale; David of Richmond Hill; Allan of Alliston; and John of Peterboro. His other son, William, of Buffalo, was unavoidably absent, but five generations of grandchildren were present to do honor to their grandfather.

From far and wide the venerable old Captain received very hearty congratulations and best wishes for continued good health.

ORANGE PARADE IN QUEEN CITY

Celebration Was the "Greatest Ever," With Lots of Speeches.

TORONTO, July 12.—(Canadian Press).—Accompanied in some cases by unusual celebrations, festal day of orangeism was generally observed to day in most of provinces of Dominion, it was 234th anniversary of "Battle of Boyne," and local arrangements in many centres to make it most successful in history of order, in Canada, were duly carried out.

In Toronto, acknowledged to be ultra Orange City of North America ceremonies and procession or orange lodges overshadowed all other business, social, and community activities of day. Parade was again the "greatest ever" and speech making at Exhibition grounds presented ideals and prospects of orange movement in measures of optimistic oratory.

Presiding leaders of Dominion Orange Associations however, addressed gatherings in other parts of Ontario Hon. J. W. Edwards, Grand Master for British America spoke at Tweed, Ont., Loaftus R. Reid, chief of Orange Black Chapter of British America was at Orillia, while Fred Bate, president of Orange Triennal Council of the World, was chief figure of demonstration at Tweed, Ont. There were big ralliesat all chief centres, in Ontario. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, took part in celebratin at Prescott, Ont.

BRAWL IN DEPUTIES.

Communists Mob Man Who Said They Sold the Country.

PARIS, July 12. — (Canadian Press).—The passage of the Amnesty Bill through the Chamber of Deputies seems fated to be marked by frequent suspensions of sittings owing to brawls among the deputies. The one yesterday afternoon arose when the Socialists accused the Communist party of having sold their country. A dozen Communists, headed by Marcel Cachin with one bound, rushed at the accuser, Henri Le Mire, a member of the minority. The fray became general before the ushers could intervene, so President of the Chamber Painleve donned his hat once more, thereby automatically suspending the sitting.

Lieutenant-Governor Grant returned recently from a long sojourn at an American health resort. It is understood that he will remain in office until after the visit in August of the British world touring squadron. No mention is made of a probable successor.

But Jesus must have loved him more,

A gentle voice said come,
And with farewells unspoken,
The angels took him home.

ORANGE PARADE BROKE RECORDS IN PETERBORO

If Not the Biggest, It Was the Smartest Walk Ever Seen in the City.

THIRTY-SIX BANDS.

Cecil W. Armstrong, a Native of Peterborough, Was Principal Speaker.

The three hundred and twenty fourth anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne was celebrated in Peterborough on Saturday with all the colorful trimmings that make it the biggest day in the year to Orangemen the world over. The big feature of the day, of course, was the walk from Central Park to the Exhibition Grounds through the main streets of the city, in which upwards of sixty lodges and three thousand brethren took part, but almost as interesting to citizens on the sidelines were the impromptu parades as local lodges and bands marched to the stations to meet incoming brethren. Tirelessly, all day long, these parades continued marking the arrival of every visiting lodge and in the evening escorting them on their departure. And tirelessly, too, the Caledonian Pipe band, with Bob Hendry acting as drum major, marched up and down George street with kilts swinging and pipes skirling. Never had they played so well, or to so appreciative an audience, as on Saturday interestedly lined the streets as the band went past.

Gathering in Central Park a little later than the hour set for starting the parade, the procession moved off with J. H. Spence, Grand Marshal of Ontario East, leading on his white steed with the Union Jack, flag of a united Empire and emblem of Orangeism. Immediately behind came the speaker's car containing Bro. W. H. Bradburn, M.P.P.; Most Worshipful Brother Cecil W. Armstrong, Past Grand Lecturer of British America, of Toronto; Right Worshipful Brother J. M. Patterson, Grand Chaplain of Ontario East, of Fraserville; Rev. Bro. J. D. Richardson of St. James' Methodist Church, Peterborough, and County Master Ernest F. Reid of Peterborough. In another car was Bro. J. J. Turner, Mayor of Peterborough, and others who took a prominent part in the parade were George Porter, Grand Master of the Grand Black Chapter of Ontario East; J. J. Cunningham, Deputy County Master; Fred Brown, District Master; W. J. Hancock, Past District Master; R. Manley, Past Preceptor of L.O.L. 261, and Marshal Charles Wright.

In the parade were around thirty-six bands, ranging from the few fifers and drummers who manfully led the visiting lodges from the smaller centres, to the splendid Cobourg Kilties Band and the Peterborough Orange Band. The juvenile members of L.O.L. 50, Duke of Manchester Lodge, numbering about 150 were a feature attraction, and in fact every junior lodge that appeared brought applause from the crowd that watched the parade. The ladies' lodges too received a great deal of applause, and the Peterborough groups of ladies, in Lodges 525, Eastern Star, and Vimy Ridge were given ovations at several points along the route. Vimy Ridge lodge was the largest ladies' lodge in the parade.

The boys and girls representing Cobourg and Peterborough lodges were dressed in white and presented a splendid appearance, and many of the ladies' lodges, dressed in distinctive costumes, added greatly to the appearance of the walk.

At the Grounds.

Arriving at King Edward park the lodges disbanded and the members went individually to the Exhibition Grounds, which formed the Orange field of the day. The covered portion of the big stand was speedily filled and many were compelled to sit on the sun swept seats on the east or sit or stand on the grass across the track.

County Master Ernest F. Reid was in charge of affairs here, and informed the brethren in the grand stand that on account of the late start it had been deemed well to curtail the speeches so that the racing programme might be completed before nightfall. He introduced as the principal speaker of the day Cecil W. Armstrong, Past Grand Lecturer of British America, son of a former Grand Master of Peterborough, W. H. G. Armstrong. Cecil Armstrong is an old Peterborough boy, well known here, and had the honor of starting in this city the first juvenile lodge in Canada, in 1906. He now makes his home in Toronto.

"We have many separating machines in this country," Mr. Armstrong said, "including the cream separator and the grain separator, but the greatest separator is the Roman Catholic political machine. Not satisfied with non-political, non-sectarian schools where the children of

"Killpeds" Becoming Real Public Menace

NEW YORK, July 14.—Hereafter, when they are placing you, with a rut across your middle, on a stretcher, and the jolly laughter of the motorist who has just run you down is ringing in your ears, it will be a sign of bad breeding to say "darn it" to express your emotions.

"This is sheer roadhogism," you can say. "And that fellow there is nothing less than a motormoron. It is killpeds of this ilk that make the highways of America a menace to life and limb."

EIGHT COACHES WERE DERAILED

Four Passengers and Sixteen Laborers Injured on C. P.R. at Wapella, Sask.

NONE SERIOUSLY HURT.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 14.—Four passengers, and twelve of the company's laborers were injured, none seriously, early Sunday when the Canadian Pacific Railway train No. 2, eastbound Imperial, was derailed two miles west of Wapella, Sask. The derailment was caused by a broken rail, eight coaches leaving the track.

The injuries were not serious according to an official report issued by the company last night. The following passengers were injured:

Dan O'Donnell, Tenberry, Man., right leg broken; Mrs. Wm. Graham Silverdale, Wash., suffering from shock; George Thompson, West Selkirk, Man. scalp wound and D. Steel Harden Ont., back injured. The laborers travelling the colonist cars en route to work, sustained only minor scratches and bruises.

The damage to the rolling stock was not serious. The passengers were transferred into relief coaches and arrived in Winnipeg at 1.30 this afternoon.

MINISTER WAS BADLY MAULED

Looks Like the Work of the Night Shirt Brigade Near Detroit.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 14. (Canadian Press).—The Rev. Oren C. Van Loon, pastor of Berkley Community Church, near Detroit, missing eleven days, was found here on Friday, suffering from heat exhaustion and starvation, with the letters "K K K," three inches high, branded between his shoulder blades. He is in a hospital in a serious condition, apparently ignorant of any events since his disappearance.

At one time it was thought that the man found in Chatham suffering from amnesia was Mr. Van Loon, but a partial identification was contradicted when he was identified as Albert McNamara, of Detroit, by his son, a resident in London, Ont.

Mr. Van Loon left his home at Berkley on July 1 for his cottage at Orchard Lake, thence to take an interurban car to Flint to speak. From that time until his wife identified him here yesterday his whereabouts had been a mystery.

He was picked up unconscious in the street, his appearance indicating he had travelled far afoot or had received rough treatment. As his mind began to clear yesterday he said that the last he remembered was starting for an interurban car the morning of his disappearance.

On several occasions Mr. Van Loon had spoken from his pulpit against the Ku Klux Klan, and his friends said he had received threatening notes.

Dr. A. F. Kingsley, who treated the pastor, told the police three "K.'s" had been burned into Mr. Van Loon's back with hot metal. There were burns or blisters, too, he said, on the face and hands, but these were attributed to Mr. Van Loon's nervous condition, due to his experiences.

WHITE INDIANS FIND NEW YORK LIFE INJURIOUS

Expected to Visit Camp at Prescott of Man Who Discovered Them.

ARE FROM PANAMA.

May Be Descendants of Madoc, Wels Prince, and Not New Race.

PRESCOTT, Ont., July 14 (Canadian Press). — "White Indians" from Panama will visit Canada today, according to advices received here.

The group of San Blas Indians found in Panama by Richard O. Marsh, of New York, is en route to a camp on the shores of Lake Ontario, owned by the explorer, the strange conditions of life in New York City having been found to be injurious to their health.

OF WELSH DESCENT?

NEW YORK, July 14. — That Professor Marsh, of the Smithsonian Institute, and leader of the recent expedition into the jungles of Panama, has not discovered a new race of people in the golden-haired, blue-eyed natives he found, but that they are only descendants from a Twelfth Century Welsh Prince, was the opinion advanced here by Dr. J. Howard James. Said Dr. James:

"This discovery of the 'mystery race' is, in my opinion, the final solution of a problem which for more than 750 years has puzzled scientists of the British Empire, and is, I believe, the final chapter of the story of an expedition that apparently vanished completely from the face of the earth.

Discovery in 1170.

"While Christopher Columbus is generally regarded as the discoverer of the American continent, the wonderlands of the western world were known of in Wales three hundred years before his time.

"Madoc, the adventurous young son of Owen Gwynnedd, Prince of Wales, made the discovery in 1170. He was compelled to leave Wales owing to a civil war, and, with some of his fellow adventurers, embarked in three small ships and set sail for the open sea, steering their bows westward.

"That Madoc followed the present steamship lane from Liverpool to Panama is possible, for his first stop was at the Azores, and his next one at one of the Windward Islands in the West Indies. Then he sailed on, and ultimately reached a land which separated ocean from ocean. It might have been Central America. That it was in the tropics is almost certain, from his description of trees and plants, of constant sun and heat."

Recruited for Colony.

Madoc, Dr. W. James explained, spent may years in this newly-found country and then returned to his native land to tell his friends of the wonders of the West and gather recruits for his colony. Young men and women listened to his call, and some months later he again set sail with a large fleet. After that Madoc and his followers were never heard of again, said the expert. He added:

"Perhaps now, after the lapse of seven and a half centuries, Madoc's colony will be traced through the newly-found 'mystery tribe' of Celtic golden hair and blue eyes."

British aircraft experts recently conducted successful experiments with a plane that can land in almost any field.

Flapper Bandit?

Mrs. Pauline Farr, 19 year old Chicago girl, is held by the Cincinnati police, in connection with the attempted hold-up of a confectionery store. Her husband, Albert Farr, is also under arrest for alleged participation in several other hold-ups.

SASKATCHEWAN HAIL INSURANCE LOSS CLAIMS HIGHEST ON RECORD

Business Has Fallen Off as Farmers Return Premiums and Plow Under Their Disappointing Crops—Too Early Yet to Reckon Profits.

REGINA, Sask., July 14.—While it is far too soon to count profits the present season has been the most remarkable one in the memory of hail insurance men operating in Saskatchewan. Losses to date have been less than any year on record. Taking the Municipal Hail Association as an example, and it does a big business in every district, in the province, the loss claims to date total $18,000 as compared with more than $160,000, at the corresponding period last year. Other firms have the same experience to relate.

While losses have been practically nil, the manager of the association said there had been a marked falling off in the amount of business written. Farmers in many districts, he said, had waited for their crops to develop and in many cases had decided the prospect did not warrant the expense of taking out a policy. Farmers were returning their premiums, thus losing the protection and were plowing the crops under.

PRETTY BLONDE TALKS TO LOEB

Alienists Examining Slayer of Robert Franks Halted as Youth Has "Date" in Jail.

"A WONDERFUL BOY."

CHICAGO, July 14—The business of saving Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., from the gallows for the murder of Robert Franks was halted half an hour by a pretty blonde girl Saturday.

While Dr. Sanger Brown, one of the alienists employed by the defence to test the sanity of the youths, waited impatiently in the "death cell" laboratory, Loeb stood behind the visitors' screen in the bull-pen and chatted with one of the girls he had "dated" with in his days of freedom.

Jean Dale Wins.

Dr. Brown had hastened to the jail early to complete his tests. But pretty Jean Dale, No. 3471 North Clark Street, had also hastened to the jail. And she won the preference.

Loeb preferred to chat with her rather than go on with the tests with which the defence hopes to save him from the rope.

He talked gaily with the girl for half an hour while Dr. Brown fretted and fumed.

At last, the visit was ended and young Loeb took up again the more serious, but apparently less important to him, business of perfecting his defence.

Miss Dale said:

"I am not a sweetheart of Dickie's.

"We were good friends and went to the beach together several times. "I just had to chat with him for a little while. I'm so glad I did, he's still the same wonderful boy."

While Loeb was chatting with the girl, Dr. William J. Hickson was making some final tests on Leopold.

State Starts "Class."

While the defence was putting the finishing touches on its examination work, the State was not idle. It was announced that beginning today a special "class" in psychiatry would be conducted in the State Attorney's office.

Members of Mr. Crowe's staff will be students under the tutelage of Dr. William A. Krohn, State alienist.

Among those who will be students will be Assistant State's Attorney John A. Scarboro, Joseph B. Savage, Milton D. Smith, Bert A. Cronson and others not engaged in court work.

At a conference in the State Attorney's office with Mr. Savage, Dr. Krohn outlined the preparations against the insanity defence. Mr. Savage said:

"We have a wonderful case."

Mr. Savage was elated at discoveries he had made in a book written by Attorney Clarence Darrow, of defence counsel, which was published three years ago. The book is on crime and punishment and several passages deal with the value of the testimony of alienists in criminal trials.

"Alienists For Rich."

Mr. Darrow declares in the book that the testimony of alienists could not be considered of extreme importance and at another place that alienists are for the rich and not the poor. Mr. Savage said he would try to introduce the statements during cross-examination.

MOTOR BOAT STOLEN.

Boat Burned Almost to the Water's Edge Found on Rice Lake.

ROSENEATH, July 14.—A partly destroyed motor boat was found on the edge of Rice Lake near here The boat had caught fire and there was not enough left of the upper structure to identify it. Some believe it to be the motor boat stolen on Saturday from Robert Franklin, of the Trent Valley Lodge.

MABEL NORMAND PAYS THE PRICE

Dropped By Mack Sennett Company When Contract Ends.

HURT BY NOTORIETY.

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Mabel Normand has been dropped by the Mack Sennett company. The famous movie actress whose misfortunes off the screen have turned the tides of popularity against her is not going to get her contract renewed, according to persistent reports in the film colony here. When the old contract expires shortly Mabel will be without a job. Unfavorable publicity in connection with the Courtland S. Dines shooting is given as the reason.

It isn't necessary to go back to the murder of William Desmond Taylor for a reason, although that tragic episode started the doubts about Mabel in the minds of the film fans who had delighted in her wholesome comedies. Mabel, as a woman involved in murders and shootings in real life, while playing the laughing, carefree girl in pictures, didn't appeal to the public's taste. And whether Mabel was maligned and rumors about her were false or not, nobody seemed to care. They just turned thumbs down on Mabel and now it seems her own picture company is doing the same thing.

Since the acquittal of her chauffeur, Horace Green, last June 24 for the shooting of Courtland S. Dines in January, she has taken him back into her employ.

SCIENTIFIC VERBIAGE

Mad Search For Oil May Bring Earthquake to New York.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 14.—(Canadian Press). — "There is a very real danger that New York City may suffer from an earthquake one of these days."

"Unless the world gets over its mad search for oil, there are going to be some radical changes on this planet."

These are some of the startling predictions made by Professor David Todd of Amherst College, Professor of Astronomy, internationally known scientist and author of half a dozen books and innumerable articles.

FALSE ALARMS

A Charlotte Street Resident Rings Alarm at Least Rumor of a Fire.

Mr. Abraham Cherney, Charlotte Street second-hand dealer, has failed as a fire prophet. Last Saturday night he brought the fire department to the corner of Louis and Charlotte Streets. No fire was to be found, and Mr. Cherney told Chief George Gimblett that his son had said he had seen a house afire, while standing on the top of the roof. As this is the second time that the firemen have been called by the same gentleman on false alarms, they are losing faith in Mr. Cherney's ability to estimate a fire, when he sees one.

About 60 per cent. of all the cotton grown in the world is produced in the southern part of the United States.

Two Women in List of Fatalities—Workmen Killed by Electric Wire.

MONTREAL, July 14—(Canadian Press).—Fatalities in this city and district over the week-end included the following: Emile Savard, 17, of Drummondville, died at the Hotel Dieu Hospital here Saturday, following shock caused by breaking his leg in a collision between his motorcycle and an automobile at Drummondville Friday night.

Aline Bouthillier, 24, of Farnham, Que., was taken ill on her way to the Windsor Station Saturday and died as she was being removed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital. The cause of death was not ascertained, and an autopsy has been ordered.

Mrs. Alexander Filiautrault, of Ahuntsic, died suddenly at her home Saturday. It is thought indigestion was the cause of death.

Touched Live Wire.

Georges Coudreau, 33, of this city, died at the General Hospital Saturday from internal injuries and burns suffered from an electric shock on Friday. He was working on a scaffold when he accidentally touched a live wire and fell 25 feet to the ground.

Accidental death was the verdict of the coroner' court on Saturday in the death of Maurice LaFlamme, 40, of Ottawa, who was found dead in the hold of the steamship Ville Marie, on Friday.

Three Drownings.

Three swimming accidents occurred near the city over the week-end. All the victims were Montreal men.

E. Dunsecau, 45, was drowned near Boncherville in two feet of water. It is believed he was taken ill and fell face downwards in the water, drowning before his companions in a camp near by were aware of the accident.

Joseph Eaton, 42, was drowned in the Soulsnges Canal at Melocheville. Patrick Casey, a friend, was nearly drowned in trying to save him.

Thomas Fagan, 3, was drowned while bathing in the Lachine Canal on Saturday afternoon. It is thought he was seized with cramps.

Silvered kid straps are becoming almost universal on evening shoes.

"This Freedom"

Long ago when woman's place was in the kitchen," they used to say when discussing women in politics: "They'll soon be wearing the trousers." Well, here they are, Miss Ethel Clawans, an attorney of Newark, N. J., appeared at the Democratic convention in "knickers." Why not be comfortable with a scorching convention hall to sit in all day, she demanded.

Shaved Necks May Grow Longer Beards on Women

BERLIN, July 14. — The women of the future may have longer beards than the bearded women of the circus to-day, in the opinion of Dr. Adolph Heilbron, if they continue the invasion of man's domain of activities.

"As woman exercises more and more the functions formerly belonging to man," Heilbron writes in the Berlin Morgenpost, "she also begins to assume a masculine growth of hair."

He cites Buckman, Brandt, Friedenthal, and other anthropologists as authority for his statements that there has been a decided increase in the number of bearded women, and expresses the belief that families wherein generations of women bob their hair will develop bearded women as a parallel phenomenon.

PERILOUS HOP FOR MACLAREN

Starting on Air Route Across the Pacific From Extremity of Japan.

ENCOUNTERED FOG.

MINATO, Japan, July 14.—Conquering difficulties arising from engine trouble and a dense Pacific fog, A. Stuart MacLaren, British 'round-the-world aviator, arrived here from Kasmuigaura at 5.32 p.m. Sunday.

To-day he sets forth on the long and perilous hop across the Pacific from this city, which is at the northern extremity of the main island of Japan.

On the Kasumigaura-Minato flight MacLaren was forced to return to Kasumigaura owing to engine trouble, and to land twice en route because of thick fog which made flying dangerous.

With the Americans.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 13. —The United States Army aviators on a round-the-world flight arrived here safely from Constantinople at 12.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

SOFIA, July 13.— On the occasion of the passage over Bulgarian territory to-day of the American round-the-world fliers on their way from Constantinople to Bucharest, General Savoff, Director of the Bulgarian Air Service, cordially welcomed to the Bulgarian air routes "the Americans on their great venture."

COPENHAGEN, July 13.— The Governor of Greenland and other high Danish officials are making preparations to facilitate the passage through Danish territory of the American fliers on their round-the-world trip. A Danish steamship is to be offered to the fliers for fueling or other possible uses in Greenland waters, it is understood.

A CAR ACCIDENT.

Roseneath Party Badly Shaken Up in a Collision.

ROSENEATH, July 14.—While returning Saturday night from the Orange parade in Peterboro an automobile party consisting of Fred George, Elvin and Beatrice Turner, Effie and Maggie Linton and William Grieves met with an accident resulting from a collison with another car near Keene. One of the Linton girls had some ribs broken and another had her shoulder dislocated. Two of the occupants of the car were rendered unconsious. The accident occurred during the progress of a storm.

THE WEATHER.

The highest the thermometer reached on Saturday was 84 degrees. No higher figure has been reached this summer. Last night the temperature was down to 46 degrees. The nights this summer have been particularly cool, while the days, though favored with more than the usual amount of sunshine, have not had the oppressive heat so common an accompaniment of our Canadian summers. Taken as a whole, the weather has been ideal, though a few showers at the present time would be acceptable.—W.P.

WORN BLANKETS.

When blankets are very badly worn after several seasons of service, put two together, cover with silkolene and tack with worsted to form a comforter.

BILLS SCRAPPED IF COMMONS TO CLOSE SATURDAY

Little Progress Made on Quite a Number of Pieces of Legislation.

ENDING THE SESSION.

Defence Appropriations Still to be Voted—Much Unsettled Business.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 14.—(Canadian Press.) —What is generally expected to be the last week of the session opened to-day with the first morning sitting. The end of the session rush has already begun. Out of respect for the twelfth of July the House refrained from beginning its extra sittings on Saturday, but it prolonged the Friday night session until three o'clock on the following morning and put through nearly $17,000,000 in estimates. There is still a large proportion of the supply to be voted and the members will have their work cut out for them to finsih by the end of the week. Among those which yet remain are the appropriations for national defense which have in other years proved highly contentious.

In addition to supply, which is to be the chief element in the parliamentary schedule during the week, there are several debatable questions on the order paper. The debate on the reimbursement of Home Bank depositors has yet to come, while it has also been suggested that a day is to be given to the Hudson Bay. The redistribution bill has just been laid on the table and contains a formal notice that there is to be a debate on the arrangements made for Ontario particularly as regards four ridings. Further legislation in regard to soldiers' pensions and re-establishment has been proposed, while there are still on the order paper a considerable number of pieces of government legislation on which little progress has been made. If the House is to prorogue on Saturday next in accordance with present plans it is anticipated that quite a number of bills will be left on the scrap heap. Among these, it is generally expected, will be the measure to apply the single transferable vote to single member constituencies.

WOMAN MAY DIE

Her Buggy Was Overturned by Automobile Going to 12th Celebration.

OWEN SOUND, July 13. — Mrs. Sarah Gill, aged 73 years, a resident of Jackson, a few miles from Owen Sound, is in the general and marine hospital here, and is not expected to recover, as a result of an accident which occurred on Saturday at noon.

She was driving to Owen Sound with her son and daughter to the Orange celebration here. On 10th street West-hill, a car driven by Geo. Cooper of Colpoy's Bay, caught the rear wheel of the buggy in which she was riding, and overturned it.

Mrs. Cooper suffered a fracture of both her arms and other serious injuries. She was dragged for some distance.

Cooper was placed under arrest but was later released on 3000 bail.

It was the only accident to mar the 12th of July celebration here at which thousands of people were present.

A ROTARY PARADE ON THURSDAY NEXT

Preparations Complete For the Big Day in Rotary.

Rotarian Andrew Brown has charge of the parade on July 17th, which is the date of the Big Rotary Carnival. Mr. Brown has an able committee to assist him and things may be looked for.

It is not so much a mere motor parade, though autos will be acceptable in making up a parade of some length, especially if the cars are decorated and made attractive to look at, but several features will be introduced that will be appreciated. These have been hinted at, and something good may be looked for.

Rotarian McNair has in hand the mysteries of the Midway. It is expected from what has been arranged that there will be at least ten different attractions along the thoroughfare. These will present very unusual features and coax from the pockets of the attendants at the afternoon attractions a trifle of coin in aid of the Crippled Children Fund. There will be available booths providing refreshment, for no day or afternoon of any consequence would be complete without something to eat.

Coming back to the parade, Rotarian Brown wishes it understood that in addition to the motor section, the bulk of the display will be made up and include much that is attractive. The line of march will show the Cadets, in full uniform, the Boy Scouts in splendid array and number, two or more bands, chock full of music and earnest in letting it forth. If the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee consents, the Fire Brigade will turn out and add distinction to the procession. The day was when the Brigade was the most important number in any civic demonstration, and why not now? Presently further announcement will be made, and the programmes placed in circulation.

DIVORCE COUPLE RE-WED AT CHILDREN'S WISHES

CHICAGO, July.—Mrs. Sara Carrol Brown Field and her former husband, Stanley Field were remarried here yesterday. They were divorced two years ago.

Mrs. Field, formerly one of the three Brown sisters of Baltimore, was married to Mr. Field in 1900. Mr. Field sued for a divorce, which was not contested nearly two years ago, charging that his wife refused to live with him. They had two town residence, he accupying one, and she the other.

Occasionally, as when their daughter Katherine was married to T. Clifford Rodman, and when their daughter Daphne made her debut, Mrs. Field presided as mistress of the Field family home.

The engagement of Daphne to Russell P. Kelley and the wishes of Mrs. Rodman and the younger daughter, Josephine, are believed by friends to have brought their parents together again.

BORDER GUN FIGHT

Two Men Under Arrest For Smuggling Aliens Across the Line.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 14.—(Canadian Press).—Frank Pearson, 25, Niagara Falls, Ont., is in hospital over the river, under arrest, with a gunshot wound in his leg, and Edward Barry, 21, also of Niagara Falls, is in jail on charges of smuggling aliens into the United States. They were arrested early yesterday morning as they were preparing to land four men on the American shore.

In the excitement the launch grounded on some rocks and lost its propeller. Then the boat was released, and it was not until it was caught in the swift current that the smugglers realized that they were riding toward death in a disabled craft.

There were shouts for help from the men in the boat, when Stutzman and Garchwiler realized the plight of the smugglers they ran to their automobile with their two prisoners. Walter W. Stearns, immigration inspector, who was waiting in the car, started toward the Falls, sounding an alarm. On the way he picked up three patrolmen, who directed him to the power company's launch at Port Day.

With Stearns at the wheel, the rescuing boat made its way slowly toward the bank. It was not until they were near Goat Island Bridge that the boats were brought into the shore. When the policemen searched the smugglers' boat they found that one of the men had been wounded.

JAPAN'S FILM BOYCOTT GIVEN UP AS FAILURE

Public Demand for American Pictures Causes its Abandonment by Producers

TOKIO, July 14.—Four distributing companies which engineered the boycott of American films as a protest against the American exclusion act have cancelled their boycott agreement, which had become practically inoperative because of the public demand for American pictures.

In an advertisement in the leading newspapers the companies say that "in view of the public demand that some American films be shown, and the Government's warning that the boycott would produce undesirable impressions abroad, the boycott agreement has been abandoned, although we adhere to the fundamental purpose of that agreement, which is to encourage homemade films.

The boycott has been a complete failure, houses refusing to show American films suffering heavy losses of patronage.

WAS BURNED TO DEATH.

Gladys O'Connor Had Tragic End After Experience Last Winter.

TORONTO, July 13.—(Canadian Press.)—When her clothing became ignited from matches she was lighting in a room in the home of her uncle, Dr. M. Brown, 179 Carlaw avenue, Friday night, Gladys O'Connor, aged 22 years, was so badly burned she died Saturday morning. Carrying a box of matches the young woman was walking through the house in the dark. The matches became ignited and her dress caught fire.

The late Miss O'Connor was the young woman who was found frozen in a 20 inch sewer pipe in a lot at the rear of 755 Danforth avenue on Saturday morning, March 8. Her clothing had frozen to the pipe and it was necessary for detectives to chop the ice away in order to release her. At time of her admittance to the General Hospital no hope was held out for her recovery, it being stated both feet would have to be amputated. Several months' treatment at hospital resulted in her recovery and she returned to the home of Dr. Brown. Her own home is at 45 Rebecca street, Hamilton. Coroner M. M. Crawford was informed of the death by Dr. Brown. An inquest will not be held, the body being released by Dr. Crawford for burial.

MAYOR COMMENTS ON CELEBRATION

Public Unaware of Multifarious Preparations Required —Contemplates Annual Celebration on July 12.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT.

The opening chapter of Saturday's celebration was only witnessed by an odd milkman and a few early morning stragglers. Like an Araba in the night the Board of Works performed its part in the preparation for the big parade.

Who knew that the street cleaners worked all Friday night, picking up the garbage and litter of the day before, gratuitously assisted by a Dominion Dustless Sweeper, so that the first visiting celebrant who arrived on the scene would find a city prepared for him.

This was only one of the forethoughts that helped to present our city favorably, said His Worship, Mayor Turner, in commenting on the Orange festivities.

Ample eating accommodation was provided by the churches, hotels, restaurants and numerous booths. A thought was had for the convenience of the people who came, as by the provision of resting rooms in churches, the G.W.V.A. Hall and other places of vantage. A Saturday visitor could obtain a good meal at a reasonable charge or could satisfy his hunger at a booth, if he preferred a light lunch.

During the course of the day the city water wagons were kept busy laying the dust over the course of the parade and on the race track at the Exhibition grounds in front of the grand stand.

"Everything was fine and a good impression was created," observed His Worship. "It is the little things that have to be taken into consideration to make an event like Saturday's a success."

Mayor Turner highly complimented the splendid appearance of the parade, making special mention of the ladies and juvenile sections. "Everything was clean and wholesome and the department displayed was excellent.

In remarking about the brass band that represented Peterborough in the parade Mayor Turner opined that a provisional grant should be made for the purpose of guaranteeing the expenses of a local band on any such occasion. Local organizations are unable, as a rule, to bear the responsibility, and in case of a failure cannot meet their payments, if an extensive programme of entertainment is assumed. "Music carries the holiday spirit and is the life of any celebration," stated His Worship.

The Board of Education co-operated by allowing the Collegiate and Central school grounds to be used as parking spaces. The city supplemented this accommodation by providing men to guard the visitors' property from injury or theft and to oversee parking.

The ability of Inspector James Reid, Acting Chief of Police, was put to a test on Saturday. Mayor Turner commended the way in which the large pedestrian and vehicular traffic was handled. There was no serious traffic congestion and never once in the course of the walk were the Orangemen impeded or crowded by the sidelines. With Saturday's unprecedented motor traffic, but one accident was reported.

By way of helpful criticism, in commenting on the general patriotism of the citizens in what they might do to promulgate the holiday spirit by a few decorations; His Worship remarked that Peterborough could well afford to take a lesson from the Dominion Day celebration in Port Hope or Belleville's Old Home Week. In the town of Port Hope on July 1st it was evident that everybody was part and parcel in the celebration by the elaborate decorations in the business section and the numerous homes that displayed a few modest flags or streamers.

"Our city is commodious, we have plenty of hospitality and a splendid situation," stated Mayor Turner. "We have ample accommodation and Peterborough is the natural centre to hold any celebration, representative of the four counties. In thinking over the day, with all our facilities, I have been wondering if we are not big enough to hold an annual celebration every 12th of July."

REBELS STILL HOLDING FIRM

Meagre Reports Pass the Censor—Fighting on a Large Front.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, July 14.—Authoritative advices received here say that Brazilian revolutionists in Sao Paulo have won fresh victories over Government troops. According to these advies government forces have been badly defeated.

Reports which have passed the censor assert that the situation in Sao Paulo is momentarily growing worse that the rebels, after getting the upper hand of the Government established a provisional government in Sao Paulo City and now are advancing upon Santos, which ports is the supply base of the government troops, which are declared to be fighting a rear guard action and endeavoring, though unsuccessfully to hold back the advance of the rebels.

Fighting is declared to be going on sixty kilometres from Santos where the battleship Minas Geraes and six torpedo boat destroyers are anchored The inhabitants of Santos are reported to be greatly alarmed. It is stated that the first line reserves are to be called to the colors and that reinforcements for the government troops are awaited in Santos, to which point they are proceeding from many parts of Brazil. The transportation of troops is being carried out by naval vessels and Brazilian Lloyd and other Brazilian navigation companies.

Considerable reinforcements of Brazilian Government troops have arrived at Sao Paulo and are assisting in the operations against the rebels, according to official advices received at the Brazilian Embassy today. Observers for the Federal forces Friday night discovered rebel troops concentrating at Blemsinho, the despatch added, and the Government artillery attacked "efficiently". The despatch said important progress had been made by the Federal Army which had obtained great advantage in Cambusy and the North Station.

Fighting in City of Sao Paulo, seat of the Brazilian insurrection, has been of the most desperate character during the past few days, according to two employees of a United States concern who arrived here to-day, after a perilous journey a-foot from ahe beleaguered metropolis. They estimated that the dead among troops and civilians will reach 3,000

The luxurious hour esplanade at Sao Paulo has been turned into a hospital and is said to be crowded with the wounded. Shells from the besieging federal forces have been falling in th city. One landed on a hotel killing eight civilians. Some of the federal artillery stationed scuth of the suburb of Ypiranga has been bombarding the city. Most of the fighting which has been taking place between here and Sao Paulo, is said to have been between small bands of rebels and federal troops.

Refugees confirm the report that 600 federal troops who started last week from Santos to aid in the relief of Sao Paulo were cut to pieces by the insurrectionists.

Governor Da Campos, Sao Paulo state president, is understood to be here in Santos now under federal protection. He is declared to have said that the people of Sao Paulo wanted him to remain as a leader in the insurrecton, but he refused to join the movement, whereupon he was permitted to escape from the city.

LOCAL CONSTABLE SCORES SYSTEM

Overlapping and Little Co-operation Shown by Municipal and Provincial Police Forces.

The amalgamation of police forces and the establishment of police districts recently advocated at the Chief Constables' Convention, is an old issue, declared Mr. W. H. Howard, local C.N.R. detective.

Mr. Howard stated that in 1920, as Chief of Police of the City of Brockville, he urged the Public Service Commission to abolish the present system of provincial and county police forces.

The objectional part of the present administration, he pointed out, is the fact that a provincial and a county officer will be working on the same case in ignorance of each other. We have salaried county constables and a large number remunerated by the fee system. There is much overlapping, little co-operation and many disputes over the matter of jurisdiction, as well as unnecessary expense, under the present system of municipal and provincial administration, said Mr. Howard.

The driver of the car charged with being drunk in charge of a car under the Motor Traffic Act and was fined $10.00 and costs and the other two occupants charged with being drunk, were fined $25.00 and costs each.

MAY RELEASE BOER.

Prominent Figure in 1914 Rebellion to Be Released.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, July 14.—Manie Maritz, former Boer general, one of the most prominent figures in the rebellion of 1914, who was sentenced on April 23 last to imprisonment for three years, may be released from prison shortly.

The Rand Mail says that according to his information there is reason to believe that Maritz may be set free in a short time.

The case against Maritz, who was living in exile from 1914 until a few months before his trial and sentence to imprisonment, had several serious features. Maritz not only was a member of the defence force, but he persuaded his subordinates therein to join the rebellion along with him, and he handed over the loyal members of the force to Germany in Southwest Africa.

LEAGUE WOULD STOP SECRET ARMS MAKING

Commission in Plan of National Control Also Seek End of 'Corrupt Trade.'

GENEVA, July 14.—(Associated Press.)— The League of Nations Commission on the Reduction of Armaments, before adjourning on Saturday, formulated the principles of an eventual International Convention for National Control of the Private Manufacture of Arms and War Materials in General.

The Commission decided that National Control should seek, firstly, complete suppression of clandestine manufacture, thus supplementing the provisions of the proposed convention for the regulation of international traffic; and secondly, that it should do away with all irregular practices and all attempts at corruption in transactions connected with the acquisition of war material by Governments.

The Commission, however, expressed the view that National Control should not interfere with the rights of Government to purchase necessary war materials either from private manufacturers or national arms factories.

APPEAL REFUSED.

LONDON, July 14. — The appeal of Attorney General of Ontario, Hon W. F. Nickle, to the Privy Council against the judgment of Justice Middleton of the Supeme Court of Ontario, granting speedy trial to the accused directors of the defunct Home Bank of Canada, on charges of conspiracy laid against them under the Bank Act, has failed entirely.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council gave judgment to-day dismissing the appeal.

BIG BRUSSELS BANQUET.

BRUSSELS, July 12.—Five hundred professors and students of Harvard, Chicago, McGill, Montreal, Toronto and other North American Universities who have been visiting the battlefields of Flanders, were guests of the Belgian University Federation Club at a huge banquet last night. After seeing the sights of the capital they plan to leave for Paris to attend the Olympics.

GALLANTLY GAVE LIFE

ST. KLEXIS, De la Grande Baie, Chicoutimi County, Que., July 14.—M: McCall, employed by Price Brothers here gallantly gave his life on Saturday afternoon, when after saving three young women from the waters of Des Sable River, he failed to bring back a fourth, Miss Duncan, of Bathurst, N.B., who was drowned.

CELLAR

"All the efforts that have been made since 1840 have been directed to driving liquor out of the home. We were succeeding until the prohibition law was passed: We are now raising a generation of young people who are seeing their fathers and mothers discussing around the table ways o fgetting a beverage with the most kick in it, and we are undoing the work of 80 years."

A minister says this before a congressional committee. His is a new angle on prohibition. Worth thinking about.

KEEPING VEGETABLES.

If asparagus or lettuce must be kept for more than a day or two put some water in a shallow dish and let the roots rest in that. Never have the water more than an inch deep.

DRY AGENTS' NEWEST WORRY

Here is the newest way to try to outwit prohibition agents. Just put on a pair of "cow shoes" if the dry boys get on your trail. They fooled the agents down around Hillsboro, Fla.—for a little while. Running across a large still, the agents started hunting the operator. He was nowhere in sight. And no human footprints could be seen. But there were marks of bovine hoofs. The agents followed them and found the distiller. One look at his shoes convinced them the footprints were his. Two blocks of wood, cut to resemble a cow's hoofs, were fastened to a wire frame attached to the soles of his shoes.

LOCAL FIRES

Five Year Old Child Sets a House Afire While Playing With Matches.

A coal shed between Rink and Perry Streets, belonging to the Peterboro Fuel and Cartage Co., caught fire last Friday morning from a train spark. The fire brigade reached the scene in time to check the fire. The loss is estimated at $25.

A five-year-old boy, while playing with matches, set some grass afire, which spread to the side of the house on 540 Romaine Street. Although the fire brigade were summoned, a little girl managed to extinguish the blaze before they had arrived.

PRINCE MAY COME

Will Likely Open the Toronto Exhibition and May Pass Through Peterboro.

TORONTO, June 14.—(Canadian Press).—There is a possibility that the Prince of Wales, under the incognito of Lord Renfrew, may pay his second visit to Canadian National Exhibition this year. When it became known that His Royal Highness was planning a trip to his Alberta ranch, Managing director John G. Kent took the matter up through the state channels, but until recently no definite plans has been made for the trip.

Boys Afraid to Kiss Mother Says Missourian

ATLANTIC CITY, July 14. — The American boy of to-day is ashamed to go home and kiss his mother in the good old-fashioned way, because his friends or associates would laugh at him, Frank S. Land, of Kansas City, declared at the banquet of the New Jersey Order of De Molay here last night.

The order is fostered by the Masons, and has a membership of 175,000 youths from sixteen to twenty-one. Land is the founder of the organization.

THE MUSIC OF CANADA.

Dr. James Lyon, the Wallasey musical director, who arrived at Liverpool a few days ago, by the Canadian Pacific liner Montclam, after adjudicating at Canadian musical festivals in Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver, stated to an "Echo" representative that Canadian music was going ahead by leaps and bounds.

He had heard some of the finest choir singing and musical instrumentalists in the Dominion, and they were good as, if not superior to some of the best in Great Britain. Cut from the Liverpool Echo, June 14th.

The last English king to command soldiers in action was George II. who directed the charge of the Suffolk regiment at Dettingen.

SACRED CONCERT SUNDAY EVENING

Mayor Turner Expressed the Citizens' Appreciation in a Brief Address.

The sacred concert given in Victoria Park last evening was opened by a short address by His Worship Mayor Turner, who stated that the function of Chairman was to introduce someone, but is this case no introduction was necessary for Commandant Smith, Bandmaster Robinson and his associates were well known as purveyers of sweet harmony with voice and instrument to the citizens of Peterbor and the countryside beyond.

The apparent reason for the Mayor's presence was to express the appreciation of the citizens to the Commandmant, Bandmester and his associates for their thoughtfulness and kindness in providing a sacred concert for the enjoyment of the citizens and on their behalf thanks were tendered and graciously accepted.

Dress Fads For Women

By HEDDA HOYT.

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 14. — (United Press).—The up-turned hat-brim is again being sponsored by the millinery world. Women are growing weary of the cloche shapes; it is stated. Among the recently introduced up-turned brims are those that droop a bit at one side. High crowns are daily growing more popular and squareness rather than roundness is being sponsored for hat crowns.

* * *

White fox neckpieces are often worn where the color scheme is black and white. Small white felt hats usually accompany the white fox, which is worn mostly for sports occasions.

* * *

While Paris is sponsoring the glittering evening frock, New Yorkers are favoring plain chiffon with very little ornamentation. Very vivid colors are used, among which yellow, red, burnt orange and bright green are noticeable.

* * *

Matching the scarf and parasol is a new idea which is very pretty. This is loveliest when both scarf and parasol are white and are worn with a white frock. The ends of the scarf are printed or batiked in brilliant colors and a wide border of corresponding colors are printed on the white parasol. A lovely green foliage appliqued on one side of the bodice and a narrow border about the hem of the frock of bright red. The white parasol has a border of red roses appliqued and a bright red handle. The home-embroiderer could easily copy such a frock at small cost.

* * *

The newest slip-on sweater is a combination of the Tuxedo and the former slip-on, for it is made with a very deep V-shaped neckline which is finished with lapels. A vest of lace is worn beneath this. Such a sweater is fashioned to give a more slender effect than the former slip-on model which was very apt to accentuate one's figure.

* * *

The half-sock is again being sold in the shops for summer wear. The latest models extend to the knee and are of the finest of weave. They come in the popular shades of nude, taupe, light grey, white and brown and are finished at the top with a colored elastic garter which is attached to the half-sock.

* * *

Already women are worrying about the shadow-proof petticoat which the sheer gown demands. There are numerous ways of making the petticoat or costume slip shadowproof. There are the deep hems which extend to the knees, double front panels and double rear panels, etc. The latest idea is the separate apron of lovely satin or heavy crepe, which is finished at the bottom with a lace flounce. These tie about the waist with ribbon sashes and may be worn under any sheer slip or worn with the heavier frock which does not demand a slip to insure sun-proofness.

A French scientist is working on an inventiaon by which he hopes to hear distant suns moving through space.

CAUSE OF CANCER.

Toronto Doctors Claim Glover Has Discovered Cause Not Cure.

TORONTO, July 13.— (Canadian Press).—"I do not wish to enter into any controversy, but there is not a shadow of doubt that Dr. Glover has discovered the cause of cancer,' '

This statement was made by Dr. Julian Loudon, chief physician of St. Michael's Hospital, who returned to the city yesterday morning, after spending some time in the laboratory of Dr. Glover in New York. Dr. Loudon attended the recent medical convention in Philadelphia at which Dr. Glover read a paper demonstrating that cancer was due to a micro organism.

Similar endorsation of Dr. Glovers' claim to having found the cause of cancer was voiced by Dr. J. M. McCormack ,a leading physician of the city, who accompanied Dr. Loudon and Dr. E. King to New York, and to Philadelphia. Dr. McCormack said:

"I am absolutely convinced that Dr. Gloved has the cause of cancer. I have seen and also sub-cultured the micro organism."

Both doctors stressed the fact that Dr. Glover made no claim to having found a cure, but only that he claimed he had isolated the organism giving rise to cancer.

GASOLINE DROPS IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Gasoline was reduced one cent a gallon on Saturday by the Standard Oil Company to consumers in this city.

Consumers will pay 22 cents a gallon at Standard stations, and 20 cents a gallon at Standard tank waggons. This includes the two-cent gasoline tax.

It is understood that other dealers here will meet th eStandard cut.

Standard has also reduced the local price of kerosene from 13 1-2 cents a gallon to 12 1-2 cents.

IRISH VESSEL WRECKED

CORK, July 13. — The new steamer Lismcre, belonging to the Cork Steam Packet Company, bound for Birkenhead, was wrecked off the Wexford coast on Friday.

It is feared that 19 of the crew, including three Spanish firemen, were drowned. Only one survivor thus far has been washed ashore.

WANT SCONE STONE FREE.

Scotsmen Resent Charge of Sixpence to See It.

LONDON, July 14. — Scotsmen, through one of their memerbs of Parliament, are kicking because they, among others, must pay sixpence when visiting Westminster Abbey to view the Stone of Scone, which forms the seat of the Coronation chair.

According to legend, this stone was Jacob's pillow at Bethel, and in the year 840 it was taken to Scone, in Scotland, from Tara, the home of the Irish kings.

Al lthe Scottish kings were crowned on it until 1896, when Edward I. of England had it brought to Westminster, where all the British sovereigns since have been crowned.

The Scotsmen admit that in viewing the stone one gets a lot of history for a "saxpence."

Nevertheless, they want Parliament to prevail upon the Westminster clergy to permit the public to view the "Stone of Destiny" for nothing, or send it home to Scotland, where it belongs.

The English argument is that in England the stone is in its proper setting, inasmuch as it seems to be fulfilling the old prophecy that, where the Stone of Scone rests, there the Scottish race shall rule.

WITH THE AIRMEN

British and Americans Still Making Good Time.

KUSHIRO, Island of Hokkaido, Japan, July 14.—(Canadian Press). —A. Stuart MacLaren, British aviator, and his two companions, on their way around the world by air, arrived here to-day from Miniato on Honshu, the main island of Japan.

VIENNA, July 14.—(United Press) — The three American around the world planes took off from Vienna for Paris, a distance of 650 miles, at 5.40 a.m. to-day. They expect to reach the French capital at 2 o'clock this afternoon (Vienna time). The airmen had intended upon their arrival at Paris, to circle over the Arc De Triomphe and drop a floral wreath upon the grave of the unknown soldier but the flowers they ordered failed to arrive in time, and they were little specs on the western horizon before the automobile delivery wagon from the florists dashed up to the airdrome.

PREMIER'S ADDRESS.

G. Howard Ferguson Made Another Declaration of Independence.

PRESCOTT, July 14.—(Canadian Press).—On the historic Fort field and before hundreds of Orangemen, Premier G. Howard Ferguson of Ontario Saturday afternoon uttered another declaration of independence. After declaring that the principles embodied in the pact of Confederation should be carefully maintained, that the document clearly defined Federal and Provincial jurisdiction, and that personal and civil rights were within the keeping of the provinces, Mr. Ferguson turned to the resolution proposed in the House of Commons on June 30 by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, the purpose of which was the adoption of an address to the Imperial Farliament for an amendment to the British North American Act, making it clear that the Dominion Parliament has the power to enact legislation with extra territorial effect in matters within its sphere.

"The Province of Ontario feels so strongly about this," said Premier Ferguson, "that we have already made a protest to the Federal Government against making any such move without a conference with and the co-operation of the various provinces. All our personal and civil rights are now in the keeping and protection of the provinces, and any amendment that would extend the authority of the Dominion might easily be a serious menace to our national unity."

LORRAIN NEEDS HELP.

Ohio Tornado Victims Appeal for $600.000 Relief Fund.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 14. — An appeal was made to Ohio citizens on Saturday for $600,000 for immediate relief of Lorain and other northern Ohio tornado-devastated areas by the Commission for Northern Ohio Tornado Relief.

Quotas were assigned to every city, town, and community to raise.

The amount requested was based upon a survey made by the National Red Cross, which is to supervise the expenditure of all funds.

The amount requested does not take into consideration rehabilitation of school and municipal properties, which is to be taken care of in some other manner, nor that already appropriated by the State and contributed by the Red Cross.

Easily Digested Nourishment

GRAPE-NUTS STUFFED TOMATOES

6 firm, ripe tomatoes, 1 cup cold, creamed potatoes, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 pimento, 1 tablespoon butter, ¼ cup Grape-Nuts, ¼ teaspoon pepper.

When creamed potatoes form a part of the day's menu, there is nearly always a small portion left. An excellent way to utilize this is found in this recipe.

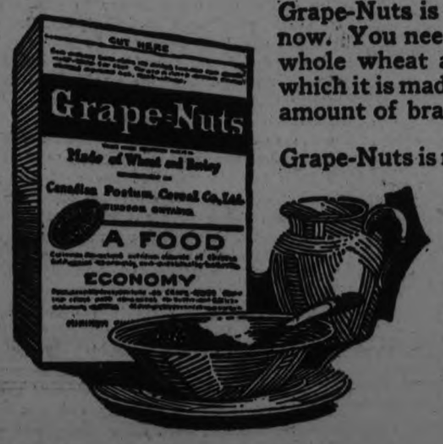
Wash and hollow six firm, ripe tomatoes, mix the hearts of the tomatoes with the cold creamed potatoes, season with salt and pepper to taste, add one pimento, finely minced and ¾ cup of Grape-Nuts. Mix thoroughly, stuff the hollowed tomatoes, top with ½ teaspoon of butter to each tomato. Place in a shallow pan with a little warm water, and bake in a moderate oven for thirty or forty minutes. Serve hot. Cooked okra may be substituted for the potatoes.

This recipe will serve six persons.

WARM summer days call for foods which are easily assimilated by your body—their goodness extracted with the least amount of effort.

Grape-Nuts is just such a food. Its vast store of phosphorous and iron, of the precious food elements of wheat and malted barley is concentrated by a long process of slow baking in a highly energizing form—easily assimilated by the body.

Grape-Nuts is the food you need right now. You need the nourishment of the whole wheat and malted barley from which it is made. You need the generous amount of bran roughage it contains.



Grape-Nuts is most appetizing, too. Its crisp, crunchy granules have a flavor all their own. And it is very economical to serve. Four teaspoonfuls are sufficient for a helping. Costs 1c per serving. Get a package for tomorrow from your grocer.

TOO MANY POLICE FORCES.

One of the subjects discussed at the Police Chiefs' Convention was the confusion caused by the existence of so many different police forces in Canada.

It was pointed out that in many municipalities there are the municipal police, controlled by a police commission; county police, under the direction of the sheriff; Provincial police, responsible to the Attorney-General, and often Dominion police, under the control of the Federal Government.

As one speaker put it, Canada is suffering not from too many policemen but from too many police forces.

The subject is one that is of general interest.

It is readily apparent that with so many different departments there are always present the ingredients for bickering and dissatisfaction, and that unless the greatest tact and diplomacy are shown by all parties concerned there is likely to be wrangling over the jurisdiction and duties of the different police bodies.

A condition is likely to arise that in some districts each force will be getting involved in somebody else's business, while in others the buck will be passed from one body to another, and nothing will be done.

There should be some simpler form of law enforcement machinery available that would do away with the present conditions under which there are three or four forces operating at the same time in the same district.

REFRESHMENT BOOTHS.

One feature of Saturday's celebration—a usual feature of all events that bring into the city a large crowd of visitors—was the large number of refreshment booths located in every available nook and corner.

These perhaps are a convenience to visitors, but their presence cannot be considered as fair to the stores permanently established for the sale of soft drinks and refreshments.

The proprietors of these places are called upon to pay heavy taxes—yet when an occasion arrives upon which it is possible to do more than the usual day's business they find their field invaded by temporary opposition located in a splendid strategic position to capture the bulk of the trade.

One class pays large taxes toward the upkeep of the city; the other merely pays $5.00 for a license that can be used over and over again during the season.

These conditions might well be taken into consideration by the civic authorities and some restriction put on the sale of refreshments, particularly within the business section.

There is no objection to refreshment booths located in the parks or at other points where they are not in direct opposition to the permanent dealers in such commodities.

In fact, temporary accommodation of this kind is a necessity.

But refreshment places of a transient nature might well be banned from the chief business blocks, the merchants on which are entitled to this protection because of the share they contribute toward the maintenance of the city.

EAST PETERBOROUGH PASSES.

So far as this district is concerned, the main feature of the redistribution programme as recommended to Parliament by the Special Committee which has been considering the matter for some months, is the wiping out of the riding of East Peterborough.

Its passing will not occasion any surprise, as it was realized that with its small population the constituency as a separate riding would have to disappear.

There will be regret, however, that in the elimination of the East riding county boundaries could not have been respected and the East thrown in with the West riding, instead of being made part of Hastings for election purposes.

The people of the eastern part of Peterborough County would have preferred to have been linked with the West, and have said so on more than one occasion.

It is probable that had the city of Ueterborough and the residents of the western part of the county had been equally as outspoken in their views that the county might have been left intact as one constituency.

However, the West was apathetic in the matter, so the eastern townships are cast adrift so far as elections are concerned from the county of Peterborough, while the riding of West Peterborough remains unchanged by the redistribution programme.

The shake-up throughout Canada is not as great as was anticipated. There are ten more ridings in all, Nova Scotia loses two, Quebec, Ontario, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island remain the same and the Western Provinces all gain additional seats.

RICH GET RICHER.

Sixty-seven persons acknowledged an income of a million dollars or more last year in the United States; 161 reported incomes ranging from $500,000 to a million; 309 had incomes in excess of $300,000 but below $500,000. In a population of upwards of 110,000,000 these plutocrats are numerically an insignificant minority, says the Hamilton Spectator; what of the smaller fry, since it seems to be generally supposed that even the humblest wage-earner is comparatively well off there, as compared with his social peers of other lands? Approximately two millions and a half of the population subsisted on incomes from $1,000 to $2,000; over two million got along with from $2,000 to $3,000, and there is a drop to just over a million with incomes ranging between $3,000 to $5,000.

It is interesting to observe that the number of multi-millionaires, those whose incomes are in excess of a million dollars a year, has increased from 22 in 1922 to 67 in 1923, a remarkable rise for one year. Is it a healthy condition that those who have succeeded in corralling so much of this world's goods should find it so easy to add to their superfluous store? It is scarcely a natural condition, at any rate, and not one which makes for stability or permanency. Great wealth in the hands of some may be a public blessing; but to give so much power to a single individual is neither good for him nor for society. The United States is a country of enormous wealth, but the distribution of that wealth is probably more unequal there than anywhere else, when the situation comes to be analyzed.

SATURDAY'S CELEBRATION.

The celebration of the Twelfth in Peterborough will be remembered as a most successful event, smiled upon by perfect July weather, marked by a large attendance and unmarred by anything that could be described as a serious accident.

The crowd and vehicular traffic were well handled by the Police Department, the walk was conducted with a minimum of confusion, and in all respects the occasion was marked by good order.

In fact, the thousands of Orangemen and their friends who were Peterborough's guests during the day, as well as local citizens generally, are to be congratulated upon the exemplary behaviour of all concerned.

There was not a sign of rowdyism or horse-play and little indications of drinking; in fact, among the throngs on the streets all day Saturday the Examiner saw but one man who appeared to be under the influence of liquor.

It was a good-natured, orderly crowd of Canadian citizens, able to enjoy a day without the license and disorder that in some other parts of the world are considered as necessary adjuncts of any celebration that brings large masses of people together on holiday bent.

The local committee are to be congratulated upon the smooth working out of their successful arrangements.

There may have been bigger Orange celebrations in Peterborough, but none that reflected more credit either upon those locally responsible or upon their guests and visitors.

THE ATTITUDE OF MR. MORRISON

J. J. Morrison, in a speech at Wiarton, devoted most of his time to an examination of the entry of the U.F.O. into political life in Ontario. He was extremely critical of the way in which the cabinet had been organized, and even more so of the manner in which it had functioned during its term of office.

Mr. Morrison claims that he never wanted the U.F.O. to become the dominant political power in the province; he would prefer to see it in that enviable position known as the balance of power, throwing its weight to the side willing to do the things it considered in the interests of the farming community.

The trouble is that our system of elections can hardly be adjusted to give such a finely-balanced state of affairs. The U.F..O. put up candidates all over the province, and sought the election of just as many of them as possible. Following Mr. Morrison's line of reasoning, it must have been that they elected too many members in 1919 and too few in 1923, because in the former case the U.F.O. became, not the balance of power, but the controlling factor, while in 1923 there were not enough members returned to carry weight in the legislative affairs. The plan he holds out as the most desirable, that of a compact group, possessing the deciding voting power, is a shadowy affair, a condition that would be more apt to come by accident than design.

Granted that it might be secured, it is not a desirable condition from the standpoint of all the people, because it amounts to one party securing the advantages of legislation without being called upon to shoulder the responsibilities of government.

Mr. Morrison's criticism of the U.F.O. government during its term of office was severe. His main object, viz., that Hon. Mr. Biggs did not patronize the Farmers' Co-operative Company when buying supplies, leaves Mr. Morrison open to the charge that he wanted government patronage for these stores, and patronage is one thing to which the U.F.O. as a political unit refused to tolerate. There could be only one basis of buying, and that should be by public tender; if the Farmers' Co-operative Stores could tender with the others and secure business on that basis, it would be entitled to have it, but not on any other basis. It is quite safe to assume that the members of the U.F.O. would be the last to urge a departure from the principle of competitive buying by public tenders.

Mr. Morrison could very well afford to be much more generous in his reference to members of the late U.F.O. government, particularly Mr. Drury, whom he claims would not carry out the desires of the executive of the U.WF.O., and sought to create the impression that Mr. Morrison was anxious to become dictator of the situation; he even goes so far as to state that Mr. Drury could have denied such a desire on the part of Mr. Morrison, but "unwillingly or foolishly, he failed to do it," according to Mr. Morrison.

It is too late to serve any good purpose with a review of the relations between Mr. Morrison and Mr. Drury. They were not cordial at all, and it is a fact that Dr. Drury, facing a very peculiar situation, and asked to head a government of which he knew litle needed assistance and sympathy, but received neither in any degre from Mr. Morrison.

The lesson of the U.F.O. regime was that the supporters of the government, the directors and managers of every force that could be brought to the assistance of the government, should have come together and stayed together. In view of the responsibility with which that newly and hastily-formed government found itself faced, there was no room for a Morrison following and a Drury following. Those differences could very well have stood to one side in order that the province as a whole might have benefited, and for the failure to come together and work together during the time of the U.F.O. government Mr. Morrison was just as much to blame as Mr. Drury and is therefore hardly in a position to appear in so critical a mood.—London Advertiser.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Rotary Carnival on Thursday deserves general community support. It is a big day for a big cause.

Prophets who were declaring not long ago that this would be a year without a summer are admitting now that the weather is at least warm.

With municipal clerks instructed to prepare Part 3 of the voters' list, the plebiscite on the O. T. A. cannot be far away. The Premier should make the definite announcement as soon as possible.

SURVEY OF CROPS.

Cheerful Note in Reports From Various Parts of the District.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 14 (Canadian Press). — Trade in the cash grain market was again quiet on Saturday. There was no change in the flour market. A very firm feeling prevails in mill feed. The tone of the egg market is steady. Total receipts from 1st May to date were 184,116 cases as against 244,276 for the same period last year. The butter market closed easy. Total receipts from 1st May to date have been 5,632 packages less than in the same period of 1923. The tendency in cheese is downwards. Total receipts from 1st May to date have been 54,082 boxes in excess o fthe same period of 1923. The bean market is strong, with 1-pound pickers quoted at $2.75 to $2.85 per bushel.

STERLING RATES.

MONTREAL, July 14 (Canadian Press). — Sterling exchange rates were quoted here on Saturday:
Demand 4.4113

CHEESE AT 16 1-16 CENTS.

VANKLEEK HILL, Ont., July 14 (Canadian Press). — At the regular meeting of the Vankleek Hill Cheese Board on Saturday, there were boarded 1,848 boxes white and 36 coloured, and sold at 16 1-16 cents per pound.

GRAIN STOCKS PILE UP.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., July 14 (Canadian Press). — Stocks of all grains rose by over three million bushels at the head of the lakes during the week, the total grain now in store having run over the 30,000,000 bushel mark. The increases were registered in all grains excepting flax. Wheat accounted for two and a half million bushels of it, while shipments of rye were only a single car by rail. The elevators here are now filled to just about one-half of their usual capacity, which is a very rare occurrence at this season when there is only about six weeks to elaps before the new crop begins to come down.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 14 (Canadian Press). — Unfavourable crop news from Canada and Russia stirred up native buying of wheat on Saturday, and in some instances established new high price records for the season. Considerable of the buying was said to be on foreign account.

Closing quotations for wheat were firm at the topmost level reached, September $1.18 1-2 to $1.18 5-8 and December $1.21 1-4 to $1.21 3-8, with corn showing 3-8c to 3 1-2c gain; oats 3-4c to 1 3-8c up; and provisions at an advance ranging from 5 to 25 cents.

Estimates that nearly 1,000,000 bushels of wheat had been taken on Saturday for shipment to Europe were especially effective in convincing traders here that the adverse crop oulook in Canada was having a far-reaching influence. Much attention was also given to a report from Canada by a Chicago expert that Manitoba and Saskatchewan would be unable to raise more than 150,-000,000 bushels this year as against 275,000,000 bushels last year.

Another crop authority telegraphing from Saskatoon in Canada said that throughout a drive of 130 miles he found much of the crop badly fired. Assertions that the Russian rye crop was the poorest in forty years were also given a good deal of notice.

Reports on the outlook for the domestic wheat crop were generally favourable, and the movement from the harvest fields continued liberal. With only scattered showers predicted for Canada, however, sellers here were in a minority and the trade leaned to the view that the Canadian prospect was becoming worse than had heretofore seemed likely.

Urgent demand for corn to be delivered either immediately or before the new crop is available, led to a flurry among September shorts, and September went above $1.00 for the first time this season.

July corn also touched a new top record.

Oats followed corn.

Provisions, like grain, continued to be in active demand.

LEARN FROM FIDO

"You may call them dumb animals," remarked the Mann family doctor one day, pointing to the dog and cat comfortably stretched out upon the floor, "but I'd hate to be asked my frank opinion of whether we were dumber than they under some circumstances.

"There's many a pointer we could take from them.

"Did you ever notice how they lie down after eating? How many humans do you know that do that? Man could well imitate the animal habit of a rest after eating. The animal knows instinctively that its body should rest and have its own natural way after digestion has started.

"I don't mean by that that the average human should sleep for two or three hours; but there should be a relaxation and rest of some sort while digestion gets under way.

"A nap of from five to fifteen minutes would be all that is required. Remember the blood has gone to the stomach and that's why you feel like taking a nap.

"Also a dog doesn't eat when it is sick and stretches itself after lying down. If man would follow such instincts he'd be better off."

MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

The rate of interest which an investment pays is always directly proportional to the risk it represents.

Whenever a stock or bond salesman offers to sell you a bond or some stock which is reported to yield a large return, look into the element of risk carefully. The only reason for paying large interest on a bond is because the money cannot be borrowed at a lower rate of interest. A share of stock which pays a fat dividend is usually the stock of a well organized company, the shares of which are selling well above par, thus making the net return on that stock a nominal return.

This rate of interest is governed by that old economic bugbear "the law of supply and demand." When the demand and risk are great, interest rates soar. When demand and risk are low, interest rates tumble. That is best proven by government bonds. They bear a comparatively low rate of interest, but they are the safest investments which a person can make and consequently do not have to pay high interest.

SUMMER COAT.

Attractive coats for summer wear are of crepe de chine covered with all-over embroidery over a lining of contrasting color. Black over red or henna is a popular combination.

FARM AT TWEED COMPLETE LOSS

Mr. Jake Lusk's Fine Home Burned With Outbuildings —Fire Caused by an Incubator.

TWEED, July 14.—On Friday at 3 p.m. fire broke out in the residence of Mr. Jake Lusk, about two and one-half miles out of Tweed. Mr. and Mrs. Lusk had left shortly before to pick strawberries at a neighbor's farm. During their absence the incubator, in the cellar, caught fire. Soon the house, which was a beautiful big brick one, was in flames. The alarm was sent in to Tweed and friends and neighbors rushed to aid Mr. and Mrs. Lusk, who had returned in haste. More or less successful efforts were made to check the blaze with hand chemicals. The fire in the attic, however, was too strong. The barn, silo and drive-house were ignited by sparks and burned to the ground. If the men had only had ladders the fires in the outbuildings, if not in the house, could easily have been extinguished. This fire burned unusually slowly and the neighbors were able to remove all the furniture, implements and stock. The loss is only partly covered by insurance.

Personals.

Mrs. Swetman and her daughters, Misses Lilian, Rachel and Kathleen, are visiting at Mr. and Mrs. Meikeljohn's cottage on Staco Lake. Their many friends welcome them after their long absence.

Mrs. Houston and Misses Grace and Doris Houston have gone to Vancouver to visit friends and relatives there. Mr. Houston because of pressing business will not go until some time later.

FABLES ON HEALTH

FOOD IS BUT FUEL.

One thing that stumped Mr. Mann when he was considering dietary problems was why food cannot be measured in weight or bulk.

The mistake of thus measuring food is a common one.

Food is measured in fuel units, better known as calories.

And many foods have their caloric values so well concentrated that by taking a small portion the same effect can be procured as when a large amount of some other bulky food is eaten.

An example of this is olive oil, which is a concentrated food wherein 300 calories per ounce, or thereabouts, may be found. Ordinary vegetables are bulky and several pounds would have to be eaten to get the same caloric result.

These are matters that the average person does not stop to consider when sitting down to eat. The spoonful of olive oil, or the little pitcher of cream he takes may be giving him a caloric value equal or greater to all the rest of the food he is eating.

A few instances of this may be found by noting the following food articles, each of which contain 100 calories: one large egg, one large-sized baked potato, one lamb chop, a dish of sweet corn, an ordinary helping of baked beans, two squares of cube sugar, a handful of peanuts, a square of butter, a glass of milk or a quarter of a glass of cream and a large orange.

FETE AT LAKEFIELD.

Presbyterian Ladies Held a Social at Dr. Smith's Home.

LAKEFIELD, July 12. — On Wednesday evening the Ladies' Guild of the Presbyterian Church held a garden fete on the lawn of Dr. J. C. Smith. The grounds were lighted with electricity and presented a very attractive appearance, the scene being like fairyland, with the background of magnificent trees and the fluttering to and fro of the pretty summer gowns of the ladies. The ladies sold cake and home-made candy and also plates of ice cream and strawberries with cake. These were very popular and the tables placed attractively under the trees were always occupied. The only drawback was the presence of myriads of mosquitoes which were attracted by the crowd, the bright lights and the humid weather. The Citizens' Band furnished music and received many compliments on the excellence of their programme.

At nine o'clock the crowd gathered near the west verandah, where a programme of vocal and instrumental music was rendered. As the pastor of the church, Rev. P. L. Jull, is away on a holiday, Rev. C. S. Reddick very kindly occupied the chair and the following programme was run off.

Chairman's address —Rev. C. S. Reddick.
Piano solo—Miss Simpson.
Quartette— Misses Webster and Doidge and Messrs. A. B. Burrows and Ralph Payne.
Cornet solo—Mr. Jewell.
Solo—Mrs. Osborne.
Solo—Dr. J. C. Smith.
Duet—Misses Doidge and Webster.
Solo—Mrs. Burrows.

The threatening rain considerately kept off and the affair was a very great success, both financially and from the standpoint of having been a very pleasant evening.

Paul In Possession

By RUBY AYRES

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The story thus far:

When John Collinge died, he left behind him his adopted daughter, Wanda Griffin, a headstrong, passionate and overbearing girl, and his son Paul, with whom he had quarrelled, and who had gone abroad. After the death, Paul comes home for the reading of the will, and to Wanda's surprise she finds she is disinherited, and that he is the heir. Paul dislikes Wanda intensely because of her behavious, and tells her she must leave the house immediately; she refuses and, in order to stay there pretends to be ill. At last matters reach a crisis, and Paul orders Wanda out of the house. She goes up to London with Mrs. Garnet, her one friend, with whom she is to live. The day after she arrives, Clare's brother Harry, the "black sheep" of the family, comes home unexpectedly and falls in love with Wanda. One day Paul comes to see them. He accuses Wanda of being jealous of Clare, and, though she denies it, Wanda knows he is speaking the truth.

TO-DAY'S INSTALMENT.

XXVI—WANDA WONDERS.

Paul sat down on the arm of a chair, his hands thrust into his pockets. "We should have had some hard struggles before I finally mastered you," he said reflectively.

"You would never have mastered me."

"Should I not?" His eyes dwelt upon her. "You know, I should have made quite a decent sort of husband," he said abruptly. "I can be quite a nice chap when I like."

She tried to answer, but failed; and he got up and came a step nearer to her.

"Of course, you don't agree with that," he urged.

She raised her eyes to his and let them fall again. She was wondering with a desperate feeling of anger and self-contempt why there was such a longing in her heart to feel his arms round her, why the impulse to lay her head against his shoulder was almost irresistible; why she was so glad, so unspeakably glad to see him again, and yet why she felt that she must quarrel, quarrel with him all the time.

Clare spoke at the door.

"Can I come in? Or do I interrupt?"

Paul moved sharply back as she entered.

"Please come in. We've quite finished our conversation."

He explained his suggested programme for the evening, and she received it enthusiastically.

"How lovely! How very kind of you. I must go and tell Harry."

Paul looked at Wanda with a comical smile when she had departed.

"It seems that somebody approves of me," he said deprecatingly.

"Well, she's a widow," Wanda said bluntly.

"And Courtney is divorced," Paul answered lightly. "Quite a happy arrangement all round."

Wanda walked out of the room without answering.

That evening was one of the unhappiest she had ever spent.

It seemed right and natural enough that she and Harry should be left together while Paul escorted Mrs. Garnet, but for the first time since his arrival, Harry failed to amuse her.

She was impatient and resentful with him. She hardly listened when he spoke; she kept trying to hear the conversation between Clare and Paul; once when she saw Mrs. Garnet rest her hand on Paul's arm with a little familiar gesture, the blood rose in Wanda's face in anger.

Did he like Clare? Of course, Clare liked him. Who would not like a man with such a rent roll behind him and a home like Grey Chumleys?

But it was not for these reasons that she herself felt so angry and jealous. If Paul had been as poor and with such a black record as Harry Courtney, it would have made no difference, she told herself; she would have loved him just the same; then she caught the thought back again in a panic.

Love him! Of course she didn't love him. She must be mad to allow herself to think it. He had never even been polite to her. She remembered their first meeting in the rose garden, and his own words:

"You must be the jockey's little girl!"

She had been angry with him then, and she had never ceased to be angry with him since.

She looked across the dinner table at him resentfully.

He was laughing and apparently enjoying himself, talking and looking down at Clare as if they were the best of friends.

Wanda turned impatiently to the man beside her.

"I beg your pardon," she said, "I an afraid I was not listening."

"You seem very distracted to-night," he answered, a note of anger in his voice.

"Wanda's thoughts seem to be miles away this evening," he said across the table to his sister. "I've spoken to her twice in my most entertaining manner, and she has not heard."

OMEMEE CORRESPONDENCE

OMEMEE, July 14.—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held in the Church on Wednesday afternoon. A small attendance of members were present. Mrs. S. J. Mackey occupied the chair and conducted the opening exercises. The roll-call was answered by a verse of scripture containing the word "righteous."

Miss Doris Sandy read a very interesting chapter from the study book, which dealt with missionary work carried on by Dr. John Leslie Mackay in Formosa.

The president, Mrs. Black, then took charge of the business meeting. After a short discussion, it was decided to hand over the proceeds of the Bake Sale ($9.35) to the Finance Committee.

Much regret was expressed by the president and further voiced by those present, when Mrs. M. J. Parsons who, on account of her removal to Toronto, resigned her office as the Messenger secretary. Mrs. S. J. Mackey was appointed to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the year. Other minor items of business were settled, and the meeting closed with a hymn and the Mizpah benediction in concert.

Union Service.

The Methodist and Presbyterian congregations united in their first union service for the summer months in the Methodist Church on Sunday. Large congregations assembled for each service. The pastor, Rev. E. W. Rowland, occupied the pulpit, and the special music by the choir, assisted by Mr. J. Mackey, of Lindsay, was thoroughly enjoyed. The interior of the church has just been re-decorated in cream and white, and the flower decorations consisted of many varieties of roses field daisies, lady-slippers, canterberry bells, etc., all of which presented a magnificent appearance. A handsome Bible adorned the pulpit, a gift from Mrs. Wm. Earle in memory of her mother.

On Monday evening a strawberry festival was held in the basement of the church, and although the weather was unfavorable for an affair of this sort, yet a large crowd gathered and about $116 was realized. The Scottish entertainers from Peterborough were cancelled, but a short programme was soon gathered up among the local talent and no one was disappointed. LONDON, July 14 (Canadian Press). — Robert Applegarth, one of the pioneers of British Trades Unionism, died yesterday at his home in Thornton Heath.

Death was due to senile decay.

He was a politician and a reformer, and a promoter of popular education. In 1854 Mr. Applegarth went to the United tSates and spent some time in Galesburg, Illinois. He was a member of the Reform League, of the London General Council of the International Workingmen's Association and of the London Chamber of Commerce.

ACCIDENTS CAUSED BY POOR JUDGMENT

Brakes Alone Can't Stop an Automobile Within a Required Distance.

By ISRAEL KLEIN.

Judgment of motorists generally is bad.

Only a scattered few know when to apply their brakes and under what pressure, to stop before reaching a specified point.

And even less can figure correctly the speed to which they can pick up within a certain limit of time or distance.

For proof of these assertions the interstate Commerce Commission has issued Accident Bulletin No. 87, covering largely railroad accidents, but including in it crossing accidents where motorists are mostly concerned.

According to this report, which covers 1922, the latest year for which there are complete returns, 122 persons were killed and 911 others injured as a result of vehicles running into the sides of passenger trains!

Drivers to Blame.

Most of these "freak" accidents may be blamed to:

1. Trying to beat the train to the crossing, and
2. Poor judgment.

Motorists who try to speed up before the train "gets there," forget the important consideration that they can't reach the car as fast with a full car as they could without an extra passenger. The pick-up is much slower.

And once started, with a full car, drivers forget that they can't stop so easily. In fact, speed is even a more important consideration in stopping.

The belief might prevail that the difficulty in stopping a car increases merely in proportion to the speed. The fact is, other things being equal, it increases with the square of the speed.

No Sudden Stop.

Besides speed, momentum, or the weight behind the car, declivity and condition of the road have much to do with the stopping of a car.

No matter how hard the brakes are applied, even if the wheels are locked, the car's momentum, increasing with the speed, is going to push it along until it comes to a definite halt.

The shortest distance at which a car, with two brakes, can stop on a good, level, non-slippery road, is shown in the accompanying diagram. But it takes more than speed to determine the distance at which a car can be stopped effectively. Three other essentials must be considered. They are:

1. Brakes must be in perfect condition.
2. The driver's judgment of distance and time must be accurate.
3. Variance in weight and momentum of the car must be considered.

GERMANY'S SHIPPING SHOWS INCREASE

Despite War Loss, Germany Regains Seventh Place in World's Shipping.

HAMBURG, Germany, July 14.—German shipping claims to be fighting against tremendous odds in its attempt to regain its place in the sun. The loss of 90 per cent. of the German commercial fleet through the war and the terms of surrender means that German ship owners practically have had to start anew. By taking up loans, buying back some of the ships delivered to the Entente victors under the Treaty of Versailles, and refraiming from paying dividends in recent years, the shipping concerns of Germany have gradually worked up a post-war tonnage of 2,800,000 gross register tons, which is about one-half the German pre-war tonnage, and which comprises 4 per cent. of the total world's tonnage as compared with 11 per cent. in 1914.

From eleventh place in 1920 among the shipping nations of the world, Germany has moved to seventh place by 1924, as compared with second place in 1914.

Count Sigfried Roedern, chairman of the League of German Ship Owners and Freighters, in a prepared statement replying to specific questions, gave the following picture of shipping conditions:

"In 1914 the German merchant marine occupied second place among the merchant fleets of the world as far as actual tonnage was concerned. It then comprised 5,200,000 gross register tons and was surpassed only by Great Britain.

"In the course of the war Germany lost about half of her ships through seizure, sinking, etc. Next, in accordance with the terms of the Versailles Treaty, she had to give up approximately the second half. Included among the vessels that had to be turned over to the victors were all the larger passenger boats. The Germans were permitted to retain only the ships under 1,000 tons and one-half the vessels between 1,000 and 1,600 tons. By the peace treaty and the German legislation resulting therefrom German shipping was compelled to pay a part of the war bill immediately in kind, by giving up not only the ships already in the service, but also those under constructin.

"It was the sense of the Treaty of Versailles that this delivery by private capital was to be regarded as a payment on account by the German Empire and hence to be refunded to the individual concerns by the German state. The financial condition of the Reich made complete indemnification impossible. An agreement was therefore reached between the government and the ship owners, by which the latter were to receive an amount sufficient to rebuild but one-third of their pre-war tonnage. Because of the inflation of the last years the indemnity payments of the government did not suffice to rebuild the third of the old tonnage agreed upon. Besides, in distributing the government indemnity, the small ship owners were to be given the preference, so that most of the larger concerns were able to finance a replacement programme of but 20 per cent. of the pre-war tonnage out of the funds furnished by the government. The fact that the larger concerns nevertheless rebuilt on an average one-third of their old tonnage, is due solely to their watering their stock and assuming new debts.

"Due to the fact that a number of small and middle-sized concerns were able to exceed this programme, and that several new companies have been founded, the entire German merchant marine has now, upon completion of the reconstruction programme, been brought to 2,800,000 tons,—in other words, to about one-half of the pre-war tonnage—both by new construction and through the re-purchase of vessels delivered.

"Compared with the former fleet, the present comprises comparatively few purely passenger ships and more mixed freight-and-passenger vessels as well as freighters pure and simple. The fact that these newly constructed ships are equipped with modern machinery does not counterbalance the fact that the total value of the ships has depreciated over the pre-war value.

"Germany has taken up her principal former routes, such as those to North America, South America, the Orient, Dutch East Indies, and Australia. The tonnage at the service of these routes is, of course, considerably reduced, especially since greater emphasis must now be placed upon the routes to Sweden, England and Spain inasmuch as Germany's production of iron and coal has been considerably diminished as a result of the peace treaty.

"The indemnity payments for the merchant vessels delivered were continued only until March, 1923. Since that time no additional payments have been made by the Reich for the uncompleted part of the reconstruction programme.

"The building programme undertaken as a result of the indemnity payments is now complete to within four or five ships. It is self-evident that for years to come the building pace of the last years of reconstruction or even of the years before the war cannot be kept up."

STONEY LAKE PERSONALS

STONEY LAKE, July 14.—The Rotary Camp, Clear Lake, is open for the season of 1924, and is more popular and useful than ever. This camp has been one of the finest institutions on the lake, as it has played no mean part in making good citizens of boys who had little opportunity of vacations. The camp gives the lads a chance to enjoy the pleasures and duties of camp life, and if the jolly faces are an index to the minds within the boys, all enjoying a good time. Camp duties keep pleasure from palling on the active youngsters.

New Pavilion.

The opening of the "Viamede," new dance pavilion on Tuesday night, was a decided success. An excellent programme was rendered by Brown's five-piece orchestra, of Peterborough, which was enjoyed by a large crowd who were loud in praise of the wonderful floor which is the best on thelake. Dances will be held every Tuesday and Friday nights during the summer with the same orchestra in attendance.

The first dance of the season was held at Juniper on Saturday night, and it was well attended, the crowd being largely made up of the young people. "Flappers" are decidedly to the fore, and are certainly busily engaged in the rather strenuous business of having a good time. The dainty gowns of the girls on Saturday night made an extremely pretty picture.

New Campers.

Camps are springing up all along the lakes; a couple of boys, a canoe, tent, and a camping outfit, often extremely crude, form a combination seen in many attractive woods all the way along the lakes from the narrows at Lakefield to Crowe's Landing, and even beyond. One camp on a rather desolate point appears to have no attraction beyond the fact that a herd of very fine cattle appear also to have their headquarters there.

A Lake Zoo.

If the pets of the lake colony were collected a very fair-sized zoo could be started, dogs, cats, birds, rabbits, etc., are taken up each year, the trip up and down furnishes enough excitement for a long time. Collie dogs, police dogs, spaniels, bulldogs, poms, hounds, Airedales, etc., are to be found at the lake and appear to enjoy the holiday as much as anyone when the excitement of arrival has passed. Cats are usually transported in boxes, and are less in the public eye, but one sees occasionally the rather odd spectacle of Pussy traveling in a bird cage or an egg crate. Already the number of pets is in fair proportion to the cottages open.

Mr. Maddox has added a very pretty square porch to his cottage on Eagle Mount, and is at present engaged in having the cottage and porch painted. The porch adds greatly to the aspect of the cottage.

Lumber has been taken up to build a cottage on the southwest point of Otter Island, and work will begin this week.

Dr. Moir has put up a water tank and tower at Cliff Cottage, near Crowe's Landing.

The cottages are rather late opening this year, the later dates of the examinations being one of the contributing causes. The next week will see many more families established in their summer homes.

The dredge "Randolph MacDonald," with its tug, "Natche," passed through the lakes on Saturday, en route for Kingston.

One sees evidence of approaching regattas in the presence of the sailboats, dinghies, etc. The "B.V.D." which has won many a race for the Willoughby boys, is still to the good, and is at anchor near the dock at "Fairy Lake Villa." Fred Morrison's dinghy is at anchor at Kawartha Park, and others are in evidence also. The sailing events are always popular at the regattas.

Mrs. Lawrence H. Grahame has sold her island, "Fiji," to Mr. Willoughby, of Baltimore, Md.

Work is going ahead rebuilding the house of Mr. W. T. Northey in Dagmar Bay, which was recently destroyed by fire.

The fishing at Mount Julian has been exceptionally good this season and many fine catches have been brought in, among those having specially fine catches were Father Finn and Mr. V. J. Corkery, of Peterborough, who landed some splendid bass.

The following are registered at the Mount Julian hotel: J. W. Stewart, Peterborough; Wm. Garfat, Port Hope; Helen M. Anderson, Peterborough; Margaret R. Reid, Peterborough; R. C. CENTREVILLE PICNIC.

Annual Strawberry Festival of Presbyterian Church.

BAILIEBORO, July 12. — On Thursday evening, July 10th, the Presbyterian Church at Centreville held their annual strawberry festival. The tables were set in the field adjoining the manse, and not far from the tables were the booth and the platform, both being very prettily decorated.

Probably the most interesting feature of the evening was the baseball game played between the Centreville team and the Millbrook Juveniles.

The Juveniles met with an overwhelming defeat, probably due to the fact that they had only eight of their team to play. Some of their regular players being out of town, the final score was 26-16 in favor of Centreville.

After supper was served, and also while supper was being served, the Junior Salvation Army Band of Peterborough played a number of selections. A programme followed in which the members of the Band assisted.

Rev. A. H. McConnachie acted as chairman, and after a few remarks he called upon Mr. John Smith of Peterborough to favor the audience with a solo.

Two of the members of the Band played a cornet duet, "Ivory Palaces," which was much enjoyed by all.

Rev. Mr. Gervan, of Millbrook, gave a short address.

Miss Tully, of Otonabee, who was to assist in the programme as elocutionist, was unable to be present.

The total receipts of the evening amounted to nearly $263.00.

On Sunday, 3rd August, an open-air service will be held at Wallace Point. The service will be conducted by the Salvation Army of Peterborough.

HAYING AT KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, July 12.—Haying is quite general in this district and while the crop is not as large as last year it is stated that the quality is good.

Denver is to have a two-mile auto speedway.

HAY IS COLORING.

WARSAW, July 14.—The little showers have done a great deal of good, but more rain yet would help to fill up the grain. Fall wheat is already beginning to show a tinge of yellow. There are some splendid fields of it to be seen.

Sweet clover hay cutting is well under way. On the sandy land near Young's Point are some splendid fields of sweet clover.

Unfortunately, besides a lot of wild mustard, there are fields showing a lot of white cockle and ox-eye daisy.

Eggs are bringing 24c, and boxes of splendid strawberries are selling at two for a quarter. One man brought berries to the village, and wanted 18c, and that same day they sold at 12½c in the village.

SLAVE BRACELETS.

Some of the most interesting new slave bracelets are made of alternate links of green and white gold.

TIRING OF DISHES TAKE UP BANDITRY

Two Young Girls Steal Revolver and Start Out For Adventure.

By MILTON BRONNER

CHICHESTER, England, July 10.—Do bob-haired bandits, described in cables from America, wash dishes?

No, they don't!

Do movie heroines sit down and sew buttons on blouses?

Not so you can notice it!

All of which is why Ena Doris Welsh, 17, and Cynthia Stevens, 16, gave themselves, the police, a taxi driver and this staid, sleepy, old Sussex cathedral town the sensation of the year.

You wouldn't expect these mere kids to stir this burg out of its dull English routine, but it was precisely that dullness which moved them to action.

Ena is employed as a domestic servant and Cynthia is apprenticed to a seamstress. Fired by the movies, they decided to drop the mop and the needle. So they called on Tom Ferry, a neighborhood shoemaker. Ferry was a brave soldier during the war and saw service in France. On the battlefield near Menin he picked up a German revolver. The girls knew he kept the revolver in his desk.

While Cynthia talked to him, Ena cabbaged the gun. Thus armed and with about two dollars between them they set out for London and Life with a capital "L."

CYNTHIA STEVENS (AT TOP) AND ENA WELSH

At Brighton they hailed a taxi and directed the man to drive them to Patcham. And suddenly it dawned on them, as they saw the taximeter busily working, that they didn't have enough to pay their fare.

And just about that time the driver asked what address in Patcham they wanted.

"I'll sit up beside you and show you," said Ena promptly.

After she clambered beside him, she ordered him to drive them to London.

"But that will cost you six pounds and you don't look as if you had that much and—"

He didn't finish his sentence fr he found himself looking into the business end of that German revolver.

"Oh, all right, miss it's London for you," he said.

The taxi man wasn't used to gunplay. It got on his nerves. He lost control of his car and smashed into a lamp post. The girls got out and tried to run away. Cops, attracted by the sounds of smashing glass, caught them.

In the magistrate's court, the police said the girls were given good characters by all who knew them.

"We did it from a sense of adventure," said Ena Welsh.

"And we are very sorry now," said Cynthia Stevens.

"Even so, it would have been all right if the taxi hadn't run into that lamp post," said Ena.

The magistrates remanded the girls in custody while they thought over their case and decided what to do with them.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Hello!" called a sweet voice.

"The Man in the Moon is so short and so fat,
He can't bend over this or bend over that;
He has not seen his feet since the Fourth of July,
But he says that's his shape, so there's no use to try."

That's what Johnny Jump Up was singing in the moonlight.

The Twins woke up and rubbed their eyes.

"Is that you, Johnny?" called Nick.

"Yes, sir, it's me," said Johnny, doing a handspring on the windowsill.

"Are we going on an adventure?" asked Nancy eagerly. "Are you going to take us on a journey?"

"Yes'm, I am," said the funny little fairy. "That is, if you want to go, and if the titmouse is willing."

The Twins scrambled out of bed and slipped into their clothes and put on the magic shoes.

As usual, they became so little that their chins nearly touched the ground.

"Come on," said Johnny Jump Up gaily. "We have a long way to go and the night is waning. Come."

So they all climbed down the rose vine to the magic garden. Johnny Jump Up led the way.

And soon they came to the pansy bed.

"Hello," called a sweet voice, and a lovely little fairy appeared right in the centre of the flowers. She had on a purple poke-bonnet and a yellow waist and green skirt. "I've been waiting and waiting," she said.

"Who are you?" asked Nancy timidly."

"I am the pansy fairy," said the tiny creature. "Do you want to heart the story about the pansies?"

"Yes, yes," cried both of the children. "We'd love to hear it."

"Well, once upon a time," said the fairy, "pansies grew wild like violets. The people in France named them.

"At first they called them 'three little maidens under one hood'."

"Huh!" shouted Johnny Jump Up. "Listen to that, will you? Why it would take all day to say it."

"Do be quiet!" said the titmouse impatiently. "I want to hear the rest of the story myself."

The pansy fairy laughed goodnaturedly and went on:

"You are right, Johnny, the name was too long. So the French people changed it. The three faces on the flower looked so solemn and thoughtful that they called them the French word for thought. It sounded so much like pansies that that's what they called them bye and bye, plain pansies.

"But that's not the real story I started to tell you. The pansies grew in the wheat fields among the wheat, as poppies do now. And because they smelled so sweet, the people would tramp down the wheat to get them.

"'This will never do,' said the kind pansies. 'We must stop smelling so fine, and save the wheat.' So they did, and they have never had a sweet smell since."

"Now it's too late to go to France," said the titmouse. "I never could get you there and back before daylight. The sun's coming up now."

"We'll go to-morrow," said Johnny Jump Up.

FOUR KINDS OF BROADCASTERS.

There are four classes of broadcasting stations in the United States.

Class A — Those having less than 500 watts power and assigned wavelengths up to 300 meters.

Class B — Those transmitting on 500 to 1,000 watts or more, limited to definite wave-lengths and to a high grade of programmes.

Class C — Stations of Class A kind that transmitted on 360 meters before the classification came into use.

Class D — Experimental broadcasting stations for radio manufacturers.

AUTO SENSE - - SHIFTING FROM HIGH TO SECOND - - By Williamson

Shifting from high to second gear while the car is rolling along at a fair rate of speed is a very simple operation, once it is mastered. When it it mastered, you will find that you have more complete control of the car, are able to go down long grades without a strain and will save much on brake linings. It will also enable you to make a shift to second when approaching a stiff pull without clashing.

The reason gears clash in shifting into any speed is because the engine is not turning at a speed that corresponds to the speed of propeller or drive shaft. You can shift from high to second without a clash at any speed which is within the range of second gear driving, but you must be able to judge the approximate speed of the car and the engine.

WILL BE HELD OF SUNDAY

Doc explains in the accompanying strip just how to make the shift. After moving the gear shift lever into neutral position preparatory to making the shift, be sure to let the clutch pedal come up, engaging the clutch, before you speed up the engine. The speed of the engine should be boosted to approximately the same speed as it would have to turn over to drive the car at the same pace in second gear. Then engage the clutch and shift into second gear.

Take your car out on a side street and try this, if you have not already mastered it. A few minutes of practice will enable you to make the shift at any speed within the second gear range.

PEA LOUSE WASTES S. MONAGHAN'S CROP

Large Fields of Late Peas Will Yield Little More Than Seed.

BAILIEBORO, July 14.—The farmers of this district are mostly all engaged in haying. The hay crop this year is fairly good, but during the past week the weather has been very poor for making hay, the atmosphere being very heavy and damp. Clover hay is a better crop than timothy, although the timothy is a good length; it is mostly thin, and in many cases timothy hay will not produce more than one load per acre. Some clover will produce three loads per acre.

The farmers of South Monaghan are rather disappointed in their pea crop. The insect, commonly known as the pea-louse, has struck the crops, and large fields of the later sown peas will scarcely yield more than their seed.

Those who grow the fancy peas, which are sown early, will no doubt be troubled very little with the insects, as the fancy peas are already too far advanced to be harmed to any great extent.

The pea crop is a very uncertain crop in this district, and many of the farmers claim that they can only get a good crop of peas once every six years.

The house generally strikes the crop just after the pod has formed, and the pea begins to mature. Wherever it has been, after a few days, the grain begins to turn a yellow color, and consequently the grain does not mature properly.

Berries Bountiful.

Strawberries are a bountiful crop in South Monaghan this year. There is an abundance of berries, and they are a splendid sample. Mr. Warr, of Garden Hill, went through the township this week with a huge truckload of berries going from house to house. He was asking ten cents per box, and did not seem to find extra quick sale for his produce. The majority of people had already ordered their berries for preserving. Many are buying them and using them raw as they are the cheapest fruit that can be bought for table use.

The general price has been anywhere from 12½c down as low as 8c a box.

Butter at 30c.

There is very little change in the prices of local produce. Butter is selling around 30 cents. Eggs at 24 cents, and milk at 10 cents a quart. Cream to the butter factories is selling from 31 to 33 cents per pound.

Bought New Cleaner.

James Falls, who is a well-known thresher in these parts, has purchased a new cleaner, steam engine, and tank, and has brought it home to be ready for the first threshing. Mr. Falls is an old reliable thresher, having run an outfit in this district for over 20 years.

Enter Debating League.

The South Monaghan UFYPO. Club have entered the provincial series in the Provincial Debating League. Having won the silver cup in the east Peterboro' county league, they feel as though they should be sports enough to try to something even better. It is expechd that the cup will be presented at the field day, which will be held at Wallace's Point, July 24.

Already four teams have entered the provincial series. They are: York County, Essex County, Brampton and South Monaghan.

RECOVERING

The English during the war had to sell a lot of their investments. They owned 20 billion dollars of such investments. Had to sell a fourth. In a year they have recovered two billion dollars worth. Another year and a half, at this rate, and the English will have as strong a grip as ever on property in other lands.

The World's War wounds are healing fast.

MOVIES

What's wrong with the movies? One of the best answers comes from President Faunce of Brown University:

"The fundamental principle of the moving picture is that there shall be no grades in pictures, that nothing shall be thrown upon the screen which is not equally intelligible to old and young, to educated and ignorant."

On the other hand, President Faunce, it is not the function of entertainment or recreation to be educational. When we relax, as at the movies, most of us revert to childish intelligence. Otherwise, musical comedies and burlesque shows would play to empty houses.

FOR RHUBARB.

Add a pinch of soda to stewed rhubarb when nearly done and much less sugar will be required for sweeting.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 9.—There was a large shipment of live stock from this place on Monday. Farmers here realize that outside of the dairy business the raising of hogs is their best revenue getter.

Mothers!

Give the children WRIGLEY'S after every meal

A prominent physician says:

"It is surprising how free from decay the teeth can be kept by using gum after each meal."

You know how hard it is to get the children to clean their teeth. By giving them WRIGLEY'S you not only reward them for cleaning their teeth, but the reward is actually the means of performing this important service!

WRIGLEY'S aids digestion too, and acts as an antiseptic wash for the mouth and throat. Several flavors—all of WRIGLEY quality.

The full-page advertisement, the tiniest advertisement—each has its definite message. News of varieties, prices, economies; of wares you can select wisely and purchase with utmost confidence. News packed into as few words as possible so as not to rob you of time.

They offer only the best. Inferior goods couldn't stand up under such public inspection. They urge you to buy the best—to realize the savings made, the steps saved, the satisfaction gained through reading advertisements and buying advertised goods.

CANADIANS FOURTH IN 1600 METRE RACE

Relay Team Finished at the Heels of British—Other Results.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, COLOMBES, France, July 13. — (Canadian Press Cable). — Canada captured fourth position in the final to-day of the 1,600 metre race, reaching the tape a few yards behind Butler of Great Britain who was third. The race gave Canada six points.

A. T. Christie of Hamilton, leading the Canadian team handed 4th place to H. Aylwin of Hamilton who returned 4th position to D. M. Johnson, Rhodes scholar. Going up the far stretch Christie fought with Sweden, France and Italy and when he handed the baton to Maynes these four nations were almost abreast. Bad contact here cost a few yards but Aylwin with his blond hair flying, sailed magnificently down the course and Johnson, grabbing the baton finished fourth after a neck-and-neck race with Gallier of France

In the first series of the hop, step, and jump, P. MacDonald, Maritime covered 13.33 metres and in the second series R. S. Sheppard of Alberta covered 12.72 metres. Both were unplaced in the finals.

Cyril Coafee of Winnipeg ran the best race of his life yesterday in his heat of 400 metre relay in which the Canadian team won third position, thus qualifying for the finals. G. Hester of Toronto led him man by two yards. A. Vince's, Toronto, leg gave out at a critical moment when round ing the first bend, but L. Armstrong of Winnipeg made up the loss by two yards and Coaffee in the finishing dash, crossed the line in third position, a yard behind the second man.

Donald Stockton of Montreal, obtained a decision over Bacon of England on points in the early middleweight wrestling series.

Clifford Chilcott of Toronto, featherweight wrestling in the eliminations secured a fall with the cradle and leglock against Cavallini of Italy in 8 minutes, 28 seconds. The Toronto man was not called upon to extend himself. Later Chilcott was awarded the decision on points over Angelo of Australia. Both Chilcott and Stockton are still in the race for the finals

Oscar Rumple of Montreal yesterday threw Baillot, champion heavy weight of France, use the arm and body lock, in 5 minutes, 16 seconds. This morning Spellman of the United States was given the decision over Rumple after 10 minutes of wrestling

OLYMPIC RESULTS.

Canadian Runner Broke Down Under French Diet.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Colombes, France, July 14.—(Canadian Press). —J. Cuthbert, of Guelph, Ont., who was in 13th place in the Olympic Marathon yesterday, having been seized with cramps, while running, and having to walk a mile to get a cup of hot coffee, which resulted in pulling him together and enabling him to continue in the contest, finished as fresh as a daisy. His time was 3 hours 44 seconds. The time of the winner of the Marathon, Alben Stenroos, of Finland, was 2 hours 42 minutes 22 3-5 seconds. Cuthbert said it broke his heart to see others in the big race pass him between the third and sixth controls (the cramps seized him between the third and fourth control stations). He ascribes the cramps to the French diet.

The Guelph man was able to rub himself down when he returned to the stadium after the race, and, following the rub down, he took a plunge, which completely restored him. It was only a comparative seizure of cramp that put Cuthbert so far back in the race. He said afterward that he believed if there had been another stage to go he would have finished first.

V. McAuley, of Windsor, N.S., the only other Canadian contender in the Marathon, finished one minute 21 2-5 seconds behind Cuthbert. The huge crowd cheered at seeing the Canadians finishing so close to each other.

A CRICKET MATCH AT OVAL SATURDAY

Game Was Called at the Last Minute—Ground Was Rough.

An interesting game of cricket was played at Nicholls Oval on Saturday afternoon between the Peterborough Cricket Club and a team chosen by Frank Dyer, the former team winning by 22 runs.

As the arrangements were made at the last minute for the game, it was hardly thought a sufficient number of players would get there, but as it happend, there were more than the necessary eleven aside, each team playing thirteen men.

The ground was not the best for the purpose, as it was very rough, and kept both batsmen and bowlers in a beautiful state of uncertainty as to where the ball was going to pitch.

Frank Dyer's team batted first and totalled 26 runs, with F. Dyer, A. Nicholls, and Griffin sharing the honours of high men with 5 runs each, the latter carrying out his bat.

C. Thorpe bowled well, taking 8 wickets and Langley taking 4 wickets.

For the winning team, who totalled 48 run for their combined effort, Langley collected 18 of the runs, being top scorer of the match. Luck was with him, as a couple of chances he gave were not taken advantage of Rev. Kingsford was second top scorer with a well-played innings of 6 runs. Walter Stocker, one of the veterans of cricket in Peterborough, was shaping well, but was too anxious to steal runs, and paid the penalty being run out with 2 runs to his credit.

Full scores were as follow:

SITTIN' PRETTY!

Hagen Won Two British Titles in Three Years and Missed a Third By a Stroke.

WALTER HAGEN.

By JOE WILLIAMS.

Walter Hagen, the fighting Dempsey of the golf links, won the British open championship in 1922 with a score of 300. Last year he missed repeating by the breathless margin of a single stroke, finishing with 296 to Arthur Havers' 295. This year Hagen has just won the event for the second time with a total of 301.

Twice a winner and once a runner-up in three starts constitutes a competitive record that probably will stand for years. The reformed taxidermist of Rochester has ample reason to be proud, happy and contented.

* * *

Still he must look back on his one-stroke failure of last summer with many poignant memories. Two championships in three years is a remarkable record, but three in three!

And if Hagen had played a dinky little par 3 hole, only 130 yards long, in anything like expert style, he would have won the tournament. Havers had finished his final round with a 76. Hagen thus needed a 75 to tie or a 74 to win.

He started out beautifully, playing the first seven holes in even 4s. The immense gallery deserted Kirkwood, Smith and Whitcombe, other possible contenders, and swarmed over to Hagen, sensing a triumphant crusade.

* * *

The short eighth, a mashie niblick shot to a spacious, well-trapped green, looked innocent enough. It had been easy for the American throughout the tournament and he had got his earlier 3s without undue effort.

This time, however, he faltered. His ball was short and found a trap to the left. In attempting to play out Hagen overshot and the ball rolled into a trap on the opposite side of the green. Before he holed out he had dropped two precious strokes to par and these two strokes happened to be the margin by which he was beaten.

The short eighth at Sandwich! That's one hole Hagen will never forget.

CHAMPION STUNT FLYER BEGAN AS BOY AVIATOR.

Al Wilson, America's leading stunt flyer, has been taking the air for ten years.

He was one of the most irregular students of the Santa Monica, California, high school in 1913. Instructors thought him hopeless, and could not understand why he didn't attend more classes. A deserted barn near his home told the story. Wilson was building an aeroplane.

The success of the Wright Brothers and Curtis was the only thing in the world that received very much of his attention. He wanted to become an aviator. He picked up odd jobs around the beach city, and put all of his earning in his first air craft. He was the only one that thought it would ever get off of the ground.

All arrangements were made for the initial flight. A large crowd gathered to see it. At three o'clock Wilson was ready, but at ten minutes after three his plane was partly buried in the ground. When an aeroplane and a telephone post meet something is bound to happen.

However, he obtained a position with a manufacturer of aeroplanes and got a real start in aviation.

Al Wilson's first screen work will be seen at the Royal Theatre, starting Thursday. He supports Fred Thomson and Ann Little in a Universal chapter-play, "The Eagle's Talons," and brings to the local screen some of the most thrilling aeroplane stunts ever photographed.

NOTED PREACHER FORSOOK PULPIT FOR THE MOVIES.

Edwards Davis, famous preacher-actor, has an important role in "Hook and Ladder," the Universal comedy drama in which Hoot Gibson is starred and which comes next Thursday to the Royal Theatre.

After graduating from the University of Kentucky, Davis attended a theological school and obtained a D.D. degree. He preached throughout the middle west for a number of years, then going to San Francisco, where he headed one of the largest and most prominent delegations.

It was there that he first began to attract nation-wide attention for his sensational methods of converting souls. He once danced in the pulpit to illustrate a sermon on dancing. His attempt to get a confession from Theodore Durrant, the "Belfrey Murder," drew international publicity.

In 1910 he created a sensation by announcing that he was going to quit the church and go on the stage because, he said, it offered a greater field for the uplift of humanity than the pulpit.

He produced "The Picture of Dorian Grey," by Oscar Wilde, with Adele Blood as his leading woman. Later, he produced "The Kingdom of Destiny," with Julie Power, now his wife. He also appeared in the Belasco stage production of "Daddies," and many other notable plays that were seen by countless thousands which otherwise would never have seen him.

Among the pictures in which he has appeared are "De Luxe Anne," "The New York Idea," and "Plaything of Broadway."

He portrays the role of a boss politician in "Hook and Ladder," a rapid action drama built around the adventures of a recruit fireman, played by Hoot Gibson.

AT THE CAPITOL.

"THE GREAT WHITE WAY" OPENS TO-DAY AT CAPITOL

"The Great White Way," the Cosmopolitan Corporation's big super-film, woven around life in New York, starts to-night at the Capitol Theatre.

According to fight authorities the prize ring scene in "The Great White Way," is one of the biggest things ever accomplished in a cinematographic way. It brings to the screen for the first time scores of sporting celebrities, including Tex Rickard, Johnny Gallagher, Jimmie Quigley, Joe Humphreys, Irvin S. Cobb, H. C. Witwer, "Kid" Broad, Tammany Young, Damon Runyon, "Bugs" Baer and others. Jack Dempsey, who attended the opening, was particularly interested in the fight itself, and voiced the opinion that it was as realistic as any ring battle that he had ever seen. For this fight scene the Cosmopolitan Corporation engaged Pete Hartley, a well known professional lightweight, and a contender for the championship title held by Benny Leonard, to impersonate the role of Jimmy Stone, the British champion, who is defeated by the American welterweight titleholder, Joe Cain. Oscar Shaw, star of the musical comedy stage, plays the the leading part, in preparation for which he underwent a vigorous course of training under the care of Johnny Hennessey, the popular conditioner of fighters.

The race track scene, with its thrilling steeplechase, is another which has won commendation from leaders of the sport world. This particular scene was filmed at Belmont Park on Futurity Day last Summer and also reveals flash s of the historic race. The scene shows many celebrities of the American turf, including the world's premier jockey, Earle Sande, who appears in the cast of the new film.

Scores of other Broadway notables appear in the big newspaper office scenes of the picture. Some of those shown are Arthur Brisbane, Nell Brinkley, J. W. McGurk, Billy De Beck, Harry Hershfield, George McManus, Winsor McCay, Hal Coffman and others. The entire chorus of the famous Ziegfield "Follies" appears in "The Great White Way," Ned Wayburn, stake director of the "Follies," also appears in the picture. Many other New York celebrities, whose fame in sports, theatricals, art, literature a other lines of endeavor has become worldwide, also appear in the new film, which draws the most accurate picture of life in New York ever achieved on either stage or screen.

The professional cast includes: Oscar Shaw, T. Roy Barnes, Tom Lewis, Harry Watson, Olin Howla d, Ore Davidson, Hal Ford, Billy Gould and Frank Wonderley.

AT THE REGENT.

"THE LOVE BANDIT" STEALS HEARTS OF AUDIENCE HERE.

(By Amy.)

Title of picture, "The Love Bandit."

Story by Norman Houston and Charles E. Blaney.

Directed by Del, Henderson.

Producel by Charles E. Blaney.

Released by Vitagraph.

The smell of the pines and the big lumber camps, the thrill of falling trees and a ride through rapids contrasted with the routine of an office in New York and the glitter of society is found in "The Love Bandit," the Charles E. Blaney production, shown at the Regent Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

As a stage play this melodrama made a hit throughout the country, and the picture version presented with the same appealing technic under the masterly supervision of Chas. E. Blaney is sure to eclipse the stage success of the melodrama.

Thills that were hinted at in the stage version, such as the thrilling ride through rapids in a canoe, the leap from the bridge, the fight on the floating logs, are visualized very forcefully in the film version.

It is evident that the picture was made in one of the famous lumber camps of the Maine woods, for one sees tall timbers felled, logs floated and carried to the mill to be sawn into lumber. The minor currents running through the production, give all the entertaining and instructive value of an educational, while the intense melodramatic situations keep the spectators on edge, wondering what is going to happen next. There is not a dull moment in "The Love Bandit."

The cast, exceptionally good, is headed by Doris Kenyon as Amy Van Clayton, the society girl, who loses her fortune and has to work as secretary for the hero, whom she marries to save her brother from jail; Victor Sutherland as Jim Blazes the lumber king, in a fight with another faction and desperately in love with Amy, and Cecil Spooner, burlesque queen stranded in the Maine woods, who seeks work in a dance hall run by French Anne. Miss Spooner does some clever work as a cabaret dancer, and stages one of the most exciting fights with French Annie, the keeper of the resort, played by Lorenza Valentine.

Christian Frank wins hisses as Buck Ramsdell, the villainous lumber camp owner, who is always trying to defeat the hero. He has a villainous smile and a treacherous gleam to his eye. Then there is the weak brother, played by Gardner James, the sporty clerk, always playing the races, played by Edward Boulden; the Indian mail runner, portrayed admirably by Walter Jones, who conveniently allows an important letter to be stolen from his pouch.

Then there's Maggie and Henri, played by Dorothy Walters and Jules Cowles. No melodrama would be complete without them. They relieve the intense moments and intersperse thrills with laughs, so that the audience leaves the theatre feeling that something worth while has been witnessed.

We have always maintained that with clever actors the old time melodramas would make good, and Chas. E. Blaney, who is famous the country over for this type of entertainment, has given us an opportunity to prove our theories with "The Love Bandit," which we can recommend as a good old fashoned melodrama, well worth seeing and one which will furnish an ideal evening's entertainment, providing one is not too exacting in the matter of probability and possibility.

PETES VANQUISH BELLEVILLE AND REMAIN IN RACE

W. Mills' Home Run Over Left Field Fence Was Feature of Game.

FINAL COUNT 8 TO 3.

Petes Played Errorless Ball Behind Heckman's Steady Pitching.

The Petes stopped Belleville's winning streak and remained in the running themselves on Saturday by soundly beating the Grand Trunks 8 runs to 3 before the biggest crowd of the season at Riverside Park. It was the first defeat in the second half race and the first loss in eight starts for the Belleville, and the proceedings all round were very pleasant for the Petes who played smart ball and deserved their triumph.

Johnny Oulette whose pitching has been a big factor in Belleville's procession of victories tried all his cunning on the Solomon outfit but the Petes nicked him for thirteen hits, stole six bases on his battery mate Hagerman, and had a pleasing kick on the attack that kept Oulette in hot water most of the journey.

Meanwhile the home talent were playing snappy ball behind steady, effective pitching by Heckman and there could only be one result.

Heckman allowed ten hits but only two of them in the run-getting so that his effectiveness when hits would have meant tallies can be estimated. He fanned eight of the visitors.

A Long Drive.

Had Peeney Mills left his big bat at home the Trunks would likely have been shut out. Mills gave his teammates a flying start in the first inning when with two out and nobody on he connected with a Heckman hook and drove the ball over the left field fence for a clean home run. It was a history-making rap for never since the Central Ontario League has been in operation has a fair ball been hit over the fence. They used to do it in the old Canadian League days but until Saturday the Central League batters had never accomplished the feat.

Mills came up again in the fifth with two runners on and his single to centre sent Oulette home while Holyman forgot the runner on third and got involved in an argument while Ross carried another counter over so that Mills and his bat were responsible for all the Trunk markers.

Holyman's Feature Play.

Holyman more than atoned for this mental lapse by getting three hits in five trips to the plate and playing a bang up fielding game. His running catch of Casey's fly in the ninth was a beauty and he started a lightning double play by fast handling of Hagerman's roller in the eighth.

Incidentally that made the seventh double play the Petes have executed in the second half race and gives them a total of fourteen double-killings this season.

Both second sackers had a busy day, Johnston accepting seven chances for the Petes while Meagher handled nine for Belleville.

The Trunks got away first thanks to Mills' home run, but the Petes scored two in their half of the first inning and were in front to stay. Two more in the third made it 4 to 1 and although Belleville came back with two in the fifth the homesters by a mixture of bunts and solid hits nicked Oulette for four big counters in the seventh putting the game on ice. The crew batted all round in this frame and collected six hits off Oulette.

Trunks Score First.

Peeney Mills' home run gave the Trunks a start in the first. Ross was tossed out by Holyman and Weir flied to Hall in centre. Then came Mills with his long clout over the left field fence for the circuit. Brother Harry tried to emulate the feat but struck out.

The Petes got that one back and another with it in their half. Holyman started it by dropping a single into right and Legon sacrificed him to second. Swanston flied to W. Mills but Harrison singled over second, Meagher just managing to break down the roller at the bag. Holyman score from second on the hit. Harrison stole second easily and Heckman drew a walk. Collins boomed a drive to centre which Ross muffed, Harrison scoring. Heckman was out at the plate on a relay, trying to register on the play.

In the second for Belleville Hagerman rolled to Johnston and Williams fanned. Meagher hit a looping single over short but Casey bounded to Heckman.

In the homesters half Johnston was tossed out by Meagher, Hall flied to W. Mills and Turner was thrown out by Oulette on a bunt.

Oulette, first up in Belleville's third tapped to Heckman and was out. Ross lined a single to centre and was sacrificed to second by Weir but Johnston clutched W. Mills' roller and threw the runner out at first.

Two For Petes.

The Petes scored another pair. Holyman popped to Meagher but Legon got a life on Weir's fumble and Swanston dropped a single into left. Legon stole third cleanly and on the next ball Swanston purloined second. Harrison struck out but Heckman helped his own cause with a rifle shot single to left on which Legon and Swanston rode home. Collins struck out.

Belleville got two hits to no purpose in the fourth. Harry Mills flied to centre and Hagerman fanned. Williams singled to right and Meagher beat out a slow roller to short. Heckman fanned Casey to retire the side.

In Peterboro's half W. Mills took Johnston's fly near the left field foul line Hall grounded to H. Mills and W. Mills grabbed Turner's drive to left.

A couple of passes in the fifth enabled Belleville to materially close the gap. Oulette and Ross the first two up walked. Weir struck out but W. Mills singled to centre, scoring Oulette. Heckman cut off the throw to the plate and nipped Mills at second and while Holyman and Mills were arguing about the play Ross stole home from third. Harry Mills flied to Hall for the third out.

For the Petes Holyman rolled to Meagher, Legon singled over second and purloined the middle sack but Swanston flied to W. Mills and Harrison bounded to Meagher.

In the sixth Hagerman was thrown out by Johnston, Williams flied to Holyman and Collins tossed out Meagher.

Heckman was walked to start the Peterboro half but Collins hit into a double play via Weir and Meagher and Johnston bounded to Oulette. Casey started Belleville's seventh by popping to Johnston and Oulette died on strikes. Ross beat out a single to short and Weir cut a single past Collins. With Peeney Mills up it was a dangerous situation but Johnston made sure of the big fellow's roller, retiring the side.

The Big Inning.

The seventh was the Petes big frame. Hall first up lined into Weir's hands. Then came the fun. Turner beat out a bunt to Oulette and stole second. Holyman bunted in front of the plate, Turner holding second. Legon lined to left for a single scoring Turner and on the throw to the plate Holyman reached third and Legon second. Swanston bunted and while he was being thrown out at first Holyman scored. Harrison singled to third, Williams knocking the ball down but being unable to make a play, Legon scoring. Harrison stole second and went to third when Oulette made a balk. Heckman bounced a hit off Weir's chest, scoring Harrison. Collins singled through short. Johnston ended the fun by striking out.

In the eighth Harry Mills singled to right centre but Holyman took Hagerman's roller on the run, tossing to Johnston for a force out on Mills and Johnston's quick throw doubled Hagerman at first. Williams dropped a single into right but Meagher lined to Holyman.

For the Petes Hall fanned. Turner's fast spring gave him a hit on a roller to second but he was out stealing. Holyman singled to left to be forced at second on Legon's tap to Weir.

The ninth was soon over. Holyman made a fine running catch of Casey's fly at the left field foul line after which Heckman struck out Oulette and Ross.

A TIMELY VICTORY.

UMPIRE STRUCK AT WASHINGTON

Rabid Fan Assaulted Holmes —Speaker's Hitting Featured Cleveland's Defeat.

YANKS BEAT BROWNS.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(Canadian Press).—The heat apparently affected both players and spectators at yesterday's game between Cleveland and Washington, which the home club won, 15 to 11, before a crowd which frequently baited the umpires.

In the ninth Manager Harris was banished by Umpire Holmes as he protested the calling of balls and strikes, and when the game ended excited fans poured on the field and surrounded Holmes. While one fan shook his finger at the umpire another struck him in the face, knocking him against a wall, but Umpire Moriarity, players and police came to the rescue and further trouble was averted. A crowd of several thousand was then dispersed by a squad of blue coats.

Cleveland used five pitchers and Washington three, while the batting of Speaker was the feature. He hit a home run over the right field fence, got a single and a double and walked three times. Score:

FINLAND'S GLORY HEIGHTENED BY MARATHON RACE

Alben Stenroos, of Helsingfors, Triumphed in the Classic Event of the Olympiad.

GREAT PERFORMANCE.

Ran the 26 Miles in 2.42.22 3-5— Yanks Victorious on Track and Field.

OLMYPIC STADIUM July 14.—The United States left the Olympic battlefield Sunday triumphant in track and field for the eighth successive time since the modern revival of the Olympic games. But when dusk brought a close to the greatest and most spectacular fight ever witnessed for international athletic honors, the United States shared the final glory with her gallant rival from the north, Finland.

The premier mantle of Olympic triumph went to the new Finnish hero Alben Stenroos, who raced under a blazing sun to the classic marathon championship, a victory which capped the climax to Finland's clean sweep of the distance races and gave the little Nordic country the greatest laurels it has ever won.

Even the marathon failed to bring out the banner crowd expected for the closing day. There were only about 25,000 persons present. Paris was in the throes of a national holiday, with dancing and other festivities, and has been neglecting the Olympic games. Sunday's crowd for the most part was composed of foreigners.

Winner 40 Years Old.

Stenroos, a 40 year old Helsingfors wood worker, running his fifteen competitive marathon race in fifteen years, slipped over the twenty-six miles of country roads to one of the most impressive victories in the history of the blue ribbon event. He crossed the finish line inside the stadium amid a deafening ovation, in 2 hours, 42 minutes, 22 3-5 seconds, nearly six minutes in front of his nearest rival, Bertini, of Italy. But remarkable as was Strenroos' triumph in the worlds' greatest test of heart and stamia, the highest honor of all in the final anaylsis must be bestowed upon his countryman, Paavo Nurmi, who completed a phenomenal record yesterday when leading his team to victory in the 3,000 metre race, he won his fourth triumph of the games.

Outstanding Achievement

Nurmi, flawless running machine, whose marvelous achievement in capturing four Olympic events stands alone in comparison with any accomplishment since the games began, was the mainspring of the courageous but vain fight Finland put up to out-score the United States.

The little northern country gave the United States one of the closest battles it has ever had, virtually with a two-man team. A recapitulation shows that practically half of the team's points were scored by Nurmi and Ritoli who estabilshed the Olympic "Iron Man" record by competing on all eight days and breaking two records while racing a total of 42,000 metres, equivalent to the marathon distance.

Taking the three finals days' events in record-breaking fashion the United States ran its final point total to 255, as compared with Finland's 166, and also gained the coveted margin in first places, with twelve to ten for Finland.

Interest in Marathon.

Thrilling as were the United States victories to-day, Finland's triumph over Great Britain and the United States in the 3,000 metres team race and the decisive capture of the 10,000 metre walk by Ugo Frigerioi, the Italian star, who thus retained his Olympic title, won four years ago, chief interest centred in the marathon. This was manifested not only by the crowd of 25,000 in the stadium which sent the band of 58 runners off late in the afternoon and nearly three hours later acclaimed as the conquering hero the sturdy Finn, Stenross ,as he strode first through the portal, but also along the 26 miles of roadside, where probably 100,000 more saw the great struggle.

Over the first half of the winding hill and dale journey to the little French village of Pontoise and return, the lead changed several times, the glory of the old Greek marathon runners, being revived in the first dozen kilometres by Kranis, who set the pace until he was succeeded, first for a short distance by De Mar, United States and then by Verger of France, who gained the plaudits of his countrymen lining the course, until the ultimate victor Strenroos, took the lead at the half way mark From that point the Finnish star running smoothly and apparently without great strain on his powers, despite the heat which nearly equalled that of yesterday, added to his advantage.

Three-quarters of the way home Stenroos was out of sight of his nearest rival Romeo Bertini, the Italian who passed De Mar at the 27-kilotre mark and took up a gallant but futile chase.

Held Steady Pace

Through crowded lanes, over the last stages of the journey, never slackening his pace, whether on upgrade, over side paths or the cobble stones of the village streets, Stenroos was vociferously greeted, but, except to a familiar shout from some countrymen, he seemed oblivious to everything but keeping a straight course and a steady pace.

While practically half the field had dropped out in the closing half of the race, and others were barely able to keep going, Stenroos came into the stadium track running strongly, and, after breaking the tape, raced around the field to acknowledge his countrymen's greetings before trotting to his quarters.

Marathon Results

Stenross of Finland, today won the Olympic marathon race, Bertini of Italy was second, and Demar, United States was third.

Stenroos' time was 2 hours 42 minutes 22 3-5 seconds.

Halonen of Finland came in fourth and Plaza Reyes, Chile, sixth.

LEAFS BLANKED BY THE CURLERS

Only Two Hits Off Wood in Saturday's Game at Exhibition Park.

CURLERS WIN FIRST HALF OF SCHEDULE

By playing a snappy fielding game behind Carl Wood and giving their heaver fine support at the bat, the Curlers won the first half of the Juvenile series at Exhibition Park on Saturday afternoon, defeating the Maple Leafs by 2 to 0.

Curlers rose to the occasion in fine style. The youngsters' infield, with McLeish at first, Baird at second, and Barrie at third taking most of the chances, was unbeatable, and as a result the Leafs never got a chance to start a rally.

Curlers won the game in the second when they shot the ball through short and third for a brace of runs. The Leafs gave Bradley poor support.

Curlers went out in order in the first . Baird walked, only to be caught by Hunt and LeBarr, going to second. McLeish fanned, and Baker, who dumped the ball in front of the plate, was pegged out by Holland.

The Leafs went out in a row. Baird threw out LeBarr, Barrie took Bradley's grounder and Scully fanned.

In the second, Wood was safe on Scully's error, and made second on a close decision when Barrie tapped to Bradley. Ash drove one through short to score Barrie and Wood.

On Hall's tap to Bradley Ash and Hall were doubled. Hillier was safe on Scully's low throw. McDonald scratched a hit and Baird fouled out to LeBarr.

Corbett and Franks were retired by Baird and Barrie, and Holland flew out to Hall.

Curlers failed to put a runner on in the third. Grant drew the first hit for the Leafs. Masterson fanned and Delahaye and LeBarr went out at first.

Barrie started the fourth with a double. Bradley took Ash's grounder but failed to tag Barrie going to third and his toss to Corbett was dropped. Hall beat out his grounder putting three on.

Hillier hit into a double play. McDonald was dead-headed. Baird fanned.

Bradley flew out to Barrie. Scully singled, Barrie threw out Corbett, and Franks fanned.

They went out in order in the fifth.

Curlers put two on in the sixth on singles by Ash and Hillier, but were held away from the plate.

The Leafs were retired without much difficulty, Baird taking Delahaye's drive on Wood and Barrie, grounders from LeBarr and Bradley.

COMPEAU'S HOME RUN AT OSHAWA WON FOR PONIES

Kingston Bunched Hits Off Dainty and Nosed Out 5-4 Victory.

MURRAY IN THE GAME.

Crowd of About 10,000 For L.O.L. Celebration at Alexandra Park.

OSHAWA, July 14 (Special to The Examiner). — Oshawa Orangemen celebrate the Glorious Twelfth with a huge demonstration, with an estimated crowd of 10,000 persons at Alexandra Park, when the Central Ontario League ball game, Kingston versus Oshawa got under way.

When the nine innings battle was over the "No Surrender" that floated between the banner poles in the parade was converted to the Limestone City citadel by the Daley-Kelly Irish turning in a 5 to 4 victory in the second section of the League's double schedule.

Kingston were down 3 to 2 up to the fifth frame, but a walk, a single, and a home run sent three runs over, making their total 5, while for the last four frames they went scoreless.

Oshawa scored two in the first, one in the third, and were then helpless up to the eighth when they squeezed one more across for a total of four

The locals touched Kelly for nine safeties, but they were kept well scattered outside of the first frame.

Dainty yielded eight hits and they came in bunches.

Mickey Murray appeared in the Oshawa line-up on Saturday, and the fans gave the guardian of the red light corner a warm welcome when he took his first turn at bat.

Another casualty overtook Oshawa in Saturday's game when W. Fair, who was going to second on his hit the first time up, sprained his ankle, and will likely be out of the game for some time to come.

TWO GAMES FOR PETES ON ROAD

Home Talent Play in Kingston Wednesday and Oshawa Saturday.

ARE TIED FOR SECOND.

The Petes win over Belleville and the defeat of Oshawa by Kingston Saturday cuts the Trunks' lead to one game and leaves Oshawa and the Petes tied for second place with the league standing as follows:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Belleville	3	1	.750
Peterboro	2	2	.500
Oshawa	2	2	.500
Kingston	1	3	.250

The Solomon outfit play two games away from home this week journeying to Kingston on Wednesday and to Oshawa on Saturday. Meanwhile Belleville will play Oshawa in Belleville on Wednesday and on Friday night will be in action at Kingston.

Saturday's crowd was the largest that has witnessed a Central Ontario League game here this season, many Twelfth of July visitors taking advantage of the opportunity to see the old rivals clash.

The Petes who led the league during the first half in double plays are evidently determined that they will not be overhauled in this department. In the last four games the Petes infield has pulled off seven double plays, six of them with three men figuring in the killing.

Hagerman went hitless in Saturday's game and the Petes stole half a dozen bases on him making the day a dark one for the young Belleville backstop who only succeeded in stopping one theft in seven tries.

Billy Mills' hit for the circuit Saturday was a record drive and the big fellow got a hand from the crowd as he jogged around the bases.

Ross the Belleville centre fielder does not drop many flies, his muff of Collins' drive in the first inning being his first miss of the season.

Although there were twenty-three hits registered Saturday Mills' homer was the only extra base blow of the day.

Oulette's coolness deserted him during the seventh inning rally and the big right-hander got so excited that he pulled off a balk which did not help to steady him in any way.

Saturday's victory was the worst drubbin the Petes have handed Belleville in many a moon.

THE BLUEBIRDS WON THE ORANGE SOCCER MEDALS

Both Teams Scored During the First Half—One Goal Each.

SCORE 4 GOALS TO 1.

The Final Period Brought Disaster to the Lively Greybirds.

The Bluebirds won the first half of the Junior League Championship on Saturday afternoon when they defeated the Greybirds to the tune of four goals to one at the Exhibition Grounds, as one of the Orange Celebration Attractions. The winners will receive medals from the Orangemen as a recompense for their labours.

Game Described

There was no advantage in winning the toss and both teams were at full strength when they started under a boiling hot sun. After five minutes play, Halliday passed out to Mitchell on the right, he beat Batley on the tackle, travelled at a fast pace for goal to let drive a close range thereby giving Jenkins no chance to save. Play run from end to end where lack of markmanship was evident by the forwards, eventually Foster tapped across a beauty to goal Sumner shot Downer cleared poorly as Hotston equalized with a rising drive between the posts. The Greybirds centre forward was injured but resumed after attention. Souter at outside left, an individual play was always conspicuous by his tricky tactics as he beat man after man but was held in check by McLellan, who many a time kicked to touch or gave away a fruitless corner when a goal looked positive. A solo run up the field by Carmichael, ende din Mitchell receiving the ball in Greybird's area. He beat the defense, shot hard and fast to witness his parting shot strike the cross-bar while Jenkins with outstretched arms was waiting the ball but James shot past carelessly. There was no outstanding play thereafter except for some minor raids on goal that give the goalie's no trouble to clear. Half-time, one goal each.

Half-Time

After the usual intense, Foster travelled down the wing, evaded the defense but Halliday arrived in time to prevent him from getting a shot for goal. Carmichael accepted the clearance kick smartly, looking over the field decided to dribble in through the opponents and from a right foot drive from 10 yards out the Bluebirds ahead. After the centre-kick, Croft gained two corners off Oxley. From the later shot, Foster made a mistake hanging too long to the ball until Downer robbed him cleverly. It was evidently seen that the players had great difficulty in controlling the ball which was caused through thelong grass and the ball spent a good part of the time up in the air.

The heat told on the players as the play continued. A sudden collapse of energy on the part of the Greybirds let the Bluebirds add two more goals to their credit before the finish through the efforts of Mitchell and AJmes. Final Bluebirds 4, Greybirds, 1.

Goal scores:—Bluebirds —Mitchell 2, Carmichael and James. Greybirds —Hotston.

Greybirds—Jenkins goal, Clark and Bradley backs, Batley, Feeley and Hotston half backs, Croft, Buchanan, McLellan, Sumner and Foster forwards.

Bluebirds— Bradley, goal; Oxley and Downer backs, Montgomery, Halliday and Carmichael half backs; Mitchell, James, Studeley, Chambers, and Souter forwards.

Referee—Frank McKinley.

RECORD BROKEN IN 1600 METRES RACE BY YANKS

Canada Was Fourth, Trailing Swedish and British Teams.

WEEK END RESULTS.

Frigerio, of Italy, Retained Olympic Crown in 10,000 Metre Walk.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, France, July 14. — The United States won the 1600 metres relay race. Sweden was second, Great Britain third, Canada fourth, France fifth and Italy sixth.

Time, 3 minutes 16 seconds.

These figures constitute a new world's record, the old record of 3 minutes 16 3-5 seconds having been made by the United States relay team at the Stockholm Olympic games in the year 1912.

3000 METRE TEAM RACE.

In the 3000 metre team race, the results were as follows: Nurmi, Finland, first; Ritola, Finland, second; MacDonald, Great Britain, third; Johnson, Great Britain, fourth; Katz, Finland, fifth; Kirby, United States, sixth.

Time 8 minutes, 32 seconds.

400 METRES RELAY.

The final in the 400 metres relay race was won by the United States. Great Britain was second; Holland, third; Hungary fourth; France fifth, and Switzerland sixth.

Time 41 seconds.

By running the distance in this time the United States team clipped one-fifth of a second from their own world's record made 24 hours previously.

ITALIAN WON WALK.

Frigerio of Italy won the final in the 10,000 metres walk; Goodwin of Great Britain was second; MacMaster, South Africa, was third; Padesi, of Italy, fourth; Scwab, Switzerland, fifth, and Clark, Great Britain, sixth.

The winner's time was 47 minutes, 49 seconds.

BROKE DISCUS RECORD

Clarence Houser, University of Southern California, Sunday won the final in the Olympic discus event with a throw of 46 metres 50 centimetres.

This mark breaks the Olympic record.

SABRE COMPETITION

The United States' Sabre Team met with a crushing defeat at the hands of the Hungarians in the team competition in the Stadium here on Sunday. The Hungarians scored 14 victories as against 2 for the United States.

The Argentine team won from the Spaniards in splendid style, scoring 13 victories to three for the Spaniards. Czecho-Slovakia won from Denmark 12 to 4, while Italy defeated Belgium by touches, having 46 to Belgium's 30, although the victories were even at 8 all.

Decathlon Results.

The figures for the Decathlon were announced at the opening of to-day's competition, as follows:

First, Harold Osborne, United States, with the world record-breaking figures 7.710.755; second, Emerson Norton, Georgetown, 7.350.895; third, Kleinberg, Estonia, 7.329.36; fourth, Myrra, Finland, 7.005.175; fifth, Suterland, South Africa, 6.794.142; sixth, Gerspach, Switzerland, 6.743.53.

Figerio, of Italy, proved himself king of the 1924 Olympic walkers, just as he did at Antwerp in 1920. He won the 10,000 metres walk (6 miles, 376 yards) in 47 minutes 49 seconds, thus placing Italy in the scoring column for the first time.

Frigerio's style carried him over the ground very fast; it is faultless. He was the only won of the ten starters not warned by the judges for hopping or breaking into a jog. He lapped the entire field with the exception of Goodwin of Great Britain, who finished second, and McMaster, South Africa, who was third.

OLYMPIC NOTES.

Not a great deal of interest was shown in this event and the decision of the International Olympic Committee to remove it from the future Olympic programmes is believed to have been vindicated.

The Marathon runners jogged around the track for a lap and a half before starting on their 26 mile journey over the country roads. The pack was already strung out for a hundred metres when the runners disappeared outside the stadium.

The 400 metre relay race resolved itself into a duel between the United States and Great Britain, Holland being five or six yards in the rear.

The United States team was helped to victory by superior speed in passing the baton. The time, 41 seconds flat, equalled the world's record made an hour before by the United States, in the first heat of the semi-finals against Switzerland.

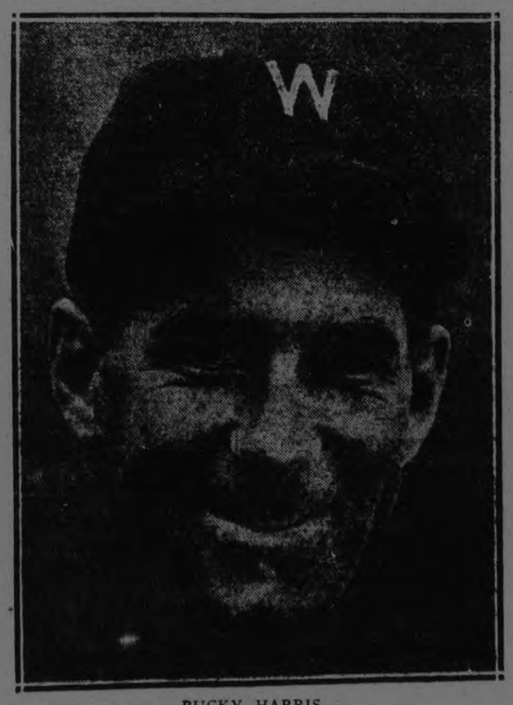
Paavo Nurmi, of Finland, as usual, ran all opposition into the ground before the 3000 metres team race was half over.

Nurmi and Ritola, who finished in that order, were fresh, after a hard race, in which the Olympic record was broken, Nurmi covering the distance in 8 minutes and 32 seconds. The previous record, 8 minutes 36 4-5, was made by Kolehmainen, at Stockholm, in 1912. Ritola was 80 yards behind at the finish, and Nurmi eased up.

Only 19 men reached the end of the journey out of 24 starters.

Cochran gave the United States a ten yard lead over Great Britain in the first quarter of the 1600 metre relay. Stevenson, running superbly, extended the lead a few yards. Great Britain still holding second. The Swedish runner in the third quarter, speeded past the British, and reduced the lead of the United States, although MacDonald ran well. In the fourth quarter, Helffrich accepted the furious challenge of both Briton and Swede and wore them out at a burning pace. He finished fully 15 yards ahead of the second man.

NAT'S BOY MANAGER SAYS TEAM PLAY TURNED TRICK



BUCKY HARRIS.

The hardened old critics said in the spring that Bucky Harris would be a failure as manager of the Washington ball club. "He's little more than a kid," they argued, "and running a big league ball club is no kid's job."

Well, Washington was on top in the American League for the first time in ages, until yesterday's defeat put them in second place, and the managerial genius of the young second baseman is largely responsible for it. "Team play did it," he says in his article.

FADEAWAY BALL HIS SPECIALTY

Thurston Was Only Second-Rater Last Year, But Now a Star.

DODGED THE CAN

Wonders will never cease in baseball.

This time last year Pitcher Hollis Thurston of the Chicago White Sox was regarded as just so-so.

Today he is one of the most effective twirlers in the American League, disputing the leadership with the great Walter Johnson.

Thurston came to the American League as a member of the St. Louis Browns. During the first month of the 1923 season he was used as a relief pitcher.

That failed to [illegible] him. He told the world that he was a regular or nothing, that he much preferred going back to the bushes than sitting on the bench.

For this outburst he was sold to Chicago, the White Sox refusing to waive on him.

Much Ability as Batsman

Thurston met with only fair success after joining the Sox. As a matter of fact, he showed to better advantage as a batsman than pitcher.

The wise men of baseball are not infallible; they make many mistakes. It is a well-known fact that last season serious consideration was given to the making of an outfielder out of Thurston, so as to utilize his hitting ability.

"His fast ball isn't good enough to get him by in the American League," was the opinion of the experts in passing judgment on Thurston.

Lacked Good Fast Ball

The fact that he had a good curve, a fine change of pace, great ability as a fielder, were overlooked in considering his chance to make good, simply because he seemed to lack a fast ball.

No doubt it was lack of pitching talent that gave Thurston his chance to deliver. Before the close of the season he had proved that a pitcher can make good in the big show without a fast ball a la Walter Johnson.

This season Thurston has improved his good work of last fall, and ranks as one of the outstanding pitchers of the American League.

Thurston probably cost the White Sox in the neighborhood of $5000. Ten times that amount couldn't buy him to-day. A pitcher of his ability would mean much to the St. Louis Browns in its fight for the pennant.

Has Mathewson Fadeaway

Thurston's one best bet is a fadeaway delivery, much similar to that made famous by Christy Mathewson.

Last season I worked a game in which Thurston performed a most unusual feat, the throwing of 11 straight strikes, all of them "fadeaways."

In one inning he retired the opposition on nine pitched ball, three of the strikes were called, six others swung at and missed entirely. He threw two strikes to the first man to face him in the next inning.

Thurston is unquestionably one of the pitching sensations of the year.

Crowd of 36,000 at Sunday Game in Chicago Overflowed on Field.

FOURNIER GETS 21ST HOMER

CHICAGO, July 14.—(Canadian Press).—Home runs by Wilson and Kelly, in addition to three two-baggers and an error in the seventh inning, clinched yesterday's game for New York, making the final score 9 to 6. Four of the hits, including the two homers, were made off Tony Kaufmann, who relieved Aldridge in the fifth. Blake finished the game for Chicago. New York used three pitchers, all the runs scored by Chicago being made off Watson. Jackson also made a home run. Ropes were stretched on the field for the overflow crowd, which was estimated at 36,000. Score:

Chicago	031200000	6	10 1

Watson, Jonnard, Bentley and Gowdy, Snyder; Aldridge, Kaufmann, Blake and Hartnett.

CINCINNATI, July 14.—(Canadian Press).—Cincinnati and Boston broke even in yesterday's doubleheader, each team scoring a shutout. Both Luque and McNamara pitched well in the first game, but the latter's support was better, errors accounting for the two runs made off the Cuban, while May allowed four hits and two more runs in the ninth.

Rixey blanked the visitors, 6 to 0, in the second game, completing twenty straight innings without being scored on. Scores:

Boston	001100002	4	8 0
Cincinnati	000000000	0	8 2

DO YOU KNOW BASEBALL?

BY BILLY EVANS

QUESTIONS.

1—There are two out, a man on third base, and one strike on the batter. The batsman is of the opinion that two strikes have been called on him. On the next pitch the man on third starts to steal home. The batter struck at the ball, missed it, and believing it to be the third strike, started to run to first. The catcher dropped the ball, but recovered and threw to first ahead of the runner. In the meantime the runner from third had slid over the plate in safety. What about this play?—N.T.L.

2—Can a batsman for any reason step out of the batter's box after the pitcher has started his delivery? If so, does the pitched ball count?—T.M.

3—Is it legal for a pitcher to walk into the box facing the second base, wheel around quickly and deliver the ball to the batter?—T.M.

ANSWERS.

1—The run scores, since the man from third crossed the plate in safety. The ignorance of the batter and catcher as to the number of strikes on batsman doesn't enter into the dispute. That was "bone" stuff. The batsman is entitled to return to the plate and have his third strike since only two were on him.

2—The batsman has no right to step out of the box after the pitcher has started his delivery. The pitch is a ball or strike as ruled by the umpire.

3—The pitcher must face the batsman to make his delivery legal. He really faced second base and delivered the ball from that position without any hesitation as he faced the batter.

YOUNG FRENCH STAR WHO UPSET HOPES OF RICHARDS

American tennis experts are not faring so well on their trip into the enemy's land. First Helen Wills, the U.S. national world's champion, was bowled over twice by players she figured to defeat handily, and now Vincent Richards, fourth ranking male player of the country, is downed by Jean Borotra, the young Frenchman. Richards' upset was most unlooked for, as he was a favourite to win the Wimbledon tournament, Borotra clearly outplayed him.

WASHINGTON IN LEAGUE LEAD ON TEAM PLAY

Youthful Manager Says "Thanks to Team Play" For His Success.

WALTER IS IDOL.

Hopes to Overcome Setback by Defeat Yesterday and Get Into World's Series.

"It's great to be leading a winner," says Stanley Harris, the major league's youngest manager, "but I am not allowing myself or my players to be carried away with our success. It is a long way to the close of the season, and yesterday's defeat shows we have not things all our own way.

"Neither myself nor the Washington players are giving any thought to the pennont. We confine our attention each day to the ball game before us.

"The team that has the best percentage at the close of the season is going to capture the pennant. Winning ball games makes for the best percentage at the finish. Our good showing is not due to the work of any one particular player. It's the combined resut of excellent all-round play."

It's a baseball saying that no team has a chance to win a pennant that lacks a star shortstop. In Roger Peckinpaugh the Washington Club has the greatest shortstop in the game.

A concerted batting punch, plus good pitching, has been responsible for the spurt that put us up among the leaders.

Courage makes for a great ball team. There is no greater aggregation in the American league than the one I am fortunate enough to be managing.

Fight for every game, and forget them when they are over. Postmortems never change the result. Up and at them the next day.

The Washington club is fortunate in having so popular an idol on its team as Walter Johnson. The greatest pitcher of all times is an inspiration to all of us. We would like to get in a world's series if only to give Walter a chance to turn on his stuff.

What about our pennant chances? Let me repeat—we are not thinking pennant, simply trying to win every ball game. Any time we are beaten, it will not be because we have not tried.

WEATHERVANE

Soft coal mines have been turning out an average of only 7 million tons a week. Normal output is 10 million.

This indicates that general business is only seven-tenths normal. Some economists believe soft coal production is the most accurate barometer of industrial conditions. Others are pig iron output, railroad freight traffic and commercial fires. Watch these four and know which way the winds' blowing.

FIRST SWIMMING IN THE OLYMPIC POOL

Three American Girls Won Qualifying Heats in 400 Meters.

LES TOURELLES, France, July 14 Canadian Press). — The opening events of the Olympic swimming were held at Tourelles Pool yesterday.

Conditions were favourable for good records.

Three members of the United States women's swimming team won the three qualifying heats of the 400 meters. In the first Gertrude Ederle came first, with Miss Molesworth of Great Britain second. Time 6 minutes 12 1-5 seconds.

Helen Wainwright won the second heat, with Mariette Protin, France, second. Time 6 minutes 46 3-5 seconds.

Martha Norelius won the third heat, with Miss Jeans, Great Britain, second. Time 6 minutes 27 1-5 seconds.

Three trial heats of the men's 1,500 meters swimming were contested. Annison, Great Britain, won the first heat, with Smith, of the United States, second. Time 22 minutes 10 2-5 seconds.

Ske Borg of Sweden won the second heat handily, with Taylor of Great Britain second.

In the third heat, Charlton, of Australia, broke the record, covering the distance in 21 minutes 20 2-5 seconds, distancing Hatfield, Great Britain, and Richard Howell, United States.

Arne Borg in the fourth heat again lowered the record, making the distance in 21 minutes 11 2-5 seconds.

Great Britain and the United States were eliminated from the water polo contest by Hungary, leaving the Anglo-Saxon countries out in the cold.

In the second trials on Tuesday, Hungary looms as a difficult customer for Belgium, which has drawn a bye.

STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE RADIO

Only thing those triple-deck demonstrations in Democratic convention demonstrated was that so-called human voice can take more punishment than old Porky Flynn.

Practive of wowing and yahooing a favorite son into the White House wine cellar may be polite and political but it's a lot of appleausce to the man in the rafters who wants to know what he's getting and if it's worth carrying home.

A wild, unshorn demonstration lasting 3 hours 48 minutes and 18 seconds is set down in the books as a record—and it is a record for asinity, dumbness and thick-coated imbecility.

Nor has the elevating and refining influence of collegiate atmosphere had any noticeable affect on sportive demonstrations. "Hold 'em, Harvard", plead 90,000 well-cravated throats in stadium. Yale immediately plows through for eighteenth touchdown.

ORANGE PARADE

Canada can grow up together in unity they demand their separate schools. Not satisfied with the English language to serve the needs of this great British dominion they demand French, not satisfied with the labor organizations of the country they demand their own labor organizations in which a priest must hold the leading office.

The Orange Order is not built on such selfishness, and that is the reason it has continued to prosper in the country. It has been charged that the Orange Order is meddling in the political affairs of the country. We are in the political affairs of the country and so long as the Roman Catholic political machine has its thumb in the political pie of Canada, just so long will the Orange organization take an active interest in politics."

The speaker declared the Orange order opposes the present federal government because of its immigration policies that flood the country with Roman Catholics, who in order to wield power in Canada drive a separating wedge between classes in the communities and provinces to the detriment of the dominion. He presented interesting figures of the comparative religious populations in different provinces in Canada, showing Ontario alone standing firm against foreign domination. "Ontario," he said, "is loyal and imperialistic because of the Orange Order."

Mr. Armstrong urged his hearers to take an active interest in the political affairs of the country so that religious denominations should not be catered to by vote-seeking politicians and in order that the best policy for the whole population of Canada might be followed. The day was observed in commemoration of a great victory in which occurred an hour that was epic in the story of Protestantism, the hour in which James' forces broke before the army of William III. The twefith of July celebration marks a rallying of the forces of Imperialism, and Orangemen should carry on from this point, an aggressive force for the unity of the British Empire and the freedom of all people.

Notes on the Parade.

Traffic arrangements were excellently carried out by the police force, under Inspector James Reid, assisted by Provincial Constables R. F. Davis and N. Maker, Constable Storey of Lindsay was on duty at the Exhibition grounds.

So well was traffic regulated that only one accident occurred and that was before the walk started.

There were in the parade six brass bands, four Scotch pipe bands and twenty-four fife and drum bands.

Cobourg Kilties had the largest turnout, with 30 active musicians.

The juvenile band of 16 members won applause all along the route.

Grandfather, father and son appeared in at least two of the lodges and father and son walked together in many.

Throughout the day no one was in more demand than "Ernie," and a great deal of the success of the day was due to the work of the same Ernest F. Reid, County Master.

John Ward was first and Chris. Jay second in the three mile running race. Two other competitors having dropped out, these contestants were allowed off with 2 1-2 miles, which they did in 15 minutes, 35 seconds.

Visiting Orangemen camped for lunch in many vacant lots in the city and in the parks. One party had lunch on St. Peter's Cathedral lawn, evidently thinking the beautiful open lawn was a public park.

In the second heat in the 2.12 class Jack McDowell fell off his bic while driving Major Hal just before he reached the wire and was dragged about 100 feet by the foot which was held by a toe lap. Major Hal seemed to know his driver was in danger and slowed up. Mr. McDowell was surrounded by a large crowd in a minute and everyone was surprised to learn that he escaped injury and was able to walk off the track.

Major Hal, in an effort to nose Armadale out in the home stretch, rubbed wheels with the winner, which resulted in the accident. The judges allowed him fourth place.

STAR PITCHERS OFTEN MISPLAY

Failure of the Twirler to Produce Often Ruins the Team.

UPSET THE DOPE

The failure of a star pitcher to come through, often ruins the pennant chances of a ball club.

A half dozen clubs in the major leagues might be cited as examples of this truth. Any number of star pitchers have failed dismally in the early stages of the two big league races.

In figuring the chances of the Cincinnati Reds, it is only natural that Pitcher Luque stood out as the one best bet of the twirling staff. Last season he led the National League pitchers.

A similar condition exists in the American League. Last season George Uhle of the Cleveland club was one of the most effective pitchers in the Johnsonian organization. He figured to win at least 20 games. So far he has been able to do little better than break even.

Perhaps no club in the major leagues has suffered more in this respect than Pittsburg. The Pirates were regarded as well fortified in pitching. That feature of play loomed up as the team's strongest point.

In the veteran southpaw star, Cooper, the clever Lee Meadows and Johnny Morrison, regarded as the best curve ball pitcher in the National League, the Pirates were supposed to have a trio capable of carrying the pennant burden.

While the trio hasn't done poor work, still none has been able to win consistently. Luck has simply refused to smile on the Pirate stars, the breaks have gone against them. That best explains the failure of Pittsburgh to be contesting the lead with the New York Giants.

Practically every major league club has one or more pitching disappointments. Most of them have to do with the failure of some star to come through.

However, all has not been a failure in the major leagues from a pitching standpoint. Each organization has been fortunate enough to develop some likely young pitchers.

In Kremer, Pittsburgh has a recruit from the minors who is going great. The New York Giants have a star in Dean. Jacobs is doing fine works for the Chicago Cubs.

American League youngsters who have gotten away big are Stoner and Whitehill of Detroit, Wingard of St. Louis, Connolly and Lyons of Chicago, Marberry of Washington and a half dozen others.

The failure of a pitching star to deliver robs a club of much of its confidence. That is why a number of clubs have failed the early predictions of the experts.

WORTH MORE THAN DIFFERENCE.

Would you like to try a very fine tea—better, perhaps, than you have ever used—a tea, too, that has only advanced 2c on a ½ lb., while other teas have doubled in price? Then ask your grocer for a ½ lb. package of RED ROSE ORANGE PEKOE TEA—only 45c—very little higher than other package teas—and you'll find it's worth more than the difference.

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR.

It is folly to believe an untruth, even though it may be a pleasing idea. It is wisdom to stand by truth, which is impregnable. Every man ought to be fully persuaded in his own mind as to what is truth. Those who accept the truthfulness of the Scriptures can make positive statements. Man is a living soul, not possessed of a soul. This living soul dies as the penalty for sin. This does not mean the body dies, and some inexplicable part of man does not die. "The soul that sinneth shall die." Nor does this mean only moral death. Those who accept Satan's original lie, "Thou shalt not surely die," must accept additional untruths to uphold the first lie. So the doctrine that when men die, they do not die (only their body) they go to heaven or a place of torment. To those who have earnestly taken heed but have allowed others to do the thinking for them, we suggest looking up the passages in Scriptures where the words heaven and hell are mentioned, and note the lack of anything to prove man (if alive when he was dead) has gone to "heaven" or "hell" (in its misconstrued meaning. We are glad to know, while the dead know not anything, the hour is coming, when all those who are in the tombs, shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and shall come forth That hour is fast approaching; when Jesus alone shall reign, when our old earth shall be restored to its pristine glory. What glad reunions, what a blessed time when sin, sickness, pain and death shall be no more.—M. T. Butcher. 1d

OBITUARY.

MRS. J. C. BARNARD.

Death brought to a close a long and useful life in the passing of Mrs. J. C. Barnard, in her 83rd year, on Sunday afternoon.

It will be recalled that four years ago Mr. and the late Mrs. Barnard celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary. Her aged husband, who survives, has reached his 91st year, and is one of the oldest residents in Peterboro County.

The deceased was widely known and a member of a long established family in this community. Until 26 years ago, when she came to Peterboro, she lived on the Barnard homestead in South Monaghan. In her latter years she was bright and active, and her kindly disposition made her a host of friends.

The late Mrs. Barnard was a faithful member of Murray Street Baptist Church, and although failing health would not permit her to attend for some time, she maintained her interest in church activities to the last.

In her immediate family she is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. P. S. White and Miss M. J. Barnard, and two sons, Howard and Ernest, of South Monaghan. She was one of a large family and is survived by four sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Wm. Robinson and Mrs J. Byers of South Monaghan, Mrs. Jas. Rutherford, Saskatchewan, Miss H. Perrin of Peterboro, Joseph Perrin of St. Mary's, and Charles Perrin of Oakwood.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 540 Bethune Street, to Little Lake Cemetery. The funeral service will be conducted by Rev. Dr. C. W. Rose.

POWER GROWTH MEANS LOT FOR CITY INDUSTRY

Rotarian Barnes Estimates C. G.E.'s Share at Twelve Million a Year.

That the prospects of hydro-electric power development in Canada are such as to justify the prediction that the Peterborough plant of the General Electric Co., will enjoy a business amounting to some $12,000,000 a year, was the assertion of Rotarian Lee Barnes, in the course of a most interesting paper on his classification before the Peterboro Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon. Rotarian Barnes' address was much appreciated by his fellow club members.

Rotarian Dr. A. W. McPherson, speaking for the Crippled Children's Committee, announced that arrangements for the treatment of the fifteen cases reviewed by Dr. Robertson last week, will be complet within a week. Eight or ten children are to go for operative treatment to the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, three of them leaving to-morrow, while the other seven would receive treatment at home.

The report was loudly applauded, and Presdent Reed Wren congratulated Rotarian McPherson and the members of his committee.

Rotarians Jack Seels and Dr. McNair gave their final instructions in regard to Thursday's big carnival in which every member of the club will have something to do. There will be Rotarian delegations here from Toronto, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Port Hope, Lindsay, Trenton and other points, and the programme will include a soft ball tournament among members of the visiting clubs, three horse races, a programme of track events, a midget league baseball game, and a Midland league game between the C.G.E. and Raybestos. In addition there will be a midway of large proortions and fun galore for everybody.

Rotarian Barnes in his splendid paper first reviewed the different products manufactured by electrical manufacturers, pointing out that in the case of alternate current generators no standardization was possible, and the result was that plant equipment, etc., was so costly that the field was limited. The business was divided, so far as Canada was concerned, between two companies, while in the United States there were but three. Other lines manufactured were transformers, switchboards, distributing equipment, household appliances, street railway equipment, etc., in which the field was more generally divided.

As to the prospects before manufacturers of electrical equipment, Rotarian Barnes was very optimistic. In the first place there was reason to hope for new business from the general extension of power and light systems into the rural districts, and also from the electrification of railways.

The development of hydro-electric power in Canada was merely in its infancy. The business done by electrical manufacturers in the past twenty years had subsisted on a development that had but reached three million horse power in turbine installation. Statistics show that at least 40 million h.p. remain to be developed.

Rotarian Barnes showed that in the last ten years the increase in power development had amounted to about 165,000 h.p., per year, and that the load doubled every five years. Allowing seven years, to be conservative, the speaker estimated that in 1930 the development would be six million horse power.

Peterborough's shares of the cost of the equipment necessary for this development, Rotarian Barnes placed at $12,000,000.

In conclusion he pointed out that the code of ethics agreed upon by the electical manufacturers coincided with the Rotary principles.

Among the guests to-day was Mr. Belaire, who rendered a couple of songs, in excellent voice.

CROP REPORT GOOD

Several Hours' Rain Saved the Sitation in Many Parts.

WINNIPEG, July 14.—(Canadian Press).—Crops are reported to be picking up, following heavy rains over many districts in Manitoba, according to the Canadian National Railways' crop report for the week ended July 12, issued to-day. Several hours' heavy rain saved the situation in the majority of districts, and farmers are more optimistic in some places, reporting prospects of a bumper crop. Saskatchewan points report rains on July 8, but a further good heavy rain is needed. Several districts report about 25 per cent. of wheat in shot blade with a good percentage heading out.

GIRL FOUND IN A DYING STATE

Saw Two of Her Companions Go Down to Their Death in Lake Simcoe.

BRECHIN, Ont., July 14.—(Canadian Press). — Lake Simcoe's treacherous waters have claimed the lives of two of the trio who ventured forth on an ill-fated sailing trip from Big Bay Point last Thursday afternoon.

The third member of the party, sixteen-year-old Margaret Murchison, of Barrie, Ont., is struggling back to consciousness here after a vigil of horror, during which she claims to have seen her two companions, Wilbur Hoskins and Edgar Smith, go to their death, and after a grim seventy-two hours' struggle for her own life.

Storm tossed, and verging on a total collapse from the harrowing ordeal of clinging for three days and nights to a drifting canoe, clad only in a bathing suit and sweater, and terribly blistered by the merciless rays of the July sun, the girl was found at nine o'clock this morning, struggling through a belt of reeds which skirt the waters edge at Concord Point. She is now receiving medical attention at Mr. E. A. Wilkinson's cottage, and is expected to recover unless pneumonia sets in.

FOREIGN MISSION IN BENGAL INDIA

Rev. J. R. Clancy Preached in the Cathedral on Sunday.

At St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday Rev. J. Raymond Clancy, C.S.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clancy, Rubidge Street, spoke in behalf of the foreign mission work carried on in Bengal, India, by the Congregaton of the Holy Cross, of which he is a member, whose seminary is located in Notre Dame, Indiana.

In a brief, beautifully-worded address, Father Clancy appealed to his hearers for help, by prayer, money, and consecrated serivce, in the cause of the foreign mission work of his Order.

"After nineteen hundred years of toil and sacrifice and zeal on the part of the missionaries, there are many millions living to-day who have never heard the name of Jesus. People will say, Why do you bury yourselves in the dives of China and the jungles of India when there is so much work to be done here at home? That is true; there is much work to be done at home, but we cannot disregard Christ's express command to go out and teach all nations. What would our own country be like if Brebouef and Lolement, for instance, had preferred to stay at home?"

Father Clancy spoke of the work done through the past eighty years in schools, pulpits, and through the columns of the Catholic press, by the fathers of the Holy Cross, and of the sacrifices made by their missionaries in the fever-ridden jungles of India. He also referred to Frere Andre, "the miracle man of Montreal," who is a brother of the Congregation of the Holy Cross, and asked for subscriptions to "The Benvalese," the official publication of the Order, or donations to the work of building an institution at Washington to prepare young men for the work of the Indian missions.

SOLDIER TO DIE FOR MURDER OF BANK MANAGER

Sentence Pronounced at Winchester Assizes in England Final Phase of Sensation.

INSANITY PLEA FAILS

Youth Coolly Shot Down Banker—Money Lead To His Arrest.

LONDON, July 15.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The final phases of a sensational crime were enacted Monday at the Winchester assizes when a young soldier, Abraham Goldenberg, stationed at Bordon Camp was sentenced to death for the murder of William Edward Hall, manager of the Bordon Camp branch of Lloyds Bank.

Insanity was urged by counsel for the prisoner but the appeal against a capital sentence was dismissed by Chief Justice Hewart who said the law assumed that every man was sane and responsible for his acts until it was established that he was laboring under such defect of reason or diseases of mind as not to know the nature of his acts.

Scene Near Whitley

Bordon Camp is not very far from the camps of Bramshott and Witley, the latter so familiar to many Canadian soldiers. At half past two on April 3rd Mr. Mall, who came daily from Farnham and worked all alone in the little wooden bank, concluded business apparently in the usual way. Some time later the driver of the Aldershot bus, who was accustomed to have Mr. Hall as a passenger between the camp and Aldershot, made investigations as he had not presented himself for the return journey. He found the manager stretched on the floor with a bullet wound through the head. The door of the tiny bank was locked and, although much money was missing, a quantity remained untouched.

Cool in Crime.

Suspicion eventually fastened upon Abraham Goldenberg, aged 21, a lance-corporal in the East Lancashire Regiment stationed at Bordon Camp. One of the non-commissioned officers saw him secrete a quantity of Treasury notes stolen from the bank.

When arrested the prisoner said: "I can't think how it is someone did not see me go in. I suppose you think I am a callous kind of wretch. It is very funny, I was as calm as I am now. The door was open and I just went in and said "Put your hand up." He made for the drawer so I just gave him one, two, and down he went. I got the keys and locked up the door. I got what I could out of the bank. I have not the slightest regret for what I have done, but I am sorry for Mrs. Hall, for I swear I did not know he was married. I wish I had been able to make provision for my girl. She is a sweet angel. So this is the beginning of the end."

Banker's Presentiment.

The murdered bank manager was only a young man, and left a widow and a little girl. It has been stated that he entertained a presentiment all along that he might meet violent end owing to the secluded character of bank building at Bordon.

FRIGHTENED HIS WIFE

But Napoleon Gignac Faces Attempted Murder Charge for Firing Shots.

QUEBEC, July 15. — (Canadian Press).—Napoleon Cignas, an elderly man, appeared before Judge Lachance Monday morning in the court of Sessions on the charge of attempted murder, and on a plea of not guilty the enquete was set July 17.

It is alleged that Cignac, who is a well known hunter of Loretteville, on Saturday fired two shots at his wife as she was coming out of her house.

The couple have been estranged for many years and recently, it is said that Cignac had erected a tent some distance from his former home and had been living there. According to the woman's version, on seeing her on Saturday afternoon, Cignac cried out: "I have got you now," and shot twice. The bullets, however, were not effective and the woman ran into the house to protect herself.

The accused's version is to the effect that he intended only to frighten her.

JOHN, N.B., July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Despite the rain of Sunday afternoon and evening, and the efforts of 250 fire fighters, the fire burning near Hampton and which was thought to be under control on Thursday is still raging, according to information Monday afternoon. The fire is burning through valuable timber lands and is spreading in the direction of Titusville. It is now said to be about four miles from Norton and travelling fast.

SUNDAY EXCURSION TRAIN PROTEST PRESENTED TO THE PRIVY COUNCIL

Lord's Day Alliances Appeal Against Manitoba's Permissive Legislation Is Conducted by N. W. Rowell—Two Railways Affected.

LONDON, July 15.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Argument was opened Monday before the judicial committee of the privy council in the appeal of The Lord's Day Alliance of Canada against the enforcement of the recent Manitoba legislation which permits the operation of Sunday excursion trains in that province. The respondent is the attorney-general of Manitoba, while the attorney-general of Canada is represented as intervener.

When N. W. Rowell of Toronto, opened the argument for the Alliance Lord Carson of the judicial committee remarked that he had been busy throughout the week-end writing a long judgment and therefore had not had an opportunity to make himself familiar with the merits of the present appeal.

Lord Dunedin— "I think it is connected with a question whether Lord Carson, if he lived in Manitoba, would be permitted to write long judgments during the week-end."

Mr. Rowell's arguments were chiefly concerned with legal precedents. He urged that the Manitoba Lord's Day Act permitting Sunday excursions was invalid because it dealt with a matter relating to criminal law which was within the exclusive competence of the federal government which had delegated no powers to the provinces to pass such legislation. Furthermore it was beyond the ability of the Dominion parliament to delegate such powers. In any case the Manitoba act merely declared Sunday excursions to be valid "notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this or any other act of this legislature or in any law in force in this province over which this province has legislative authority."

Mr. Rowell contended that the Dominion Lord's Day Act was not a law over which the province had legislative authority. The legislation in any event was bad because only two railways were affected, the C.P.R. and the G.N.R. and both were Dominion railways. The argument was adjourned.

ONE AUTOMOBILE ESCAPED TRAIN

Both Raced Engine to Crossing And One Lost—Three Dead.

ENGINEER'S STORY

MONTREAL, July 15.—(Canadian Press).—The engineer of the train which struck an automobile carrying five persons at a level crossing near St. Jerome this morning, killing three of them outright and seriously injuring the two others, reports that his train was travelling at the rate of 25 miles an hour when he saw wo automobiles approaching. The first just cleared the tracks by inches but the second was hit squarely in the centre and thrown into a ditch. Moses Taub, 54, who had been picked up on the railway platform by the automobile a few minutes earlier; S. Schactman, 37, and Jennie Shrenrer, 23, were killed, while Herman Grover and Louis Goldner were taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital suffering from serious but not critical head and body injuries. Since it was reported to the coroner, that there was no criminal negligence in the case the inquest will be held without jury.

WOULD INCREASE R.C.N.P. PENSION

Members of Commons Urge More Liberal Treatment—Act is Amended.

MR. MEIGHEN'S TAUNT

OTTAWA, July 15. — (Canadian Press).—A resolution to amend the Act regarding the Royal Canadian Mounted Police was passed by the House of Commons Monday, and a bill based upon it was given first reading. The resolution authorized the Governor-in-Council to fix the pay and allowances of the Commissioner and of the other members of the force, and it also provided that the time served by officers in the Dominion police force should be included in the term of service for pension purposes.

Andrew Knox (Progressive, Prince Albert), T. J. Ladner (Conservative, South Vancouver) and D. W. Warner (Progressive, Strathcona) joined in a plea for more liberal treatment of the pensioners who served on the mounted police in the early days. The Minister of Justice, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, promised to give careful consideration to this plea.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, rallied the Minister of Justice on another sample of "Government by Order-in-Council," in view of the denunciation of by Mr. Lapoints in opposition. Mr. Meighen said that he would have expected the Minister, instead of abolishing the statute to fix salaries in the mounted police, to bring in legislation to provide that all other salaries should be fixed by Parliament and not by the Government. Surely, Mr. Meighen said ironically, the Minister must fear that the constitution would be wrecked by such legislation as this.

Mr. Lapointe replied that Mr. Meighen's Government had settled the important things by Order-in-Council, whereas the present administration referred important things to Parliament and took power to itself only on minor points.

The resolution then carried and the bill was introduced.

BUILDING COSTS JUMP.

AMERICAN BETS AMAZE FRENCH

Reckless Play at Deauville and Daring Bathing Suits Stir Society.

PRODIGAL GAMBLING

DEAUVILLE, July 15.—With the heat wave sending all fashionable Paris gasping to the sea, a foretaste of what the season is to be like was obtained at the baccarat rooms last night when the rake off of the banks hit the ten million franc mark for the first time this Summer.

The rakeoff is 5 per cent, so the actual sum crossing the tables reached at least 200,000,000 francs, which is withing 20,000,000 francs of the high water mark in August, 1922.

Americans formed approximately 60 per cent of the players, some of the most prominent citizens of New York, Chicago and elsewhere gambling with a reckless prodigality that made even the oldtimers gasp.

His Luck Turned.

Preston Gibson, who declares that famous folk are trying to prevent the publication of his new book, "Golden Webb," which deals with the life of the idle rich, thinly disguising their names, was one of the luckiest players, three times winning bancos of more than 100,000 francs. Gibson has been unlucky all season, however.

The famous "gold syndicate" of Greek and American gamblers who control the "big table" at baccarat are winning back much of their huge losses of last year when they had to quit business.

Sidney Mortimer, of Pittsburgh, whose sister Aileen is considered the season's beauty, was another large winner.

Bathing Approved.

For the first time in years it is now fashionable to bathe in Deauville. Hitherto bathing paradoxically put you "out of the swim." Owing partly to the heat wave and partly to the influx of Americans the beach is now crowded with beauties in bathing suits of every shape, fashion and color.

Jean Danjou, famous actress, wore what at a distance looked like a golden one-piece suit until at close quarters it was discovered to be merely gold leaf fastened to the skin.

The much-heralded attempt by dressmakers to introduce "bathing gowns," most of which were short frocks reaching nearly to the knees, with a variety of colors, fashions and drapings, have met with complete failure, due to the refusal of American girl bathers to adopt anything except one-piece suits while revelling in the absence of any censor.

HAS BEEN RELEASED.

WUCHOW, China (via Hong-King), July 14.—Rev. E. H. Carne, the Australian missionary who, with Rev. R. A. Jaffray, Canadian, and Dr. H. G. Miller and Rev. Rex. Ray, Americans, was captured by Chinese bandits at Fu Riber on May 28, has been reelased, and is now on his way to Wochow. Messrs. Jaffray and Miller were previously released by the outlaws to carry demands for Ransom, while Mr. Ray subsequently made his escape.

With the news of the release of Carne comes also the tidings that the Kwellin Pringlop missionaries, to the rescue of whom the mission party were hastening by launch when they were captured, are safe and are all now en route to Wuchow.

RUM CUSTOMERS TURNED PIRATES ENQUIRY SHOWS

Forty Frequenters of Rum Row Banded Together and Looted Liquor Ship.

CREW IMPRISONED

Pirates Previously Aboard on Purchasing Trips—Cargo Worth Million.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 15.—(Canadian Press).—According to a news story in the Mail yesterday, the report of the piratical attack on the French steamer Mulhouse and the robbery of nearly a million dollars worth of liquor cargo while the members of the crew endured ten days imprisonment below decks, betwen the twentieth and last of June, has been verified by a rigid court enquiry set up here Saturday night by Captain Huot, commander of the French warship Villed's, which arrived here Saturday. The report was sent by wireless to Paris.

According to the evidence adduced, the Mail says, the steamer was boarded by forty men soon after arriving on Rum Row, the leaders being men who had previously been aboard on purchasing trips. They held up the Mulhouse crew and imprisoned all the officers below. During this operation one of the pirates accidentally discharged his revolver and struck one of his comrades, who died at once. For ten days the unloading operations were carried on and the steamer frequently moved to new anchorages. The Patara, Quaco Queen, Tessy Aubrey, Mary M. Gardiner, Mary Conrad and Genevieve were among the vessels that took off the liquor. Twelve hundred cases were left aboard, the evidence indicating that this was deliberately done by the pirate captain to prevent the Mulhouse entering a neighboring port to give the alarm. The super cargo was forced to sign papers, the evidence stated, but was not allowed to know their purport.

MINIMUM WAGE IS FUR WORKERS' AIM

Preferential Union Shops Also Sought by Montreal Employees.

MONTREAL, July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Decision to ask for a minimum wage scale for fur workers in Montreal in preferential union shops when the present wage agreement expires in January, next was reached at the semi-annual conference of Canadian locals of the International Fur Workers' Union of the United States and Canada. The Conference opened here on Saturday and was attended by delegates from Montreal, Toronto and the International Union headquarters. Its purpose was to formulate organization plans for these localities and to decide upon what basis negotiations should take place for the renewal of agreements in Toronto and Montreal.

In Toronto, the agreement of the fur workers with the Independent Fur Manufacturers' Association expires next month. The conference decided that the present agreement with slight changs should be the basis of negotiation with the manufacturers, while in Montreal the renewed agreement should carry with it a minimum wage scale, and preferential union shops. In Toronto the minimum wage scale has been adopted in some of the shops. About 1,000 workers in Montreal will be affected by the renewal of agreements and about 300 in Toronto.

PORT ARTHUR, July 15 (Canadian Press). — Charles Jensen, 23 years old, employed as a carpenter on bridge construction, was drowned while bathing at Long Lac on Sunday afternoon.

CANADA'S WHEAT CROP REPORTED WORST IN YEARS

Damage From Drought May Reduce Yield 50 Per Cent., Chicago Traders Hear.

EXCITEMENT IN PIT

Worst Situation in 70 Years, According to Estimate From Saskatchewan.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Predictions that the wheat crop this season in Canada would be less than half of the yield of 1923 had much to do with a sensational advance of prices Monday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Maximum gains of five cents a bushel were registered with values shaded only a trifle at the finish.

Excitement among traders in Chicago wheat pit attained a high pitch after word was out that fifty per cent. damage from the Canadian drought had been forecast by a recognized expert on crop conditions. A. O. Cromwell, representing one of the largest grain houses here, made the statement. A report from him dated at Saskatoon, in the heart of the Canadian wheat country, said:

"Neither Winnipeg nor Chicago realizes the situation in Canada. It is the worst in 70 years. Even feed grain is near failure here. Superintendents of grain departments of rail roads and other such people agree that the wheat crop will be only half of last year in the three Provinces. This is in line with my ideas."

The ensuing scramble to buy was one of the liveliest that has been witnessed in Chicago for a long while, notwithstanding a flood of sales to realize profits. Notice meanwhile that Kansas City had reached upwards of 1,000 cars of new wheat to-day, more than double the amount a year ago, was without the least apparent influence as a check on the advance of prices.

Preliminary Estimate

OTTAWA, July 15. — (Canadian Press).—Preliminary figures issued by the bureau of statistics estimate the Canadian wheat crop for this year at 318,640,000 bushels. The crop last year was 474,199,000.

Estimated yield for wheat, oats, barley and flax seed are:

Crop	Prairie Provs. Bus.	All Canada Bus.
Wheat . . .	300,530,000	318,640,000
Oats	267,600,000	423,623,000
Barley . . .	49,066,000	66,217,000
Flax seed	9,031,000	6,135,000

The indicated yields are subject to changes due to any subsequent revision of areas sown, and also to the effects of the season between June 30 and harvest.

Washington Figures

WASHINGTON, July 15.— This years' northern hemisphere wheat harvest, exclusive of Russia, will be less than last years' by ten per cent. or more, the United States Department of Agriculture estimates from official reports. The decreased production is due to a 4 1-2 per cent. cut in acreage and a generally late Spring season. The acreage this year is 179,325,000 acres, or about 9,000,000 acres less than least year, but slightly more than nine million acres larger than the average of the pre-war period, 1909-13. Conditions in the Caucasus and Siberia are below average indicating a smaller cereal crop in Russia than harvested last year.

Market in Turmoil

KANSAS CITY, July 15.—Sensational reports of poor condition of the Canadian wheat crop, together with growing fear that the United States will produce a small corn crop this year stimulated excited speculative buying of both grains for future delivery here yesterday, and the markets closed in a turmoil with advances for the day of four to five cents a bushel.

July wheat sold up to $1.12 3-4 and corn advanced to $1.06.

Since the market started to advance, in June, wheat prices have gone up 19 and 20 cents and corn has risen 25 cents.

U. S. Export for Week

WASHINGTON, July 14. — Exports of grain from the United States last week totalled 1,372,000 bushels against against 1,092,000 bushels for the previous week.

Canadian and United States wheat flour in transit amounted to 271,000 barrels against 224,000 barrels.

C.N.R. CROP REPORT.

WINNIPEG, July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Crops are reported to be picking up following heavy rains over many districts in Manitoba, according to the Canadian National Railwys crop report for the week ended July 12, issued Monday. Several hours heavy rain saved the situation in the majority of districts, and farmers are more optimistic, in some places reporting prospects of a bumper crop. Saskatchewan points report rains on July 8, but a further good heavy rain is needed. Several districts report about 25 per cent of the wheat in shot blade with a good percentage heading out. Reports from this Province as a whole

SEPARATION GIVES SAVOR TO WEDDED LIFE SAYS COUPLE WHO LIVE APART

"Marriage Is Failure—Divorce is Disastrous—But Separation—Ah! That's the Sweetest Phase of Life and Love," Is View of Mrs. Richard Bennett.

NEW YORK, July 15. — Here comes a married couple who after twenty years of more or less cooing parted last October—and who yesterday declared.

"Both of us love each other more than ever—now. A marriage separation is a success. Try it yourself and see."

The man is Richard Bennett of "Damaged Goods" fame. The wife is Adrienne Morrison of "Squaw Man" success. Said Adrienne, in her apartment No. 126 East Fifty-fourth street:

"Marriage is a failure; divorce is disaster; but separation! Ah, that's the sweetest phase of life and love."

Richard Bennett, puffing a cigarette in his retreat six blocks north of where his wife and daughters live, spoke cheerily after an hour given to studying the part in a new play in which he may star.

"It was rumored in theatrical circles that the Bennetts were to be divorced. But both denied it. Said Bennett:

"Divorce? Nonsense. I'd only divorce my wife if I wanted to marry another woman. I don't. I love Adrienne more than ever before. 'Absence makes the heart grow fonder' really means something to me now.

See Less, Love More.

"No, I don't carry a key to my wife's apartment. I don't need to. Nor does she have a latch key to my flat. She doesn't want one. She'd always feel it was up to her to run over and tidy up for me. But one of our daughters keeps things ship-shape."

Speaking of his daughters, Bennett explained:

"When Adrienne goes off on one of her tours it's Barbara and Constance that save me from becoming lonesome. It's queer that seeing less of one you love has such an effect on me."

It was Adrienne who showed another facet of their separation scheme in these words:

"It is absurd to think of our ever wanting to be divorced. Here we are living apart, enjoying all the niceties of married life with none of the discomforts.

"The experiment has been more of a success than we thought. We care more for each other and yet we do not submerge our personalities. We have a greater interest in our own lives, while the girls live under ideal conditions.

"I hear from Richard every day, but I don't always see him. We have dinner together very often. Richard can come up to the house any time he wants. He's always welcome."

Adrienne Morrison added:

"Richard and I are no more separated than we were last October when we evolved our idea. And the courts with their hateful publicity have nothing to do with us."

It was Richard Bennett who added the final fitting words:

"We often have dinner together and it is a joy that we look forward to. No longer are we dubbed as an old married couple that have passed over twenty years in matrimony. We feel like newlyweds on our honeymoon."

AUTO SMASHED STORE WINDOW

And Destroyed Goods on Display in Drug Store at Campbellford.

FRONT SPRING BROKE

CAMPBELLFORD, July 15. — (Special to Examiner).—Frank Brown was driving his auto on Tice street Monday afternoon, and on the crossing in front of Turner's hardware store the front spring broke and the driver lost control. The car ran diagonally across the street and into J. E. Birk's drug store, shattering to atoms a large plate glass and a quantity of goods that were on display in the window. A passer-by had a narrow escape from being run over, but no one was injured. The auto was badly shaken up, one of the front wheels which collided with the lower sash of the window being a complete wreck.

Mr. Birk's says the plate glass was worth $160 and was insured. The ruined stock is also insured, but not against auto accidents.

Her Leg Broken.

While Mrs. Robert Stocker was leaving the Post Office Monday afternoon one of the high heels on her shoe caught on the step, throwing her to the sidewalk. She was taken in a car to the office of a doctor, who found that both bones of her left leg were broken.

License Inspector Here.

License Inspector Gooderich of Cobourg was here Monday, the object of his visit being to compel the five local hotelkeepers to comply with the new regulations with regard to fire escapes. Formerly it was sufficient to have a fire escape from the upper to the bottom of the first storey, this leaving a space of 10 or 12 feet to the sidewalk below, a long jump for any person escaping from a fire. All local hotels complied with his provision of the law.

The new regulations provide that from the bottom of such escapes an iron ladder shall be fastened to the wall from the bottom of the escape to within five feet of the ground. When owners of buildings complained that such ladder made entrance easy for possible burglars, his objectio was overcome by permitting them to fasten the top of the ladder to the wall with hinges so that it can be folded up and lowered only in case of fire.

DROWNED ON SUNDAY

SCOTTSTOWN, Que., July 15.—While swimming in company with a number of friends Mitchell Drury, 22 was drowned Sunday afternoon here. He had been in Scottstown only a short time, and had no relatives in this part of the country.

MUCH FUR.

Much fur is evidently to be used for fall and winter—double and triple bands are seen on the bottoms of model coats and dresses.

HALIFAX POLICE OFFICER KILLED; OTHER WOUNDED

In Gun Battle With Two Desperadoes and Their Two Sisters.

FOUR SURRENDER

Had Terrorized Suburb of the City Since Last Wednesday Night.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 15.—(Canadian Press).—William Bevis, local desperado, was arrested near the Garden Crest Apartments early last evening, calmly surrendering himself to the police after having instantly killed Police Officer Fulton yesterday afternoon on Vermon street, and having seriously wounded Police Officer Stephen Kennedy at Dutch village yesterday morning.

The arrest marked the culmination of the worst gun battle the Halifax police have had in recent years. Bevis' associates, Bob Slaughenwhite, Ethel Slaughenwhite and Florence Bevis, the latter two being sisters of the two men, were taken into custody by the police around noon. The arrest was made after a battle with the desperadoes which started early Sunday evening when complaint was made to the city police by Frank Longard, who stated that a party of four, two men and two women, whom he had ordered off his premises, had drawn a gun on him.

Are All Young.

The quartette whose ages ranged from sixteen to twenty-two years, had terrorized the North West Arm suburb of Halifax since last Wednesday night, and since Sunday had been engaged in a gun fight with the city police.

Bevis had taken refuge in the thick woods that starts near the summer colony of the north west Arm and extends for miles back into the country. He exchanged shots with the police officers when the latter captured the girls, but was lost in the thick woods before they could get close enough to capture him.

Have Police Record.

Kennedy aged 38, Canadian champion hammer thrower, was shot in the breast when he located the party near the gates of the Ashburn Golf links, and advanced into the open, calling them to surrender. Another policeman was scratched by a bullet, but the wound was slight. The quartette are well known in local police circles and are believed to have been responsible for several thefts in the vicinity of the north west Arm, particularly the burglarizing a week ago of the residence of Emile Gaboury, French Consul-General.

All available police reserves were called out and hundreds of private citizens joined in the chase.

SUPERVISION OF ESKIMOS

OTTAWA, July 14. — (Canadian Press).—The bill to amend the Indian Act, which gives the Indian Department supervision over the Eskimos was put through committee by the House of Commons Monday, and given third reading. The Bill further makes provision regarding the administration of Indian estates and some other phases of Indian law.

COBOCONK GIRL LOST IN WOODS

Reached Norland Village After Wandering Two Days in Bush.

ONLY NINE YEARS OLD

LINDSAY, July 15.—(Special to the Examiner).—Little Thelma Wyers, of Coboconk, who was lost in the woods near that village for two days, was found on Saturday evening at the village of Norland, some miles distant, by Mr. Lecraw, a merchant of that place.

The child, who is only nine years of age, accompanied some berry-pickers to the woods and became separated from the party. They searched for her until nightfall, and then sent word to the village of her disappearance. All night long relatives of the girl searched the woods, but could get no trace of her. Saturday the big sawmill at Coboconk was closed down and the mill hands assisted in the search.

Word was sent to Toronto for a bloodhound, and the animal was hurried across country from Blackwater Junction to assist in the search. It arrived at the village just as word had been received that the girl was found. She was in her bare feet and had wandered about the woods until overcome by exhaustion when she sought shelter for the night in some brush. She continued her wanderings next morning until she reached Norland.

14,000 Different Roses In Old French Garden

PARIS, July 14.—The chateau of Gagatelle, which was built in the eighteenth century by Comte d'Artois, is certainly the most distinguished building in the Bois de Boulogne. Bagatelle is now the property of the City of Paris, and its conservator has gradually assembled in its gardens a collection of roses, which now includes as many as 14,000 varieties, and is said to be the finest in the world. Even now it is not complete, for the varieties of roses are constantly increasing.

AUTO UPSET FATAL

WINNIPEG, July 15.—P. A. Wall of Winnipeg, was instantly killed Sunday when the car which he was driving from Winnipeg Beach turned turtle at a sharp turn in the road pinning him underneath. Four others were in the car but they escaped with minor injuries.

KELLOGG THE 36TH ENVOY.

Eighth American Who Has Held the Rank of Ambassador to Britain.

Frank Kellogg, the United States ambassador to the Court of St. James, makes the thirty-sixth representative of this country in London since diplomatic relations between the two countries were opened a century and a third ago, in Washington's persidency, says the Detroit News.

It was not until the days of Thomas Bayard and Lord Pauncefote that the envoys at Washington and London became ambassadors, Mr. Kellogg being the eighth American who has held that title.

Fewer Britons have crossed the Atlantic as the sovereign's representative, Sir Auckland Geddes being the twenty-sixth plenipotentiary in Washington.

Belgium, shot to pieces by the war, is lately making more iron and steel than in 1913—before the war started.

This is only one instance of thousands, showing that Europe is getting back on its feet. Politicians failed at the job. Reconstruction began with the farmer. It will be completed by industries. After all, politicians are not much use except to start wars, levy taxes and spout oratory.

THE GUMPS—ON THE OLD FRONT PORCH

TWEED LODGES HAD A BIG DAY

Mr. Fred Dane, of Toronto, Was the Principal Speaker—Greetings From Ku Klux Klan.

TWEED, July 15. — The twelfth of July came to Tweed with a clear and smiling sky making glad the hearts of those who had prepared to receive many visitors. All round the country folks wakened with a smile hustled through the chores and started for Tweed. Loyal Orangemen got out their regalia, then white coats and white horses. By ten o'clock Tweed was a gay and busy place. The roll of drums came from all the hills around as visiting lodges came nearer and nearer until finally having passed under the welcoming evergreen arches thirty drums with attendant snare drums and fifes were concentrated around the dining pavilions in the Fair Grounds.

The drummers were almost the mast attractive feature of the day—long drummers and short drummers, fat drummers and thin drummers, each determined to out do the other each with some special little manoeuvers of his own.

The ladies started to serve dinner at 10.45 and the pavilions were still crowded with diners at one o'clock. And all the while the drums never stopped.

After one o'clock the white horses and their riders started to line up the lodges for the parade. With the prancing horses, shouting men, flashing swords and roll of drums it seemed as though the years had rolled back to 1690 and a battle was in preparation. The gaily dressed ladies and children with baloons were reassuring and proclaimed it truly a gala day.

At 2 o'clock sharp they started off—thirty lodges strong. With a number of lodges a ladies lodge walked also and two lodges of little boys They marched to the C.P.R. station to meet Mr. Dave and escorted him back to address them. Then at last when all were back with one final triumphant roll the drums stopped and ranks were broken.

Splendid attention was given the speakers though in the background ice cream cones and fancy drinks seduced the attention of the younger folks.

Mr. Tumnion acted as chairman in the absence of County Master Haggarty. Rev. Mr. White of Eldorado spoke first and very briefly calling himself the ice breaker. Then Mr. Fred Daw, who holds the highest office in the gift of the Orange Association of the British Empire, the Presidency of the Triennial Council of Orangemen and who is a past master of the Orange Order for Ontario West, spoke. He extended greetings from the Associations in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. He then reminded the people that the Order stood for toleration, equal, rights to all and special privileges to none. He said that an Orangeman who did not attend and support the Church with which he was connected was not being true to his vows.

Next Mr. Sarsfield of New Mexico U.S.A. formerly of Brantford, Ont. spoke. He said he was happy to be wearing his Orange Collar in Ontario after an absence of twelve years Mr. Sarsfield brought greetings from the Grand Wizard, of the Ku Klux Klan of America, of which he is now a member. The Ku Klux Klan stands for the same principles in America that the Orange Order stands for in British Empire.

Rev. Mr. Smart spoke and then followed Mr. T. Cook, member for West Hastings.

After all expenses are paid the Tweed Lodge will have two thousand dollars clear. This will entirely wipe out the debt against the Orange Hall which has a splendid concert hall on the ground floor. In future the concert hall will be given to the various churches of the town for use free of charge.

KANSAS KNOCKED OUT.

Chile Lightweight Won Bout in the Eleventh Round.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Luis Vincentini of Chile, knocked out Rocky Kansas of Buffalo, lightweight in eleventh round of a sheduled 15-round match at Queensboro A.C. last night. The end came in a sensational finish in which the Chilean rallied to the highest peak of his pugilistic career and stopped one of the most rugged lightweights in the ring.

THE UNION BILL THROUGH SENATE

Approval Given to Third Reading of Bill to Unite Churches.

OTTAWA, July 15.—(Canadian Press.)—With a protest from Hon. Dr. Reid that the measure had been "railroaded" through, the Senate last night gave the third reading to the bill to unite Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches. There were three divisions, but they were all in the committee stage and were therefore not recorded. There was little discussion.

When the Senate assembled Senator Robertson announced that a compromise amendment regarding the ballot on church union vote had been agreed upon, and that Senators Ross and Pardee would withdraw their amendments. This was done, and he moved a substitute amendment. "The vote herein provided for shall be taken by ballot in such form and such manner and at such time within limit prescribed by next preceding sub-section as the congregation may decide. Provided that not less than two weeks be allowed for taking of said vote by ballot aforesaid. The said meeting for taking said ballot may be adjourned for the purpose of taking the ballot, but not for a longer period than thirty days."

FOR COMMONS OPENING

Fixed Date Proposed by Senator to be Urged on Government.

OTTAWA, July 15 (Canadian ress). — A resolution, moved by Senator MacDonnell and adopted in the Senate yesterday, would have Parliament called every year (with necessary exceptions and modifications) on the second Tuesday of January in each year. At the present time, there is nofixed date for the opening of Parliament.

Senator MacDonnell thought that if no date was fixed, at least the Government would give the approximate date of the next session before prorogation of the session in effect.

Senator Griesbuch made several suggestions for the purpose of shortening th length of the session. He suggested that sessional indemnities be based on distance from Ottawa.

Senator Dandurnad expressed sympathy with the desire to have Parliament called early in January, and stated that he would urge this on the Government.

BANK VICTIMS ARE HOPEFUL

Moral Claim of Depositors Will be Presented to the House To-day.

TORONTO, July 15.— (Canadian Press.)—Thomas Vien, M.P., chairman of the House of Commons Banking and Commerce committee, wired I. E. Weldon, secretary of Home Bank Depositors' National commitee last night that report of committee advising the House of Commons that depositors have a moral claim to compensation will be presented in the House to-morrow.

Mr. Weldon refused to discuss action expected to follow upon presentation of the report and the debate thereon. From another source it was learned that depositors committee is asking for payment to depositors of the sum of $9,800,000, or 60 per cent. of the total deposits, half of the amount to be placed in this year's estimates and the balance in next year's.

Quite a large group of Toronto depositors are optimistic as to carrying out of this plan. If this arrangement is made it will mean that depositors will receive altogether 95 per cent. of their claims. They have already been paid 25 per cent. with a promise of ten per cent. more from Liquidators G. I. Clarkson and I. E. Weldon. With sixty per cent. it is hoped to get from the Dominion Parliament the total will be 95 per cent.

BRIDGE AT MONTREAL

New Highway Over St. Lawrence at St. Helen's Island.

MONTREAL, July 15 (Canadian Press). — Construction of the new bridge between Montreal and the south shore will probably be commenced by the Montreal Harbour Commissioners early in 1925, and completed by the opening of navigation in 1926, it was learned here yesterday.

It will be in two sections and one trestle section across St. Helen's Island.

This will convert St. Helen's Island into a city amusement park, easy of access and of great benefit to the densely populated eastern section of the city.

WINNIPEG GROCER DEAD

Thomas Tobin, Wholesaler, Went West 41 Years Ago.

WINNIPEG, July 15 (Canadian Press). O Thomas Jobin, head of the wholesale grocery firm of Jobin, Marrin Company, died suddenly at his Winnipeg Beach cottage on Sunday night.

He was recuperating at his summer home following a recent operation, and right up to his death it was believed that he was making a rapid recovery.

Mr. Jobin, who came to Winnipeg 41 years ago, is survived by his widow and six sons and two daughters. He was 63 years old.

BLINDED 50 MEXICANS.

Soldiers Injured in Explosion of Cartridges Bought in United States.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, July 15. — Lieut.-Colonel Jose Ortiz, the chief of the staff of General Arnulfo R. Gomez, commanding the City Garrison, announces that more than fifty federal soldiers were blinded when eight-millimeter cartridges, brought from the United States for use in Enfield rifles during the recent De La Huerta revolution, exploded.

It was stated that several soldiers had lost their lives due to similar explosions.

A semi-official statement attributes the responsibility to Mexican agents sent to the United States to buy ammunition. It is said they bought the oldest stock in order to collect the largest possible commission.

CIRCULAR HEM.

The tailored dress frequently has a circular hem these days, but it is so perfectly cut that the line is scarcely different from the tubular frock, but there is more freedom for walking.

BROKE LEG AND ARMS IN FALL

Roland Campbell Fell Over 30 Feet to a Cement Floor.

Roland Campbell, who fell over thirty feet from the top of a silo to a concere floor yesterday afternoon, had his left leg and both arms broken, and sustained other minor fractures besides.

Mr. Campbell is an unmarried man, 24 years of age, living one mile east of Nassau, in Douro Township, with his mother, Mrs. R. Campbell, and one brother Vernon.

Despite his many injuries, he soon regained consciousness after the fall, and was rushed to Nicholls Hospital, where Dr. D. S. Cameron attended him.

Although suffering from shock, his condition to-day is remarkable, considering the seriousness of his injuries.

U. S. WORLD FLIERS BEHIND SCHEDULE

They Expect to Reach Los Angeles Long Before September the 1st.

PARIS, July 15 (United Press).—"We'll be in Los Angeles long before 1st September," Lieut. Lowell Smith, commander of the American world flight, said to-day.

The aviators attended a reception in their honour tendered by the Minister of Aviation, Eynac.

They met and hobnobbed for a while with their chief, General Pershing, they placed a wreath upon the tomb of the unknown soldier, and they wrote their names all the time.

It was plain to see their thoughts were on the flight.

"We are 19 days behind schedule," Lieut. Smith said speculatively. "Of course," he added quickly, "we are not racing against time."

The American commanded said that he and his companions were looking forward to two weeks of real rest in London, while their planes are fitted with pontoons for the Atlantic trip. Then there will be no halting until they reach the Pacific Coast of the United States.

Paris continued to shower honours upon the airmen.

The French Government will dine the flyers to-night.

THE CROP OUTLOOK.

Early Wheat is Rapidly Coming Into the Heading Stage.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, July 15.—The crop outlook generally for the Prairie Provinces gives every reason for optimism, although the yields will largely be determined by the future rainfall, and the absence of hail and pests, says the weekly crop report of the Agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway issued yesterday.

Good progress has been made under the favorable weather conditions of the past week, and according to the report, the early wheat is rapidly coming forward into heading stage. Heavy rains experienced over large areas in the three provinces provide moisture urgently needed for the late sown crops. Certain districts did not enjoy this precipitation, and the situation in these sections is regarded as somewhat critical.

In Manitoba the wheat crop is looking healthy and strong and has fine roots, but as yet it is late.

FIRE TAKES 52 LIVES.

Raging Forest Fires Are Sweeping Along the Pacific Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—(Canadian Press)—Fifty-two persons are unaccounted for and believed to have perished within the past twenty four hours in the forest fires which are sweeping all sections of the Pacific coast.

They are W. O. Dillon and family of six, with six loggers caught by fire on Trapper Creek, Idaho.

Party of 35 persons, including some children, trapped by fire at Wheelers' Mill Pond, O'Reille County, Washington. Four Doukabours caught by fire in Salmon Valley, British Columbia.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Deputation Will Go to Cobourg on Thursday For Good Roads Meeting.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 15.—Mayor Meyers, Reeve Davidson and Deputy Reeve Dorie will go to Cobourg Thursday to attend a meeting of municipal representatives of the United Counties and the Advisory Committee appointed at the recent session of the Legislature to assist, the Department of Highways. The object of the gathering is to get the views of the different municipalities with regard to the kind of highways to be built and some idea of the amount to be expended.

The Campbellford delegation will make an effort to have the road from Belleville to Peterboro taken over as a provincial highway and in this matter they will be supported by representation from all the townships interested as well as from the City of Peterboro. The meeting is announced for 10 a.m. Thursday and on the following day a similar gathering will be held in Belleville.

Reeve Van Volknburg and Deputy Reeve P. B. Nelson of Seymour and Reeve McCubbie and Deputy-Reeve W. H. Nelson of Perry will also attend the meeting.

Run Down By Buggy

The six-year old son of H. A. Young, while playing on the street Monday was run down by a buggy and for a time it was feared that he had been severely injured but a doctor found that the little fellow was more frightened than hurt.

Took Fire Again

The brick building on Rear street belonging to the Mulhearn estate, took fire about 11 o'clock Sunday night and the brigade had a call, but the blaze was put out with chemicals This building was gutted by fire some time ago and has stood vacant and unprepared ever since, a play house for the small boys of the neighborhood. There was a blaze in the ruins some weeks ago and there is still material left for another fire Boys playing with matches are blamed for the outbreaks.

Orangemen's Picnic.

The Orangemen and their friends who live around Stanwood and Petherick's and the surrounding country, who could not go to the celebration at Peterborough, met together at Crow River for a picnic on Saturday afternoon, and had a real good time. There were about seventy-five people present. They had the pleasure of having the good things sold at a booth. This was in charge of the Dalglish children, who with their parents are spending the summer in their cottage at Crow River Bridge and on special days have the booth open and sell soft drinks, ice-cream, etc.

FARMERS HEAR A HYDRO TALK

Meeting Held Last Evening at Madoc—General News.

Hydro for Madoc.

MADOC, July 15. — A meeting of general interest took place in the town hall last evening when a representative of the Hydro-Electric Commission, Mr. Isler, spoke on the problem of providing electricity to rural communities.

The farmers in the vicinity of Madoc are anxious to obtain electric light and power, and to have an understanding of the cost of the same. The speaker gave a very clear and comprehensive address on this subject, after being introduced by the Reeve of Madoc township, Mr. C. Thompson.

Mr. Isler gave a few preliminary explanations regarding the Hydro-Electric Commmission. He explained that at the close of each fiscal year on October 31st, all expenses were gone through, accounts rendered to the municipalities and rates adjusted each year for the rural systems. He explained how the money was advanced by the government to defray the initial cost of installing rural lines.

Charges for electrical service supplied by the Hydro came under two headings, viz., (1) Service; (2) Consumption.

The latter of course is entirely within individual control.

In the first case one thought worthy of consideration is that the greater the equipment the larger the service charge. It is more economical to put in a small motor that will take a longer time than to put in a large motor which requires larger equipment, though a shorter time to work.

The standard rates depend on normal conditions, such as:

1. Labor being secured at not more than 30c an hour.

2. Men sent by the commission to work may be boarded close to their work and not in the town.

3. Teams may be secured at not more than $6 a day.

4. That there be three class 3 consumers to the mile.

5. That digging conditions are soil. It costs more and takes longer to go through rock.

6. That 30 foot poles may be used. Obstructions such as telephone wires, thickly wooded roads, etc., which necessitate the use of 35 foot poles, increase the cost.

The speaker then gave full information regarding rates based on classification designed to fit the needs of the people in both small settlements or hamlets and in scattered districts; and also explained the syndicate plan by which farmers could secure a motor for working in silos, woodcutting and such work.

Free labor and free teams bring down the cost of building the lines.

The commission has not staff enough to canvas the country, therefore it was suggested that a committee be appointed to carry on the canvassing. Full information was given regarding contracts to be signed.

The audience was then given an opportunity of asking questions and a number of interested individuals availed themselves of this chance.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Thompson and tendered to Mr. Isler for his very able and instructive address.

General News.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mercer took place yesterday. She was an aged resident of Madoc.

Mrs. W. H. O'Flynn acted as organist at St. John's church on Sunday in the absence of Miss Hart. Mrs. O'Flynn was organist for many years before moving to Toronto, and the congregation was pleased to welcome her back.

Rev. and Mrs. Strother left yesterday morning for their holidays, motoring to Brockville and Maitland —their former parish. There will be no service in St. John's next Sunday.

A Golf Game.

A very interesting event in the form of a golf match took place between some Belleville and Madoc players. Those upholding the record for Belleville were Dr. McKeown, Mr. Smith, Dr. Tennant and Mr. Snider. Opposing them were Mr. Gillespie, Mr. Jewel, Dr. Wyper and Mr. Casement. The contestants tied on holes but counting strokes Madoc players were the winners. Following the tournament Mrs. Gillespie entertained the golfers at dinner. A return game is to be arranged in the near future.

The members of the Methodist Epworth League entertained the summer model students at a scoial evening. Games were offlowed by refreshments, and the young people spent an enjoyable evening meeting old friends and making new ones.

Dr. Wyper has gone north to Batiste Lake for two weeks fishing. This lake is said to be one of the most beautiful spots in Hastings county, and what is more important to the angler's mind, the fish bite well.

Mrs. Joyce and little Miss Audrey of Montreal are spending a few weeks, the guests of Mrs. Wyper.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid of Toronto with Miss Nora and Miss Betty Reid are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gillespie.

Misses Marion and Helen Hall, and Master Crawford Hall, arrived yesterday from Merrickville, to which parish their father, Rev. F. H. H. Hall, removed last February. The Madoc young people are delighted to ave their little friends with them once more.

BOTULISM KILLS FIVE

Ate Ripe Imported Olives—Two Others in Critical Condition.

PHILADELPHIA, July 15. — Thomas Peter de Quartel Richardson, twenty-three years old, scion of a socially prominent Philadelphia family, died at St. Vincent's Hospital, Billings, Mont., of botulism, a poisoning resulting from eating imported ripe olives.

The death of Richardson, a senior at Yale, was the fifth due to the same cause following a dinner on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Paul Ache, of Pittsburgh, at Aldrich Lodge, near Cody, Wyo.

In the small hospital at Billings, in a critical condition are Saraellen, who made her debut two years ago, and Tolbert N. Richardson, Jr., a sister and brother of Thomas Richardson.

THE ROTARY CAMP.

Taking care of crippled children is only one of the important activities with the responsibility of which the members of the Peterborough Rotary Club have saddled themselves.

Another splendid work is that on behalf of underprivileged boys, of which the crowning feature is the annual camp, commencing this year on July 28th.

The Rotarians have established a camp property and plant on Clear Lake, valued at $6,000, an ideal spot for a summer holiday under the most favourable conditions.

To boys who have never had the opportunity of spending two weeks at such a camp the Rotary establishment opens the way to enjoyment such as these youngsters have never ventured to anticipate.

It will be interesting to citizens to learn that for the 1924 camp there are still openings for a few boys to complete the camp personnel.

People who know of deserving boys between the ages of 12 and 16 years who would appreciate a fortnight's vacation at Clear Lake are asked to communicate with Rotarian J. L. Kenneally, who is Chairman of Rotary's "Get-the-Boy" Committee.

The Rotary camp not only gives these youngsters an ideal holiday, but it sends them home with a broader outlook upon life and filled with ambition to better themselves.

It furnishes another chance to boys whose prospects in life have been none too rosy.

NOT THE ONLY GUILTY ONES.

Complaint was general in the neighborhood of some of the city's parks on Sunday because many of the previous day's visitors who had enjoyed an al fresco luncheon had left the remains of the feast and sundry papers and boxes strewn over the sward, Sunday's high wind distributing them over adjoining lawns.

It is true that the picnic parties might have gathered up the debris from their luncheon, but is it not the fact that in not doing so they were only reciprocating, unintentionally no doubt, for the conduct of many city folk who are fond of picnics in the country but who are not as a rule very keen respecters of property rights or careful about how they trespass upon the premises of others?

There is need for improvement on both sides in this matter.

Our visitors from out of town left Victoria Park, for example, in decidedly unseemly condition, and it is to be feared that many Peterborough people who go on picnics into the country are equally careless in regard to cleaning up afterwards.

In fact, many of them do not respect their own parks.

It is a simple matter to gather up the remains of a picnic meal, but there seems to be on the part of many people a lack of thought that lets them go away with this light task unperformed.

HE CARRIED A REVOLVER.

There has been considerable comment in the columns of newspapers and elsewhere over the hanging at Valleyfield, Que., of Walter Muir, the young New Yorker who shot and killed a resident of Valleyfield during a dispute over a dog.

The view is taken by many that a verdict of manslaughter would have been sufficient to serve the ends of justice.

The Examiner, however, thinks that the New York World emphasized the real issue in the case when it said:

"The real cause of such crimes is the practice of carrying weapons. The boy with the pistol imagined himself under compulsion to kill in a dispute over nothing more important than a dog. The dog in his view could not have been sufficiently valuable to warrant a shooting which cost two human beings their right to live. The weapon-carrier exaggerates trivial differences."

That is exactly the trouble with the carrying of concealed weapons.

The instinct of the gun-toter who gets into difficulties is to use his revolver.

Thus the Valleyfield killing and the execution of the man who fired the fatal shot.

Had Muir not considered it necessary to pack a revolver as part of his equipment both he and his victim would in all probability be alive today.

But he carried a gun, got into a trivial dispute, lost his head and two deaths resulted.

The purchasing and carrying of revolvers must be made more difficult if such tragedies are to be averted.

MABEL NORMAND'S FATE.

Reports from Los Angeles that Mabel Normand, well-known motion picture star, has been dropped by the company employing her should not cause any wonderment in view of Miss Normand's ill-fortune in being involved in two different shooting affrays.

The motion picture industry is responsive to public opinion.

It realizes that unless the support of the people is maintained box-office receipts will fall off and the whole industry will suffer.

Moving picture stars may as well grasp the situation and appreciate the fact that the public will not stand for unpleasant notoriety in connection with the people who entertain on the screen, and that the producers and exhibitors will not continue to give employment to artists who have lost the confidence of motion picture patrons.

The industry is looking for signs that indicate the trend of public opinion, as is shown by the following letter received by the Examiner from Will. H. Hays, the high-salaried President of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc. Mr. Hays, who is the Judge Landis of the moving picture business, writes this:

"The Examiner's editorial entitled 'The Movie Industry' is thoroughly appreciated.

"In any human effort toward progress it is always a stimulating factor to have known and commended the work of those who are making the effort, and I refer to the producers who produce the pictures and the exhibitors who show them. What they are doing in the cause of better pictures is truly commendable. While each is separately organized, they have wanted always to do this thing, and are now doing it through co-operation in their organizations. It is primarily the producers' responsibility to produce good pictures, and they have been and will continue to do so. They have accepted that responsibility.

"Too great emphasis, however, cannot be placed upon the need for public support and commendation of the good pictures as they are shown in the community. That fact cannot be reiterated too often. The help of the newspapers of the country has been incalculable, and I am grateful for your helpfulness. I want your suggestions for improvement at all times."

MacDONALD EXPLAINS.

There has been a slump in the betting on the adoption of the Dawes plan; and the people to blame for the lengthening of the odds are the politicians who sought to make capital for themselves out of the issue.

There is still considerable vagueness regarding what happened during the period between the departure of M. Herriot from Chequers and the issuing of the formal invitation by the British Premier to Italy, Belgium and Japan. Even after Mr. MacDonald's speech in the Commons last night there are several questions unanswered. One thing, however, is abundantly clear. Poincare used the intervening time to such advantage that he very nearly precipitated a crisis in the newly-constituted French Cabinet and almost brought about the fall of M. Herriot. The French Premier sensed the danger when he read the chorus of protest in the French press, some hinting and others openly charging that national interests had been betrayed at Chequers and that France through its new Prime Minister had been induced to abandon certain basic rights for which it had stood firm under the Poincare regime.

The chief objection of the French press, and especially of the Poincare group, to the memorandum of the British Government was that it stipulated that in case of wilful default by Germany in her payments under the Dawes scheme, the amount of pressure to be exerted by the Allies and the nature of it was to be determined by the League of Nations or the Hague Tribunal. France has never taken the League of Nations very seriously. To Clemenceau, at Paris, it was the supreme jest of the war and its aftermath; and, if it gained more favor under Briend, it fell into disrepute again under the Poincare rule. The Hague Tribunal is not regarded in France as a separate and distinct entity, as something apart and distinct from the league itself.

Moreover France would naturally prefer reference to the Reparations Commission upon which she has so strong a representation and over which French opinion exerts so potent an influence. To refer a case of German default to the Reparations Commission would be something like calling for three cheers for "ould Ireland" at Donnybrook Fair.

MacDonald's decision to go to Paris was taken swiftly and at a certain risk to his health. Yet the very fact that it was taken shows that he appreciated how grave was the crisis in domestic politics in France. M. Herriot's call from Macedonia must have been insistent. MacDonald knew that if he went he must publish a statement afterwards that would satisfy his own people that he had not whittled down the resultant effects of Chequers and at the same time he must strengthen the Herriot forces by some concessions.

Mr. MacDonald seems to have achieved this. What actually happened is still vague. The main result seems to have been the substitution of an independent United States arbitrator in place of the league or the Hague tribunal in case of wilful German default. Of course, this pre-supposes the fact that America will be willing to appoint an arbiter for the enforcement of a treaty which she has so far refused to ratify.

It is increasingly evident that the whole of the Reparations problem and the question of inter-Allied debts with which it is so firmly linked bristles with contentious and highly explosive material. The world has had sufficient proof of this under the Curzon-Poincare negotiations to realize it. But the flair of the Dawes report has somewhat dimmed the eyes of the world to some of these difficulties. Progress towards a conference on certain broadly defined lines seemed so tremendous an advance toward settlement of the question that the rest of the journey seemed plain sailing.

Poincare has shown us that he is not asleep at the switch and that a final entente with France on the question which is the copestone of the Versailles Treaty can only be brought forth in painful labor and after much suffering.—Montreal Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Remember the Rotary Carnival on Thursday. A big day's fun on behalf of a big cause.

If Finland had two more athletes like Nurmi and Ritola, the quartette would come close to winning the world's athletic championship by themselves.

All the Rice Lake fishermen are busy denying that they are the "fish hogs" mentioned by the Examiner. But the fact remains that there is much unnecessary taking of fish.

An Italian has been arrested in Paris on a charge of robbing his first thirty-six fiancees. He admits taking money from most of them, but says he earned it. And the defence would certainly carry weight with a jury of cynical bachelors.

No matter how much the Toronto newspapers may berate the Federal Government for extravagance, the majority of them can easily convince themselves that expenditure is all right so long as it concerns a viaduct for the Queen City.

Saturday night's short shower arrived just in time to square the pessimist who declared Friday that "it always rains on the Twelfth."

The Ontario Government is being bombarded with resolutions asking that the O. T. A. be given a longer trial. However, the Premier declared some time ago that he would not need petitions to enable him to judge popular opinion, so that the anti-plebiscite resolutions may not mean anything after all.

The farmers will not object to a round-table conference provided they can be assured of a square deal.

The Democrats decided that McAdoo wouldn't do. But it took them a long time to come to the decision.

METHUEN PICNIC WAS BIG SUCCESS

Willing Workers Are to be Found at Lasswade.

APSLEY, July 14.—What was pronounced to be the best picnic in Methuen in years was held under the auspices of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Lasswade, and its success was largely due to the splendid help rendered by members of the Methodist Church in return for similar services given by St. Paul's members at the former's picnic two weeks ago. Nowhere in the mission of Apsley will one find more willing workers than at Lasswade, and Wednesday's picnic certainly called for strenuous service.

Rev. C. Spence in an address after supper eulogised the spirit of goodwill and co-operation apparent in the successful result of this social event, which is an outstanding feature of backwoods life.

During the afternoon sports were held and a good football game betweens teams captained by Jack Reynolds and Archie Whitmore resulted in a score of 2-0 in favor of the former.

An exciting tug of war between married and single men, after a mighty struggle ended in victory for the married men. Other events resulted as follows:

Men, 100 yards flat—1 Clarence Bliss, 2 Fred Whitmore.

Sack race—1 Edwin Davis, 2 Fred Whitmore.

Three legged—E. Davis and F. Whitmore.

High jump—Lew Dingledey.

Ladies—1 Ellen Steen, 2 Annie Steen.

The proceeds amounted to eighty-two dollars.

New Minister.

The Rev. Mr. Ogden appointed at the recent Methodist Conference to Apsley in the place of Rev. E. McTavish arrived with his family last week and preached his first sermon here on Sunday evening. There being no service at St. George's Church the congregation was augumented to an appreciable extent by Anglican members.

For the first time in many years the local Orange Lodge held no Church parade on Sunday. Most of the members took in the celebration in Peterboro on Saturday.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 14.—Receipts today were 310 cars, 6084 cattle, 547 calves, 2215 hogs and 883 sheep and lambs. Among today's offerings were ten loads of Western steers of fair quality.

Frank Hunnisett bought three good babies and paid $9 a cwt. for two and $8 for the other. For a load of good handy weight butchers' heifers a packer paid $7 a cwt. and good medium mixed butchers went in small bunches at $6.50. There was no appreciable change in these sales from the prices of last week, but commission men were looking for lower prices when the first buying was exhausted.

Three loads of heavy steers were bought by the Harris Abattoir at $8.25 and $8.35 a cwt.

Export steers held between $7.50 and $8 a cwt., and heifers averaged about $7.

Loads of good to choice handyweight butchers sold from $6.75 to $7.15 a cwt., and good loads at $6.25 to $6.50. Medium butchers brought $5.75 to $6. Butchers' cows were not materially changed in price. Choice cows made tops of $5.50 a cwt., but good cows were bought from $4.50 up and mediums from $3.90 to $4.40. Most of today's bulls were bolognas, which sold close to $3 a cwt. Business up till noon was pretty much confined to exporters and good butchers, and some commission men would not be surprised if 2,500 cattle were left over at the end of the day.

Calves are not selling quite as well in Buffalo and Friday's tops on that market were not better than 11½ cents a pound. Prices remain fairly steady here and four good calves sold early at 9 cents and 11 extra at 9½ cents. Medium calves are selling from 6 to 8 cents.

The cut of $2 a cwt. on buck lambs is effective tomorrow morning and some buyers were inclined to await this before making commitments for the week. The top paid for a small bunch of choice lambs was 14¼ cents, but the average did not go over 14 cents and cull lambs sold at 10½ cents. Handyweight sheep brought 5¾ cents.

Hogs are not a heavy run, but the packers were a unit in demanding a drop to $7.50 a cwt. f.o.b.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, July 15 (Canadian Press). — The market is lower with the demand not quite so good, and prices have been reduced for all the grades except specials. Exporters are asking 37 to 38 f.o.b. seaboard fall shipment, but the best offer to date from Great Britain is 35 f.o.b. seaboard for firsts. The movement of eggs into storage has now practically ceased.

Toronto unchanged. Country shippers report receipts declining and the demand less keen paying extras 26 to 27, firsts 22 to 24, seconds 18, and making sales extras 30, firsts 26, seconds 20 f.o.b. cases returned.

Montreal market quieter. Jobbing extras 35, firsts 29, seconds 25.

Manitoba market weak. Dealers quoting country shippers delivered extras 23, firsts 21, seconds 14.

Saskatchewan receipts light, prices unchanged.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 15 (Canadian Press). — Trade in cash grain was dull yesterday, but oats were up 5 cents per bushel. Flour was marked up 20 cents per barrel in sympathy with the rise in wheat and winter wheat grades went up 10 cents per barrel. Millfeed prices advanced $1.00 a ton. The market for baled hay was steady. A firm feeling prevails in eggs. Trade in potatoes is slow. Butter prices were up 1-4c per pound. Prices for cheese were quoted at 1-4c to 1-2c per pound higher. There is no change in the bean market, one pound pickers being quoted at $2.75 to $2.85 per bus.

MONTREAL, July 15 (Canadian Press). — At the Quebec Agricultural Co-operative Society auction sale held here yesterday, there were 2,800 packages creamery offered, of which 700 packages No. 1 pasteurised creamery sold at 33 3-8 cents per pound and 500 packages No. 1 creamery at 32 3-8 cents per pound, while 30 1-2 cents was bid for 1,600 packages No. 2 creamery, with 31 1-4 cents per pound asked.

All these prices were f.o.b. cars at Belleville.

WINNIPEG LIVE STOCK.

WINNIPEG, July 15 (Canadian Press). — Arrivals: 1,800 cattle, 300 calves, 1,930 hogs, and 96 sheep and lambs.

With heavy receipts trading on the cattle market yesterday opened comparatively slow and draggy, very few sales were transacted, but offerings that found an outlet moved out on a fairly steady basis.

The hog market opened weak, with thick smooths from $6.90 to $7.0 and select bacons about 10 per cent. in advance of these quotations.

On the sheep and lamb market yearlings were disposed of around $8.00, while a few lightweight sheep ranged from $5.00 to $6.00.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 15 (Canadian Press). — New high levels for wheat were reached on the local market yesterday, due mainly to the continued unfavourable crop weather over the Canadian West which, in turn, has forced the Liverpool market to follow th trend of values.

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

Thomas Leith Was Well Known in the Community—Personal Mention.

MILLBROOK, July 14. — Thos. Leith, whose death occurred here, was the youngest of a family of ten children, and was born in Hope Township seventy-six years ago.

For about sixty years deceased, who was the last of his family, lived in Hope either on the family homestead just south of Garden Hill, or on a farm just across the road, combining with the occupation of farming that of a drover also. For the last fifteen or sixteen years he resided in Millbrook.

His wife was a sister of the late Mr. George Sothern, and their only child, a boy, died when about ten or eleven years of age. Three nephews, one of whom, William Leith, has been living on the homestead in Hope, are the immediate surviving relatives.

The late Mr. Leith was an Anglican in religion, and in politics was a staunch Conservative. He was also a loyal member of the Orange Order, first at Garden Hill, and later joining L.O.L. No. 79, Millbrook. For many years he was a member of Hope Council and at one time was Deputy-Reeve of the township.

The funeral took place from his late residence, Prince Street, on Thursday, 10th July, at 1 p.m., Rev. Canon Allen having charge of the services.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. H. B. Collins, J. R. Eakins, A. J. Henderson, G. Wallace, H. W. Johnston, and S. E. Eakins.

Interment took place at St. Paul's Cemetery, Perrytown.

Social Event.

A very pleasant social occasion was furnished by the Rose Tea held at the home of Mrs. C. Thorndyke on Wednesday afternoon, under the auspices of the Finance Committee of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Grace Presbyterian Church. The attendance was good considering the short time available for advertising the gathering. The ladies were invited to bring their fancy work, and all were glad to meet with friends old and new, and enjoy an hour or two of socia lintercourse together.

Tea was served on the lawn, the menu including strawberries and cream, with other good things in abundance.

The financial receipts were satisfactory, ther similar gatherings may be looked for during the summer months.

Mrs. C. Thorndyke, president of the Women's Institute, Mrs. T. H. Aiken, vice-president, and Mrs. W. G. Rowland were a deputation from that organisation which waited upon the Council this week, asking cooperation in providing a public rest room and lavatory for the village.

Councillors J. R. Eakins and T. J. Lang were appointed a committee to wait on the Cavan Council and see what steps can be taken to further the project.

If the two Councils will furnish a suitable building, or other premises, it is likely the Institute will spend its funds in furnishing and equipping the same.

Personal Mention.

Miss Etta Needler left on Thursday mornig for Muskoka, where she will spend a month visiting at Lockesley, the summer home of her brother, Dr. G. H. Needler.

Mrs. J. Fitzgerald and daughter, Miss Maitie, who have been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. R. Eakins, for the past two weeks, returned to their home in Toronto on Friday.

Misses M. Needham and A. McFarlane were guests of Mrs. Edgar Burnham at Hudson Lodge, Chemong Park, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sayles left by motor on Saturday morning for Geneva Park, Lake Couchiching, taking with them Marojrie Sayles, Gladys Tucker, and Elsie Spence of the Wide Awakes C.G.I.T. group, who will attend the girls' training camp at that point for the next ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayles are motoring to Huntsville and other points in Muskoka before returning home.

Allan Mitchell, whose garage was burned in the recent fire on Tupper Street, is replacing it with a solid concrete building, on the same location. The work is being rapidly pushed forward that business may be resumed as soon as possible.

F. Smith has installed a new gasoline pump in front of his garage on King Street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Richards have gone on a motor trip to Port Colborne, returning with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smithson and daughter, who have been visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McCririck and two children, Bryce and Allen, of Toronto, who are on a motor trip to several points in New York State, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Needham over the week-end.

The Methodist parsonage is being freshly painted outside, and some necessary improvements made indoors before the new pastor, Rev. F. H. Howard and his family return from their holidays and take up residence here. The Ladies' Aid is financing the improvements being made. W. Pendrie and T. McCullough are doing the painting, the colours chosen for the outside woodwork being zinc grey, with the shutters a medium green.

While quite a number of the local Orangemen joined with Peterboro in the annual walk this year, the majority of the lodges went to Oshawa for the Twelfth, between fifty and sixty leaving either on the regular or special trains for that point. The usual fife and drum music was rather conspicuous by its absence this year, only one such musical trio being heard either morning or evening, when the men left or upon their return.

here, the cables showing further strength again yesterday.

After the opening, which was very strong, considerable buying power came into the market, and although opening prices were nervous, erratic conditions, quotations continued to ascend, July touching 132 and October 128 5-8, and closing around the high of th day, July making a net gain of 5 1-2 cents, October 6 3-4 cents, and December 6 1-2 cents.

The trading throughout the session was on a large scale, exporters being credited with heavy purchases, while millers and investment buying accounted for a large volume of the trade.

Fairly heavy offerings came out at times, mostly in the nature of profit-taking sales and unwinding of the spreads between here and Chicago, but these were easily absorbed.

Unless a break in the present dry spell throughout the West comes, further advances are looked for.

The future coarse grains kept a pace with wheat and made extraordinary gains on a light trade.

Oats closed about 3 cents higher; barley 4 1-2 to 6 1-2; flax 3 1-4 to 7 1-2; and rye 5 1-4 to 81-4, the deferred futures making the best gains.

Hogs receipts 96,000; fairly active; 15c to 25c packing sows, slaughter pigs and lower grades showing full active; top weighty butchers, $7.50; bulk desirable 250 to 325 pound butchers, $7.45 to $7.50; bulk good and choice 160 to 225 pound average, $7.25 to $7.45; better 140 to 150 pound weights largely $6.75 to $7.10; bulk packing sows, $6.60 to $7.00; good and choice strongweight slaughter pigs, 6.25 to $6.50; estimated holdover 30,000.

Sheep, receipts 13,000; active; lambs around 25 cents higher; sorting generally moderate sheep scarce, steady to strong; feeding lambs were strong to 25 cents higher advance on better grades; bulk fat native lambs, $13.75 to $14.00; few $14.10; fat Western lambs, $14.00 to $14.15; no choice rangers offered; culls natives largely $9.00 to $9.50; few to city butchers, 10.00; choice handyweight ewes, $6.25; range breeding ewes, $6.50; good yearling wethers, $11.00; top feeder lambs, $12.25.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 15 (Canadian Press). — Big buying hoisted wheat 5 cents a bushel in value yesterday, and smashed all high price records for the season. Drought working havoc to the Canadian crop was the chief cause assigned. High price records were also broken in the corn market.

Wheat closed strong at 4 1-4 to 4 7-8 cents net advance, September $1.23 to $1.23 1-4, and December $1.25 3-4 to $1.26, with corn 1-2c to 4 1-4c up; oats showing 3-4c to 1 3-8c gain, and provisions unchanged to 27c higher.

Board demand for wheat was in evidence from the outset and especially so on the part of foreigners. In addition to future delivery purchases it was estimated that Europeans took 2,000,000 bushels yesterday for immediate shipment to Europe, the largest aount in some time.

According to an accepted authority the dearth of rain in Canada is the worst in twenty years, and he wired here yesterday that the crop in the three Prairie Provinces would apparently be only half of last year's total. It was this report which was largely responsible for the principal buying rush here and for the sustained strength of the market as the day came to an end.

Heavy profit-taking sales failed to bring about in the wheat market any reaction of more than a temporary character. The fact that prices at Winnipeg advanced even faster than here was taken as significant, particularly as the forecast indicated that no rain was looked for soon. Dry weather complaints were also received from North Dakota, and there was news of rust in Minnesota.

HOUSE DEBATED RESEARCH WORK

Amendment to Present Act Provides Reward for Any Benefits by Staff.

CRITICISM BY MEIGHEN

OTTAWA, July 15. — Canadian Press.—The second reading was given by the House of Commons yesterday to a measure to amend and consolidate the Research Council Act.

The amendments provide for the appointment of a president of the council who shall be a salaried officer and they also include a section to permit the council to benefit financally by its own reseaches as well as to enable it to make agreements by which persons not in the employ but carrying on work for it may benefit and by which researchers in the employ of council may also be suitably rewarded.

In committee on the bill, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, expressed doubt whether it was the part of wisdom to appoint a paid chairman before the government was ready to profide the building and equipment necessary to enable him him to give full value to the country.

Co-ordinate Efforts.

Hon. Charles Stewart, who was piloting the bill in the absence of Hon. T. A. Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said that there was a good deal of scientific research being carried on throughout the Domin ion but that there was a lack of coordination of these various efforts. He doubted whether the time had come to construct a building and equip it but he thought that it would be necessary to have some one to devote a considerable portion of his time to supervision. Dr. Tory, the present chairman, he said, had taken hold of the work with great energy and enthusiasm.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, thought that no obstacle should be put in the way of the carrying on of scientific research. He was not sure whether the time had come to appoint a salaried president, but he was anxious that every encouragement should be given to this work. Agriculture, he said, was looking forward to the soluton of the problem of rust, and other problems by such researches as were being carried on by this council.

Doubted Benefits.

Donald Sutherland (Conservative) South Oxford, questioned the benefits that would result from the passing of the bill. A salaried president would probably require a staff and increasing expenditure would be involved. Mr. Stewart believed that the co-ordination and encouragement of scientific research which the council would carry on would be directly in the interests of the people. It was a medium through which extensive social service could be accomplished.

C. R. Gould, (Progressive, Assiniboia) urged the necessity for the application of scientific research to the problems of the farm.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen said that if he were a practical farmer, he would not set too much store by such research work along present day lines. Within the lifetime of the present generation there would be a revolution in the scientific production of food. Already the best milk was being produced by synthesis and the farm was becoming the playground of the plutocrat. There might come a time when it would be superfluous—but of course by that time the Progressive party would be no more.

Change of Policy.

The section of the bill providing that the research council might make agreement with researchers employed by the council for rewarding them for inventions, was described by Mr. Meighen as a serious departure from the existing principles. At present, where a civil servant made an invention, the ownership of that invention rested with the government. The proposed amendment involved the recognition of a moral right of ownership on the part of the researcher and would involve recognition of that right by the government

Mr. Stewart did not regard the situation as being as serious as Mr. Meighen urged. The amount of reward to be given for an invention rested under the bill with the government. On the other hand it was believed by the officers of the council that it was necessary to provide some stimulus for men who were working under salary.

This section, as also the rest of the bill was reported by the committee without amendment, and the bill was then given a third reading.

CANTEEN PROFITS ARE DISTRIBUTED

More Than Two Millions to be Divided Among the Provinces.

OTTAWA, July 15. — (Canadian Press).— The House of Commons yesterday passed a resolution providing for the disposal of Canada's share of army canteen profits. Of the $2,296,000 available as Canada's share, $50,000 goes to the American Red Cross for assistance to ex-members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force resident in the United States. After other allottments, the residue of the fund is divided among the Canadian provinces on a percentage basis and will be administered for the benefit of veterans of the war by provincial boards of trustees.

The resolution provides that $20,000 will be held for payment of outstanding accounts; that $100,000 will be administered from Ottawa by a central board of three trustees for the purpose of maintaining an adjust ment service for the benefit of ex-service men; that the sum of $50,000 will be paid to the United Service Fund of Great Britain with an equal amount to the American Red Cross for meeting payments necessary to assist ex-members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

Shares of Provinces

The residue of the canteen funds according to the resolution, is to be divided among the Provinces on the percentage basis. The percentages are: Alberta 7,346; British Columbia and the Yukon 10,286; Manitoba 10,702; New Brunswick 4,203; Nova Scotia 6,439; Ontario 41,641; Prince Edward Island .857; Quebec 12,718 and Saskatchewan, 5,808. These Provincial allotments will be administered by Provincial Boards of Trustees and will be expended according to the wishes of those interested.

Dr. Beland, Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment, urging the adoption of the resolution, said that it was a direct result of the investigations of the Ralston Royal Commission and followed the recommendations of that Commission to the widest possible extent.

COST OF EXHIBIT

Canada Has Spent $789,180 on Her Exhibit at Wembley.

OTTAWA, July 15.— (Canadian Press).—The Federal Government has spent $789,180 on Canada's exhibit in the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, it was stated in answer to a question of T. L. Church (Conservative North Toronto), in the House of Commons Monday.

The great structure of ferro-concrete which is "Canada in London" at present cost half a million dollars Its electric fittings cost $50,000; water and gas $5,000; landscaping and up keep of the grounds $10,000. Exhibits worth $75,000 portray every phase of Canada's wealth, agricultural, minertal and fisheries. Freight on exhibits amount to $40,000 and preparation and collection of them $50,000. The building contains examples of Canadian art worth $15,000 and an allow ance has been made of $20,000 for unforeseen expenses.

Salaries (one year's) of seven Canadian officials in charge of the exhibit total $24,130.

stress the need of more rain to produce an average crop.

Rain In Alberta.

Alberta reports are more optimistic this week. Viking sub-division reports heavy rains during the week with some slight hail slight. Vegroville district was deluged with rain over the last week-end; crops reported in excellent condition. Blackfoot sub-division reports considerable improvement. Crops in most districts have withstood the drought better than expected and recent rains have been of great value. Grains which was beginning to show yellowish tinge is now back to normal coloring and growth started anew. From all indications straw will be very short, in some places giving the farmers considerable difficulty in harvesting. Stettler sub-division reports that while there has been rain more is needed to ensure anything like a crop; summer fallow crops are looking fair but stubbed-in grain shows effects of drought very badly. Edson subdivision reports twelve hour rain which has done wonders for grain crops. Hay over the whole Province will be very light.

LOST.

UNFAIR CHARGES SERIOUS TO C.N.R.

System Would be Wrecked, Says Senator Dandurand, if Criticism Persists.

REPLY TO BENNETT

OTTAWA, July 15.— (Canadian Press.)—There was further debate in the Senate Monday on the motion by Senator Bennett calling for a special committee to investigate charges against the Canadian National Railway and the Canadian Government Merchant Marine.

Senator J. D. Taylor read from a letter from a British sea captain who won the D.S.O. during the war and afterwards entered the service of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine. His ship, the "Canadian Exporter" was wrecked and his certificate cancelled but was afterwards returned to him on an appeal to the Admiralty Court. In this letter he charged that he was unable to discharge an incompetent mate and was forced to take on an incompetent crew by the management.

Senator Taylor said that he had not asked for a committee of inquiry, and he believed that the matter was one for the police and the Justice Department as the charges had been proven.

Wrecking the C.N.R.

Senator Dandurand, Government leader, drew attention to the different reception given the C.P.R. and the Canadian National Railway, in the Senate. There were no charges made against the C.P.R. management. The charges and allegations made against the Canadian National Railway in the past few weeks in the Senate, he said, were most serious and unfair. He contended if this style of criticism continued, the system wold be wrecked. It was a campaign of besmirching the National railway system and he did not believe the picture that had been drawn of conditions. He felt we had to trust the officials or we could not hope for success on the railway. He thought that during the session we should ponder over the problem and find some system that would give sufficient control to satisfy the public and yet would not destroy the principle of Government ownership. He pointed out there was a committee for this purpose in the House of Commons.

Reply to Charges.

Turning to the charges made by Senator Bennett against the railway merchant service on the Great Lakes, he read a letter from E. Galloway, chief assistant to the president, Sir Henry Thornton. In this letter, Mr. Galloway dealt in detail with all the charges made by Senator Bennett. He pointed out that the boats of the Canadian National Railway on the upper lakes were not constructed to carry coal and after a careful examination it was found it would be more economical to engage coal-carrying boats for this purpose than to use the merchant marine. There was no justification, he said, for the statement that the higher officials in the railway were interested in steamship lines. The railway management had no knowledge of this, and he thought that Senator Bennett charge. Nor was there, he said, any should justify or withdraw this official connected with that branch of the service, drawing thirty thousand dollars per year. He also denied Senator Bennett's charge that boats were sold to party friends. Every boat sold, he said, was publicly advertised and sold to the highest bidder. Senator Bennett had also made the statement that the Kearsarge and Arthur Orr were run at a loss so that they could be sold cheaply to party friends. These statements, Senator Dandurand said, were not true, as these boats were not for sale.

In conclusion, Senator Dandurand made another plea for fair play for the Canadian National Railway system. He said when we were besmirching the officials and management, we were destroying our own property.

Senator Robertson moved the adjournment of the debate.

FIRES ARE SPREADING

Pacific Coast Forests Wrapped in Smoke, Hampering Fighters.

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Forest fires at Rock Bay, Redonde Island, Narrows Arm and Haslam Lake continue out of control. New outbreaks occurred over the week-end at Read Island and at Seymour Creek Intake.

The fire on Read Island, which is about one hundred miles north of Vancouver, is being fought by a logging crew.

Four more logging railway bridges have been destroyed by the Rock Bay fire. The fire-fighters at this point, which is about 130 miles north of Vancouver on Vancouver Island are handicapped by dense smoke and transportation difficulties.

Lines have been built north and west of Haslam Lake to shut off the fire, raging on the mountainside from areas of merchantable timber.

The fire at Narrows Arm, near Sechelt is burning high on the mountain side.

ORLAND SCENE OF BIG PARADE

Orangemen of District Unite in Celebrating the Glorious Twelfth.

(By a Staff Reporter.)

ORLAND, July 15.—The Orangemen of Orland and district united in a celebration of the "Glorious Twelfth" here Saturday, a celebration that in point of number and enthusiasm would have done credit to a larger centre. Orland itself has no Orange lodge, the nearest one being at Cadrington, but the little village acted as host, and from nearly every building in town the national flag and orange colors in profusion were displayed. The proceedings were held in Tatimer's Grove, an ideal rural pleasure resort, where the booths and speakers' platform were erected and where dinner was served to those who had come unprovided with picnic baskets.

The lodges that took part in the celebration were: No. 526, Campbellford, 50 strong, all members presenting a fine appearance in their natty white uniforms; No. 620, Wooler; No. 186, Brighton; No. 1363, Codrington, and No. 903, Little Lake.

The master of ceremonies was District Marshal J. R. McMaster of Wooler lodge, who rode a powerful charger and who formed the lodges into procession to the beautiful diamond about 1 o'clock. The Wooler Brass Band led the way, and the place of honor of the head of the Marching column was held by the Campbellford lodge, whose fife and drum band made stirring music. The procession passed through the village and returned to the baseball grounds where it distranded.

The Speeches.

There was a brilliant array of oratorical talent, the speakers of the day including Rev. J. Ivison Wilson of Brighton, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference and County Chaplain of the Orange Order; Rev. John R. Bick of Wooler, M. E. Maybee, M.P.; Major J. F. B. Belford, M.L.A.; Bro. R. Ross, Mesteref the Brighton lodge, and Brother Harry B. Phillips of Brighton.

William Goodfellow, D.M., who is a member of the Brighton Township Council and recognised as a comer in municipal life, acted as chairman. Those on the platform besides the speakers were: J. I. Adams, P.C.M., and R. Lowery, P.M., both of Campbellford.

For Imperial Unity.

In his address Mr. Maybee dealt specially with the question of imperial unity, a subject which he has discussed frequently in public speeches throughout the riding. He come here direct from Parliament, and stated that even in that institution that is supposed to guard the interests of the Empire there is talk of Provincial secession and the separation of Canada from the Motherland. When the papers reported that Admiral Fields, on the occasion of his visit here, had suggested that Canada furnish four battleships, two for each coast, a member had asked in the House by what authority the visitor spoke, and another member interpolated: "Tell the Admiral to mind his own business."

Mr. Maybee said he felt humiliated when Parliament could not find time to take a holiday on the 1st of July in order to fittingly observe the day.

The Orange Order, he added, should charge itself with the task of combatting this dangerous propaganda.

Mr. Bick believes that one great hope for the future of Canada lies in Protestant unity, and he believes that church union, planned to unite three of the leading denominations, will prove a long step in this direction.

Why An Orangeman.

County Chaplain Wilson said that what induced him to become an Orangeman was when in New Ontario about 10 years ago, he saw what an effort was being made by the Catholic hierarchy to make that part of the country solidly Catholic. He hoped to see the day when the legality of mixed marriages—those performed by Protestant clergymen—would not be questioned.

Brother Ross advised the ladies not only to join the Order themselves, but to induce their husbands and brothers to become members, and in that way the district could be made one of the largest Orange strongholds in the united counties.

Ex-Warden Phillips, whose gifts as an orator are known throughout Central Ontario, made a stirring address, in which he gave a sketch of the events leading to the calling of William, Prince of Orange, to England. Before the battle of the Boyne the British people had never really known the blessing of civil and religious liberty.

In a short address, Major Belford advised the members to make more of the social side of Orangemen, to get acquainted with each other and their neighbors, so as to develop a fraternal spirit in the community.

The Ball Game.

One of the attractions advertised was a ball game between teams composed of stars selected by W. J. Latimer from Orland, Brighton and Colborne, and from Campbellford, Hastings and Roseneath by Chas. H. Davidson. The latter found it impossible to secure a team on time, but the game was played nevertheless. The northern boys won by a score of 8-7. Zufelt made a three-bagger, but the other hits were few and scattered. The following players took part:

North—Frise c, Thompson p, Thorne 3b, K. Zufelt rf, H. Samis ss, C. Samis cf, Belford 2b, Watt lf, Austin 1b.

South—McKee c, Ross 1b, Myles 2b, Solomon ss, F. Samis 3b, Ross p, Hawkins ss, Samis rf, A. Zufelt lf.

Umpire—Adams.

The receipts from all sources, the booths and a collection, which was taken up, totalled over $350.

TRENT RIVER NEWS.

New Building Opened on the Church Grounds—Personals.

TRENT RIVER, July 14.—The opening of the new building on the Methodist Church grounds under auspices of Ladies' Aid Society took place Friday evening.

A strawberry festival and sale of home made cooking was a feature of the event.

The new building which was erected under the direction of Mr. Jas. Paget assisted by voluntary aid from a few men who kindly offered their services, is about the size of the church and has been a long felt want in the community for many years. The Ladies Aid began holding socials last winter, made an auto graph quilt for which they realized over $40 with names and this was up for sale last night besides two other log cabin patterns. Tables were arranged the full width of the building and cut flowers were placed on each. Strawberries were served in no mean order as the individual servers were brim full and running over. A long table was reserved for the sale of home made cooking and there was abundance of pies, cakes, bread and buns of the very best as the ladies of this district are famous for. The festival began at 6 p.m. and continued till a late hour. Every one seemed to turn out to help along the efforts of the ladies. After the tables were cleared Mr. Harold Wood auctioned off the balance of the cooking and the three quilts, each of which brought from $6 to $8. Afterwards the crowd gathered in the auditorium of the church where a musical programme wound up the proceedings. Over $45 was taken in for admission while the total results collected from the sale of cooking, etc. amounted to over $80.

FABLES ON HEALTH

After the spring rains, the hot sun comes and then — DUST.

It drifted into the Mann home, as it does elsewhere, stirred up by every summer breeze, and Mrs. Mann would run her finger over the shelves and sigh.

That's the time to get out a slightly dampened rag and start dusting up.

Keep the old feather duster in the closet where it belongs!

Hygienists declare that the old dusters merely succeed in sending the dust particles scattering about again. They are not mopped up, as they should be.

A damp cloth or oiled rag are the best, the hygienists say.

A carpet sweeper is more hygienic than a broom and a vacuum cleaner is better than either.

Dust catching curtains, chairs and plush are unhygienic.

The up-to-date movable rug is better than the stationary carpet.

For bacteria rides in the air and is likely to take the dust particle for a gallop through the room.

So, when doing the summer dusting DO IT WITH DAMPENED RAGS.

DRIVES AWAY MOTHS

Sprinkle a little borax under your carpets to frighten away the moths.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

A TRIP TO FRANCE

"Why, it's as pretty as America!" exclaimed Nancy.

The next night when Johnny Jump Up took the Twins to the magic garden, the titmouse was waiting.

"Let me see your tickets to France," he demanded. "Are they pink?"

"Pink with a blue stripe across and the date in yellow," said Johnny Jump Up. "They are the very latest style, for the pansy fairy brought them to us from France herself."

"All right then, I'll punch them," said the titmouse. "Hop on, everybody."

So Johnny Jump Up and Nancy and Nick jumped on his little brown back, and giving his little black conductor's cap a hard pat so it wouldn't come off, the titmouse flew away to France.

"Goodby!" called the-man-in-the-moon.

"Goodby!" called the glow-worms and lightning bugs and beetles and crickets and grasshoppers. "Goodby!"

The ocean would take you and me a week to cross, my dears, in a very big fast boat. But it took the Twins and Johnny Jump Up only a whisk and a puff to get there.

"Where shall we go first?" asked the titmouse.

"To Paris," said Johnny Jump Up. "I want the Twins to see the highest tower in the world."

So to Paris they went, and the titmouse flew right to the top of a tower built entirely of iron, and so high that it nearly touched the clouds.

"It's like being in an aeroplane," cried Nick. "You can see the whole world nearly from here."

"Paris is a big place, isn't it," exclaimed Nancy looking down.

"About as big as London Town," said Johnny Jump Up. "One of the largest cities in the world."

"Is this where the king lives?" asked Nick.

"But it says in a book 'The King of France came down the hill, and ne'er went up again.'"

"That was a long time ago," said Johnny Jump Up. 'Now then, titmouse, take us to the country."

"Why, it's as pretty as America!" exclaimed Nancy in surprise. "The rivers and fields and woods are just the same."

"Almost," said Johnny Jump Up. "Only the farm houses are not off by themselves as they are in America. They are in a bunch, and barns where they keep their cows and pigs are joined to the houses."

They flew over more big cities and then to a place in the south of France where was a lovely blue sea, and where orange were growing.

"This is about the most beautiful place in all the world," said Johnny. "It is called the Golden Coast."

"Oh, let's go home," yawned the titmouse. "I think bed is the most beautiful place in the world just now."

In no case should a Canadian tourist leave Canada with a car not of Canadian manufacture without securing a tourist's permit from the Canadian customs officer at the boundary. In some cases where this has been neglected, full duty has had to be paid on the return of the car into Canada.

The motorist should carry with him the automobile registration card identifying his car, as this must be displayed on demand of the customs officials.

The United States Customs regulations provide that automobiles of foreign manufacture imported into the country for touring purposes, provided such owners are non-residens of the United States, are entitled to free entry, under bond, for a stay of six months. The tourist is required to furnish a bond for double the estimated duty, a consular invoice, including a declaration, sworn to before a United States Consul, that the automobile is being brought over for touring purposes only. Paul In Possession

By RUBY AYRES

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The story thus far:

When John Collinge died, he left behind him his adopted daughter, Wanda Griffin, a headstrong, passionate and overbearing girl, and his son Paul, with whom he had quarrelled, and who had gone abroad. After the death, Paul comes home for the reading of the will, and to Wanda's surprise she finds she is disinherited, and that he is the heir. Paul dislikes Wanda intensely because of her behavious, and tells her she must leave the house immediately; she refuses and, in order to stay there, pretends to be ill. At last matters reach a crisis, and Paul orders Wanda out of the house. She goes up to London with Mrs. Garnet, her one friend, with whom she is to live. The day after she arrives, Clare's brother Harry, the "black sheep" of the family, comes home unexpectedly and falls in love with Wanda. One day Paul comes to see them. He accuses Wanda of being jealous of Clare, and, although she denies it, Wanda knows he is speaking the truth.

TO-DAY'S INSTALMENT.

XXVII—PAYING THE PIPER.

"How long has that fellow called you by your Christian name?" Paul asked casually, as they left the restaurant and for a moment he and Wanda were together.

She shrugged her shoulders.

"As long as I've known him, I think."

"And how long is that?"

She made a swift calculation.

"Eight—nine days to be exact."

"I wonder you allow it," he protested angrily.

"It's my own name to do as I like with," she said, and turned her back on him.

Paul frowned as he looked after her. It was quite true that he had missed her intolerably at Grey Chumleys, and was still at a loss to know why She had only annoyed and irritated him, and yet a dozen times, in the past week he had wished her back again.

She annoyed and irritated him now and yet there was something about her that appealed to him and irresistibly drew him.

She was so wayward and independent, and she was the first woman who had ever defied him. He frowned heavily as he saw her slip a hand through Courtney's arm. She was far too familiar with the fellow, he told himself impatiently. He could not understand the modern girl.

"Do you know, I believe I've met you brother somewhere before," he said suddenly to Clare.

"Do you?" There was a gleam of anxiety in the eyes she raised to his. "He has knocked about the world a good deal," she added evasively.

"So have I," said Paul.

He looked at Harry Courtney again and again with puzzled eyes during the evening; his was not a face easily forgotten, and yet for the life of him he could not recall where he had seen it before.

But instinctively he disliked the man disliked him the more as the evening worn on, and he saw his apparent great friendliness to Wanda.

When they left the theatre, he manœuvred so that for a moment he and she were separated from the others.

"I object to your friendship with Courtney," he said abruptly.

Wanda raised amazed eyes.

"Object! What right have you to object?" she asked indignantly.

"I am your guardian in my father's place."

She laughed derisively.

"This is something new, isn't it?" she mocked him.

Paul began to lose his temper.

"New or not, I object," he said again. "You know nothing about him, and neither does his sister, I imagine, if she has not seen him for four years."

Wanda's lip trembled.

"I should have thought the fact that he is Clare's brother would have been sufficient guarantee for you," she said. "Besides, I am my own mistress, and I am staying with my friends, not yours."

Paul lost his temper entirely.

"But as I am paying the piper, I imagine I have some right to call the tune," he said sharply, then realized what he had said and stopped; but he was too late. Wanda looked up quickly.

"What do you mean—as you are paying the piper?" she demanded.

He tried to cover his words. "Nothing; it was just a figure of speech."

But he knew that he was not believed.

BUSINESS KING OF WELSH COALFIELDS DEAD IN NEWPORT

Sir Leonard Llewelyn Was Commanding Figure in South Wales

WORK IN WAR

Born Hustler With Genius for Organization, His Reputation

Sir Leonard Llewelyn, who since the death of Lord Rhondda has been virtually the business king of the South Wales coalfields, has just died at his residence, Llanfrechfa Grange, near Newport., Monmouthshire. Sir Leonard, who was aged 50 last week, had been in ill-health for a long time.

Since early manhood Sir Leonard has been a commanding figure in the South Wales coalfield. When bu. 24 he had risen to be a colliery manager, and at one time he had under his control 24 mines and four levels, employing 18,000 men.

GRANDSON OF PIONEER

Born at Aberaman, the son of Mr. Llewelyn, a High Sheriff of Monmouthshire, he was a grandson of Colonel Wilkenson, of Risca, a Welsh iron and coal trade pioneer. Educated at Monmouth, Cheltenham and Heidelberg, he was in 1898 appointed manager of the Cambrian Pits, Clydach Vale, and soon gave evidence of being a born hustler with a genius for organisation.

Later he became manager of the Ocean Coal Company's collieries and general of the Cambrian collieries. He was general manager of the extensive Cambrian coal combine, when in 1915, at the request of Mr. Lloyd George, he became Director of Materials at the Ministry of Munitions. He accepted the position when there was an enormous demand for munitions, which the Government were at their wits' end to satisfy.

IMMENSE PROBLEMS

Sir Leonard (then Mr.) had to face immense problems to secure adequate supplies of all the various metals needed for guns, shells and explosives, but he succeeded splendidly, and he was one of the great men of the war. In a few weeks he not only "delivered the goods," but it is computed saved the country $75,000,000 in the same short while.

Although he came into conflict with the men in the Rhondda strike, which ended in the Tonypandy riots, Sir Leonard was very popular with his workers. His gallantry in the Clydach Vale explosion in 1905 and the Llam disaster in 1910 appealed to them.

In 1917 Sir Leonard became a K.B.E. for his war services. He was twice married. His first wife was a daughter of the late Mr. Edward Jones, of Pontypool. She died in 1913, leaving a son and three daughters. In 1923 Sir Leonard married Mrs. W. E. Jones, the owner of Glen Usk, Monmouth.

FROM POOR LAW SCHOOL TO CANADA

The aunt of two boys, age 11 and 13 respectively, complained at Highgate Police-court that they were being sent from a Poor Law School to Canada and that the first intimation received by the family had been a letter from the Guardians announcing the date of the boys' departure. The magistrate while suggesting the woman should see the Guardians, observed that it would probably mean for the children the chance of their lives.

STIRRING CAREER OF LABOR MEMBER

W. S. Royce Died After Being Appointed Tasmanian Governor

The Labor M.P., W. S. Royce, who died recently in a London omnibus, just after he had been appointed Governor of Tasmania, was of the authentic type of Empire-builder, though he belonged to the Labor Party. He was born of poor parents in the Lincolnshire village of Pinchbeck. Apprenticed to his father's trade as a shipwright he abandoned it to go to South Africa. After some vicissitudes he got a job as a policeman there. Acquiring some knowledge of engineering he began to do railway contracting in a small way and he progressed until the biggest railway schemes in South Africa came to his hands. He was a friend and colleague of Cecil Rhodes.

Having amassed a huge fortune he followed the fashion of Empire-builders by coming back to his native county. He bought up all the land of the village where he was born, including the historic mansion of Pinchbeck Hall. Like the traditional squire he became chairman of the local Conservative Association, and he fought an election as Conservative candidate, but was defeated. Subsequently he had differences with the party and he changed over from Conservatism to Labor. As a Labor member he was able to enter Parliament. At one time he was considered as a probable Labor Minister of Agriculture. His death is a great loss to the section of the Labor Party which believes in trying to maintain the strength and unity of the British Empire.

The wife of a Caterham bootmaker, Mrs. Eliza Simmons, aged seventy-two, died in Caterham Cottage Hospital from lockjaw.

She was bitten very badly by a fox-terrier three weeks ago, the flesh of her leg being severely torn.

The animal was destroyed after the occurrence.

Publicly Thanked For Wrecking Train Which Ran Away

Harold Turner, a railway employe at Immingham, was publicly thanked at the Grimsby Dock offices for wrecking a train.

Thirteen laden coal trucks were rushing down an incline and would have gone into a ship loading at the quay, but by placing an obstacle on the line, Turner succeeded in overturning the leading trucks and so stopped the train. Several of the wagons were wrecked.

BIG CROPS FOR BRITAIN LIKELY; SIGNS FAVORABLE

Spell of Sunshine After Heavy Rains Heartens Farmers

HEAVY HAY YIELD

Agricultural Outlook in Old Land Best in Many Years

The British farmer's gloom has been dispelled this summer by high hopes of a great harvest. Sunshine, worth many thousands of pounds, has come just at the right time after a long spell of moist growing weather.

The first crop of hay is abnormally heavy, and it will realize £50,000,000 for the farmers, according to reliable estimates. The corn harvest also promises to be better than usual; hops have been growing at frankly speed, and though the potato crop is doubtful, high prices promise to be the rule for the farmer.

Altogether the agricultural outlook for Britain is more promising than it has been for years, and the feeling grows that the worst days of the struggle to recover stability after the upheavals caused by the war are over.

After three years of gloom there is a note of hope in the burr of the machines now dealing with the first harvest of the year.

Harvest will be much earlier than was expected. The ears have come out from the sheath as suddenly as Jack-in-the-box. Sheaves of large, well-filled ears have been exhibited at all local shows, and some which are already beginning to whiten will be seen at the Royal Show at Leicester.

Agricultural depression has been even more on wheatfields of the United States than of Britain. Farmers were losing as much as 4s. 6d. a quarter, and many cut their losses and went out of business last autumn. This has meant a large reduction of the area under wheat; and there is no sign of a bumper yield.

It is early days for any prophecy, but the feeling grows that the worst is over.

Hops have been growing at a quite fantastic speed and look well. The most doubtful is the potato crop. The plants have improved, but anxiety is general, in part owing to accounts of the severe plight of the farmers in Jersey, where a new disease has appeared.

Astounding prices were, however, earned recently by those who had well-kept tubers for sale—at least 800 per cent. higher than prices of better potatoes a year earlier. If there is no dumping from Holland and Germany, a good level of price ought to be maintained.

COMPANY FINED

A fine of £20 was imposed on the Steel Dismantling Company, shipbreakers, of Poole, for allowing crude oil to escape into Poole Harbour.

STOLE FROM DAD TO SATISFY CRAVING

While his father slept, William R. Joel, 16, of Gainsborough-road, West Ham, is said to have stolen a half-sovereign attached to his watch-chain, and changed it at a public-house.

He told the magistrate that he took the coin because he had "a craving for money."

He was dealt with under the Probation Act.

WELSHMAN'S BIG SWEEPSTAKE INCOME

Owen Davies, commission agent, of Seven Sisters, Glamorgan, was fined £150 at Neath and ordered to pay £21 costs for conducting sweepstakes in connection with the Grand National and the Derby.

A prosecuting solicitor said Davies had been conducting sweepstakes since 1919 for his own profit, and had admitted making £1,500 a year by this means.

Davies admitted the offence and offered to pay off the debt on the village war memorial.

Charles Woodbridge, who is 94 years of age, and is said to be the oldest practising solicitor in England, has resigned the post of clerk to the Uxbridge magistrates, after holding the office for over 50 years.

PEER WHO ENJOYS RIGHT TO BLUBBER

Lord Yarborough, at a Grimsby banquet to the crew of the battleship Resolution, now visiting the port, said that though he had never seen service at sea, or done anything to earn the title, he was Vice-Admiral of Lincolnshire.

The position nowadays carried no duties and only one privilege — that was, if a whale stranded on the Lincolnshire seaboard he, as Admiral was entitled to the blubber. But if the whale stranded on the Lincolnshire bank of the Humber he lost the blubber, which went to the Lord Mayor of Hull as admiral of the Humber.

Last year 1,095,553 persons visited the British Museum, the highest total for more than 70 years.

GLAD RAGS FOR ASCOT COST HUBBY A SMALL FORTUNE

Expenses of Royal Enclosure on Par With Exclusiveness

GOLDEN SHOWER

Fashionable Lady Will Consume Year's Income in Toilette

Gold Cup Day at Ascot, is the most important outdoor Society function of the year.

Tradition decrees that every woman with even the tiniest footing on Society's ladder shall grace the lawns in her most ravishing apparel.

The cream of Society throngs the Royal enclosure, to which admission is obtained only by permission of the Lord Chamberlain after careful scrutiny.

Ascot's exclusiveness is well matched by its expensiveness. Failure to receive tickets for the Royal Enclosure may break a few hearts, but permission often as not means temporary paralysis of many banking accounts.

Five to six hundred guineas is quite an ordinary amount for a Society woman to expend upon her toilette for one day's wear to see the Gold Cup run. Her clothes must have that cachet of smartness which anticipates the fashion of the year after next, and gives the appearance of having been specially created for her, as it has.

The most moderate cost for an Ascot outfit runs about $1,000. This provided for a modest little frock at $300, a lace cloak $200, a hat anything from $30 to $200, a parasol at $50, shoes $35, stockings $10 and gloves $10. Her hand bag would cost anything from $10 to $100 with another $5.00 for a lace handkerchief.

NEW OUTFIT DAILY.

A woman, of course, attending the Royal Enclosure every day must display a different out every day.

Expense does not stop with clothes. Even "a modest little frock" at $400 requires some more select way of travelling than a crowded first-class train at $8.75 return. The use of a car from town and back costs $35.00 to hire, and a good position to stand the car works out anything up $45.

A ticket for the grandstand, paddock and Tattersall's costs $45 for the week, but for habitues of the Royal Enclosure, in addition to the price of admission there, $30 for the week for men and $20 for women, a box is necessary, costing upwards of $150 for the week.

Lunch is another expense. $5.00 a head for food alone is the usual charge, but a lunch for four, with adequate wines and cigars, would leave very little change out of a $50 bill.

The Mayfair husband who can come through Ascot week with an expenses sheet for himself and his wife less than $4000, excluding betting losses, must be the subject of congratulation from his friends.

SCOTTISH GAMEKEEPER LEAVES LARGE SUM

For 50 Years Servant of Duke of Buccleuch

Christopher Chouler, of Dalkeith, Midlothian, for 50 years head gamekeeper for the Duke of Buccleuch, left £42,721.

He was a well-known rifle shot and an authority on deer.

The extent of Mr. Chouler's fortune has caused much surprise in the Dalkeith neighbourhood. He first assisted his father with the deer at Earl Spencer's Northampton estate, and when 16 obtained a situation on the neighbouring estate of Mr. Henry Allsopp, afterwards Lord Hindlip.

Chouler was engaged by the Duke of Buccleuch to take charge of 600 deer, and he was regularly out with the guests. The herd was greatly reduced till, at the beginning of the war, only about 200 remained. These were gradually shot, and other work was found for Chouler. Two years ago he retired, the Duke continuing his occupancy of his dwelling house.

Chouler was a member of the Queen's Sixty, taking part in the 1865 competition at Wimbledon.

PEARLS FOR EARL HAIG'S DAUGHTER

Other bequests include:—

£25, Destitute Children's Dinners Society.

£25, Dr. Barnardo's Homes.

£25, General Booth's Food Fund.

£25, East London Hospital for Children.

Sometimes It's Nice to Be the Captain

Legally Married to Man Who Died Nine Days Before Wedding

Lord Aahmore declared in the Court of Session, Edinburgh, that a woman was legally married according to Scottish law to a man who died nine days before the wedding, and that a child born to the parties was a lawful child of the marriage.

The woman was Elizabeth Williamson, of Edinburgh, and the man to whom she was declared to have been married Alexander Williamson, of Portobello.

They met in 1909, became engaged in January, 1910, and the marriage was arranged for December 29, 1911. A house was taken, the banns of the marriage were proclaimed, a notice form was handed to the registrar, invitations to the marriage were sent out, a hall was engaged, and the wedding cake ordered.

Mr. Williamson became ill suddenly and died on December 20, nine days before the date arranged for the marriage. A child was born in September, 1912.

SUNBURN STOCKINGS AND LIZARD HATS

Milliners and Hosiers Aiding the Nature Faking Craze

Sunburned limbs are being sold by smart London shops without the trouble or expense of going down to the seashore or the pain of peeling skin. The hosiers solved the problem by inventing a peculiar shade, giving the color effect of skin which has lingered too long under the direct gaze of Old Sol.

The nature-faking craze is not confined to hose. Taking their cue from the menagerie craze in shoes, which are made from skins of lizards, snakes, sharkes, crocodiles, the milliners are offering hats made from the same skins.

The hats are designed for sports wear, and the skins are dyed various vivid colors. A set consisting of hat, stick, and bag in lizard skin, is considered smart.

Crepe de Chine bathing suits are among the season's novelties.

SLEEPY SICKNESS

Nine fresh cases of sleepy sickness have been reported at Glasgow and one at Stockton-on-Tees.

METHODIST ATTACK ON ROYAL FAMILY

King's Support of Horse Racing Subject of Resolution

Astonishing attacks on the Royal Family's association with horse-racing were made at the Primitive Methodist Conference at Newcastle-on Tyne.

A resolution was moved and carried "viewing with grave concern and pain the increasingly close association of royalty with the Turf," and adding that "steps should be taken to ascertain and focus the attention of all Free Churchmen in order that our emphatic protest shall be made to reach the ears of our ruling house in this matter."

C. K. Watkinson, of Grimsby, moving the resolution, said:—"We know well that fierce lights beat about the Throne, but we cannot but feel that royalty's association with the Turf tends to popularise horse-racing and gambling, and to intensify the dangers arising from it.

"It caused me a great deal of pain when I saw the Queen, whom I had always regarded as a type of all the virtues, had attended her first race meeting. The Prince of Wales, as they know on the Continent, lost heavily in the casino on a recent Sunday night."

PRIVATE COURT HELD BY FARMER

When the names of several persons accused of trespassing on a farm in the Bishop Auckland district were called at the local police court yesterday, and it was stated that the farmer had held a private court in his sitting-room and imposed various fines, which had been paid.

The chairman expressed the indignation of the Bench, dismissed the summonses, and ordered the farmer to pay the costs.

DANCE HALL IS USED AS ARSENAL

Explosives, Revolvers and Morse Lamp Captured in Glasgow

A flying squad of detectives raided a hall in the east end of Glasgow while a dance was in progress, and made a great capture of arms and ammunition.

The police have suspected for some time that the hall was being frequented by persons alleged to be in sympathy with Irish Republican ideas.

Five men were detained during the raid, and appeared at the local police court later in the day, when they were remanded.

The police attach great importance to their finds, which include 160 sticks of Samsonite, revolvers, 41 rounds of revolver ammunition, magnetos of the type used for igniting explosive charges, and a powerful electric Morse signalling lamp.

WILL MAKE LOANS TO REDUCE PRICES

Irish Free State to Tackle Question on New Lines

The Irish Free State is to tackle the question of high prices on novel lines.

The Dail Eireann has given first reading to a Bill introducing a system to promote competition.

Loans will be given to associations of consumers or producers, or both combined, or to local authorities, on condition that they sell articles at prices below the ordinary retail price.

The loans are to be advanced by the banks on the security of the State as regards both principal and interest.

The idea underlying the measure is that if exorbitant prices are being charged for any essential commodity there must be room for competition by enterprising bodies of consumers or producers, and the Bill provides the means of acquiring the necessary capital by such bodies.

Mr. Hogan, who introduced the measure, said the Government felt the controlling of prices was not the way to reduce prices.

ARTILLERY TITLES

In connection with the recent reorganization of the Royal Regiment of Artillery, the Royal Horse Artillery will retain its present title, and the existing titles of "Royal Field Artillery" and "Royal Garrison Artillery" will be abolished, the title "Royal Artillery" being substituted for all purposes.

POTATO KING OF BRITAIN IS DEAD

Alderman William Dennis, known throughout Lincolnshire as the "Potato King," died at his house, Kirton, near Boston, at the age of 83.

Mr. Dennis's career was one of the romances of modern industry. He was born at Horsington, in the Lincolnshire Fens, the son of an agricultural laborer.

He never had a day's schooling, and was sent into the fields to scare crows at the age of 6, his wages being 6d. a week.

When potato growing began to spread in the fine soils of South Lincolnshire, he obtained employment in preparing them for market at the munificent wage of 18s a week.

Later on he became foreman, and then bought seven acres of land—the forerunner of the thousands of acres he afterwards acquired.

DICKENS' SALE

A first edition of the "Pickwick Papers," with plates by Seymour and Phiz, and the two Buss plates, realised £92 at Sotheby's.

PERJURY RAMPANT

Source of Justice Polluted, Says English Judge

Mr. Justice Horridge, charging the grand jury at Monmouth Assizes, said he was sorry to say the crime of perjury was rampant in every court. It was a crime the evil of which was, perhaps, greater than any other crime, and the result was that the source of justice was polluted and conviction of criminals prevented.

If they had the truth spoken in these courts his job would be almost ended. As it was people seemed to think they had a right to come to a court of law and play a game and tell exactly what suited their case.

MINE MANAGER INVENTS WINCH

A. Davies, under-manager of the Wilton Colliery, Radcliffe, has invented an improved winch, which practically eliminates accidents on steep gradients in mines. The brake of the winch is capable of easily pulling up and holding a load of four tons on a gradient of one in three, and a ratchet wheel being wound up inclines. The winch may be placed in an empty tram and conveyed to any part of the mine, and can be made ready for use in a few minutes.

BIG REWARD IS OFFERED FOR THE RETURN OF GEMS

Stolen Ludlow Antiques are Valued at $1,250,000

CARELESS THIEVES

Bronzes, Worth $10,000 Apiece, Were Broken in Pieces

A reward of $25,000 is offered in connection with the theft of the famous Wernher collection of antiques from the museum of Lady Ludlow, at Bath House, Piccadilly. Police experts estimate the value of the stolen treasures at anything up to $1,250,000.

The thieves were remarkably clever and remarkably careless, for they left finger-prints everywhere. There are many on the glass cases in the Red Room, where the treasures were kept, many on the walls, and some on the walls outside.

However, when the thieves arrived, is is clear they were very dirty, indicating, possibly, a climb over walls to get to the premises. It is, as a matter of fact, believed that after entering the garden they climbed the fire escape to the top floor window, through which they got into the house.

Mr. Albert Amor, the art dealer, who has an intimate knowledge of the Wernher collection, made a business call at Bath House after the robbery had been discovered.

"The collection consists of bijouterie, objects d'art, furniture and bronzes of the 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th centuries," he said. "I estimate that the entire collection is worth about £1,000,000.

"The bijouterie, which has suffered most, consists mainly of marvellously enamelled miniatures, gems and pendants with gold settings inset with precious stones. Nearly all of it is the work of Italian, German and French craftsmen.

"The stolen articles cannot be replaced. They are unique."

He mentioned that the thieves had broken some of the bronzes by picking them up and throwing them to the floor. Some of these bronzes are worth £10,000 each.

WEALTHY MAYOR'S GIFTS TO SERVANTS

Robert Cobay, auctioneer, a former mayor of Hythe, Kent, has left £105,337.

To his servant, James Buckingham, he left his motor fishing boat Star.

HEROINE OF RAILWAY

Two little girls, daughters of John Doyle, a miner, were run over by a railway engine at Thornley, County Durham.

Nancy, aged three, had both legs severed, and died shortly afterwards. Catherine, aged six, who tried to save Nancy, had one leg severed, and was taken to Durham Hospital.

PRIZE OFFER FOR IRISH ANTHEM

Bernard Shaw Regrets That Competition is Restricted

Ireland wants a National Anthem.

"The real need in the Ireland of today is a national hymn for use on ceremonial occasions," says the Dublin Evening Mail, "and as a rallying song for Irishmen all over the world."

A prize of 50 guineas is offered for the best anthem submitted by nationals.

Mr. G. Bernard Shaw is an Irishman . . . "Am I to get the guineas for a few useful hints?" he asked.

"Of course, the restrictions of the competition to Irishmen alone is quite fatal—the song should be done by a Russian.

"Nobody in Ireland, you know, has the same peculiar enthusiasm for Ireland as the foreigner.

"I suggest," added Mr. Shaw with a sly dig at the Westminster Gazette, "that it should be written by an English Liberal!"

THOUSANDS LEFT TO EMPLOYES

James Elliman, of Messrs. Elliman, Sons and Co., embrocation manufacturers, who died in March, aged 77, left £174,347.

Bequests include:

£5,000 to William Westmacott, manager.

£500 to Anne Cozens, formerly in service of his wife.

£300 to Nellie Marriott, his housekeeper.

£250 each to Arthur H. Thomas, Arthur Dodd, and Harry H. Strong, jun.

£100 each to Edwin Harding, George Harding, Harry Strong, Wm. George Fidler, Frederick Spong, Thomas Leader, Harry Leader, Alfred Leader, Charles Cross, and Frederick Poynter.

He directed that his business should be sold in accordance with directions prepared by him.

HELPING HAND TO WOMAN BY JUDGE

"Of course she has done wrong, but I am not a person to judge her on that ground," said Judge Sir Thomas Granger at Greenwich County Court, when he dealt with the case of a wife living apart from her husband.

The woman told the judge that she had no maintenance because she had done wrong and had two children by another man. Since then she had lost three situations owing to the malicious intervention of a neighbor.

The judge called the woman up to him, handed her a written note with some money and advised her to go to the "Friend of the Poor." The woman, greatly touched, murmured her thanks and said that she would do her best to deserve the judge's help.

IS ABLE TO TALK WITHOUT TONGUE

A marvel of surgery has been brought to light by the visit of a man to a London hospital. He said he had brought his wife to be treated, as the hospital had been successful with him 18 years ago. He stated that he had suffered from cancer, and that his tongue had been cut out in 1906.

The man's story sounded incredible, particularly as he was able to talk quite naturally, an almost unheard-of thing after such an operation, but a medical examination corroborated his statement.

The malignant growth had gone entirely, and the man was able to masticate his food and enjoy his smoke.

AGED LONDONER IS HELPED TO WIN LARGE PROPERTIES

Vast Estates in British Metropolis Claimed by Octogenarian

HAS CLEAR TITLE

Counsel's Opinion Favorable to Regaining $300,000,000 Inheritance

To enable William Adrian Allery, the 80-year-old claimant to the vast Angell-Benedict estates in South London, reputed to be worth $300,000,000, to proceed with his claim, a fund of $25,000 is being raised to defray law expenses.

For every $5,000 subscribed to this fund Mr. Allery is willing to give a bond to repay in cash $50,000 upon recovering possession of the estates.

All the facts have been submitted to a leading K.C. at the Chancery Bar, whose view that Mr. Allery has a clear title to claim as heir-at-law to the estates.

CLAIMANT'S PLANS

"Mr. Allery has no intention, should his claim be successful, of disturbing any existing beneficiaries, life-tenants or owners who can show they are justly and legally entitled to their holdings.

"He intends, however, to fulfil the trust which he considers has devolved upon him, to see that all the charitable bequests contained in the various wills of his forefathers are carried out.

"For the rest, he says there are many hospitals and other charitable institutions needing funds, and the estate will provide sufficient means to help them all."

Mr. Allery found the missing marriage certificate by accident after a lifetime of fruitless searching.

LARGE MUSHROOMS FROM KENT FIELDS

Mushrooms as large as dinner plates, and weighing from two to four pounds each, were included in a consignment packed at Farnborough, Kent, and sent to London, where they were sold at 25 cents per pound.

The abnormal size is attributed to the excessive rainfall.

The mushrooms are said to be the largest ever grown in Kent.

Pay Compensation by Mistake for Twenty Years to Worker

A dock laborer, who was stated to have been paid unnecessary compensation for twenty years by Messrs. William Cory and Sons, has lost his pension of $3.75 a week by a decision in the Mayor's and City of London Court.

It was stated that recently, on the advice of solicitors, he demanded an increase of $2.50 a week. When the matter was investigated it was found that he was passed as fit for work six weeks after the accident, which occurred on January 1, 1904. Therefore he was not entitled to the compensation which had been paid ever since, a sum amounting to nearly £1,000.

Judge Shewell Cooper, in giving a decision relieving the employers from further payments, said that he had a strong suspicion that the demand for extra payment by the man was due to a desire on the part of the solicitor to make costs.

On behalf of the employers it was said that but for the demand they would probably have gone on automatically paying the compensation for another twenty years.

WASHWOMEN'S DINNER

A washerwomen's dinner at Hastings (Sussex), was attended by 80. They wore bonnets and shawls, and enjoyed beefsteak pudding and refreshments at the Duke of Cornwall Inn.

They had paid into a central fund for some months to provide the dinner, which jolly affair was confined to women who did their washing at public washhouses.

GIRL CONDEMNED BY WOMAN JURY

A jury composed entirely of women returned a verdict of wilful murder at an Ashton-under-Lyne inquest against Edith Alice Weston, of Grosvenor street, Stalybridge, who was found gasping for breath in a room full of gas.

By her side, lying dead, was William Ewart Jackson, a stripper and grinder, of Witham street, Ashton.

The girl was wearing only her night-dress, and was apparently suffering from the effects of gas poisoning. After treatment she recovered.

It was stated that Jackson, who had been living apart from his wife, disappeared with Weston three weeks ago from his work at a Stalybridge mill, where the girl was also employed.

STRANGE EFFECT OF GAS POISONING

It was stated by Dr. Scott, of Nottingham, in a case at Melton Mowbray County Court that a man named Teare, who was asphyxiated by gas, had had to "begin life over again." The man had to be taught the alphabet with brick blocks. The case was adjourned for an alienist's report.

NIGHT TERROR OF WRECK FOR CREW OF BRITISH VESSEL

Men Fell Out of Rigging, One by One from Exhaustion

OPERATOR INSANE

Rescue Ship Made Her Way in Fog to Doomed Trawler

Seventeen men clinging to the rigging of a vessel driven on the rocks and slowly being pounded to pieces by a heavy storm; man after man forced to release his hold through sheer exhaustion and plunge into the swirling seas beneath, till only nine were left—that is the grim story told by one of the survivors, five of whom are slowly being nursed back to health at the Liverpool Sailors' Home.

The Grimsby trawler Mikado was on its way home after a month's fishing off Newfoundland, when it ran into a dense bank of fog. A violent storm caught the vessel and hurled it on to a cluster of sea-swept rocks, two miles west of Forshue Island, off Cape Breton.

There she lay, with huge seas crashing over her, and driving her again and again on the rocks. The crew of 17, soaked, frozen, and worn-out by their long struggle with the elements, clambered into the rigging, to which they clung with numbed hands and aching limbs.

Flares had been sent up, but the dense fog only resulted in revealing to the sufferers the horrors of their lonely inferno.

NIGHT OF TERROR

The night went on, and heads drooped, limbs relaxed; the overwhelming impulse towards sleep could no longer be resisted.

A man dozed for a moment and the swaying rope slipped through his numbed and torn fingers. He fell like a stone, and a splash in the unseen waters that roared beneath was all that marked his passing.

After him, men dropped, one by one, almost unnoticed by the others, whose every energy was concentrated on the faint chance of preserving life till help came.

The wireless operator, A. Henfry, who, until the crew had been driven to the rigging, had sent off S.O.S. after S.O.S. into the darkness, kept his hold through many hours. Then his comrades heard him shrieking wildly. The long strain had driven him mad, and, with a sudden leap, he plunged into the darkness and death below.

HELP ARRIVES

Day came and the fog cleared a little. Nine men still maintained a precarious hold on the rigging. Suddenly a dark shape loomed slowly out of the fog.

It was the steam tug Ocean Eagle, which, in spite of the storm and fog, had set forth from the mainland in response to the dead operator's S.O.S. to fight her way to the doomed vessel. At immense risk to themselves the little crew of the Ocean Eagle managed to convey the numbed and dazed survivors of the Mikado, one by one, to their own little vessel.

One man, however, was saved only to die, a few hours, from exhaustion and exposure.

The Ocean Eagle, not content with rescuing those still clinging to the rigging, managed, by skirting the foam-strewn rocks to a hairbreadth, to recover several of the bodies of those who had loosed their hold and drowned during that night of terror.

THREE DEAD IN DOMESTIC TRAGEDY

A terrible domestic tragedy, in which three persons lost their lives, has occured in the mining town of Denaby, near Doncaster.

A lodger in the house of Robert Unwin, a toolmaker, aged twenty-four, heard cries for help. He ran to a bedroom and discovered Unwin dying on the body of his lifeless little daughter.

On the floor was the dead body of the man's wife. All three died from wounds in the throat.

The crime is attributed to jealousy on the part of the husband.

CANNIBAL SNAKE BOLTS COMPANION

Victim Hauled Back But Dies of After Effects

Two king snakes figured in an extraordinary incident at the London Zoo a few days ago.

One morning the keeper, in making his rounds, discovered that one of the snakes was missing, and noticed that the other was looking suspiciously bulky.

A closer inspection revealed that the head of the "absentee" was protruding from the mouth of the other.

With the aid of another attendant, the keeper forced open the extensible jaws of the cannibal and from its gullet hauled forth the victim.

But though for some time afterwards the latter seemed little the worse for its experience, it died yesterday.

NOT ITS USUAL MEAL

The other snake was not in the least perturbed by the sudden loss of its breakfast—probably because it had eaten three fat mice the previous evening.

As the culprit must have seized its companion by the tail, this incident is not in the same category as those accidents in which two snakes, having seized upon the same article of food, the one with the larger gape has swallowed its rival through sheer inability to let go with its inwardly curved teeth.

King snakes—which are devoid of poison fangs — commonly prey upon venomous relations, and are not in the habit of devouring their own species.

"RUGGER" FOR CRICKETERS

At Bath recently where no cricket had been possible in the Somerset v. Essex match, some of the players from both teams, brought out a Rugby football and amused themselves with an impromptu game.

CANADIAN FOUR DEFEATED SWISS IN WATER RACES

Garrett Gilmore Won Decisively Over Strongest Competitor in Single Sculls.

BELYEA LOST HEAT

Canada's Eight Meet Yale and Holland in Friday's Trials.

ARGENTEUIL, France, July 15. —(Canadian Press).—The luck of the draw cast the two premier contenders for the Olympic single scull title in the same trial heat Monday and the prospects for a United States victory were strengthened by the decisive victory of W. E. Garrett Gilmore, the United States national champion, over Jack Beresford, Jr., of Great Britain, who captured the historic Diamond Sculls this year.

The husky Philadelphia oarsman, apparently in superb form, trailed his British rival by a quarter to a half length over the first half of the 2,000-metre course on the River Seine, but overhauled Beresford soon afterward, quickly had open water between the two shells and won by two lengths.

Finals Thursday.

Gilmore's victory automatically placed him in the finals, which will be held in all of the rowing events on Thursday, while Beresford, in order to get another crack at Gilmore, must compete in the eliminations for second place scullers on Wednesday, when the winner will qualify for the final.

Gilmore's fast time of seven minutes 31-5 seconds was the best of the afternroon, the winners in the other two trials being Bull, of Australia, who was clocked in seven minutes 19 seconds, and Schneider of Switzerland, who was timed in seven minutes 15 3-5 seconds.

Belyea Eliminated.

Hilton Belyea, the Canadian star, finished third and was eliminated in the heat which Schneider won. The Canadian entry, who has been suffering from neuritis, apparently was far below his customary form. Wrobel of France and Pietersen of Holland won second places and the right to contest with Beresford to determine which man shall be the fourth finalist.

The United States met defeat in the only other Olympic rowing events when the double-oared combination with coxswain lost by a length and a half to France, with Belgium third. The winner's time was seven minutes 30 3-5 seconds. The French crew got the lead at the beginning of the race and set the pace all the way.

Switzerland defeated Italy by the same margin in the second heat, so the Italian and the United States oarsmen will contest on Wednesday to determine which shall enter the finals.

Canadians Won Heat.

The four-oared crews without coxswains also had trials, Great Britain defeating France and Canada defeating Switzerland in the two heats of the competition.

The powerful Yale eight which has been recording a number of sensational trials in practice, will make its debut in Olympic competition to-day, when it will face Canada and Holland in the second heat of the trials. Argentine, France, Great Britain and Belgium meet in the first heat, while Australia, Spain and Italy meet in the third.

Jack Kelly and Paul Costello, Olympic champions, will carry the colors of the United States in the first trials of the double sculls, also on the programme for to-day, with France and Hungary as their opponents, while the Brazilian pair have drawn Switzerland in the second heat.

FANNED FIFTEEN

Zufelt of Orland Team Held Brighton to Two Hits.

Orland trimmed Brighton group to the tune of 6-2 in one of the best games ever played on the home diamond. Archie Zufelt took the mound for Orland, and went the route, having the game well in hand at all times, and letting the Brightons down to two hits and striking out 15, while Mulhall, Haulihan, Way and K. Zufelt worked nice in the infield, the two latter each getting a double and driving in runs.

Roblin, for Brighton, pitched a nice game, but could not hold the hard hitting Orland team, who nicked him for seven hits.

Campbellford plays at Orland on July 16th, and a good game is assured.

The score and line-ups were as follows:

Brighton .. ..010010000—2
Orland .. ..10004010x—6

Orland—Haulihan 2b, Zufelt p, Mulhall 3b, Zufelt 1b, Dawson lf, Dawns c, Way ss, Ingalls-Maran rf, Sammis Beatty mf.

Brighton — Soloman ss, Archer mf, Shannan lf, Frise c, Halliday 2b, McKee 1b, Thorne 3b, Brawn rf, Roblin p, Scriver spare.

In a cross-Paris race between a bicycle, an automobile, a subway passenger and a pedestrian, the bicyclist won.

She Didn't Look Gift Horse in the Mouth--So Won Not a Cent When He Beat King's Nag

When Dinkie, 50 to 1 shot, beat the favorite, Weathervane, the King's horse. Inset are Dinkie's jockey, W. Alford, an apprentice, and his owner, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey.

By MILTON BRONNER.

LONDON, July 15.—Because, so to speak, she didn't look a gift horse in the mouth, Mrs. R. R. Jeffrey didn't see her four-year-old bay nag named Dinkie make English turf history at Ascot race track.

And Mrs. Jeffrey happens to be the owner of Dinkie.

She missed the thrill of seeing the animal beat the prize horse of the King and of the Duke of Westminster and of an Indian Prince and of a half dozen millionaires.

She didn't hear the cheering and she didn't have the joy of leading the flower-garlanded winner before the admiring throng. Instead, she spent the afternoon snipping roses in the garden of her home at Teddington.

Almost any woman would have done the same thing. Dinkie had been running badly all season. Mrs. Jeffrey's husband, a turf commissioner supposed to know all about horses, told her the nag didn't have a chance.

So did the trainer, who at the last minute bet $25 on it for sentiment's sake.

So did the jockey who was only an apprentice. So did the handicappers who despised the horse. So did the newspaper prophets who didn't even mention him. So did the book-makers who laid odds of 50 to 1 against him.

According to all of them, the only animal that had a chance to win the great Royal Hunt Cup race at ultra-fashionable Ascot was Weathervane, the King's horse, which won the stake last year. And then Dinkie, surprising everybody, won the $10,000 stake.

"It's the surprise, the joy and the disappointment of my life," said his good-looking owner. "When a friend called me up and told me my horse had won, I thought he was joking. Then others called me up and I knew it was true. Neither my husband, nor our jockey nor myself had bet a penny. My husband bought the horse for $2,500 and was offered $5,000 for him, but wouldn't sell because he wanted to give the animal to me as a birthday gift.

"But I didn't have any faith in my one horse. Why should I? Look at his racing form. In May he raced at Chester. He has always been an also-ran.

"A few weeks ago a veterinary surgeon said Dinkie was all right, but that he was feeling the effects of the continuous cold rains we had all through May and early June. All he needed was some sunshine on his back. Judging by his past, we thought Dinkie would need about a year of hot sun on his back.

"The veterinary was right. Dinkie fooled us. He fooled everybody. They tell me he fooled the King and about 40,000 spectators who had bet their money on Weathervane, and who thought the royal horse had brought home the bacon until the judges announced Dinkie first, the King's horse second and the Duke of Westminster's horse third."

CHEMONG TEAM LOST IN NINTH

Scored Early and Often on Keene, But Threw the Game Away.

SCORE WAS 12-9.

Keene came from behind in the last innings and defeated the slugging Indians from Curve Lake by the score of 12 to 9 in one of the most exciting games seen in Keene this season. The Indians connected with everything Robinson had to offer and had the game nicely tucked away until the last inning, when the Otonabee boys got to Taylor's delivery and walloped him for five hits and seven runs, pulling the game out of the fire in the nick of time. When the Keenesters went to bat in the last inning they were four runs down, but were full of confidence. They gave every ounce of pep they had, and after once getting the Redskins up in the air they did as they pleased on the runways, and the Indians threw the ball all over the lot.

It was a hard game for the Indians to loose, and they felt rather down-hearted about it, but they will be out again in their next game fighting away as usual.

A. McCue, the first man up in the second for the Indians, hit the ball square on the nose and it rode far into right field for four bases. With four more hits and three errors on the part of Keene, the Curve Lake boys piled their score up to six runs. Keene came back strong in their half of the second and made the score six to five, but the Indians once more cut loose and added three more to their list in the fourth, but the Keene boys finished up strong in the last innings and captured the game.

M. Taylor, on the mound for the Indians, worked nicely until the last innings, but he blew in this frame and the runs crossed the plate in bunches like bananas.

Robinson, for the Keene team, also turned in a good performance on the mound, but was hit rather hard in the early stages of the game. He settled down later, and wound the game up in great style when he fanned two of the last three men to face him.

PADDOCK'S MISTAKE

Disobeyed Coach in His Fondness for Playing to the Gallery.

PHILADELPHIA, July 15. — Charley Paddock has made more than one mistake in his sprinting career. He has been guilty of numerous errors. One of them was his refusal to heed the advice of Lawson Robertson, University of Pennsylvania coach, who is in charge of the Olympic runners.

In the final trials at Boston, Paddock pulled up lame in a 220 preliminary heat. He was advised by Robertson not to run in the semi-final or final of the furlong, but went to the mark nevertheless. He further injured his leg and according to reports from France his muscles are still tied up a bit.

Paddock said he ran in the semi-final and final at Boston because the spectators wanted to see him. That's Paddock all over. He has long been known as a gallery-runner.

The flying finish for which he is famed is a play to the stands. He makes slower time with it than if he would run through the tape. Robertson has told him this, but the flying finish is spectacular, distinctive and attractive. The Westerner continued to leap for the string.

Four years ago, Paddock was undoubtedly the "fastest human." That was when he won the 100 metres at Antwerp. He might have been faster if he had followed Robertson's advice. He might have finished higher in the Colombes Stadium if he had heeded his coach.

Wetzel and Gislason clouted two homers each, Gislason's second one hitting the right leld fence just above Jimmy Walsh's outstretched mitt. ROSENEATH MAY WIN FIRST HALF Issue Depends on the Next Game—Batting Averages.

ROSENEATH, July 15. — Roseneath baseball team have a one-game lead over Colborne in the first half of the league race. Roseneath play Brighton at Brighton on Wednesday, 16th July, while Colborne will be trying to take a drop out of Hastings. Then Colborne and Roseneath hook up on the latter's ground for the last game, a postponed affair.

If Roseneath can win from Brighton they can lose to Colborne and yet be tied for first place, but if they lose to Brighton and Colborne trim Hastings, the postponed game will decide the champions for the first half.

Roseneath has the better chance, if past performances count, as Colborne has never won a game in Roseneath during the year's playing.

Roseneth have a great bunch of hitters. Scott, Campbellford's big southpaw, is the only piteher in the league that they have not forced to leave the mound.

The NUT CRACKER BY JOE WILLIAMS

Just what connection a cheer leader has with reduced taxes, $1.50 wheat, an enlarged aerial fleet and a return to the hit-and-run style of baseball ain't so clear to a guy who is down to his last two eyes.

In sports world the boys take their demonstrations in lighter vein. Ruth comes to bat. Wolves in the bleachers launch a demonstration. "Strike out the big bum!" they demand. Ruth swats apple out of yard. Wolves launch another demonstration. "Attaboy Babe!" they shout. No matter what happens the baseball demonstration always ends satisfactorily.

Do bell-trousered delegates rave and rant, storm and stew, do they seize state standards and march, protesting, up and down in front of speaker's rostrum, do they move to points of disorder and demand roll calls?

No, that is not the way the festive demonstration is demonstrated in athletics. The 90,000 throats call for nine rahs and a well lubricated locomotive, a tribute to the grit and courage of the slaughtered heroes. The thing is done quickly, painlessly and without friction.

The moral is plain enough. Never leave a white chiffon dress where a goat can get it.

You never can tell about some things .... Paddock, for instance, would still be "the fastest human" if the A.A.U. had stood by their guns and kept him out of the Olympic trials.

While Helen Wills was beaten in England, it may be presumed she still retains that school girl complexion.

An Ohio ghost turned out to be a boy hunting worms at night, which was enough to give the neighbors the creeps.

KREMER SAVES PIRATES

Pitcher Kremer, a rookie from the coast, has been a lifesaver for the Pittsburg Pirates. His fine work has partly atoned for the failure of some of the veterans. Kremer has a deceptive move to first that makes base runners hug that bag.

Seven shots were fired on the 200 and seven on the 300 yard ranges. The Toronto man made a possible at 200 yards and 34 at the last range.

EDMONTON GIRLS DEFEAT FRENCH

Canadian Maids Won Olympic Basketball Game by 69 to 17.

STYLE WAS SNAPPY

PARIS, July 14. Canadian Press Cable. — The Edmonton girls' champion basketball team defeated the Paris girls' team in the basketball match in the Pershing stadium Monday by a score of 69 to 17.

The Canadian girls scored snappily while their Paris competitors showed some effects of the hard play.

Miss "Abbie" Scott and Miss D. Johnson were the forwards for Canadians. Miss Constance Smith was centre; Miss Mary Dunn and Miss Martin were guards.

In the first period of the match signal plays carried the ball to the Canadians' basket but the defence of the Canadians was strong enough to prevent the Parisians from obtaining a single shot.

The second period began practically as a repetition of the first, but the Canadian girls soon started in to score and they continued to score so frequently that the ball was not seen again returning to their defence territory.

Much better checking marked the play of the Paris girls in the third period. The feature of the fourth period was a foul shot by Miss D. Johnson, the best of the kind ever seen here in a girls' basket ball game.

The Paris office staff of a Canadian departmental store are giving the Edmonton girls an excursion to Fontainbleau to-day, and the visiting basketballers will be entertained at luncheon there.

DO YOU KNOW BASEBALL?

BY BILLY EVANS

QUESTIONS

1. Is the pitcher credited with a strikeout if the catcher drops the ball and then throws badly to first, enabling the batsman to reach that base?—O. B.

2. In a recent game in the "Sally" League, the batsman hit a long fly to right field. The fielder, as he made a pretty catch of the ball after a hard run, crashed into the fence. This caused him to drop the ball, also rendered him unconscious. The batsman made the circuit, as the other players rushed to the aid of the injured player. He was credited with a home run. Please explain such a ruling.—J.H.P.

3. Batsman hits ball to shortstop, who throws ball badly to first. The first baseman gets ball in gloved hand, but it bounds into the air just as the runner crosses the bag. The fielder catches the ball on the rebound. Is runner out or safe —D. J. D.

ANSWERS

1. The pitcher is always credited with a strikeout when he puts over the third strike on the batter, regardless of whether or not he reaches first base.

2. Apparently the umpire ruled that the fielder did not hold the ball long enough to complete the catch; that the ball struck fielder's hands as he crashed into fence, causing fielder to drop the ball. No consideration can be given the fact that the player was knocked unconscious. The umpire cannot call time until no further play is possible on any runner.

3. Runner is safe, since he crossed first base while the ball was in the air.

MANY OUTSIDE CLUBS.

Midland League Teams Will Stage a Regular League Game.

There will be a rare programme of sporting events in connection with the Rotary Carnival on Thursday, including horse racing, softball tournament, a regular Midget League game and a Midland League ball game.

The race horse owners of the district are co-operating with the committee by competing for moderate purses as their contribution on behalf of the crippled children. Art Johnston's famous horse Armadale will give an exhibition mile, and, in addition, there will be three three-heat contests.

The Class A and Class B events will include the following horses: T.N.T., Bessie Hooks, Roy Mack, Major Hal, Bub, Lady of the Manor, Polly Stout and several others, while the green faces see in action horses owned by Robinson, Gus White and Jim Sutherland.

Doug. Loomis in charge of several athletic events on the track.

The softball tournament for the championship of the Midland section of Rotary District No. 7 for which the Peterboro Rotary Club is donating a handsome shield, will have as entrants teams from the Toronto, Lindsay, Oshawa, Cobourg, Trenton and Belleville Rotary Clubs, so that a barrel of entertainment will be furnished by this event alone.

It will be followed by a Midget game and then a Midland League game between C. G. E. and Raybestos.

The midway will be in action all afternoon as well.

JUNIOR FIXTURE.

Two Old Rivals Clash Tomorrow Evening at Riverside Park.

By winning two more games the Lakeviews will have the Junior City League tucked away safely. At present they are two games up on the Crescents, and with a win to-morrow they will be away nicely. The Crescents have a big chance yet to stop the Lakeviews and carry off the championship, but the Lakeviews can't see it that way.

To-morrow evening the two teams will clash in what is expected to be a good battle. Jack McDonough will likely pitch for the Crescents, while Frank Whitehouse will do the gunning for the Lakeviews. The game is called for six o'clock sharp at Riverside Park Wednesday evening.

JACK REDDICK WINS.

Handed Soldier Jones Kayo in Eighth Round Last Night.

TORONTO, July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Jack Reddick, Moose Jaw, knocked out Soldier Jones last night in the eighth round of a scheduled ten-round bout.

There was a large crowd in attendance, attracted by the prospect of another spectacular battle between Jones and Reddick for the Canadian light-heavyweight title taken from the Soldier by Reddick in their first meeting at the Arena some weeks ago. On that occasion Jones flattened Reddick for the count, but violated the rule which decrees that the man who scores a knockdown must retire to a neutral corner during the count. By the time Jones had done that the referee might have counted ten. When he did count he got to eight only, when Reddick got to his feet, and a moment later put Jones away cleanly for the count of ten.

BARRIE GIRL WILL RECOVER

She Is Badly Sun Burned and Suffering From Exposure, But is Recovering.

BRECHIN, Ont., July 15 (Canadian Press). — Miss Murchison, the sixteen-year-old Barrie girl who was found at Concord Point near here yesterday morning, after drifting for three days and four nights in a canoe and surviving the harrowing experience of seeing her brother-in-law, Edgar M. Smith, and Wilbert Hoskin, of Cobourg, die, is to-day resting at the cottage of Mr. A. Wilkinson, of Toronto, and is slowly recovering from the shock of her terrible adventure.

In addition to being very badly sunburned and suffering from exhaustion and exposure, Miss Murchison is also suffering from poison ivy contracted when she first crawled ashore at Concord Point.

It is expected, however, that she will be none the worse for terrible experience after a few days' complete rest and medical treatment.

The re-union yesterday of the girl and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Murchison, of Barrie, was one of gratitude and sorrow. Their youngest daughter, it seemed to them, had returned from the grave, but they could not forget their other daughter, Nita Smith, sorrowing at their Barrie home, at the realisation that her husband was dead.

"It's all right, mother, it's all right," cried Margaret, as she threw her arms around her mother's neck last night and tears of the mother and daughter were mingled together.

No one except the immediate relatives has been allowed to see the girl.

To her father and her mother and to those whom she saw first after her rescue she has told a few scattered details of those three terrible days and even more terrible nights during which she was alone and helpless on the lake.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A RAPID CHANGE.

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—The Globe of Saturday carries a big headlined announcement that Newfoundland has gone wet. After five years' trial the ancient colany has decided to sell light wines and beers by license and hard liquor under restriction. People must have reasonable measures to govern them. Half-crazy emotions are no good. The man who cried out that alcohol had no food value forgot that water has none. Would he give it up for that reason, too? Another.

Peterboro, July 15, 1924.

Editor, Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In the front page of your paper last night there appeared a statement that I sent in a call to the Fire Hall last Saturday night which brought the firemen to the corner of Charlotte Street and Louis Street on a fruitless errand, there being no fire. I wish to absolutely deny the statement that I sent in a call last Saturday night, and I also most emphatically deny that I had anything whatever to do with the call going in. Your article having reflected upon my reputation, I wish you to make this denial as prominent as your statement in last night's paper.—Yours truly,

A. CHERNEY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir: Permit me to correct your report of yesterday's issue concerning my views as to the amalgamation of Police Forces, as I have been misquoted somewhat.

It was while Chief of Police at Cornwall, and not Brockville, that I expressed my views to the Public Service Commission that, in my opinion "all municipalities with a population of less than 20,000 should be policed by either the Provincial or Federal Governments."

Police districts should be formed, with a District Inspector in charge of each, he in turn, being subordinate to a Divisional Inspector.

This would be similar to the Royal Irish Constabulary methods and those of us who have had the opportunity of employing ex-members of this or the Metropolitan Force, know that we are engaging a man thoroughly schooled in Police work, well disciplined, and above all, one who will perform his duties without favor or affection, malice or ill-will.

I did not ask the Public Service Commission to abolish the present system of Provincial Police, but I certainly did County Police Forces.

Again, I would not have it said that there is a lack of co-operation on the part of the Ontario Provincial Police, as personally I have had co-operation and courtesy shown me from this body at all times, and by all ranks; but I do maintain that if County Forces were absorbed into one provincial body then we would have less overlapping, more concerted effort, and a reduction of crime.

Trusting you will give this a little of your valued space, so that my views may not be misconstrued.

Yours truly,
W. H. HOWARD.

Web Cords and Sprayed Rubber in Balloon Tires

As the tire season advances, the value of the two big improvements, web cords and sprayed rubber, announced in the spring by the Dominion Tire Company, are being amply demonstrated.

The web cord process, by eliminating cross-threads, gives a more resilent tire and eliminates internal heat caused by friction of the cords. In the web cord process the cords are held together by a web of pure rubber and this web is made by drawing the cords through a bath of latex, the milk of the rubber tree. As the cords emerge from the bath they are drawn over a heated drum, which quickly dries the rubber latex into a web. The tension on the cords keeps them perfectly flat and even, so that in the body of the tire the strain comes upon each individual cord with perfect uniformity.

For low inflation balloon or balloon type tires, in which the play of the cords is much greater and more frequent than in high inflation tires, this uniformity of strain and absence of friction are of special value. Because of the extraordinary strength produced by the evenness of the cords, the one great doubt in regard to the durability of baloon tires, which of necessity have fewer layers of cords than ordianry tires, is eliminated.

The sprayed rubber used in the walls of balloon tires on account of its great purity and elasticity is also of special value to this type of tire in which the walls are subject to much more play than in hard inflated tires. Sprayed rubber is simply the milk of the rubber tree evaporated and used fresh and pure without preservatives or coagulating acids. This process preserves all the qualities of toughness and elasticity of the original rubber without impairment of any kind by preservatives necessary in ordinary rubbers.

FRENCH WANT PEACE.

Paris Throngs Gave Herriott a Great Send Off To-day.

PARIS, July 15.—(United Press)—"Hurrah for peace," cheered Paris throngs, giving Premier Herriot and the French delegation to the inter allied conference a great send-off as they entrained for London to-day.

"Where's your pipe, Herriot," shouted grimy railroad workers pressing about the private car.

The premier pulled out his familiar briar and thrust it into his mouth, whereupon the workers yelled with delight.

MANITOBA CROPS GOOD.

High Temperature and Hot Winds Have Taken a Heavy Toll.

WINNIPEG, July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Manitoba crops appear to be in excellent shape, although somewhat late, but lack of moisture, high temperatures and hot winds have taken a very heavy toll of the crops, both wheat and coarse grains, in Saskatchewan and Alberta, according to a crop report issued by the Manitoba Free Press to-day. There is little complaint from Manitoba points. The crop is admittedly about two weeks later than last year, but present conditions are quite favorable, and with showers from now till harvest to enable heads to fill out, a good average yield may be expected.

LADY LIFE SAVERS

Young Women's Christian Association Had an Outing.

A recent enjoyable outing of the members of the Ladies' Life Saving Class at the Young Women's Christian Association was given by the instructress, Miss C. Littlefield, at Mrs. H. Beal's cottage at Stoney Lake. Sixteen of the members filled four cars and motored to the Lake, where a regular class session was carried out, and several races run off, each lady capturing a prize for diving off slippery rock. Some baseball games were included in a jolly afternoon's programme.

Half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, but it worries about it half the time.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

For diversity of interest, with reproduction in its screening of many of the most interesting phases of New York life, "The Great White Way," the feature picture at the Capitol Theatre for the first three days of this week, offers much in the way of varied entertainment. It is a picture quite out of the ordinary, and includes in its presentation, besides an excellent screen cast, such notables as Tex Rickard, George McManus, Irvin S. Cobb, H. C. Witwer, the author of the picture, who appears in one of the scenes. Damon Runyon, Flo Zigfield, and Nell Brinkley. In various sections of the story these people appear momentarily, giving an odd illusion of real life to the whole story. The inclusion of living personages such as these makes the entire production appear to be taken from life, instead of just being a romantic story woven about the love of Mabel Vandergrift, a noted Broadway dancer, for Joe Cain, the prize welterweight of the American ring.

"The Great White Way" is an entertaining production, written in a new way, with a series of anti-climaxes which keeps the audience reaching for its collective hat through several episodes, only to relax for another exciting interval.

Scenes which would in themselves form the pivots for other pictures follow each other in rapid succession. There is a big fire scene, with a sensational rescue of the heroine, a thrilling horse race, in which the steeplechasers come to grief at the last turn of an exciting episode, and the prize fight scene in itself would be sufficient to form the chief interest of any picture. Filmed with a series of sharp close-ups, it shows every move of the two contestants, in one of the most savage and realistic fights ever screened here, at least.

"The Great White Way" has a diverting plot. Brock Morton is a real villain, who intrigues in every possible way to defeat the success of his rival, the ugly hero, Joe Cain, with the dainty dancer of Broadway, Mabel Vandergrift. With the aid of his familiar, the Englishman Stubbs, he has a dishonest jockey "pull" the big race in which all Joe's money is invested, and he dopes Joe just before the big fight. There is some fine acting in this section, where the doped youngster battles through two groggy rounds with the British champion.

As an example of something different in the "movie" line, with plenty of thrills in its make-up and a chance to see some of the notables of the time on the screen, "The Great White Way" is really worth while.

AT THE REGENT.

"THE LOVE BANDIT."

Jim Blazes came out of the big woods to win the love of a blue-blooded society girl. Fate made her his employee and he discharged her to force his suit.

She closed the door of her heart to him the night of the wedding and sent the "bandit of the timberlands" back to his camp. "Red blood and blue can never mix," Blazes learned.

A log jam and scores of cursing lumberjacks, fighting like brutes—the bride flung into the midst of man-beasts, finally to rise to true understanding and know that love conquers all.

Caught in the log jam!—Death ahead in the rapids!—Girls risk lives in daring ride on "big sticks" through swirling waters!

An all-star cast; Doris Kenyon, Victor Sutherland, Cecil Spooner, Lorenza Valentine, Jules Cowles, Gardner James, Christian Frank, Dorothy Walters, Helen Keller, Edward Boulden.

AT THE ROYAL.

FORMER PREACHER TO BE SEEN HERE AS SCREEN STAR.

The Rev. Fred Thomson, Champion Athlete in "The Eagle's Talons."

In startling contrast to the calumnies cast at the motion picture profession by misinformed persons, stands the record of the Rev. Fred Thomson, world's champion athlete and popular Presbyterian pastor. He is playing the leading role in Universal's latest chapter picture, "The Eagle's Talons," which starts at the Royal Theatre next Thursday.

Thomson's career is picturesque and interesting. He was educated in Occidental College and did post-graduate work at Princeton. In 1910 and 1911 he won the national all-around track and field championship, and two years later established an all-around world's record in athletics.

Being the son and grandson of preachers of the gospel, he also chose the pulpit as a profession. After graduation he became pastor of the Memorial Chapel in Washington, D.C. Next he was pastor of the Hope Chapel, Los Angeles, and later occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church of Goldfield, Nev.

During the war he became chaplain of the 143rd Field Artillery, and served overseas. While in France he won the Allied Armies grenade-throwing contest.

Upon returning from the war he was induced to enter moving pictures to play a small role in a Mary Pickford picture. Since then he has appeared in several pictures, and now is being starred by Universal.

He is a stout defender of the morals of moviedom.

"HOOK AND LADDER" BEST GIBSON ROLE.

Hoot Gibson comes back to the Royal Theatre Thursday in his most novel role, as a fireman, and took the audience by storm. His droll sense, and considering the fact that he has a good story, in "Hook and Ladder," it granted him ample opportunity to do a number of amusing things that he has never done before.

In this production, he is a cowboy who comes to town with a number of other plainsmen with a big trainload of cattle. Things didn't seem to go right with the boys after they arrived, and their pay was held up by the shippers.

From then on, situations are so crammed with good, humorous action the spectators couldn't help themselves if they almost burst with laughter. The boys attempted to get their pay, with Hoot as a lookout, but he fell asleep on the job.

When he awoke, he found himself staring at a cop; so he took to his heels and ran plumb into a fireline. Making good as a volunteer reman, he was offered a regular job and nearly refused—but he caught a passing glance of the fire chief's pretty daughter.

The rival for the fair lady's hand is a tricky ward heeler, but Hoot surmounts all difficulties and wins out after making a daring rescue through almost impassable flames, in one of the most spectacular fire scenes ever screened for local audiences.

William Sedgwick, who directed, also was co-author with Raymond L. Schrock.

NOW THREATENS LEGAL ACTION

Board of Health Will Not Tolerate Any Further Delay From Those Instructed to Make Sanitary Connections.

HEARD DEPUTATION.

The Board of Health incensed at the manner in which certain property owners have ignored their notices to make sanitary connections, by resolution at this morning's meeting instructed that a number of residents be given seven days' notice to comply with the Boards' demands and that in default of execution of the required connections within the allotted time the City Solicitor take immediate action against them.

Several other parties will receive notices requesting that the work be done forthwith. In some instances the delinquents were notified a year ago to make sewer connections, yet nothing was done.

A deputation consisting of Messrs J. J. Devlin, O. Tangney, John Menoyn and Rutherford were heard in connection with the condition of a certain house on Rogers street. They stated that an outhouse has remained in a filthy condition for two years that poultry running about the premises trailed the filth into other yards. A stable on the property is just four feet from the dwelling house of a neighbour, it was stated.

This case was dealt with recently by the Board and as in many other cases no action was taken on receipt of the Board's notice. The members considered it outrageous that a neighbour should be confronted with such a condition when he opened his kitchen door and decided to write Mr. Wm. O'Brien, Toronto, the owner, giving him seven days' notice to remedy the nuisance.

"This is only one of many cases and we have a lot who were notified to make sewer connections before this man, who have not complied," said Sanitary Inspector Stapleton.

Chairman George Duncan declared that an example would have to be made of some offender and on reconsideration the members came to the conclusion that the time for strong measures had arrived, as they had bickered with certain persons long enough.

"No more fooling," said Mayor Turner who fathered the resolution providing the same treatment towards them all.

Milk Inspection

The report of Dr. A. Y. McNair showing the milk tests for the month of June indicated that 6 local vendors were below 3 per cent in butter fat, the amount required by the City by-law.

Mayor Turner moved that the milkmen whose tests were below the standard amount in butter fats, be notified to bring a sample of their milk to the Provincial Laboratories once a week, instead of waiting for a monthly report.

Mr. Claude Rogers was of the opinion that even if the vendors buy milk from others the onus is upon them to see that it meets standard requirements.

Dr. Young, Medical Health Officer remarked that one or two cows that have been milking a long time are apt to bring the milk below the 3 per cent. in butter fat. "It is not the fault of the milkman, but if they are consistently low we will have to cut them off."

Disposition of Tenders

When Chairman Duncan proceeded to open the tenders for the steam heating at Queen Mary Hospital, he announced that early this morning W. R. Turner & Sons had left a second tender with the City Clerk, stating that prices in materials had taken a drop and for that reason they wished to submit a second tender.

Mr. Rogers—"You can't consider it now. When you advertise for tenders, you would get into trouble, if you accept a second tender after the time for receiving tenders is closed."

Chairman—"If this information is correct then the Board would benefit by the drop."

Mayor Turner —"Yes, but all should have the same chance, then if there has been a fall in prices, the Board will, no doubt benefit when all have had an opportunity of revising their estimates."

The tenders were not considered and will be formally dealt with at a special meeting after all tenderers have had an opportunity to revise their first offer.

LURE OF WATERMELON TEMPTED YOUTHS

Two Boys Allowed to Go on Suspended Sentence — Mrs. I. Morris Fined.

Two youths, aged 16 and 17 respectively, who could not resist the temptation of a big juicy watermelon resting on the stand in front of Mr. Joseph Longo's fruit store, Hunter street, appeared on remand in the police court this morning, charged with the theft of a water melon, valued at $1.50.

Mr. J. F. Strickland appeared for the crown and the boys who pleaded guilty, were not represented by counsel.

His Worship, Magistrate Langley, after a severe reprimand, allowed the two boys to go on suspended sentence.

Mrs. I. Morris, Park street, who appeared on Friday last on a charge of cutting saplings, the property of Dr. F. D. Deyell, 265 Park street, was fined $20 and costs.

MANY LIVES LOST IN CHINA FLOODS

Tremendous Financial Losses Have Been Incurred Throughout the Western Part of the Country.

PEKING, July 15 — (Canadian Press).—Thousands of lives are reported to stand at stake, hundreds of villages destroyed in Hunan, Honan, Anhui and Kiangsi provinces of China which have been devastated by floods and landslides brought on by prolonged rains.

Tremendous financial losses have been incurred throughout the western part of the country.

Peking itself is practically isolated except for the Tien Tsin Railway line, which is threatened with inundation.

The entire business district of Kalgan, the western most railway head of China, was destroyed and the rail road at this point buried under land slides and debris.

Some lives have been lost and the property loss runs into millions of dollars.

All foreigners are reported safe.

Peking is threatened by breaking dykes along the Mountain river to the eastward where soldiers are toiling day and night at constant repairs Tien Tsin is at present not flooded but this is only being prevented by the efforts of an army of coolies, working at the dykes.

Engineers propose drastic measures to save the city, suggesting cutting some of the dykes and permitting the water to overflow into the low rice lands between Tientsin and Pekin.

The railroad lines running between Pekin and Hankow and between Pekin and Suiyan are both without traffic.

The floods were worst in the four provinces of Honan, Hunan, Anhui, and Kiangsi—each of which reported the wiping out of hundreds of villages and terrific loss of life.

Kalgan, in the province of Chihli, the largest commercial centre north of Peking, has been destroyed in part by a flood along the Yangho river, according to word received here to-night.

The damage in the city is unofficially estimated at one million dollars.

Reports reaching the city were to the effect that the shock had been felt and recorded in Eastern Ontario, the seismograph at Ottawa registering the duration at approximately four minutes.

PEGASUS.
The winged horse of mythology, Pegasus, no longer fires our imagination. A breeding horse has been shipped by airplane from Paris to Amsterdam.

Mythology represented the things the ancients considered humanly impossible.

Our generation accomplishes what once seemed impossible. A Greek god hurling thunderbolts has his counterpart in a modern scientist producing artificial lightning, a million volts, in a labratory.

IN MEMORY

The precious one to us has gone,
The voice we loved is still,
The place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
Memory keeps dear father near us,
Whom God called a year ago,
Tears of sorrow still are flowing,
We think of him wherever we go.

EUROPE'S PEACE IS CHIEF ISSUE OF CONFERENCE

Allies Assemble in London to Consider Experts' Reparations Plan.

MOMENTOUS MEETING

The Dawes Proposal Admits of No Alternative if Discarded.

LONDON, July 16.— The all-important inter-allied conference for making effective the experts' plan for German reparations opened in the British Foreign Office at 11 o'clock this morning, with Premier MacDonald and Herriot at the head of the table and the plenipotentiaries of the minor allied powers interested in obtaining war compensation seated around the board. The United States is represented by Frank B. Kellogg, the United States Ambassador, as official observer.

The French, Italian and Belgian delegations arrived Tuesday afternoon, hopeful that the meeting would be successful in stripping the reparations problem of sentiment and politics and putting it on the cold, hard economic foundation which the experts headed by General Dawes and Sir Reginald McKenna have recommended.

British observers share the general optimism which the continental statesmen have brought to Great britain, but see a successful termination of the meeting only by strict adherence to efforts to enforce the experts' proposals.

Ambassador Kellogg said yesterday that he was hopeful about the London conference because there was no alternative to the experts' reparation plan if it went into the discard, and, if it did, there was no hope of ever settling the problem. For this reason, the United States observer will enter the conference with the idea of doing everything possible to keep the experts' plan to the forefront in the deliberations.

Whenever the attitude of the United States on any phase of the reparations problem is asked, Mr. Kellogg will give the fullest information. On points involving United States interests, Mr. Kellogg will volunteer to state his government's position

Ambassador Kellogg does not expect the United States to be a signatory to the protocol embodying the results of the conference decisions.

Enemies At Home.

The French delegates have arrived in London fully aware that perhaps their worst enemies may not be around the conference table. There is always the spectre of political enemies at home, and M. Herriot realizes the possibilities of mischief on the part of a political foe who is as astute a parliamentarian as M. Poincare. The apprehension of a blow from behind is not lessened from the fact that M. Poincare's latest attack in the Senate is generally regarded by the Government's adherents as a flash in the pan.

M. Poincare will be quick to act should Premier Herriot yield a hair's breadth in maintaining the sacrosanct character of the Versailles Treaty, and the Premier knows that only by the utmost viligance will he be able to circumvent the machination of his foes at home, even if he can overcome the opposition at the table in Downing Street.

"The basic fact is that the British, Italians, Belgians and French all completely realize the necessity for a peaceful and prompt solution of the present problems," he said last night. "And I come with the heartfelt belief that the vital problems of European peace and restoration will enter on a new phase through our deliberations in London. I should like to say that I am very grateful to Premier MacDonald for his obvious efforts to understand and meet the legitimate wishes and difficulties of the French Government."

LASSOOED HORSES

CHATHAM, Ont., July 16.—(Canadian Press).—A team of valuable horses is in Hewings Feed barn here, awaiting the owners. On Sunday the horses were caught by a city policeman by means of lassoo after an exciting chase on bicyles. Three horses wandered into the city together Sunday afternoon. One was claimed by W. O'Neill, of this city, but no inquiry has been made for the other two.

FOUR MEN EXECUTED

Lives Snuffed Out in Electric Chair at Trenton, N. J.

TRENTON, N.J., July 16.—(Canadian Press).—Four men were executed in the electric chair at the State Prison last night. Three of them, Frank W. Taylor, and his son-in-law, Edward M. Allan, together with Tony Briglia, were put to death for the murder of Walter Crozier, a Gloucester County farmer. The fourth was Anthony Bagdonowiz of Camden, who was electrocuted for the slaying of William Bishop, a Camden jitney driver.

The four executions took place within a period of forty minutes. Each was carried out without unusual incident, and each slayer met his fate with a prayer on his lips.

NUDE BATHERS HAD MOONSHINE

Sunday Night Revel on Shore of Lake St. Clair a Lively Party.

IN COURT THURSDAY.

CHATHAM, Ont., July 16.—(Canadian Press).Drunken revels in Dover township Sunday night included a nude bathing party at a lonely spot on the shores of Lake St. Clair, High Constable Peters disclosed yesterday, following an investigation.

According to Chief Peters bad moonshine liquor was drunk by the participants and two are said to be seriously ill from the effects.

County Police have the names of the people who are alleged to have been in the wild party, and following a consultation with Crown Attorney H. D. Smith, K.C., Tuesday, he preferred charges against seven. The scandal will be probed Thursday when the defendants appear before Magistrate A. B. Carscallen.

The party it is alleged, began at a certain Dover township house where liquor was supplied. Later, at the lake shore, several are alleged to have entered the water while nude including two women. The celebration was later continued at the house where a disturbance was created. High Constable Peters said that during the lake shore escapade one of the men is alleged to have struck a woman. Assault charges have been laid as a result.

With the exception of one, all the people involved in the alleged party are married.

LEAGUE COST SMALL.

Fifty-four Nations Co-operating, Says Sir Herbert Ames.

MONTREAL, July 16.—Addressing the Rotary Club here Tuesday Sir Herbert Ames, financial secretary of the League of Nations, spoke of his five years' experience with the league. He claimed that its cost was infinetismal being between $4,500,000 and $5,000,000 yearly, which was only a fraction of the cost of armaments by nations. Of this total Canada contributed only $165,000 a year. In return for this outlay, the league gave the world an enormous service in keeping the peace and conserving the rights of minorities, and preserving liberties in mandated areas. He said that today the organization was complete with every part working well and functioning in an international manner with 54 nations co-operating in the work.

Sir Herbert declared that Canada had done her full duty during the war and had also done her full duty in the ensuing peace by her adhesion to the league. The result to Canada was that she had earned her full share of the respect of the world.

CHANGE BANK'S NAME

OTTAWA, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—An Act to change the name of La Banque d'Hochelaga to Banque Canadienne Nationale was put through the committee stage in the House of Commons this evening.

W. C. Wood (Progressive, Brant) was opposed to the use of the terms "Canadian" and "National" in a bank. Paul Mercier, the sponsor of the bill, accepted an amendment, which would limit the use of the name to the French only, and the amendment carried.

The bill stands for third reading.

LONDON CHARMS WORLD EXPERTS OF ADVERTISING

Grateful Stretch of Sunny Days Weaving Spell Over Host of Visitors.

NO MARRING FOGS

Convention Delegates Lured By Wembley and Ancient Places of Interest.

LONDON, July 16. — (Canadian Press).—The Canadian delegates are having a hard time attending to the business of the International Advertising convention, for which they came to London, and refraining from wallowing for a major portion of their time in the pleasures of sight-seeing. They are finding it difficult not to spend the greater part of their time wandering in Westminster Abbey, London Tower, and to other ancient places of interest which tempt the visitor to London.

Fortunately for the delegates, most of whom are in Great Britain for the first time, there has been an unusually long stretch of sunny, warm days. Thus, they are forming an idea of the charm of London which would not stand long in a foggy and rainy November.

Have Fleet of Cars.

The information headquarters of the convention has been transformed into a travellers' bureau for sightseeing trips. These trips have proved more popular than elaborate banquets or dances. So much so, in fact, that the hosts have placed an additional 150 motor cars, making a total of 250, at the disposal of the delegates to take them on evening rides through the picturesque countryside on the outskirts of the metropolis.

The British newspapers are finding the delegates a fruitful subject for editorials, cartoons, sketches and human interest stories. Some of the British delegates have found a new way of discovering the Canadian and United States delegates by the fact that all of the American men wear straw hats, while the women wear felt hats, which, of course, is quite contrary to British dress conventions.

One statistical fan has discovered that the enthusiasm of the speakers before the convention will make them use some 4,000,000 words, while the delegates at the sectional meetings will consider 125 different problems which are confronrting the advertising business and its subsidiaries at the present time.

Wined and Dined.

The delegates were luncheon guests Tuesday of various business houses, stores and newspapers, where they were given the opportunity to acquaint themselves with British methods. Retail advertisers were the guests of Harrods, one of London's largest department stores, where Lord Viscount Burnham, Lord Riddell and Theodore Morgan, president of the Retail Advertisers of America, were the speakers.

In the afternoon, the delegates attended various departmental section meetings which in most cases were crowded. There were a number of animated discussions, especially on matters which referred to the development of advertising on an international basis.

SARNIA DOCK CROWDED.

New Exit Proposed to Relieve Tourist Traffic Jams.

SARNIA, Ont., July 16.—(Canadian Press).—So great has the congestion become at the approach of the ferry dock that the city will ask the Canadian National Railway for a lease of a right-of-way on property between Cromwell and Davis streets with a view to building a second stopping exit from the ferry dock to Front street.

During the tourist season and particularly at week-ends and on public holidays, the jam of cars emerging from and descending to the ferry dock has passed for an inconvenience to a safety menace and remedial measures have been under consideration for sometime.

BARBERS WANT SHARE.

Bosses Get All the Profits From Bobbed Sisterhood.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Bobbed hair was indicted here today as a labor agitator.

Journeymen barbers are threatening a city-wide strike unless their demands for increased wages and commissions are accepted. The abbreviated tresses are held responsible. Sylvester the barber declared:

"The girls never argue about prices. All they want to know is whether the barber knows the La Follette Bob or the Cleo Clip or some other new fangled doo-dad.

"The bosses increase their business, but the barbers don't for when the girls go out, all they leave is a lot of fragrance."

AMENDMENT TO CHURCH UNION

Provision For Dissenting Congregations to Take Vote Made by Senate.

PASSED FINAL STAGE.

OTTAWA, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The Church Union legislation passed the final stages of the Canadian Parliament last night, when the House of Commons adopted a senate amendment providing for a vote either by ballot or at a church meeting, of congregations wishing to remain out of the united church. Previously in the Commons a similar amendment was defeated. There was no opposition last night, though Robert Forke, Progressive Leader and sponsor of the bill rose to speak after the amendment had been declared passed, and was ruled out.

William Duff (Liberal, Lunenburg) expressed satisfaction that the Senate had made it possible to insert this clause in the bill and guarantee the rights of minorities. He regretted the Senate had not gone further and provided that the name "Presbyterian Church in Canada" could be used by these dissenting congregations.

The minority group of the church, he stated, would carry on and build up a new Presbyterian Church in Canada, in spite of what Parliament had done to disturb the ancient continuity of that church.

The bill then passed.

FARMERS GIVEN CHANCE TO OWN GRAIN COMPANY

Five Companies in Middle West of United States Are Merged.

OFFERED TO FARMERS

Would Control Elevator Space for Half Million Bushels.

CHICAGO, July 16 (Canadian Press). — The farmers of the United States were given the opportunity to own the largest grain marketing company in the United States through he merger of five large grain companies, four in Chicago and one in Kansas City, effected here yesterday.

The Grain Marketing Company, the name of the merged concern, is capitalised at $26,000,000, and eventually is intended to be farmer-owndc, controlled and operated. The companies merged are the Armour Grain Company, the Rosenbaum Grain Corporation, the J. C. Schaffer & Company, Rosenbaum Brothers, and the Davis ,Nolanr, Merritt Grain Company, the latter of Kansas City.

The new company incorporated under the Illinois Co-operative Marketing Act, which conforms to the National Capper-Volstead Marketing Act, will control elevator space in Chicago and other cities with a capacity of more than 50,000,000 bushels.

The Bartlett Frazier of Chicago, mentioned in original plans for the merger, is not included in to-day's plans, but it was reported it might amalgamate later.

Under the financial plan for the merger, 1,000,000 shares of common stock of $1.00 par value, 1,000,000 shares of A preferred of $25.00 par value, and 500,000 shares of B preferred of $50.00 par value, will be issued. The A preferred will be sold only to farmers, who will be given an opportunity to buy an equal number of shares of common stock, the common stock not to be disposed of in any other manner.

The B preferred stock is to be redeemed as rapidly as the A preferred is sold, so that eventually farmers will be the only stockholders in the company, as stock is to be sold only to farmers, producers and grain growers.

Besides large elevator space in Chicago, the merged concern will also control space in Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis, Winona, and other centres.

SHOT DOWN BY POLICE.

Ottawa Man Killed As He Leaves Scene of Hold-up.

DETROIT, Mich., July 16. — A man who was shot and killed during a hold-up of a cigar store here on Sunday afternoon was identified early yesterday morning as Edgar Grenon, of Ottawa, Ont., according to police officials. The police allege he was one of the men who participated in the hold-up. They have notified the Ottawa police.

Grenon was 34 years old and leaves a wife and several children in Ottawa. He was shot by Patrolman Isaac Farley, of the Detroit police force, who encountered the former Ottawa man and a companion, Martin Shea, as they were leaving the store in which the hold-up took place.

SIX PERSONS KILLED.

DELHI, British India, July 16.—(Canadian Press.) — Six persons were reported killed and more than one hundred wounded in rioting yesterday between Mohammadans and Hindus. The disturbance was caused by what is described as the aggressive attitude of the Mohammedans who persisted in carrying cows for sacrifice through the prohibited area where the Hindus live.

SCOTS DEMAND RETURN OF STONE OF SCONE TO HOLYROOD IN EDINBURGH

Symbol of Scotia's Nationhood Was Removed to Westminster by England's First Edward—Hilarity in Commons Over Legendary Origin of the Stone.

LONDON, July 16.— (Canadian Press Cable).—The House of Commons indulged in considerable hilarity Tuesday when David Kirkwood, labor member for Dumbarton, introduced a bill to provide for the removal of the Scottish Stone of Destiny from Westminster Abbey, where it is used in the coronation of British monarchs, to Holyrood Palace, Edinburgh.

Kirkwood said that according to tradition this stone was Jacob's pillow at Bethel when he was fleeing before his brother Esau. Jacob's family, Kirkwood continued, took the stone to Egypt and the kings of Egypt long possessed it.

Next the stone was taken to Ireland, Kirkwood said amid laughter. He admitted that he did not know whether this was true or not, but anyhow the stone, which was Scottish sandstone, lay at Scone for five centuries. Then it was brought from Scotland to England by Edward I.

The stone is a symbol of Scottish nationhood, Kirkwood continued. It was a venerable relic which rightfully should be in Scotland, not in England. Scotland had tried repeatedly to get the stone returned to that country, but the sentiment of London, he said, was against this.

Lord Apsley, conservative member for Southampton, opposing Kirkwood's bill, recalled that tradition stated that the stone was brought to Scone to be presented to the Pope in reward for his having converted Scotland to Christianity.

The god Odin, Lord Apsley explained, who was incensed at another deity who had been "making eyes" at his wife, threw the stone at the offending god's head, but fortunately it missed its mark and fell in Scotland.

This account of the history of the famous stone was greeted with laughter.

The bill was read a first time on a vote of 201 to 171.

OPPOSITION TO ARMAMENT PACT

Great Britain and Canada Submit Objections to League of Nations.

PROPOSE ALTERNATIVE

GENEVA, July 16. —(Canadian Press)—Following the rejection by the Washington Government of the League of Nations pact of mutual assistance, which provides for gradual reduction of world armaments, Great Britain and Canada now have come forward as opponents of the pact.

Both the British and Canadian Governments officially have filed their opinions with the League. Although the texts of the opinions are not yet available, it is understood that Great Britain in the course of a lengthy document after adversely criticizing various features of the pact, suggests an international conference for the discussion of the question of the establishment of demilitarized zones as the best means of obtaining the goal of disarmament. Great Britain also wants most emphasis laid on the prerogatives of the World Court of International Justice.

The impression is growing here that with the adverse comment emanating from various countries, the provisional League pact must be entirely revised and merged with other plans which made a reduction in armaments possible by increasing each nation's sense of national security.

PLEADED NOT GUILTY

EL PASO, Texas, July 16.—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, yesterday pleaded not guilty, waived preliminary hearing and refused to make any comment, when he was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner A. J. Schmidt on charges growing out of indictments returned by a special grand jury in the District of Columbia.

A TABLET UNVEILED

YORK, England, July 16.—(United Press).—Good will from her American God-child, the city of New York, was expressed on a tablet unveiled in the Ancient Guild Hall, here to-day, by the Duke of York, in the presence of a group of distinguished English and Americans. The tablet was a gift of citizens of New York city.

SCORE ESCAPED FLAMING WOODS

Clothes Burned Off Several Doukhobors in B. C. Forest Fire.

FOUR ARE MISSING

NELSON, B.C., July 16.—(By Canadain Press).—Four members of the Doukhobor colony who were reported Monday as being in the path of the forest fire which is raging in the vicinity of Porcupine Creek were still unaccounted for at noon yesterday. The missing men were in charge of 34 horses.

Fanned all night by a high wind, the fire was yesterday devastating great tracts of timber. Monday it destroyed two saw mills operated by the Doukhobors and Tuesday was heading toward the villages of Porto Rico and Clearwater. The flames were eating their way over the summits south of Nelson.

Several of the Doukhobors who were badly burned had their clothes burned off and some of them may lose their eyesight. The escape of a score or more of Doukhobors from death was miraculous.

The town of Ymir, which was almost surrounded by fire, is safe. The Yankee Girl mine in that vicinity, however, is still in danger of destruction.

Intermittent high winds are reported from all parts of the Kootenay country and many new small fires have started up.

The rescue of two women and two little girls at the Wilcox mine was made Monday night by E. Sapples, of Ymir, who made a dash through the flames in his automobile. The fire closed in on the party and Sapples was badly burned. There is promise of much needed rain.

SENATE'S AMENDMENT

OTTAWA, July 16 — (Canadian Press).—The Senate last night notified the House of Commons that it insisted on its amendment to the Industrial Disputes Act which recently the Commons failed to conur in. The amendment dealt with the appointment of a chairman of conciliation boards, where there was any difference of opinion between the representatives of the employers and the men The Minister of Labor objected to the Senate amendment and the Commons turned it down.

There was no debate.

WOULD SUSPEND PREFERENCE ON BRITISH GOODS

Canada Should Serve Notice That Trade Favors Must Be Reciprocal.

PROTECTION NEEDED.

Domestic Market Thrown Away Without Any Compensating Advantage.

OTTAWA, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—Continuing the debate in the Senate Tuesday on Senator David's resolution to suspend the British preference, Senator Beaubien said Canada had waited for twenty-seven years for British reciprocal trade. If a law repealing the preference was put into effect, he had no doubt it could contain a clause placing Britain on an equal basis in our market with the most favored nations. He agreed with Sir George Foster that Canada was suffering from industrial depression, as we had thrown away our domestic market without any compensating advantage.

But, he could not see "the ray of hope" that Sir George Foster did in reference to a preference for Canada in the British market. He quoted the resolutions adopted at the last Imperial Conference, which had been defeated by the new Government in Britain. He also quoted from Premier MacDonald, Hon. H. H. Asquith and Hon. J. H. Thomes to the effect that in Britain they believed we had adopted the British preference for our own benefit and not the benefit of Britain.

Need Protection.

He believed the trouble in Canada was due to the lack of adequate protection. Our protection had been seriously imperilled by the British preference, which now, with the depreciated British currency, amounted to nearly fifty per cent. Canada should serve notice on the British people that the preference cannot, or will not, last unless it is reciprocal. "We must let the British people frankly know that if someone has to go out of work, it will be British people and not the Canadian workman, if we can so legislate."

The next general election, he said, was not far away. It might be this autumn or it might be the next but the people should be impressed with what will happen in the eastern provinces if the present tariff conditions prevail. He could not support Sir George Foster's amendment, as it permitted great breaches in the wall of protection through the British preference. He would vote for the David resolution. Senator Belque moved the adjournment of the debate.

COBOURG AND THE DISTRICT

Ordered to Prepare the Voters' List—A Fine Camp Site.

I.O.O.F. OFFICERS

COBOURG, July 16.—Rev. D. B. Rogers, of Toronto, took the services at St. Peter's Church here on Sunday for Rev. Canon Sawers, who is away at St. Catharines attending the Summer School there, of which he is Dean. Among the Sunday School teachers who went from St. Peter's Church to this school are Misses Ruth MacCullagh, Helen Navin, Beatrice Sheppard and Marg. Macdonald. The sessions are being held at Ridley College, with a registration of about a hundred.

Other Church Services.

Rev. Adam Hamilton, of Scotland, more recently of Brantford, was again the preacher at the Cobourg and Coldsprings Congregational Churches on Sunday.

Rev. R. F. Stillman occupied his own pulpit at the Methodist Church, and Mr. C. F. Allison, of St. Catharines, had charge of the music.

Rev. W. A. Bremner was at St. Andrew's, and Rev. J. N. Norton at the Baptist Church on Sunday.

Fine Camp Site.

Cobourg Motor League has completed fixing up the fine camp site for travelling and tourist parties. It is situated at the east end of Victoria Park, near the lake, and is an ideal spot. Already quite a number of automobile parties have pitched their tents there.

Voters' Lists.

The fact that Town Clerk A. W. Young has been instructed by the Provincial Secretary's Department to prepare Part III. of the Cobourg voters' list looks as if the vote on the temperance plebiscite is to be taken shortly. It is expected that the list will be prepared from the assessment roll made last year.

Work at the Harbor.

Work at the east pier, where improvements are being made to the harbor, is progressing well. The cribs at this point have bulged considerably, and poles are required to keep them in shape while the concrete top is being laid. The work, when completed, will be quite an improvement to the harbor front.

Presentation to Benedict.

The choir of the Cobourg Methodist Church took occasion prior to his marriage to present Mr Albert Hircock with some silver, knives and forks. Mr. Frank Parkinson, organist and director, spoke appreciatively of Hr. Hircock's work in the choir, and Miss Alice Scarpe made the presentation. Mr. Hircock made appropriate reply.

Summer Tourists Here.

Many of the residential summer visitors are now in Cobourg for the summer. Mr. Dorwin Donnelly and family are occupying Mrs. Fitzbergh's cottage on King Street, known as the Poe Cottage. Mrs. Bakewell and family, Pittsburgh, are at Heathcote, the residence of Mr. Frank Hess; Mrs. Nimmick of Pittsburgh is occupying Mrs Tebbult's cottage on King Street East; Mrs. Miles, of Toronto, is occupying the Irwin cottage; Mrs. S. Haas, Toronto, is at her beautiful summer home, Strathmore; Mrs. Duggan, of Toronto, is at Cottesmere Hall, the Rowe family home.

CENSORSHIP FOR THE BRAZIL NEWS

Government and Rebels Avoid Limelight in Their Operations.

BUENOS AYRES, July 16 (United Press). — A complete censorship appears to have been clamped down on the news from Rio de Janeiro and Santos on the rebellion in the State of Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The United Press has received no despatches from its staff correspondent in either of these cities for more than twelve hours, and is informed that further messages will not be sent from Santos, where the military authorities are in complete control following the declaration of martial law.

Unconfirmed reports here state that several foreign correspondents in Brazil have been asked to refrain from further despatches on the situation unless specifically authorised by the Government.

Monte Video despatches state that press messages from South Brazilian points also have been stopped.

It is assumed, however, the correspondents may be allowed to file the regular official communiques which are issued from time to time in Rio de Janeiro by the Federal Government.

News that the Brazilian Government has put an absolute censorship on messages dealing with the rebellion in Sao Paulo is not surprising to persons well informed on the Brazilian situation.

The present administration in Rio de Janeiro, although it contains several former newspaper men, always has been notably hostile to the press presumably because of bitter attacks to which President Bernardes was subjected before he assumed office two years ago.

Shortly after Bernardes was inaugurated the National Congress adopted a press control law, said to be the most drastic in the world.

Newspapers in Rio complained that it amounted to a virtual perpetual censorship.

Trouble between the Government and the press is long standing and came to a head during the military rebellion in Rio two years ago this month. At that time the powerful morning newspaper Correco Da Manha was attacking the administration of President Pessoa, and its influence is considered largely responsible for the rebellion.

MUD TURTLE RETURNS.

OTTAWA, July 16 (Canadian Press). — A mud turtle that was kindly treated by the members of the 37th Woodroof Boy Scout Troop at Fitroy Harbour last summer, showed its faith in the Scouts by returning to their camp this year.

Patrol leader Peraggo found one to-day laying eggs near the camp fire.

On close examination he discovered that it was the same one that he had caught last summer, when he carved his initials and the date on its hard shell.

NOTED ACTRESS DEAD.

LONDON, July 16.— (Canadian Press.)—Winnifred Emery, actress, who in private life was Mrs. Cyril Mauds, died last evening at Bexhill, Sussex. She had been ill for a long time and last December her husband, who was starring at the Gaiety Theatre, in New York, was called to St. Moritz, Switzerland, on account of her serious condition.

A SECOND STRIKE IS NOT EXPECTED

Toronto Postal Workers Believe They Are the Victims.

TORONTO, July 16.—(Canadian Press). — There is little danger of second strike of postal workers. This is opinion prevailing in Labor circles and held by senior members of postal union, who believed government realized this and was taking advantage of men after strike had been unsuccessful.

"I do not know how men can stand another strike," said member of the union who has taken part in last two strikes. "There is little chance of it. Government appears to be taking advantage of men who are in straits after strike." There was very bitter feeling expressed last night about Labor Temple toward government among officials and members of trade unions.

DAVIS VERY NORMAL.

Late to Bed and Early to Rise Was One of His Slogans.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 16. — Miss Emma Davis and Miss Hilary G. Richardson, sisters of John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for president, left here on Monday for Clarksurg, W. Va., home of the Davis family.

Both said that while they realized the great honor given to their brother they also realized the very great responsibility of the office that he is seeking.

"My brother is a man to feel this responsibility," said Mrs. Richardson. "He is grave and quiet. Even as a boy he showed this. When his sisters played he often joined them, but he preferred to read. In spite of the fact that he now enjoys golf and riding, he has never been an athlete in any sense of the word.

"John says he was not an outdoor boy because he was not 'twins.' Being the only boy in the family we gave him an overdose of care.

"John Davis is a very normal individual. He has a sense of humour and a healthy curiosity. 'Late to bed and early to rise,' is one of his slogans.

"There is nothing that he enjoys more than books unless it is music. As a boy in college he played the violin and did a little in the way of singing. Now the music of the family is supplied by his daughter, who has an attractive voice for Scotch ballads and negro spirituals. Like any father, John is interested in her work.

AN OPEN VERDICT.

Identity of Slayer in Timmins Case Not Disclosed at Inquest.

TIMMINS, July 16 (Canadian Press). — The whole quesion of the identity of the individual who slew Mike Lashuk, whose battered body, drenched in coal oil, and with a lighted candle burning between the knees, was found in his house here early on the mornig of 4th July, has been thrown open by the open verdict returned by the coroner's jury which investigated the double tragedy.

Mary Lashuk, the other victim, came to her death by drowning, believed to have been suicide, according to the other part of the verdict at the inquest.

The jury concluded that no definite finding could be reached in view of the uncertainty surrounding the entire case.

No direct evidence was presented to indicate that the woman had murdered Lashuk, and there was also nothing to inicate that any splash was heard in the vicinity of the Mattagami Bridge, from which structure she was supposed to have jumped into the river.

NEWS TRENT RIVER

New Visitors at the Cottages — Personal Mention.

TRENT RIVER, July 16.—Rev. Mr. Bick of Wooler took charge of the services Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Church.

Rev. D. R. Clare of Marmora will preach next Sunday here.

Miss Ruth Fairbrother of Gananoque is spending a week at their summer home.

Mrs. Grant of Toronto was a recent visitor with Mrs. Tom Lloyd at "Isle of View."

Miss Jessie Mitchell, R. W., arrived Saturday from Toronto to spend the holidays with her mother at "Raeden."

Owing to the heavy taxation and not being allowed to extend the hours for dancing at the pavillion, the members of the Bon-Ton Orchestra have decided to run three nights a week.

The following from Campbellford spent over Sunday at their cottages: Mr. and Mrs. Riendeau and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McKeel and Clarence, Mr. and Mrs. Dolman.

Mrs. Plummer and Mr. and Mrs. H. Coxwell and children of Campbellford are holidaying at their cottage.

Guests at the Christie cottage: Messrs. Fred. Gain, Jack Christie and Mr. Longbottom, of Toronto; Miss Helen Bourne and Billie Bourne, of Providence, R. I.

Members of the Masonic Order went to Round Lake to attend the funeral of one of their late brothers, Matt. White, whose death occurred Friday. Interment at Maple Grove Cemetery.

BARRIE GIRL MOVED.

Miss Margaret Murchison Suffers From Reaction of Trying Experience.

BARRIE, July 16. — Miss Margaret Murchison, who was found near Brechin on Monday, three days after she was thrown into Lake Simcoe from a canoe, was able to be moved to her home in Barrie yesterday afternoon.

D. G. Murchison, her father, stated that her condition was not so favorable last night and that it would be several days before she could be interviewed.

Reaction has set in, now that the tension has been released, and there is no need for her to exercise the splendid nerve which enabled her to live through her terrible experience.

Prior to the accident Miss Murchison had been in very delicate health and this fact makes it all the more miraculous that she was found alive.

It is now feared that the harrowing experience may aggravate the condition.

Mr. Murchison said last night he is now almost certain that his daughter landed at Concord Point on Saturday, and spent Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night in the marsh where she was found.

She declares that time and again she called for help, but no answer came to her cries.

Once she saw a light, probably that of a search party, pass close by, but she was unable to attract the attention of any one. At this time she was too weak to walk.

A MASONIC HOME.

Committee Will Report Progress at Meeting in Toronto.

TORONTO, July 16.—(Canadian Press.) — To hundred thousand members of the Masonic Order spread over the Province of Ontario, who will be represented at the meeting of the Grand Lodge, which opens this morning at Yonge street temple, is an event of the greatest importance. W. J. Drope, of Grimsby, Grand Master, will preside over all sessions and will make a special address to 2,,000 deleagtes covering the onward march of Masonry in this jurisdiction during the past year. W. M. Logan, of Hamilton, Grand Secretary, with Grand Treasurer E. C. Malone, K.C., and the chairmen of the various committees, have some interesting matters to bring before the Grand Lodge, but there is nothing that is likely to bring on protracted debate.

R. B. Dargavel is again bringing up the proposal of W. N. Ponton, K.C., Belleville, for establishment of a large Masonic home, but the Grand Lodge is not expected to do more than advance the project another step by naming a special committee to handle the scheme. More than two years ago the various lodges throughout the province were approached on the scheme and since then R. B. Dargavel's committee has been gathering information as to the cost of construction and maintenance.

THE MOTHER COLLAPSED.

Six Year Old Son Was Badly Injured by Automobile.

TORONTO, July 16. —(Canadian Press).—After seeing her six year old son, John, struck down and seriously injured by automobile on Edward street, last evening, Mrs. John Sherminto became hysterical, and running out on roadway, threw herself down in front of the car. When her boy was picked up and rushed in another motor car to hospital, the frantic mother ran toward her home pulling her hair and screaming. Reaching the sidewalk, she collapsed and an ambulance was summoned to remove her to the hospital.

Mrs. Sherminto was sitting with other women in front of her home, 48 1-2 Edward street. John was playing on the south side of the street. He started to run across the street, and in dong so was struck with terrific force by the front of an automobile and hurled to the pavement. His skull was fractured and his teeth and gums torn. At St. Michael's hospital last night his condition was regarded as dangerous.

Sound of the brakes of the car attracted the mother, who looked in time to see her son fall to the pavement. Screaming she went running to car and collapsed in front of its wheel. Neighbors helped her up and were taking her to her home when she suddenly collapsed on the sidewalk.

POLICE BUREAU.

United States Lags Behind Canada in Centralizing Information.

MONTREAL, July 16. —After almost twenty years' work, police chiefs of the United States have persuaded the Federal Government to create a central clearing house of police information and criminal identification similar to that functioning at Ottawa, members of the International Association of Chiefs of Police were told yesterday at their convention now in session here.

It was pointed out at the same time that the American chiefs were at a disadvantage as compared with their Canadian colleagues. In the Dominion the law requires that all chiefs shall send information to Ottawa; in the United States laws to that end will have to be passed in 48 States. In the meantime the convention resolved to support the central bureau and co-operate with it to the fullest extent.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Protest Heard in Connection With Third Baseman—Personals.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 16.—Some time ago a protest was fyled against Moore, the third baseman of the Brighton baseball team, and at a meeting of the executive held at Warkworth the matter was disposed of in Brighton's favor by a 4-3 vote. Orland, Roseneath and Hastings voted in favour of barring Moore, while Brighton and Colborne and Hastings were in favor of his retention. Campbellford was not represented at the meeting. Brighton registered three votes on this question, as President McKee and Secretary Lapp both belong to that team. This was objected to, some of the members of the executive retaining that Brighton, like all other clubs, should have one vote only, but the objection was overruled.

If Campbellford had been represented at the meeting the represenative would have voted with Brighton and Colborne so that if the president and secretary had not voted the result would have been a tie. President McKee could then have broken the deadlock, so that the outcome would have been the same.

This matter was carried on appeal to the O.B.A. and that body rules that Moore can play with the unanimous consent of the clubs in the league, something that is not likely to be secured.

The objection to Moore was that he could not qualify under the rule which sets January 1st as the outside date for taking up residence. Moore is a telegraph operator and was transferred to Brighton by the C.P.R. in February of this year.

Campbellford did not join in the protest, believing it is poor policy to seek to weaken an opposing team by objecting to one of its best players on a technicality.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bertrand of Meyersburg, and their daughter, Miss Helen, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Donaldson and son James, and Mrs. James Adams and daughter, Miss Sarah, motored to Wellington Sunday to visit their son, William, who was recently transferred from Campbellford to the branch of the Standard Bank in Wellington. Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Wright and baby, Dorothy, Belleville, are spending a week at the home of Mr. and MCrs. Fred Lang, Queen street.

Mr. Earle Craig and little daughter Agnes of Detroit, formerly of Campbellford, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lang.

Mr. Craig has returned to Detroit, but Agnes is remaining longer to visit her little friend, Ina Lang.

AMERICAN FLIERS LAND IN ENGLAND

Will Receive the Legion of Honor From the French.

LEBOURGET, France, July 16—(United Press).—In perfect formation, escorted as far as the English Channel by five French planes, the American round the world fliers left for London shortly after 11 a.m. today and later landed at Croydon.

Upon reaching the channel, the world flight airmen were picked up by the regular Paris London express which guided them across to England and to Croydon Aerdrome, a few miles outside the British capital.

"We all feel greatly benefitted by the rest we had in Paris," Lieut. Lowell Smith, commanding the flight, told the United Press, just before climbing into his plane. "We were better received, than at any place so far."

The American airmen will receive the Legion of Honor from Ambassador Jusserand at Washington, if the American government consents.

It is a good plan to give linoleum a coat of white spirit varnish, which will dry at once, leaving a fine polish.

WHY THE DELAY?

Ontario is still waiting for an announcement from Premier Ferguson as to the date of the plebicite on the Ontario Temperance Act.

Mr. Ferguson was reported to have said at Prescott on July 12th, that the date would be announced to-day.

Now it transpires that his reference to the question was much a "jocular one."

The people of the Province, however, want something more from the Premier than joking on the question.

It is a matter of vital interest.

Both sides of the temperance question and a whole lot of people who cannot be described as being on either side want to know when the vote is to be taken and they want to know the form in which the questions will be submitted.

One Toronto newspaper says the date is to be October 3rd.

That may be right—but the [illegible] something more definite than a newspaper guess.

There has been enough [illegible] silence in regard to this very serious question.

It is time the mystery was dissipated and the silence broken.

Premier Ferguson has the floor.

An attentive audience comprised of the whole population of the Province is waiting for his announcement.

Why the delay Mr. Premier?

OVERCHARGING VISITORS.

Complaints have reached the Examiner that in some cases on Saturday last there was evidenced an inclination to take advantage of the opportunity to increase prices for soft drinks and other refreshments, evidently under the impression that visitors on such an occasion would not mind paying more than usual.

It is not a newspaper's place perhaps to tell people how to run their own business.

Yet when charges of this kind are made the matter becomes the business of the whole community inasmuch as the reputation of a city is often injured by such a practice.

To increase the tariff of prices simply because of an influx of visitors is a short-sighted policy that generally has a boomerang tendency.

This is true whether the visitors merely come for a day or whether they are tourists here for a fortnight or more.

The worst thing that could happen to a community is to have the impression go out that its business and refreshment places are in the habit of gouging their patrons whenever the opportunity presents itself.

Once let a district get a reputation along that line and tourists and visitors will begin to give it a wide berth.

In Lindsay during the recent old boys' celebration the committee was careful to impress upon the proprietors of stores and restaurants that there should be no deviation from usual prices during the week, and these instructions were religiously observed.

That was good business; just as overcharging visitors would have been very bad business.

TO SAVE A FEW SECONDS.

Down in Quebec the other day an automobile was hit by a train at a level crossing, and three occupants were killed and others seriously injured.

The cause of the accident is furnished by the statement that the driver of the car thought he had time to get over the crossing before the train reached it.

In other words, he entered into a race with the train, miscalculated the respective speeds of his own car and the locomotive and arrived at the crossing exactly at the same time as the train, running twenty-five miles an hour, thundered over it.

If motor drivers could only be made to realize that instead of racing a train they are really racing with death, there would be not very many level crossing accidents to record.

Some newspaper paragrapher has said that a man will rush across a busy street, dodging street cars and automobiles, missing accidents by a hair's breadth—and then stop on the other side to light a cigar.

The point of that paragraph should not be missed.

The average man who risks his life running across a street has usually no particular reason to hurry.

Similarly, the average motorist who gambles with tragedy at a railway crossing is not as a rule in any need of taking such chances.

A few seconds' wait to make sure of safety would not be missed so far as his journey is concerned.

Yet many of them refuse to wait—preferring to risk death.

TOMORROW'S CARNIVAL.

The Rotary Carnival at the Exhibition Grounds tomorrow should appeal to the people of Peterborough not only as a function full of unusual and enjoyable entertainment features but as an opportunity to help in a humanitarian effort designed to give the crippled children of Peterborough a new chance in life.

Fifteen children seriously crippled from some cause or another and likely to grow up in that condition unless speedily treated by specialists in such cases have been taken under Rotary's wing.

Some of them are already under treatment in the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto; others are to go there, and the balance will receive the necessary attention at home.

There are bright hopes that all these youngsters will be greatly benefitted and complete cures are looked for in some cases.

The whole community should be behind a work of that kind—and the whole community has an opportunity to get behind the work tomorrow.

For those who can attend during the afternoon there is a fine programme of horse races, softball and baseball games.

In the evening a carnival midway will be in full swing with plenty of entertainment for old and young.

Incidentally, there will be no admission charge after five o'clock.

The community is invited to come down and have a few hours' fun—and at the same time brighten the future of some of Peterborough's crippled children.

If you can't see the sports in the afternoon go down and have tea with the Rotary-annes and have a part in the night's amusement.

COMMUNITY PLAY.

We cannot help thinking, and also hoping, that this community singing is a sign of the times, says the Kingston Standard. Its aim is to get people to enjoy together the delights of song: but it is not the only instance of this "community," there are also the "Block Dances" which have become popular in Kingston lately, and have been so for some time past in many other places: they might very well be called Community Dances. Then it will be noticed that there is a big Government move in the United States in which Canada is taking part, to bring about what might be described as Community Play. The idea is to get all the people to take part in sport: not to go and look at a few men playing but to play themselves. We have not so far seen any plans mentioned as to how it is hoped to bring this about, but there are clever brains at work at it.

What does all this mean? Does it mean that men are beginning to think that there is something else in life but trade and commerce, and the daily grind of business in order to make money, that there are other things worth while, such as singing and dancing and playing?

It is probable that in olden times people thought more along these lines than we do: what did the term "Merrie England" indicate? Man's duty is without doubt to work, but that does not mean that he has to work all the time, and that he should not throw himself into the relaxations of it as strongly as he does into it. Our ideas may be vain ones; but at all events it is pleasant to indulge in the dream that there may be signs of a time coming when nations will spend time and money in competing with others in singing, dancing and sport on a huge scale, instead of spending these on devilish plans to murder and slaughter each other in wars.

IF YOUTH HAD KNOWN.

Politics, said the late President Wilson, is the science of the ordered progress of society. It is, therefore, or should be, the chief, as it is the oldest, of the sciences. When the first village community was formed and the headmen of the village sat in conference about the village fire at sundown, the foundations of political science were elaid. From that unknown day to this progress has been continuous, though those who showed the way may have died unhonored and unsung.

At one time it seemed that a great stride forward would be made, that the lessons of self-sacrifice and Christian charity taught by the Great War had so inspired mankind that they could not well be forgotten. For in those days moral meant more than physical courage and a mind at peace gave serenity to the body in war. Earthly possessions and physical endowments were of no avail, while a clear conscience was everything. In those days men with great worldly advantages often brought shame on their fellows and those of humble origin honor. Then was the opportunity to classify men afresh, to set in their right places those who did their duty willingly, grudgingly or not at all. Indeed many thought this was to be so, for had not the well-fed, prosperous politicians who occasionally visited the fighting troops to breathe into them the divine afflatus of patriotism, told them so over and over again? Did they not dwell with pathetic emphasis on the surrender by them of the sceptre of leadership to the young men who were bearing the burden and heat of the day? Who can blame those young men for becoming casualties in this barrage of eloquence and returning, as they believed, to a world fit for heroes to dwell in?

Yet the opportunity was never grasped, Youth never took hold of the sceptre, and the Old Men, finding themselves in charge, rubbed their hands and said, "Now we can get back to business again." For it is a mysterious and melancholy fact that the war generation has not yet provided the world with a leader in peace. Who can say why this is so? Was it because the best, the real leaders, had been taken, as the fighting man's superstition used to have it? Was it reaction after the great strain, which so unsettled them that when they at length renounced the flesh pots, they found their chance was gone? Was it, in fact, because they did not take hold and the Old Men were left to carry on? In any one of these explanations the truth might lie, if it had only been leadership in material things that was in question. But it was something higher than that. It was the moral leadership of the world, which neither Age nor Youth recognized, that was left on the field of battle. The Young Men threw away the one asset which made them immeasurably superior and stepped down to the level of the men who had stayed behind.

And herein lies the great tragedy of the war. The material losses, the factories destroyed, the ships sunk, the impoverishment of the world are as nothing beside the abandonment of the ideals with which Youth fought the battle of civilization. In these days of German evasion and international bankruptcy, cynics sometimes ask—Who won the war? The answer is that no one won it, and the world lost it. Politically, in the sense of Woodrow Wilson's words, we are infinitely worse off than we were on August 4, 1914. Thousands whose hearts responded instantly to the call of duty have been lost to us and thousands who knew no other inspiration than self have acquired substance and power. Is it surprising that the outlook, both nationally and internationally, at times appears so dark? —Montreal Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Remeber the crippled children and patronize the Rotary Carnival tomorrow.

Rotary is taking care of the city's crippled children and helping the under privileged boys. What is Peterborough going to do for Rotary tomorrow in return for these efforts.

It looks as if Parliament needs another Henry Ford to "get the boys out of the trenches" on Parliament Hill before Labour Day.

It is surprising to find that the Finnish athletes train on fish. Judging by the way they run you'd think the Finns lived on antelope.

Democratic Convention Affected Northern Ontario Tourist Resorts.

NRTH BAY, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The long sessions of the Democratic National Convention in New York are given by railway tourist men as one reason why Northern Ontario resorts have not filled up as quickly as last year. One man who has just visited all the resorts in the north says that there are heavy reservations for August but July business has been only fair many of the yearly regulars writing that owing to convention business their plans for July were sadly disarranged.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 15.—With today's late run of cattle, there would be fully 2,500 head on sale today and with the exception of butchers' cows trade was much slower than on Monday. Butchers cows sold freely, the medium to good kind bringing $4 to $4.50 for loads. A load of well rounded out 1,200 lb. steers was bought by C. Lunness for Arnolds at $7.25 a cwt. and this was 25 cents a cwt. drop from last week. The exporters took one load of steers 1,340 lbs. each at $7.25 and this was estimated to be 50 cents a cwt. lower. Prices all round were accepted as down a full 25 cents a cwt.

Some short keeps sold, but the top for the best was not above $6.70 a cwt. and 800 to 900 lb. stockers of just fair quality brought $5 a cwt. Butchers 'steers and heifers of less than good to choice quality were hard to place and users rather than prices controlled the demand. The beef trade is decidely flat and packers do not want to load up. The exporters are endeavoring to secure additional space and if this can be done they will buy some of the surplus cattle. A few baby beeves sold this morning from $6.75 to $8 and one extra good heifery cow at $6.60 a cwt. At noon there did not appear to be much prospect of clearing the yards today.

Calf prices were not much changed, but there was considerable snap to the market with some buying for Buffalo. Top calves made 9½ cents and any good ones 9 cents. Good mediums were up to 8 cents and poor ones down to 6 cents. Boning calves sold at 4 to 4½ cents.

The cut on buck lambs came into effect today. Choice ewe lambs sold at 14½ to 15 ents a pound and bucks at 12½ to 13 cents. Ewe sheep are wanted for the country from 6 to 7 cents, but heavy sheep are selling from 4 to 5 cents.

Packers' bids on hogs was not accepted on Monday and no sales were reported below $7.75 a cwt. This was the price today and there was a tendency for prices to strengthen with sellers asking $8 f.o.b.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 16 (Canadian Press). — Profit-taking sales of huge volumes brought about a setback in wheat values yesterday after the market had again broken all high price records of the season. rought reports from Canada gave the market an excited early advance. but indications of rain tended to stimulate the sellers.

The close was unsettled, 3-8c to 1 5-8c net lower, September $1.21 5-8 to $1.21 7-8 and December $1.24 5-8 to $1.25, with corn 1c to 1 1-8c down, oats 1 1-4c to 1 1-2c off; and provisions unchanged to 20c down.

With Winnipeg, Liverpool, and Buenos Ayres quotations all showing extraordinary upturns, the wheat market opened here with a tremendous rush of buying, and with Canadian weather conditions eclipsing all other factors. The impetus of wholesale orders to purchase carried prices to the day's top level before the first hour of trading was at an end, but then a battle royal ensued that lasted until the finish of the Board of rade session, with fluctuations so rapid at times that the blackboards above the brokers' heads failed outright to keep even with the lightning changes in the pit.

One of the strongest rallies of the day in the wheat market came after reports were circulated telling of black rust in Minnesota and the Dakotas and of excessive dry weather in Montana.

There were signs (too, that foreign buying was absorbing much of the wheat sold to realise profits.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

A TRIP TO FRANCE

"Well, well, well," said a new voice.

"All aboard for Turkey!" called Johnny Jump Up.

"Turkey!" cried Nick, sitting up in bed suddenly. "Is it Thanksgiving time?"

"Are you joking, Johnny?" asked Nancy, sitting up in her little bed, too.

"Of course, I'm not joking," said Johnny Jump Up. "I'm not talking about the some kind of turkey that you are. I'm talking about a far country called Turkey. It's away across the sea and the Turks live there. Would you like to go?"

"Oh, yes!" said the Twins quickly

"Then scramble into your clothes, and here are the magic shoes," said Johnny.

And in about two shakes of a dickey bird's tail, the three tiny travelers were out in the magic garden, where a lilac bush grew.

Sitting astride one of the blossoms was a little Turkish fairy, bobbing his head at them in a friendly greeting.

"Hello, Nancy and Nick," he called." "I've brought you some tickets for your journey. The Fairy Queen sent me a radio message across the sea to bring you some tickets. That's why I'm here."

"Oh, thank you!" said Nancy' "Is Turkey a nice place?"

"Of course it is," said the tiny Turk. "Lilacs came from Turkey in the first place and the gardens are full of them. Just wait until you see what real lilacs are!"

"Well, well, well!" said a new voice. "Are you going to stand here all night talking That's the way some people read their letters. They wonder and wonder what's inside— who it's from and what it says 'n' everything—and all they have got to do is to open it and find out. What's the use of talking when all you've got to do is to go and see for yourselvs?"

Everybody laughed, for it was only Tommy Titmouse, the little bird, and his heart was kinder than his tongue.

"We're coming, Tommy!" said Nick.

"Here are the tickets," said the tink Turk.

So after Tommy Titmouse had punched them with his little sharp bill, the Twins and Johnny Jump Up got on his back and away he flew.

"Why, it's different from any country we have ever seen," said Nancy when they got to Turkey. "What queer shapes the houses are!"

"They look like turnips upside down," said Nick.

"This is the city that's so hard to spell," said Johnny Jump Up. "All the boys and girls in school miss it in spelling. It is call Con-stan-ti-no-ple. It is a beautiful city, though, but very very old."

The Twins could see down into the gardens from where they sat. Many of them high walls around them, shut off from the street, and they were full of flowers. The air was sweet with lilacs just as the tiny Turk had said.

Next the titmouse took them out to the country where things were growing, fields of tobacco and corn and orchards of mulberry trees where silk worms were feeding.

"That's all," said the little bird. "Let's go home!"

So back they went to the moonlit garden. The Twins thanked Johnny Jump Up, the tiny Turk and the titmouse and climbing the rose vine, took off their magic shoes and tumbled into bed.

Paul In Possession

By RUBY AYRES

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The story thus far:

When John Collinge died, he left behind him his adopted daughter, Wanda Griffin, a headstrong, passionate and overbearing girl, and his son Paul, with whom he had quarrelled, and who has gone abroad.

After the death, Paul comes home for the reading of the will, and to Wanda's surprise she finds she is disinherited, and that he is the heir.

Paul dislikes Wanda intensely because of her behaviour, and tells her that she must leave the house immediately; she refuses and, in order to stay there, pretends to be ill.

At last matters reach a crisis, and Paul orders Wanda out of the house. She goes up to London with Mrs. Garnet, her one friend, with whom she is to live.

The day after she arrives, Clare's brother Harry, the "black sheep" of the family, comes home unexpectedly, and falls in love with Wanda. Paul comes to see Wanda and she realizes, all too late, that it is Paul she really loves. He objects to her friendship with Harry Courtney, whom he distrusts. Wanda is furious at his interference and Paul loses his temper and says, "As I am paying the piper, I have some right to call the tune." He does his best to cover his mistake but knows that he is not believed.

TO-DAY'S INSTALMENT.

XXVIII—"HOW MUCH-"

Clare Garnet was making her usual elaborate preparations for bed that night when Wanda tapped at the door.

"Please let me in. I want to speak to you."

"I'm tired—very tired, Wanda—won't to-morrow do?" Clare pleaded. She rather dreaded a tete-a-tete interview with Wanda; there had been something in the girl's eyes that evening that made her vaguely apprehensive. Wanda's answer came peremptorily.

"I want to speak to you to-night."

Mrs. Garnet sighed. She wondered why life would never run as smoothly for her as it did for other people; she carefully drew her fair hair about her shoulders and powdered her nose before she opened the door.

Wanda came in looking like an avenging angel. She had changed her evening gown for a loose bedwrap of bizarre coloring, and she had brushed her bobbed hair till it stood up all over her head like a cloud.

"I'm very tired, dear," Mrs. Garnet began again plaintively, but Wanda disregarded her as she came in and shut the door with a click.

"How much has Paul Collinge paid you to have me here?"

Mrs. Garnet gave a stifled scream.

"Wanda! how dare you insult me?"

"I'm not insulting you, unless the truth is an insult. I thought you were my friend. I thought you really wanted me here, and that you were taking me out of affection. It seems to me," she broke out with sudden passion, "that I have not a real friend in the world!"

Mrs. Garnet began to cry softly.

"You are very unkind to come and bully me like this. I told you I was tired, and my head aches dreadfully. Besides, there is not the least justification for it. I don't know who has been telling you such cruel lies about me, but——"

Wanda seized her hand and looked down into her tear-stained face.

"Are they lies?" she asked tensely. She would have given her soul to know that they were. She was realizing for the first time how utterly alone she was. Nobody really cared for her; no one could offer her a disinterested friendship.

Mrs. Garnet continued sobbing.

"After all the years we have been friends," she wailed.

Wanda almost shook yer in her eagerness.

"Are they lies?" she asked again.

"Of course they are. Don't you know me better than that?"

"Look at me then! Let me look in your eyes, Clare, and I shall know."

Mrs. Garnet tried to free herself.

"You're bruising my wrist, Wanda."

"Look at me then!"

With a supreme effort Mrs. Garnet raised her eyes, and for a moment the two women looked steadily at one another, then with an angry laugh of contempt Wanda turned away.

"I don't believe you," she said. She stood for a moment with clenched hands, her breath coming fast, then she asked again, "How much has he paid you?"

Clare tried one last evasion.

"Who told you? Some mischief-maker, I suppose?"

"Paul told me himself."

Mrs. Garnet gave a gasp. "Paul told you?" she said incredulously.

"Yes. He did not mean to, but he was angry with me and let it out. You may as well tell me how much he gave you, because I mean to find out."

To-morrow: Clare's Confession.

THE OTTAWA HOUSE.

Redistribution Bill Makes Painful Progress Across the Stage.

OTTAWA, July 16. Canadian Press. — Representation in the House of Commons occupied that body for most of yesterday's sitting.

The redistribution bill, which is in framing, has claimed the attention of committee of house throughout most f toch session passed slowly through committee stage with formal opposition from the Conservative benches on the ground of disparity between urban and rural units of representation, and protests from several members in Ontario and Quebec against renaming and re-grouping of constituencies in those provinces.

There were one or two amendments proposed, most of them not even reaching a vote.

The emphatic protest of the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen against the disparity between the city and country representation was the feature of the debate.

Leader of the opposition pointed out that in Ontario and Quebec this disparity had become two to one.

The Premier submitted that the advantage cities held in having nine-tents of the Cabinet representation, offset this disparity.

The bill increases the number of constituencies from 235 to 245.

The provincial representation in the next parliament will be numerically as follows:

Ontario, 82 members; Quebec 65; Nova Scotia 14; New Brunswick 11; Manitoba, 17; British Columbia, 14; Prince Edward Island, 4; Saskatchewan, 21; Alberta 16; Yukon 1.

MARITIME COMPLAINT.

Inadequate Accommodation Furnished by C.N.R., Senator Says.

OTTAWA, July 16. — (Canadian Press).—In the Senate today Senator McLennan Tuesday drew the attention of the Senate to the inadequate accommodation furnished to the trade of eastern Nova Scotia and Newfoundland by the Canadian National Railways and inquired if it was the intention of the Government to provide adequate accommodation. So far we had sucessfully competed for the Newfoundland trade, but if we had adequate facilities we could improve our position. The docks at Sydney, he claimed were inadequate The National railways had no wharf at Sydney, at the terminus of twenty thousand miles of railway.

Senator Dandurand said he would bring the matter to the attention of his colleagues, and would transmit Senator McLennan's statement with a recommendation that they be given consideration to Sir Henry Thornton.

FIRE AWAKENS FAMILY IN NIGHT

Spontaneous Combustion of Oily Rags Cause of Fire, Says Chief Gimblett.

Mr. H. M. Bishop, 553 Homewood Ave., was awakened shortly after 4 o'clock this morning, to find the frame kitchen at the rear of his home in flames. Some oily rags caught fire, burning some shelves and a hole in the roof.

The blaze was extinguished by the use of chemicals, and Chief George Gimblett attributed its origin to spontaneous combustion.

At 3 p.m. yesterday the brigade was called to the vacant house of Mr. J. Chouinard, 251 Princess Street. The firemen found one portion of the roof in flames. The fire was quenched before it had assumed extensive proportions. Chief Gimblett declared that a chimney spark from a nearby dwelling must have caused the fire, in view of the circumstances.

"Y" BOYS REPORT A GREAT TIME

Enjoy Life at Rotary Camp on Clear Lake.

HEAR RADIO.

"Y" Camp at Clear Lake is in full swing. The advance guard, headed by Mr. F. McNeely, arrived on Sunday afternoon and found the camp in splendid condition. The following afternoon the boys, thirty-four in number, arrived at South Beach by motor, and were met by Mr. McNeely with a motor boat and two large canoes, into which the joyous crowd piled for the last few miles of their journey, across the lake, arriving at Camp Rotary safe and sound.

Supper was served and the boys afterwards explored the camp to the utmost ,and did not go to bed until late, the excitement even getting them up at 5 a.m.

Monday, however, proved too strenuous for them, and after a long hike and game of soft ball, some of them were eager to go to bed, some as early as eight o'clock. By ten-thirty the camp was silent and at six o'clock the following morning not a sound could be heard.

Hear Radio Concert.

The camp was indebted on Tuesday night to an, as yet, unknown party, for a very pleasant musical programme by radio from across the lake, almost a mile away. Several of the selections were very distinct, among them being the sacred song, "He Shall Feed His Flock." The programme was broadcasted by WBZ, Springfield, Mass.

The camp will have a radio of their own, installed by Howie Young, this week, and in that way the camp will try to return the entertainment. Mr. McNeely contemplates a trip across the lake to thank the unknown owners of the radio.

The launch "Theda" is expected to appear at the camp to-day, an unforseen occurrence preventing her from being there at the camp opening.

Camp Inspection.

The camp was inspected by T. D. Patton, of Toronto, territorial secretary of the Y.M.C.A., yesterday afternoon. The gentleman had supper with the boys and returned to Peterborough early in the evening. Mr. J. Adair kindly drove Mr. Patton to and from Kawartha and the journey across the lake was made by boat.

All maps and illustrations specially drawn; all material specially compiled. Think of this feature: All your mileage figured out for you over the entire Province—the first time this has been attempted in the history of motoring.

In "The Dunlop Trail" you find every River and Lake trip in Ontario that has a schedule; also special Train trips; combination Auto, Boat and Train trips; the first complete list ever published of places in Ontario where Summer Hotels are located; every Golf Club and Camp Site in the Province, and real information, where you want it, about steamer and ferry services for taking autos aboard.

IN LAKEFIELD AND DISTRICT

Anglican Young People Held Picnic to Wallace's Point —A Presentation.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

LAKEFIELD, July 15. — The fourth annual picnic of the Peterborough District Council of the Anglican Young People was held at Wallace's Point on 10th July, both afternoon and evening, and was a decided success. The weather was rather threatening, but late in the afternoon it cleared, and the Council's good luck as to weather held out. There were representatives from St. John's, St. Luke's, and All Saints', Peterborough, St. Thomas', Millbrook, St. Paul's Perytown, and St. John's, Lakefield.

The young people came in cars, and spent a pleasant afternoon enjoying the various attractions of the park and in renewing acquaintance with members of other branches.

About 5.30 tea was served, nearly one hundred partaking of an appetising meal served in the shade of the giatn maples which border the high road.

Mr. Robert Stone, of Millbrook, acted as convenor of the Refreshment Committee. In the early evening the company adjourned to a large sports field, where races were run off. Mr. J. Adams, of All Saints', Peterborough, acted as convenor of the Sports Committee, Mr. Robert Stone, of Millbrook, being the official starter.

The following are the results of the races:

Thread the needle race, ladies and gentlemen — Miss Lillian Summers and Mr. Bert Summers, St. John's, Lakefield.

Men's wheelbarrow race— Messrs. Stuart Hall and Harold Hutchinson, St. John's, Peterborough.

Ladies' 75-yard dash—Miss Isobel Connelly, All Saints', Peterborough.

Men's 100-yard dash—Mr. Gordon Ham, St. John's, Peterborough.

Running broad jump....Mr. Gordon Ham, St. John's, Peterborough.

Ladies' walking race—Miss Connelly, All Saints', and Mrs. Hepburn, St. Luke's, equal.

Men's three-legged race — Misses Melton and Naomi Horne, St. John's Peterborough.

Men's relay race — Messrs. Ham and Fuller, of St. John's, Peterborough.

After the presentation of prizes the young people repaired to the pavilion for a jolly little dance. Those not dancing enjoyed the opportunity afforded for conversation and social intercourse. About nine o'clock those who lived furthest away broke off from the festive scene and started on the "long, long trail to home, sweet home." Clergymen present were Rev. G. J. Bousfield and Rev. Maurice Kingsford, of Peterborough, Rev. Walter Cox of Lakefield, Rev. Williams of Millbrook, and Rev. J. G. Madeley of Gore's Landing.

A Presentation.

On Wednesday evening after the weekly prayer service in the Baptist Church a very happy event took place when Miss Stabler was asked to go forward while Mrs. H. Hunter read an address of appreciation for many faithful services rendered in the activities of the church, and Rev. T. L. White presented a purse of money.

Miss Stabler received a genuine surprise, but made a graceful reply, thanking her friends for their remembrance. The following is the address:

Lakefield, 9th July, 1924.

Miss Stabler.

Dear Sister,—It was with the deepest regret that the church, at the April business meeting, accepted your resignation of the duties of secretary.

You had held the office so long, and had filled it so efficiently, that you and your office seemed inseparable.

Rest assured that the Lord, Whom you have thus served, notes everything done in His name and for His service.

We, the members and friends of the church, ask you to accept this little token of our appreciation, and may you in the years to come, enjoy fuller and deeper service for Him—till He comes.

Yours on behalf of the Church,
Pastor, Thos. L. White.
Clerk, Bruce Kidd.
Senior Deacon, Alex. MacDonald.

Wedding Bells.

A wedding which possesses a considerable amount of local interest is reported in the Toronto papers, taking place on July 5th. The bridegroom is an old Lakefield boy and well known in the village; he is a grandson of Mrs. Peter Baptie.

"The First Christian church, decorated with peonies and orange blossoms, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, when Ezit Annie, only daughter of Mrs. Sarah Moore and the late William Moore, was united in marriage to Stuart Marshall Bowen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bowen. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Felton. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. John Moore, looked charming in a white crepe romaine gown, over which a beautiful lace veil, caught with orange blossoms, was arranged. She carried a shower bouquet of ophelia roses and lily of the valley. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Marjorie Moore, in a pretty orchid crepe frock, with leghorn hat and carried a bouquet of mauve orchids and baby's breath. Mr. Vernon C. Hill was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Edwin Bowen and Mr. Jack Gable. Miss Evelyn Hansford rendered the wedding music, and Miss Gladys Glover of Oshawa, sang "Oh Promise Me" during the signing of the register. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 38 Humberside avenue. Mrs. Moore received in a blue silk crepe gown with corsage of Richmond roses. Mrs. Bowen was in navy Canton crepe, black hat with corsage of Richmond roses. Later, the happy couple left for Eastern points, the bride travelling in a powdoer blue gown, blue wrap, with hat to match. She wore the bridegroom's gift, a beautiful fox fur. OLD LAKEFIELD BRIDGE DOOMED

Half of Top Already Dismantled — Village Loses Landmark of 40 Years.

MANY LOCAL PICNICS

LAKEFIELD, July 15.—Work at the bridge is proceeding rapidly and nearly one-half of the old iron top, which has been a familiar landmark for over forty years, has disappeared. The new modern bridge will be a decided improvement, both in utility and appearance, but one can't help a little sentimental regret at the passing of the "auld brig," which has played its part well and faithfully during nearly half a century of village life.

Enjoying Summer.

Picnics are now the fashion, and picnics large and picnics small are to be seen at various attractive spots along the shores of both lake and river. Picnics to spots where there is safe bathing are popular, and nearly every day one can see a happy party enjoying the simple life. Thursday afternoons are usually piled with such events, and apparently the bathing suit is a necessary part of the equipment.

At A.Y.P.A. Meeting.

Seventeen members of St. John's A.Y.P.A. motored to Wallace's Point on Thursday to the fourth annual picnic of the Peterboro District Council of the A.Y.P.A. They made the trip in W. J. Charlton's "Greybird," driven by H. Wannamaker, who made the trip very pleasant.

L. O. L. at Peterboro.

The Citizens' Band played the Orangemen to the station on Saturday morning, where about thirty members of Beresford Lodge L.O.L. No. 313 boarded the train for the "walk" in Peterboro. When the detachment reached home the band met them, and accompanied them to their Lodge room. The parade was the attraction which drew a considerable crowd of local people to gaze on the floating banners and the rather weary looking men, who evidently found the business of parading on a scorching July day in full regalia rather trying.

CITY AND COUNTY SEND DELEGATIONS

Road Problems to be Discussed at Meeting in Cobourg.

The Ontario Government has provided a facility whereby City and County Councils can air their grievances and obtain instruction in matters of highway and road construction, called an Advisory Committee.

Delegations from the Peterborough City and County Councils will attend a meeting of this committee which is being held in Cobourg on Thursday, July 17.

At the last session of the Ontario Government a bill was introduced and passed arranging for the appointing of an Advisory Committee in connection with highway work. The purposes for which this board was organized are as follows:

To hold meetings in various parts of the Province and take evidence from City and County Council officials and others, in order

1. to determine the Government's financial responsibility towards all roads;
2. to discover types of roads required;
3. to determine on regulations of traffic;
4. to determine the place of the urban municipalities in road building, financial and otherwise;
5. to determine the necessity of standardiing systems of accounting, maintenance and organization in the various counties;
6. to determine the place of the motor;
7. to determine who should pay for the roads.

At Thursday's meeting a programme has been arranged and the following matters affecting urban centres will be discussed:

"What should be the relationship of town streets which are connecting links in Provincial or county road systems?"

"If a financial contribution is made towards the central twenty feet through an urban municipality, how should the improvements, sidewalks, water, drainage, etc., be handled?"

"Should the urban municipality be financially responsible for roads outside their limits?"

SEWAGE DISPOSAL BECOMING ACUTE

City Engineer Preparing Plans for Points Below Level of City Service System.

The question of disposing of the sewage from those points below the level of the city main bordering the river front was again raised by the Board of Health as a result of Dr. A. Y. McNair's report on the quality of the water at Lake Street Bathing Beach.

Some time ago the Board asked the city engineer to recommend a scheme for disposing of this sewage, which includes the Quaker Oats Co., Gas Works, Peterborough Cereal, and the C.P.D. freight office, as well as from those dwellings on Smith Street east of Harvey Street.

At present the overflow from the private systems and outhouses of these districts goes into the Otonabee River.

The factories between Hunter Street and the C.P.R. could be taken care of a pumping station, connecting the flow into the town service system at the corner of Queen and Simcoe Streets.

The Board are now in touch with the Canadian Woollens, Ltd., in reference to the installation of a private sewage disposal plant at their Auburn factory.

A pumping station has been installed to take care of the Engleburn district in East City. The main connects with the Burnham Street sewer.

The Board of Health are compelling the residents in this district to make sewage conections.

At Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Health, City Engineer Parsons announced that the plans required by the Board would be prepared by the next regular meeting.

IS OTANABEE FIT TO BATHE IN?

Ald. M. Turner Raises Question of Purity of Lake St. Beach Water.

Whether or not the quality of the water at Lake street bathing beach was suitable for bathing purposes in view of Dr. A. Y. McNair's report of his analysis of a sample of the water was a question brought before the Board of Health by Alderman Melville Turner, Chairman of the Parks Committee.

Dr. McNair's report indicates that the water is very poor, but Dr. T. W. H. Young, Medical Health Officer took the stand that the report disclosed nothing that would make the water unfit for bathing purposes by reason of infection.

Alderman Turner, although pleased to learn that the water is not infectious regards the matter as serious. He told the Examiner that great care should be taken and if it became necessary through contamination of the water the beach would be closed.

DISTRIBUTION OF NEWS HAS CHANGED

In Days of Old the Court Crier Was the Only Newspaper.

In days of old, the court crier, desiring to publish abroad any particular item of news, went forth through the town and countryside on horesback, calling the populace to gather about him with his cry of "oyez! oyez!" The last bit of this ancient method of attracting attention lingers in the law courts, where the quaint cry of the herald remains, the final vestige of the old form.

Succeeding the practice of olden times, which took months to acquaint the country with the latest news, is the modern newspaper, with its facilities for flashing information broadcast,, so that the happenings of the day in far-off lands are heralded to the four corners of the earth by the next morning. And not the least of the activities of the press is its advertising ability. In small as well as in large ways, its service to the community in this regard is often demonstrated. As in the case of the lost artillery pin, missed one day, advertised for, and recovered next morning by the Peterborough lady who made use of the advertising columns of The Examiner to help in finding her missing property.

CANADIAN CREW WON RACE TO-DAY

Defeated Argentine Team By a Length and a Half and Will Compete in Finals.

ARGENTEUIL, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The Canadian eight-oared crew to-day won the right to compete in the finals of the Olympic competition by winning the race of crews which had finished second in the original heat.

The Canadians led all the way, but had a stiff fight on their hands to keep their advantage over the other three eights which were fighting desperately to earn a place in the finals to-morrow, to which only the winner of to-day's race is entitled. The South Americans held the Canadians to a small lead for the first 500 metres, dropped back at the half-way mark, and made a futile last minute spurt just before the finish.

The Argentine team finished second, a length and a half behind the Canadians, after a brilliant finish, during which the South Americans in the last 100 metres passed the Australian and Belgian crews, which finished third and fourth.

INVITATION TO CANADA.

To Attend Conference to Discuss Imperial Relations With British Government.

OTTAWA, July 16. — (Canadian Press).—Canada has been invited to attend a conference late this year to discuss inter-Imperial relations with the British Government and the other Dominions, the Prime Minister announced this morning in the House of Commons in replying to a question by J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Centre Winnipeg), who asked if the Government was taking any stand in the proposal reported in the press to change the name of the Colonial Secretary.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, asked what reply the Government had made to the invitation.

The Prime Minister said that an answer has been deferred until after the close of the present session.

The suggested date for the conference was towards the end of the present year.

LATER

Austrian government bonds, to mature in 1943, recently soared past 91 on the basis of 100 as par value.

There has been a general rise in the long-time securities of many European governments, indicating a belief that these governments will be able and willing to meet their obligations in about 20 years.

Europe by that time should be nearly out of the woods financially. But place your bets cautiously. There is nothing more uncertain than Europe's future. "Canada First" is a good slogan for the small Canadian investor.

Open to the Young Men and Women of Peterboro County.

The duties of the Peterborough County Advisory Agricultural Council and the work connected with the County Stock Judging Competition is something that should interest a great many farmers in this district. The Agricultural Council is composed of six farmers of the county, each representing one or more townships. Have a Good Ram.

None of the domestic animals respond to skilful breeding and good care more readily than sheep. It is seldom that a man pays too much for a ram. If not a good judge of sheep, take a good sheepman with you and trust to his judgment, and don't be afraid to pay a good price. When through with the ram he can be more readily sold than a scrub, besides the increased value of two or three crops of lambs.

PROUD MAMA!

Lady, white Leghorn pullet of the H. A. Clark farm at Cherryland, Calif., is strutting proudly as the result of her recent achievement. An egg she laid was 8 1-2 inches in long circumference, 7 5-8 inches in short circumference and weighed 5 1-2 ounces. Just for contrast the same day an unknown chicken on the farm laid the smallest perfect egg, length 1 1-10 inches, width 21-30 inch and weight 82 grains. Photos show Lady and a comparison of the egg.

CAUGHT IN TRAP.

A wild looking, carnivorous creature with cold, searching eyes and sharp, powerful claws is to be seen caged in a box in the back shop of Mr. Roland Denne.

A farmer noticing him hovering about his chicken yard set a trap, which led to his capture.

Mr. Denne is in a state of conjecture to know what to do with this horned chicken owl. If it had been caught a few weeks ago it could have served an excellent purpose in providing the object of a nature study lesson in the Public Schools.

FEEDING BABY BEEF

The Following is the Correct Way to Feed Calves.

The following results of baby beef feeding trials, running 224 days, will be of interest:

1—Corn and cob meal proved superior grain for fattening baby beeves.

2—Purchase and use of linseed meal was profitable.

3—If silage is fed to baby beeves a protein concentrate should be included in the ration.

4—Addition of oats to the ration proved unprofitable.

5—The self-feeder may be used to advantage if a full feed of grain is to be fed. It says labor.

6—As a rule, it is most profitable to feed baby beeves until they are well finished before marketing them.

WHERE FARMERS PROFIT

In the States They Generally Lose on the Rate of Wheat and Oats.

Farmers generally made money on corn, cotton, and potatoes last year, and lost on wheat and oats, reports the United States Departmen of Agriculture.

According to those who reported, wheat on 7,852 farms cost $1.24 per bushel and sold for 99 cents.

Corn on 11,238 farms cost 68 cents a bushel and sold for 81 cents.

Oats on 8,481 farms cost 52 cents a bushel and sold for 49 cents.

Cotton on 407 farms with yields of between 101 and 140 pounds of lint per acre had an average cost of 22 cents a pound and sold for 30 cents a pound.

Potato growers in various parts of the country showed profits of from 1.42 to $86.23 an acre.

Farm Notes

BETHANY, July 16. — Hay in general is being cut in this vicinity, and according to reports will be a good average crop. Fall wheat is coming along nicely, and is headed out full, with rye about the same. Both will be an excellent crop. The spring crops are as yet pretty short, but with fair weather conditions will be all right. Peas are in bloom, and look good.

The raspberry yield will be good, according to present indications.

Other fruits and garden stuff are all good.

CROP REPORTS ARE BRIGHTER RESULT OF RAINS

Prospects of Drought Removed by Showers in All Parts of Country.

NEWS FROM WEST.

Ontario Crops Will be Equal to That of 1920.

The showers of the past ten days which were fairly general throughout Central and Western Canada have been the saving factor in a situation which was becoming increasingly serious. The late spring, followed by severe drought had begun to cause no little anxiety. The need for moisture in many parts of the West was urgent, and a continuation of the period of hot dry weather would have endangered the crops over a large area. As it is, some damage was done which cannot be undone. On the whole, a fair average crop is likely to be realized, but the yield, in all probability, will be smaller than that of last year.

The rainfall referred to above was general in nearly all parts of the West with the exception of British Columbia where dry weather still persists. In spite of this the crop outlook is average, and a very fair yield of hay has been cut. Pasturage on Vancouver Island and in the dry area of the mainland is very poor. The fruit crop is not above average; in fact, the yield of some of the smaller fruits is much below normal.

Throughout the Prairie Provinces, the outlook is much better than was the case a week ago. Alberta is probably the most favored. The southern area which so often suffers from lack of moisture has this year received the most abundant share, and the crops look unusually well. A report from Lethbridge states that the crops are better than for some years. Since Alberta produces more hard wheat than all of the United States, the favorable outlook is significant. The northern part of the province was somewhat retarded by cold dry weather, at least until a few days ago. Reports from the Peace River country indicate a quite favorable outlook. The crop of alfalfa especially in the southern area is the best for years and abundant fodder foetells expansion in the feeding industry. Practically the entire province of Saskatchewan was in bad need of rain. Here again the south fared better than the north. The recent rains were fairly general and the present outlook is very satisfactory. The south-western portion of Manitoba has received an abundant share of moisture and should produce a big crop. Wheat is in the shot blade and should be well headed out by the middle of the month. In the northern districts rain was badly needed until the situation was corrected by last week's showers. Apart from being ten days late the grain in Manitoba looks well. As is the case throughout the West the roots were well formed and penetrated deeply in the sub-soil. Owing to the cool dry weather the hay crops is rather poor in most sections. Taking the West as a whole, the wheat is short. Several districts report considerable damage from the cut-worms and other grubs, but theer has been no damage from hail or rust so far. Only a limited amount of harm has been caused by drought.

Ontario and Quebec.

Throughout Ontario and Quebec the crops are still about two weeks late, but are coming along quite satisfactorily. In Ontario the acreage of spring grains is smaller than last year, but the fall wheat is headed out and is making satisfactory progress. Timothy hay is an average crop while clover and alfalfa are above normal, and the grass pasturage is reported as excellent. The fruit crop is from fair to good, most fruits being average or better wth the exception of peaches which are below normal. In the province of Quebec abundant crops are forecast. Notwithstanding the early delay and the cool and backward growing weather, the yield will probably be as good as that of 1920. In that year the value of the crops was $445,0000,000, but prices of farm products were then exceedingly high. Taking into account the price decline this year's yield should easily exceed $200,000,000 in value. Cutworms and other insects have made their appearance in many sections south of Montreal and in the Eastern Townships. An unusually good pasturage is improving the volume of milk and butter and the livestock outlook is favorable.

In The Maritimes.

The Maritime Provinces also have suffered from lack of sufficient moisture. The hay crop in New Brunswick is light, but grass pasture is quite good and the stock is in satisfactory condtion; grain and root crops are somewhat below normal, but a large yield of potatoes is expected. Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island have been blessed with sufficient moisture, and all crops are in fair condition.

Taking the country as a whole, it is probable, as suggested above, that the total yield of the grain crops will be somewhat below that of last year, but in consideration of the increase in the prices of practically all grains, it is probable that this year's net income will be greater than that of last year.

A CAVAN TOWNSHIP DAIRYMAN EXPLAINS HOW COWS WILL VARY TO A MILK TESTER

Mr. Harry Seymour Would Not Dispense With a Milk Dealer Because of a Low Butter Fat Test—The Milk Should Be Tested Over a Period of Several Days.

STOCK BREEDERS SHOULD LOOK FOR HIGH TEST

The following interesting article on the subject of milk tests will be of interest to the consumer as well as the producer. Mr. Harry Seymour, writer of the article, is a prominent dairy farmer in Cavan Township. His communication follows:

Springdale Farm, Cavan,
July 7th, 1924.

Editor, Peterboro Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I have read with interest the reports of the milk tests and other articles that have appeared in The Examiner about the tests of milk. I don't doubt you might get two or three different tests from samples taken from a milk vendor's wagon, and each test would be a correct test. I certainly would not turn a milkman off for one or two tests if his services were satisfactory. There are a number of reasons why you could get different tests from the one wagon; the only way to avoid having a variation in tests would be to have the daily output in a large container thoroughly mixed before bottling. I have seen cows under official test vary a great deal. In one instance a cow took a raise from 5.4 to 7.4, then back again to 4.8 inside of twenty-four hours, without any apparent cause whatever. She was fed the same feed by the same feeder, milked regularly, and water before her all the time. The test is a thing no one can control. I believe it can be helped, but to raise the cow that tests 3 per cent. to average 4 per cent., it can't be done. Here I believe is where a number of breeders have made a sad mistake. They have chosen sons of cows for herd sires, whose dams were heavy milkers but low in butter-fat, with the result they have a herd of low-testing cows to-day. The breeder who chooses sons of high-testing cows whose sire is from high-testing cows is bound to win. No one can expect high-testing cows from low-testing ancestors. I tested a cow that averaged 4.8 per cent. for thirty days; at the same time a grand-daughter (through a son) that tested 4.9 per cent. for thirty days; since then two grand-daughters of this old cow have made the two largest ten-month butter records in the world, and I heard a man say he never knew a low-testing daughter from that sire. And again I have known sons of heavy milking, low-testing cows whose daughters tested about the some percentage as his dam.

I am enclosing a form that shows a seven-day record of "Dolly Hengerveld Korndyke," No. 27048. This record was made as a two-year-old. She was milked four times a day at intervals of six hours (nearly all cows on official test are milked every six hours). A sample of each milking was taken and tested with a Babcock tester. We then find the amount of fat in each milking. The scales used in weighing milk weigh to 1-10th of a pound, which makes it easy in figuring up a week's or a month's milk. We find the total amount of milk and fat in each day. You will note how there is a variation in each milking and in the test, but on a day's milking and average for seven days it varies somewhat but not a great deal.

I have tested in some of the best herds in Ontario, among them being the Hon. A. C. Hardy's herd at Brockville, and among those tested was that famous world's champion cow, "May Echo Sylvia," the only cow in the world to produce over one thousand pounds of milk in a week, and over four thousand in thirty days. She holds all world's records from one to one hundred days. Her seven-day record for butter is 41.05 lbs.

The present herd sire was born the time I was testing there. I made a number of splendid records on some of his young cows; two junior three-year-olds that made over 20 lbs. in seven days, and others.

Hoping this will be of interest to you, I remain, yours truly,
HARRY I. SEYMOUR.

A re-test was conducted by Mr. Somerville, manager of the B.L.K. Works, Brockville, from the 5 p.m. milking till the following day at the 11 a.m. milking. Note the stars.

This heifer had an average test of 4.9 for 30 days.

The two largest ten month butter cows in the world are both half-sisters to this heifer.

HAIR SNAKE FOUND A HELP TO FARMER

You May Get One in Your Cabbage Some Day, But Cooking Will Kill It.

The long dreaded "hair snake" superstitiously believed to be animated horse hairs, has turned out to be a friend of the farmer.

Professor R. H. Pettit, of the entomological department of the Michigan Agricultural College, finally revcals this thin, hair-like reptile in its true ligt.

Found in cabbages, in water troughs, and pools, these minute creatures are really parasites from the bodies of of grasshoppers, crickets and other insects that infest the fields, says Pettit.

"The young gain access to the bodies of grasshoppers or crickets early in their careers. When a grasshopper is about to die from the drain put upon its strength by the parasite the latter crawls out.

"Some fall into the cabbages, on which the hoppers happen to be feeding when their strength fails. Such hair-snakes settle down into the cabbage head, finding a moist place, wherein tey manage to live for some time."

If the cabbage is well cooked there should be no fear of hair-snakes in it.

TAPE WORMS ARE FOUND IN HORSES

How to Deal With Those Pests by Dosing the Animals.

Horses are frequently seen that give little response to liberal feeding and care, continuing unthrifty due to the presence of intestinal parasites, a point often overlooked in the care of animals.

Variable appetite, unthrifty and poor condition, indigestion with periodic attacks of colic, are the common indications of the presence of cestodes, or tape worm. Two species of tape worm infest the intestines of the horse; one, the Tenia Plicata, ranges from six inches to thirty inches in length; the other, Tenia Perfoliata, is from one to two inches long. Both have comparatively large, four-sided heads in which are fashioned four round cup-shaped suckers. Their bodies consist of a number of overlapping segments. The tape worm segment, or joint, is a complete reproductive organization. When ripe, detached and expelled with the contents of the bowels it can be described as a small rectangular body containing eggs. After breaking away the eggs may be drifted or carried from place to place by various agents. Many perish, but a few are able to continue the species by being taken up in food or water by other animals' in the intestines of which they go through their life cycle and provide for the carrying on of the next generation.

Preventive Measures Suggested

Preventive measures consist in providing clean fodder and water; the avoidance of low, damp pasture land and ponds contaminated by the droppings of horses. If tape worm is suspected and no qualified veterinary is available to administer treatment, the following dosage can be given: creolin, one-half ounce; oil of turpentine, one and a half ounces; and raw linseed oil, one pint—to be given at one dose as a drench, on an empty stomach. The treatment may be repeated at intervals of several days, if necessary. Clean fodder and clean drinking water are highly important in keeping live stock healthy and free from intestinal parasites. Drinking from filthy, shallow pools or ponds in which hogs wallow and cattle and horses wade is responsible for considerable trouble, and this trouble does not usually show up until late winter or early spring. A cement water trough well supplied with clean cold water, is the best insurance agains' tape worm in horses.

EXPERTS FIND A WAY TO RID DISEASE BEES

Beekeepers Dream of Removing Disease Hazard May Be Realized.

FOUND A CURE.

Infected Combs Can Be Made Sterile After Treatment.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 16.—The beekeeper's long cherished dream of removing the greatest hazard in honey production, foul brood, may soon be realized.

Dr. J. C. Hutzelman's method of treating hives with an alchol-formalin solution is being developed further by Professor Francis Jager, chief of the division of beekeeping of the Minnesota College of Agriculture, here, and J. W. Thompson, instructor in beekeeping.

By sterilizing foul brood combs with a solution composed of 80 per cent grain alcohol and 20 per cent formalin of varying grades, the experimenters have been able to return the infected combs as good as new.

"The big drawback in using the alcohol-formalin solution, however," says Thompson, "is that the price is prohibitive for the ordinary beekeeper."

Cheaper Method

The bee division of the experiment station, therefore, is experimenting with various proportions of alcohol and formalin in order to find one within the price reach of the average beekeeper's pocketbook and without necessitating the red tape now required in getting grain alcohol.

Disinfectants dissolved in water, Dr. Hutzelman found, could not penetrate the brood nest because it is more or less filled with honey and covered with propolis. Even after the honey is removed by extraction, the brood nest, consisting of beeswax, pollen, dead larva and wood parts covered with propolis, cannot be disinfected with such solutions.

Formaldehyde gas also is valueless, Hutzelman found.

A Sure Cure

Both laboratory and field tests of his formalin-alcohol treatment of foul brood have been found practicable. Comb infested with foul brood, it has been found, can be made sterile after being immersed in the solution for 48 hours, and they can then be given back to the bees without fear of recurrence of the disease.

To administer the treatment, the disease hives are segregated from the rest, the queens are removed and the bees packaged and stored in dark, well ventilated cellars for 48 hours, after which they are returned to the hives.

The first step in the sterilization process is to uncap the honey combs and extract the honey. Remove the wax cappings so that the solution can sterilize the interior of the cell.

Honey from these combs may be boiled and stored away for future use as bee food during the heavy breeding period in spring.

The cleansing.

After the honey has been extracted the combs must be immersed in water for two hours. The combs are then again run through the extractor.

The purpose of the washings is to remove all honey because it makes the combs sticky, thus interfering with the sterilizing action of the disinfectant. Combs thus treated are ready for the sterilization process.

The combs are placed in large tanks and weighted down to prevent them from floating around. The tanks are filled with the formalin-alcohol solution, covering the combs, and let stand for 48 hours.

After two days the liquid is drawn off, the combs are placed in extractors to remove as much as possible of the liquid, and after a week of airing the combs may be returned to the bees.

TURKEY RAISING

United States Encourages the Raising of the Noble Bird.

The decline of turkey-raising in this country has aroused the United States Government to an effort toward reviving this enterprise.

The Department of Agriculture has issued a new bulletin on the subject, in which farmers are shown how to make turkey-raising profitable. The causes for the decline, the authorities say, have been:

1—More work in rearing young turkeys than other classes of poultry.

2—Prevalence of blackhead.

3—Need of wide ranging areas.

4—No help or advice from investigators.

But it is said turkey-raising is profitable, particularly where conditions are good and proper management is undertaken.

The Department bulletin tells how this can be accomplished.

HAY STANDARDIZED

Federal grades for hay have been established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture after years of research work in which all kinds of hay in this country were analyzed. An inspection service is also formed in connection with the standardization.

DEALING WITH BROKEN WINDS

Heaves, and Its Symptoms, and the Best Treatment Suggested—

A CAREFUL DIET.

The term Heaves or Broken-Wind, is applied to a condition affecting horses which is manifested by shortness of breath due to the air cells of the lungs becoming over-distended. It is caused in many cases by feeding horses dusty hay, particularly timothy and clover hay. Allowing horses to drink an excessive amount of water after feeding, and just before going to work, and also overloading the stomach with bulky food, always predisposes to the development of heaves, hence the condition is met with most frequently in horses which are greedy feeders. Over exertion when the stomach is full is always liable to produce heaves.

Symptoms.

Horses which are affected with heaves usually keep the nostrils dilated or wide open, and have a hurried, wheezing breathing, accompanied by a double lifting or pumping of the flanks which becomes intensified and more noticeable by exertion. The peculiar heaving of the flanks causes a ridge to appear along the lower end of the ribs, which is known as the "heave" line. Another symptom is the presence of a chronic cough, which is more pronounced after feeding or drinking. Broken-winded horses keep the anus relaxed and pass much flatus, or wind, at times.

Treatment.

The essential feature in the treatment of heaves is to alleviate the condition by careful dieting. By reducing the amount of hay or roughage, and feeding chiefly on grain and mashes and regulating the supply of water to the minimum, many badly broken-winded horses may be enabled to do ordinary work. Dusty hay of any kind should not be fed to broken-winded horses, as it will aggravate the symptoms, and to obviate such tendencies the hay should be dampened. The bowels should be kept regulated by feeding bran mashes, to which may be added a handful of glauber salts, or flax seed meal. Heaves is usually benefitted also by giving from one to two tablespoons of Fowler's solution of Arsenic in the food, or drinking water each morning and evening for a period of two weeks from time to time. In many cases broken-winded horses become more serviceable when moved from a damp muggy climate to a dry one.

SPARE THE BIRDS

They Understand Kindness And Are Very Grateful.

From city and farm we hear the call: Spare the birds, they are saving our fruits, flowers, gardens and grains from the insects that would take them. God first taught the fatherhood of God, then the brotherhood of man, then the protective cares of the beautiful and useful creatures about us.

We talk about the "dumb animals," the Thrift Magazine continues. "True they cannot speak to us in our language, but they are not so dumb. All animals and birds we come in contact with sense in us at once a friend or foe, and each in his own way quickly shows his appreciation of our kindness, and in a language we cannot misunderstand tell us they love us and want to be friends. Happy is the boy or girl that grows up loving and loved by these would-be pals of fur and feathers.

THE BEST WAY CHURN BUTTER FOR HOME USE

Keep the Cream Cans Clean and Use Good Crocks.

LINE WITH PAPER.

Pasteurized Cream Butter Will Keep Better Than Raw Cream.

We have all heard the expression "The best is none too good." This applies especially to butter for storing. So says Miss Belle Millar of the Ontario Agricultural College. It is necessary to put away the very best, as no butter improves in storage.

The can in which the cream is collected should be clean and free from rust.

The cream should be good flavored and should be churned sweet, or with very little souring. A cream with high acidity will not make a long-keeping butter.

As pasteurized, cream butter will keep very much better than raw cream butter, it would pay to go to the extra trouble of pasteurizing the cream when the butter is going to be held for some time.

How to Pasteurize.

To pasteruize, place the can of cream in a larger vessel containing hot water. Stir the cream gently until the temperature comes up to 170° F. Hold it at that temperature for at least ten minutes, then cool it quickly to a low temperature. Hold it cold for a few hours before churning it.

Churn at a temperature low enough to bring the butter in nice firm granules. Avoid overchurning. Wash the butter twice and salt in the usual way. Work the butter a little to mix in the salt, then let it stand in a suitable place for a few hours before finishing the working.

Have the butter of such firmness that it will stand sufficient working so that the salt will be evenly distributed, and that it will be close in body and not show water pockets.

The Best Storing Packages.

As butter keeps best in large packages, crocks, tubs and boxes are used. The crocks should be in good condition, free from breaks in the glazing, and should be well scalded before using. Tubs and boxes should be coated with paraffine wax and lined with heavy parchment paper.

Put the butter in in small pieces, pack solidly, using a butter packer or a wooden potato masher. Pack each piece by working from the centre outward. Pound well around the edges and in the corners so as to avoid having holes.

When the box is filled, level off the top and fold the ends of the paper over. If a tub or crock is used place a circle of parchment paper on top.

Make a paste by moistening some salt with a little cold water, and spread an even layer over the top of the package, then fasten down the lid.

Further Packing and Storing Hints.

If using crocks it will be necessary to cover the lid with two or three ply of clean wrapping paper and tie it securely.

Butter to keep must be protected from air, light and heat, so after the packages have been made secure they must be placed in a clean, cool, dark place. The temperature should be low and even. Butter made in September is not subjected to heat like the June butter. Those who make butter in June for holding and have not a good place for keeping it would find it to their advantage to place it in a cold storage if there is one in the vicinity. The saving in quality would more than pay the storage fees.

Corn Doing Well

LAKEFIELD, July 16. — The hay cutting is in full swing, and on the whole the crop is fairly good, though in many places the hay has been thin.

The fragrance of the new mown hay adds pleasure to driving in the country just now.

The grain is ripening quickly with the hot sun, and the past week has made a great difference.

Corn, though still rather small, owing to the late season, is doing fairly well, and the root crops, if it is an open fall, will be at least up to the average.

The showery, warm weather has saved both field and garden crops.

YALE OARSMEN ARE FAVORITES

Eights Crew Established Record For Course of 2,000 Metres.

BRITISH LOOK STONG.

ARGENTEUIL, France, July 16. —(Canadian Press).—Wearing the United States shield in competition for the first time, Yale's great 'varsity crew yesterday maintained its unbroken string of triumphs by racing to a decisive victory in the trials of the eight-oared Olympic rowing competition, thereby establishing itself as the favorite to capture the Olympic championships next Thursday.

The Yale oarsmen rowed away from the strong Toronto University eight representing Canada, winning by three and one-half lengths, and by a five-length margin over the third contender, Holland.

Yale's time of 5 minutes, 51 seconds, establishing a record for the course of 2,000 metres or approximately 1 1-4 miles, was 13 seconds faster than the performance of the Thames crew, representing Great Britain, which won the first heat, and 15 seconds better than the mark of the Italian crew which defeated Australia and Spain in the third heat.

On form yesterday, the British eight loomed up as the most formidable Yale rival.

The second heat which Great Britain won in a clean-cut fashion witnessed a bitter battle for second place, which ended with the disqualification of France after the latter had led Belgium and Argentina over the finish line by a narrow margin.

The South Americans, who finished last after holding second place three-quarters of the distance, protested that the French crew had not kept to the right lane and had caused interference, and the claim was upheld.

After a lengthy conference, the official jury decided to give Argentina and Belgium a chance to qualify for the finals by allowing them to participate today in the finals over the second-place crews. Thus these two shells with Canada and Australia will row to determine which will be the fourth finalist with the United States, Great Britain and Italy.

ATHLETES RECEIVED.

M. Doumergue presented the athletes with autographed photographs.

WIN FOR BETHANY.

Defeated Nestleton's Team Monday by the Score of 18-5.

CAVAN, July 15.—Bethany defeated Nestleton at Nestleton in a very uneven game of ball last evening. The score was 18-5. B. Ryley pitched for the visitors and Philips was on the rubber for Nestleton. This is the last East Durham league game for 1924 as Pontypool has given their remaining game to Bethany. As the O.B.A.A. play-offs do not commence until August the young lads around Bethany have been talking of organizing a junior team and inviting the Curlers out from Peterboro for a game.

CUBS LOSE ALEXANDER:

Broken Wrist May Keep Him Out All Season.

CHICAGO, July 15. — Grover Cleveland Alexander veteran pitching ace of the Chicago Cubs, suffering from a broken wrist, will not pitch for at least a month and probably not at all this season. Two X-ray pictures disclosed the extent of the injury he suffered in Pittsburgh. He has won nine of twelve games thus far this season. His injury is the first serious accident to the club this year and is believed to have crippled the Cubs as a pennant contender.

Pitcher Guy Bush, released to Wichita Falls, Texas, has been recalled.

Leafs Scored Three in First Inning on Four Hits.

IMPORTANT SERIES.

TORONTO, July 15.—Jess Doyle kept Baltimore's eight hits well scattered and the Leafs won the first game of the series here ao-day 6 to 1. Four hits including a homer by Gilhooley gave the home team three runs of Thomas in the first inning O'Rourke's double, Kelly's triple and George Maisel's long fly accounted for a pair of runs of Ogden in the third inning. On slow doubled and raced home when Fritz Maisel allowed Joe Boley's throw to roll into the Toronto dugout. The score:

JOE TINKER MUSES.

Finds Fifteen of Old Cubs Team Still Living.

NEW YORK, July 16.—Joe Tinker, once the greatest of all shortstops, but now grown so thick through the middle that he'd have to fall down to field a ground ball, was standing in the sun by the hand-carved gray motor wagon with plumes on it which was to carry Pat Moran through the streets of Orlando, Fla., to the railroad station for the trip back to Fitchburg, Mass.

Joe, who has taken a root in the soil of Orlando, had just been in to have his last look at the man who had played with him as one of the old Cubs.

"Well," Tinker said, as he teetered on the curb, "the old Cubs have lived pretty long. Poor old Pat in there is only the third to go, and it is eighteen years since we were the champions for the first time. Pat and Henry Steinfeldt and King Cole, the pitcher.

"The rest of us are still on earth. Jack Pfeister is in Lexington, Ky.; Mordecai Brown is at Lawrenceville, Ill.; Johnny Kling is in Kansas City; Artie Hoffman, Jimmy Slagle and Jimmy Archer are in Chicago; Jimmy Sheckard is in Columbia, Pa., and Ed. Ruelbach is somewhere in Pennsylvania in the steel business; Heinie Zimmerman is in New York; Orville Overall is in Visalia, Calif.; Frank Schulte is in Colorado, and I'm here in Orlando.

"There are only three of us left in baseball that I know of—Johnny Evers and Frank Chance with the White Sox, and Carl Lundgren, who is coaching the pitchers at the University of Illinois. Fifteen of us still here after eighteen years."

QUAKERS BLANK EXAMINER TEAM

Snappy Game for Five Innings When the Newspaper Men "Pied" the Game.

SCORE WAS 7 TO 0

The Quaker Oats got away to a flying start in the second half of the Mercantile League when they whitewashed the Examiner 7 to 0 at Riverside Park last evening. It was a great game up till the fifth inning when the newspaper crew blew up letting in six runs.

Johnny Marchen was Manager Dugan's choice for the pitching duty and he worked well. He held the Quakers to seven hits but a couple of walks and three erorrs gave the Quakers six runs. The best heaver in the league could not have won for the Examiner last night, for they failed to spot their pitcher one.

"Lefty" Turner was Manager Sullivan's choice on the rubber. Turner came through with a nice performance. He held the Examiner to five hits and refused to allow them a run. He had perfect control, issuing no passes. Howard Kirn did the catching for the Quakers and his fine judgment of the batters was a great aid to Turner.

Clancy in left field for the Quakers and Butcher at short were the outstanding performers for the winners, while Elliott in left and Taylor on first for the Examiner were the best.

The umpiring was of the very best last night, Harry Cobb calling them behind the bat and Harry Cressman looking after the bases.

The Examiner made a bid to score in the first but a fast double play cut them off. Dugan first man up led off with a single but Taylor hit into a double play, Butcher to Vincent to Ash. Franks fanned to end the inning.

In the second another hit was wasted. Elliott led off with a single but Scates forced him at second. Clarke sacrificed Scates to second but Collins grounded weakly to Turner.

The fourth was the only other inning that the Examiner came close to scoring. Franks led off with a triple, a tremendous smash to deep centre. He was stranded there for Elliott grounded out to Turner and Scates and Clarke fanned.

The Quakers scored the first run of the game in the fourth when Turner singled and went to second on passed ball and stole third. He scored when Ash singled to centre.

In the fifth the Quakers scored six. Butcher first man up walked. Turner was safe on Franks' error. Kearns singled to centre scoring Butcher, Turner pulling up at second. Ash hit to Dugan who tagged Turner coming in to third. Kirn walked filling the bases. Ralph hit a high one to Elliott who misjudged the drive, Kearns and Ash scoring. and Kirn also registered when Marchen intercepted Elliott's throw and threw to Scates who let the ball get away. Graham was safe on Franks' error and stole second. Vincent fanned. Clancy hit to right for a single, Ralph and Graham scoring. Butcher fanned to end the inning.

The teams lined up as follows:

Quakers—Butcher, ss; Turner, p; eKarns, cf; Ash, 1b; Kirn, c; Ralph, 3b; Graham, rf; Vincent, 2b; Clancy, lf.

Examiner—Dugan 3b; Taylor, 1b; Franks, 2b; Elliott, lf; Scates, ss; Clark, cf; Collins, c; Holyman, rf; Marchen, p.

New York Game Delayed Fifteen Minutes— Billy Evans Overruled.

SENATORS' FOURTH.

NEW YORK, July 15. — The New York Yankees made it 4 out of 5 from St. Louis here to day, winning the last game of the series by a score of 5 to 4. The game was held up for 15 minutes in the eighth inning by a protracted argument. With Dugan on third, Ruth on first and none out, Meusel hit a low liner to left, which Bennett scooped in on a low bound. Dugan scored and Ruth reached third. The St. Louis club claimed that Bennett caught the ball and Ruth was doubled off first. This claim was sustained by Evans who ruled both Meusel and Ruth out. New York then took the protest back to Owens, the base umpire, who stuck to his original decision that the ball had not been caught, and Meusel and Ruth were returned to the bases. St. Louis refused to take the field for seven more minutes. The score:

OGDEN'S LIVERPOOL

WORLD'S CHAMPION SWIMMER ONLY 18

Andrew Charlton, of Australia, Broke Long List of Records.

PARIS, July 16.— Andrew Charlton the Australian swimming star, won a signal victory in the final of the 1,500-metre swim, free of style, in the Olympic competition Tuesday, leaving a row of world's records in his wake and scoring heavily over his Scandinavian rival, Arne Borg, of Sweden.

His time, 20 minutes 6 3-5 seconds, set a new world's mark for the whole distance, bettering by a wide margin the sensational new marks establisned by himself and Borg in the first day of the swimming competition Sunday. On Sunday Charlton's time was 21 minutes 20 2-5 seconds.

Charlton simply toyed with Borg, the Swedish porpoise, to-day. The Australian, who was behind at one hundred metres, raced to the front in the second hundred, and was never afterwards headed. Charlton swam with a plan over-arm stroke, scarcely using his legs as a propelling force, and gradually pulled away from the Swede, who appeared tired from his exertions in the preliminary heats.

Tremendously Strong

Charlton swimming in easy style clipped one minute 53 2-5 seconds from the former Olympic record held by Hodgson of Canada, and one minute 4 4-5 seconds from the world record established by Arne Borg Sunday after Charlton himself had broken the previous mark that day. Charlton gave an impression of tremendous strength, breaking the world's record for 400 metres with a mark of five minutes 10 2-5 seconds and ploughing through the water like a runaway torpedo boat for another world's record at the 1,000-metre mark, negotiating the distance in 13 minutes 19 2-5 seconds.

The powerfully built 18-year-old boy then had the race at his mercy with a lead of 50 yards on Borg and he simply swam along in his own inimitable easy style, paying not the slightest attention to his competitors. He might have brought the record to 20 minutes had he had competition. Eke Borg, Arne's twin brother, proved that he is slower than his twin and the officials ruled that he could not start in the final because he only made the distance in 21 minutes 59 2-5 seconds in the semi-finals yesterday, although this was inside the former Olympic record.

Wasn't Trying Very Hard

Charlton, when asked if he had set out to break the world's record, replied in his bland juvenile way: "No, I simply went."

The United States finished one, two, three in the final of the 400-metre event, but unexpected order of the finish was reversed, as Miss Norelius, who was looked upon as a likely third, caught the judge's eye first, with Miss Helen Wainwright second and Miss Gertrude Ederle third. The experts watching the finish had called it in this order: Miss Ederle, Miss Wainwright, Miss Norelius. The official timers showed the three Americans finishing in split seconds apart.

Ten men qualified for the semi-finals in the 200-metre event, breast stroke. They were: Robert D. Skelton, United States; W. T. Kirshbaum, Hawaii; Henning and Linders Sweden; Fling and New of Great Britain; Decomba of Belgium; Piovaty, Czecho-Slovakia; Hollosy, Hungary and Wyss, Switzerland.

Chapman of Canada, owing to a disagreement between the Canadian Swimming Federation and the Canadian Olympic Committee, did not start.

...400-metre swim, free style, for women, finals—Miss Martha Norelius, W.S.A.; New York, first; Miss Helen Wainwright W.S.A. New York, second; Miss Gertrude Ederle, W.S.A. New York third; Miss D. A. Molesworth, Great Britain, fourth. Time, 6 minutes 2 1-5 seconds.

Miss S. Hand of New Zealand, quit after going 300 metres.

Plain high diving, finals—Eve, Australia, first; Janson, Sweden, second; Clark, Great Britain third; Ben Thrash, United States, fourth; Vincent, France, fifth; Pete Despjardines United States, sixth.

FOUR FINE GOALS BY A. MITCHELL GOT TWO POINTS

An Excellent Brand of Soccer Played by Woollens and Thistles.

THISTLES UNLUCKY

Woollens' 4 Opportunities Got Goals, While Thistles Went A-begging.

The soccer fans were treated to an excellent brand of soccer last evening at Nicholls Oval when the Woollens defeated the Thistles by four goals to none in the league. Mitchell had four opportunities to score which he accepted while the Thistle had an abundance of chances but luck did not shine upon them in any shape or form. The play was par excellence in every department and the Woollens will have to be contended with as league runners-up in the near future.

Beautiful Football.

Dawson won the toss and decided to kick towards east goal. Play opened up at a fast pace that called upon each goal-keeper to save hard shots from the forwards. Nice combination between Jackson, Melville and McPhail on the right wing was culminated by good half-back play by Blowers as he tackled in clean fashion. It was nice to witness the clever and fascinating tactics of the forwards and half-backs that nullified all chances at scoring.

Ward's Splendid Try.

An individual run along the wing by Ward compelled Curtis to fling himself up in the air with outstretched arm to give away a fruitless corner. The Thistles added pressure upon the Woollens' defence that stopped many a desperate raid on goal. An accidental foul against Read was put past by Dawson from 15 yards range. A few minutes later Richmond broke through on his own with the two backs upon him as he shot the ball across the goal-mouth. At the other end Mitchell tested Curtiss with a low ground try. Then was checked cleverly by Anderson as he was travelling into goal. A spurt along the wing by the Woollens' outside left caused the Thistles any amount of worry to keep their goal intact. Play was in mid-field as half-time arrived. Half time—No scoring.

Half-Time.

On resuming, the Thistle made two unsuccesful attacks that was frustrated. A rocket drive by Richmond from the touch was fisted out as it was going for the far corner of the upright. Quick as a flash Sawyers initiated a move along the wing which let Blowers have one of his famous drives that skimmed the cross-bar. A little later Mitchell lifted over the bar while under the bar. No sooner did this happen when Richmond had Hillman in a fix and following up the ball he lifted the ball over the bar.

Mitchells' Smart Goal.

Dundas on the left wing got the best of the argument on a tackle, slipped the ball forward to Mitchell who beat Curtiss from close range with a low twisting shot. At this sudden reverse the Thistles wrought havoc around the Woollen's goal and the most surprised player was Richmond who had hard luck in not scoring.

Woollens Up Four.

A cross from Dundas again left Mitchell to do the needful. Three minutes later, the Woollens added two more goals from oblique shots just as the final whistle sounded.

Woollens—Hillman, goal; Chambers and Cridland, backs; Read, Monkman and Blowers, half-backs; Ward, Mitchell, Roberts, Sawyers and Dundas, forwards.

Thistle—Curtis, goal; Anderson, and Raz, backs; Jackson, Dawson and Ross, half-backs; Melville, McPhail, Richmond, Williams and Burgess, forwards.

Referee—J. C. Russell.

MOORE WILL STICK.

KINGSTON, July 15. — Special.— It developed to-day that Clarence Moore, 4th Hussars, leading pitcher, would remain with the city league club for the rest of the season.

Moore was asked to join the senior team and considered it only on the condition that his present club approved. To-day is the last day for signing places and the Hussars could never fill his place and refused to sanction the transfer with the result that Moore will still be with the Purple and Gold. He is a great asset to the team, and the Hussars will be glad to hear that he is sticking.

C. P. C. CAPTURE TAYLOR TROPHY

Ex-Mayor Presents Cup to Winning Team at Close of the Game.

The final for ex-Mayor Taylor's trophy was played on King Edward Park on Tuesday evening before a record crowd, the contesting teams being the C. P. C. Juniors and the Grey Birds, and a splendid game was witnessed, resulting in a win for the Juniors by 4 goals to 1, thus retaining their unbeaten record for the season.

The Game.

The Grey Birds won the toss and Mr. W. H. Taylor set the ball in motion. James at once showed he was in great form, and gave Batley, a dangerous shot. Dave Grant relieved by one of his timely drives. Buchan sent out to Cross, who sent in a beautiful centre, which H. Hotson sent over the bar. The Grey Birds were playing the long passing game, which put the Juniors off their game. Soutar was well placed and sent in a nice cross shot which Batley threw out of danger. The defence on both sides were having plenty to do. Feeley kept plying the right wing of the Grey Birds with nice passes. Cross took hold of the ball and sent to Anderson, whose final effort went just wide of the post. The game was well contested. Halliday sent straight at the goal with a terrific drive; Batley was loudly cheered for a great save. Williams and his comrades were sending their forwards along, but Montgomery and his backs were very safe. A corner was given the Grey Birds. Hotson took the kick and sent right in goal. Oxley relieved the pressure, and J. Downer made a rush up the field, Batley giving a corner. Soutar placed the ball among a crowd of players. Grant headed out. Lynch got possession and sent to Buchan, and Montgomery was tested with a daisy cutter. The game was even. Half-time arrived with the score-sheet blank.

Second Half.

The Grey Birds went away with a great speed, and seemed as if they would score, Montgomery saving in finel style from Hotson. The Juniors were now putting all they knew in the game. Soutar tested Batley with a dandy, who turned the ball over the bar to save. Mitchel took the corner, and sent to Halliday, whose shot went just wide of the uprights. The game was very even, and it looked like ending in a draw. Dave Grant was a power of strength to the Grey Birds. His huge drives were of great advantage to his side. Cross and Buchan were playing well together, but Montgomery and his backs kept them at bay. A great change came. Strudley sent out to Mitchell, who in turn gave to James, and the genial captain beat Batley with a shot well out of reach. From the centre kick, McClennan tried a solo run, Oxley just robbing him in time. Halliday gave to James, who again beat Batley. This seemed to take the heart of the Grey Birds, and for a time the Juniors were in control of the game. There was a melee in front of the Grey Birds' goal. The ball eventually was sent past Batley by one of the Grey Birds' players. They Grey Birds were urged to play up, and McClennan saw an opening and gave to Hotson, who beat Montgomery. This put new life in the Grey Birds, and Buchan had very hard lines. Chambers sent Soutar along the left. His centre was met by Mitchell, who made no mistake, and scored the best goal of the game. Time was soon afterwards called, and the Juniors retain the trophy for another year by 4 goals to one.

The teams:

C.P.C. Juniors—T. Montgomery; W. Oxley and R. Carmichael; T. Ball, Halliday and Chambers; Mitchell, James, Strudley, J. Downer and F. Soutar.

Grey Birds—Batley; Dave Grant and H. Bradley; E. Williams, Feeley and McClennan; Cross, Buchan, Lynch, A. Anderson and H. Hotson.

Referee—Frank McKinley.

Presenting the Cup.

Mr. W. H. Taylor presented the cup from the band-stand, congratulating the winning team on retaining their undefeated record, and the losers upon the good game they played against such a combination. He was pleased to see such a keenly-contested game played so clean, not one foul being given all through the game. The captain, Walley James, accepted the cup, and thanked the donor for his kind remarks, and called for three cheers for the Grey Birds, which were heartily responded to. A vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Taylor for his presence.

GEORGE STREET TO BE TORN UP AND RESURFACED

City Will Proceed With an Extensive Paving Programme.

DUSTLESS SWEEPER.

Broom and Shovel Cleaning Equipment For Streets of City.

The paving of certain streets and the re-surfacing of a part of George street, which have been in contemplation for some time were finally disposed of at last night meeting of the Board of Works, after a strenuous debate, amd strong opposition from some members.

The Warren Bituminous Paving Co., Ltd., will tear up George street, from Charlotte street south to the C. P.R. crossing and resurface it with bitulithic asphaltic pavement at $1.70 per yard, in all costing about $9900.

It was suggested that certain good parts of the present surface remain but Aldermen Jones and Fife both strongly urged that since the old filling would wear much quicker than the new, it would be necessary to keep patching and if the city were going to fix George street, it should be done right, guaranteeing long service.

The members were generally of opinion that George street was in very bad shape, and Chairman Morrison remarked that it was the worst street in the city.

The Warren Bituminous Paving Co. submitted tenders for three type of filling, of which the one decided upon was the best and the most expensive. The Board were of the opinion that the filling guaranteeing the most wear and the greatest satisfaction should be used.

Notices will be forwarded to the property owners affected, and they will have an opportunity of aproving or disapproving of the project.

On the suggestion of Ald. M. E. Turner a resolution was passed that the City Engineer be instructed to port on other parts of the paved streets which need to be resurfaced.

Ald. Turner made special mention of Aylmer street between Charlotte and Hunter which he alleged was as undulating as George street, south of Charlotte

Antrim Street.

Despite the petition of the North End residents to alter the proposed connecting link of George and Water streets, from Antrim street to Smith street, the Board did not change its plans and passed a resolution providing for the construction of an asphalt pavement from Aylmer, to 116 feet east of Water street, on Murray; and on Antrim street from George to Murray streets.

Ald. Meyers stated that as the paving of Smith street would result in two acute angles in the construction it would be inadvisable to pave George street from George to Water street, as it was a bad policy to deviate from right angles at the corners.

Murray Street Opposed.

Ald. McIntyre opposed the construction of Muray street, pointing out that unless the city cut down on its paving, people would leave the city because of the high taxes. He was incensed at the proposal to proceed with Murray street, and the continuing of Water street to the city limits from the C.N.R. crossing above Hilliard street.

He was not alone in his contention, for Ald. Crowe after explaining that the city had already exceeded their expectations at the first of the year, declared that further work should be curtailed in view of the fact that there is a lot of unemployment in the city, concluding by saying "the taxpayer will feel it, and I have consideration for the taxpayer."

Ald. Maher thought that because Murray street was a blind street, carrying little traffic, other streets could be substituted where paving was in urgent need.

The work on Antrim and Murray streets will be executed by the Warren Bituminous Paving Co. at $2.85 per yard, the same price quited on the construction work now in progress on Water and McDonnel streets by the same firm.

Water street Continued.

On the deciding vote of Chairman Ald. Morrison, the Board passed a resolution accepting the tender of Mr. J. J. Carrol to lay Water street Hilliard street, to the city limits at Langton street, with concrete, without gutter or curb, at $2.34 per yard which was 4c lower than City Engineer Parson's estimate. The construction includes 2900 feet, amounting to approximately 6000 square yards.

Ald. Phelan sponsored this proposal, pointing out that if Water street was continued to the city limits it would not only remedy one of the worst roads in the city, but it would complete all the trunk roads leading into the city.

The motion was supported by Ald. Maher, who stated that this road carried an immense traffic as compared with interior city streets, observing that the construction of this road would provide a greater accommodation for the money expended than on connecting links in other parts of the city.

Ald. Melville Turner, in opposing the project, advocated the paving of Park street, in front of the C.G. E., and Reid street, around Park street, as well as other heavily travelled interior streets which he mentioned as being in bad shape, in preference to Water street.

Ald. McIntyre urged that Water street be repaired, and the paving proposal abandoned

Bridge Debris.

Two tenders were received in response to advertisements asking for quotations on the scrap iron left from the Hunter street bridge, now lying in two great piles at the foot of Simcoe street. The tenders submitted offered $8.00 and $7.75 per ton respectively.

Ald. Crowe who estimated the iron as being in the neighborhood of 50 or 75 tons, stated that there were many girders that would be of use to builders, and that the city would be giving it away at $8.00 per ton.

Ald. McIntyre said that he always had to pay about $50.00 a ton to a second hand dealer, if he had occasion to purchase old girders

In view of these remarks the Board took no action in reference to the tenders, and on motion of Ald M. Turner, a committee was appointed to invetsigate and estimate the value of the iron before any final disposition was made by the board.

Dustless Sweeper for City.

Ald. Maher opened a new topic, when he remarked that although he did not have an opportunity of being out on the 12th, he was out on Sunday and declared that George street was in a terrible shape, littered with paper and junk from one end to the other. He laid blame on the visitors, but thought it would have been very convenient if the city had a Dominion dustless sweeper to quickly run over the streets on any such occasions.

It was shown by Mayor Turner a sweeper could be purchased by the city for $15,000.00 on satisfactory terms of payment.

The announcement of the initial cost drew a silence, but when it was explained that it cost $4500 to clean and water the streets annually by the broom and shovel method, the purchasing proposal became more acceptable.

The streets would be swept better and cheaper, declared Ald. Crowe.

It was explained that the machine could be operated by an amateur, and that in the large centres they have stood five years continuous service. With limited service Mayor Turner observed that a machine would serve Peterboro for ten years.

As the sweeper dry cleans it would be unnecessary to water the paved streets if the city possessed a dustless sweeper.

It was also suggested by the Mayor and favored by the Board that since the Dominion Dustless Sweeper Co., was a local industry the city should show encouragement by using its product, if at all possible.

A resolution was passed called a special meeting for the purpose of interviewing Mr. H. M. Bishop, the manager of the firm, in reference to the purchase of a machine for the city.

New Shed Proposed.

A resolution was introduced by Mayor Turner, which carried, requesting that the City Engineer submit plans with estimates on a Board of Works shed on the city's property along the water front, between Simcoe and Charlotte streets, bearing in mind:

1 Housing for a Dominion dustless sweeper, should the city purchase one;

2 The approximate cost of moving the city's shed from the C. P. R. track property along Wolfe street;

3 Advertising for tenders on the present shed, possession to be given about Oct. 1, tenders to be received up to August 15th.

MONTREAL PORT LEADS IN GRAIN

Vancouver Handled Fifty Million Bushels of Wheat in Four Months.

MONTREAL, July 16.—Vancouver has not yet out-distanced Montreal in the matter of grain exports, as was recently stated in a despatch from Ottawa on the contrary, Montreal retains her position as the premier grain shipping port of this continent.

During the ten months ended June 30, 1924, Vancouver shipped out 50,691,096 bushels of wheat, according to the despatch. Montreal during the same period, shipped out 61,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, or a total of 78,000,000 bushels of all grains notwithstanding that the period under review embraced five months during which the port of Montreal was closed by ice.

"The statement from Ottawa was probably due to failure to include in the Montreal total the amount of Canadian grain that was taken to Buffalo en route to Montreal," said Dr. W. L. McDougald, president of the Montreal Harbor Commission on his return to the city yesterday from a business trip. "A large amount of grain that is produced in Canada and exported from a Canadian port finds its way to Montreal each year via Buffalo, and this amount has evidently been wrongly classed as American grain."

SALVATION ARMY BAND ON A VISIT

Smith Falls Residents Enjoyed Visit of Peterborough Musicians.

(From Smiths Falls Gazette)

Smiths Falls had a real treat during the week-end when the Peterboro Salvation Army Band came on Saturday and stopped until Monday night. On Saturday evening, just at their first appearance on the street a heavy downpour of rain commenced and although it was badly needed it was a little ahead of time. Notwithstanding that, the people turned out in crowds, and the parking location on Beckwith street was one mass of cars with the people lining the sidewalks. It is a wonderful band and they played delightful music, which was appreciated by the people judging by the applause after every selection. The band certainly lived up to advance notices and the subsequent programmes were all well attended.

Saturday morning, in conjunction with the local Orange Order they held Divine worship in the Rideau theatre, Staff Captain McElhiney, assistant parole officer for Ontario, addressed the meeting. He emphasized the necessity of living a more spiritual life, especially in our present period of unrest. In the afternoon a short concert was rendered in the park folowed by a second in the Rideau theatre at 3 o'clock. At this concert the famous saxaphone section was featured. This section comprised eleven saxaphones, certainly the largest number in any Salvation Army band and possibly in any military band in Canada. Bandmaster Robinson's cornet solo, "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn" was the feature of the program, displaying musical taste with perfect technique. Captain Payton and Bandsman Young were heard in a pleasing negro duet, while Mr. Grant Braund as pianist delighted the audience with his army melodies, the arrangement being his own.

In the evening the meeting in the Rideau theatre took the form of an evangelistic as well as musical service. Staff Captain McElhiney gave some of his personal experiences gleaned from a life time spent in the Army work. His word pictures were particularly graphic and some statistics were very surprising to the laymen. He referred to the fact that in Kingston Penitentiary 75% of the inmates were men under 25 years of age and emphasized the necessity of evangelistic work among the young men. Some special musical number were rendered by request, the band work being in general, of a brilliant nature. A notable feature was the singing of gospel songs by the bandsmen.

On Monday night a musical program was given in the Methodist church, and on Tuesday morning another in front of the Public Hospital.

An editorial reads as follows:

"The Peterboro Salvation Army Silver Band which paid Smiths Falls a visit during the past week gave the citizens a treat which we hope the members of that wonderful organization fully realize. There were about forty pieces in the band, under an expert leader, and every man seemed to be able to play his part. It was quite an undertaking or Captain Payton to bring the band to Smiths Falls, but we feel sure he was well repaid by the many words of congratulation he received and it is hoped the financial returns were fully equal to the words of praise for the band. There is nothing seems to "take" the people like a first-class band, and the one which was here last week could easily be placed in that category."

RECOVERED SIGHT.

SYDNEY, N.S., July 16.—(Canadian Press.)— Hugh Roper, North Sydney ,aged 87, almost totally blind, experienced an almost complete recovery of his sight for a period of 48 hours, as a result, it is believed, of the electrical vibrations received while listening in at a radio concert.

THEATRES

AT THE ROYAL.

Hoot Gibson's Latest Thriller at the Royal To-morrow "Hook and Ladder."

Nonchantly Ace Cooper, one-time cowboy, now a fireman, answered the telephone. What he heard drove all the color from his face.

Sally Drennan, the Chief's daughter, his sweetheart—locked with "Big Tim" O'Rourke in the political boss' own residence!

Another bell rang almost immediately after he dropped the receiver. This time it told of a fire in O'Rourke's home.

He swore he'd kill the fellow who who framed this thing. Could "Big Tim" be crooked, or was he too being made an innocent victim of a vicious double-crossing?

These thoughts rushed through his brain as he dashed to the driver's seat in the Chief's car. A general alarm came in. The big engines of the trucks were roaring as Ace and his Chief whirled away from the fire house.

As the car swung at top speed down the long boulevard, the spectacle of the burning house confronted them.

It looked to be a mass of flames. Sally and O'Rourke were trapped. Not a chance in the world to save them, it seemed even to the experienced eyes of his fellow firemen.

But Ace felt there yet was was one chance as he shoved the foot throttle to the floor-board, holding it firm. As the big racer skidded to a stop at curb, he was off like a flash. The balcony, his only hope, was wrapped in flames. Yet the wall must be scaled though momentarily it threatened to fall. Up a ladder he rushed . . . But there are thrills, adventure and romance in "Hook and Ladder", Hoot Gibson's latest Universal starring feature, which comes to-morrow at the Royal Theatre, which will never be forgotten.

The band of the Peterboro Rangers is providing music for the parade, and is also giving a concert in the afternoon. The full band will be present, and the Bandmaster and members extend an invitation to all bandsmen to join with them and make one big band, the Rangers providing the music. The bandsmen will meet at Central Park at 1.30 p.m., play a short programme, and then head the parade to the Exhibition Grounds, where a band concert will be given during the afternoon.

INCREASE IN TAXES.

City Coffers Show Remarkable Gain Over Last Year.

City Tax Collector Green reports that $249,637.95 in taxes have been received by him to July 15, which, as compared with $222,140.07 on July 15, 1923, shows an increase of $27,497.88 over last year at this date. At the end of July last year the city had received in taxes the sum of $345,317.13, an amount less than has been paid this year on July 15.

The above figures speak for themselves and are an indication of the financial condition of Peterboro's taxpayers as compared with this date last year.

FOREST FIRE MENACE.

IF IT WERE YOUR CHILD

Suppose your child were crippled, with a deformed back or a twisted leg, and you couldn't afford to pay for the hospital attention that would make him well and strong. Suppose somebody came along and said, "We will send him where he can be fixed up, and a smile put into his sad little eyes." Wouldn't you be happier than you had been since his accident?

The Rotary Club is trying to bring that happiness into the hearts of a number of our Peterboro people who are in just that situation. Isn't it a worth while thing to do?

To-morrow everybody has a chance to help out. Come and spend your money freely at the Big Rotary Carnival at the Exhibition Grounds. Attractions for everybody, and a big cause to help. The club has already helped more than fifteen children, and wants to do the same for more. Every cent of profit to-morrow goes to this cause.

Just imagine that it were your child, and come along with the change loose in your pocket.

RADIO NEWS.

Word was received that Eric Roberts, a Peterborough boy, now playing saxophone in Ed. Day's, Bedford Glens Orchestra, Cleveland, Ohio, was to render a solo during a radio concert the orchestra was broadcasting from Cleveland last night, and his friends were on the watch to tune in and hear him. Several parties had Cleveland, and heard the programme, and at Greene Music Store, a party of listeners picked up Cleveland early and heard the orchestra and other selections for about two hours. Mr. Roberts' saxophone solo was beautifully clear, and came in over a loud speaker most satisfactorily. It was entitled "What'll I Do," and his friendse certainly appreciated the opportunity of hearing him play in spite of the distance at which he was performing.

IN MEMORIAM

LAW—In loving memory of L. A. Law, beloved husband of Flora Law, who died July 15, 1923.

More and more each day, I miss him
Friends may think the wound is healed:
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within my heart concealed.
His loving face I ne'er forget,
Though a year has passed away;
The loss of him I sadly miss
As keen as that first day.
But I know that he is happy
In our Saviour's home above
Growing fairer as he lingers,
In the sunshine of his love.

WEDDING BELLS.

POORE—O'BRIEN.
WADE—O'BRIEN.

An unusual event took place at 8 o'clock this morning, at St. Peter's Cathedral, in a double wedding solemnized by Rev. J. B. Collins, C.SS. R., of Esopus, New York, when Margaret Bernardne, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. O'Brien, 50 Wolsley street, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony, to John Henry Poore, of Renfrew, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Poore, of Prescott, Ont., and her sister, Mae Florence, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, became the bride of Leland John Wade of Peterboro, son of Mrs. T. J. Best, and the late George Wade. The wedding march was played by Miss L. Hurley and Miss Frances Murray sang a very pretty Ave Maria. The interesting ceremony was witnessed by a large number of friends.

The brides, who were given in marriage by their father, wore lovely gowns of the same type, made of white silk voile, the skirts ornamented with large wheels of the Val. lace which trimmed the necks and sleeves. The draperies were also caught with pearl ornaments and pearls and orange blossoms formed the dainty wreaths that capped the white tulle veils. White shoes and stockings were worn, and the brides' bouquets were showers of ophelia roses and sweet peas.

The bridesmaids were two sisters, Miss Genevieve O'Brien attending Miss Bernardine, wore a frock of pale yellow taffeta, trimmed with cream val. lace, and a leghorn hat, with streamers of narrow yellow ribbon and faced with yellow. Miss Irene O'Brien, acting as attendant for Miss Mae, wore pale blue taffeta lace trimmed, and her leghorn hat was faced with blue and trimmed with black velvet ribbon. Both bridesmaids wore black satin slippers, with stockings to match their dresses, and carried arm bouquets of sweetheart roses and sweet peas.

Charming small flower girls were little Marion Best of Peterboro, and Lorraine Angelsey of Toronto, wearing mauve and pale green organdie dresses, and floral head coronets, and carrying baskets of sweet peas and feverfew.

Charles French of Renfrew, acted as best man for Mr. Poore. Gerald Moher of Peterboro, performing a like service for Mr. Wade.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast to 60 guests was served from a large marquee on the lawn of the residence of the brides' parents, sweet peas and roses decorating the tables.

The guests were received by the two brides, assisted by their mother, Mrs. William O'Brien, wearing black canton crepe and grey hat with French flowers, also Mrs. T. J. Best, in cocoa canton crepe, with brown hat, and Mrs. J. H. Poore of Prescott, who wore black crepe and black and grey hat. The three ladies wore corsage bouquets of sweet peas.

Speeches and toasts at the wedding breakfast we remade by Rev. J. B. Collins, Rev. P. Costello, Mr. Wm. O'Brien, Dr. James V. Gallivan, Mr. M. McDonald of Toronto, and the two bridegrooms.

In the afternoon the bridal party left by motor for Toronto, Niagara, Detroit and other points in the United States. Mrs. Poore wore a sand knit costume, trimmed with brown, brown sports shoes and stockings, and brown Bangkok hat, with Roman stripe band. Mrs. Wade was dressed in a silk knit suit of pearl grey and camel shades, with camel sandal shoes and grey stockings, and cloche hat of burnt orange.

Mr. and Mrs. Poore will live in Renfrew, Mr. and Mrs. Wade in Peterboro.

Gifts of the bridegrooms to the brides were platinum bar pins, with diamond settings; to the bridesmaids silver rosaries in silver cases; to the flower girls, gold chains and crosses; and to the solist, Miss Frances Murray, a silver vanity case.

VOL. LV., No. 14 — PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JULY 17, 1924 — PRICE THREE CENTS

TORONTO UNION STATION SCHEME WAS ENDORSED

W. F. MacLean Predicted it Would Be Obsolete in Twenty Years.

URGED N. TORONTO.

New Uptown Terminal Will Be Necessary, He Declared.

OTTAWA, July 17. — (Canadian Press).—Opposition to the Toronto Viaduct Bill developed when the measure went into Committee stage after the luncheon recess in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. W. F. MacLean (Conservative, South York) said the project would involve commitments totalling $100,000,000 before the viaduct was finished. Even then Toronto's traffic problems would not be solved. The true centre of Toronto's railway traffic was up town, and the station should be moved to North Toronto. The bill got third reading after considerable discussion.

T. L. Church (Conservative, North Toronto) who sat beside Mr. MacLean, interrupted several times to protest against statements made by the member for South York. Mr. MacLean said Mr. Church was afraid of the facts.

"He represents North Toronto," Dr. Charles Sheard (Conservative, Toronto South) remarked.

"So do I," retorted Mr. MacLean. "I represent that riding more than he does."

MacLean Objected.

Once Mr. MacLean was ruled out of order. The question before the House was whether Hon. George P. Graham's amendment to the bill, making a change in one clause, should be adopted. The chairman of the committee drew Mr. MacLean's attention to this. He continued to urge reasons why the viaduct scheme in its present form should not be carried through, amid good-humored banter from all parts of the Conservative benches.

Mr. MacLean continued to press vigorously for a railway station in the northern section of the city.

"When this scheme of yours is operating, would it be possible to go through Toronto without stopping?" Lucien Cannon (Liberal, Dorchester) asked.

"I hope it would if my honorable friend happens to be on the train," was the retort.

Mr. MacLean would like to see Mr. Graham "with his pontifical attitude" toward everything come down to Toronto and investigate his proposal. The new Union Station would make a splendid Customs House. Mr. MacLean proposed to hold a public meeting in North Toronto and invite his friend, Mr. Church, to come there and debate the question with him. He would also include Mr. Cannon, who was a very wise man, in fact, the wisest man in the House with the exception of "my pontifical friend."

Deserted in 20 Years.

In twenty years it would be necessary to desert the new Union Station and the viaduct and move to North Toronto in any event, and Sir Henry Thornton, E. W. Beatty, K.C., and Mr. Graham should be examined on the witness stand on this point.

A development in North Toronto would do for the city ten times more than the construction of the Bloor Street viaduct did. Mr. MacLean declared that he, alone, was responsible for the Bloor Street viaduct. Mr. Church, when Mayor, had wanted to name it the Prince of Wales' viaduct, but in spite of this the people still referred to it as the MacLean viaduct.

In a few years Toronto would become a great seaport, and the proper centre of distribution in connection with the port was Toronto North. If the Government went through with this measure it would not be two years until the whole undertaking was repudiated by the railroads so far as solution to the transportation problem went, and a new terminal would be necessary in North Toronto.

D. Spence (Conservative, Parkdale) hoped that no one in the House had paid any attention to Mr. MacLean. The engineers had all approved the present scheme, and the House should pass the bill.

The bill was then given third reading.

OLD HOME WEEK DEFICIT.

Lindsay Has Adverse Balance of $1,600 to be Collected.

(Special to the Examiner)

LINDSAY, July 17.—The Old Home Week executive has reported a deficit of $1,600 as a result of the venture. A guarantee list of $10,000 was raised among the citizens of the town ,and the guarantors will be drawn on for 10 per cent of the guarantee. The town council has voted $200.00 to the executive to help wipe out the deficit.

The members of the executive and the citizens generally are well satisfied with the result. True, they would like to have come out even in the venture, but the town was well repaid in the excellent advertising received, as a result of the excellent street decorations as well as the programme arranged for the week.

It is felt that a mistake was made in taking the people out of town on one day during the week. A big picnic was held at Long Beach, and the executive was out of pocket on the venture. It is held by some that it would have been better had a day's sport of some kind been held in the town that day. he financial returns would have been very satisfactory. been very satisfactory. The event at Long Beach told on the attendance at the horse races on the closing day.

SEES TRADE REVIVAL.

Studebaker Head Expects Wider Markets and High Grain Prices.

CHICAGO, July 17. — Recovery of business is not far distant, according to A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker Corporation. He said:

"For the first six months of this year the sales by manufacturers to dealers show a higher percentage, as comared wth last year, than sales by dealers to consumers, which were off aproximately 30 per cent. as a whole.

"Business was better in some sections of the country than in others, but I think 30 per cent. decrease is a fair estimate. Comparing 1923 with 1922, however, the consumer demand was quite as good, 1923 being a peak year.

"Automobile sales declined this year because of the late spring and the general business decline. Production for the last few months has been below consumption. Hence dealers' stocks have been considerably reduced although their stocks are still higher than they should be.

"Wth cheap money and higher grain prices this fall, I believe business recovery is just ahead.

"Export markets are widening and increasing all the time. Studebaker's export business for the first six months of this year exceeded that of last year."

ARTHUR CUTTEM CORNERED CORN FORMER GUELPH BOY'S BIG COUP

Recently Announced That He Owned All the Cash Corn in Chicago—Bought at 70c. and Sold at $1.10 This Week to Glucose Company—Has Wealth of More Than Thirty Millions.

GREATEST CLEAN-UP IN YEARS.

CHICAGO, July 17. — Modesty, mystery and a million to-day appeared as the audit of Arthur W. Cutten's coup in corn — the greatest cleaning in the local market in years.

Modesty—Mr. Cutten came to Chicago from his DuPage county home and smilingly declined to take the heroic attitude in which admirers sought to pose him.

"Something I don't want to talk about," he said, as if the garnering of the large profit were nothing of interest.

Mystery—He was similarly reticent concerning the parties to the operation in which he lost heavily last month because of his faith—since vindicated—that corn must go higher. He indicated his intention to close the books on the deal that ended with the sale to a glucose company at $1.10 a bushel of the corn which he had purchased at 70 cents.

A million—It's more than that. About the board of trade it was reported that his profits might run closer to two million and that a conservative estimate would place it at $1,500,000. LaSalle Street was still blinking at the brilliance of the coup and the rocket-like speed with which it was turned.

News to Mrs. Cutten.

Mrs. Cutten was also unwilling to speak of her husband's success. She was interviewed at her country home and took the attitude that the million-dollar manoeuvre was all news to her.

"That's certainly interesting," she laughed when told of the report. "But if he has done all this he didn't mention it to me, and I don't know a thing about it. Mr. Cutten has already left for his Chicago office — you will have to ask him about it all."

Makes Profit in Wheat.

According to the report, Mr. Cutten completed his deal Monday when he sold 300,000 bushels of corn to a glucose concern at a price in the neighborhood of $1.10 a bushel. Also, it is said that in the recent advance in wheat of from 20 to 25 cents a bushel in the Winnipeg and Chicago markets his profits were exceedingly large.

Living on a farm, which is one of the show places of DuPage county, Mr. Cutten refers to himself as a "cash grain merchant and dirt farmer" and doesn't relish being referred to as a board of trade operator.

His profits, as estimated in Wall Street, on the Chicago Board of Trade and the New York Stock Exchange since 1907, when he made his first killing, have been over $30,000,000. As a speculator he ranks with the great James R. Keene. Alongside of him Jesse Livermore is a piker. There have been times when this quiet man carried as high as 200,000 shares on margin on the New York market. And every dollar of it was his own money. The most of Livermore's vaunted speculation is done with other people's coin.

Guelph Old Boy.

Arthur W. Cutten was born in Guelph, Ont. He is in his fifties—a man with a strange vein of shyness, disinclined to talk about himself. He visits Toronto often, and was here for two or three days last week, leaving for Chicago only Saturday. He has two married brothers here—Lionel F. Cutten, of Cutten & Foster, 302 Church Street, and Ralph J. Cutten, of Cutten and Chudleigh, brokers, King Street West. In Guelph he has an unmarried brother and two unmarried sisters. The old home there is one of his real loves. Canada, itself, is another. He likes British ideals and the British way of doing things. His father, W. H. Cutten, was a prominent Guelph lawyer in the old days of the firm of Guthrie, Watt & Cutten — Guthrie being the father of Hon. Hugh Guthrie, K.C., M.P. Father and mother are both dead.

While he attended both public and private schools and took a course at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Arthur Cutten never liked that kind of study. His early propensity for winning was shown in a collection of marbles representing practically a corner in this commodity in Guelph which he won from all the other boys of the town. This collection he kept in a box with a glass top—just as he puts away his bonds to-day.

Started at $6 a Week.

About 1890, unable to find a position in Canada, he went to Chicago. His first job there was with Marshall Field at $6 per week. Then for a while he sold hats on the street. His next position was with Hately Bros., who were members of the Chicago Board of Trade. The Hatelys had come from Brantford and they took a liking to young Cutten and frequently invited him to their home. This was no little distinction at that time as they were wealthy and decidedly well-placed socially. But Fortune, insistent, led Arthur Cutten onward. His next connection was with A. S. White & Co., who had large stockyard interests. For a number of years he executed all of their Board of Trade business. With Mr. White's knowledge he started speculating on his own account. He was very successful and by the end of 1907 had cleared a good-sized fortune. Luck and unusual judgment seem to have attended him ever since. He has added millions to millions—always speculating with his own money—till he has become known as one of the most daring plungers in America. Yet in appearance he is unassuming. He weighs only about 140 lbs. and a certain boyishness pertains to his carriage, his gray hair and blue eyes. He has no office—is not a business man in that sense. But 23 miles outside of Chicago he owns a 900-acre farm. He owns other farms in Saskatchewan. The greater part of his money, when he is not playing it, is in bonds.

Owned All "Cash Corn."

He married a Chicago girl who is a couple of years his junior and who came of a poor but fine family. So far there is no heir. He is thoroughly a Canadian—even his grandparents being born here. His wife likes Canada as much as he does and accompanies him on almost every visit. Where here last week he informed his brother that he owned all the cash corn in Chicago. On his arrival in the Windy City he started to unload.

Despite his great wealth he has never been abroad. His chief hobby is golf and he is one of the champions of the Chicago Golf Club. His standard is far different from that of the average close-fisted business man. His generosity and open-handedness is frequently astounding. Scarcely a boy friend who went to school with him but has experienced this generosity—some to the extent of many thousands of dollars.

But Arthur Cutten would never tell you these things about himself. His good deeds, like his wizardry of market judgment, he keeps to himself—perhaps finding inspiration in silence. A sort of General Foch of the Chicago Board of Trade, Canada has reason, in his line, to be mighty prorud of him. For those in the history of financial America who have possessed anything like his nerve and daring you can count on the fingers of one hand.

HOUSE APPROVED MONTREAL PLAN FOR NEW BRIDGE

Quebec Metropolis Benefits While Toronto is Securing Long Deferred Viaduct.

BONDING UNDECIDED.

Pledge To Use Canadian Materials Not Regarded as Necessary.

OTTAWA, July 17. — (Canadian Press).—The Bill providing for the construction of a bridge from Montreal to the south shore of the St. Lawrence received third reading in the House Wednesday.

A. J. Lewis, (Progressive, Swift Current), said that from newspaper reports he believed that real estate dealers were already active in Montreal because of this legislation, and that the chairman of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, W. D. MacDougall was being appealed to for some share in the contracts. This was the sort of thing which made it advisable that the work should be done by the Government directly.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, asked what the plans of the Government were as to the share of the guarantee to be borne by the Province or the city of Montreal. Was it proposed that the Province and the city should each guarantee a section of the bonds and that these sections of the bonds should not be guaranteed by the Dominion.

Hon. D. Cardin Minister of Fisheries, replied that the Government had no definite plans in that regard. The Harbor Commission would negotiate with the city and the Province and the result of those negotiations would be subject to the approval of the Governor in Council.

Parliament Control

Mr. Meighen renewed his suggestion that it would be much better if the expenditure were undertaken directly by the Dominion. Then Parliament could exercise control properly.

"Nothing could be more dishonest," he added, than to suggest that, because he had made this proposition, he was therefore opposed to building the bridge. He was not opposed building the bridge. He believed it to be necessary.

John Millar, (Progressive, Q'Appelle), wanted to know what guarantees the Government had that there would be no discrimination in the rates charged by the Montreal Harbor Commission. They might charge a purely nominal rate for local traffic on the bridge and make up the deficit by higher rates on grain traffic in the port.

Mr. Cardin replied that the rates charged by the Commission would be subject to approval by the Governor in Council.

T. W. Caldwell (Progressive, Victoria-Carleton) suggested the insertion in the Bill of a section to provide the proportions of the bonds which would be guaranteed by the Dominion, by the city and by the Province, say, one third each or one quarter each by the city and the Province and one half by the Dominion.

Sir Henry Drayton (Conservative West York) said that such a provision would not affect the guarantee of the Dominion at all. He suggested an agreement under which the city of Montreal and the Province of Quebec should each contract to meet a fixed proportion of the deficit on the maintenance of the bridge, if any.

Canadian Materials

H. J. Logan, (Liberal, Cumberland) moved an amendment requiring that all the material used in the construction of the bridge should be of Canadian production when it could be secured at reasonable prices.

S. W. Jacobs, (Liberal, George-Etienne Cartier) agreed with the amendment. It was a means of indicating patriotism in a material manner.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, was surprised at the readiness of the House to put this kind of an amendment into an Act of Parliament. It should not be necessary to make such suggestions.

Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, was opposed to the amendment. It was unwise for Parliament to pledge itself in such a manner. Mr. Ligan stated that it was the same amendment which was put in the national Transcontinental Railway Bill twenty years ago. The amendment was lost on division.

Mr. Cardin assured the Committee that all Canadian interests would be protected as far as possible respecting the construction of the bridge.

OSHAWA'S UNEMPLOYED.

Relief Officers Distributed 150 Loaves of Bread on Monday.

OSHAWA, July 16. — Monday over one hundred and fifty loaves of bread were distributed through the city relief officer to the unemployed of the city and a continual line up of men, women and children besieged offices of the relief department requesting assistance. Each day during the past month, well over sixty men have applied for work, but the majority of those who have not secured employment up to the present are foreign element.

AFTER THE LAST FAREWELLS HAD BEEN SAID.

The story of their grief and anguish is plainly told in this remarkable picture of President and Mrs. Coolidge leaving the cemetery at Northampton, Mass., after laying to rest their son Calvin, Jr. Just behind the President walks his father, while John follows his mother. The President's military aide is at the right.

FIRE FIGHTERS AIDED BY RAINS

No New Outbreaks Reported Along British Columbia Coast—Only One Burning.

VANCOUVER, B.C. July 17.—Heavy rainfals in the British Columbia coast districts have proved a boon to forest fire-fighters.

No new fires are reported. The Rock Bay fire is quiet after 48 hours' rain. A large crew is employed felling snags and totally extinguishing fires near the fire lines.

The Redonda Island and Haslam Lake fires are also quiet and the fighters are extinguishing fires and consolidating their fire lines.

On Vancouver Island, at Cowichan Road and Jordan River, fires are being extinguished and the forestry department does not look for further trouble in this quarter.

No Lives Lost

No human lives were lost, though 34 horses probably perished in the Porcupine Creek, near Nelson Monday. The four missing Doukhobor woodsmen were found Tuesday. Eleven badly burned Doukhobors are in Nelson hospital.

When the fire overtook the score or more of men at Camp No. 2 some took to the creek, and some took to the flume. When the flume was burned higher up, its flow stopped, and the men had to fight for their lives.

The Wilcox mine was burned Monday, with a loss of about $20,000 The weather has turned colder, with prospects of rain.

Raging at Donald

CALGARY, Alta., July 17.—The big forest fire that has been raging on the slopes of McKenzie, Tilley and Cartier mountains, south of Revelstoke, is under control.

The headquarters of the forestry service in Calgary heard from their Revelstoke offices yesterday morning. Those in charge there, after all day in the field yesterday, were able to report that the fire had been controlled.

But with better news from south of Revelstoke, comes worse news from Donald, where another big fire is raging. The ranger in charge at this point has called for more men and these are being supplied.

Reports from the coast end of the railway belt are to the effect that the fire at Cultus Lake, started by campers near Chilliwack is well under control. Rain there during the early part of the week helped the situation considerably.

B. C. LIQUOR IMPORTS.

Custom Duties Showed Increase Last Year Over 1922.

OTTAWA, July 17. — (Canadian Press). — British Columbia's liquor imports netted to the public purse of the Dominion by way of customs duties alone $4,779,110 in 1922 and $5,053,167 in 1923. In addition to this excise duties on foreign liquor imported totalled $6,721 for the two years. On domestic spirits and malt liquor excise totalled in the two years $808,745.

These figures are given in a return tabled in the House of Commons yesterday.

HOBO HARVESTERS GONE.

Motor to West to Work According to U. S. Employment Agent.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, July 17—The days of the hobo harvest hand are of the past, according to George F. Albert special agent of the Federal Government, who is here for his seventh year to handle harvest labor for the Dakotas Minnesota and Nebraska

He says that in place of the hobo who rode on brake beams and "bummed" his way into the harvest fields to loaf while pretending to work there, has come a class of men who actually want work and who are traveling to it in automobiles of all descriptions. Hundreds of these men, he adds, are already driving into the Nebraska fields and will follow the progress of harvest and threshing as it moves northward to and into Canada.

CHILD'S FINGERS WERE TORN OUT

Distressing Accident to Son of Cecil Sloggett, Near Campbellford.

CAUGHT IN PULLEY.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 17.—Elwood, the four year old son of Cecil Sloggitt, who resides on a farm near Godolphin, had both of his hands badly mangled on Wednesday, and as a result is likely to be cripped for life.

The father was unloading hay with a horsefork in the barn, and the little fellow who was playing around, caught the rope. When the team started the boy's hands were drawn into the pulley on the barn floor.

Two fingers were torn by the roots from the left hand and teh middle finger from the right. Dr. Richardson was called from Campbellford to attend the injured lad. It may be necessary to amputate two more fingers on the right hand as they are badly mangled.

Mrs. Sloggett, the boy's mother, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Barrie of Campbellford.

Personal.

George O'Sullivan and his son, Frank, are visiting Mr. O'Sullivan's mother and sister in Rochester, N.Y.

ONTARIO VOTE IS ANNOUNCED

Toronto Papers Say October 23rd Will be the Fateful Day For Wets and Drys.

TORONTO, July 17. — Canadian Press. — Ontario citizens will pass upon the liquor issue on Thursday, October 23rd next, according to a story appearing in the papers this morning.

The decision to hold a plebiscite upon that date has after careful consideration, been reached by the government, and represents the fulfilment of Premier Ferguson's election time pledge of a vote for the people "If and when public opinion demands it."

The form of question to be voted upon has not yet been announced by the Prime Minister, but it will be made pjublic in plenty of time for campaign purposes of both the wet and dry forces.

The Prme Minister and his colleagues are desirous of giving the question the utmost deliberation and thought, with the object of submitting the proposition, the vote upon which may be accepted as accurately representing the majority of public opinion.

The announcement of the question forms will be made in ample time to ensude its fair discussion and comprehenson by the people.

Along with a desire to make the question one in line with public opinion of time, the Premier states, there is a determination upon the part of the goverement to make it one readily understandable by the the voters.

"Trick ballot" charges, which have resounded from wet platforms ever since the 1919 vote, will not, according to the governments' resolve, persist from either side after this October vote.

RECORD GRAIN SEASON.

REGINA, Sask., July 17 (Canadian Press). — Creating a new record for the thirteen years it has been in business, the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company will handle 50,000,000 bushels of grain through its commission department in 1923-1924 season which ends on 31st July, according to an official estimate issued yesterday.

The same estimate is given for grain handled through country elevators.

The estimate of grain handled through terminal elevators for the 1923-1924 season is 58.000.000.

There are now 30,000 shareholders as compared with 23,228 a year ago.

MAJORITY FOR THE STRAIGHT SALE OF LIQUORS

Saskatchewan Renounces Prohibition After Four Years' Experience.

YESTERDAY'S VOTE.

Cities and Country Alike Voted For Change From Prohibition.

REGINA, July 17 (Canadian Press). — By a majority which early to-day had advanced to 23,000 and promised to go to 30,000 when the thousand unreported polls had been heard from, Prohibition was renounced by Saskatchewan yesterday, after four years' "experience with the Saskatchewan Temperance Act."

At the same time the electors expressed their preference for a straight Government control of the sale of liquor through vendors as opposed to such control accompanied by licensed beer premises by a majority of 8,935.

Cities and country alike condemned Prohibition and voted for the change.

The cities contributed 10,000 to the majority, but the landslide struck the urban and rural districts without distinction, and carried the maojrity to heights which only the most enthusiastic members of the Moderation League had predicted.

Prohibition workers counted unavailingly on the country to hold down or overcome the adverse vote which they experienced in the larger cities.

PROBE INDIAN'S DEATH.

Chief Jimmy Harry Picked Up in Vancouver Fatally Injured.

VANCOUVER, July 17 (Canadian Press). — Chief Jimmy Harry, one of the best known chiefs of the Squamish Nation, is dead, and police are investigating the possibility of foul play.

The Indian was picked up in the east-end of the city in an unconscious condition from head injuries, and sent to the hospital.

Recently an award of more than $8.000 was made to the Indians of Chief Harry's reserve by a bridge construction company for use of reserve property, and the police believe that robbers attacked the Indian hoping to find a sum of money on his person.

A COUNTY HIGHWAY.

Detour of Six Miles in Prospect For Travellers.

ORLAND, July 17. — Work has been commenced on the county highway between Campbellford and Brighton where it crosses Cole Creek by Mr. A. Coner, the overseer of this division.

There is to be built a new flume just south of the iron bridge which will be used as a raceway to furnish power to the chopping mill owned and operated by Robert Ryckman

As soon as the road gang which is at present at work on the Meyersburg bridge, have finished the job at that place they will move to Orland, and commence the cement work on the flume. This means that there will be a detour of about six miles either west by H. A. Loomis' place, or east to P. Cowans.

Pressure will be brought to bear on Mr. Greer, the county overseer, to make a temporary roadway at a small expense and thereby greatly accommodate the travelling public, as it will be a matter of at least six weeks before traffic can be resumed over this part of the road.

THE HUCKSTERING MAN.

A Fellow Who is Driving a Lazy-Like Mare.

What, ho! 'Tis the call of the huckestering man that is floating around on the air. A fellow of ruddiness, sun-kissed and tan who is driving a lazy-like mare.

He plods down your street and he shouts in a voice that will echo from valley and dell. You rush to his wagon and pick out your choice of the things that he's trying to sell.

There's radishes, onions and fruits of all sorts and he keeps them on open display. Perhaps he's the fellow who really retorts, "Yes, I have no bananas today."

His wagon is loaded, when first he starts out, with the farm things, as fresh as can be. And then, very shortly, we all hear him shout so he'll sell them to you and to me.

Which all should remind us to issue our thanks to the loud-shouting huckestering man. For he is the fellow on whom mother banks when she's looking for good things to can.

14 YEAR OLD HERO.

UNITED STATES GLOBE GIRDLERS REACH ENGLAND

Landed Yesterday at Croydon After Brief Rest in France.

TELLS OF HAZARDS.

Risky Flight From China — Forced to Descend in Desert.

CROYDON, England, July 17. — The United States Army airmen on their world flight landed here yesterday afternoon.

Lieutenant Ogden, describing the journey of the airmen since they left China, said that the hardest part of the voyage had been over the Malay Peninsula, when they daringly undertook to cut across several hundred miles of densely forested mountains with pontoons, meaning a certain crash and likely death if they were forced to land.

For hours, Ogden said, they flew over a high range, just clearing the tops of the peaks. He continued:

"Once Lieutenant Wade and myself were flying No. 3 in close formation with Lieutenants Neilson and Harding in No. 4 and Lieutenant Smith leading in No. 2. Suddenly a high peak loomed ahead. To avoid it, Nos. 3 and 4 swerved to the right and left.

"When we reached the other side of the peak, No. 2 had disappeared. We circled back to try to find Smith, but we did not succeed. Returning to the other side of the mountain again, we saw him coming out of a deep canyon which did not measure more than a hundred feet across and was bordered by perpendicular walls.

"This was the biggest thrill of the whole voyage for me, for I certainly thought we had lost Smith.

Swarms of Sampans.

"Along the coast of India we would circle above a landing port and would be able to see only a few ships, but as soon as we would land, hundreds of sampans would appear, as if by magic. We often had great difficulty in keeping them away from the planes.

"Of the remainder of India I have personally, a hazy recollection. Remember we have made Paris from Calcutta in only eleven flying days.

"Our real test came when we started over the great sand desert. Boy, that is some desert. At first we had only camel tracks to follow, and these soon branched all over the place. So we would just choose one of them and follow it, trusting to luck.

"Just before we reached Karachi, Lieutenant Neilson's motor stopped, and we all landed in the desert, miles from nowhere, with no water and no anything else anywhere around. Finally we rigged the motor, and were able to get back to Karachi. There we sent back for a new valve piston. This kept us at Karachi for forty-eight hours, the longest stay we made anywhere after leaving Calcutta.

"From Bagdad we followed the Berlin-Bagdad Railway, and we found cause to thank the Kaiser's dream of empire, because if it had not been for that railway it would have been extremely hard to find our way after leaving the Euphrates.

"We landed at Moutane, where a Royal Welsh Fusiliers detachment greeted us with a barrel of soda water. All that night the thermometer was never lower than 98 degrees."

Home Next Month.

Speaking of the flight yet to be made, he said:

"With average good luck we should be back in Los Angeles by 31st August. It all depends on what plans they map out for us in America. The quickest way would be by way of Labrador, Toronto, Detroit, and Chicago, and then over the air-mail route to San Francisco. But probably thy will route us by way of New York and Washington, which will delay us several days."

DO DUKES MARRY.

The Poor, Everyday Working Class of Girls.

LONDON, July 17. — (United Press).—Do dukes ever dream of marrying working girls?

Weary of the frigid beauties of their own class, do they really think pensively of the pretty waitress in Lyon's? or of the rosy-cheeked mill girl? or—

Well, you know—the way they do in the novels of Ethel M. Dell?

It seems they do, according to views advanced here at a conference on the uplift of working girls. One of the speakers who had been making a careful study of what working girls read and thought, declared stoutly that when you got right down to it, the girls were right—dukes DO marry them, at least often enough to justify them in their steady perusal of highly colored romance.

"We mustn't assume that the spirit of adventure is dead," said the speaker, flushed and earnest. "It still lives—in working girls and dukes. When you look over the varigated performances of the British aristocracy—my goodness, almost anything is possible.

"I think girls ought to be thrilled. I think it is very nice to see girls in the 'underground' and the street cars who never look up from their books, even when they pass their station. That is ever so much better than gossiping or making eyes. A girl has to go through this before she finds herself."

An old-fashioned delegate protested that this would lead girls to think that fortunes would drop from the skies.

"Only for a short time," said their defender, Mrs. Arnold Glover. She sighed. "Life is very serious, after all, and the girls all know it."

BEER BOR BREAKFAST.

Aged Berliner Counts Back Over 102 Years.

BERLIN, July 17.—Tiring of life in the country, some 80 years ago Herr Bruno Berendt moved to Berlin. He has lived here ever since and a few days ago celebrated his 102nd birthday.

The old gentleman says he is sure if he had remained in the country he would have passed away 20 or 30 years ago. He thinks city life is conducive to longevity, although he owns hundreds of acres of farms in various parts of Germany. Herr Berendt drinks beer for breakfast and began smoking a pipe before he came to Berlin.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid" indigestion.

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis, accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

Is the wealth of the world drifting into the hands of a few individuals, or is it tending to become distributed among many?

Answered by
A. W. WARNER
Veteran Financial Writer and Newspaper man.

When it comes time for the average man to dig into his pocket, which is usually almost empty, for taxes, he is apt to believe that his rich neighbor is getting more and more wealthy while he finds it harder to pay his bill each year.

There are two deductions which ought to mollify a man who is in this frame of mind. 1 As near as it is possible to figure, estimates show that if all incomes above $10,000 a year in the United States were divided among all those who make less than $10,000 annually, the net addition to the incomes of the latter would be about 10 per cent.

2. Common labor to-day probably is being paid more, both in money and real wages, than ever before.

These two deductions seems to indicate that the so-called poor are pretty well off and certainly have a great deal more than in past years. If the wealthy people have lost what the poor gained, the rich have been getting poorer and the poor richer, which means that wealth is drifting away from the rich.

Modern Carpet of Bagdad

Here is the brief picture story of the first transcontinental airmail flight, that latest chapter in the many romances of the air now being written. Messages now cross the nation in 36 hours, or thereabouts. Mail posted in New York at 8 a.m. will be delivered in San Francisco the following evening. On the left is shown Pilot Claire Vance taking off from San Francisco, bringing in his mail pouch this picture of himself taken and developed on the field just before he started. At Cleveland the pilots were changed and Pilot Wesley L. Smith is shown (centre) winging his way to New York and at right being greeted by his wife at the end of the history-making flight.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

Dominion Government Will Consult Provinces in Regard to Report.

OTTAWA, July 17. — (Canadian Press).—The Dominion Government will communicate with the provinces during the coming recess in regard to the establishment of a system of old-age pension. This statement was made in the House of Commons yesterday by Premier King in reply to A. W. Neill (Independent, Comox Alberni), who inquired what the Government policy was in regard to carrying out the report of the Committee on Old Age Pensions.

The Premier said that he understood the report contemplated co-operative action between the provinces and the Dominion, and then made the announcement given above. The pension system recommended by the committee provides for a pension of $20 a month, of which half is to be contributed by the province in which the pensioner resides.

SUICIDE AT OWEN SOUND.

OWEN SOUND, July 17.—(Canadian Press). — Hugh Weir, well-known farmer of Sydenham Township, was found dead in the Queen's Hotel stables here about 5 o'clock last evening by children playing about the building, and near him was found a bottle containing some carbolic acid. His mouth was badly burned. Dr. Dow, coroner here, decided that suicide was the cause of death, and no inquest will be held. The reason for his rash act is not known.

SEATS FOR LOEB TRIAL

Court, Flooded with Requests Assigns Space to Newspapers.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Requests for reservations for seats at the trial of Nathan Leopold and Richard A. Loeb charged with the murder of Robert Franks, have been so numerous from newspapers and press associations that Chief Justice J. R. Caverly announced the arrangements to be in effect in court.

The trial will begin on Aug. 4 One seat will be assigned to all Chicago papers and news agencies near the jury box. Papers outside of Chicago and special writers wil be seated in another section.

Flashlight photographs cannot be taken in the room while the trial is in progress, but will be permitted during the recesses.

About two hundred seats will be available for spectators, and when these are filled all other spectators will be barred. Extra deputies and firemen will be provided.

TAX BOARD DROPPED.

Advisory Commission to Investigate Taxation Systems Met Opposition.

OTTAWA, July 17.—Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, yesterday moved for the elimination of the proposed advisory board on taxation. This action was taken because of the protest made in the House when the enabling bill was under consideration some days ago.

Mr. Bureau in explaining his position emphasized that despite criticism to the contrary it had not been his intention to create positions for any person. He had simply sought to create machinery for the purpose of investigating the systems of taxations and of simplifying taxation and collection in this country. He had believed that it was his duty to do this.

Mr. Bureau moved that the clause in the bill providing for the advisory board be dropped. This board was to consist of a chairman at $10,000 a year and two commisioners at $7500 a year.

With regard to the amount in the supplementary estimates to cover these payments, Mr. Bureau explained that it would be asked for the purpose of carrying on the study of taxation as required.

The Bill as amended was read a third time.

HOTEL OWNERS DRY.

Raised From Saloon Keepers' Level, Say the Americans.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 17. — Hotel proprietors of the United States are three to one opposed either to the repeal or modification of the national prohibition law, according to John McFerlane Howie, Chairman of the Educational Committee of the American Hotel Association, who addressed the national convention of the organization.

"The prohibition law raised the hotel proprietor from the level of a saloon keeper and placed him on a level with any other legitimate business man," Mr. Howie declared. His business to-day is better than ever before. Last year new hotels costing $250,000,000 were built in this country."

WOULD IMPOUND CARS.

Of Traffic Law Breakers — 18,000 Killed in United States Last Year.

MONTREAL, July 17.—(Canadian Press)—Uniform automobile and traffic laws for the entire North American Continent, a campaign of education to eradicate the speed maniac, and the drunken chauffeur, together with a battery of severe laws that would enable the police to impound the car of the man who broke them, were all advocated here yesterday at a special session of the convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, devoted to traffic and accident prevention problems.

George Graham, chairman of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, said that autos in the United States had increased from 13,000 in 1900 to 15,000,000 in 1923. The death toll in 1921 had been 12,500; 1923, it was 15,700, and it would be 18,000 in 1924.

DECLINES IN BUILDING.

June Permits in Canada 5.9 Per Cent. Under May.

OTTAWA, July 17. — (Canadian Press)—The value of the building authorized in 56 cities during June, showed a slight decline as compared with May, 1924, and also with June 1923. Building permits to the value of $13,373,987 were issued during the month; this was a decrease of 5.9 per cent. as compared with the May aggregate of $14,215,670 and of 6.4 per cent. as compared with the total of $14,286,252 for June, 1923.

VANCOUVER HARBOR GRANT

OTTAWA, July 17. — (Canadian Press).—The bill providing for advancing $5,000,000 to the Vancouver Harbor Commission for work on terminal facilities was given third reading in the House of Commons yesterday.

DAWES IS TOLD HIS PLAN IS DEAD

U. S. Rhineland Commissioner Sees Europe Torn By Franco-German Feud.

AMERICA DAILY HOPE.

ONEIDA, N.Y., July 17 — The Dawes report is doomed and Europe will continue to be torn by a Franco-German feud unless Ambassador Kellogg is empowered to tell France at the London Conference to abandon her independent poltcy and co-operate with Great Britain in an honest effort to bring peace to Europe, Pierrepont B. Noyes, former United States Rhineland Commissioner, stated in a letter to General Charles E. Dawes

Mr. Noyes writes:

"After many weeks of hopefulness that the interested Powers would accept the Dawes report, I have reluctantly arrived at the conclusion that your plan is about to go into the discard along with the many previous plans for settlement of the Franco-German feud. The death of the Dawes plan may be graceful and gradual but unless some new factor intervenes ,it seems certain.

Premiers Face Impasse

"The conference of Premiers in London faces an unsurmountable obstacle. Herriot (the French Premier), cannot agree to share with Great Britain and Italy the power she now has in the Reparaton Commission to independently declare German default. Great Britain, on the other hand, cannot agree to join France in enforcing penalties against Germany if she has no voice in decreeing those penalties. Again, if Premier Herriot were to weaken, Poincare and the Military Party would break him.

"Your new relation to the Republican party entitles you to urge upon the Administration that Ambassador Kellogg, at the London conference, abandon that half-hearted attitude that has been imposed upon all our representatives in Europe during the last four years, and state plainly to France that the United States believes the time has come for that country to give up her independent policy and make such concessions as are necessary to get together with Great Britain in an honest and effective attempt to put into operation the Dawes' plan."

AUSTRALIA'S CRUISERS.

Two 10,000-Ton Battle Cruisers Will Be Built in England.

MELBOURNE, Australia, July 17. — (Canadian Press Cable, via Reuter's). — Both of the 10,000-ton battle cruisers which Australia intends to build for its own defence may be constructed in England.

The Melbourne Herald states that the Federal naval engineering staff has prepared and submitted to the Bruce government plans for a floating dock 860 feet long and 180 feet wide, capable of receiving vessels drawing 40 feet of water. The floating dock would be an alternative to the proposal to build the two cruisers in Melbourne.

If the plans for a floating dock are accepted, the Herald says, both of Australia's new cruisers will be built in England and money will thus be saved.

MONTREAL POLICE WIN.

In Annual Sporting Tourney —Toronto Squad Was Second.

MONTREAL, July 17—(Canadian Press). — Captain Arthur Mirands, chief physical instructor of the Montreal police force, lived up to his reputation here yesterday afternoon when he captured four first places in the annual sports of the department and won the individual cup for the meet with a total of 16 points to 11 scored by Ed. McLaughlin of the Ottawa force.

In team scoring the Montreal police obtained 43 points, while Toronto police scored only 33. Hamilton made 4 points and Ottawa 11½ points. At the close of the sports came the tug-of-war which was won by Toronto in two pulls.

England has issued about 56,000 experimental licenses.

DO THE THING UP RIGHT.

It would appear as though there were an unwritten rivalry in seeing who can make the most complete smash in an automobile. The business of bumping into the fender of another car, or of cutting off a wheel or a running-board, has been accomplished so many times that it has become a very old trick, says the London Advertiser.

The garage man who arrives with his little derrick does not even look surprised. There is danger of him, as he adjusts the chains, saying that only a week ago there was a worse smash at the same corner.

So it is necessary to get a car that costs about the price of a small house and lot, and make a complete wreck. A despatch from Oshawa tells how the thing was done near there on Sunday:

"Eyewitnesses declare the car was going north at a terrific speed, when it swerved into the ditch and, striking a culvert, took away with it a rock weighing about 300 pounds and carried it fifty feet before the car turned a somersault. A rural mail delivery box was struck and it came through the windshield and was later picked up from inside the car. The body of the car is destroyed, the motor being driven out of its bed and the wheels and rear axles knocked off and smashed beyond repair. The car, costing about $2,000, is a total loss."

That is a complete way of doing business. No person was hurt. It is good for the automobile business; it gives people something to dodge first and look at afterward, and also provides a certain amount of copy for the newspapers. It is also an excellent way to keep one fool driver off the road for a while.

THE POLICE SITUATION.

The discussion caused by the statement made at the Chief Constables' Convention that this country is suffering from too many police forces still continues, not only among law enforcement officials, but generally as the truth of the statement makes itself felt.

A police chief in an Ontario town—the Examiner will not use his name because he was not talking for publication when he discussed the matter—is strongly in favour of the abolition not only of county police forces but of the municipal police in the towns and villages.

In his opinion a Provincial police force, properly organized and allocated, would be sufficient to police the towns, villages and rural districts, leaving the cities where the police are under the control of a commission to provide their own protection.

A district inspector with a couple of officers located in a county town could easily look after the police duties in the town itself, and at the same time more efficiently protect the surrounding countryside.

Just now there are city police, county police, Provincial police and sometimes Federal police all working in the same territory.

Their duties overlap, there is conflict over jurisdiction, harmony is maintained with difficulty and the results are far from satisfactory.

The chief constables' plan, as outlined above, offers a simple and effective way out of the difficulty.

YOUR CHANCE TO HELP.

Do you think it worth while to take fifteen crippled Peterborough children, provide them with treatment recommended by specialists, and give them a new chance in life, a chance to grow up as other children do unhandicapped by physical defects that can be remedied if taken in time?

If you do you'll make it a point to attend the Rotary Carnival at the Exhibition Grounds tonight.

Many citizens were there this afternoon, and you who were unable to be present with them have your innings tonight.

The proceeds from the various carnival games along the midway, from the sale of refreshments, from the dance of the Rotary-annes and from various other sources of entertainment that will be found operating will be devoted toward the work of looking after the city's crippled children.

Rotary has had wonderful co-operation from many individuals in preparing for today's carnival.

The community itself is under test now.

A large attendance this evening will be an indication that the people in general approve of what has been undertaken by the Rotarians and are willing to do their share in co-operating.

There is no admission charge this evening, and everybody is invited.

Make it a big evening's fun, back of which is the serious purpose of affording fresh hope to the city's crippled youngsters.

Rotary is providing the machinery—let the rest of the community do its part.

A WORLD FAMINE COMING?

Backward weather has played havoc with the crops. The United States Government's June 1 report showed that the nation's crops were in the poorest condition they had been on that date for the last dozen years.

Crop failures come. They come periodically.

Early in 1922 Sir William Henry Beveridge, head of the London School of Economics, predicted that the world was approaching a year "destined to repeat something like the experiences of 1315, the year of the worst and most general harvest failure known in European history."

Economists headed by Beveridge had checked back and found that there's a terrible crop failure about every 123 years. The last big one was in 1800. So Beveridge suggested that the next might fall in 1923.

He was wrong. But did he miss it entirely, or just by a few years? Is there danger of a world famine this year or in the next few years ahead?

Crop failures come in years of unfavorable weather, which repeats periodically—the "solar or meteorological cycle" is what the scientists call it.

We've been having freakish weather for a couple of years, of a long-range sort that is dangerous to the food supply.

Years of plenty and lean years come in rotational groups. You recall the seven fat years and the seven lean years in Egypt. If Joseph were alive again, he'd have been buying the farmers' surplus grain and storing it in warehouses for a period of crop failure.

All this "dope" about crop failures, of course, is scientific guesswork, largely. Maybe there's nothing ahead except bumper crops. All of us devoutly hope so.

But the possibility of a big crop failure is worthy serious thought. Our generation hasn't gone through a real crop failure, so it doesn't know what real trouble is.

Nature tends to balance things in the long run. When she gives us too much food over a long stretch of time, she's apt to start the ball rolling the other way.

Give us a crop failure and you wouldn't find farmers complaining about prices being low. Trouble is, they wouldn't have much to sell. The system gets the farmer, coming and going.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S BATTLE.

British Columbia is having a bad time with forest fires. Hundreds of men are out fighting them, using every possible means at their disposal to stop the blaze. Engines mounted on rafts throw water through hundreds of feet of hose; dynamite is used to blow up rocks in the hope of opening new streams of water, but the fires continue to advance.

A strong wind, a resinous forest, and dry underbrush makes a combination of forces that invites fire to do its worst.

Residents of this section of Ontario find it hard to realize the odds against which the people of British Columbia are fighting, says the London Advertiser. When we have a fire it is in a block, a house or a barn, and not very often does it spread. Even the few bush fires we have do not make rapid progress, because the material in most of our wooded lands is not inflammable. A fire, fanned by a strong wind, in some of the pine sections along the lakes would be the nearest approach we could make to the British Columbia situation, but even there are found many non-resinous trees that would not burn.

Those British Columbia fire-fighters are facing heavy odds. The men on the lines are sure to be stung and hurt by the heat. There may be a lull in the wind, but it will return, carrying with it hot ashes, burning cinders and great clouds of blinding smoke. There is no let-up; the fire burns the full twenty-four hours, and the efforts of the fire-fighters must be on the same scale.

A heavy rain is the only cure for the situation in British Columbia, and the absence of frequent rains on the Pacific Coast is the cause of the present trouble. The Crow's Nest Pass country usually has a dry summer, but not so at the coast. The dry summers and high winds have burned out not only miles of bush, but whole towns in the southern part of that Province, the work being so thoroughly done in some cases that residents of the rebuilt towns feel a sense of security they never had before because there is no bush near them that can take fire.

Ontario young people a few months ago were writing essays on "Save the Forests." British Columbia is today using its utmost effort to do this same thing, but its battle is being waged with a sterner weapon than pen and ink.

THE CANADIAN GRAVES.

It will be a consolation to relatives of Peterborough soldiers who are buried at Shorncliffe to know how tenderly their graves are looked after by the children of the Old Land.

A recent edition of the Folkestone Herald devotes a column and a half to a description of the decorating of Canadian graves in Shorncliffe Garrison Cemetery.

The school children of Folkestone, Hythe, Sandgate, Cheriton and Shorncliffe to the number of several thousand placed flowers on all the Canadian graves, while many adult spectators were present for the ceremony.

The band of the Royal Hibernian Military School played "The Maple Leaf" and "O, Canada," while "The Last Post" and "The Reveille" were sounded by buglers.

Colonel-Commandant A. B. E. Cator, C.B., D.S.O., commanding at Shorncliffe; Col. E. R. Wayland, representing the High Commissioner of Canada, and the Mayor and Vicar of Hythe were among the principal speakers.

Col. Cator paid an eloquent tribute to the Canadian soldiers who served in the war.

"Why did these Canadians whose country was not threatened in any way, situated as it was two thousand miles away, come and join the Motherland?" asked the speaker.

"They came that they and all of them might be allowed to grow up as free Britain, and they died for you.

"They came to fight for the Motherland, the Motherland which many of them had never seen until they arrived here, but which they had been taught to love by their fathers and mothers, which you should love and teach your children to love.

"These Canadians were sons of the Empire. They fought and died for the Empire which they loved and of which they were proud.

"These brave men lying here came to fight as free men; they fought for freedom and died as free men helping others to keep them free.

"When you lay your flowers on the graves think of these men and the noble example they set you.

"Think of them with pride and gratitude."

"Remember as you pay respect to those who lie here so in every part of the Empire on some day every year others are doing the same thing for your countrymen who also gave up their lives.

"If there are any bereaved relatives of Canadian comrades present I hope they will convey back to their countrymen what affection we in Shorncliffe Garrison and at Folkestone, Sandgate and Hythe look after the graves."

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 16.—Slowness of business at the Union Stock Yards accounted for the selling of only 946 head of cattle out of a total of some 2,400. Receipts this morning were 48 cows, 511 cattle, 295 calves 1336 hogs and 377 shep and lambs. With well on to 2,000 cattle for sale the mraket was badly depressed. The only real enquiry was for baby beeves and nice handyweight butchers. These were quite steady by comparison with other in between unfinished cattle, and one buyer bought a bunch of mixed handyweight butchers at $5.90 a cwt. These we thought would $6 last week.

With these exceptions the market is certainly lower 25 to 50 cents a cwt., and the regrettable part is that there are so many undesirable cattle had to place at almost any price. John Rogers was open to buy for export, but could find scarcely anything in steers fit to ship. Commission men are absolutely puzzled with the problem with which they are faced.

A few export steers sold at $7.35 a cwt., and $7.00 was bid for a load, but the owner said he would sooner return them to the country than accept that price. The top for handyweight butchers was $6.75 a cwt. but these were hardy choice. Other good butchers sold at $6:50 and the packers took real common killers as low as $3.00. Cows and bulls were easy with good cows at $4.65 and $4.75, and a good bull at $4.50. Price inducements made a little activity the first three hours and a fair number of cattle will be sold today..

Trading was fast and furious in the calf pens this morning and prices for any good vealers were up to 50 cents a cwt. A few tops sold at 10 cents a pound asd quantities of good calves sold at 9 and 9½ cents. Medium calves were 7 to 8 cents. Buying for Buffalo made this market stronger.

Lambs were almost a dollar a cwt. higher, with a few choice ewes and wethers at 15½ cents a pound. The general run for good lambs was 15 cents, with bucks 2 cents a pound under this. Handyweight sheep sold at 6 cents.

Hogs were easy $8 a cwt. f.o.b. asd $8.50 fed and watered. Some sales were made 10 cents above this.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 16. — A wild stampede to the buying side of the wheat market to-day sent prices whirling up as much as 5 3-8c. Reports that a large part of the Canadian crop has been irreparably damaged 50 per cent. and that $1.50 a bushel would likely be reached at Winnipeg, were chiefly responsible. New high price records for the season were made here both for wheat and corn, and for oats and hogs, as well.

Wheat closed excited with 3 3-8c to 5 3-8c net gain, September $1.26 7-8 to $1,27, and December $1.29 $1,29 1-2. Corn finished 33 3-4c t 1-2 c up, oats at 1c to 2 3-4c adv and provisions showing a rise v ing from 5c to 42c.

At first the wheat market h showed a downward tendency ow to rains over part of the drou district in Canada. Prices failed to break to any unusual extent, ow ever, and a sudden advance ensued stimulated by dispatches from train ed observers telling of deplora conditions of which rain would ford no relief. One Chicago expe wired from Davidson, Sask., of ha ing seen thousands of acres of whe that would scarcely give back t seed, and of other fields burned nea ly bare, worthless to harvest.

BAILIEBORO NEWS.

One of Largest Social Gatherings in History of Church.

BAILIEBORO, July 16.—Yesterday evening the weather was all that could be desired for the strawberry festival here. This, with an attractive programme and delicious berries and cream, as well as an abundance of other good things, brought together one of the largest gatherings in the history of Bailieboro Church.

The main feature of the program was the excellent music furnished by the orchestra from George Street Church, Peterboro, under the leadership of W. H. Cunningham. The solos, duets, quartettes and various program of music was greatly enjoyed by the very large crowd assembled. To assist in the program there were Misses Marie McBain Daisy Murray, Marion Clarke, soloists, and Miss Helen Staples, who rendered several excellent readings.

The entire program was of very high order, and the Bailieboro Sunday School wishes to publish place on record its very great appreciation of the programme, and are sure that Mr. Cunningham and all those who assisted him will receive a royal welcome any time they return to Bailieboro.

The proceeds of the evening amounted to about $200. In addition to this, 85 free tickets were distributed.

"If you think you can bully and ...owbeat me as you do everyone else, ...you're mistaken," she said shrilly. "I've put up with you and your horrible ...temper long enough. Paul Collinge ...paying me, of course he is! Do you ...ink I would live with you for nothing, ...even if I were well off? I tell you I ...ould not. You say you have no ...iends, and you are right. You were ...ated down at Grey Chumley, and people only put up with you because they thought you were rich. If you were to go back there now you would find what a difference there would be. "Clare!"

Wanda felt as if the world were ...mbling around her; to think that ... day had come when Clare, her humblest and most faithful friend, would dare to turn and rend her in this way seemed impossible.

"I thought you liked me. I thought you were really fond of me," she broke out helplessly. Her face was crimson, her eyes full of tears. "I've always been a good friend of you," she went on hoarsely. "I've helped you, I've lent you money."

Mrs. Garnet laughed scornfully.

"A few pounds! And what were they to you when Mr. Collinge was alive? You've never really done any good in the world. You've never been disinterestedly kind to anyone. You only helped me because I was useful to you. You liked someone to walk round behind you humbly and admire you as I did; you wanted someone to listen to you while you talked, and I supplied the want, that is all." She paused breathlessly, and there was a poignant silence; then Wanda said breathlessly: "Of course this ends everything between us. I shall leave here first thing in the morning."

"I hope you will. I shall tell Mr. Collinge what has occurred."

Wanda's face flamed.

"To try and set him against me more than ever, I suppose."

"I have not tried to set him againg you; there was no need. He disliked you from the very first. He told me almost the first day he came that you were the sort of woman he detested."

"And that you were the sort of woman he loved, I suppose," Wanda said furiously. "Of course, that has been your game all along, I can see. You mean to marry him, if he asks you. You mean to make him ask you."

Mrs. Garnet's eyes were full of triumph.

"I shall certainly marry him if he asks me," she said. "And now, if you don't mind, I should like to go to bed."

Wanda turned on her heel without answering. She felt crushed and humiliated beyond description. So that was how Paul and everyone else felt about her. She went to her own room and locked the door; then she sat down on the side of the bed, and stared before he Could it really be she to whom this thing had happened?

She had no friends, nobody liked her. Everyone thought her proud and overbearing, selfish and badtempered.

What was to become of her? Paul would marry Clare. She closed her eyes with an intolerable feeling of pain.

What a fool she had been! What a fool! He might have grown to care for her if she had been different; she might have married him and gone back to live at dear Grey Chumley.

NEWS CAMPBELLFORD.

Returned Men Will Hold a Meeting on Sunday Next.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 16.—A meeting of the returned men of the town and district will be held in the Regent Theatre at 3.30 Sunday afternoon for the purpose of organizing an association which will probably be kept free from affiliation with outside socities. The probability of such an organization was referred to in The Examiner of Saturday.

The object in view is similar to that of other societies of Veterans and in addition the local men wish to be in a position to take definite action with regard to a memorial in Campbellford which they felt should take the form of a monument, rather than a public building.

Recently a local visitor died as a result the doctors agreed, of wounds and gas shock, suffered while he was at the front. No pension could be secured for him and so far help from the Department has been denied the aged mother whose chief support he was and who had another son killed in France.

Another local veteran who lost a leg at the front is compelled to work in the bottom of a sewer in order to earn a living.

To secure a suitable memorial for the dead, help for the widows and orphans and for the disabled survivors will be among the tasks assumed by the new organization.

CHEMONG PARK IS PICKING UP

Several Cottages Have Been Rented This Week—New Faces at the Park.

(By Staff Reporter).

CHEMONG PARK, July 16.—Several of the cottages that were empty last week have been rented in the meantime, but there still remain many closed-up summer homes, where last year cheerful activities were the rule during the hot weather.

A complaint of some of the Park residents has to do with the extra cent that the Chemong dwellers have to pay on letters forwarded from town. If a letter from local sources, with a two-cent stamp on it, has to be relayed to Bridgenorth Post Office, the owner is compelled to pay extra postage, "and maybe it's only a circular or something that you only throw away, anyway." Another expense in connection with summer life at the Park, it is said, is the increased taxi rate charged this year by owners of hired cars.

The roads out to the Park are not in the very best of condition. Even the smoothly-running Comet 'bus has its ups and downs on the outward and returning trips, and several small loads of gravel deposited at intervals do not seem to help matters very much.

Mr. Harry Wolff and Mr. and Mrs. Desbecker, who have been touring Yellowstone Park, are expected at the Park this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll and family are occupying Mr. Daniel Sullivan's large cottage. Mrs. P. Heffernan, Miss Margaret Heffernan and Mr. and Mrs. J. Heffernan, of Rochester, N.Y., are in Mr. Andrew Brown's cottage. Visitors at both cottages during the week have been Mrs. Michael Bolin of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Hennessey and sons, James and Will, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and three children, of Toronto, are at Mrs. Pope's house, also the Misses Walker and Bromley, of Peterboro. Mr. Bennett is engaged on construction work at the new C.G.E. building in the city at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Warne and family are at their summer home at the Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Eastwood are occupying their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Kingan have taken Mr. H. E. Hodgen's cottage in the Annex.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ferguson are in the small cottage owned by Mr. D. Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hancock are at the Park.

Rev. A. Hurley, of the Basilian Order, Toronto, is visiting his sister, Mrs. E. J. McCarthy, at the Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Tully and family have taken one of Mrs. J. Pone's cottages.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. A. Hall and family are in their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fitzgerald are occupying Mr. D. Jordan's cottage. Mr. Campbell Jordan is spending some time at the Park.

Miss V. Rogers, of Toronto, is the guest of Miss Ann Golding at the Park.

Mr. Ned Hodgson, son of Mrs. F. A. Hodgson, is tenting about three miles up the lake from the Park.

FACES

Human face is gradually becoming longer, claims the British scientist, Sir Arthur Keith. Long, narrow heads wit hsharp jaws, that's the tendency.

It's a result of more intense thinking. When a person thinks deeply, mouth tends to purse, cheeks to be pulled in and chin sags downward. Taking life too seriously does the same—"wearing a long face."

ERUPTIONS ON HEAD AND FACE

Red, Swollen and Sore. Cuticura Heals.

"I had my trouble from childhood. It took the form of white, scaly, sore eruptions which caused terrible itching and burning, also loss of sleep. My head and face and parts of my body were affected. The skin on both my head and face was red and swollen and awfully sore. The breaking out caused disfigurement, and I lost nearly all my hair.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they afforded relief, and at the end of three months I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. W. A. Miller, Marshall, Washington, Nov. 8, 1923.

COBOURG AND THE DISTRICT

Wilbert Hoskin, Who Lost His Life By Drowning Well Known in Cobourg.

COBOURG, July 16.—Yesterday afternoon, when the story reached here of Miss Margaret Murchison having been found near Brechin, on Lake Simcoe, hope that her companions, Mr. Edgar Smith, brother-in-law, and Mr. Wilbert Hoskin, were alive, was practically abandoned, and the pall of grief has settled upon many a heart, even outside of the intimate circle of near relatives. Mr. Wilbert Hoskin, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hoskin, town, was one of Cobourg's popular young men. Since entering the employ of the Bank of Toronto a few years ago, he had received well deserved promotions until he occupied the position of teller. He had been away for a two weeks' vacation and was to have returned t his duties here on Saturday. Last Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith motored from Barrie for a brief visit with friends at Courtice and at Cobourg. Returning that night they took with them Mr. Wilbert Hoskin, who was visiting friends in Toronto during his holiday and who had been associated with Mr. Smith in the Cobourg branch of the Bank of Toronto for two or three years while the latter occupied the position of accountant at Cobourg. Mr. Smith and Mr. Hoskin were both fond of canoeing and were both considered to be proficient in handling a boat. They went out on Lake Simcoe on Thursday afternoon from Big Bay point and then the terrible fatality that cut off two lives occurred. Miss Margaret Murchison, who is a daughter of Mr. D. C. Murchison, barrister, and Mrs. Murchison, of Barrie, had visited Cobourg several times, while her sister, Mrs. Smith was residing here. Thus, the tragedy seems all the worse here, where all were so well known, while great thankfulness is felt because the life of the young girl has been spared.

Unveiling on Armistice Day.

It is hoped that the memorial, which the Daughters of the Empire and citizens of Cobourg expect to erect here to the memory of the soldiers from Cobourg who fell in the Great War, will be ready for unveiling on Armistice Day of this year. As a recruiting centre, the town of Cobourg was among the first places to answer the call to arms and it is eminently fitting that adequate recognition should be made of all who served in the Great War.

Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bowman, Plainville, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage on Friday last. Mrs. Bowman before her marriage was Miss Grace Crossen. They resided for three years in Cobourg before going upon the farm. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman have a family of five sons and one daughter, Miss Jean, all at home, excepting their oldest son, Jack, who is married, and living upon a farm nearby. They have the sincere good wishes of many friends for additional happy years.

Mr. George W. Spragge, a member of the Staff of Trinity College School, Port Hope and Mrs. Spragge were in town for a short visit before leaving for a canoe trip down Lake Ontario and up the Trent River to Lakefield and probably through adjacent waters. They intend to make quite an extended canoe trip and so enjoy a novel holiday.

Tennis Player Here

Mrs. C. V. Hitchins of Mexico, was in town for a short time before going up to Toronto to take part in the Ontario Tennis Championship. Mrs. Hitchens was a frequent visitor to the tennis courts at Victoria Park and enjoyed some keen competitions with local players in which she invariably came off the victor. Her visit to Cobourg was much enjoyed by local players.

A Community Event

The strawberry festival held by the ladies of St. Andrews' Presbyterian church, Baltimore, proved to be an enjoyable and successful event. Harwood and Baltimore had a baseball game which results in a tie. Cobourg Methodist Sunday School Orchestra under the direction of Mr. M. E. Hall provided excellent music. Rev. J. S. Ferguson presided. Brief and much appreciated addresses were given by Revs. Messrs. Moyer of Grafton, McCord of Harwood and McKee, Methodist clergymen at Bathmore. $148 was taken at the door and every one had a good time.

New Pastorate Begun

Rev. Mr. Trumpoor has commenced his pastorate at Grafton and Centreton and is being very favorably received. Mrs. Trumpoor and family of three little children have arrived at Centreton parsonage, where a cordial reception awaited them.

Services at Centreton

St. John's Church, Centreton, which has been without a regular minister for some time enjoyed the ministrations on Sunday of Rev. Mr. Snowdon, Toronto, formerly of England.

BULLET-PROOF

Latest bank protection against crooks is bullet-proof glass. At a test in Indianapolis, bullets from an army automatic pistol were fired at the new glass—which cracked, but stopped the bullets, none of them going through. The shots were fired from a distance of 15 feet.

You'll probably live to see and use glass than can be bent like tin without breaking. A nightmare for glass makers. Bullet-proof glass strikes us as this year's most striking new trick of the scientific magicians.

SOCIALIST AND LABOR PREMIERS MEET

CORNER

British rubber growers, who produce 72 per cent of the world's rubber, are forming a new selling combine to control world supply, according to the Wall Street Journal.

Americans are the largest consumers of rubber. Only two ways of protecting them from the high prices that inevitably result from organized near-mosopoly. The first is artificial rubber, already accomplished, but price is prohibitive for auto tires. The second is to grow rubber on a big scale ourselves. Our best bet is the rapidly growing rubber plantations in the Philippine islands. Should be encouraged.

LOVE NOT ALL, SAYS ACTRESS

Ethel Barrymore Still Has Her Responsibilities, She Tells Reporter.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. — "Love is not everything. There is Life itself!"

The beautiful, husky tones of Ethel Barrymore's voice break on the words. Thus she parts with the man she loves. The curtain comes down. The crowd fumbles for its wraps, files out of the theatre.

"It's all very well to end a play like that. But what has it go to do with real life?" complains a girl to her escort.

What does it mean?

Still Life.

Ethel Barrymore in her dressing-room pours herself a glass of coffee from the thermos bottle and offers the interviewer the only available cup.

Poison would taste sweet from a goblet so gracefully proffered.

"No, love isn't everything," reaffirms Ethel Barrymore. All the world knows that her marriage went on the rocks. "There is still life itself" for her.

And what is that?

"Responsibility. At least that's what it's been for me."

She is deliciously gay, the Ethel Barymore of this season. She doesn't hang her responsibilities around her neck and wear them like a millstone.

Handsomer than she has looked in years. Thinner—thinner by more than the "Twelve Pound Look" that she gave at the Orpheum a few months ago. Thinner by the route of diet and exercise. She hasn't worried herself into the silhouette of girlhood.

"I don't worrp about my responsibilities. I love them. Three of them are at school. "My little girl Ethel loves the theatre. She has talent. Perhaps she will be an actress.

Thinks of Girlhood.

"I believe that the only way to mother children is to remind one's self all the time of one's own childhood. I try to remember all the time how I felt when I was a child. It's so easy to forget how sensitive children are and how clearly they remember all the things they are not supposed to hear or know anything about!"

The mother who says this is shimmering in a pink and silver tea gown. She has just come from the footlights. But there is more wisdom in it than ever penetrated the consciousness of many a professional child psychologist.

The theatre is, of course, part of her life—that life that proves that "love is n't everything."

Sees No Trouble.

"The American theatre is in splendid condition. The danger of the strike and of trouble has been averted. There is always the audience for good plays, for good acting.

"First there was the threat that the motion picture would kill the spoken word. Now it is the threat of radio. I think there is nothing to fear. People who would rather sit at home and listen to radio make very poor theatrical audiences, anyway. The spoken drama never appealed to them."

Ethel Barymore closes her season here in San Francisco. Then she goes to her home outside of New York, to her three children — to "life itself."

A new and finer flavouring

but it costs you no more

We spared no effort to make the flavour of the New Quaker Corn Flakes the most delicious that could be procured. In choosing ingredients our standard was quality, not cost. The special crystal table salt that will not attract moisture—the selected malt—the highest grade pure cane sugar—these are features that make the flavour of Quaker Corn Flakes the most expensive ever put into a cereal of its kind. Yet Quaker Corn Flakes cost you no more.

Quaker Corn Flakes

The New Corn Flakes with the New Flavour

Two cartons, 25 cents

Wax-Wrapped

In order for Quaker Corn Flakes to retain their original delicacy of flavour and crisp freshness, every carton is hermetically sealed in a wrapping of waxed paper.

To choose the flavouring for the New Quaker Corn Flakes, a number of experienced cereal men tested no less than sixty different samples. Their choice, No. 53, was the most expensive of the sixty. This is the flavour we offer you now.

The crispness and deliciousness of Quaker Corn Flakes are all preserved by the wax-wrapped carton. The flakes reach you just as they leave the "toasters" in the mill.

Try Quaker Corn Flakes. They are a new corn flake delight. Tell your grocer to include a carton in your next order.

Grocers

In many centres Quaker Corn Flakes have become a leading cereal. Everywhere the demand is increasing. Be sure you have them in stock. Your jobber will supply you.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Women's Institute Held a Meeting—Funeral of Mrs. Hawley.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 17.—The member of the Women's Institute of West Seymour held a lawn party Tuesday evening at Connolly's school house and one of the attractions on the programme was a baseball game between teams from the English line and West Seymour. In the sixth inning James Walters, who was playing first base for the latter team, was reaching for a high thrown ball when Harry Grills of the English Line players who was running to that corner, collided with Walters injuring his chest. He was obliged to quit the game, his place being taken by William Macoun.

When Walters returned to his home in Campbellford, a doctor was called and it was found that he had met with serious injury and was bleeding internally. He is a returned man and was wounded in action, and this wound has been affected by the injury which he received in the ball game.

The game ran seven innings and resulted in a victory for the English Line by a score of 11-10. The players were as follows:

Seymour West — McArthur, 2b Atkinson ss; Oser, c; Forer p; Coulter, cf; Watlers 1b; Macoun 1b; Anderson 3b; McCullough, lf; Hooper, rf.

English Line—Daniels, p Craighead c Godden, 1b; Shillinghlaw, 2b S. Little, ss; Grills 3b; A. Little, lf; Maybee cf; Fairman rf.

Mr. Daniels who pitched for the English Line, is the new pastor on the Seymour circuit.

Funeral Yesterday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Hawley was held on Wednesday afternoon. The service, held at three o'clock, was conducted by Rev. C. F. McIntosh, of St. Andrew's church. During the service he recited the thoughts of his short address in the hymn, "There is a Land of Pure Delight," also the 23rd Psalm. The floral tributes were numerous, sent by friends of the family in town. A beautiful pillow (mother) was given in loving memory by the family.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. W. J. Armstrong, F. W. Wood, Chas. Benor, Neil Morrison, S. A. Maguire and J. A. Anderson. The following friends and relatives from a distance attended the funeral: Two sons, Fred of Toronto and Harry of Detroit; Mr. Wm. Jex, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, of Oshawa; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Mitchell, of Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. Fennell of Havelock.

The late Mrs. Hawley, whose maiden name was Hannah Mitchell, was born in Cobourg on October 1st, 1842. She was married in Cobourg in 1859 to Milo A. Hawley and they came to Campbellford in August of the same year, and with their family, have lived here since, with the exception of five years, 1899-1904, during which time they lived in Cobourg.

When first coming to Campbellford they lived over the old tinshop on the corner of George and Bridge streets, where the Turner Block now stands. A few years later they built the large brick house across from the Methodist church in which they lived for a long time. Then the present home, on Canrobert Street, was built and the family have lived there for the past twenty years.

During her younger days here, Mrs. Hawley was a very active worker in the Methodist Church and was so happy in her work. She was always interested in music, and for years sang in the choir in the Methodist Church. She was a friend to everybody, especially in time of sickness, as she was so bright and cheerful.

Her husband predeceased her three and a half years ago, and she has steadily gone down in health ever since. She was confined to her bed for the last six months.

She leaves four sons and one daughter—Will of Calgary, Charlie of Winnipeg, Fred of Toronto, Harry of Detroit, and Lucina at home. Three other sons have died, two, Georgie and Sidney, in infancy, and John when a young man.

YOUNG MEN INVOLVED.

Provincial Police Investigate Vandalism at Orland.

ORLAND, July 17. — Provincial Constable Cousins of Cobourg made a visit to Codrington and the surrounding district, gathering information which will lead to enabling him to bring the miscreants who tore up shrubs and flower beds and committed other depredations on the property of Mr. Mowat Austin some time ago.

It is alleged that he secured information whereby some ten young men will be placed in a very awkward predicament.

The community was very much surprised to learn of this breach of law as Mr. Austin was not of a provocative disposition, but was of very lenient temperament, always finding an excuse for any little misdemeanor.

It is to be hoped that this will be a lesson to all so inclined in the future.

OFFICER RECOVERING.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 17.—(Canadian Press). — The condition of Police Officer Stephen Kennedy, shot while trying to capture Lewis Bevis on Monday morning, was reported to be slightly improved yesterday. Hope is held out for his recovery.

ANXIETY FELT FOR MACLAREN

British Aviator May Be Battling His Way Against Bad Blizzards.

LONDON, July 17. — (United Press)—Anxiety was felt here to-day over the fate of Major A. S. C. MacLaren, British world flyer, who is battling the blizzards of the Kurtes Islands, in an attempt to cross the Northern Pacific from Japan to Alaska. The airman last was heard from when he hopped off from Yetorofu Island, headed for Paramushira island early Wednesday, America's round the world flyers came safely through this dangerous passage of snow and ice earlier in the year and found it the most perilous and difficult of their entire voyage.

Lieut. Lowell Smith, commanding the American flight, assured Mrs. MacLaren, wife of the British aviator, who met him yesterday, he was confident her husband would come safely through. The British Press to-day expresses the nation-wide disquietude over the absence of a report from MacLaren, British officials suggested optimistically that he may have landed at Broughton Bay, where advance parties had located an emergency supply base. Japanese destroyers report having not found any trace of the missing airman. MacLaren has experienced more hardships and greater perils thus far than any of the other world flight airmen and has been handicapped by accidents, his courageous lone flight has made him a national hero in the land. He was delayed for weeks on the burning sands of India and again by the Monsoon season in the vicinity of Rangoon.

American Flyers

(By Percy M. Sarl)

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, July 17.—With 7,000 miles remaining to be covered before they will have covered their flight the United States flyers took off from Croydon airdrome at 11.10 a.m. to-day headed for Brough, near Hull where their planes will be equipped with pontoons for crossing of the Atlantic.

A small group of British air service officials waved "farewell and bon voyage" as three American planes took the air practically simultaneously soared southward to gain altitude and then swung about and made off on a bee line for Brough, there they will remain until July 25, when the first water flight" to the Orkney Islands" will be undertaken.

CHINESE PEOPLE STILL IN PERIL

Thousands of Soldiers and Coolies Repairing the Small Dykes.

(By Ray G. Marshall, United Press Correspondent.)

PEKING, July 17. — The peril of floods in western China continues to be grave. Thus far the city of Tien Tsin has been spared. Two smaller dykes broke to-day, flooding the districts east and west of the city, but the dykes protecting Tien Tsin have held.

Thousands of soldiers and coolies are toiling in relays repairing small leaks.

Five villages west of Tien Tsin were inundated and destroyed, but the railroad running through the rice lands withstood the waters.

Peking is still menaced by a river torrent raging 15 miles to the westward, but the capital is thought to be safe. Approximately 300 brick and mud houses here crumbled.

HOT RECEPTION FROM HOUSE TO PENSION SCHEME

Civil Service Commissioners Sought Retirement After Fifteen Years' Service.

TWO-THIRDS SALARY

Killed By Committee 'Rising and Reporting Progress."

OTTAWA, July 17 (Canadian Press). — The Bill providing that Civil Service Commissioners may be retired on a pension of two-thirds of their salary after fifteen years' service, or because of disablement, was vigorously criticised in the House of Commons yesterday, and was dropped.

Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary, was explaining the purpose of the legislation when A. J. Lewis (Progressive, Swift Current) interjected that the Commissioners should come under the operation of the Superannuation Act just the same as other civil servants.

This observation was greeted with applause from the Progressive and Conservative quarters.

"Having regard to the taxpayers, this is the most scandalous piece of legislation ever presented to Parliament," H. C. Hocken (Conservative, West oronto) declared. These Commissioners, he said, have now only served six years, but this legislation would permit them to retire on two-thirds of their salaries.

Cries of "crime" came several times from Progressive members.

Mr. Hocken characterised the Bill as "outrageous," declaring that the Government should not press it, and should immediately withdraw it.

T. W. Caldwell (Progressive, Victoria-Carleton, N.B.) said that no official in receipt of a salary as high as those of the Civil Service Commissioners was entitled to a pension.

"I am going to oppose this as long as I can," he said, "and if it passes I am going to oppose it in the country."

Request of Commissioners.

Premier King said that the Government in this Bill had not acted on its own motion. It was merely providing superannuation for the Civil Service Commissioners at the request of that body. He added that the request of the Civil Service Commissioners had been submitted to a special committee on tre Superannuation Bill, anl had bee nunanimously approved by them.

At Mr. Caldwell's request Mr. Copp read a letter from the Civil Service Commission, in which they asked treatment similar to that accorded Judges.

The report of committee, which Mr. Copp also read, unanimously recommended the request of the Civil Service Commissioners to the favourable consideration of the Government.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, at this stage moved that the Committee rise and report progrss.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen said that the Government could not shelter itself behind any Committee report. The rule which prevented any member except a member of the Government from proposing expenditure of public monegs was fully justified, and there had peen too much departure from it already. Only the treasury was in a position to balance the various requests for expenditure of money against one another, and Government responsibility for expenditures should be fully maintained.

Judges' Privileges.

Mr. Meighen had never been able to understand why judicial duties should give special privileges. It was on the basis of judges receiving pensons thot the Civil Service Commissioners had advanced their claims. He had always been of the opinion that there should never have been the fifteen-year retirement pension for judgs.

sion for judges.

Mr. Meighen was prepared to support the Government in any measure which would do away with this special privilege. The Government should take steps to limit this increasing burden.

Mr. Forke said he would have no objection to the Civil Service Commissioners coming under the provisions of the Superannuation Act as civil servants did. He again moved that the Committee rise and report progress.

The motion was carried.

Ancestor worship

THE Chinese pray to their ancestors. But they do more than that. They allow themselves to be guided by family tradition in their every thought and action. The principal difficulty facing the introduction of modern improvements into China is the universal objection: "This is not as our fathers did."

Imagine saying that we did not want electricity because our forefathers were satisfied with candles.

Though we never went as far as the Chinese, our conservatism in the past often went to considerable lengths. Think of the telephone, of the motor car. How much encouragement did they get at first?

Advertising more than anything else has made of us a nation willing to judge something new on its merits, rather than on narrow, ancient traditions.

Advertising today is as necessary as electricity, sanitation and rapid transit. It is more than the system by which we are kept informed of every new improvement that is to our advantage. It is the catalogue wherein, every day, all manner of articles are listed for us with their individual advantages.

Read the advertisements. Be guided by them. They will help you in making your selections. They will save you money.

COMPUTING GAS PRICE IN OMAHA

In the Month of March the Price Dropped From 17c. Per Gallon to 13 Cents.

OMAHA, July 17.—They are even computing gasoline prices by mills here now.

One dealer, not to be outdone by other price slashers, is selling it at 12.9 cents a gallon.

Printed price tags no longer adorn the tanks at Omaha's 125 filling stations. Chalk is the only medium that can keep pace with a single day's developments.

Every half hour sees some new low cost sensation splashed all over the esidewalk to attract motorists' attention.

But still Omaha's gas war rages!

Starting at 20 1-2 cents a gallon in March the price at first dropped slowly, then rapidly—17, 15, 14, 12, 13, 13 3-4, 13 1-2, 13 1-4, 13 cents.

And none dares guess what the future may bring.

For it all a dinner party and an attack of insomnia may be blamed.

A physician, a couple of attorneys, a packing house social, an insurance man and a dentist were dining at the home of Federal Judge J. W. Woodrough. The subject of the hapless gas consumer arose during the meal.

The dentist, a little Frenchman, Dr. F. J. Despescher, listened intently, but said little.

That night, unable to sleep, the thought of the consumers' plight kept running through his mind.

"All at once I realized that I hadn't been listening to my friends," he says, "but to every motorist in Omaha. It seemed to me that if we would all speak out, it would have to have some influence in bringing down the prices.

"Now a man can't always be talking about cheap gasoline. But he can always wear a little button in his coat lapel. So I decided that such a button, with just the inscription, "15c. League," would be the thing.

"So next morning when I got down town I ordered 2,000 of them. Then I began passing them out to my friends.

"Wearers made signed promises not to use gasoline for pleasure purposes and to walk when the distances were short until prices came down."

A community improvement club invited Dr. Despescher to tell its members about the plan. Right then and there, the little dentist, who never had made a speech in his life, began his "stumping." Now he is giving talks six nights a week, with noon-day lectures scattered in between.

A municipal election rolled around. Fire Commissioner John Hopkins, up for re-election, made cheaper gasoline a campaign issue. He was swept back into office by an overwhelming majority.

He immediately began to make good his pledge. At one of the engine houses he set up a municipal fillig station. Seventeen cents was his price.

In May, the "15c. League" started up in business right next door, not with any intention of running the city's station out of business, but to help it sell gas at 17 cents.

Then the "15c. League" brought its price down to 15 cents. Since then the cutting has been going on right and left.

And the fever is spreading to other Nebraska cities.

NEWS OF BURNBRAE.

Rev. Robert Fry Preached at Burnbrae on Sunday.

BURNBRAE, July 17. — Rev. Robert Fry was the preacher at Burnbrae and Rylstone last Sunday, he being the first candidate to speak during the vacancy. Mr. Fry is well known to the people of the united congregations, having ministered to them during Rev. Mr. Black's absence two years ago.

Mr. Fry chose as his text for the morning service Matthew 6, 33: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and these things shall be added unto you," giving to his hearers a clear conception of the meaning of these wonderful words.

In the evening he spoke from Romans 1, 16; "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ."

A pleasing feature of the morning service was a beautiful solo by Miss Esther Hume, of Goderich, who is visiting at the home of her uncle, Mr. Alex. Hume. Miss Hume is a well-trained singer, who never fails to delight a Burnbrae audience.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Stewart Bothwell, of Vegreville, Sask., is visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. Edwin Wilson. She is accompanied by Stewart, Jr., who has never been in the East before. Mrs. Bothwell has not visited her old home for eleven years.

FARM LABORERS SCARCE.

Local Factories Dull and Demand From Outside Points Slackens.

The demand for farm labor has increased during the past week, according to the records of the Local Employment Bureau. The prevailing wage ranges from $25.00 to $35.00 and occasionally $40.00 monthly, with board. Several placements on the farm have been made during the last few days and 20 applications for farm laborers remain unfilled at the employment bureau.

Other than small jobs about the City there is very little demand for men. Outside employment for mechancis has fallen off and the local factories are dull.

The unemployment situation hasn't improved as the demand for work has not shown any decrease. Of those that apply, only a very occasional applicant will accept work on the farm.

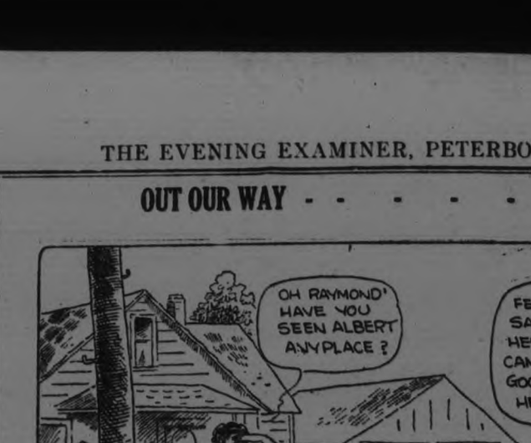
UNSEEN PUPILS



ABOVE—The lighthouse at Aher ingham Point, B.C., where three of British Columbia's brightest "unseen pupils," Sturdie, Frances and Philip Arden, are going to school by mail every day. LOWER LEFT—The Arden children. LOWER RIGHT — Violet McPhee, 13, who although never in school a day, writes a legible hand and is far advanced in arithmetic and other studies, thanks to the Provincial Correspondence course.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 15. — The "little red school houses" are few and far between along British Columbia's rocky coast—

Often, in fact, they are hundreds of miles apart.

But that does not keep the boys and the girls of the "wilderness" from learning their "three R's."

For even the children in isolated lighthouses and on islands far from shore, are going to school every day.

A correspondence course, inaugurated by the provincial educational authorities, is giving them the educational advantages they otherwise have been denied.

Already the department of education has taught nearly 1000 pupils by mail. Three hundred more are under instruction now.

At first it was feared that the younger children might not be able to follow the instructions. But they were. They have passed their examinations with high marks—often higher even than those obtained by pupils that had the advantages of teachers' personal instruction.

"For some reason or other," says Inspector James Hargreaves who is in charge of the work, "they show more enthusiasm than the boys and girls in the regular schools."

In history and literature classes, pupil are instructed to read certain pages and then write in their own words what they have just read.

Spelling is written from dictation, the aid of the parents being solicited. Photographs and charts are used in penmanship, arithmetic and drawing.

Papers are mailed back to the inspector. He and his aides correct them and return them to the pupils.

Should it appear a child has not grasped the subject properly a personal letter, making the matter plainer, is despatched him immediately.

The system of promotion is the same as in a regular school. Certificates are issued upon completion of the course.

All necessary books and stationery are furnished free.

On file in the department"s offices are any number of interesting testmonials from parents whose children have been enrolled.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

One-half grapefruit, 1 chicken sandwich, 1 cup consomme, 8 ounces baked mackerel, ½ cup string beans, 4 tablespoons beet and nut salad, 1 cup strawberries, 1 toasted bran roll, 2 slices rye bread, 1 pint skimmed milk.

Total calories, 1073. Protein, 288; fat, 234; carbohydrate, 551. Iron, .0208 gram.

The chicken sandwich is made of the chicken cooked for soup the day before. Use all white meat for the reducing sandwich, as there is less fat in the light meat of fowl than in the dark. If the meat is quite dry and tasteless, put it through the food chopper and combine 4 tablespoons meat with 1 chopped medium-sized sweet pickle, 2 large pimolas and enough lemon juice to make moist. Season with salt, pepper and a dash of mustard, and you'll have a sandwich that it's easy to eat and still grow thin. The bread is of course unbuttered and should be whole wheat

The 8 ounces of fish is weighed after boning but before cooking.

Combine diced beets with coarsely-chopped pecans and shredded lettuce, using 3 tablespoons beets and 1 tablespoon nuts and ½ cup shredded lettuce. Season with salt and pepper, and pour over 1 tablespoon each of lemon and orange juice.

One-half grapefruit with 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 cup rolled oats with 2 tablespoons seeded raisins, 1 tablespoon sugar, ½ cup cream of mushroom soup, 1 chicken sandwich, 8 ounces baked mackerel with 2 tablespoons lemon butter, 3 new potatoes in parsley sauce, ½ cup string beans in 4 tablespoons cream, 4 tablespoons beet and nut salad with 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, 4 tablespoons steamed rice with 2 tablespoons strawberry butter sauce, 4 tablespoons rhubarb tapioca pudding with 2 tablespoons whipped cream, 2 toasted bran rolls, 3 toasted crackers with soup, 2 slices rye bread, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 pint whole milk.

Total calories, 3994. Pretein, 466; fat, 1598; carbohydrate, 1930. Iron, .0235 gram.

This chicken sandwich should be made moist and rich with oil mayonnaise, the bread should be buttered and dark meat can be used as preferred. However, white meat is more easily digested and she who would wax corpulent must consider her digestive apparatus and not overwork it.

For parsley sauce, add 2 tablespoons minced parsley to 2 tablespoons buttr and simmer three minutes. Then stir in 1½ tablespoons flour and slowly add 1½ cups milk just as in any white sauce.

Three cups strawberries cut in halves are beaten into 1 cup hard sauce to make the strawberry butter sauce. This is guaranteed to make you gain in weight.

One-half grapefruit, 1 cup creamed spinach on toast with 1 hard-boiled egg, 4 button radishes, 1 cup lamb stew, ½ cup celery and cheese salad, 2 tablespoons pineapple sponge, 1 pint skimmed milk, 2 crisp pieces gluten toast, 1 gluten roll.

Total calories, 1066. Protein, 203; fat, 328; carbohydrate, 535. Iron, .0202 gram.

Dry cottage cheese is combined with just enough Roquefort cheese to make the mixture "taste" and used to fill celery stalks. Cut the celery in lengths short enough to eat easily, arrange on a bed of lettuce and pour over lemon juice seasoned with salt and paprika.

Creamed spinach on toast with hard-boiled egg is a hearty, wholesome luncheon dish. The juice of the spinach is used with milk in the sauce. The milk is, of course, skimmed for the diet dish and very little butter and flour are used for thickening.

The lamb stew included many vegetables in its savoriness, even potatoes, partake sparingly of the potatoes, but enjoy the rest of the stew as you will. The gravy is so thin you need not worry about it.

One half grapefruit with 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 hominy griddle cakes, 1 tablespoon butter, 3 tablespoons maple syrup, 3 ounces broiled salt mackerel, 2 tablespoons creamed potatoes, 1 cup creamed spinach on toast with 1 hard-boiled egg, 2 slices raisin and nut brown bread, 1 tablespoon butter, 4 button radishes, 2 strawberry fritters 4 tablespoons maple syrup, 1 cup lamb stew, ½ cup boiled rice, ½ cup celery and cheese salad with 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 4 tablespoons pineapple sponge with 2 tablespoons boiled custard, 1 large piece sponge cake, 2 corn meal muffins, 2 slices whole wheat bread, 1 pint skimmed milk.

Total calories, 3992. Protein, 481; fat, 1543; carbohydrate, 1968. Iron, .0212 gram.

This creamed spinach is made with whole milk, much butter and buttered toast.

Hominy Griddle Cakes.

Two cups cooked hominy, 2 cups milk, 1½ cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt.

Add milk to hominy. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Add to first mixture. Add eggs well beaten and bake on a hot well-greased griddle.

Total calories, 1190. Protein, 251; fat, 344; carbohydrate, 595. Iron, .0062 gram.

GOLDSTEIN VICTORIOUS.

Defeated Charles Ledoux in Fifteen Round Exhibition.

NEW YORK, July 17 (Canadian Press). — "Abe" Goldstein, world's bantamweight champion, successfully defended his title in a tame, uninteresting 15-round bout against Charles Ledoux, of France, at Velodrome A.C. last night.

Goldstein knocked Ledoux to the floor two times, but could not produce the finishing punch.

Goldstein was awarded the unanimous decisio non points.

FABLES ON HEALTH

Mr. Mann, like most busy business men, found it necessary to relegate his exercise period to Saturday and Sunday.

Most people find it difficult to live a thoroughly balanced day.

A daily rhythm would consist of a balance of work and play, both forms of activity; and rest and sleep, which are forms of inactivity Of these four play and rest get the least attention.

Particularly do men find it hard to take time out for daily exercises. They try to pack all their play and exercising into a single Sunday. On this day alone does he get the entire four balancing factors into his routine.

Of course there are many people who do not need as much exercise as others; and there are some who do not need as much nest; some do less than their share of work and some more.

It is in the rebalancing of these proportions that one very important hygienic problem lies.

The tendency of the present time is to overdo almost everything except rest. When men play they generally play too much to "get even" for the time they have neglected playing.

To eat our heavy meals on Sunday and our hardest playing on Saturday or Sunday, or during a vacation period, are equally absurd.

NEWS FROM MADOC.

Entrance Results Very Gratifying—Personal Mention.

MADOC, July 17.—The results of the entrance examination are very gratifying to both parents and principal, Mr. J. B. Hough. Eighteen out of twenty-one pupils were successful. Last year there were eighteen in the class and all passed. Mr. Hough is at Queen's University this summer studying for his degree.

The marriage of Miss Livingstone of Renfrew and Mr. Kenneth Hill of Madoc took place in Renfrew on July 14th. Mr. and Mrs. Hill arrived yesterday to take possession of "Bide-a-Wee" cottage at Moira Lake. In September they will take up their residence in Belleville, where Mr. Hill has accepted a position on the High School staff.

Despite the cold spring, the devotees of camping have not lost their enthusiasm. The season has opened up with a rush at Moira Lake, and only one or two cottages are still awaiting their tenants.

Dr. S. Eagleson and family have taken a cottage on the north shore. Dr. Eagleson has had a line extended and a telephone put in, so that he may have the benefit of the lake breezes and yet be within call of his patients.

The Community Camp is going strong, with about fifty boys present. More are expected, and when their time is up they will be followed by the Girl Guides, who are coming for their annual outing.

Miss Minnie Ferguson has gone on a motor trip to Toronto and Hamilton.

Mrs. George Wright has returned from Toronto. Mrs. Wright was called to that city owing to the serious illness of her nephew, Mr. Kenneth Wright, trustee of the Province of Ontario.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

H. Foster Purchases Store Business at Codrington.

ORLAND, July 17. — Mr. Mowat Austin, who has kept a general store and post office in Codrington, a small village two miles north of this place, for the past twelve years, has sold out to Mr. H. Foster of the town of Picton. Mr. Foster will take possession on August 1st.

This is considered to be one of the best stands for a country general store that there is in this part of the province, as it is in the centre of a first class farming district and is midway between Campbellford and Brighton, being ten miles from each place.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin will be much missed in the community as they will in all probability be moving away.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

A TRIP TO EGYPT

"Good evening," said the little fairy in the lotus flower.

When Johnny Jump Up and the Twins scrambled down the rose vine into the magic garden, the next night, a new flower had grown there.

It looked like a water lily, and grew like a water lily—in the gold fish pool.

"It's a lotus flower," whispered Johnny Jump Up, "and the fairy who lives in it is an Egyptian fairy."

"Good evening," said the little fairy in the lotus flower. "I've been waiting for you. You are to go to Egypt tonight and, as it is a long distance away and there is so much to see, you had better be starting at once."

She handed three tickets to Johnny Jump Up, who thanked her very kindly.

Tommy Titmouse hopped up and punched the tickets with his bill.

Nancy and Nick and Johnny Jump Up got on and away they flew.

They crossed the ocean and a desert as big as an ocean only with sand instead of water, and soon they came to Egypt.

Tommy Titmouse settled down on a palm tree to rest.

"My, it's hot!" said Nancy.

"Yes, Egypt is a warm country," said Johnny Jump Up. "While we are resting, I'll tell you a little about it. Soon we will come to a river. It is called the Nile and it is the longest river in the world. There is no water in Egypt except along the Nile River, so all the people live there. Egypt is thousands of miles long, but only a few miles wide. It is like a long ribbon."

"Come on, I'm rested now," said Tommy Titmouse. "I wonder if we will see our friend, the stork, whom we met in Holland. He said he lived in Egypt sometimes."

"No, because it is still spring in Holland," said Johnny Jump Up. "He won't come back to Egypt until it gets cold in Holland."

"Why, there is the Nile River now," said Tommy as he flew along. "Do look at those queer pink birds with the lonk necks wading in the water."

"Those are flamingoes," said Johnny Jump Up.

"Oh, and there are some men riding on camels!" cried Nick. "They look like a circus."

"People in Egypt use camels instead of horses," explained Johnny Jump Up, "because they can stand heat better and don't sink into the sand."

"Here are the pyramids," said Johnny Jump Up. "They were built by the kings of Egypt thousands of years ago. There are no doors or windows or any way to get in or out."

"Where is King Tut's tomb?" asked Nancy.

"Over there," said Johnny. "But there is nothing much to see but a hole in the ground. The sand has blown over it and covered it all up in three thousand years."

"Oh, look!" shivered Tommy Titmouse, as he flew along the river bank. "What are those creatures lying there in the water? They've got eyes like teacups."

"They are crocodiles," said Johnny Jump Up.

"Well, I've seen enough of Egypt," said Tommy. "Let's go home."

(To Be Continued.)

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING

PRICES

Even dull business conditions have their bright side for the public. For instance, the recent slackening of industry has "softened" wholesale prices. Sellers cut, as bait for backward buyers.

Bradstreet's agency, very authoritative, reports that the wholesale prices of the 96 basic commodities dropped over two per cent, on the average, during May. Not much? Well, if that drop percolates through to the cost of living, a saving of two cents on every dollar you spend wouldn't be half bad.

LABOR

Many of the large business leaders, discussing the business slump, are beginning to talk about "readjustment of wages."

The other side, whose wages are involved, will retort: "Then how about readjustment of cost of living?"

Many still are deluded by the belief that wartime profits can be restored. They are crying for the moon.

SPENDING.

Here's a business mystery. Maybe you can explain it. So far, no one else has been able to.

Despite the sudden slackening of business during May, bank clearings (bank checks written the country over) continued mounting during May. They exceeded 36,693 million dollars—compared with only 32,883 million dollars in February when every one was working and spending full-blast.

No one is quite as optimistic as a professional prohibitionist. Maybe this is because, not having a thirst, they can't understand it in others.

Professional prohibitionists have been confidently telling the world that Great Britain is scheduled to be next on the water wagon. Lloyd's, the big London insurance agency, thinks otherwise. It is insuring British distillers against loss of their income by prohibition. And Lloyd's is betting 500 to 1 that Britain will continue wet.

HIGH.

Riding on a railroad dining car we pay these prices: Small glass of orange juice, 40 cents; two fried eggs, 35 cents; one mutton chop, 45 cents; sirloin steak, $1.65; glass of milk, 15 cents.

These prices will interest farmers, maybe make their hair turn grey. Especially Florida orange growers, whose product so often is auctioned off for next to nothng.

The railroad diners usually claim they operate at a loss. But something is wrong when the gap between farm prices and prices paid by consumers is so wide it takes field glasses to see across.

POISON.

A chemical that counteracts and makes harmless the poison gas used in warfare has been perfected by an Englishman, he claims.

Everything has its neutralising agent. Ammonia, for instance, neutralises acid, the two uniting to form a third substance, salt.

The moral is that every yes has its no, every destroyer its disarmer, and every problem its solution. Discouragement is foolish, for there is always a way out, always a remedy.

Idolizing the Unseen Sheik of the Air

How the Radio "Love Voice," Newest Wrinkle in the Oldest Thrill, Is Causing Romantic Flappers to Worship "By Ear"

IT was bound to come, just as long as there are stars in the heavens—and on earth.

A thousand years ago the women—bless 'em—idolized the shining orbs of the firmament.

Later Will Shakespeare captured their hearts, and they worshiped at his shrine.

It was only a step from Shakespeare to John Drew and Maurice Barrymore, Sothern and Faversham and Woodruff and Hackett. Matinee idols they were, with "bowler" hats, short coats, tight trousers, and oh, so handsome! The fair creatures on the other side of the footlights would blush and sigh in awed admiration, and some—brazen hussies, the others called them—sent them nosegays and daintily scented notes.

Then along came the idols of the screen—Maurice Costello and Tony Moreno and Francis X. Bushman—to set fair hearts aflutter and to put the noses of the matinee idols out of joint. Their voices were silent, of course, but who cared for a voice when their faces were so handsome and their figures so stalwart?

Valentino with his shiny hair and Tom Meighan with his curls brought joy to the feminine heart, and the day of the film sheik was here. Wonderful they are, all of them, but oh, so silent! What were their voices like? Feminine curiosity was aroused, and curiosity breeds suspicion. With all his good looks, a screen sheik might have a voice like a foghorn or, worse still, a canary bird! Perhaps, after all, these silent sheiks were not as wonderful as had been supposed.

Then, while doubt was surging through uncertain minds, came a voice through the air. At times it boomed like Big Ben; again it tinkled like a golden chime. It thundered like an avalanche; it whispered as softly, as tenderly, as articulate as a maiden answering the most important question of her life. It thrilled, it enthralled, it gripped feminine hearts and held them enraptured!

Here was something different. With its dulcet tones in one's ears, who could think of Barrymore's "bowler" or Drew's bountoniere? Who cared about Costello's daring feats or Valentino's shiny hair? Here was a new idol to worship—the unknown sheik of the air—mysterious, fascinating, spell-binding. How had it come and from where?

Just about the time that DeForest and Marconi were conducting their initial experiments in snatching sounds out of the air in the most uncanny manner, a boy with a voice like a bell appeared in Pittsburgh. Fate decreed that he try this voice for the first time on George Washington Sammis, famous theatrical manager, who was then guiding the destinies of the Duquesne Theatre in Pittsburgh. The little boy with the golden voice had golden hair and a golden smile—fore-runners of the gold that they were to be turned into later.

He asked for and was given a job as office boy, and when he signed the payroll the first week he wrote, in a childish scrawl, "Earle Carroll."

That was a good many years ago, although it seems like yesterday. They put him to selling programmes and song books and the women used to flock to the matinees just to hear the tinkle of his golden voice. When the "troupers" came to the Duquesne they made much of "little Earle," and one day one of them put him in his make-up box and brought him to New York. And that was the beginning of Earl Carroll, who dropped the final "e" from his first name as his hair began to drop and fame and fortune came to him—first as a song-writer and vaudevillian, then as playwright, and finally as theatre owner and impresario.

Although a bit of the gold went out his hair as the years passed, none of it went out of his voice. He's Irish, you know.

Meantime the radio had been perfected and Earl Carroll became very much interested in it. He "listened in" half of the night and got so much pleasure out of it that one day he was tempted to go to a broadcasting station and try out his own voice—on the dog, as it were.

It wasn't so very long until the radio fans throughout the country began to listen for the tinkling, golden voice, and Earl Carroll has been spending all his spare time since then in broadcasting.

Soon letters began to come in; first one or two a day, then a dozen, and then by the hundreds. John Drew and Maurice Barrymore and Faversham combined never received such quantities of "mash notes." Here was a new idol—the sheik of the air!

Possibly the mystery of it all had something to do with it. Romantic flappers began to wonder what he looked like. Most of them, of course, pictured him as young and handsome as a Greek god—more wonderful than Valentino. But there always remained the doubt. Maybe he had long white whiskers, or a bald head, or even a wooden leg. Make-up, they had learned, covers a multitude of wrinkles. Here was a hero they were worshiping "by ear" only.

"Most of the girls say you are tall and broad," wrote one young lady from Lancaster, Pa., "but I certainly don't think so. A man of your type and character must certainly be tall and slender; that wispy, delicate kind. And then your eyes! They say they're brown. I KNOW they're grayish-green. The very tone of your voice shows that. One boy I know was dumbbell enough to say you are slightly bald. Some people never seem to get the difference between receding hair and baldness." There's a defender for you!

"From the way you talk I imagine you are divine," confides Miss E. B., of McKeesport. "Your voice made me feel—oh, so peculiar! I never heard a man talk like you do. I was trying to think of a name for you or your voice, and this is what struck me: I always think of it as the 'love voice.' Isn't that a pretty idea?"

"Something within me," admits "Your Ardent Admirer" from Marlboro, Md., "prompts me to write to you. I am eighteen years old and a 'flapper,' but with a deeper appreciation of the finer things of life than most flappers. You understand, don't you? With my quick insight, I have found in you the ideal man. You seem so gentle and kind and yet so strong. I don't believe you ever get cross, but continue always in that lovable, easy way of yours. I will live always in the memory of your lovely voice and sweet personality."

Miss "Billy" B., of Lynn, Mass., sends quite a long letter. "Your dear voice came to me through the air the other night," she writes, "and I'm just crazy about you ever since. I couldn't sleep last night, just thinking and thinking of you. I hope your wife, if you are married, or your sweetheart won't be mad. I bet all the girls are just as crazy about you as I am. You talk so nice and sweet and I know you have a kind heart."

Miss Laura C., of Back Bay, Boston, announces right at the start that she doesn't want to go on the stage, or anything like that. "This is merely a frank and spontaneous outburst of admiration of your wonderful voice," she writes. "It was as though a certain sweetness and firmness emanated from you, and I found myself literally hanging on to every word."

"I can't exactly describe you even to myself," writes Suzanne, from Sandusky. "But you are my ideal of an all-around angel. I daren't send you my love, because I'm sort of keeping company; but, anyhow, you can have all that is left." Which, of course, helps some.

Not all of the letters, however, are "mash notes." One lady, bed-ridden for three and a half years, writes that "you are a wonderful man, whose gentle voice has brought much pleasure to a sufferer."

There are letters, too, from a number of soldiers in hospitals, who tell of the joy Earl Carroll has brought them.

He has had his voice photographed by Dr. Lee DeForest, inventor of the talking motion pictures, so that ten thousand years from now the flapper of that distant date may still get a thrill from the "love voice" long after the unseen sheik of the air has gone to his reward.

FLOCK OF HITS IN JUNIOR GAME

Lakeviews Improve Position By Defeating Crescents in Slow Game.

SCORE WAS 13 TO 9.

It was an exciting game that took place last evening at Riverside Park when the two Junior teams, the Lakeviews and Crescents, clashed in a fixture that had a great deal to do with the winding up of the city championship. The Lakeviews won out after five innings of heavy hitting on the part of both teams by the score of 13 to 9.

It took nearly two hours to play five innings, and at that rate it would take about four hours to play a nine-inning fixture.

The Lakeviews got away to a good start in the first inning when they collected six hits and five runs off Ray Taylor's delivery. Three of them should have been easy outs, but the Crescents, who had not yet settled down, were not prepared for them, and were playing their positions wrongly.

As the game grew older Taylor gradually grew better, but in the four innings he pitched he was touched for 15 hits and 13 runs. Jack McDonough took his place in the last inning and finished the game in nice style. He allowed one hit and walked two men, but managed to blank the Lakeviews in the run column.

Lou LeBarr, who started on the mound for the Lakeviews, and who lasted 4 and one-third innings, turned in a good game. In the first two innings he went great guns, allowing two hits and two runs and fanning five men. The Crescents would have been blanked in the second had it not been for two errors made by Johnston and Collins.

In the third inning LeBarr began to blow, the Crescents collecting four hits and two runs, while in the fourth they clouted him for four more hits and four runs, bringing their total to 8. In the fifth inning, after the first man had drew a pass on four balls, and the next man singled, scoring the runner, LeBarr was derricked and Whitehouse took his place on the mound. He passed the first man, but managed to retire the side before any more runs had crossed the plate.

A win for the Lakeviews on Saturday will give them the championship of the City League, but Fonse Brioux will be out there fighting with the strongest team he can corrall, as he has not yet given up confidence.

Pete Milloy, at second base for the Crescents, was the best for the Crescents. He accepted six hard chances without a boot, while he also came through with a timely single. Rody was the most useful man at bat and on the bases for the Southerners. He collected three hits in four trips to the plate and stole three bags on Lambert Collins.

Johnny Marchen was the outstanding player for the Lakeviews. In three trips to the plate he collected two hits. He also accepted five hard chances.

KINGSTON GAME WAS RAINED OUT

Heavy Shower Made Play Impossible at Limestone City.

The Petes were rained out of a game at Kingston last evening, having their long trip to the Limestone City for nothing. A heavy shower that set in at 4.30 o'clock drenched the grounds, and although the weather cleared afterward, it was too late to save the day, the diamond being unfit for play. The postponed game will likely be played next Wednesday. On Saturday of this week the Petes are scheduled to go to Oshawa and there will not be a home game until a week from Saturday.

NEW RECORDS IN OLYMPIC WATER

Kealolia Lowers the Mark He Hung Up at Antwerp.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS.

OLYMPIC SWIMMING POOL, Les Tournelles, France, July 17. — The fourth day of the Olympic swimming programme was run off yesterday in more moderate weather than had been the rule all the week.

The scorching sun disappeared behind benevolent clouds, and the attendance was increased enormously.

A crowd of 10,000 persons turned out, one of the largest of the swimming tournament, and bigger than the throngs that were witnessing even the interesting Olympic tennis matches and the rowing events.

200 meters, breast stroke, men—First semi-finals—Robert D. Skelton, Illinois A.C., first; W. T. Kirschbaum ,Hawaii, second. Time 2 minutes 2-10 seconds, breaking the Olympic record.

200 meters, breast stroke, men — Second semi-final—Decombre, Belgium, first; Linders, Sweden, second. Time—3 minutes 2-10 seconds, equaling the new Olympic record made by Robert D. Skelton in the first semi-final.

400 meters, free style, men, two to qualify for semi-finals to-day—Ralph Breyer, North-Western University, first; Hatfield, Great Britain, second. Time—5 minutes 22 2-5 seconds.

400 meters, free style, third heat, men—Johnny Weissmuller, Illinois A.C., first; Andrew Charlton, Australia, second; Peter, Great Britain, third. Time—5 minutes 22 1-5 seconds.

Mlle. Barond of Holland finished first, two seconds ahead of Miss Geraghty, but she was disqualified for faulty turns.

200 meters, breast stroke, women, second heat—Miss Morton, Great Britain, first; Miss Koster, Luxembourg, second. Time—3 minutes 29 2-5 seconds.

200 meters, breast stroke, women, third heat—Miss Carson, Great Britain, first; Miss Topel, Sweden, second. Time—3 minutes 30 seconds.

Miss Matilda Shurich, United States, finished third, and was eliminated.

Broke Own Record.

Warren Kealoha ,of Hawaii, broke the Olympic record for the 100-meter back stroke in the first elimination trial, covering the distance in 1 minute 13 2-5 seconds shattering the mark he established at Antwerp, but swimming the distance 4-5ths of a second slower than the world's mark he also made at Honolulu in 1922.

Kealoha was 5 seconds faster than the winners of the other fourheats.

Bartha, of Hungary, made the distance in 1 minute 18 2-5 seconds; Rawlinson, of Great Britain, in 1 minute 18 4-5 seconds; Thaulow, of Norway, in 1 minute 24 seconds flat; and Paul Wyatt, of United States, in 1 minute 19 2-5 seconds.

Henry Luning, Hawaii, was eliminated in the second heat, finishing fourth, two yards behind Van Wilgenburg, of Holland.

Those who qualified for the semi-finals are MacDowell and Rawlinson, of Great Britain, Kealoha and Wyatt, of the United States, Bartha, of Hungary, Thaulow, of Norway, Blite, of Belgium, Zeibig, of France, Saitch, of Japan, and Skoglun, of Sweden.

TWO GAMES SATURDAY.

The last home games for the local teams of the Midland League will be played on Saturday afternoon at the Exhibition Grounds. This is an open date in the Central League schedule so there should be a large turnout of fans. Raybestos are out to show that they were outlucked in their games with the C.N.R. and expect to carry off the honors in Saturday's game. Both teams will be at full strength and a fast game is assured. In the other contest the Dyeworks and C.G.E. will be engaged. On Saturday, in Cobourg, the Dyemixers held the C.N.R. to a tie game and are hopeful of improving their standing at the Electricians expense.

POLOIST INJURED.

Luis Lacey, of British Team, Out of Game For Some Time.

LONDON, July 17. — (Canadian Press).—Luis Lacey, whom English experts consider to be the best man on their international polo team, has torn the muscles of his right shoulder so that he will be unable to play for at least another week and probably longer.

This means that he probably will not get any more practice before the ponies leave for the United States, July 25. The British regard this fact as a misfortune from the standpoint of team efficiency. He, however, will be able to play in the United States, since the team will not sail until August 9.

Mackmne Take Two.

PHILADELPHIA, July 16. — The Athletics tok the Chicago White Sox into camp to-day for a double victory, wnning the first game 5 to 0, and the second 6 to 5. Sam Gray's elusive pitching proved too much for the White Sox n the opening half of the day's engagements, the youthful Texan holding them to four scattered safeties.

Chicago piled up a five run lead in the second inning of the closing contest on Heimach, but was helpless against the relief pitching of big Bob Hasty. Going into the ninth a run behind, the Athletics walloped out three successive safeties that scored two runs and brought them the victory. Scores:

In the seventh inning of the second game, when Detroit made eight runs, Burke doubled off Piercy and trippled off Workman. ROWERS HOLDING OLYMPIC STAGE

String of Championship Events To Be Decided To-day.

ARGENTEUIL, France, July 17.—The Toronto University crew, carrying the Maple Leaf of Canada, yesterday won the final eight-oared trial of the Olympic regatta, and earned the right to meet the famous Yale eight from the United States, Thames Club of Great Britain, and Italy, to-day, in the blue ribbon event. Seven championships will be contested over the picturesque Seine River course.

The Canadians rowing steadily and smoothly, defeated Argentna, Australia and Belgium this afternoon in the keenest fought race witnessed in any of the trials, staving off a last minute challenge by the South Americans to win by a length and a half, with less than a half boat length separating the other three shells. The argentines came from behind with a closing spurt to take second place, with the Australians third and the Belgians fourth.

Jack Beresford, Jr., Great Britain's diamond sculls champion, and Switzerland's four with coxswain won the two remaining elimination trials and the right to compete in the finals. The United States has entrants in five of the championships, which will be rowed to-day over the 2000 metre course.

The Yale eight defeated the Canadians in the first trials. They will encounter stiff opposition from the speedy British eight, which also won its elimination race with plenty to spare. The Canadians, dark horses of the race, have rugged power.

Sydney is wildly excited over the youth's achievement, and the suburb of Manly, Charlton's home town, is gaily beflagged in his honor. Arrangements are already being made to give the young champion a rousing home-coming.

COGS WERE READY

George Street Team Had Called Game For Wet Grounds.

Many fans who turned out at the Exhibition Park diamond last evening to see the crucial battle between the league-leading Cognawaga nine and the fast-climbing George Street crew were disappointed, for the game failed to be fought. The Cogs were on the diamond in uniform ready for the fray, but George Street it appears had called the game early in the afternoon on account of the rain, and the Methodists were nary a one in sight. The diamond in spite of the downpour of the afternoon was in fair condition for the game, the homeplate only suffering by a patch of mud which could easily have been repaired with a little sawdust.

However, it is a very important game, the league title practically hinging on this setto and perhaps it was better to postpone it for more perfect playing conditions. Both teams are confident and expect victory to perch on their bats although they admit the bird can only be snared after a hard close struggle.

YOUNG CANADIAN SCORES HIGH IN BISLEY CLASSIC

Private D. Burke, 19 Years Old, of Ottawa, Won the Bronze Medal and Badge.

SECOND STAGE FRIDAY.

Fifteen Canadians Have Qualified For Finals.

BISLEY CAMP, July 17 (Canadian Press Cable). — Marksmen from all parts of the Empire to the number of 969 got into action yesterday in the competition for the big plum of the meeting — the King's Pride—and in the opening stage the honours went to a Canadian, Pte. D. Burke, of Ottawa, who led the field with a score of 103 in a possible 105 on the 200, 500, and 600 yard ranges, 7 shots on each.

A special prize donated by the National Rifle Association, consisting of a bronze medal and bronze badge for the competitor making the highest aggregate in the opening stage, goes to Pte. Burke.

Burke made possibles on both the 20 0and 600 yard ranges, and dropped to 33 on the 500 yard range.

The King's Prize competition is conducted in three stages. The second stage is open only to the 300 competitors making the best scores in the opening stage, and the third stage only to the 100 competitors taking the highest places in the second stage.

The second stage will be shot on Friday and the final stage on Saturday.

The shooting on Friday will be on the 3300 and 600 yard ranges, and the final stage on Saturday on the 900 and 1,000 yard ranges.

The places and prizes of the competitors in the third stage will be decided by the aggregate of the scores made by them in the second and third stages only.

Competitors making an aggregate of 94 or better in the opening stage to-day qualify for the second stage, and therefore fifteen Canadians enter, as compared with nine last year.

Following were the scores made by the Canadians on the 600 yard range yesterday, and their aggregates for the three ranges:

Pte. D. Burke, Ottawa, 35, 103; Pte. B. W. Beaumont, Victoria, 32, 100; Lieut. E. W. Bishop, Ottawa, 32, 100; Sergt. J. A. Bowen, Edmonton, 32, 99; Sergt. F. Ho Lem, Calgary, 30, 98; Sergt. A. Parnell, Verdun, Que., 32, 98; Sergt. R. Storror, Toronto, 31, 98; Major Fred Richardson, Victoria, 32, 97; Sergt. A. F. E. Wilson, Ottawa, 30, 97; Pte. H. J. White, Toronto, 30, 97; Pte. J. Borland, Toronto, 32, 96; Sergt. D. Stuart, Ottawa, 33, 96; Major R. S. Cross, Ottawa, 29, 95; Sergt. W. A. Hawkins, Toronto, 31, 95; Pte. P. W. Selwood, Vancouver, 30, 95; Sergt. J. Binnie, Hamilton, 32, 93; Sergt. Steadman, Toronto, 27, 93; Sergt. F. J. Goodhouse, Ottawa, 29, 92; Lieut. Alex. Martin, Calgary, 29, 91; Major F. Jeffrey, Kingston, 26, 90.

Pte. Burke's victory yesterday was a popular one. His consistently good shooting throughout the meet is regarded as proof of the wisdom of encouraging young marksmen.

Burke is only 19 years of age, and has been shooting barely three years.

Corporal Trainer in 1911 was the only previous Canadian to win the bronze medal.

There were six scores yesterday of 102, including one Australian, six scores of 101, and ten of 100.

The Canadians scored well yesterday, and a majority of them are likely to be among the 300 entering the second stage.

RUTLAND CLUB'S DEFICIT $10,000

President's Personal Loss in Baseball Venture Was $5,200.

TEAM DISBANDED.

RUTLAND, Vt., July 17.—(Canadian Press).—A deficit of $10,000 with the prospect of a much higher figure if this city continued to maintain a team in the Quebec, Ontario, Vermont League, furnished the reason for President Arthur Prouse's withdrawal of the team from the League. The organization was disbanded at once and the men paid off. President Prouse stated that the loss to the Rutland County Athletic Association was $4,800, and that his personal loss was $5,200. If the team had continued in the League it would have been at a loss of from $150 to $200 a day, he stated. After the first of the season local games drew small crowds.

The association does not owe a dollar, he stated, he having raised $2,000 in the last week to pay salaries and other indebtedness. There were still 120 shares of stock with a value of $1,200 which had been subscribed but not paid for.

SOUTH ENDERS WON.

King Edward Team Defeat Queen Mary's by 7-3.

In an exhibition playground fixture played yesterday afternoon on the Queen Mary diamond the King Edward nine defeated the home team 7 to 3. The Queen Mary school should be congratulated on its hay crop this season. The grass is so long that snappy fielding was entirely out of the question and the infielders had to be regular sleuth hounds to trail the Spalding's course and find its resting place.

However, there was some good baseball. "Lefty" Guiry and "Casey" Masterson, old rivals, opposed each other on the mound and "Scottie" Maudsley also took his turn at slab duty for the westenders.

The teams lined up as follows:

Queen Mary—Maudsley, 3b, p; I. Lebarr, s; MacIntosh, 2b; Crary, 1b; Guiry, p; Hickey, lf; H. Lebarr, rf; Graham, ss; H. Mowry, rf.

King Edward—Milloy, 2b; E. Barry, 3b; L. Rishea, 1b; V. Rishea, c; B. Machness, cf; V. Masterson, ss; L. Masterson, p; J. Barry, lf; McCarthy, rf.

Score by innings:
King Edward ..... 3020200—7
Queen Mary ..... 0101100—3

HILLCRESTS DEFEATED.

Alex. Kay's Curlers Start the Second Half With Win.

Alex Kay's Curlers, winners of the first half in the City Juvenile League, continued the good work last evening when they took the Hillcrests of East City into camp by 6 to 3 in the opening fixture of the second half of the series.

The game was featured with good ball throughout, plenty of hitting and good pitching. The Hillcrests got close to Carl Woods the Curler speed merchant in the third innings for three runs on good clean hitting. However, the Curlers came back strong in every frame and piled up a comfortable lead.

The Curlers may journey to Curve Lake on Saturday to bump into Sam Copperway's tribe of bat swinging guides and trappers. If they do the Curlers outfield can expect a busy afternoon chasing the ball over the green sward of the Curve Lake hilly pasture field.

HAMILTON TIGERS STRONG AS EVER

The Spectacular Work of Day, Stanley and John Brackenborough Will Be Missed.

HAMILTON, July 17 (Canadian Press). — Although the Hamilton O.H.A. senior team will be minus Clarence Day, Johnny Brackenborough, and "Ab "Stanley, the Tigers cannot be counted out of the running.

"Chick" Garvey, Woodstock star, will be here, and will play on the defence, with "Hobey" Kitchen, former Toronto St. Mary's defence man, who is playing with Hamilton's OA.L.A. senior, team.

Carson Cooper is the only forward left, but the Tiger officials expect to have successors for Brackenborough and Stanley, who will make the yellow and black as formidable as ever.

Dr. Charley Stewart, who went to Kingston a month ago, and was expected to be lost to the locals, has returned and will again guard the twine.

Day will attend the University of Toronto and play for the Collegians.

DO YOU KNOW BASEBALL?

BY BILLY EVANS

QUESTIONS

1. Bases are full, one out, infield playing in close to cut off possible run at the plate. The base runners have a big lead. The batsman hits a hard grounder between second and third, hitting runner on way from second to third. The ball was hard hit; the infield playing in close had no chance to make a play on it. Is the base runner out or is the ball in play?—S. M.

2. Is the batter out regardless of whether the third strike is caught by the catcher, if he attempts to bunt on the third strike and does not even foul the ball, providing that first base is not occupied at the time, with less than two out.—A. F.

ANSWERS

1. With the infield drawn in as you state, the ball is in play after it passes the infield so playing, and the batsman is not out. Base runners can advance at their peril. It is considered there is no chance for a play on the ball after it so passes the infield, and would be manifestly unfair to call the runner out in such a situation.

2. The batsman is automatically out on a third strike, regardless of whether it is caught; only, when first base is occupied and there are less than two out. In the case you state first base is not occupied The ball is merely a strike and the catcher must catch it in your case.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

Ball players are a superstitious lot.

It is really surprising how far some of the brainy stars of the game permit themselves to be carried away with the jinx stuff.

Along these lines, it would be a difficult matter to convince the second basemen of the American League, that some one hasn't put the double curse on that position.

The things that have happened to the second sackers in the Johnsonian organization this year reads like a hospital list from the battlefield.

Second base is an important cog in the infield defense. Things happen fast and furious around the keystone sack.

A majority of the double plays are pivoted at second base. The loss of a fraction of a second in executing a play often spells ruin. Failure to complete a double play is often the deciding factor in a ball game.

Drop a star second sacker out of a team's lineup and immediately the club suffers. One need only glance back over the records of certain American League clubs for such proof.

Five American League teams have felt the handicap of losing a star second baseman through injury. Another suffered because a former veteran star couldn't strike his stride.

At different times since the opening of the season New York has been without Ward, Cleveland without Stephenson, Washington minus Harris, St. Louis McManus and the Athletics for a time missed Bishop because of illness.

Early in the spring Derrill Pratt, 15 pounds lighter than last year, seemed set for a big season as a fielder. Pratt always could hit. This season he failed at the bat.

Last season both Collins and Wambsganss were out for weeks because of injuries. So that the last two years have been tough ones on the American League second sackers.

That is why ballplayers as a whole, and second basemen in particular, think the position is jinxed.

Since ballplayers are mighty superstitious, it would be a difficult matter to convince them to the contrary.

SMALL AUTOS ARE BECOMING SMALLER

Cars of 91 Cubic Inches Piston Displacement May Enter Next Year's Race.

(By Israel Klein.)

The small automobile is going to be made smaller.

In 1926, according to present signs, automobiles entered in the annual 500-mile classic at the Indianapolis Speedway, will have a piston displacement of 91 cubic inches—tiny engines going at the rate of more than 5000 revolutions a minute and speeding faster than the bigger machines of previous years.

The history of auto racing points to the steady decrease of engine size for lightness and speed. In 1911 when the first race was run, the limit was 600 cubic inches, and big lumbering cars weighing 2000 pounds and over made what was then the "remarkable" speed of 74.59 miles an hour.

Speed Goes Up.

Last Memorial Day witnesses at the Indianapolis Speedway, saw a light, one-man, stream-line racer tear through 500 miles of track at a speed of 98.24 miles an hour, and the size of this racer's engine was only a fifth that of 1911.

At the same time, behind the scenes rested an even lighter car—of 91 cubic inches piston displacement—not ready as yet to enter that race, but promising to become an important competitor in the next event. Unofficial reports of its recognition stress its importance for the future.

At the time of the first race, in 1911, Ralph De Palma's Simplex reached within three inches of the 600 cubic inch limit. It had a bore of 5 3-4 inches and a stroke the length of its bore.

Another competitor, the Fiat, which came in third, has a displacement of 589 cubic inches, with a 6-inch bore, and a 7½ inch stroke.

Tiny Engines.

Compare this with the 122-cubic-inch car of 1924, with bores of about 2½ inches and strokes of a little over 3 inches, for eight cylinders—and an idea of the smallness of the 91-inch motor may be gleaned.

The eight-in-line has been a popular engine for racers ever since 1920, when Duesenberg displayed wonders with his new models, all of which came below the 183-cubic-inch limit. It is hardly conceivable that the 91-inch motors will be straight eights, for their piston displacement would limit them down to a bore of about 2 or 2½ nches, by a stroke of a little over 3 1-2 or 2¾ inches respectively.

In the case of four-cylinder engines of 91-inch displacement, however the cylinder bore would be abotu 3 inches diameter by a little over 3 inches stroke.

Supercharger Needed.

Even this size cylinder would be impossible of endurance and consistent high speed were it not for the supercharger. It is due to this auxiliary that the small, speedy engines of 5000 or more revolutions a minute can maintain their speed without a break.

Without the supercharger, the small engines would have to be slowed up because the suction stroke is so short that not enough time would be given the engine to draw up enough fuel and air for complete combustion. The super-charger is used therefore to force air into the cylinders during each suction stroke at at least twice atmospheric pressure so that enough mixture is received at all times and the small engine is maintained at a high and consistent speed.

Therefore it may be safely predicted that every car having an engine of 91 cubic inches displacement will carry a supercharger to maintain it at a high speed.

First Aid to the Rescue

It is not only telephone men who benefit by the careful training they undergo in First Aid methods. Time and again it has happened that accidents to all sorts of people have occurred when quick-thinking linemen were working near by and they have taken charge of the situation to the saving of many lives.

Here, little Johnny Jackson has been taken in hand after having fallen while on his way home with a bottle of milk. The broken glass made a nasty gash, and Johnny's mother in a grateful letter to the telephone boys who rendered First Aid said:

"Thanks to your skilful handling we do not anticipate any bad results. But for your prompt aid Johnny might have bled to death."

Section lineman G. M. Farel of Montreal the other day saved a fainting woman from falling to her death from a high balcony. Cableman J. Ager at Kitchener revived a swimmer who had been rescued unconscious from the water. Section lineman Archie Bryant at London plunged into a burning house and saved a baby from death. Inspector Frank P. Bone at Montreal staunched the flow of blood from a severed artery for a hotel employee who had fallen through a skylight into a dark shaft. Lineman Daly of Sundridge rendered first aid to a man and his daughter whose vehicle had been struck by a train, driving them to the nearest doctor. At Exeter, lineman Hatfield by timely first aid to victims of an overturned automobile saved the life of a boy occupant.

THEATRES

AT THE ROYAL.

NEW GIBSON COMEDY HAS GOOD STORY.

Hoot Gibson has become a regular professional "expose—r," such a term is allowed by Webster, or other good dictionaries.

A few months ago he was seen in the role of a recruit in a cavalry troup of the United States army. Sometime later he played the role of a gob in the navy. These two pictures, "Blinky" and "Out of Luck," respectively, were considered the Universal western star's best recent pictures.

He then appeared in a satirical comedy-drama, based around the adventures of an "extra" in his own profession, "The Thrill Chaser."

His latest production is "Hook and Ladder," which opens to-day at the Royal Theatre. As the title suggests, it is a fire department yarn and it has been treated in the same comedy vein as his previous ventures into similar roles.

Gibson portrays the role of a cowboy who joined the fire department on an impulse and regretted it the first time he started to climb a ladder on the training tower. His antics here are exceedingly funny and some thrilling situations are presented.

The comedy breaks away and dramatic melodrama is introduced effectively in the second half of the picture. The fireman gets mixed up in politics and through his romance with the pretty daughter of the fire chief incurs the enmity of a powerful ward heeler. A spectacular fire scene and night-shot of a fire department run are the strong features.

The direction of the picture was capable handled by Edward Sedgwick and the star is supported by an excellent cast, which includes Mildred June, Philo McCullough, Edwards Davis and Frank Beal.

FREE CANDY FOR THE KIDDIES EVERY AFTERNOON AT THE ROYAL.

Seldom has a whole programme been secured that will appeal to the children as well as the adults and at the same time. Each item is clean and wholesome, the kind that the kiddies should be sent to see. Hoot Gibson in 'Hook and Ladder,' Buddy Messenger in "The Racing Kid," and Fred Thompson, world famous athlete, in "The Eagle's Talons," and a large bag of candy for every child attending the matinees.

AT THE CAPITOL.

'ONLY A SHOP GIRL' IS GREAT STAGE MELODRAMA AT CAPITOL TO-DAY

Charles E. Blaney's famous old-time melodramatic success, "Only a Shop Girl," is the feature attraction at the Capitol Theatre to-day, Friday and Saturady. For many years "Only a Shop Girl" was one of the classic thrillers of the stage, its fast moving action and intense human interest giving it a wide appeal to theatre-goers of al ages. On the screen it is even a greater entertainment than when presented on the stage. An exceptional cast including Estelle Taylor, Mae Busch, Wallace Beery and other well known players assure a proper presentation of the different roles. With the feature, the usual program of short subjects, including a Pathe Review and a Christie Comedy, will be seen.

AT THE REGENT.

KEATON 7-REEL COMEDY PROVES BEST OF SEASON

Buster Keaton's second feature length comedy, "Our Hospitality," a Joseph M. Schenck production, released through Metro, opens to-night at the Regent Theatre. Beyond a doubt it is the most laugh-provoking production of the year. Buster has opened a new vein of comedy in this picture, and the spectators last night gave every evidence of approval.

The story concerns the adventures of William McKay, the last of a distinguished Kentucky family, which has been killed off in a feud with the Canfields. Buster, of course, is William, and his serious face and naive expression make this Southern Rollo a character long to be remembered. The story takes place in the early 1830's, which has given the producers a wonderful opportunity to use the humorous aspect of history.

They have certainly not missed a single chance. The sequence showing Buster's ride on the first steam train in America is refreshing. It's real history, but, better yet, it's real fun. It furnishes one of the rarest comedy scenes ever made. Parents who think thir children might get a distorted idea of the actual happening need not fear, for "The Rocket" and its coaches are shown with true fidelity.

Natalie Talmadge, Buster's wife, who returned to the screen to appear in this film, is excellent in the role of the Canfield girl with whom the "last of the McKays" falls in love. Looking prettier than ever, she brings back to the silent drama a broadened acting ability, and adds greatly to the picture. The baby, Buster Keaton II, shows real cinematic worth when he doubles for his father in the early scenes —he cries beautifully.

Joseph Keaton, Buster's father, has a delightful part as the great engineer of "The Rocket," fussing with the many levers with much ado and an egotism that brings a large quota of laughs from the spectators. Others in the cast are Kitty Bradbury, Joe Roberts, Leonard Clapham, Craig Ward, Ralph Bushman (son of Francis X. Bushman), Edward Coxeen, Monte Collins and James Duffy.

The story and titles were by Jean Havez, Joe Mitchell and Clyde Bruckman, photography by Elgin Lessley and Gordon Jennings, historical sets by Fred Gabouri, and the picture was directed by Buster Keaton and Jack Blystone.

ON THE SANDLOTS

There really is pleasure in watching mere youth out flirtin' with fresh, open air. You can't help but know, when it comes down to truth, that they're trappin' good health in its lair.

The youth of to-day are the old, after while, and the strength that they build, seems to me, means much, years to come, to the rank and the file, and to what this great country's to be.

Let's turn to the sandlots, no matter just where, and what will we generally find? Real youth in its glory is bound to be there, filled with pep of the genuine kind.

There's exercise plenty and laughter galore; real contests of strength, now and then. And youth plays around till its muscles are sore as it's building to women and men.

No wonder there's pleasure in watching mere youth. No wonder the grown-ups will smile. Whatever the world is to-day, it's the truth that with health, 'twill improve, after while.

DANGER.

Marriages in which the age of the woman at the time of the wedding is under 20, and the man five or more years older, are seven times more apt to terminate in divorce than other marriages. This is shown by investigations conducted by Professor Hart of Iowa State University.

Youth is impulsive. Youth also is inclined to scoff at the advice of older people. Where parents oppose marriages, it is usually for the good of their child involved. Listen and reason young people. All they want is your happisess assured.

CANADIAN PIANOS FOR JAPAN.

Specially Built by Heintzman to Withstand Climate Conditions.

The piano that is to be used in Japan, and other foreign countries, must necessarily be built to withstand the peculiar climate conditions that prevail in these lands.

At the present time there is under construction in the fatcory of Ye Olde Firme of Heintman & Co., Limited, two upright pianos—miniature upright grand models— for Formosa, Japan, going to well-known citizens of professional standing — one of these to Kirun, Formosa, and another to Nagano, Japan, a point 135 miles northwest from Tokio.

The humidity of climate in these parts is such that these two pianos must be specially built to meet the native conditions, so that none of the beauty of tone of the Heintzman & Co. piano, as known here, is lost.

This firm is doing a large export business, having made a particular study of the needs of other countries. Recent heavy shipments to Australia and New Zealand, as with those now going to Japan, have followed the sales effected in Shanghai, Fiu Key, Chungti, at different times the satisfaction given resulting in the building up of a large and permanent trade in China, Japan and the British colonies of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

ROTARY PARADE A BIG SUCCESS

Three Bands and Lots of Noise—Carnival Opens.

Almost as impressive as a circus parade was the parade staged at two o'clock this afternoon on George Street, in connection with the Rotary Carnival. A burst of well-washed sunshine shone down on the motor cars and the decorated floats that moved majestically down the main thoroughfare, with a good'y number of citizens lining the sidewalks and admiring the various exhibits.

The Peterboro Fire Department led the van, with the Chief's car in advance, and two motor trucks, sirens wide open, accompanying it. Three bands were in attendance: the Peterboro Rangers, the Juvenile Salvation Army band, and a fife and drum band, in white suits. There were several very fine large floats, emblazoning the Rotary emblems, with one equipped with a radio outfit, broadcasting a programme in the air. The Cadets and the Boy Scouts were also in attendance.

Decorations of red and white and blue were on several of the cars, and a number of mercantile establishments were represented in fine style, followed by a long line of private motor cars. One noticeable exhibit was that showing a crippled child, riding in a big motor car, bare foot stretched out in full view.

The parade was in charge of an energetic committee, convened by Rotarian Andrew Brown.

KNOX MOTION MET DEFEAT

This Might Be His Last Opportunity of Bringing Up Question.

OTTAWA, July 17.— By a vote of 78 to 20 in the House of Commons, after an all night sitting, at 7.30 this morning, defeated the motion of Andrew Knox (Progressive member for Prince Albert), censuring the government for the non-completion of the Hudson Bay Railway.

BELCOURT WAITS ON THE DOORSTEP

How Canada is Represented at the Allied Conference.

OTTAWA, July 17. — (Canadian Press).—Premier King confirmed in House of Commons this morning, report that Hon. N. Belcourt had been appointed as representative of Canada at inter-Allied Conference in London. He said that he had not received any message from London, since Mr. Belcourt's arrival, but that he rather expected that full powers had been granted to him in accordance with request made by Canadian Government.

He suggested that delay in hearing might be due to desire on part of Imperial Government to consult the other Dominions.

There was an angry scene in the Commons this morning, when Premier King was being questioned on Canadian representation at the inter-Allied conference. Premier King had outlined communications which had passed between the Canadian and British Government. In regard to Canadian representation at the conference and the stand taken by Canada. He had intimated that the Dominion Government was awaiting further advices from the British Government when Right Hon. Mr. King heatedly protested against the press getting information with regard to what is taking place, "which is not given to the government of the country and which the government is not in a position to reply to."

Americans Not Wanted!

Some Japanese merchants and professional men have been quick to inform the world they do not cater to Americans. This sign has been posted on the Paris Inn, near the Imperial Hotel, to avoid any possible boycott by Japanese who might consider it "undesirably foreign." It reads: "The Paris Inn adopts the pure French style appealing to Japanese taste. We do not follow example of America, absolutely! We hope for your understanding. Manager Kimiko Satomi." Two physicians, a dentist, and one wholesale firm have posted notices advising Americans they are not wanted on the premises.

LONDON, July 17 (Canadian Press). — The French members of the committee of the Inter-Allied Conference dealing with the authority of the Reparation Commission, announced this afternoon their inmination to insist upon the taking up by bankers of the proposed loan to Germany as a condition precedent to the recognition that the experts plan is in effect.

The French members also expressed their joint conviction that the economic unity of Germany could not be restored until the proposed loan was underwritten.

IN MEMORIAM.
O'BRIEN.—In loving memory of Mrs. James O'Brien, who departed this life on July 15th, 1923.

In sorrow we waited day by day,
And watched her suffering there,
Slowly but surely passing away,
From the pain she scarce could bear.

And then God called from His throne above,
Her sufferings and pain are past,
We know she has gone to realms of love,
And in heaven has peace at last.

It is not the tears at the time that are shed,
That tells of the heart that is torn,
But the passionate tears, in after years,
And remembrance silently borne.

—Ever remembered by her loving Husband, James O'Brien, and Son, M. J. O'Brien.

HOUSE APPLAUDS LEADER'S ANGRY NOTE TO LONDON

Belcourt Now Permitted to Move His Suitcase Inside Door.

A PANEL SYSTEM.

Canada Secures Her Point at the Inter-Allied Conference.

OTTAWA, July 18.—(Canadian Press).—Canada has secured her point at inter-Allied Conference. Senator Belcourt will attend conference as member of British Empire delegation with full powers from Premier King to represent Canada and to sign on behalf of Canada. System of representation to be followed will be similar to that adopted at Paris peace conference with three delegates, one of whom will be representative of Dominions. Dominion Government has been so advised by Right Hon. J. P. Thomas, Secretary of State for Colonies, following meeting of High Commissioners in London yesterday, at which Senatory Belcourt was present. Premier King has replied accepting arrangement, and Senator Belcourt will therefore attend all meetings of British Empire delegation, and, as Canadian representative, will attend main conference from time to time according to arangements made under panel system.

One statement by Mr. King yesterday morning, delivered in angry tones, will especially arouse comment in its reference to the British Government.

"I want," he declared, as the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition leader, read a despatch, "to draw the attention of this House and of the British Government to the fact that at this moment we are receiving information with respect to what is being done in London as to the representation of Canada at the Inter-Allied Conference from a press despatch given to the House through the lips of th eleader of the Opposition, while no communication has reached the Prime Minister."

The attitude of the Canadian Government had been that the Dominion should be represented on the same basis as at Versailles and Washington. To this attitude the British Government acquiescel, and suggested that the "panel" system should be used. Thereupon an Order-in-Council was passed appointing Senator N. A. Belcourt as the Dominion's plenipotentiary, and a cable was sent two days ago requesting that he be given full powers to act.

Since then, the Premier stated, no communication had been received of any kind, and the assumption was that the proposal met with satisfaction.

Premier Is Angry.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen arose. "It may not be inappropriate to say," he declared, "that Canadian representation in the British delegation is essential in this case, as it was equally esential at Lausanne. I have just received a despatch which came over the Canadian Press wires this morning, and which states that nothing can be settled pending the arrival of fresh information from Canada alone. Have the other Dominions taken the same attitude as Canada?"

Premier King was manifestly angry. "May I say," he declared, "that it is an extraordinary thing that the Government has to wait for its information on matters of this kind until it is given in press despatches from the lips of the leader of the Opposition." (Loud applause.)

"The despatch was sent to me," sad Mr. Meighen.

"Why was it not sent to me?" inquired the Premier. "I would like to call the attention of this House and of the British Government to the fact that we are forced to accept information through Canadian Press, and that no communication whatsoever has been received by myself. I have left instructions that all cables be decoded immediately. But for two days past none has been received."

How Meighen Got It.

W. A. Boys, chief Conservative whip, rose to say that he had just happened to meet a member of the

LASHES FOR YOUTHS

Public Flogging Included in Sentence on Young Criminals.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., July 18.—(Canadian Press).—Three youths, Wm. Bodner, Geo. Buddick and Wm. Lechison, associates in crime of Percy Moggey, who shot and wounded two members of the Winnipeg detective force last week, were all sentenced to be flogged by Magistrate Marshall here yesterday.

Bodner, who is 18 years old, in addition to receiving eighteen lashes will serve three years in prison. Twelve lashes and one year in the provincial training school was meted out to Buddick, while Lecihson, the youngest of the trio was given suspended sentence and a public flogging to be administered by the Chief of Police.

They confessed to a series of robberies and otner criminal offences.

WILSON CARRIED MONEY IN SOCK

And Will Spend Three Years in Prison, Because Both Were Stolen.

PACKED A GUN.

James Wilson, alias Walker, born in Toronto twenty-seven years ago, was captured in the same city on Wednesday and arraigned in Lindsay police court yesterday morning on a charge of stealing an automobile from Miss MacCrea, sister of Lady Eaton. It is supposed that he is the man who burglarized Goodwood and Sunderland stations on the C N.R

When rounded up on Wednesday, Wilson had $2.35 in a silk sock and $32 in his pockets. The $2.35 was in coppers, supposed to have been taken from Goodwood station, and the silk sock, with its mate and other articles in haberdashery, were loot from a burglarized store.

Wilson, who was released from Stoney Mountain (Manitoba) penitentiary in May after serving a sentence for shop-breaking, will spend the next three years in Portsmouth penitentiary in Kingston, by order of Magistrate Jordan. He refused to admit the station burglaries, and was very reticent. A revolver and a box of cartridges, with a flash-light, were in his possession when he was arrested.

W. H. Howard, special officer of the C.N.R. in Peterborough; provincial constable Hayston Storey of Lindsay, and Chief of Police Umphrey were associated in the capture.

Hobson's Choice.

The prisoner blew into Lindsay Saturday last on a freight, having travelled the bumpers. He claims that he went out along the tracks in the afternoon and had a sleep alongside the track. It was about 12.30 o'clock Sunday night when he entered the McCrea garage, breaking open the lock and carrying it away. He claims that he was unaccompanied and when asked why he singled out probably the best car in town for the theft, he stated that he simply walked into the first garage that came handy.

Leaving Lindsay, Wilson apparently drove up towards Guelph, staying in that city five hours and then starting out for Toronto again. On the way he gave several people a lift, including one farmer who accompanied him to Toronto.

Arrested in Toronto.

It was while he was travelling down a Toronto street that he was noticed by a city constable, who trailed him in a car. Wilson's car was finally blocked by a street car and while Wilson was operating the gears, ready to move ahead again, the constable drew up alongside, opened the back door of the limousine and hopped in, placing a revolver at Wilson's head and ordering him to keep on driving till he reached the police station. Wilson had no warning whatever, which perhaps was fortunate, as three guns were found in his possession and a quantity of ammunition was found in the car. The rugs were gone and many burnt matches and stubs of cigarettes were found in both the back and front seats, indicating that he had company on his trip. Altogether, the car had travelled 500 miles since leaving Lindsay.

Magistrate Jordan gave the prisoner every chance to tell of his doing and to confess what he had done with the auto rugs. The prisoner stated that he did not know where they had disappeared to and that he had not sold them. He denied having any accomplices and said he had not disposed of the rugs to any second hand dealer in Lindsay or elsewhere. They had simply been taken from the car by other parties.

His Worship said that he always believed in giving a man a chance. He even offered to be very lenient if Wilson would divulge where the auto robes were and what other crimes he had committed during the past few months. Wilson remained adamant, whereupon the Magistrate sentenced him to three years in penitentiary.

The prisoner left the court room with Officer Umphrey with a smile on his lips, and did not appear to be the least perturbed by the sentence.

Miss McCrea's car suffered no damage, and she is naturally pleased that it has been restored to her.

BEER LICENSES VIEWED AS AID TO TEMPERANCE

Acting Premier of Saskatchewan Regrets Defeat of Clause For Beer Sales.

BOOTLEGGING A CURSE

Liquor Traffic Only Scotched By the Government Control System.

SASKATOON, Sask., July 18. — (Canadian Press).—"In the interest of true temperance, I deeply regret that Clause 'B,' providing for licensed sale of beer, was rejected at the polls on Wednesday," said Hon. A. P. McNab, Minister of Public Works, and Acting Premier of Saskatchewan, yesterday.

"A favorable vote on this question would have materially assisted the Provincial Government in putting down home brewing and bootlegging, which are to my mind the two greatest evils connected with the liquor traffic. They constitute the worst curse with which the people are faced at the present time, and I am exceedingly sorry the people did not place in the hands of the Government power to stamp out the moonshiners and illicit booze peddlers."

Not For Months.

There will be no legal purchase of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in this province for some months yet. Premier Dunning is in England and until his return, the date of which is uncertain, no active steps will be taken to give legislative effect to the determination expressed in the plebiscite that prohibition must go.

The legislature will not meet before October or November, but it is said to be probable that by that time the Government will have considered the situation, will have investigated the degree of success attending the operation of government controlled liquor systems in other provinces and will be prepared to make a recommendation to the legislature of a system for Saskatchewan.

Much Speculation.

There is considerable speculation over the situation as affecting the proposed sale of beer in licensed premises. There was a majority against the beer clause, in favor of absolute Government control of about 9,000, which is expected to go higher, but it is pointed out that this necessarily does not dispose of the matter for the reason that the Government is not committed to any definite course of action through the plebiscite. The Government will be able to benefit by the experience of Alberta on the west, with a system of licensed beer premises, and Manitoba on the east, without any such system, and so guide its course.

Local Option?

The suggestion is heard that the Government might consider the advisability of recommending a local option clause to dispose of the beer question, in view of the very considerable support which the proposition received, even though it was in the minority.

EMPIRE REPRESENTED

Three Persons May Be Named for Allied Conference.

LONDON, July 18.— (Canadian Press Cable).—Although the form in which the various dominions will be represented at the allied conference here has not yet been determined the probability is that if the empire is represented by three delegates one of them will attend as representing the dominions, but the same person will not necessarily represent the dominions on each occasion.

J. R. Thomas, colonial secretary, attended Wednesday's sitting of the allied conference in view of the fact that the question of direct representation by the dominions was then pending.

OPIUM SMOKING VOGUE.

SHANGHAI, July 18.—Opium traffic has taken a new hold on the orient. Wheat and bean farms are being turned into opium farms. Government authorities who once opposed opium in fiery parliamentary talks are now advocating the narcotic.

RETURN STOLEN MONEY

Robbers Add Interest to the Principal They Carried Off.

FREDERICK, Md., July 18.—The life savings of the family of George W. Main of this city, stolen on Oct. 3 from a wardrobe in the room of Thomas G. Main, an invalid, who was bound and gagged as he lay in bed, were returned yesterday.

Thomas G. Main found a package containing $325.90 lying on a bench in a shed in the rear of the Main home. The money returned was in excess of the amount stolen. The difference, members of the family believe, is the equivalent of 6 per cent. interest for ten months.

The home has been twice robbed within a year. Ont Oct. 3, 1923, $300 was taken, Thomas Main being alone in the house at the time. On June 7, $17 was taken.

POWER SCHEME FIRST REPORT

Announcement Will Be Made Soon, Hon. G. P. Graham Promises.

ENGINEERS AT WORK.

OTTAWA, July 18. — (Canadian Prerss).—The effect of power development in connection with the St. Lawrence deep waterways scheme upon the levels of the Great Lakes, and an investigation of the excess of water being taken from Lake Michigan by the Chicago drainage canal will be one of the major problems submitted by the Governrments of Canada and the United States to the Joint Engineering Board appointed by the two countries to investigate the technical problems arising out of the super-power and navigation plan.

This was announced in the House of Commons yesterday by Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, and chairman of the Canadian National Advisory Committee appointed some time ago to investigate possible beenfits which Canada might expect from the development. A vote of $100,000 was passed to provide for the payment of salaries and expenses in connection with the Advisory Committee.

Mr. Graham explained that both Canada and the United States had appointed advisory boards which were acting independently of each other. Up to date these boards had not held joint conferences. In addition there was a joint engineering board composed of three engineers from each country. It was the duty of this board to investigate the technical question. In order to further facilitate the solving of technical problems an official from each country was selected from the personnel of the joint engineering board to pass upon the questions which should be submitted to that board.

Met In Montreal.

The joint engineering board held a meeting in Montreal recently and decided upon questions for settlement. These questions were passed along to the two Governments, and Mr. Graham expected to be able to make an announcement in connection with them in a few days. This announcemet was delayed because the United States Government had proposed a new question.

In order to further protect Canada's interests the Government had appointed an inter-departmental committee on which all the important departments of Government were represented under the chairmanship of Col. O. H. Diggar, chief electoral officer.

This particular body was, in reality, advisory to the National Advisory Board and had already accomplished wonderful results. At present the inter-departmental committee was studying the new proposal emanating from the United States Government.

The Canadian National Advisory Board will meet here on July 31 and subsequently the final proposition in connection with the investigation of the proposed development will be announced.

The vote carried.

FERGUSON OUT WITH DATE OF LIQUOR BALLOT

Vote Will Be Taken on October 23rd, Premier Announces.

HAD CONFERENCE.

W. E. Raney Sees No Reason For Large Expenditure on a Vote.

TORONTO, July 18.—(Canadian Press).—According to official statement issued by Premier Ferguson last night, liquor plebiscite will be held on Thursday, October 23. Questions to be submitted to eelctors however, will not be anounced until early in September.

Statement of Premier Ferguson was issued after long conference with Attorney General Nickle. It contains outline of Government's formerly announced policy on plebiscite question, explains why October 23, was selected as date of voting, and gives assurance that "questions will be so framed that there will be no possibility of perplexity as to their meaning or uncertainty as to conclusions to be drawn from vote."

A significant statement in the announcement declares:

"It is undeniable that there is a demand from large numbers of people who hold divergent views that they be given opportunity to pronounce upon the subject."

Premier Ferguson was asked whether this conclusion was based upon tabulation of letters and resolutions received by the government on the question. He replied that he was not guided by this form of information only.

"I come constantly in contact with many persons and I have found that there is a desire for a vote among temperance supporters as well as others," he said.

Many supporters of the Ontario Temperance Act, he continued, thought that a vote would prove the only satisfactory method of settling the question, and ending the present agitation. The result of the plebiscite in Saskatchewan had not been considered by government in coming to a conclusion, Premier Ferguson stated. Before the result of that vote was known, he continued, the government had decided to submit the question in Ontario, but had delayed the announcement until definite date had been decided upon.

Raney's Views.

There is no justification for the expenditure of half a million dollars for taking of a third vote of the people within five years, except the paymet of a political debt by Premier Ferguson, said Hon. W. E. Raney, former Attorney-General, when informed last night of the government's decision to hold a plebiscite in October.

"One would have thought that Premer Ferguso would not have known definitely what the sentiment of the province was in the matter of popular vote until he knew what the questions were that he proposes to ask the electors to answer, he added.

Mr. Raney said that he would make a moe extended statement today after he had had an opportunity o reading Mr. Ferguson's statement.

Cyril D. Boyce, secretary of the Moderation League, stated that the government's decision "suits us fine." At first he feared that government's resolve to withhold until September the publication of the questions to be submitted might tend to confuse the organization for the contest, but on second thought he expressed the opinion that there would be plenty of time to get the issue clearly before the people. He predicted that Ontario would defeat prohibition by a majority of between 60,000 and 100,000. He explained that on previous occasions the forces opposed to prohibition had not organized in time.

"We will show what organization is this time," he said. "There was," he continued, "the nucleus of an anti-prohibition organization in each of 1172 towns, cities nad villges of Ontario, at the present time."

I. F. Hellmuth, president of the League, is out of the city at his summer home.

PARLIAMENT ADMITTED CLAIM OF DEPOSITORS FOR REIMBURSEMENT

Long Heralded Debate on Home Bank Case Reduced to Less Than Two Minutes—Formal Procedure of Adopting the Banking Committee's Report Without Comment.

OTTAWA, July 18. — (Canadian Press).—The long-advertised debate upon the claim of the Home Bank depositors for reimbursement took place in the House of Commons last night and lasted less than two minutes. In fact, in the usual sense of that word, there was no debate. Nevertheless, the House of Commons committed itself to the proposition "that the depositors of the Home Bank have a moral claim in equity for compensation by the country on account of any loss they may suffer by rearson of the failure of the Home Bank."

This declaration was put on record by the adoption of the report of the Banking Committee of the House of Commons containing the finding just quoted. This report was adopted without any explanation of the Government's attitude on the matter. It is still possible for the Governrment to bring down a supplementary estimate to provide an advance for the depositors, but the attitude of the Acting Minister of Finance, Hon. J. A. Robb, has been that the Government should have fuller information as to the results of the liquidation before announcing its policy.

The subject was called up by Premier King as soon as the House resumed its evening sitting. Thomas Vien, chairman of the Banking Committee of the House of Commons, moved a compact resolution that the House concur in the report of the committee. The essence of the report of the committee was the sentence quoted above.

As soon as the Speaker had put Mr. Vien's motion to the House he followed it by saying "Carried" with the rising inflection of the interrogative.

There were answering cries from the House of "Carried" with an affirmative inflection, but no negatives made themselves heard.

Mr. Vien kept his seat. There was a pause and a hush of waiting in the Chamber.

"Isn't there to be a debate on this question?" asked W. F. MacLean (Conservative, South York).

The only answer was again the cry "Carried."

The Speaker confirmed the verdict of the House and declared the motion carried. The debate was over. There was a burst of desk-hammering and laughter from all parts of the Chamber, and with a sigh of relief the members turned to the discussion of the routine estimates of the Privy Council office.

The debate on the Home Bank was over and no statement of Government policy has been made.

CANADIAN WAGE NEARLY DOUBLE

Shoe Manufacturers Emphasize Handicap of Low British Labor Costs.

EFFECTS ARE SERIOUS.

MONTREAL, July 18.—Replying to statements in defence of the British preference made recently by Geo. R. Leighton, president of the Canadian Association of British Manufacturers, with special reference to the sole manufacturing industry in Canada and to importations of British footwear, the Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada, through their president, L. P. Deslongchamps, addressed a long letter to the Canadian Press yesterday, pointing out that the Canadian Shoe Manufacturing industry pays wages from 66 2-3 to 100 per cent. higher than those prevailing in Great Britain and uses higher cost materials and equipment.

Competition is Close.

Mr. Deslongchamps claims that, in consequence of those conditions the Canadian industry is to-day in a condition of acute distress and that the low rates of the British preferential schedule in the Canadian tariff make it possible for British shoe factories with their low labor costs and aided by exchange, advantageous freight rates and the dumping regulations to capture an increasing share of the Canadian trade at a time when the entire home market demand is urgently required to keep the Canadian plants at maximum efficiency and ensure that the Canadian public may get their footwear at the lowest possible cost. He adds that the intense competition amongst the Canadan factories is a guarantee to the Canadian public against any improper advantage being made of tariff protection.

Imports Increased.

Mr. Deslongchamps points out that over the fifteen-year period, 1899-1900 to 1913-1914, the value of British imports of shoes was an average of $178,114 yearly as compared with the $660,765 value of such imports for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1914.

In conclusion he declares that British competition up to the present has been principally in a few lines—particularly in heavy walking boots of fine and cheaper grades and in felt slippers—and states that in one or two of these classes the British manufacturers already have captured probably as much as one-third to one-half of the entire trade. He asserts that such competition is spreading to other lines as well.

Should Be Modified.

In the Senate yesterday Hon. Mr. Beique continuing the discussion on the British preference took exception to the statement that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been disappointed in the influence of the preference in securing Canada preference in the British market. He said the preference had served its purpose in securing the abrogation of certain treaties in effect at the time and also encouraging British capital to invest in Canada. He was not in favor of the abolition of the preference, but thought under present conditions it might be modified.

Senator David moved the adjournment of the debate.

DADS MARKED BY FRANKS SLAYERS

Leopold and Loeb Had Discussed Killing of Their Own Fathers.

ACME OF THRILLS.

CHICAGO, July 18.—The millionaire fathers of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., were discussed as victims by the two thrill-secking boys, who finally compromised on kidnaping and slaying thirteen-year-old Robert Franks.

This revelation was made by one close to the defense yesterday on the heels of the statement that Tommy Loeb, ten, brother of Richard, also was considered as a victim.

It was admitted that the two youths had considered and discussed kidnapping the father of one as an experience calculated to bring them the acme of thrills.

The boys finally decided they would have to compromsie on a victim who would bring them lesser thrills, it is reported, because of the difficulties they foresaw in kidnaping either of the fathers.

They reasoned that since Albert H. Loeb, father of Richard, was ill and confined to his home, it would be very difficult to capture him successfully and without detection.

Nathan Leopold, they decided, would be easier to make away with but because Mrs. Leopold was dead, the boys felt that it might perhaps be difficult to collect a ransom from the family— a necessary part of their thrill programme.

OMEMEE FARMER HURT

Elmer Mahood Thrown to Cement Floor With Falling Beam.

OMEMEE, July 17.—On Tuesday, while Mr. Elmer Mahood, a farmer, residing about three miles northwest of Omemee, was repairing a beam in the barn, one of the sleepers which he was standing on gave way, causing him to fall about ten feet to the cement floor. As a result his collar-bone is discolated and a two-inch gash on his head along with other bruises are marks which he will carry for some time and make it necessary for him to remain quiet until the bone knits.

THE WEATHER.

This is proving to be a remarkably cool summer. Although the season is advancing, there has as yet been no really warm weather. The thermometer has on several days reached 84 degrees, but no higher. The nights are cool, in some cases chilly. Here are figures for this period last year: July 17, 88 degrees; 18th, 86; 19th, 90; 20th, 93; 21st, 91. Quite a contrast. Rainfall on Wednesday, .25 of an inch; yesterday, .05.—W.P.

WALLACEBURG, Ont., July 18. —(Canadian Press).—Floyd Taylor, aged five, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Taylor, Water Street, was drowned Thursday afternoon in Sydenham River. He is survived by his parents and a little brother and sister.

OTTAWA, July 18.—(Canadian Press).— The Toronto Terminals Railway Company Bill which provides for the building of the Toronto Viaduct, was passed in the Senate yesterday without amendment.

When this bill was under discussion, Senator White (Inkerman) drew the attention of the Government Leader to the condition of the Canadian National terminals in Montreal.

Larkin Entertained Canadian Barristers

LONDON, July 18. — (Canadian Press Cable).—Visiting members of the Canadian Bar Association, also prominent English barristers and leading Canadians now in England were guests Thursday at a reception given by Mrs. P. C. Larkin, wife of the Canadian high commissioner in London. The Duke of Connaught was also present and renewed many old friendships dating from his period as Governor-General of Canada.

NEW REXALL STORE OPEN FOR BUSINESS

McDermid Drug Co., Limited, Invites Public Inspection—Last Word in Modernity.

The premises on the west side of George street, just below Hunter, known for years as Cressman's Redfern store, for ladies' ready-to-wear have been leased by McDermid Drug Company Limited, and converted into another Rexall Drug Store. The doors of this new home for the far-famed Rexall drug products and toilet accessories are now open to take care of business, pending a fortake care of business, peding a formal opening, the date of which will be announced later.

At considerable expense these premises have been renovated, altered and fitted up until to-day they appeal to one as a Rexall store, complete in every detail, a credit to the city, and in the excelling class. Spacious show windows, displaying with exquisite skill, Kodaks, photographic supplies, and a really tempting variety of modern toilet needs, irresistibly arrest the passer-by, and invite inspection. Then the imposing, lofty, receding entrance reveals a commodious interior teeming with every requisite for milady's dressing table, and all the multitudinous medicinal commodities and by-products carried by an up-to-the-minute Rexall house. With stately walnut finished oblique front fixtures, attractive silent salesmen show cases, artistically arraged, and the lighter tints of wall and ceiling coloring, the decorative scheme of this store presents a scene of Elysium charm, restful to the eye, and quite unobtrusive.

As to expeditious service, and practical business conduction nothing will be found lacking. Flanking a broad stairway leading up to admirably furnished offices at the rear is, on the left a convenient dispensing room, backed by a modernly-equipped truss-fitting department, while on the right is provided every facility for manufacturing drug preparations of all kinds. A second stairway leads up to a large stock room filled to overfowing with Rexall and other drug store goods always in demand.

And so, all who have a penchant for Rexall drugs and accessories will find in these new quarters the last word in quick service, Rexall quality and prices, and at all times efficient catering to the most discriminating demands.

Watch for announcement of formal opening.

CHANGING THE HIGHWAY PLAN OF THE PROVINCE

Advisory Committee of Legislature Met in Conference With Councillors.

SESSION AT COBOURG.

Municipality Will Be Given Discretionary Powers—To Help Sidelines.

(By a Staff Reporter.)

COBOURG, July 18. — There are to be important changes made in the Highway Act at the next session of the Legislature as outlined by Deputy Minister of Highways F. L. Squire at the meeting of the County Councillors and other public officials held here on Thursday to discuss the Good Roads situation. These changes will include suggestions made by Warden W. M. Fowlds of Northumberland and Durham, one of them being that more power be given to the various communities in deciding the width of roadway to be constructed on the portion of a county provincial highway under their jurisdiction.

At the meeting yesterday there were representatives from Peterborough, county and city, Northumberland and Durham, Victoria and Haliburton. The members of the Advisory Committee of the Legislature appointed to consult with the county councillors on the problem of road building who were in attendance were Hon. F. G. Macdiarmid, M.L.A., of Elgin, A. M. Rankin, M. L.A., of Frontenac, Hon. F. L. Squires, the Deputy Minister, and Engineer R. C. Muir of the Department of Highways.

On the platform with the provincial officials were Major Bedford, M.L.A., of Northumberland, W. H. Bradburn, M.L.A., of West Peterborough, Major Johnston, M.L.A., of East Peterborough, R. J. Patterson, M.L.A., of Victoria South, and A. J. Fallis, M.L.A., of East Durham.

Peterborough city was represented by City Clerk Armstrong, Aldermen Morrsion, Stocker and Phelan, and ex-Mayor J. J. Duffus, the latter representing the Ontario Motor League. Members of the County Co[illegible] of Peterborough, Northum[illegible] and Durham filled the cou[illegible] in which the gathering was held.

Some Plain Speech.

Mr. Macdiarmid occupied the chair but the greater part of the talking on behalf of the committee was done by Deputy Minister Squires, who seemed intent on getting everything in the shape of an idea from the members of the audience, and who never minced his words when he came to discussing these.

For example, Mr. Squires told the representatives of Peterborough County that they were, by their methods of road building, really getting money from the Government under County Superintendent MacFarland false pretences, a remark which vigorously resented.

When Ald. Phelan, on behalf of Peterborough city, asked for a special grant for road building claiming that the city was as much entitled to such aid as the rural municipalities, Mr. Squires at first was under the impression that the alderman was joking. When satisfied that the request was made in good faith he declared that no such proposition could be entertained.

Getting Down to Business.

After calling the gathering to order shortly after ten o'clock, Chairman Macdiarmid outlined the object of the meeting. The Advisory Committee had been appointed by the Legislature to gather information on the question of road building. The committee had no executive power, but were expected to make a survey of the province and to find out how the highway policy of the present Government was filling the bill.

The province has been divided into groups of counties and in each of these a meeting would be held. So far the meetings had been well attended by those interested.

The chairman did not wish to convey the impression that the present system had been a failure. Highway legislation in the past had been fairly successful, but conditions are constantly changing and amendments are required from time to time. Trucks ad motor busses on the improved highways, for example, had created new problems.

The great problem to be faced is how to bear the financial burden of road making. Are the provincial grants too small? Are the county roads up to standard or should they revert to township roads, of the cost of which the government would pay 30 per cent?

Nothing should be kept back from the committee as the question must be solved. Shall the proposed changes be settled by legislation instead of being left to the county councils?

United Counties Heard.

The reeves of the various county councils represented were then called on for expressions of opinions, Warden Fowlds of Hastings, being the first speaker. Mr. Fowlds came well prepared as the road commission, consisting of himself, Reeve Hartt of Murray and Reeve Elliott of Bowmanville, had been in conference the day before. The commission had called to their conference, besides County Superintendent Greer, Reeves Van Volkenburg of Seymour, Wood of Millbrook and Courtice of Darling. The Warden, in his address, suggested important changes and in the main these appeared to meet with the approval of the Deputy Ministre.

Warden Fowlds recommended that county roads be done away with and included in the county provincial class, the Government grant, instead of 40 and 60, to be 50 per cent. of the cost.

The county superintendent should be allowed more discretion in deciding the width of the roads built under his supervision.

"I can promise you," said the Deputy Minister later, when dealing with this point, "that there will be changes, discretionary powers will be allowed.

The type of county provincial roads to be built should depend upon the amount of traffic and this suggestion, too, appeared to meet with official approval.

The counties of Northumberland and Durham at present have 386 miles of County Provincial and County roads and 85 miles of provincial highway. The mileage is too large to be properly cared for. Some of the county roads should revert to the townships. There would then be less mileage and this could be better cared for.

The government should deal more liberally with counties where road construction was more difficult.

Towns and Villages.

Warden Fowld's most drastic suggested change was that in towns and villages the construction of the connecting links between county provincial roads be under the jurisdiction of the county superintnedent and that the urban municipalities be given grants for the maintenance as well as the construction of these links as well as for the bridges on the county roads within their boundaries.

The Deputy Minister did not seem disposed to endorse this idea as it would be giving the superintendent the management of the streets in towns and villages.

"Would the towns and villages be willing to have this change made?" he asked.

Warden Fowlds said that he believed the matter could be arranged. The plan has been tried out in Millbrook, and works well. Towns and villages help pay the salary of the county superintendent, and at present have not the benefit of his expert services.

Victoria County's Warden.

W. C. Moore, of Bobcaygeon, Warden of Victoria County, said the type of road should depend upon the traffic that it would be called upon to carry. Traffic regulations, he thought, should be enforced by Provincial officers instead of local constables, who knew all those who travelled over the country roads. To raise additional revenue there should be a tax on gasoline and a heavfer license fee for trucks.

In the town of Lindsay the county pays for 20 feet of the connecting links, short term debentures are issued for these, and the system works out without friction. The county system, Warden Moore said, is not perfect. The reeves of the different townships designate their worst roads and fasten these upon the county.

The work of the county road commissioners should be supervised by some independent outside authority such as the advisory committee. The cities and separated towns, Warden Moore added, are not paying their fair share of road tax. The town of Lindsay, he asserted, is paying more than the city of Peterboro.

Peterboro's Warden.

Warden Martin Coughlin of Peterboro County said that while motoring on the Provincial highway to the meeting, he and the men with him had been struck with what they regarded as wastage on its construction. There was a strip six feet wide on either side of the roadway which would never be used, and which at present is a nursery for all kinds of weeds.

Peterboro was the last county to go into the highway system. It is impossible to tell yet how the new plan will work out, but so far it has been fairly satisfactory.

Some of the towns and villages are not in the county roads system, and the county has to build their bridges. The bridge at Lakefield will cost $25,000, and must be borne by the county without any help from the province.

Warden Coughlin cannot see how the road mileage can be reduced by turnig over more roads to the townships, unless the Provincial grants are increased, as these are greater for the county than for the township highways.

Deputy Minister Squires — "Do you consider 86 feet too wide for a Provincial road?"

Warden Coughlin—"I do."

Deputy Minister Squires—"Peterboro County is one of the finest in the province. The trouble is that too many people are suspicious of the other fellow."

Tourist Traffic.

Warden Coughlin is opposed to the abolition of statute labor. Many of the villages in the county are supported by summer tourists, and everyone knows in what condition these visitors leave the roads. Under statute labor a tax of $3 was collected from the tourists, but when this system is abolished they will pay only about 50 cents a year.

Deputy Minister Squires — "The tourists are not paying too much for the use of the roads, but they use them two months while the residents are on them 12 months in the year."

County Superintendent Greer.

County Superintendent Greer of Northumberland and Durham, produced figures to show that the counties would turn over 39¾ miles of county roads to the townships and take over 5½ miles. He believed that the municipalities should be allowed some say as to the width of their roads.

Deputy Minister Squires—"I promise you that there will be changes in the Act. Discretionary powers will be given and the type of road

JUDGMENT RESERVED

By Privy Council in Manitoba Sunday Excursions Case.

LONDON, July 18. — Judgment by the judicial committee of the privy council was Thursday reserved on the case of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada against the attorney-general of Manitoba, in connection with the running of Sunday excursions.

In the argument on behalf of Manitoba it was maintained that the Dominion Parliament had expressly excepted, the provisions of the Domigion Lord's Day Act, any province in which the existing law or future legislation permits Sunday excursions. Such excursions, it was held, were lawful under the common law. The provincial legislation in question contained nothing prohibitive and therefore there was no attempt to invade the exclusive jurisdiction of the Federal parliament over criminal matters.

press gallery in the corridors, who had given him a copy of the despatch, which he had handed to his chief.

"That doesn't improve matters," said the Premier. "It is a strange thing that information of this kind should come through the press and the Prime Minister cannot get it. I repeat what I have said. From the beginning of the negotiations up to the present moment the press appears to have got all the information, much of which has not come to the Government at all. I regard that as an extraordinary state of affairs." (Loud applause.)

"Blame the press and not the leader of the Opposition," said Mr. Boys.

"What I say is that this communication should have been in my hands," persisted Mr. King. "I had thought that my right honourable friend would have risen above politics in this matter. But he has insinuated that Canada is holding this matter up. I told him and the House that the despatch sent made it plain that we were prepared to take the course suggested, and that the British Government acquiesced. No communication has been received since then. I have received no answer whatever."

FERGUSON OUT

on October 23rd respecting the Ontario Temperance Act, there is to be a more rigid enforcement of the Act between now and the plebiscite day. Hon. W. F. Nickle, Attorney-General, is convinced that all the stories about the easy movement of real beer in the city of Toronto are not altogether without foundation, and is acting accordingly.

This week there was a conference in Mr. Nickle's office at which some new plans for the enforcing of the O.T.A. were decided upon. As a result of the conference, Frank E. Elliott, chief enforcement officer of the Provincial police, had a long interview with Staff Inspector McKinley of the Moralty Department, Toronto police force, regarding a new campaign. No information has been given out regarding the plans but it is understood Staff Inspector McKinley was informed that the Ontario Police will be strengthened by the addition of several new men, who will be charged with the enforcement of the O.T.A. in the city.

MORE PAVING.

The city fathers have embarked on a more ambitious programme of street paving than was anticipated this year, but citizens who realize how far Peterborough had fallen behind in this matter of permanent roadway are not likely to grumble very much at the additions made to the list.

We are just beginning to catch up to other centres in this department of municipal activity, and the pavements that are being laid should justify their construction in the money they will save in maintenance expenses.

Many of the city's streets are in bad shape, and to go on year after year spending large sums in temporary repairs, only to have them torn to pieces by the heavy traffic, was a policy that on close analysis was far from economical.

The new paving authorized will increase the city's stretch of permanent roadways to a considerable extent.

The re-surfacing of George street has also been authorized.

This work was very necessary—in fact, several more blocks might well have been included in the programme.

There are portions of this street in very bad condition, and the new surface will be very welcome to those who have occasion to do much driving on the city's main thoroughfare, in addition to making a much more favourable impression upon visitors than the present pavement does.

THE PENSION COMMISSIONERS.

The House of Commons Committee on Soldiers' Pensions has tabled a report calling for a re-organization of the Board of Pension Commissioners and of the medical services attached to the board.

Thousands of Canada's returned soldiers will hope that the recommendation of the committee will be speedily put into effect.

The Examiner has no doubt that the present members of the Pensions Board have tried to do their duty as they saw it.

Their task has been an onerous one, presenting many difficult problems, and their mistake seems to have been to imagine that the responsibility was their's to reduce the expenditure of their department to the lowest possible minimum.

They apparently have been more concerned in proving themselves economical administrators than they have been to make sure justice was being done to the veterans and the dependents of those who gave up their lives.

It is possible that the pension regulations themselves were partially to blame for this condition of affairs, but at all events the administration of the Board of Pension Commissioners has been unsatisfactory to those chiefly concerned.

In fact the Special Committee's report declares that their recommendations were arrived at as the result of "widespread dissatisfaction among returned men and others, and representations made in regard to the attitude shown by the present board."

The committee adds that through a re-organization, as suggested, "the interests of the returned men will be better safe-guarded."

THE ONTARIO PLEBISCITE.

Although no official announcement, at least up to the time this article was put into type, had been made as to the date of the plebiscite on the Ontario Temperance Act, there is reason to believe that the newspaper predictions as to a vote being taken in October are correct.

The most important feature just now is the form in which the question will be submitted.

Premier Ferguson is reported to have said that there will be no "trick" ballot, but that the questions to be submitted will be easy to understand and so arranged as to leave no doubt after the vote is taken what are the wishes of the people.

That is the only kind of a ballot that the voters desire, and probably the form used in Saskatchewan the other day would meet the requirements satisfactory.

First the electors should be asked to pronounce on the principle of prohibition itself.

Then the ballot should give an opportunity to those who are opposed to prohibition to seblect the policy they believe best fitted for the needs of Ontario.

Half a dozen alternatives, if considered necessary, could be listed on such a ballot without causing confusion.

The two main questions to be settled are: (1) Does Ontario want the Ontario Temperance Act continued? and (2) If Ontario does not want the Ontario Temperance Act continued, what system of dealing with the liquor problem do the people of the Province desire?

Any ballot that will allow a clear-cut expression of opinion on these questions should be satisfactory.

THE SASKATCHEWAN RESULTS.

Saskatchewan on Wednesday added itself to the list of Canadian Provinces that have recently swung from the "dry" to the "wet" column, and the decisive vote against prohibition registered by the electors of the Prairie Provinces should give the Ontario temperance forces much food for reflection.

Saskatchewan, after four years' trial with the "Saskatchewan Temperance Act," has condemned that legislation in no uncertain terms.

The ballot used called first for an expression of opinion on prohibition itself, and on this clause the votes indicated by a majority of 30,000 their opinion that prohibition as Saskatchewan had seen it, in operation had failed.

It was anticipated that the urban vote would be against prohibition, but that this "wet" tendency would be offset by the ballots of the rural voters.

On the contrary, city and country electors lined up together to smash prohibition.

At the same time there was no tendency to suggest a return to the days of the open bar, for the clause proposing a system of licensed beer premises was rejected.

The system that found favour was that of straight Government control of the sale of liquor through vendors, lining Saskatchewan in this policy with British Columbia, Manitoba, Alberta and Quebec.

What is the lesson to be learned from the Saskatchewan result, following as it does upon similar verdicts in other Provinces?

Simply that the prophesied reaction has set in.

There are so many features about prohibition legislation that are considered drastic by great masses of the people that the tide of public opinion has changed.

There is no desire for the open bar—that has gone for good—but the vote in the Western Provinces seems to indicate that the trend of popular sentiment is opposed to the rigid enactments of the prohibitory measures that followed the war.

DISFRANCHISING THE CITY MAN.

The Redistribution Bill is down, with its usual interference that a city man only has about half as much sense as a dweller in the country. The present bill, perhaps, rubs it in a little harder than has been customary—for instance, over a half-million Montrealers only get ten members while less than a quarter-million voters in rural Quebec get twelve members—but all Redistribution Bills invariably assess the electoral weight of the Canadian, who is silly enough to work in a city, at very considerably less than that of the wise Canadian who earns his living in "the open spaces."

Quite probably this is all too true. We pointed out the other day that, under modern conditions, the farmer has so much the best of it that no one need be surprised if the politicians at Ottawa take the unenterprising herd who still mill around in the city to be little better than half-wits. But even if "the cit" is short on wit and fails to understand public questions as does his brother of the broad acres, why penalize him further by taking away half of his vote? The first thing they know, they will precipitate an exodus from the city. If a whole sex will rise in violent revolt because it is denied the franchise, is there not danger that the indignant urban masses may be stung by their partially disfranchised condition into committing terrific assaults upon the letter-boxes or copying in some other fashion their militant sisters?

We hope that some day a compent student of mental phenomena will tell us just why it is that the city man is so markedly inferior to the farmer in political sagacity. Can it be because the city boy has access to what we constantly hear are better schools? Is our system of education to blame? If so, we ought to leave our elections to the Eskimo who are practically free from the curse of the schoolmaster. We might have imagined that it was the daily paper with its pernicious reports of political doings that was to blame; but, of late years, rural mail delivery has carried this poisonous publication into a multitude of farm houses. Yet the percentage against the city voter is growing worse.

Can it be that the trouble is that the city chap has a lot more political meetings that he can and often does attend? His score in this field is probably ten-to-one better than the farmer. And, of course, everybody knows that, at the average political meeting, he "hears a lot or lies." Still it is strange that the politicians should disfranchise him for listening to—politicians. The more gullible he is, the more they should want him to possess voting power. But is he more gullible than the countrymen? If so, the joke-makers will have to revise their book of rules.

The idea seems to be that the less chance a man has of hearing political discussion, the better is he equipped to vote—the less he mixes with his fellows, the more he knows about how they should be governed—the less well-equipped schools, the better citizen. We can understand that, in the old days and in England, the land-owning classes were the more stable and conservative, and so were entrusted with the greater political power. But, in Canada, it is the man on the land who is the rip-roaring Radical, going in for Government ownership of railways, rural credits, State banks, the recall and the referendum.

It is probably all right—this disfranchisement of the mere city man. But somebody ought really to explain it to us.—Montreal Star.

THE REVOLVER.

At the annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police of America, just held in Montreal, George Doherty, instructor in the New York Police Department, said that "ten thousand people have been murdered in the United States and 90 per cent. of the murders were with the revolver; 15,000 people have committed suicide with the revolver. I suggest that the United States Government be asked to enact a federal law to prohibit the manufacture and sale of revolvers."

The ease with which revolvers were procured through the mails in the United States, was pointed out by Mr. Doherty, who stated that one New York mail order house, sold $1,400,000 worth of revolvers in a year.

If one New York mail order house sells such a number of revolvers in a single year, what must be the total number being sold annually? asks the Ottawa Journal. And for what? A large number of revolvers continue to be sold to decent people, no doubt, who imagine that thus they may secure some protection against criminals; but probably the larger number of revolvers are sold to law-breakers. And while the decent people practically never use the revolvers they buy, the law-breakers do use them for criminal purposes. As Chief Doherty suggests, where thousands of murders are committed, 90 per cent. of them are committed by means of revolvers.

And this vast sale of murderous weapons goes on year after year while some people among us proclaim that to prohibit manufacture and sale of revolvers won't do any good. The habit in the human mind—in some minds—of objecting to anything that is proposed, merely because it is proposed, is a marvellous thing.

But we hope some sensible legislator among our hundreds of Dominion legislators will take it into his head to propose that Canada should prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of revolvers, and of ammunition for revolvers.

A THOUGHT

MY CREED.

To have no secret place wherein
I stoop unseen to shame or sin;
To be the same when I'm alone
As when my every deed is known;
To live undaunted, unfraid
Of any step that I have made;
To be without pretense or sham,
Exactly what men think I am.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 17.—The exporters have cleaned up all they could possibly use and were able to get some 1300-lb. steers as low as $6.75 a cwt. This week's purchases for export are all sent out except about 80 head. Two loads of good butchers were bought this morning at $6.35 and $6.50 a cwt. This represented a drop of 50 cents a cwt. from last week and the concession made in price was the only inducement for the sales.

One load of stale 1,200-lb. steers was bought for export at $7.25 a cwt. Fair quality cows sold at $3.75 to $4.50. The bulls sold were mostly bolognas and these brought $2.75 to $2.25. Commission men refused to consider many of this morning's offers and will hold over quite a number of cattle till next Monday., when receipts will likely drop materially, below this week.

There were not enough calves or lambs in to constitute a market. The good calves are steady at 9 to 9½ cents a pound, and top lambs are holding from 15 to 15½ cents for choice ewes.

Less than 6,000 hogs came in for the week, and this has strengthened the market, which closes with $8 a cwt. bid f.o.b.

EGG MARKET

OTTAWA, July 18 (Canadian Press). — A car of Prince Edward Island fresh extras is reported sold at 30 1-4 f.o.b. Charlottetown. It is expected a car of fresh firsts will go forward from Montreal for export to-day. Some sales for export have been reported recently at 36 1-2 f.o.b. seaboard fall shipment, but that is the best price received this season, and at the present time the tendency is downward.

Toronto egg prices remain practically unchanged. Receipts of poultry increasing fast and prices are lower. Live broilers 20 to 23, fowl 15 to 20, cocks 20, ducks 22, turkeys 20.

Montreal fresh extras firmer, jobbing 35, firsts weak 28 to 30, seconds 25.

Winnipeg egg market very weak, receipts light, quality poor. Dealers quoting country shippers delivered extras 23, firsts 21, seconds 14.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 18 (Canadian Press). — Cash grain prices in the domestic market yesterday were marked up 2 cents a bushel in sympathy with the rise at Winnipeg. For the same reason flour was marked up 20 cents a barrel for spring wheat grades, but despite a strong feeling both in winter wheat grades and in the milfeed market there was no price change in either. The market for baled hay is without feature. The local egg market is without developments. There is no change in potatoes. The butter market is without change. A slightly easier tone developed in the cheese market. Beans are strong and quoted at $3.00 a bushel for one pound pickers.

STERLING PRICES

MONTREAL, July 18 (Canadian Press). — Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday:

WINNIPEG LIVE STOCK.

WINNIPEG, July 18 (Canadian Press). — Arrivals yesterday: 404 cattle and 241 calves, 1,328 hogs, 112 sheep and lambs.

Trading on the cattle market was generally slow, with quotations barely steady at the week's decline. A few good butcher heifers were disposed of around $5.00, while stockers and feeders are moving slowly at lower prices. On the hog market prices remained unchanged with thick smooths at $7.00 and select bacons at $7.70.

The sheep and lamb market continued steady, good lambs selling from $9.00 to $11.00, with sheep ranging from $3.00 to $5.00.

FLOUR PRICES ADVANCE.

NEW YORK, July 18 (Canadian Press). — Flour prices jumped again yesterday following the strong upturn in wheat. Some of the fine spring patents reached $8.00 a barrel, while hard winter straights ranged from $6.60 to $7.15.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 18 (Canadian Press). — Estimates that the wheat crop of the three Prairie Provinces of Canada had been curtailed 300,000,000 to 250,000,000 bushels led to further higher price record-breaking here yesterday. All deliveries of wheat, oats, and rye reached a new top for the season.

Wheat closed nervous at 2 to 4 1-2 cents net advance, with corn 1 3-4c to 4 1-2c up. Oats showing 3-4c to 1 3-4c gain, and provisions higher by 20 to 47 cents.

In the fact of immense sales to realise profits, the wheat market here finished at the best prices of the day and year. Considerable wavering had taken place at first owing to uncertainty over the effects of rains in

The Tube Holds The Air

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes Hold Air More Surely

THE tires on your car only give you and the car the protection they should when they are properly filled with air.
More—they'll only give you the mileage they should when they are properly filled with air.
Yet it's the tube which holds the air.
So the value of your tires, the cost of your tires, depends largely on good tubes.
Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes were developed to protect the long mileage built into Goodyear Tires.
They are laminated. Instead of being made from one sheet of thick rubber, where imperfections would be hard to find, they are built up of many sheets of the thinnest, purest rubber. The tiniest sliver or air-hole can be detected and that sheet rejected.
This is the reason Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes hold air more surely. They really cost no more than ordinary tubes, because they last much longer. In addition, they protect tires costing many times the price of any tube.
Why risk a valuable casing to save a little on tubes? See the Goodyear Selected Dealer and let him show you how Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are built.

RESTAURANT IN COMMONS FACES YEARLY DEFICIT

Open Only During Sessions, But Chief is Paid Salary For Full Year.

ECONOMY AT HOME.

Woodsworth Suggested It Should be on Self-supporting Basis.

OTTAWA, July 18.— (Canadian Press.)—A protest against the "extravagant scale" upon which things are run around the Parliament Buildings was made in the House of Commons last night by J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Centre Winnipeg) when the estimates for legislation were up for consideration.

"Since there is need for economy," said he, "we might very well begin at home."

Mr. Woodsworth criticized particularly the expenditure on the Parliamentary restaurant, for which $20,000 is contained in the main and $7,000 in the supplementary estimates. This he said, was in addition to a free building, free lighting, free heating, free equipment, and free furnishing. He figured out that the cost of the restaurant for 400 privileged persons worked out at $75 a head. He recognized the value of the facilities which the restaurant furnished, but at the same time he called attention to the fact that many of the members came from districts where people were having the utmost difficulty to make ends meet. He saw no reason why the restaurant should not be run on a self-supporting basis.

Decent Standard.

Hon. Rodolph Lemieux, who as Speaker, is in charge of the estimates of the Senate and House of Commons, told the House that his department last year had a surplus of $25,000 on the right side of the ledger and that this year that figure had risen to $32,000. The Speaker referred to a decrease in the estimates for legislation this year of $33,338. Regarding the restaurant he said that it was necessary for Parliament to have a restaurant that was kept up to a decent standard and that should be comparable with any restaurant in the city. At the same time the price charged must not be too high. As the restaurant was open only half the year the cost of the personnel was necessarily higher than in another restaurant. For example it was necessary to keep the chef all year in order to retain his service. The Speaker announced that the restaurant committee this year had initiated a sinking fund and that $3,000 had been placed to the credit of that fund.

Must Be Up-to-date.

"We must not be extravagant," he said, "we will not be extravagant, but we must have an up-to-date restaurant and the prices must be fair."

There was no further discussion on the subject of the restaurant but A. W. Neill (Independent, Comox-Alberni) suggested the setting up of some method of indicating automatically to the members and to visitors in the galleries what business was being taken up in the House.

SARCASM FOR PILLS.

LONDON, July 18.—"Pills, pills! England is built on a foundation of pills," said Tahu Wiremie Ratana, New Zealand faith healer, who arrived here recently to take part in the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley. "You have so many drug stores and pills and drugs and food that you are sick most of the time."

AVOID WATER IN TENT.

To keep water from flowing into the tent on a rainy night, dig a ditch along the upper side of the ground on which the tent is pitched and throw up a mound along the ditch. This will divert any water coming down an incline toward the tent.

The best place to pitch a tent is on a slight incline, provided the ditch is dug along the upper side to divert water coming down the hill.

OBITUARY.

MRS MARY BURNS

In the death last week of Mrs. Mary Burns, of 331 McDonnel Street, Peterborough lost one of its oldest and most respected citizens. The late Mrs. Burns had attained her ninety-seventh birthday in May of this year, and up until the time of her death retained the full use of all her faculties. She was a pioneer resident of the city, having lived here for over sixty years, making her home always in the same section of McDonnel Street, where she and her husband settled on their arrival in the then small town, over half a century ago.

Born in County Mayo, Ireland, the daughter of Mary and James Conway. Mrs. Burns was married to her late husband, Henry Burns, in Ireland, and her eldest son, John, who died in Peterborough three months ago, at the age of seventy-four years, was born in the Old Country.

Shortly afterwards, Mr. and Mrs. Burns, with her parents, came to America, making the seven weeks' voyage on one of the old sailing boats. Arriving finally in Kingston, Ontario, where they rested for a month, the party proceeded to the United States, Mrs. Burns' parents settling in Baltimore, where they lived until the time of their deaths, while she and her husband stayed in Rochester, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns lived for several years in Rochester, where three children were born and died. Some sixty or more years back, they came to Peterborough, buying the block of land, nearly an acre in extent on a portion of which the William Hamilton Company's foundries now stand. The clapboard house at 513 Reid Street was the old homestead of the Burns family. When her husband died, thirty years ago, Mrs. Burns commenced a grocery business in the store just opposite to her late residence, at the corner of McDonnel and Reid Streets, coming back to conduct a similar business on her own premises, some years later.

The late Mrs. Burns possessed a remarkable character and a remarkable constitution. Up to within a week or two of her death, at such an advanced age, she was up and about the house daily, and often went out for short walks, or to the church.

During the early years of her residence in Peterborough, Mrs. Burns acted as physician and nurse in time of need for the neighbourhood, and up to the time of her death, was always ready to assist in any capacity in charitable endeavours of an unassuming nature. She had the outstanding pioneer quality of lending a hand when needed, and her generous kidliness and quiet helpfulness in times of stress are recalled by many of the older citizens who knew something of the real Christianity of her retired life.

Possessed of an alert and active mind, which did not dim perceptibly with age, the late Mrs. Burns took an interest in current events and community interests. She was an expert needlewoman, and examples of beautiful, fine embroidery done at the age of ninety-five years, may be seen at her home.

Mrs. Burns was the mother of twelve children, nine of whom, with her husband, predeceased her, several in the early years of young manhood and womanhood. Three daughters remain in Peterborough, Mrs. B. Donovan, Miss Catherine and Miss Julia, also three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. It was the death of her eldest son, John, over seventy-four years old, which took place here about three months ago, that weakened considerably Mrs. Burns' dauhtless spirit, and really caused the illness which resulted in her death. She had always wished to live to reach the century mark, but she felt that her son would outlive her, and failed in withstanding the shock of his taking away.

U. S. ATTITUDE TOWARD RUSSIA

Hughes Willing to Recognize When the Soviet Pays Debts.

By A. L. BRADFORD.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, July 18 (United Press).—Secretary of State Hughes gladly would resume normal relations with Russia if he felt he could do so without prejudicing American rights and interests and in accordance with the traditions of the United States.

Mr. Hughes does not believe that his policy regarding Russia is actuated by any personal prejudice. Both he and his counsellors in the state department on Russia are convinced that they maintain open minds on the Russian question. However, they are equally convinced that the American policy of non-recognition of the Soviet for the present is the only advisable course in view of the facts. Apparently this policy has the full support of President Coolidge.

The Russian question is the one important foreign problem before this government that Secretary Hughes has not disposed of during his term as head of the state department.

Wants Clean Slate.

Hughes would like to end his four years as Secretary of State with a clean slate of having disposed of every problem in the field of foreign affairs that he inherited from the Wilson Administration or that later came before this government. However, at the present writing, it can be stated on good authority, there is no prospect of a settlement with Russia. Hughes hopes that some opportunity will arise before the end of this administration that will permit a move in the direction of a Russian agreement, but at present this seems highly doubtful.

In addition to the Secretary of State's firm belief that one of the cardinal things that Russia must do is to prove her good faith to the nations of the world, there are three principal reasons for Hughes' policy of refusal to recognize Soviet Russia:

1.—The Soviet has repudiated the Kerensky revolutionary government war debt to the United States.

2.—The Soviet has confiscated property of American citizens in Russia without effective compensation.

3.—The Soviet continues its revolutionary propaganda to overthrow American institutions.

U. S. Claims .800,000,000.

The approximate total of American claims against Soviet Russia is $800,000,000. This includes the Kerensky debt to this government, which, with interest, amount to a little under $250,000,000. That one government shall not repudiate its obligations to another and not confiscate property of nationals of another nation, are fundamentals of international law and practice which, in the view of Hughes, cannot be overlooked by the United States.

The so-called "Red" propaganda of Soviet Russia in this country is regarded by Hughes as extremely serious. Hughes was somewhat criticized and ridiculed last December when he made public alleged secret instructions from Moscow to communists in this country looking to the raising of the Red Flag over the White House.

Hughes has taken the strong position that he has on the question of Red propaganda not so much because he believes there is any great real danger that the Red flag will be hoisted over the White House, but rather as a matter of principle. Never before has the United States been called on to recognize a regime that is working to overthrow the American government, it is held here.

Matter of Principle.

The American policy towards Russia is largely one of principle in the view of the Washington government. The United States is actuated at times by political expediency, like other countries. However, in the case of Russia there is held to be no compelling motive of expediency to cause this government to recognize Russia. There is an analogy in the attitude of Great Britain towards Mexico to the American attitude towards Russia.

Great Britain is adamant in refusing to accord recognition to Mexico until she secures satisfaction for British claims against Mexico. Great Britain can afford to maintain this position, it is said here, because she has no paramount interest in Mexico demanding resumption of relations with the southern republic. On the other hand Great Britain recognized Russia as the result of political expediency, while the United States, naturally aloof from Russia, is not forced by practical circumstances to sacrifice any of its principles.

GETS LOAN ON LEG.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 18. — Obtaining a loan of $15 with his wooden leg as security, a Louisville man won his freedom from the city jail recently. He was then financially but not physically able to leave his cell. This problem was solved when two cripples in the jail loaned him their crutches.

BAREFOOT TO TOWN.

COATS, Kas., July 18. — C. C. Riggs, city school superintendent, walked barefoot into town recently after someone stole his shoes and socks at a suburban swimming pool. The rest of his clothing was untouched.

MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

A successful store must attract people into it.

By LAWRENCE A. ADAMS
Assistant Marketing Specialist, U.S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

A soda fountain in the Sahara Desert would not make money, for there would be too few people to support it. Before any one opens a store, he should carefully estimate who his customers will be and how many of them there are. Money is often thrown away by some one opening a store where there are not enough people to support it. The fact that there is one successful store in a village or in a certain city block does not necessarily mean there is room for another.

A store cannot succeed without customers and a certain number are necessary. If they are not there the store will fail. If competitors already are serving them the chances of a new store getting the trade is problematical.

A little analysis may save great regrets.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

GRAPE JUICE.

Sometimes it seems almost impossible to provide the necessary mineral salts during the winter months when green things are scarce.

Heavier foods are demanded to produce heat in the body and supply energy, increasing the need of salts and acids.

One answer to this problem is found in the use of grape juice. The woman who canned or bottled quantities of this juice will find it a boon in offering variety to her cooking.

Aside from a drink for the convalescent or the party punch, grape juice can be used in many ways.

In a pudding grape juice gives just the richness of color and taste so desirable on a cold winter's night after a substantial dinner.

Grape Juice Pudding.

To cups grape juice, 1-3 cup cornstrach, 1 dessertspoon butter, ½ cup sugar, 2 eggs, few grains salt, 2 teasopons cold water.

If the grape juice is sweetened use less sugar. Dilute cornstarch with enough cold water to pour easily. Put juice and sugar over fire and when boiling stir in cornstarch. Add butter and cook, stirring constantly until thick and transparent. Remove from fire. Separate whites from yolks of eggs. Save yolks for sauce. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry with cold water and salt. Fold into grape juice mixture. Turn into individual molds to set and chill. Unmold and serve with custard sauce.

Tapioca Grape Juice.

One and one-half cups grape juice 1½ cups water, 1-3 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup sugar, ½ cup minute tapioca, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Put grape juice, water, salt and sugar in a sauce pan and put over the fire. When boiling, stir in tapioca. Cook, stirring to prevent sticking, until transparent. Add lemon juice and turn into mold to chill. Serve with or without whipped cream.

Ham Baked in Grape Juice

One slice of ham cut three inches thick, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon cloves, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, grape juice.

Pour boiling water over meat and let boil half an hour. Drain. Put in roaster or baking dish, sprinkle with spices and pour over grape juice to half cover meat. Bake in a slow oven for one and one-half hours.

Grape juice makes delicious pudding sauce for a simple cottage pudding or blanc mange.

It can be used in ices just as any other fruit juice is used. If a certain color scheme is wanted for a party of any sort grape juice makes desserts of a lovely soft violet.

A jellied fruit salad is both delicious and attractive if the jelly is made with grape juice.

The white grape juice, of course, does not give the color of the juice made from dark grapes, but contains just as many mineral salts and may solve a problem for some delicate color scheme.

Four tablespoons shredded pineapple, 4 tablespoons crab meat cocktail, 1 head lettuce, 2 tablespoons strawberry ice, 2 macaroons, 4 ounces boned loin of lamb, 1 tablespoon mint jelly, 5 slices pickled beet, 1 baked onion, 1 pint skimmed milk, 2 thin crisp pieces gluten toast, 1 thin piece rolled oats bread, 1 thin piece rye bread.

Total calories, 1141. Protein, 254; fat, 319; carbohydrate, 568. Iron, .0208 gram.

Two tablespoons prepared cocktail sauce are included in the crabmeat cocktail. One tablespoon catsup or chili cauce or the cocktail sauce means about 10 calories.

The lamb is roasted and no gravy is included in the serving.

If your calorie allowance is 1200 calories per day you may add two level teaspoons of butter and use it as you please.

You see you can eat "sweets," but you must eat them sparingly and sacrifice something else. The strawberry ice and macaroons "stand" you about 300 calories and only one-fourteenth of them are protein, the rest are fat and carbohydrate.

The head of lettuce, pineapple and onion provide the mineral salts and vitamins.

Four tablespoons shreaddefi pineapple, creamed potatoes (4 tablespoons), 2 slices broiled bacon, 3 ounces calves liver, 2 corn muffins, 2 tablespoons marmalade, 1 tablespoon butter, 4 tablespoons crabmeat Newburg on two triangles of toast, 1 head lettuce with 2 tablespoons French dressing, 4 tablespoons strawberry ice, 2 macaroons, 1 cup cream of asparagus soup, 4 ounces boned loin of lamb, 1 large potato roasted with meat, 2 tablespoons gravy, 2 tablespoons mint jelly, 5 slices pickled beet, 1 baked onion with 1 tablespoon butter, 4 tablespoons sweet cherry salad, 1 chocolate eclair, 1 pint whole milk, 3 large stuffed prunes with lettuce salad, 2 hard rolls, 2 tablespoons butter.

Total calories, 4182. Protein, 532 fat, 1729; carbohydrate, 1821. Iron, .0274 gram.

There have been so many inquiries as to how to arrange the menus for the day that I have planned the breakfast, using the first six items. Luncheon and dinner can be arranged to suit the convenience and needs of the individual.

Remove the stones from large sweet cherries and fill with Neufchatel cheese moistened with heavy cream and combined with finely chopped pecans. Serve on hearts of lettuce with a whipped cream dressing.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING

CENSORED.

Spicy magazines, whose fiction stories are to close to the obscene, hereafter will be barred from sale in Massachusetts.

This is the only kind of censorship that is ever justifiable. There will be a loud howl from the buzzards who commercialize sex. It will be claimed there is no way of agreeing as to where decency ends and indecency begins. Some may even consider Boccaccio puritanic. The faintest common sense will find the boundary.

FRENCH.

France in five months sells to other countries 1566 million francs more of goods than she buys from them. This gives her a very fat surplus for the bank.

In the corresponding months last year the tide was runing the other way and the French imports exceeded exports by 362 million francs.

With France building up big trade balances in her favor it is not as improbable as many believe that we will get back the money she borrowed from Uncle Sam.

COLLECTION.

Auction sales have brought in the vicinity of two million dollars for the stamp collection of Count Ferrari de la Renotiere. The stamps were sold in Paris, and Americans were the largest purchasers.

For all practical purposes, these stamps are worth no more than old waste paper. Their value is in their scarcity. It is odd that in a very matter-of-fact world value depends not so much on usefulness as on rarity—which is an appeal to vanity.

FORGOT.

They forgot all about their municipal election this year in Grimesland, N. C. Even the politicians were asleep on the job and neglected to provde candidates. It is a town of 500.

Strange to say, things are going along as well as ever, with former officials continuing in office.

Be a good thing if the nation could forget politics a bit more. Our national campaigns are too long—too many months of ferment that makes business timid. The uncertainty that accompanies presidential elections is in effect the largest single item in the cost of government.

KISSES.

A Seattle couple celebrating their golden wedding, do some figuring, and estimate they have kisses 74,000 times since their marriage.

Here is one form of statistics that is interesting, which is surely the 8th wonder of the world. Maybe it's the way to teach mathematics to a jazz generation.

ROADHOUSE.

Roadhouses in the air, riding at anchor high above the ground, are predicted by Lord Thomson, British Air Minister. He pictures people in lightweight, inexpensive planes gliding slowly into garages attached to the roadhouses, leaving their planes parked while they enjoy relief form the hot summer nights below.

Would such floating roadhouses be within the law if they served hard liquor? How far up into the air does Uncle Sam own?, The flying machine inevitably will become the greatest problem of prohibition enforcement.

"MATH."

Hundreds of the world's greatest mathematicians will attend their international conference in Toronto during August.

"Math," with its headache statistics, dies not rouse much enthusiasm in most people. Yet it is the most exact science, the only form of knowledge that is absolutely certain and accurate. It is the only universal language—the language that alone can be used for communicating with people, if any, who live on Mars or other planets. Flashing two by radio, then another two, and then four, would convey reciprocal knowledge of addition.

DIVORCE.

In 1897 one American marriage in every 17 wound up in divorce. Now the figure is 1 in every 7. Six marriages are successful to every marriage that ends in a divorce decree. Broadly speaking, of course, for not all of the six marriages are happy unions.

Marriage is the most important decision ever made by the average person. It is more of a gamble for women than for men. It should never be rushed into on sudden impulse. Love is apt to sweep people off their feet. Calm deliberation pays.

MOON-ROCKET.

Th big skyrocket that will be shot toward the moon, with a man inside, is nearing perfection, Professor Goddard announces.

It will be used first to explore the earth's atmosphere so far up that airplanes cannot travel then on account of rarity of the air.

At last report, nearly 20 men have applied for the job of travelling inside the super-rocket when it is shot moonward. Would you make the trip for the few hours of thrills such as no man ever before had?

RELIEF.

Curtain goes down on American relief work in Germany. By home crops and imports through business channels, Germany is able to feed herself. American forces under General Allen fed as many as a million German children in a day. Wise investment. A service that will not be forgotten by the rising generation of Germans. Youth is all that really counts in diplomacy—the cannon fodder of the future. Friendship and reconciliation among nations must begin in the cradle.

Paul In Possession

By RUBY AYRES

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The story thus far:

When John Collinge died, he left behind him his adopted daughter, Wanda Griffin, a headstrong, passionate and overbearing girl, and his son Paul, with whom he had quarrelled, and who had gone abroad. After the death, Paul comes home for the reading of the will, and to Wanda's surprise she finds she is disinherited, and that he is the heir. Paul dislikes Wanda intensely because of her behaviour, and tells her that she must leave the house immediately; she refuses and, in order to stay there, pretends to be ill. At last matters reach a crisis, and Paul orders Wanda out of the house. She goes up to London with Mrs. Garnet, her one friend, with whom she is to live. The day after she arrives, Clare's brother Harry, the "black sheep" of the family, comes home unexpectedly, and falls in love with Wanda. Paul comes to see Wanda, and she realizes, all too late, that it is Paul she really loves. He objects to her friendship with Harry Courtney whom he distrusts. Wanda is furious at his interference, and Paul loses his temper and says, "As I am paying the piper, I have some right to call the tune." He does his best to cover his mistake, but knows that he is not believed. Wanda accuses Clare of having received money from Paul to pay for Wanda's expenses. Clare admits accepting the money, and tells Wanda nobody would do anything for her excepting for money.

TO-DAY'S INSTALMENT.

XXX—A DECISION FOR SPITE.

Tears welled into Wanda's eyes as she vizualized the old house with its winding gardens and tall old trees.

She had lost it for ever, and yet somehow that loss seemed as nothing when compared with the loss of the man who owned it.

She loved Paul; she loved him with every beat of her wayward heart, every breath of her body, and he would marry Clare, and go on, thinking her pale insipidity the height of perfection.

Wanda had not credited Clare with so much cleverness.

How was it she had been so mistaken? She had been so sure of Mrs. Garnet's friendship, and yet it had never existed.

"I shall not stay, of course," Wanda told herself. "I shall leave here first thing in the morning. I shall go away where no one can find me, and then, perhaps, Paul will be sorry."

But she had no real belief in that hope; Paul would not be sorry—he would be glad to have got rid of her once and for all.

Then she thought of Clare's brother. He loved her at all events; he still loved her, even though now he knew that she had no money; he was willing to marry her.

It would anger Paul if she married Harry Courtney, and she would like to anger Paul.

She rose from the side of the bed and, crossing to the mirror, looked hard at her reflection.

With her short, dark hair standing wildly on end, and with her slim figure wrapped in one of her many coloured gowns, she looked like Medusa she thought contemptuously. No wonder Paul did not like her. Mrs. Garnet was just the type of woman such a man would choose; she was so womanly, so fair and soft!

Wanda lay awake all night; she felt as if she would never be able to sleep again.

Wanda dressed and put on her hat, then wrote a note to Harry Courtney, saying that she would marry him as soon as he liked, and asked him to meet her that afternoon at Victoria Station.

"And please do not tell anyone," she added. "I will be there at four o'clock. Please don't fail me. I think you are the only friend left to me in the world."

She read the words through, with tears of self-pity smarting in her eyes.

It was rapidly growing light when she finished writing, and picking up the small handbag which she had packed, and crepr along the landing, only pausing to slip her note under Harry's door.

A moment, and she was out in the street, walking rapidly away.

She looked back once with nervous apprehension, feeling as if someone was following her, then laughed at herself for her fear.

"I've got to get used to being alone," she thought hardily. "This is what all the rest of my life will be if Harry fails me—empty and alone."

She walked about till she found a bun shop, which was open and advertised breakfasts; then she went in and had some coffee and a roll. She had only a few pounds in the world, and when that was gone she knew she would have to work.

"If Harry fails me——"

That dread was always at the back of her mind, and though she would not admit it to herself, in her heart she shared Paul Collinge's opinion of Clare's brother—she did not altogether like or trust him.

She spent the morning in the park, staying there during the luncheon hour, trying to pretend she was not hungry.

"I must get used to having plain food and only a little of it," she told herself, and then laughed to think it could really be she who was making such Spartan plans.

Queer how the world altered.

The afternoon dragged. Her head ached, and a shower of rain fell, which left the air damp and chilly.

Four o'clock she had said; again and again she glanced at her wrist watch, longing for the time to pass.

The watch had been a present from John Collinge, and its face was studded with small diamonds.

"I can always sell it if I'm really hard up," she told herself hopefully, as she rose and began to walk rapidly toward Victoria.

Would Harry come? And, if so, what did she mean to say to him? Her heart beat fast with mingled hope and dread.

Next Issue—Disappointment.

REDISTRIBUTION BILL

Slight Amendment by Senate and is Returned to Commons.

OTTAWA, July 18. — Senator Dandurand introduced the redistribution bill in the Senate on Thursday and said that it was the result of an agreement reached in committee representative of the three parties. Senator G. G. Foster took exception to the name "Missisquoi-Brome," and moved an amendment that it be changed to "Brome-Missisquoi." This was supported by Senator Beique and Senator Dandurand and was carried.

The redistribution bill goes back to the Commons with this amendment.

Senator W. H. Bennett, in discussing the bill drew attention to the inequalities in representation in Ontario and Quebec, not only between city and rural constituencies, but also between rural constituencies.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

"I think it is a lovely flower and you are a lovely fairy."

"Better put on your coats and mittens," said Johnny Jump Up.

"Why, where are we going this time" asked Nick, rubbing his eyes and yawning.

The little garden fairy had wakened the Twins out of a sound sleep and told them that the Titmouse was waiting to take the three of them on another adventure.

"We are going to Switzerland," said Johnny Jump Up, jumping across the room and turning a somersault first on Nick's little bed and then on Nancy's. "But I was only joking about the coats and mittens. The magic shoes will keep you warm."

Away off in a corner of the garden a little white velvety flower was holding up its head. It was very close to the ground and the Twins could see a dainty little white fairy inside of it.

She laughed when she saw the children staring. "Is my little flower so curious?" she asked. "Haven't you ever seen one like it before?"

"No," said Nancy. "We never did."

"That is because it doesn't grow in Canada," said the fairy. "So after all it isn't strange that you should be surprised. It is a mountain flower and grows right in the snow. It is called edelweiss, which means 'always white'."

"I think it is a lovely flower and you are a lovely fairy," cried Nancy.

"Thank you," laughed the fairy. "Here, Titmouse, where are you? I brought the tickets so you must get ready and take your three passengers on a long journey."

"That's always the way," grumbled Tommy Titmouse. "I just heard a nice fat earthworm moving down in the ground."

"Oh, come, Tommy," said Johnny Jump Up, "you can eat at home. We are going sight-seeing now."

So the Titmouse flew away with all three of them on his back.

After awhile they came to Switzerland. And the first thing they saw was mountains. Because Switzerland is nearly all mountains—with snow on top! And sure enough, when Tommy Titmouse stopped to rest, there were the little white velvet flowers growing out of the snow all about them.

All at once a great dog came bounding along. It was a funny place for a dog to be—away up in the mountains.

"He is a Saint Bernard dog," said Johnny Jump Up. "The monks of Saint Bernard live near here and help travelers who may have trouble in crossing the mountains. These fine dogs of theirs have saved many people from freezing to death."

Next the Titmouse carried them to the place where there were beautiful lakes.

"This country has the most beautiful lakes in the world," said Johnny. "People like to come and stay in the cities on their banks."

"Is that all there is in Switzerland?" asked Nick. "Just mountains and lakes?"

"Almost," laughed Johnny. "But there are a lot of fine farms, too, wheer the people have cows and other animals and raise food."

GRAIN SHIPMENTS

Total of 120 Million Bushels Since Opening of Navigation.

FORT WILLIAM, July 18.—With shipments yesterday from the ports of Fort William and Port Arthur amounting to 1,686,00 obushels, the total shipments since the season of navigation opened this year, reached over 120,000,000 bushels. Over a million bushels of wheat went down the lakes in Canadian bottoms to-day and the one United States boat, the Hanna, took a full cargo of 525,000 bushels of oats to Buffalo.

Halifax Divorce Mill Grants Sixteen Decrees

HALIFAX, N.S. July 17.—The divorce court yesterday scored a record for Nova Scotia when the evidence of thirteen out of fifteen cases on the docket was heard and written judgments granting a decree in each of sixteen cases heard some three months previously were handed down by Mr. Justice Ritchie, who presided.

BAKERS END STRIKE.

PARIS, July 18.—Breadless Paris breathes a sigh of relief. Hundreds of bakery workers, who went on strike for increased wages, have returned to work. Their pay has been raised and so has the price of bread.

C.N.R. Earnings.

MONTREAL, July 18. — The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ending, July 14, 1924, were $$4,592,485, being a decrease of $42,850.83 as compared with the corresponding week of 1923.

The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways from January 1st to July 14th, 1924, have been $123,863,671, being a decrease of $1,399,239.61 as compared with the corresponding period of 1923.

COBOURG AND THE DISTRICT

Couple Married at Trail Rangers Camp—Thieves Steal Lights.

COBOURG, July 17. — A novel marriage was solemnized recently at Consecon, when Miss Ida Jean Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Miller, Trenton, and Mr. John Coates, Toronto, were married by Rev. W. P. Woodger, who is camping with the Trenton Trail Rangers and other boys there. The bride and groom motored to the camp, where Mr. Woodger performed the ceremony, and few, if any, of the one hundred and fifty boys there knew anything about it.

Mr. and Mrs. Coates left later for a trip to western points. They will reside in Toronto.

Dr. Shorey Is Better.

The many friends throughout the district of Rev. S. J. Shorey, D.D., a former Cobourg pastor, who was taken suddenly ill at his home at Picton, will be very pleased to know that he is now reported much better. Dr. Shorey is one of the best known and esteemed ministers of the Bay of Quinte Conference.

New Teacher at Trenton.

Miss Helen McAlpine, B.A., of Toronto, has been engaged upon the staff of Trenton High School, and will teach latin, physical culture and other subjects. She is a daughter of Mr. McAlpine, superintendent of motor power on the C.N.R., and is a graduate of McMaster University.

Colborne Teachers.

Colborne High School Board has engaged Miss Steele, of Toronto, and Miss McClaren, of St. Catharines, as third and fourth teachers on the High School staff at salaries of $1,700 each.

Mr. Geo. Cracknell was engaged as principal of the public school at a salary of $1,200, and Miss Dudley to fill the other vacancy at a salary of $850.

Two hundred and four applications were received by the Colborne Board for the vacancies on the High and Public School staffs, so that selection was difficult.

Farm Help In Demand.

Many applications for farm help have been received by Mr. J. D. Haig, immigration agent, who for some time past has had sufficient vacancies to place quite a number of men, and this, notwithstanding the large number of unemployed. ery few immigrants are coming in, and the farm does not seem to appeal to citizens of this county out of work.

Two Weeks of Polo.

Col. Norman Perry, who took such a great interest in the polo matches at the Cobourg Horse Show last year, has been in town for a few days. He states that polo teams are coming to Cobourg from Buffalo, Montreal, two from Toronto, and possibly from Cleveland, to take part in the polo events at the 1924 Horse Show. There will also be a week of polo playing before the Horse Show begins. Between fifty and sixty polo horses are expected to arrive in Cobourg about August 4.

Churches Lose Their Lights.

A church is usually regarded as a place where property is safe from theft, but not so at Trenton, where thieves entered Grace Methodist Church and stole twenty electric light bulbs. They then proceeded to St. George's Anglican Church, from which place they carried off six bulbs. Entrance was effected at Grace Church through a basement window, and through an unused door at St. George's.

Died In the West.

John McCurdy, who for some years worked in Chalk's carriage shop, Port Hope, died at Kamloops, B.C., a few days ago. He was 76 years old, and had spent the past few years of his life in the West.

Bethesda Festival.

The strawberry festival held at the home of Mr. A. Simpson on the evening of Tuesday last week passed off very successfully, notwithstanding threatening weather. A delectable repast was served by the ladies, who are deservedly renowned for setting forth a fine menu, and this was very much enjoyed. The canteen no doubt would have done a bigger business, had it not been for the threatened rain and the early departure of some for their homes because of this. As it was, however, the total proceeds were $275.

Rev. Mr. McKee, pastor, presided over a much enjoyed programme, in which talent from Cobourg and Port Hope took part. Miss Helen Navin recited, and was heard with much pleasure. It was expected that Rev. Mr. Washington, a former pastor, would have been present, but he was prevented from attending. Port Hope band was there and gave musical selections that were much enjoyed.

Left Thursday For Africa.

Rev. Bert Wilkinson of Port Hope, a young man who is well and favorably known here, and a 1924 graduate of McMaster University, left on Thursday to sail by steamer Montrose, en route to his new work in the mission fields in the Soudan. The best of good wishes from many friends go with him.

Charged With Operating Still.

Austin Ament, who resides near Wicklow, in Haldimand Township, came up here before Magistrate Floyd, charged with operating an illicit still and was remanded. Mr. T. F. Hall, K.C., appeared for the Department of Inland Revenue, and Mr. H. R. Wilimott was counsel for the accused. Inspector Goodrich laid the information.

KLAN ELECTS MAYOR.

Backed Candidate Who Said He Would Clean Up the City.

FLINT, Mich., July 17.—Judson T. Transue, running with Ku Klux Klan support, was elected Mayor of Flint by a plurality of 1,800 votes in yesterday's election, necessitated by the recall of David R. Cuthbertson.

Transue based his campaign on promises to clean up the city.

SUNSHINE.

Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves.—J. M. Barrie.

SUBSIDY FOR COAL

Sum of $200,000 Voted to Assist Transportation.

OTTAWA, July 18.—(Canadian Press).—A vote of $200,000 to provide for assistance in transportation of Canadian coal to Central Canada passed the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. Hon. Charles Stewart Minister of the Interior, told the House that it was the intention of the department to carry on test hauls of coal to Central Canada in order to encourage the industry. Coal would be brought from the east by water to the St. Lawrence ports as a test of the costs of transportation.

FORCE 4,000 PERSONS TO BE VACCINATED

Cleveland Police and Health Officers Rope Off Area to Halt Smallpox.

CLEVELAND, July 18. — Four thousand persons living in a downtown district wre under quarantine to-day pending compulsory vaccination upon orders of H. L. Rockwood, City Health Commissioner, following the discovery of two new cases of smallpox in the neighborhood. A corps of twenty-five nurses and doctors went to the area with vaccine at daylight.

Sixty-five policemen roped off the district and followed out orders that no one was to leave the area or enter it pending new instructions.

CHANGING THE HIGHWAY PLAN

to be built will be based on the traffic."

Legislative Representatives.

The Legislative representatives on the platform made short addresses, all commending the work of the Advisory Committee. Mr. Fallis said it was only right to consult with the people about local roads. He believed that the abolition of statute labor was a good mve as it had been demonstrated by those who had done away with it some years ago that they were better without it.

People living at a distance from the highways should be given assistance to build better branch roads to them. He, too, favored putting the country, provincial and county roads under one system.

Major Johnston, of East Peterboro, said he lived on a township road that had been taken over by the county, and since that time very little had been done on it. He believed that the purpose of such a conference was good and that it would bear fruit.

W. H. Bradburn said no one was more anxious than he to see good roads, but all the financial burden should not be left on the farmers. He has heard Prime Minister Ferguson say that the men on the sidelines should have good roads.

After R. J. Patterson of South Victoria had made a brief address, a recess was taken until 2 o'clock.

Victoria Is Satisfied.

Superintendent E. L. Miles of Victoria County, who was the first speaker after the noon recess, said that his county was satisfied with the highway system. He believed that the connecting links in towns and villages should be left as at present, under the jurisdiction of these municipalities. For his own part he wants nothing to do with them.

Deputy Minister Squires — "If towns and villages pay into the county fund, why should they not have the benefit of the engineer's advice? Why not designate the roads in the towns and villages as county roads and have them under the same jurisdiction?"

Supt. Miles—"I would advise my County Council to have nothing to do with them."

When Mr. Miles said that the county could spend money to better advantage than the townships, Deputy Minister Squires asked him why his county did not take over the township roads.

Mr. Miles said he would be in favor of changing the provincial system. He would add to it and get connection between Lindsay and Peterboro. The situation in the former place is peculiar.

Deputy Minister Squires — "The young lady stenographer who has attended all of these meetings says that the phrase with which she has become most familiar is, 'Our situation is peculiar'."

Mr. Miles believes that a road should be a standard width from one town to another at least. The Deputy Minister said that the width should depend upon the traffic.

Mr. Miles thinks that it is a mistake to change the road commissioners so frequently, as it takes some time to learn the business, and the Deputy Minister thought arrangements to this end might be made.

Two of the commission might be appointed from the members of the County Council and two elected by the voters at large as the ratepayers would never consent to have any but elected men o nthe commission.

Peterborough's Superintendent.

Superintendent McFarland of Peterborough County said that the road money in his county is spent in the municipalities on the authority of himself and the Reeve. If the latter is changed so is the system.

Deputy Minister Squires: You have practically the township system while you are getting money from the Government on the county road basis. Gentlemen, you are travelling under false pretences. That is strong language, but it is true.

Superintendent MacFarland: That statement is hardly fair.

The Deputy Minister insisted on his contention saying that the object of the county system was to do away with the local value of the roads.

County Clerks Explain.

County Clerks J. R. McNeillie of Lindsay, Col. MacNachtan of Northumberland and Durham, and E. M. Elliott of Peterborough then explained how the highway accounts are kept and the money paid out.

Other Speakers.

Short addresses were then made by Cecil Peterson, secretary of the Cobourg Motor League, and Mayor Bogs of that town. The latter thought that 86 feet was too wide for a provincial highway, and that it would be cheaper to build wire fences so as to prevent drifting in the winter time.

Wants Large Grants.

Mayor Smith of Port Hope told the committee that the grant of 40 per cent. on the 20 feet of provincial roads through towns was not enough, and that the Government should pay 40 per cent. of the total cost. The towns should not be required to pay for roads for the benefit of interprovincial traffic. The extra money required could be got from automobile licenses and other sources of revenue. He did not see why the province should build roads to take the bread out of the mouth of the National Railways.

Peterboro City Speaks

Ald. Phelan of Peterboro, introduced a new idea when he stated that the city should receive a road grant as well as the county. Deputy Minister Squires said later that at first he thought the alderman was only joking.

Deputy-Minister—"Ninety-five per per cent of the traffic on Peterboro's streets would be local.

Ald. Phelan—"Not that much."

Deputy-Minister — "Well, we will reduce it and 94 per cent. In Port Hope 50 per cent. of the traffic, is foreign."

Ald. Phelan—"The province gains something by the city maintaining grand streets and should help pay for them."

Deputy-Minister—"What benefit?"

Ald. Phelan—"It helps to keep up the name of the province and the visiting tourists spend money with us."

Deputy-Minister — "Good streets in Peterboro have a sentimental value to the province but it is case of value to the city."

Attacked Urban Commissioner

Ald. Stocker of Peterboro, said that two members of the urban commission were owners of gravel pits and sold gravel at 50 cents a load to the commission. He believes the commission should expropriate these pits as they have a legal right to do.

The county engineer gets $3,100 a year while in other places such officials are paid $2,000 and $2,500. He condemned the entire management as extravagant.

The Deputy-Minister thought 50 cents a load for gravel was excessive but Ald. Morrison explained that a load was one and a quarter yards and the gravel was of an extra high grade. The commissioners who owned the pits did not charge the commissioners more for the gravel than they got from other parties.

Supt. McFarland explained that out of his salary of $3,100 he furnished his own car and paid his own expenses.

Reeves Offer Suggestions.

The reeves of the different municipalities were then given an opportunity to offer suggestions. Those who accepted the invitation were Reeve Elliott of Bowmanville, Reeve Van Volkenburg of Seymour, Deputy Reeve Elliott of Murray, Deputy Reeve Anderson of Otonabee, Reeve Scott of Asphodel, Reeve Hawthorne of Dummer, Reeve Lawson of Hope, Reeve McCamus of Cavan, Reeve Courtice of Darlington, Reeve Holman of Clarke, and Deputy Reeve Breckenridge of Belmont.

"Hear, Hear!"

Deputy Reeve Breckenridge said his township was 26 miles from Peterboro city, and was helping to build roads in the suburban area. If Belmont cannot get a better deal it is going to try to get out of the county roads system altogether.

Deputy Minister—"Hear, hear! I don't blame you."

Sam. Armstrong of Keene protested against the proposed change of the county provincial road to Peterboro, as the residents were satisfied with the one that had been designated some years ago.

Lights On All Vehicles.

On behalf of the Peterboro Motor League, ex-Mayor Duffus asked if anything was likely to be done to compel horse-drawn vehicles to carry lights after dark. He was assured by the committee that the Legislature was feeling out the members along this line, but it was hard to arouse any enthusiasm. The Government felt it would not be right to force this matter upon the province. In the meantime permissive powers had been given cities.

Ex-Mayor Duffus said that he had been informed that in the regulations prohibiting heavy traffic on the highways at certain seasons there was a provision that if a farmer owned a farm on each side of the road he would not be allowed to cross with his tractor from one to the other during the closed season for heavy vehicles. Such a provision, the ex-Mayor regarded as arbitrary, but he was assured that nothing of the kind could be found in the Act. Heavy farm machinery was not included in the prohibition.

Trucks to Be Taxed

Deputy-Minister Squires closed with an address in which he stated that good roads should be feeders and not competitors of the National Railway. Busses are to be taxed for the upkeep of the roads, the tax to be about 4 per cent of their earnings a comparatively light levy when it is remembered that it takes 17 1-2 per cent of the earnings of the electric railways in Canada and the United States to maintain their roadbeds. He thanked those present for their attendance and the interest which they had taken in the proceedings and expressed the hope that good would come of the conference.

Some Debenture Debts

There was considerable applause when Clerk MacLachlan stated that the debenture debt of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham is only $34,000.

This applause was renewed in greater volume when the Clerk of Victoria County followed Col. MacLachlan with the statement that his county's bonded indebtedness amounts to $13,000.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCTS

Canada, but the market soon began to soar when it was seen that Winnipeg quotations were up and that reports from Canada were continuing to pour in, telling of severe crop damage. A large territory surrounding Saskatoon was said to have suffered practically complete failure of wheat production, and farmers there were said to be turning their cattle into the fields.

Radical revisions of the current estimates of the world's exportable surplus of wheat were looked for as a result of to-day's figures from Canada. The reduction for the three Prairie Provinces was in comparison with the 124 yields. Temporarily, the upward swing of the wheat market, however, was interrupted by the closing out of a big spread trade between corn and wheat, the corn being bought and the wheat sold.

When this operation was completed, wheat values shot upward just before the end of the day.

Except September delivery, corn as well as other cereals overpassed the season's high price record. Receipts were abnormally meagre, temperatures too cool and crop reports unfavourable. In oats, the Canadian news was again the factor.

All provisions made fresh high price records for 1924, stimulated by the ascent of grain and hogs.

THE CARNIVAL EXCEEDED ALL EXPECTATIONS

The Big Show Staged by the Rotarians Was a Big Success.

AFTERNOON RACES.

The Show at the Exhibition Grounds at Night Drew a Large Crowd.

The Rotary Carnival at the Exhibition Grounds yesterday in aid of the crippled children's work of the Peterboro Rotary Club was a success beyond the most optimistic expectations of the organization. The community as a whole threw itself behind the effort. Organizations and individuals contributed their services, the public supplied an attendance worthy of the occasion, and the net result will be a surplus that will be a material help in financing the work of looking after the city's crippled children.

From the parade, which opened the programme, until the midway closed up and called it a day late last night, the carnival was a triumph. The afternoon crowd of 3,000 was swollen by visitors from outside, Toronto, Oshawa, Cobourg, Trenton and Lindsay Rotary Clubs sending large delegations, while Belleville was represented by Rotarian Billy Doyle.

There was not a dull moment in the programme. An attractive bill of horse racing, a list of track events, including children's races, a softball tournament in which Toronto, Oshawa, Coburg, Trenton and Lindsay Rotary Clubs competed, and which Lindsay won, a Midget game between Rotary and Sacred Heart, a Midland League ball game between C.G.E. and Raybestos, a horse show, bicycle races and other events, kept this end of the carnival going until dark, and then the midway provided the amusement for the thousands who flocked down after tea for the evening programme.

Rotarian J. H. Sells, in charge of the carnival committee, and his corps of assistants, deserve heartiest congratulations upon the great success scored.

There was plenty of music. In the parade the Rangers Band, the Salvation Army Boys' Band and the Juvenile Fife and Drum Band participated, and at the grounds the Rangers played a fine programme in the grandstand, while the boys' band was heard to advantage in the eastern bandstand. In the evening the Salvation Army Senior Band occupied this stand and contributed an enjoyable series of selections. The four bands were a very material factor in the success of the occasion.

There was a real Carnival spirit abroad last night at the Exhibition Grounds, among the thousands of people, old and young, who thronged the big enclosure ,under the myriads of lights that provided plenty of illumination for the various centres of amusement. "Something doing every second" was evidently the motto of those who framed the programme of entertainment for the Rotary Carnival. It was a big community gathering, and everyone seemed to have an active interest in keeping the ball of fun rolling. Throngs of interested people crowded every attraction.

The Art Gallery, with its pictures and curios, had a duly impressed audience. The portrait of Bonaparte and the Charge of the Light Brigade are subjects that cannot fail to make their mark on the most indifferent spectator, and the marble groups, and collections of old china and lace are memorable affairs, once seen, never to be forgotten.

In charge of Rotarian McNair, the Midway was a source of much fun as well as refreshment to the inner man. Supplementing their endeavours by personal, loud-voiced appeals to acquaintances in the crowd, the attendants in charge did a business that would probably have caused the flow of much perspiration had the night been a few degrees warmer.

The almost professional manner in which hot sausages were encased in rolls and liberally sprinkled with the mustard that brought a tear to many an eye, and the deft fashion in which crisp popcorn was ladled out to the eager applicants, were matters of much edification, as was also the quality of the pink lemonade and soft drinks and ice-cream that satisfied the inner needs of their consumers.

The dart games that are so popular a diversion had plenty of patronage, with the usual choruses of "ohs" and "ahs" from spectators as their audiences strove to strike the little black circle, the nearness or otherwise to the centre determining the thrower's right to a box of chocolates, a basket of groceries, or the highly polished kitchen ware handed out by three energetic gentlemen wearing "Coca-Cola" caps.

Decorations of red and blue and white bunting indicated th epatriotic inclinations of the gentlemen who arranged the various booths, with plenty of fragrant cedar boughs around the popcorn counter, imparting a delicate aroma to the hot kernels. Red posts, with a huge black cat and a string of red and green lights adorned the tent where striking-looking ladies in gipsy costumes of red and black and white, with plenty of bangles and beads, foretold the future for curious seekers after wisdom. In charge of this tent were Mrs. R. H. Turner, Mrs. C. G. Graham, and Mrs. Gerald McClelland.

Proceeding once more down the Midway, with its jostling crowds at every booth, one might spend a dime in trying to "knock the kitty off the fence," the penalty for dislodging the smiling feline being a cigar or a chocolate bar, just as one's taste inclined. Or one might patronise the small booth where two obliging youths said you could easily procure a watch or a pair of curling-tongs, or even a flashlight, if you happened to be fortunate enough to throw several white balls into the proper red compartments. An essay at this fascinating occupation brought one daring player a small tin horn, but possibly others more fortunate or more skilful captured the coveted curling tongs before the night was over.

The perambulating dark-skinned gentleman with the white trousers and tie and the long black coat who enjoyed a solitary constitutional during the evening within the confines of a small wired enclosure, companioned only by a small boy, who shared the hazard, but not the glory, of the affair, by dodging and recovering hard-thrown missiles, enjoyed a large and enthusiastic patronage. At his well-dinted stovepipe hat hundreds of balls were shied during the evening, the reward for a careful aim being a cigar.

At the far end of the Milway rested the car that took part in the parade, its gaily-decorated top supporting a radio outfit that acted in the traditional radio manner throughout the evening, bursting into occasional sweet strains.

The Hot Dogs.

Just as good "barkers" as ever worked hard for a touring circus might have been discovered last night at any of the booths, where rival purveyors of entertainment advertised to the world at large the merit of a "hot dog" or a try at the dart games.

One of the most interesting sections was the auction block, where small white running shoes were bestowed on large gentlemen by the whim of the turning wheel, or the ladies departed laden with heavy sweaters, bathing suits, or warm blankets. There were plenty of useful and pretty things auctioned off last night, and there were plenty of buyers of little tickets.

The big temporary dancing floor, laid near the entrance to the Midway, proved a popular innovation. Devotees of the "light fantastic" stepped and trotted all evening to the strains of music provided by Ken Blood's orchestra, the hundreds of people who crowded to the edges of the dancing floor giving them plenty of interested watchers. Serpentine crepe and confetti dances were among the novelties introduced.

During the evening, before the dancing started, the Salvation Army Band gave an excellent concert of varied musical selections.

A feature of the afternoon and early evening programme was the high tea served by the Rotary-Annes in the Manufacturers' Building, and patronised by over three hundred people during its busy sessions. The booths used at Fair time by patrons of the big enclosure were utilised for the tea, and decorated with quantities of sky blue and white paper. Big Rotary emblems in the club's colours were on the walls and sky-blue paper of the same pretty shade crossed the white tables, centred with blazing vases of brilliant black-eyed Susans. Green tissue paper, slashed at the edges, also covered some of the boarding, and there were black cats and witches and plenty of jolly orange moon faces in crepe paper to add to the general festive atmosphere.

Ladies who made the high tea a real success and who worked energetically through the afternoon, were members of the Refreshment, Decorating, and Work Committees, including Mesdames W. R. Widdess and J. H. Seels, convenors), C. Rogers, L. L. Roy, M. Comstock, R. M. Glover, T. N. D. Kelly, R. J. Kidd, R. G. Kingan, H. Thompson, F. Hungerford, D. R. Wrenn, P. B. Westbye, D. Hall, B. L. Barnes, N. D. Buchanan, W. J. Thompson, H. O Fisk, M. A. Morrison, and Gerald Wood.

Mrs. Reg. H. Turner was in charge of the fortune-telling tent and Mrs. J. H. Seels convenor). Mrs. Robert Abbott and Mrs. Homer Meyers looked after the dance in the evening.

J. H. Seels was the hard-working general convenor of arrangements; Dr. A. Y. McNair had charge of the Midway; Jack Primeau of the afternoon programme of sports; C. G. Graham of the horse races; J. M. McHardy of the tickets ;and Andrew Brown of the parade.

2 Alta Dewey, br.m., owned by Dr. Robertson, Peterboro, and driven by R. Sherin—place 2, 1, 2.

A Fast Track.

The morning rain put the track in fine shape, and Rotarian C. H. Kingsley, of Cobourg, who acted as starter, and other local horsemen declared the matinee a great success.

In the exhibition mile between Armadale and Bessie Brooks, although a slow trial, the horses brought the crowd to their feet with a burst of speed on the home stretch. Class A was a keenly contested race in all three heats.

In the second heat of Class B, Bub just led at the wire by the slightest margin.

The most exciting heat of the afternoon was the first heat of the green race. It was scheduled for one-half mile, but evidently Alta Dewey's driver didn't know this, and after Peter Raven pulled up at the finish of the half-mile, Alta Dewey kept going. Sutherland, Peter Raven's driver, thinking he was mistaken, starts his trotter up again, when about 75 yards behind. The little black colt threw back his ears, and with the determination of a Dan Patch, catches Alta Dewey in the stretch and beats her in the mile. This was the first race in which the winner has ever figured, and, according to the remarks of the horsemen who witnessed this event, he promises to stand high among the racing fans of this locality before the season closes.

Horse Show.

Open saddle class—1 Miss L. Parsons; 2 Miss J. White; 3 Miss N. Parsons.

Gentlemen's saddle class—1 Mr. W. Hickey; 2 Mr. N. Kelly; 3 Mr. R. Denne.

Ladies' saddle class—1 Miss J. White; 2 Mrs. N. Kelly; 3 Miss L. Parsons.

Harness class—1 Mr. W. Hickey; 2 Mr. N. Kelly; 3 Mr. C. Graham.

Judge—Mr. George Graham.

The horse show provided one of the day's feature attractions. The parade of the ten entrants in the mixed open saddle in front of the grandstand, accompanied by a musical selection from the band, gave the crowd an opportunity of viewing the horses.

The ladies' saddle class made a good showing, and in the open class three young ladies carried off the honors. The harness class also brought a turn out.

The preserver of the horses did much to create the holiday spirit. The events, though few in number, were thoroughly enjoyed.

Numerous contestants battled for premier honors in track and field. Bob Moore, with a large horn, called for all boys under 10 years, and no less than 64 responded to participate in the 50-yard foot race.

Mr. Douglas Loomis, with a small organization of helpers, completed the sports programme shortly after five. There were no scarcity of entrants, and each event followed rapidly in succession.

The two-mile race won by John Ward and the open two-mile bicycle race won by D. Derrick, were feature events. But the wheelbarrow race, in which 52 boys participated, was the real fun-maker of the afternoon.

The capable supervision of Mr. D. Loomis was responsible for the crowd's appreciation of the track and field events. There were no tiresome delays that usually occur to detract from the enjoyment of a programme of foot races.

FRENZIED BULL CHARGED A MAN

Arnold Elder, of Roseneath, Was the Victim of Mix-up Yesterday Afternoon.

ROSENEATH, July 18. — Arnold Elder, 24 years of age, was last night probably fatally injured when a large bull that he was tying in the barn broke loose, and charged him against the side of the stall, knocking him unconscious. His loud cries were heard by his brother George, who was working in the barn near by.

His brother rushed to the scene, and found Arnold unconscious with the bull loose in the same stable. He quickly got his brother outside, and closed the door, so that the bull could not get outside, as it was in a very vicious mood.

Dr Armstrong of Roseneath, was immediately called. He pronounced Mr. Arnold's case as very serious, and said that an operation would be made.

The charging bull struck him in the abdomen and knocked him against a near by wall.

He lives with his father, John Elder, about five miles west of Roseneath.

NATIONAL HEADS TALK REPARATIONS

Promises to Bear Strongly on Inter-Allied Conference.

(By Allen Lloyd, United Press Staff Corespondent.)

LONDON, July 18. — Progress over the breakfast table at No. 10 Downing Street, where Premier MacDonald fed a few Allied and American statesmen kippers and bacon and eggs, and they talked reparations problems, informally brought the conference on the experts' plan closer to the plenary session and agreements stage to-day.

American Ambassador Kellogg, Premier Herriot of France, Premier Theunis of Belgium, and Minister D Estefani of Italy were among those who breakfasted with the British Premier.

It was understood the private chat promised to have the most important bearing upon the future progress of the Inter-Allied Conference.

The conference is still in the committee stage.

Committee No. 3, on which the United States is represented by Ambassador Kellogg and Colonel James A. Logan, Junior, resumed its consideration of Paragraph 5, Section G. of the Franco-British memorandum this morning. This paragraph reads:

"G.—In order fully to take advantage of the reparations payments contemplated by the experts' report and in order to ensure benefit thereof to the nations concerned, the Allies shall institute a special body, whose ment an opinion as to what situation should be created with a view of utilisation of the payments made by Germany in transfers and payments in kind."

Committee No. 1, on which Ambassador Kellogg, Colonel Logan, Leon Frazer, and Frederick Dolbeare represent the United States, was to meet this afternoon to continue the discussion of American participation in the Reparations Commission's work and the appointment of an American as agent-general of payments.

A WEDDING DINNER FOR LOCAL COUPLE

Rev. H. M. and Mrs. Manning Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary.

Fifty years ago yesterday a happy wedding took place in Collier Street Methodist Church, Barrie, when Miss Josie Smith, became the bride of Rev. H. M. Manning. Last evening at home of their son, Dr. Kent Manning, St. Clair avenue east, Toronto, this bride and groom of a half century ago received felicitations from a large number of their friends who called to do them honor.

Given Wedding Dinner

Previous to the reception, the happy couple were entertained at a delightful wedding dinner by their children and grandchildren. Mrs. James Hare of Edmonton, was the only child unable to be present. The other children are: Mrs. A. H. Milner, Brampton; Mrs. J. E. Middleton, Peterboro; H .G. Manning, Stratford and Dr. Kent Manning. Guests at the dinner were: Mrs. Kent Manning, A. H. Milner, Miss Doris Milner, a grand-daughter and Miss C. M. Scott

Golden tinted roses vied with masses of sunny-colored coreopsis in decorating the drawing-room, where Mr. and Mrs. Manning received their friends.

A bride with a unique honeymoon was Mrs. Manning. At the time of her marriage her husband was a volunteer missionary in Western Canada, and it was while journeying to Edmonton, the groom's headquarters that the honeymoon was spent.

Drove to Edmonton

No luxurious Pullmans or comfortable parlor coaches carried travellers over the long, weary miles in those days, and it was a journey not planned lightly. After a slow trip as far as Winnipeg, by rail, Mr. and Mrs. Manning drove the remaining miles to Edmonton. Sixty-three days driving in a buckboard were the young people before reaching their destination.

After six years of service in the West they returned to Ontario. During the ensuing years Mr. Manning has been in three Conferences of the Methodist Church. At present Mr. and Mrs. Manning are residing in Peterboro.

Dr Geddes, editor of the Farm and Ranch Review, both well known members of the Alpine Club of Canada, and Val E. Fynn, the Alpine Climber of St. Louis, Mo., according to word received here this morning by the department of the interior.

TORONTO, July 18. — (Canadian Press).—Bishop O'Brien and the priests of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Peterboro, numbering about 28, are holding a retreat at St. Augustine's Seminary on the Kingston Road. Rev. Father Daly, C.S.S.R., is the special preacher for the retreat. Arrangements are now being completed for a retreat by the priests of the Archdiocese of Toronto, to be held at the Seminary next month.

MAY'S SCHOOL WON.

Fourteen Pupils Passed and Three Took Honors.

The results of the High School Entrance Examinations made known a few days ago are very gratifying to the teaching staff and trustees of May's School.

Fourteen pupils sat for examination and all passed, three with honors. This showing is all the more remarkable when it is considered that twelve out of the fourteen were in the junior fourth class and have taken up the whole of the fourth works in one year.

Out of three hundred pupils who sat in the County, May's School came out on top with the pupil making the highest number of marks, therefore winning the County prize.

Great credit is due Principal Stacey who has spared neither time nor patience in order to accomplish the above results and it must be of some consolation for him to know that his efforts were rewarded.

VOTE FOR RAILWAY.

Will Cover Year's Bond Committments on the C. N. R.

OTTAWA, July 18. — (Canadian Press).—A vote of $56,000,000 to the Canadian National Railways and another of $900,000 to the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, to cover a year's bond commitments and deficits, were passed by the House of Commons just before midnight, after several hours' debate, in which several Progressive members criticized the Senate bitterly for throwing out some of the proposed branch lines on the National Railways.

LARGE SCHOONER SUNK.

A Band of Black Australian Aborigines Capture Ship and Carry Off Women.

LONDON, July 18. — (United Press).—A band of Black Australian Aborigines sank the 300-ton schooner Douglas Mawson at an unnamed location, murdered the male survivors and carried off an unknown number of white women, according to a central news despatch from Sydney, where the report has created a tremendous sensation.

A strong force has been dispatched into the Northern Territory in the hope of rescuing the women.

A MASONIC OUTING.

Number of Peterborough Masons May Visit Cobourg To-morrow.

COBOURG, July 18.—At the Council meeting on Monday night a communication was received from the Shrine Lunch Club of Rochester, stating that they were coming to Cobourg on an excursion on Saturday, the 19th. There would be about 800 of them. Following is the letter received:

"Kindly be advised that the Shrine Lunch Club, Damascus Temple, of Rochester, N.Y., are to hold their annual outing and picnic on Saturday, July 19th. We are chartering the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Car Ferry No. 2 and will cross the lake to your delightful, interesting little city, some eight hundred strong

"We will be accompanied by Damascus Temple Band, of some forty-five pieces of our own Temple Order of the Mystic Shrine and have arranged if it meets with your approval, for our band to give a concert in Victoria Park, Cobourg, in the afternoon Will you kindly advise if this is agreeable to you. The writer thought you might wish to make some mention of it in your local press. Then, too, we of the Shrine Lunch Club, thought that we would like to bring some toys, etc. ,to the poor kiddies of your city, not necessarily an expensive one, but just a little gift and remembrance to the little kiddies of your city.

"Hon. Clarence D. Van Zandit Mayor of Rochester, and a large number of the most prominent city officials of our city will accompany us on this trip."

The idea of bringing a present of some kind for Cobourg children is a new one and will undoubtedly be very popular with the children. It certainly shows a good spirit and will do much to create even a better feeling with our friends across the border. The Mayor and Council of Cobourg will likely meet the boat and entertain the officials during the afternoon. The band concert will no doubt be a treat to Cobourg people who should make an endeavor to take it in, and assist in every way to see that the excursionists have a good time.

RUSSELL DIVORCE CASE WINDS UP WITH GREAT BILL

Consumed Two Years and $150,000 of Husband's Cash

House of Lords Judgment Made Order of High Court

Before the Courts for nearly two years, the famous Russell dvorce case has now come to an end.

It was announced in the Divorce Court that—

The total costs must exceed $150,000.

The husband was unable to bear the expense, and

He was compelled to abandon the proceedings.

His counsel therefore asked leave to withdraw the petition, and Mr. Justice Hill intimated that it would stand dismissed, with costs.

The application was a sequel to the majority decision of the Law Lords on May 30, allowing Mrs. Christabel Russell's appeal against the decree nisi granted in March 1923 to her husband, the Hon. John Hugo Russell, son and heir of Lord Ampthill.

The House of Lords held that evidence of the husband as to his relations with his wife was inadmissible—Lords Sumner and Carson dissenting—and they set aside the verdict and judgment, and further ordered:—

That the cause be, and the same is hereby remitted back to this division to do therein, as shall be just and consistent with this judgment.

Sir Edward then pointed out that it was the general practice of the Divirce Court that a husband involved in proceedings for divorce had to pay his wife's costs, even if he succeeded.

Mr. Russell had already paid $43,000 to his wife's solicitors for taxed costs, and he had still to pay the costs of the appeal and the proceedings in the House of Lords, and there were his own costs of the two trials.

The total liability could not yet be ascertained, but it must exceed $150,000.

The petitioner was unable to bear this expense, and he was compelled to abandon the proceedings. Therefore he (counsel) asked leave to withdraw the petition, which would stand dismissed.

SERBIAN LEGENDS SEEN IN STORE

Exciting Exhibition of Sculpture by Jugo-Slav Master

Ivan Mestrovic, the famous Serbian sculptor, whose exhibition at South Kensington Museum during the war created a new interest in sculpture, can be seen again in his latest works in an exciting exhibition of sculpture at the Fine Art Society's Gallery, New Bond street.

Mestrovic, who is now 41, began life in a remote village in Dalmatia. He was born of peasant folk, but his father had been a worker in stone. The boy learnt from childhood to use the carver's tools for wood, and his art blossomed very quickly.

Fame came to him at the Rome Exhibition, 1911, when the Serbian pavilion struck the imagination of cultured and uncultured alike. It was a strange building, enshrining statues and reliefs, in which the history and legends of Serbia were expressed with a passion of imagery and skill in craftsmanship that astonished the critics.

SYMBOLS OF VICTORY.

A few years later many of the Serbian legends which Mestrovic had symbolized came true by Serbia's victory over her enemies in the great war.

The exhibition in Bond street contains many heroic, legendary, and religious works, as well as portrait busts, of which a black bronze of Lady Cowdray is the most remarkable in its dignity and simplicity. The religious works include a large crucifixion and some wonderful wood carving reliefs.

A large head, "Ecce Homo," carved in wood, shows his mastery at its noblest. The exhibition is very varied, much of it very experimental, much of it masterly, but all of it the work of a rare and vital personality.

U.S. SAILORS RIOT AT TORQUAY DANCE

Sailors from United States warships lying in Torbay objected to colored men dancing with English girls at a Torquay dance hall. The colored men are cooks and servants on the ships.

One American, who was drunk, dragged a Filipino from his white girl partner and threw him to the ground. A free fight began, and other Filipinos used knives, injuring two American sailors.

American pickets ejected all the colored men, and fighting continued in the street. Several women became hysterical and fainted, and the dancing floor was stained with blood.

BRIDE'S DRESS AS SHROUD IN GRIMSBY

Grimsby's oldest inhabitant, Harriett Holmes, was buried in robes which 76 years ago she wore at her wedding.

Mrs. Holmes was 100 last October. When on her birthday it was suggested that the King should be appraised of her longevity, she said: "Nay, don't bother him about it; I'll spend the day quietly."

BRIDEGROOM KILLED RABBIT SHOOTING

Captain John Clerk Brodie Callender-Brodie, who was married last month at Forfar, was found dead with gunshot wounds in the head, near his hunting-box at Kirby Bellars, Leicestershire.

Captain Brodie rose early and went out, as he said, "to pot a few rabbits." When he did not return for breakfast his wife sent the gardener to call him.

The gardener found Captain Brodie's body at the end of a footbridge across a brook, with a gun lying on a plank of the bridge.

Captain Brodie is said to have been extremely happy and to have had no worry.

BLUE NILE DAM GREATEST FEAT OF GRITISH ENGINEERS

Desperate Race for Six Months Against Annual Floods

IRRIGATION PROJECT

Complete Scheme Will Reclaim 300,000 Acres—Costs $20,000,000

British engineers, who are fast completing one of the greatest constructional feats in history—the building of the world's biggest dam on the Blue Nile in the Sudan—have triumphed in a six months' race against the Nile floods.

Faced with the fact that the annual floods, due to reach their highest by mid-July, would sweep over their work unless it had reached a sufficient height to stem them, they have superintended the night and day operations of 19,000 men for six months before winning a victory that was in doubt until the last moment.

When the floods came, like a huge tidal wave, they will lap over the top of the dam—called the Sennar dam, after the town of that name three miles away—in quantities insufficient to hamper the completion of the work. In the next dry season the dam will be carried to its full height, and the rest of the gigantic task of irrigating more than 300,000 acres will be hurried to completion.

DAM 2 MILES LONG.

With the floods not far distant there was one point in the river where the sound rock for the foundations had not been reached, although the ground had been opened to a depth of 16ft. below the design level. Without this solid rock found and built on it would have been impossible to resist the flood, but by concentrating all energies on this point and working feverishly, the men have built the dam to a safe height along its length of 3,300 yards.

It is now certain that Messrs. S. Pearson and Son, Ltd., of Westminster, who are conducting the work, will be able to finish the immense task in the allotted time at an estimated cost of $20,000,000. They began in December 1922, and they must finish by the middle of July 1925.

What the work will represent when finished was described to a reporter by F. T. Hopkinson, the director in charge. Obtaining many of his figures by rapid measurements of big plans in front of him, Mr. Hopkinson said:—

"The chief object of the dam is to raise the level of the water at this spot to such a height that canals from which will branch smaller canals, and which in turn will have smaller canals jutting from them like ribs, will irrigate more than 300,000 acres of territory which are today almost useless.

TRAIN ON THE TOP.

Today it is possible to grow only tiny crops of cotton here and there on sites about as big as an ordinary private office, where some water happens to accumulate, but irrigation will enable the finest cotton crops in the world to be grown.

Here are some figures of the work:

The 3,300 yards long dam will make an artificial lake 2 miles wide and 50 miles long.

The parapets of the dam will be 130 feet above the lowest foundations, and the water at its deepest near the dam will be 100 feet deep.

The dam will weight 1,000,000 tons and will provide water to the irrigating canals through 80 big sluices.

By the time the work is finished 1,000 miles of canal will have been dug, not counting thousands of miles of smaller canals.

At its widest the biggest canal will be 1,000 feet wide.

The top of the dam will act as a bridge for the Sudan railway.

The masonry is constructed entirely of granite brought from a remarkable granite hill 35 miles away. It juts sheer out of the plain to a height of 500 ft. along a length of several miles. During the work we have been bringing 2,400 tons of granite a day from it by the Sudan Government Railway. We made our cement at the site."

CAPTAIN HAULED FROM HIS BRIDGE

British Skipper Carried Off Doomed Vessel by Crew

"Even when we used a little force he only pushed us away, so closing on him, we literally picked him up and carried him down from the bridge, lowered him into a lifeboat, and pushed him clear."

This, in the words of one of the crew, is how Captain Mackinnon, of the British liner Clan MacMillan, which foundered in the Bay of Bengal, was defeated in his plucky resolve to stick to his ship to the very last.

The crew, who are now at Rangoon, yesterday said to the Central News: "Captain Mackinnon told us to save ourselves, but he refused to leave the bridge. At last, rushing up to the bridge, we gave him one last chance to come voluntarily, begging him for our sake as well as his to leave the doomed ship. But he was adamant.

"Bravery and love for his ship predominated."

Then, as a last resource, the crew used force to save their gallant captain.

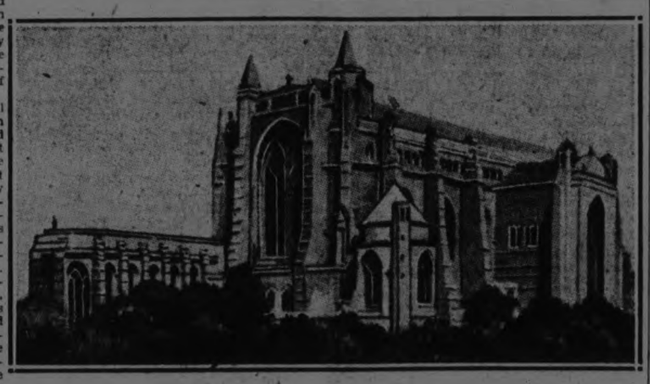
THREE YEARS FOR REVENGEFUL WIFE

A scene marked the conclusion of a case at the Old Bailey in which Mrs. Maud Johnson, 30, was sentenced to three years' penal servitude for throwing corrosive fluid on her husband, rendering him practically blind and permanently injuring his face.

Mrs. Johnson told the police "While my husband was asleep he said 'Doll' several times. It was the name of the woman he had lived with him. That annoyed me."

The judge said that granting that her husband was a worthless man who had disgusted and infuriated her, that was no excuse for pouring corrosive fluid over the face of a sleeping man and leaving him blind and disfigured.

New Liverpool Cathedral is Architectural Gem



On July 19, 1904, Edward VII. laid the foundation stone of Liverpool Cathedral, and today, exactly twenty years later, the King and Queen were present at the consecration of the building.

Liverpool Cathedral will cost about £2,000,000 when finally completed, and when the project was first launched, "many people quite reasonably feared that it would deflect both money and energy from less spectacular but not less necessary needs." Those fears were unfounded, as the experience of the past two decades has shown. Vere E. Cotton, compiler of the excellent official handbook, says, "the cathedral, by its inspiration of laity and clergy alike, has proved itself an incalculable force for good, not only in Liverpool, but throughout the whole of South-West Lancashire."

BRITISH COMPANY MADE HUGE LOSS BUT WON'T QUIT

Harper Bean Motor Combine is Torpedoed by Bank

LOSS $5,000,000

Concern Floated in 1919 "Boom" With $30,000,000 Capital

A motion to wind up the $30,000,000 motor-car company formed during the 1919 "boom" under the name of Harper Bean Limited, was rejected at an extraordinary meeting in London.

An amendment was carried that the meeting should be adjourned, and that a committee of five be appointed to confer with the directors on the position of the company.

Sir T. A. Polson, who presided, said that the ascertained loss up to December 31 last amounted to $4,600,000. The worst feature of all was that the investments could not be regarded as worth more than a tithe of what they had cost. Not one share in which he himself was directly or indirectly concerned had been sold.

"BEHIND THE SCENES."

Mr. Wardman remarked that if he were to mention things going on behind the scenes it would cause an uproar. Mr. Hindle, a director of the Vulcan Company, said, amid some laughter, that it was in the healthiest state of any motor-car company that had gone through Harper Bean.

Mr. Harper Bean said he and his family sold their shares to Mr. Whitcombe for $3,975,000. They were paid for in cash, and Mr. Bean and his family had invested $3,900,000 in these concerns. They had not sold any of their shares, and did not intend to do so.

Mr. Lyle Samuel said he had lost a sum so large that he would be ashamed to announce it at a public meeting. It was paradoxical that of all the people concerned in the flotation and formation of the company the family of Bean were the heaviest losers, and he thought it would be found that they would come out with clean hands.

Sir Thomas Polson said they had been brought to the present position because the bank wanted their money. They had become tired, and no wonder. The final straw was the British Motor Trading Corporation.

They gave the company formal notice demanding payment. The bank said they would pay the expenses of the office and plant until this meeting was held. It followed that from that day there would be nothing with which to pay rents, rates, taxes, and clerical assistance.

HEADACHE ALL HIS LIFE, SAYS WILL

Tom Birkett Barker, of Lapworth, Warwickshire, whose will has just been proved (at $300,000), directed that his body be sent to the General Hospital, Birmingham, and post-mortem thereof made to ascertain if any information can be obtained for the benefit of posterity as to the origin, mitigation, or cure of the scourge of headache, the unmerciful disaster that has wrecked my happiness from my earliest recollection.

The bequest was not given effect to.

PICTURE HAT IS DOOM OF SHINGLE

The definite re-entry of the picture hat means the end of the shingle.

Ascot signed the death warrant of the tight-fitting cloche, which has ruled for nearly a year. It was the only hat suitable to shingled heads. Its monotony, however, was its doom.

The reintroduction of the picture hat, with its brim half a yard wide, and its drooping clusters of lace, fruit, and feathers, finds more than half the heads in the social world without the long hair indispensable to form the back padding which keeps it in position.

Shingled hair grows even more slowly than bobbed, and few women will be able to produce a luxuriant crop this summer. The only alternative is artificial locks.

Hairdressers have anticipated the demand. The latest fashion consists of rolls, puffs, and curls, with—in the case of women with the requisite oval face—Victorian ringlets to complete the picture.

BLAZING SEAPLANE WAS DEATH TRAP

Flying Officer Edward Ewart Smith, of Felixstowe Air Station, was drowned under tragic circumstances. Flying a "Sea Lion Amphibian," he was manoeuvring over Felixstowe Harbor when the machine fell into the water near the stone pier.

It momentarily rose again, then crashed and burst into flames.

The pilot was seen to jump from the plane, which was a single-seater, into the sea, and boats were rushed to his assistance, but failed to rescue him. His body was recovered later.

ELECTRIC PROFIT.

The Bath Corporation made a profit of $60,000 on their electricity undertaking last year.

ROUGH-RIDING PARSON STRIKES FLAG TO "BRONK" AT THE WEMBLEY RODEO

Reverend Harold V. Hodson, of Miserden Rectory, Cirencester, competing in the competition for a £10 prize for amateurs making a qualified cowboy ride on a bronk. Watch the chutes!

This announcement was trumpeted through the loud speaker to a big audience at the Rodeo performance in the Stadium at Wembley.

Obeying the command, we kept our eyes on the chutes—the stockade arrangement from which the bronk (vicious horse) is ejected into the arena, when the would-be rider, after climbing a barrier on the far side, has dropped on to its back.

AN ECCLESIASTICAL ENTRY.

Three cowboys flung wide a gate, and a bronk whizzed on to the peat-covered track bordering the turf, and "bucked."

That is to say, it put its nose to the ground, arched its back into a bow, and rose, all four feet together, into the air.

On the top of the bow was the rector of Miserden, "in the diocese of Gloucester." Except for shirt-sleeves, having discarded his coat, he was in correct clerical attire—black trousers, black waistcoat and white "choker."

But bronks are no respecters of persons or of parsons. This particular "outlaw" was no more willing to be ridden by the rector of Miserden, "in the diocese of Gloucester," than by Skeeter Bill or No-water Slim, of Somewhere in the Wild West.

He got rid of his hated burden in six seconds. But that is six seconds longer than most of the amateur horsemen who have tried to make a "qualified cowboy ride" in the Stadium. So when the rector of Miserden gathered himself together from the ground and staggered out of the arena the audience cheered him for his pluck and sportsmanship.

A LOST PRAYER-BOOK.

Retrieving his coat, the rector slipped away from the stockades, and resumed his seat in the arena. Later in the afternoon he was discovered bewailing the loss of his watch, pipe, pouch, and Prayer-book.

But the rector had not been robbed. Concentrating his thoughts on the events that immediately preceded his exploit—temporarily obliterated from his memory by those six seconds of movement gone mad—he remembered having deposited the contents of his pockets with a policeman before climbing over the stockade. Meantime the policeman had gone in search of the vanished rector. They met later, with results equally satisfactory to both.

From 1913-1917 the Rev. Harold Hodson lived in North Queensland as a member of the Brotherhood of St. Barnabas. Hence his horsemanship.

HALF MILLION THAT IS NOT WANTED

Cable Company Burdened With Sum it May Not Pay

To have $500,000 and not be able to hand it over to the rightful owners is the curious position of the Eastern Telegraph Company.

Turkey and Greece are both claimants for the money, and neither will go to arbitration. The story was told by Sir John Denison Pender at the meeting of the Eastern Telegraph Company, Ltd. A dispute had arisen over the sum in question, due for terminal rates at Smyrna during the hostilities between Turkey and Greece, and the amount was claimed by both parties. The board desire to pay over the amount to the rightful party, to be settled by international arbitration. Neither country had agreed to this course.

Turkey was proceeding against the company in her country for the recovery of this amount, and Greece threatened to take similar action. Turkey had closed the company's offices, and the company had withdrawn from the country.

MOTORIST WRECKS CAR TO SAVE BABY

Hull Scene of Stirring Incident—Crashes Into Tree

A motorist deliberately risked his own life and wrecked his car in order to save a woman and child from certain death at Hull, Yorkshire.

The woman, with her baby in a perambulator, was standing on the corner of cross-roads when two motor-cars arrived simultaneously.

The driver of one car, swerving to avoid a collision, found himself nearly head on to the perambulator. He acted with much presence of mind and, putting his car into short-lock, crashed into a tree.

The car grazed the wheel of the perambulator, tearing off one of the solid tires. The mother collapsed in a dead faint. The car was badly damaged, but the driver emerged from the wreckage unhurt. The baby sat up in the perambulator unperturbed by its thrilling escape.

WILLIE FERNIE IS DEAD IN GLASGOW

Willie Fernie, the famous Troon professional and ex-Open Champion, has died at Glasgow.

Fernie who had been ill for some time was father of Tom and Harry, who scratched from the Open Championship on Monday when the news of the serious state of their father's health reached them. William Fernie was born in 1858, and won the open title at Musselburgh in 1883. He also tied for second place on five occasions.

He played a 72-hole match against Willie Park in 1908 for $500 and lost.

THE TAXI-MAN'S RULE TO CLASSIFY PUBLIC

"It seems that nowadays some motor-car drivers divide the public into two sections—the quick and the dead," said the Lord Chief Justice in the King's Bench Division, when a special jury awarded $3,750 to Mrs. Elizabeth Butler and $625 to her daughter, for injuries received when knocked down by a motor-van in London.

LAWYER KNOCKED INTO A TRANCE

Wandered Seven Days After Chance Collision in Street

WENT TO SCOTLAND

Stayed in Edinburgh Hotel With Memory Gone Till Wife Arrived

Remarkable circumstances attend the disappearance and the subsequent finding of Darracott Seymour, principal of a firm of solicitors, of Bedford-row, London.

Mr. Seymour left his office to meet a client, and for 7 days after his relatives knew nothing of his whereabouts.

While walking along Euston road, he collided with another pedestrian and fell to the pavement, sustaining concussion.

On rising he walked, in a trance-like state, to Euston Station and there took a seat in the Scotch express, not realizing where he was until the train was between Crewe and Carlisle. He was asked for his ticket, but though he could not produce one, he was allowed to continue the journey to Edinburgh.

On leaving the train he was asked for his name and address, but could not give the information, and when payment of the fare was demanded handed over his purse for the money to be taken from it.

The guard of the train, realizing that there was something wrong in Mr. Seymour's condition, offered to find an escort to accompany him to his hotel, but Mr. Seymour paid no heed to the suggestion and walked out of the station.

He lived a week in Edinburgh hotels with his memory gone and unable to present any documents by which he might be identified.

While he was walking along one of the principal thoroughfares in Edinburgh, a London business man hailed him. Even when his name was mentioned it did not revive Mr. Seymour's memory, and his friend, absolutely puzzled, took him to his own hotel.

From there he telephoned to Mrs. Seymour at Worthing and learned for the first time that her husband was missing.

Mrs. Seymour went north at once. Her appearance had an immediate effect, Mr. Seymour being restored to normal consciousness as soon as she entered the room. When a doctor was called he ordered Mr. Seymour's removal to a nursing home.

Overnight he became better, and it is expected that he will have recovered sufficiently to be able to travel south shortly. Mr. Seymour has never been in Scotland before.

GROWING ARMY OF WOMEN LAWYERS

It is a striking sign of the times that, although only two years have passed since the first woman was called to the Bar, women barristers now number 27, a total which will be increased to 34 shortly.

Few people imagined that women would invade the legal profession in such numbers, but a probable explanation is given by a well-known barrister.

"One can contemplate," he said, "large extensions of the Home Office, the Ministry of Labor, and other Departments where women are concerned, and the positions to be created will obviously go to the most fitted.

"And to be a barrister is now regarded as an additional qualification for a Civil servant.

"I imagine," he added, "that some of the women are coming to the Bar with that object in view."

Hayseed Watered By Tears Produces Grass In Eye

An operation performed at the Gloucestershire Royal Infirmary on a farm laborer revealed that a hayseed had lodged in the socket of his eye and a blade of grass had grown from it.

The man had been conscious of continued and increasing pain after getting something into his eye. He visited the hospital, where the opthalmic surgeon made an incision above the eye.

The blade of grass was uncovered and removed with the hay seed from which it had sprung.

Apparently the discharge from the tear duct had watered the seed and the blade of grass which grew from it received sufficient light through the eye-ball to make it grow.

WHITE GIRL AS INDIAN WIFE DOES NOT LIKE CUSTOMS

Life in Native Quarter at Amritsar is Described

ONE-ROOM HOME

No Quarrel With Husband, Whom She Summoned for Cruelty

Gladys Esinapatti, an English girl who married an Indian in Manchester two years ago, told a remarkable story at the Manchester City Police Court when she summoned her husband for persistent cruelty.

She said that within six weeks of the marriage she accompanied her husband, who had been in business in Manchester, to his home in Amritsar, India. She was taken to her father-in-law's house in the native quarter of the city, and was compelled to wear native clothes of thin muslin cloth, the sort of garment which no modest European woman would wear.

GARMENT.

Mr. Chambers, who appeared for the husband, said that the garment was probably no worse than the evening dress worn by women in this country.

Mrs. Seinapatti added that she was treated as a native woman. All the family lived and slept in the same room—father-in-law, mother-in-law, her husband and herself, and her husband's sister.

Once her husband took her into the native bazaar, where European women were not supposed to go, and the natives mobbed her. She was allowed only native food, and was compelled to take it in the bathroom and sit on the floor. No chairs or tables were provided. She was not allowed to go out of the house during her husband's absence from home.

"PHYSICAL WRECK.

When her baby was born she was attended by an Eurasian doctor. She was a physical wreck when she returned home after undergoing several operations.

Mrs. Seinapatti said, in further evidence, that she had no quarrel with her husband.

The magistrate asked what was the cruelty alleged.

Mrs. Seinapatti: I cannot tell you, sir; noobdy can understand unless they have been to India.

She burst into tears and was unable to continue her evidence.

The summons was afterwards withdrawn.

LONDON RECORDER ON CRIME SOURCE

Violence Resulting from Jealousy to Be Left to Apaches

"Lust must not be allowed to be rampant; jealousy must be curbed," said the Recorder (Sir Ernest Wild, K.C.), charging the Grand Jury at the opening of the Sessions of the Central Criminal Court, London.

Commenting on two alleged cases in which women were alleged to have thrown corrosive fluid over their husbands the Recorder said that, fortunately, the law in England did not recognize what was known as the crime passionelle.

The law did not recognize that if people were jealous of their husbands, wives or sweethearts, they could resort to violence or cruelty of this sort. It was right it never should be recognized.

"Let us," continued the Recorder "leave that kind of crime to the apache."

"It is useless to try to diagnose the reasons for these crimes, but there have been many more of them since the war, and perhaps because of the war. It seems nowadays that people are so unhinged that if a young man's sweetheart jilts him he stabs or shoots her; if a woman is jealous of a man she throws fluid over him or injures him. Once that kind of thing is allowed the whole forces of law and order are routed.

"One of the best manifestations of civilization in modern times is the gravity with which we regard crimes against the person, rather than crimes against property."

The Recorder added that the time may come when juries will be called upon to protect animal life. Unhappily, it had not come yet.

WOMEN MOB COWBOYS WITH ROSES; SCENES IN COURT EXCITING

Inhabitants Turn Out En Masse to See Assembly of Rodeo Broncho-Busters at Police Court

The Rodeo moved from Wembley to Wealdstone, when the various summonses alleging cruelty against the promoters of the international cowboy contest, and against several of the cowboys themselves, were heard by the local branch of magistrates who eventualy dismissed the case holding that the cruelty charge was not well founded.

Never has a police court on the outer fringe of London had such a field day. The inhabitants of Harrow and district massed in hundreds on the roadside to see the assembly of cowboys. It was harder to enter the court than to rope a steer.

Cowboys had to fight an entrance. Crowds cheered them, clustered round to secure ill-scribbled autographs, women gave them roses for luck, and in some instances tried to kiss "the boys." Tex Austin, the manager of the Rodeo, drove to the court with a fearsome pair of bullock's horns strapped across the radiator of his motor-car, and a white felt hat which is the largest in London.

The overcrowding that occurred inside the court would have warranted a separate summons in a house of entertainment, because people were standing in the gangways and the exits were choked. Seats were double-decked with spectators on each other's laps. The bench itself could scarcely hold the magistrates, for there were twenty of them, half the strength of the petty sessional division, and the end magistrate of the line was half in the court and half out of a doorway.

The cowboys, listening to the evidence, stood for a while, until they became at home, when they squatted on their haunches, as they do while watching events in the Stadium. Three of the cowboys, overcome by the occasion, had disguised themselves in ordinary lounge suits, but they rather spoiled the effect by tucking their trousers in the tops of their high leather boots. The rest was the natural man, in colored shirts and riding breeches of curious cut (chapps).

PRAIRIE TOUCH.

A real prairie touch was given to the proceedings when a question was raised about the shooting of one of the steers injured in the Stadium. The steer was killed by a revolver bullet, and it was suggested that the animal did not die quickly. What was the revolver like?

"Do you want the gun?" asked Tex Austin, uncoiling his great length from his resting place against the dock. His hand went to his hip pocket, and he "flashed" a long-barrelled .45 Colt.

"I hope it's not loaded," ventured a magistrate, his eyes on the weapon.

"Of course it's loaded," returned Austin. He broke the breech, and the six venomous lead bulleted cartridges spouted into the palm of his hand to be passed for examination to magistrates and witness.

NELSON'S VICTORY SAVED FOR NATION

Sir Doveton Sturdee Gives Account of Funds Collected

A statement as to the progress made in the work of restoring H.M.S. Victory, and as to the state of the restoration fund, was made by Admiral of the Fleet Sir F. C. Doveton Sturdee at the annual meeting of the Society for Nautical Research, held at the Royal Institution, Whitehall.

He said that up to date £78,000 had accrued to the fund from subscriptions, and interest on sums deposited at the bank during the past two years had amounted to £2,500. The interest more than covered the expenses of collection, which were only £2,416. There had been a special gift of £600 for the production of the film The Romance of the Victory.

The Admiralty, he added, had been very good to them and had helped in every way to get the work of restoration done as quickly as possible. He was now negotiating with the Admiralty for the provision of a museum, in which could be placed the Victory barge, and various relics and records from the ship. Up to the present alterations had been carried out on the prow and the stern of the Victory. The upper works were being dealt with, and arrangements were being made for installing a complete battery of guns. By the end of the year they would want to acquire, by loan or by some other means, some of the furniture which was in Nelson's cabin at the Battle of Trafalgar. They were going to make the ship exactly as it was at that time. The work of "lifting" the ship, so as to give it its original water-line, had not yet been commenced, and until that was done they could not alter the masts and rigging. He thought the society might congratulate itself on having saved the Victory for all time.

CHAMPION RUNNER'S CHOSEN EPITAPH

His race well run,
The Goal well won,
Now comes Rest.

Harry Ed. Bickerton, of Worcester, formerly a well-known sportsman, who had held the record for the mile on turf, directed that the above should be inscribed on his tombstone.

On his wife's death he left:—

To the Corporation of Worcester, pictures of old citizens.

£100 to the vicar of St. Andrew's, Worcester, to apply the income in food tickets not exceeding 5s. each, for distribution amongst the poor and needy women.

His turf mile record (4min. 23sec.) and other cups and trophies to his nephew.

£20 to his wife's nephew, "as a slight recognition of what he went through as 'an Old Contemptible' in the Great War."

Young Baronet to Return Investments To Father's Employes

The former employes of Alexander Stewart & Son (Dundee), Ltd., were agreeably surprised the other day when they were informed that their financial holdings in the Company were to be returned to them in full.

When the Company was formed all the employes were given the opportunity of taking preference shares, and, with few exceptions, the whole staff availed themselves of the offer. The late Sir John Henderson Stewart, Bart., it will be recalled, held all the ordinary share capital of the Company.

Sir Bruce Stewart, Bart., son of the late Sir John, appreciating the position of his father's former employes got into communication with them, and decided to pay their holdings in full. This in almost all cases has already been done.

The total sum involved in the transaction, which has given great satisfaction to those who have benefited by it, is between $15,000 and $20,000.

ECONOMY INSTRUCTION.

A member of Bath Education Committee publicly criticized a teacher who was instructing girls how to keep house on $25 a week, suggesting that $7.00 was nearer the mark. He added that the teacher would be better employed showing girls how to camouflage a bloater and make it look like a chicken. A woman member of the committee asked him for the recipe. He promised to give it to her

'STRIKING' PROTEST AGAINST EVICTION

The eviction campaign in the Isle of Man is to be met with a "striking" protest.

Deemster Callow dealt with a number of possession cases, and the Labor Party, represented by Alfred Teare, Walter Craine, and Bert Stephens, was appalled at the harshness of some of the orders.

The Party intends as a protest to call a strike of all workpeople on the island, and everything is in readiness.

It has been arranged to bring everything to a standstill—tramways, railways, municipal undertakings, and passenger boats.

There is no Rent Restrictions Act in the island, and the poor, against whom orders were made, have nowhere to go. The housing shortage is so acute that in some cases one house is occupied by eight or nine families.

HETERODOXY CURED BY LATIN PROSE

Bishop's Tale of How He Dealt With Two Dissenters

Bishop Welldon, speaking at the Durham School prize distribution told an amusing story of how he once innocently corrected heterodoxy by Latin prose.

While he was Master of Dulwich College two little boys told him that their mother did not wish them to attend the service, as they were Plymouth Brethren.

He told them he should not think of putting compulsion on them. He did not, however, think it right they should have a holiday while the other boys were in chapel.

"You must write a piece of Latin prose while the service is proceeding," he said.

When next the service was held he noticed with interest that these two boys attended it!

Clog Declared to Be Perfect Shoe for Worker Who Stands

Although millions of people have to stand to earn their living, the perfect shoe for workers who stand for long periods has probably never been designed, according to a report of the Industrial Fatigue Board. What is the ideal shoe for long standing? "It is not a cheap one," says the report, "and it clearly cannot be one with narrow toes and too high heels. Equally wrong are the very soft or very old shoes, for here there is no adequate support."

In a laundry in the north of England, employing a very good type of worker, the girls consider that the best footwear for standing purposes is the clog, and most of them change from their outdoor shoes into clogs for working.

CELLULOID TOYS CALLED INIQUITOUS

To speak of celluloid to Lieut-Colonel C. J. Fox, of the London Salvage Corps, is like putting a red flag in front of a bull.

He made this confession at a meeting of the Professional Fire Brigades' Association, held in London and went on to declare that celluloid should not be manufactured, stored or sold.

It was perfectly iniquitous to sell celluloid toys to children.

Colonel Fox also asserted that fires occurred from want of care or want of cash.

There is only one way to extinguish burning petrol and that is to use some kind of foam, said Mr. Murray Bannister, quoting a recent statement, and he urged that some such thing was greatly needed.

FLOWER POT SELLS FOR LARGE SUM

A total of £36,933 was realized for the collection made by R. H. Benson, of Buckhurst Park, Sussex, of early Chinese porcelain, the sale of which took place at Christie's.

A flower-pot, 6¼ inches high, was sold for £1,890. It was produced during the Sung dynasty, 960-1279.

A jardiniere 15 inches high, which was made during the Ming dynasty and realized £2,205, has convex sides, with flowering branches, among which birds are perched.

ROTARY SHIELD SNATCHED FROM TORONTO TEAM

Hay Rotarians Grab Final Game at Rotary Tournament Yesterday.

SCORE WAS 18-17

Trenton and Oshawa Eliminated in the First Games.

The Lindsay Rotarians, togged in hay field uniforms, of large straw hats and dark blue overalls were the successful winners of the shield given of the winners of the Soft Ball Tournament at the Exhibition Grounds yesterday.

The Toronto team showed great strength at bat and in the field but the Lindsay "farmers" were too much for them in the final game which was won by Carew's gang by the score of 18 to 17 after the Toronto crew had put a great battle in the seventh inning, bringing their total score from 11 to 17. It was a great rally but ended all of a sudden when Stollery was thrown out at the plate in an attempt to score the tieing run.

The game was close throughout, with first one team taking the lead and then the other. At the end of the fourth inning the score stood nine all while at the close of the next frame the Lindsay crew were two runs down. In the sixth inning the Greybirds advanced one on the Torontoers when they made the score 12 to 11. They blanked the Toronto Rotary in their behalf of the sixth and came back in the seventh with six tallies, while Toronto did likewise in their half of the seventh.

The teams lined up as follows:

LINDSAY—Langdon, 1b; Perrin, 2b; Sylvester, p; Anderson ss; Carew c; Beale cf; Ross 3b; Thompson, lf; Miller lf; Gregory lf; Page rf.

TORONTO—Stollery, cf; Neilson lf; Dunsmore 3b; Hodgman 1 b, p; Cowan 1b, p; Rodden c; Diver ss; Dean 2b; Goforth, rf.

Toronto Beat Oshawa

The first game of the tournament was played between the Toronto team and the Oshawa Rotarians. The Oshawa boys were no match for the Toronto team and were defeated by the score of 16 to 4 in a five inning fixture. The Oshawa outfit held the City crew to five runs in the first three innings, while they collected three themselves in the third, but in the fourth their whole team blew and the Toronto side was not retired until nine men had crossed the plate. Toronto came back with two more in the fifth and held the motor town crew to one lone tally in the their last frame.

The teams lined up as follows:

OSHAWA— Miller rf; Petley p; Karn 3b; McKay, 1b; Germond ss; Edmonds 2b; Young, cf; Phillips lf; Everron c.

Toronto line-up was same as above

Cobourg Meet Trenton

The next game to be run off was the one between Trenton Rotarians and Cobourg Rotary, the later winning by the score of 6 to 4.

This was the fastest and closest game of the day and both teams showed lots of style and pep. They fielded well and played clever ball throughout. Cobourg had a little the heavier hitting team, but the Trenton boys were always on their toes and all turned in a nice fielding exhibition.

The teams lined up as follow:

TRENTON—St. Louis, 2b; Tucker c; House 1b; Ireland 3b; Simmons p;; Squires ss; H. Graham lf; O'Rourke cf; C. Graham rf.

COBOURG — Henderson, 1b; Mitchell 3b; Willmott ss; Spragge cf Plunkett 2b; Dreury p; Haylen rf; Stone c; Wilson cf.

Ousted by Lindsay

The Cobourg outfit then took a crack at the Lindsay boys but they did not have the punch to pull them through with a win. Lindsay carried off the bacon in this fixture when they won by the score of 9 to 6. It was a good game and was full of thrils but the boys who put the Kibosh on the Toronto crew a few minutes later were a little too good for the Cobourg team. Langdon who did the tossing for Lindsay was very good while his battery mate A. Carew was the heavy hitter of the game.

Line-ups same as before.

Umpires—Kay and Ecobichon.

Raybestos Take Short End of 13 to 2 Score in Seven Innnings Game.

PLENTY OF HITS.

Canadian Generals came out on top in a listless game at the Exhibition Grounds last night when they handed Raybestos the short end of a 13-2 score

The Electricians got to Duggan right from the start when they got 8 runs and five hits in the first inning. They boosted the count 3 more in the 4th after two were out, and added single markers in the fifth and sixth.

The Brakemakers were able to cross the scoring station in only the fifth inning, when they combined two hits with an error for a pair of counters.

Coursey and McCarney, in the sun field, took the fielding honors. Courney made several nice running catches and also made a great throw to the plate to catch Hendry in the first inning. McCarney made a sensational one-hand catch of Rogers' drive over third that looked good for three bags at least. Wolfe and Turner were the heavy hitters with 2 hits apiece.

Several of Manager Miller's athletes failed to show up, and he was forced to take part in the contest himself, and showed his oldtime form by hitting a neat Texas leaguer over shortstop.

Barrie and Galbraith made their Midland League debut with the C.G.E. last night. Galbraith was used as a pinch hitter and Barrie performed for three innings at second base.

Ab Delahaye and Bob Mackey handled the game in good style, no kicks being made on their decisions.

ROTARY YOUTHS WERE VICTIMS

Provided Carnival Sacrifice to Sacred Heart Midgets.

SCORE WAS 7-3

In a good exhibition of baseball at the Exhibition Grounds yesterday afternoon, the Sacred Heart Midgets, champions of the first half, defeated the fast Rotary boys by the score of 7 to 3.

It was a close fixture all the way and both teams showed plenty of fighting spirit. The Rotarians never gave up hope, and stuck to their guns until the last man was out.

In the last inning, although five runs down, they threw a scare into the south-end crew when they started a rally that looked as if they were going to hand the Sacred Heart boys a trimming, but good pitching by "Casey" Masterson, the youthful twirler, who has been making great headway in the last two years, ended the game. In the seven innings Masterson pitched he fanned twelve batsmen and allowed but four scattered hits, one of these going for three bases. He pitched steady ball throughout and had plenty of speed and stuff.

Lefty Guirey, on mound duty for the Rotary, turned in a nice game. He issued one pass, fanned seven of the opponents, and allowed eight hits which he kept fairly well scattered. The six errors made by his team-mates were very costly and accounted for three of the Sacred Heart counters.

Harold McDougal at second base and Ken Graham in centre field were the outstanding players on the Rotary line-up. McDougall came through with a timely hit, and accepted four hard chances, while Graham reaped in two hard flies and also manufactured a single that accounted for one of his team's runs. Casey Masterson was the one who deserves the most credit for the Sacred Heart win, while Rishea at second base succeeded in hitting the ball for three bases.

VETS DEFEATED CAN. WOOLLENS

Cridland Kicked Through His Own Goal in First Half.

The Vets were right in form against the Woollens when they defeated them two goals to nothing in a good game of soccer at King Edward Park, last evening.

FIRST HALF.

For the first ten minutes, the Canadian Woollens were all over the Vets and missed opportunities galore. A dandy cross by Gaskill was headed into Frick's arms from close range. The Vets retaliated on the left wing, through Bestard when he centered nicely but Jack Chambers saved the situation. A break-away on the right gave Griffine a chance to score. He accepted a pass from Clark to shoot [illegible] and fast. Cridland tried to prevent a tally with his knees that diverted the ball past the Woollen's goalie. At the other end, the Woollen's forwards peppered Frick from every angle until Blowers finished with a shot over the bar. Exchanges were even thereafter. On midfield play Roberts beat three men in rotation, then let Gaskill tap over Frost's head, running forward let Mitchell test Frick with a smart drive just before halftime. The Vets were at the Wollen's end afterwards. Half-time G.W.V.A. 1. Canadian Woollens 0.

HALF TIME.

On resuming, Dundas gained the ball from the Vets defense easily, quickly centered into goal where Wollen's forwards tried to head the ball through. Mann transferred the play up the centre, Griffine travelled with the ball right against Cridland who let the Vets centre-forward register his second goal. The Woollens went right back into the Vets territory to hammer them into their goal to gain two fruitless corners. Play run from end to end, although both goals went under pressure time and again. From a defense kick by Cridland, the Woollen's right wing sent a fast ground drive along the wing from the corner flag. It past through a sea of legs in front of Frick where Mitchell was a second too late with his foot, then Dundas hit the post to go past. In their last game the Woollens couldn't do anything wrong but last evening their energy was exhausted in trying to convert, and before the finish. Vets 2 goals. Canadian Woollens 0

'VARSITY EIGHT FORCED RECORD

Canadian Crew Defeated by Yale's Sturdy Oarsmen in Final.

RESULTS IN ROWING

ARGENTEUIL, July 18.—Yale's champion Varsity eight yesterday won the Olympic eight-oared race.

Yale crossed the finish three and one-half lengths ahead of Canada (University of Toronto), setting a new record for the course of 6 minutes 33 2-5 seconds.

Canada's time was 6 minutes 49 seconds.

Italy finish third and Great Britain 4th.

The Yale oarsmen, after a slow start, took the lead from the Italian crew at the 500 metre mark and raced their rivals out of sight over the last three-quarters of the distance.

Italy gave the United States oarsmen their closest competition most of the way but the University of Toronto crew flashed a great closing spurt to take second place. The Canadians, however, were unable to gain on the flying leaders, who swept across the finish line amid a wildly enthusiastic ovation.

Didn't Hear Signal.

Before the start Coach Louden instructed the crew to row a waiting race instead of taking the lead as on Tuesday. The Canadians did not hear the starting signal in the heavy wind and consequently got away a quarter of a length behind their rivals.

At the start the Varsity crew rowed 12 strokes in 15 seconds, 21 in half a minute and 41 in the full minute. After the first stage they steadied down to long swings and a 35 to the minute stroke. Their catch was well together. Midway down the course they speeded up to forty strokes to the minute and soon saw themselves leaving England and Italy behind and pulling up to within a quarter of a length of Yale. They again settled down to 35 strokes to the minute until the stretch, where they increased the stroke and power of drive but failed to catch the Yale boat.

Courtesy Wasted.

Returning to the boat-house, after cheering Yale (receiving no acknowledgment) and England and Italy, who returned the courtesy, the Varsity men packed their boats. They felt fit and happy. Last night the oarsmen saw Leslie Black and Harry Henning of Toronto dispose of their men in the boxing events. The party will sail from Liverpool for home on August 1st.

The ten points earned by the triumph of the Yale crew were just enough to give the United States victory in the rowing competitions by one point over the Swiss oarsmen. The point score at the end of the final race of the day was:

United States 33, Switzerland 32, Great Britain 27, France 21, Holland 12, Italy 12, Canada 10, Australia 3, Brazil 2.

Two Seconds for Canada.

England won two firsts, the U.S. A. two, Switzerland two, and Holland one, in the finals yesterday.

Switzerland rowed home first in the two-oared race with a coxwain, with Italy second and United States third. The Swiss won by a bare tenth of a second, their time being 8 minutes and 39 seconds and Italy's 8.39 1-10.

Kelly and Costello, U.S.A. pair, won the double sculls in 7.45 with France second in 7.54 and Switzerland third.

In the single sculls Jack Beresford, Jr., England, holder of the diamond sculls, won from W. E. Garrett Gilmore, of Philadelphia, by 2½ lengths in 7.49¼.

The four-oared race, without coxswain, event was won by England, with Canada (Vancouver) second and Switzerland third. The winner's time was 7.08 3-5.

In the race for four-oared crews, with coxswain, Switzerland won by a length from France, with United States crew third. The winner's time was 1.18 2-5.

The pair oars, without coxswain, was won by Holland in 8.19 3-5, three-quarters of a length ahead of France. England, the third crew, was scratched.

MOLLA MALLORY PEEVED AT LOSS

Helen Wills Won Straight Sets in Olympic Tennis.

U. S. CAPTAIN BEATEN

PARIS, July 18.—Helen Wills and Mrs. Molla Mallory, the latter representing Norway, had their long-waited battle on the courts yesterday ,and the American girl won in straights sets 6-3 6-3. It was the first time Miss Wills and Mrs. Mallory had met since the Californian now on the national women's singles title from the Norwegian at Forest Hills.

Vincent Richards also won a victory over Rene La Coste, after dropping two sets to the Wimbledon finalist but R. Norris Williams, the U.S. team captain, was beaten by Cochet, France, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Miss Wills had a much easier time defeating Mrs. Mallory than the scores would indicate. The American girl seldom exerted herself, and seemed more intent upon placing her strokes well and perfecting her stroking. Mrs. Mallory was obviously upset by the beating. She "bawled out" the ball boys, and ordered a photographer off the court imperiously.

Richards and Mrs. Jessup defeated Neilsen and Mrs. Mallory in the mixed doubles 6-3 and 6-2.

Mrs. George Wightman and R. Norris Williams II., of the United States to-day defeated Mme. Scaramanga and A. C. Zerlendi of Greece 6-2, 6-1, in an Olympic mixed doubles tennis match.

Miss Kathleen McKane the British woman tennis champion, to-day defeated Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup of the United States, in the round before the semi-finals of the women's Olympic competition. The score was 6-2, 6-0. The U. S. Woman was completely outclassed by the fleet-footed and versatile English woman.

Vincent Richards of the United States, defeated Rene Lacoste, of France, in the round before the semi-finals of the mens' singles, 8-6, 4-6, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Boxing Events

Olympic boxing events today added to the honors already achieved by Canadians in that department of athletics. Harry Henning and Leslie Black, both of Toronto, were given decisions over their opponents in the middleweight contests.

Henning boxed Jensen of Norway and in the opening round used the uppercut with such telling effect that Jensen began holding on and was warned twice. The Canadian continued the upper-cutting treatment in the second round until the Norwegian decided he had had enough and gave up the struggle with his face bleeding profusely.

In the battle between Black and Lefkowitz of the United States the American took the offensive from the start and reached the Canadian with repeated lefts and rights. Apparently however, Black had not got properly going in the first round for in the second round he went after his opponent hammer and tongs landed twelve times. He had Lefkowitz all but out in the second but the latter held on until the towel was thrown into the ring. Black gave his opponent the toughest session that any of the Canadians has delivered to an opponent so for.

In the lightweight division, Ben Rochwell of New York won the decision over Graham of Canada in a closely contested contest, in which the Canadian revealed an excellent left, clever in-fighting and a great deal of courage. Rochwell, with a longer reach and smashing rights, more than held his own. The crowd showed disagreement with the verdict.

It was a day in which the Anglo-Saxon and Nordic representatives came through triumphantly. The disqualification of the Italian welterweight Oldini for the alleged holding of Doug of Canada was the signal for noisy protests. The crowd threatened the judges, affirming that the two men were locked in a clinch, and the police had to protect the judges when they left the ringside.

Fred. Boylstein, United States, put with ease, having the advantage over the British in height, reach and skill

In the welterweight division Mendez, Argentina, won from Peterson, Denmark. In the same class, Santoro of Argentina was defeated on points by Stauffer of Switzerland.

Hugh Haggerty, United States welterweight, put away Ertmanski of Poland, by a technical knockout, halfway through the second round.

NEW RULING CURBS INTENTIONAL PASS

Pitches to Unoccupied Base to Evade Batter Must Be Called Balks.

NEW YORK, July 16.—An interesting and important ruling regarding the question of a pitcher passing a batsman intentionally was made by John A. Heydler, president of the National League. The ruling was brought about because of an unusual incident in the first game of a series between the Reds and Phillies in Cincinnati on June 9. In that game Wilbur Hubbell, the Philadelphia pitcher, acting under orders from Manager Arthur Fletcher, threw four balls to First Baseman Holke, thus passing Curtis Walker, the Cincinnati batsman, without having the catcher stand at one side and receive the balls, which is forbidden now under the rules.

A runner was on third base at the time the incident happened. Allowing this technical evasion of the rules, the umpire permitted the batter to take his base. President Heydler ruled that each of the throws to the first baseman should have been called a balk and not a ball. He sent the following bulletin to all the umpires on the National League staff:

"When that pitcher (for the purpose of intentionally passing the batsman) deliberately threw four balls to the first baseman he made a farce of the rule, and indirectly of the game. Rule 23, which has to do with penalizing a pitcher for delaying the game, cannot be taken advantage of in this manner.

"If any more attempts of this kind are made, call a balk for each throw to first unless a runner is occupying that bag. You have full authority to do so under the rules."

The rule under which Fletcher had his pitcher evade the intentional pass rule provides that if a pitcher throws the ball to any player other than the catcher the action shall be called a ball. The purpose of this rule, however, was to impose a penalty on pitchers who delayed a game. This reads as follows:

"If, after the batsman be standing in his proper position ready to strike at a pitched ball, the ball be thrown by the pitcher to any player other than the catcher when in the catcher's lines and within ten feet of the home base (except in an attempt to retire a base runner), each ball so thrown shall be called a ball."

DO YOU KNOW BASEBALL?

BY BILLY EVANS

QUESTIONS

1. A runner slides into second base, beating the catcher's throw easily. The base is torn from its anchor, and after player had stopped sliding, bag is a foot away from him. Fielder touches him with the ball before he can regain possession of bag. Is runner out or safe?—H. W. B.

2. Runner slides into second base ahead of the catcher's throw. He overslides the base, however, and before he can get back is touched by the fielder and ruled out. Is the runner credited with a stolen base?—G. J. R.

3. Pitching in the semi-professional ranks I have had excellent success with the use of the spitball. Do you think it advisable to discontinue this delivery if I desire to make the majors? Is there a possibility that the major leagues may in the near future again legalize the spitball?—F. K. H.

ANSWERS

1. The runner should be ruled safe. Bags are supposed to be stationary. If runner beats throw and then had bag break loose from its anchor, he should not be held responsible and compelled to follow the bag. He's safe.

2. In the case cited runner is not credited with a stolen base, even though he beat catcher's throw. Being out as a result of oversliding, he never really was the occupant of the bag.

3. I do not believe the majors will ever again legalize spitball. If the major leagues is your goal, would suggest you discontinue use of spitter.

CORBETT KEEPS FIT NEAR SIXTY

Simple Regimen of Clean Living the Basis of His Health.

STENROOS ANOTHER.

Damon Runyon, in the "New York American," says:

Alben Stenroos, forty-year-old Finn, wins the Marathon, the big event of the Olympic games.

Clarence de Mar, thirty-six-year old American, is third.

Here again we have illustration of the theory of a new athletic era suggested in this column recently.

You were here informed that the age limit of athletic prowess has gradually advanced from the early twenties to thirty, and beyond, that the old tradition of "youth must be served" has been dispelled.

It is a pleasing thought for gentlemen of middle age. A few years ago a sprinkling of gray along the temples relegated him to Hasbeenville. Now they dominate the world of athletics.

Stenroos, a woodworker of Helsingfors, was running his first competitive Marathon race in fifteen years.

He loped over the twenty-six miles of French country to an easy victory, while younger men collapsed behind him.

But the writer ventures the assertion that between Stenroos' twenty-fifth and fortieth years were years of CLEAN LIVING, of attention to his physical health.

The average forty-year-old man cannot run any part of twenty-six miles nowadays because he has put in too many years staying up late at night, eating and drinking carelessly.

If you wish to see an object lesson in amazingly well preserved middle age, look up James J. Corbett, once heavyweight champion of the world.

The writer has just finished reading an article by Corbett in the King Syndicate magazine, Circulation, in which Corbett talks of keeping fit at fifty-eight.

Corbett says his system is: (1) Plenty of FRESH AIR. (2) Systematic exercise. (3) Regular sleeping hours. (4) Nourishing food. (5) Keeping the intestinal tract free at all times from clogging.

Corbett to-day is a majestic looking figure of perfect health. Yet as a boy he was frail and sickly.

He began taking long walks after school hours, gradually increasing his pace to a dog-trot. Then he took up calisthenics at home finally joining the Olympic club, of San Francisco, and going in for regular gymnasium exercises.

Presently he built up his body to a point where he could go in for boxing, and at boxing he became the champion of the world.

Not every young man can hope to become champion, of course.

But every frail, sickly young man can emulate Corbett's example, can make his body strong and well.

In this day and age, with gymnasium facilities so easily acquired, with the preachment EXERCISE constantly printed and quoted, it is almost a disgrace for a young fellow to be in poor condition physically.

There is no excuse for it.

One of the marvels of the new athletic era is Alfred Goullet, king of the bicycle riders, who is beyond thirty, and still in his prime.

Goullet is without doubt the greatest six-day bicycle rider that ever lived. His sensational achievements of the past few years in the murky atmosphere of old Madison Square Garden will be recited in the years to come. They are among the most stirring tales in sport.

However, Goullet is a great all around rider. Not long ago at the Velodrome he beat all the sprinting specialists one night, and the following night went out and won a 100-kilometer race in masterly fashion.

Cycling experts will tell you that there have been sprinters who developed into great distance riders, but when thew came distance riders they seemed to lose their sprinting ability.

Goullet skips from one to the other with astounding versatility, and it does not seem to injure his form. He has been riding fourteen years, and it is reasonable to assume that he will continue riding for some years to come.

Goullet is a man of INTELLIGENCE. He always maps out a plan of campaifn before a six-day race in advance, and his plan seldom miscarries.

He is an exponent of CAREFUL LIVING. He keeps good hours, gets plenty of sleep, eats the proper food and DOESN'T DISSIPATE.

FOREST FIRES WORSE.

Two Bad Fires in California and One in Montana.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. — (Canadian Press.)—The forest fire situation, regarded as improved throughout the west yesterday afternoon, rapidly got worse last night. There were two bad fires in California and one in Montanta. The California fires were new.

One of them in the Siskiyou country, was said to be threatening the town of McCloud and an appeal was sent to nearby towns for aid in fighting it.

BRITISH AIRMAN HAS BEEN FOUND

Major McLaren Turns Up on an Island Near Japan.

(By Moto Takata, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

TOKIO, July 18. — Major A. Stuart Maclaren, the missing British world flier, was found to-day safe on Urupp Island, in the Kuriles Group, north of Japan.

The airman had covered about half the distance from Hokkaido to Paramushiru Island, when he was forced down.

He had just begun the most perilous part of his round-the-world flight—the crossing of the Pacific in short jumps from one blizzard-whipped frozen island to the next.

Major Maclaren had been missing nearly 48 hours.

ON THE LAST LAP.

BROUGH, England, July 18. — United Press. — American airmen will go into the north on the last stage of their world flight without wireless equipment on their planes, Lieut. Lowell Smith, commanding the expedition, announced to-day. The object is to avoid overloading.

The business of overhauling the machines in which the airmen will make their homeward dash, has progressed so rapidly that the old engines were ready for removal this morning and it is expected now that the aviators will get away with the flood tide on Wednesday morning.

Tuesday will be devoted to testing the new floats on the estuary of the Humber.

A SEVERE WINDSTORM.

Several Barns and Other Buildings Destroyed.

DRESDEN, Ont., July 18.—(Canadian Press).—Several barns and other buildings were destroyed, one team of horses killed and orchards and fields of grain seriously damaged by a terrific windstorm which cut a swath three miles long and about half a mile wide through part of Dawn Township during last night. The storm was really a small cyclone, accompanied by rain and lightning.

On the farm of Charles Stevens, Lot 20, Concession 2, the barn was wrecked, a team of horses killed, the house damaged, the orchard practically levelled and the field crops flattened.

His neighbor, William Austin, had a barn levelled, his garage was lifted bodily from the foundation and thrown into the barnyard, while the automobile remained undamaged. A barn across the road lost a roof and suffered other damage.

THEATRES

AT THE ROYAL.

"THE EAGLE'S TALONS" REAL SCREEN THRILLER

Universal Chapter Picture Begins at the Royal Theatre to-day.

Moving picture goers who like strong thrills, stirring action and daredevil stunts on the part of their celluloid heroes and heroines had their fill at the Royal Theatre, when the first chapter of "The Eagle Talons", a new Universal continued feature, was shown. The picture costars Fred Thomson, world's champion all-round athlete, who made a name during the war as the "Fighting Parson," and Ann Little, one of the screen's popular stunsters. Al Wilson, prize aeroplane daredevil, is a featured member of the cast.

"The Eagle's Talons" gets its name from a mysterious band of air raiders headed by a master-criminal known as the Eagle, who always leaves a mark—In the shape of an eagle's talons—at the scenes of his depredations. The story concerns the efforts of the air raiders, backed by unscrupulous wheat plungers, to ruin Gregory Markham, a power in the wheat market. Their plans are opposed by Enid, Markham's daughter, and Jack Alden, in league with the Secret Service. The roles of Alden and Enid are played by Thomson and Miss Little. Wilson takes the part of Markham's secretary.

A succession of air-thrills, sea-thrills and other breath-taking stunts are promised for the succeeding chapters of the picture, which will be shown every Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Royal.

GIBSON, IN "HOOK AND LADDER" GOES OVER BIG AT THE ROYAL.

That the dust of the cattle country is evidently good training for a fire department job is evidenced by Hoof Gibson's ability to "eat smoke" in his latest Universal feature, "Hook and Ladder," which opened last night at the Royal Theatre.

Gibson portrays the role of a cowboy who takes a shipment of cattle to the city and after a squabble at the stockyards over the matter of pay for himself and other cowboys who accompanied the cattle, he decides owing to a series of unforseen occurrences, to remain in the city. He joins the fire department and and right off the reel he signs himself up for a lot of grief, and delights —because of a pretty face.

It is essentially a comedy drama, but offers some thrilling fire scenes, and a spectacular shot of a night run by a city fire department, thrilling in every detail, but never overdone.

Gibson is capable in the featured role and he is adequately supported by a small but excellent cast. Mildred June, a pretty little brunette of Sennett comedy fame, plays the romantic lead opposite the star, and is not only pretty but a good little actress. Edwards Davis, noted "preacher actor" and vaudeville headliner, has a good role as a boss politician. Philo McCullough gives his usual creditable performance as the sleek villain, and Frank Beal is effective as the fire chief.

The star is introduced as a sleepy, lazy cowpuncher of an indifferent nature and this disposition affords a mood for clever comedy in the early training of the recruit fireman.

Things happen so fast in this direction that he scarcely is aware of anything—but the fire chief's daughter.

The scenes wherein the cowboy fireman is shown on the training tower at the fire station are very funny and also offer a couple of good thrills. Half way up the ladder which leads to the top of the five story tower the lad from the range country declares that he has changed his mind. He doesn't want to be a fireman. But he is goaded on to the top by a ruthless veteran of the force. Then, even he is so surprised after it's all over, he wanted to go back and repeat.

The big run by the fire department and the rescue from the burning building of the fire chief's daughter and the political boss, come as a smashing climax to a really worthwhile production.

Edward Sedgwick, director of many of Gibson's biggest successes, directed the picture from an original story by himself and Raymond L. Schrock.

FIGHTING PARSON NOW SCREEN HERO.

Fred Thomson, Clergyman-Athlete, Starring in "The Eagle's Talons."

Fred Thomson, former world's champion all-round athlete, who made a great record during the war as a "fighting parson," is being starred in "The Eagle's Talons," a chapter picture which started last night at the Royal Theatre. Co-starred with him is Ann Little, known to all screen fans as one of the daredevils of the films. Al. Wilson, champion aeroplane stunster, also is in the cast.

This trio has combined to inject a succession of high-powered thrills into the picture which was made at Universal City, Cal., from a story by Theodore Wharton, the "daddy" of screen serials. If the succeeding chapters of the present serial contain as many thrills as the opening episode, its run at the Royal Theatre will be a succession of breath--taking adventures and heart gripping escapes. The story promises air stunts in profusion, wrecks at sea, under-water thrills and every conceivable deed of daring on land.

The picture is based on the conflict between criminal wheat market manipulators, who terrorize their victims, and antagonists through mysterious air raids, and Gregory Markham, the leading wheat financier of the country. Thomson plays the role of Jack Alden, a volunteer secret service agent helping Markham, and in love with Markham's daughter, Enid, played by Miss Little. Wilson enacts the role of Markham's secretary.

FREE CANDY FOR KIDDIES AT THE ROYAL

Hundreds of children took advantage of free candy and fine programme at the Royal Saturday afternoon. The entire programme appeals to them more than any shown locally in some time. Can you imagine Buddy Messenger and Hoot Gibson in the same programme; also Fred Thompson, world famous athlete in "The Eagle's Talons." Candy will be given again to-day and Saturday matinee. Send your children.

AT THE CAPITOL.

One of the old-time thrillers of the legitimate stage has been screened in "Only a Shop Girl," the feature picture at the Capitol Theatre for this week end. And, as usually seems to be the case when modern producers go back to the successes of former years, a very creditable picture has been evolved for the silver sheet. There seems to be something more solid and substantial about these re-created successes of generations back than the ephemeral productions of a light and frothy modern age, something more "to bite into," like the old-fashioned rock candy.

"Only a Shop Girl" is not a picture of the woes and trials of the ultro rich, although there are some luxurious scenes in it. It tells the story of the real-life troubles of a shop girl in a big city, pretty, poor, with the forces of powerful society arrayed against her and her sweetheart.

There is somewhat of a melodramatic flavor to the big feature, but it has plenty of the heart interest and human appeal that makes it one of those enjoyably emotional stories and bring tears to the eyes of the sentimental viewers. Mame Mulvey is the scapegoat throughout. Pursued by an unscrupulous employer, she is alive with the lure of youth and clothes and good times, and hers is a tragic story. Throwing away the love of the boy who has worked his way up from a delivery wagon seat to the attainment of a law degree, she finally kills the man who has first harmed her, and has then turned his attentions to the younger girl, Josie. Accused of the crime are her brother Danny Mulvey and Josie his sweetheart. Interwoven in the story are pictures of the lives of the very poor, huddled in tenements, with the rich man reaching out for the girls and striving to railroad to prison their one and only protector Danny.

The boy and girl go to prison accused of the murder, and the third degree brings from Danny, in an effort to save the girl, a confession of the crime. The threads of Fate spin faster in the web of the three lives and a lurid tenement fire takes Mame to her death in a hospital bed, gasping out the story of the crime and her murder of Watkins.

In and out of the picture come the tiny girl, Josie's little sister, with her big shaggy Airedale, providing a last human touch at the finale to a picture alive with human interest and heart appeal.

The Christie comedy that rounds out the programme of introductory short reels, is a real laugh-producer.

AT THE REGENT.

ROARING LAUGHTER AND TENSE DRAMA.

This Synopsis Shows You Why "Our Hospitality" Will Set New Records.

For several generations the Canfields and the McKays, two distinguished old Southern families of the early nineteenth century, have had a vital interest in the other's family death-rate. For there has been a bitter feud between the two, and this bitterness has been handed down from father to son until, from fierce passion, it has finally become a grim duty. The Canfield and McKay women have grown used to seeing their men die with their boots on.

In this process of continual revenge survival was a matter of stubborn handihood. What had once been the offwer of Southern aristocracy was now a few stunted roots. Of the McKays, William McKay (Buster Keaton) is the last direct male survivor. The Canfields, by virtue of quicker trigger action, are more numerous.

The Last of the McKays.

But William, a young man in New York, does not know he is the last of a great family. His mother sent him north to his aunt when he was a baby to save him from the feud. Just as he reaches his majority, however, the aunt receives word of his mother's death, and William has to go to his birthplace to dispose of the estate.

William's journey to the South is a re-enactment of an actual part of American history—the first railroad trip in 1830. This is made on "The Rocket," the first steam railroad train.

Romance and Adventure.

At the start a young girl (Natalie Talmadge) enters William's coach and takes a seat opposite him. Plainly she is the very essence of primness, but the two become acquainted through coincidences and are soon cordial friends. The young man's gallantry wins her respect.

Upon arrival at the station the pair go their separate ways, and William, strolling through the town, innocently asks two strapping six-footers, who happen to be Canfields, where the now vacant McKay place is. The youngest Canfield a moment later, after an unsuccessful search for a gun, is off to tell his family that the "last of the McKays" has arrived.

As William passes the girl's house she hails him and insists he come over for dinner. That evening the unwitting William arrives at the girl's home and is presented to the family as "the young man who was so kind to me on the train." He is surprised to find the two six-footers, and the Canfields are amazed to learn who the "kind man" was.

Don't Shoot Your Guests.

One of the brothers makes a move to shoot young William, but the father restrains him because the family moral code holds that a guest must be well treated, and therefore they couldn't shoot the McKay until they got him outside.

Another guest for dinner is a lovable old "circuit rider." On account of a storm, the minister and William are compelled to stay over night, and William at last learns of his predicament. He bolts for the open next day, and the two sons who have been in ambush start in pursuit.

DOUBE HEADER.

Midland League Games Tomorrow Afternoon at Fair Grounds.

There will be a double header in the Midland League to-morrow afternoon at the Exhibition Ground. At 2 o'clock sharp the C.N.R. team of Cobourg, champions of the first half clash with the Raybestos outfit of this city. The Raybestos have a much strengthened team and expect to come through with a win over Punch Derry's crew to-morrow, while the Cobourg team think it impossible to loose.

At 4 o'clock the C.G.E. team of this city and the Dye Works nine of Cobourg meet. The C.G.E. will have several new members on their line up and it is likely that Lefty Turner will do the heaving. It will be the choice between him and "Bun" Frost as Jeff Hardill did their mound work last night against the Raybestos.

JUNIOR FIXTURE.

Final Game of Series Tomorrow at Riverside Park.

In the final game of the Junior series to-morrow at Riverside Park at 3 o'clock the Lakeviews and the Crescents will do their stuff. Both teams are prepared for a win, while if the Lakeviews are victorious it will give them the championship.

Frank Whitehouse will be on the mound for the Lakeviews and Ferg. Sheehy will twirl for the Southenders.

In Sheehy's last performance he was far from being in shape, but tomorrow there will be no alibies and each team will have to show all they have to come through with a win.

THE SOLDIERS' PENSION BILL

Re-establishment of Ex-Service Men Was Tabled in House of Commons To-day.

OTTAWA, July 18. — (Canadian Press).—The final report of the Ratsone Commission on pensions and re-establishment of ex-service men was tabled in the House of Commons to-day. It reviews its work and suggestions made before it and makes certain recommendations.

With regard to the employment of ex-service men, it says; "If the various methods of dealing with the situation, such as preferential employment in Government service, sheltered workshops, employment bureau service, King's honor role scheme, Toronto rehabilization scheme and any other arrangements with or inducements to civil employers all prove inadequate to permanently absorb into the industry disabled ex-service men, who, after a diligent effort, have failed to find employment, there appears to be no other solution than compulsory employment enactment, which would require all industries to employ a certain number of these men. The Commission points out that such legislation exists to-day in practically all continental countries, and the British House of Commons is now considering similar compulsory laws.

EIGHT HOUR DAY

Dominion Eight Hour Day Was Brought Before the House.

OTTAWA, July 18. — (Canadian Press).—The question of establishing a Dominion eight-hour day came before the House of Commons when it resumed this morning. The subject was brought up by D. M. Kennedy (Progressive of Edmonton West), who moved the adoption of the final report of the Committee on Industrial and International Relations, which recommended a reference to the Supreme Court to secure an advisory judgment on the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament and of the Provincial Legislature on this matter.

REWARD OFFERED.

Case Now in Hands of Provincial Officer Maker.

A reward of $25.00 has been offered by Mr. J. E. Patte to any person leading to the conviction of the party or parties who mutilated the large signs leading to the Patte-Wolfe fox farm on the Chemong Road.

The signs cost about $100.00 each and by throwing stones and shooting considerable damage has resulted.

Mr. Patte has placed the matter in the hands of Norman F. Maker, Provincial Constable and efforts are being made to round up the miscreants.

WEDDING BELLS.

PUE—ADAMSON

A quiet wedding took place Thursday afternoon at the Parsonage of St James Methodist Church, when Mrs. Edith S. Adamson, second youngest daughter of Mr. H. T. and the late Mrs. H. T. Adamson of North Monaghan, was united in marriage to Mr. James Ottowell Pue, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pue, Fraserville, the Rev. J. D. Richardson officiating.

The bride was prettily attired in a costume of grey georgette and a black and white tricotine wrap with hat to match and wearing a corsage of Ophelia roses. The bride also wore the groom's gift, a rope of pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Pue left on the 3.5c train C.P.R. for Toronto and London on their return they will reside in Fraserville.

WALSH—KENNEDY.

LAKEFIELD, July 18.— A very charming wedding took place at St. Paul's Roman Catholic church, Lakefield, by Rev. Father Garvey, when Margaret Anne, daughter of Mrs. P. Kennedy, became the bride of Mr. Frederick Walsh, of Indian River, Ontario.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Dr. M. P. Kennedy, looked dainty in her pretty grey georgette frock trimmed with French flowers and hat of white taffeta with velvet leaves. Her bouquet was ophelia roses and baby's breath. Miss Margaret Bissonette, neice of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, her dress being of rose silk crepe and silver ribbon, with picture hat to match. She also carried ophelia roses and baby's breath. Mr. Joseph Walsh, nephew of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony, luncheon was served at the residence of the bride's mother. Later the happy couple left for Ottawa to spend their honeymoon, the bride travelling in a pretty beige tweed suit, black hat and beige fox fur.

On their return they will reside at Indian River, Ont.

SCOTT—O'BRIEN.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on June 17th, at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Laura O'Brien and Michael Scott, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Finn. The couple were unattended.

The bride wore a dress of brown canton crepe with shoes and stockings to match, and a large picture hat. They left on the 11.59 a.m. C.P.R. train for points east.

Compound Insanity of the Slayers Will be Advanced.

CHICAGO, July 19. — Compound insanity will be the theory that the defence will advance in the trial of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Robert Franks.

Alienists employed by the defence counsel declare that the youths are possessed of an interlocking personality, so that together they are impelled to a commission of crime that neither alone would conceive of executing.

As the trial date, 4th August, approaches, bit by bit the elaborate plans of prosecution and defence of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb are being disclosed.

Clarence Darrow, head of the defence, yesterday predicted that the trial would be one of the longest in the history of criminal court procedure. At least a month will be consumed selecting the jury.

"From One to Three Months."

That was Darrow's estimate of the time which the selection of the jury may consume. He added:

"Age will play no part in my challenges. A young man can be just as impartial as an old or middle-aged one.

"But one thing I will se to is that I get twelve men whose minds are able to grasp the important things in the case. College men will not necessarily be sought, but neither will they be turned down if they can show they are taking the jury box with a free and open mind."

Fathers With Sons.

The State will concentrate on the middle-aged men, with families, and a prospective juror with a son about eleven years old—the same age as the slain Frank boy—would be welcomed.

Although it yet is too early to estimate the probable cost of the trial to the State, officials believe the cost of selecting the jury from a possible list of 1,200 veniremen will reach $10,800. If the Franks case moves along at the rate of the average important case, about 2,000 persons may be examined in a week.

The jury will be held absolutely incommunicado, court officials declare, pointing to the fact that a special high partition is already being built around the jury box to prevent any possible interchange of signals with any one in the courtroom during the trial.

May Ask Delay.

Mr. Darrow recently indicated that the defence would be ready to start trial on the scheduled date 4th August, but yesterday, he was not so optimistic. He said:

"We are still hurrying along, trying to be ready, but at this time I cannot be sure. W eare trying to make it.

"One thing is certain, we shall not ask a change of venue. If we cannot get a fair trial in Cook County, we cannot elsewhere.

Chief Justice Caverly, who will preside at the trial, announced yesterday that he would not permit radophones in the court room to broadcast the proceedings. He said:

"I car bar a boy or girl out of my court room if I think the testimony is such that they should not hear, but I would be powerless to tell a lad in a farmhouse hundreds of miles away to switch off his radia. I cannot aid in any such proposition."

LAWYER JAILED FOR EXTORTION

Member of Montreal Bar Obtained $700 By False Pretences.

TO "FIX" DETECTIVES.

MONTREAL, July 19. —(Canadnia Press).—J. Aldege Dupuis, local lawyer was sentenced Friday by Chief Justice Decarie to serve two years in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary on conviction of obtaining $700 by false pretences from Filibert Germain of St. Hyacinthe.

According to the evidence Germain and his son were arrested for uttering and circulating forged tickets of the Montreal Tramways Company. They retained Dupuis as counsel. On the eve of the trial they declared that Dupuis called them into his office and asked for $600 in addition to a fee of $100 already received which sum they said he declared was needed to "fix" the detectives who had made the case, and the chief counsel for the prosecution. Germain gave him a certified cheque for that amount. The Germains were, however, found guilty and allowed their liberty on suspended sentence.

Dupuis claimed in defence that Germain had retained him for a civil case that was forthcoming, and had paid him in advance.

The prisoner after sentence, stated that he would take the case forthwith to the court of appeal.

HOUSE DROPPED DISCUSSION ON EIGHT HOUR DAY

Woodsworth's Amendment Was Ruled Out of Order After Debate.

AVOID CONFLICT.

Invasion of Provincial Rights Said Hon. Mr. Meighen.

OTTAWA, July 19. — The eight hour day amendment was ruled out of order in the House of Commons yesterday and the matter was then dropped.

When a report from the Committee on Industrial Relations was presented, J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, (Centre, Winnipeg) submitted an amendment calling for the eight-hour day and a forty-eight hour week on all works under Federal jurisdiction.

Wodsworth argued that this was simply implementing the undertakings and contentions of the International Labor Conference arising out of the Versailles Treaty. The proceedings in the committee, and other things, indicated, he said, that the government was not very anxious to bring the eight-hou da; into effect, but rather proposed that the question of constitution...lity be referred to the Supreme Court.

12 and 13 Hours a Day.

There were cases in Canada where workingmen had to work twelve and thirteen hours a day. Trouble in Nova Scotia occurred year after year because of these long hours, and this had been established in the report of the Robertson Commission.

"The treaty of Versailles," he said, "which provided for an eight-hour day, should not be reduced to a 'scrap of paper.'" The government at least should set the example of providing an eight-hour day on its own work. This would call for no new legislation or reference to the courts. It was within the existing powers.

Hon. James Murdock said the question raised by Mr Woodsworth had been before the committee on industrial relations continuously throughout the session. The justice department advised that the provincial legislatures had power to apply the eight-hour day in all industrial relations, and the government had taken steps to impress this fact upon the provinces. The latter objected to any encroachment upon their rights.

Doubted It.

Mr. Murdock doubted if it were desirable for the Dominion to prejudice the rights of the provinces by establishing the eight-hour day on Federal works. He instanced the case of the Welland ship canal, a Federal work, and the Hydro Power Canal, a Provincial work, alongside it in the same territory. If an eight-hour day were established on the Dominion work it would interfere with the Provincial work. There was no demand from the Welland Canal workers for an eight-hour day.

Playing Game Fairly.

"The action taken is the proper one if we are going to play the game fairly with our partners—the provinces," concluded the Minister. He thought Woodsworth was out to catch the botes of the workers, who do not know the facts.

"An eight-hour day," observed T. L. Church (Toronto), "will not come by reports of committees or references to the Supreme Court, or by sending delegates to Geneva. The way to get it is by education. After the war 12,000 public service employees in Toronto were given an eight-hour-day. This came about by education. If the government wants to do something let them give their own employees an eight-hour-day. Let charity begin at home. The rest of the country can emulate it. Leave the Supreme Court alone."

J. T. Shaw and William Irvine of Calgary, both supported Woodsworth's amendment for an eight-hour-day on federal public workss. Irvine expressed surprise at the attitude of the Minister of Labor with twenty-six years in the forefront of Labor. He had evidently changed since he became a Cabinet Minister.

Looking for Action.

"Labor," he said, "is looking for a bit of action. Here is an opportunity."

The Prime Minister argued that the report of the committee sought to further the principle of the eight-hour day. Those who voted against the amendment were not voting against the eight-hour day. The Geneva Convention left it to the different countries to apply the principle according to conditions as they obtained in them.

"Does not the Government have power to establish an eight-hour day on its own works?" asked J. S. Woodsworth.

"The amendment goes much further than that," said the Premier.

"The Government is free to send troops to Sydney," replied the Premier warmly. "When troops have gone there they have gone at the instance of the municipality and the province. The Dominion government has nothing to do with it. I wish to see the principle of the eight-hour day adopted, but let us proceed logically and constitutionally."

"Will you acept an eight-hour day for Government employees?" persisted Mr. Woodsworth.

The Premier replied that hours

OPPOSITION TO BILL OF DIVORCE

Unfaithfulness Not Proved Was Contention of Member of Parliament.

SENATE WAS DIVIDED.

OTTAWA, July 19. — (Canadian Press).—That the House of Commons would not be doing its duty if it granted the divorce of Alma Ducharme Mullins, of Montreal, was asserted in the Chamber last night by T. G. McBride (Progressive, Cariboo). Mr. McBride received much support and the bill narrowly escaped defeat in the committee stage when a motion against the first clause was defeated by 27 to 24. When the bill was called for third reading a few moments later J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Centre Winnipeg) moved the "six months' hoist," and the House was proceeding to a formal division when A. W. Neill (Independent, Comox-Alberni) raised objection to the third reading at the moment. In spite of protests, the Speaker ordered the bill for third reading Saturday.

In urging his appeal against the bill Mr. McBride said that the Divorce Committee of the Senate had divided on it and that in the Private Bills Committee of the Commons the casting vote of the chairman was all that saved it from being thrown out. There was not, he said, one iota of evidence that Mr. Mullins was guilty in this case and he argued that the divorce, if granted, would blacken his character unjustly, destroy the character of his housekeeper and at the same time blight the future of his son.

Mr. Woodsworth said that while he had no objection to divorce on the grounds of incompatability, unfaithfulness was alleged in this case but was not proven. There was a certain amount of evidence to show that the husband maintained a housekeeper in order to assure a home for his child. It was quite possible for two people to live together, under the same roof, without having improper relations. The bill should be withdrawn, but if divorce was granted, it should be on some other grounds than those alleged in the application.

"BARNEYING" MAY BE ADVENTUROUS BUT TWO NEW YORK GIRLS FOUND IT PAINFUL

Accepted Stranger's Invitation For a Ride and Both Were Thrown Out.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

Girls Resisted Advances of Driver and Were "Beat Up."

NEW YORK, July 19.—Accepting ridse from strangers seems to be a dangerous business.

Yesterday Margaret Skelley, No. 1 Prospect place, and Marion Wagner, No. 2142 East Seventeenth street appeared in Coney Island Court before Magistrate Folwel to testify that they had received severe bruises when they had been thrown out of a mans' car from whom they had accepted a ride.

The man was Soloman Handler, No. 85 East Third street, and as a result of their accusations he was arraigned on charges of felonious assault.

The girls told their story, a story that has ben told many times before in the court. For just as long as girls will "barney" (their own name for riding with strangers) there will be men who will not understand that they are just out for a pleasant evening and the results may be similar to those in the case of these two girls.

According to their story, they were walking along Church avenue and Fifty-fifth street and saw Handler talking to a policeman.

Doubtful at First

And as they strolled by in their dainty summer frocks, Handler they said, stopped conversing with the police and pulled up alongside them, and questioned:

"How about my taking you home in my car?"

At first they were doubtful about accepting, but arguments in favor of the ride dispelled their doubts. After all they were two and nothing can happen when two girls are together Then there was the fact that the man had been talking to a policeman and anybody doing that must certainly be respectable.

They did not realize that probably hundreds of girls have figured the situation out in just the same manner. And particularly now in the Summer —when an auto ride seems very tempting. There are hundreds of beautiful cars speeding along the boulevards in Queen's County, and the three covered roads of Westchester and hundreds, and perhaps thousands of girls are accepting rides from strangers. The girls call this "Barneying." That is, they "Barney" their way to the beaches or the parks

In many instances these young women protect them selves partially against insult when they go riding. They carry "mad-money" with them two or three dollar in cash, so that should the man become impertinent they are able to leave him and travel home alone. This money, descriptively called "mad-money," might have proved useful to these two girls, but they appeared not to have been so far-sighted so that they were at the mercy of motorists when they were put out of the car.

Bandaged in Court

So these girls stepped into Handler's car, and they drove along Ocean Parkway. They declared that he became impertinent, and when they resisted, they said, he first threw Miss Skelly out of the car, and a little while later Miss Wagner. Miss Wagner claims that Handler struck her in the face and threw her out backward as the car was moving.

The two were taken to the hospital where their injuries consisting of bruises for Miss Skelly and a broken nose and arm for Miss Wagner were treated. They wore bandages in court yesterday.

Motorists who saw what happeined notified the police who pursued and arrested Handler. He was held in $2,500 bail for a hearing Tuesday.

FIRES UNDER CONTROL.

Rains in Alberta and British Columbia Quenched Flames.

GALGARY, Alta., July 19. — The firest fire situation in Alberta and British Columbia has passed from a dangerous to a comparatively safe condition in the past few days. According to reports issued Friday from the Calgary forestry offices, rain has helped quench the fires in most of the districts affected.

From the Crow's Nest comes the report of dry conditions but no fire.

At Revelstoke there have been showers and the fires there, while still burning, are fairly well in hand.

On Lesser Slave Lake reserve, in Alberta, there are no new fires and those burning have been soaked well by a heavy rain.

The Clearwater reserve reports one fire which is under control after twelve hours' heavy rain.

NEW OFFICERS HOLD MEETING

Kiwanis Executive Prepare For Activities of the New Year.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 19.—The first meeting of the new officers and trustees of Kiwanis International, recently elected at the annual International Convention at Denver last month, will be at the Drake Hotel in Chicago to-day. The Board of Trustees represents all sections of the United States and Canada.

The work of this meeting will be to outline the policies to guide the activities of all Kiwanis clubs for the next year. Of particular importance will be the planning for enlarged activities in the realm of the public affairs of the two countries and in drawing up plans for the erection of the Kiwanis Harding memorial at Stanley Park, Vancouver, Canada, where the late President, who was a charter member of the Kiwanis Club of Marion, O., had made one of his last public addresses, which stressed the need for continued friendly relations between Canada and this country.

This memorial will have unusual significance in contributing toward these relations, because of the international character of Kiwanis and because it is in the name of a President of the United States who, when he broke all precedents and visited Canada, did much to strengthen the friendship and peace between the two countries.

J. Walter C. Taylor of Montreal, Vice-President of Kiwanis International, and who was chairman of the Canadian division of this International committee which arranged for this Canadian participation, in speaking of Kiwanis, said: "Kiwanis will be one of the greatest powers for moulding public opinion in America. One good work it is doing is to make that invisible line which stretches from coast to coast remain invisible."

The Canadian clubs will be active with the study and observance of "Canadian Citizenship Week," which will go into the origin, sources and nature of the rights and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship. Canadians have no Constitution such as is the foundation of the government of the United States. This occasion will be comparable with "Constitution Week" in the United States, which has such widespread observance and which is the reason for proclamations by Governors of States during the week of September 14-20. They will also work on the problem of establishing agencies and methods to stimulate immigration and handle the assimilation of newcomers.

The Kiwanis clubs of the United States will lend their influence to favor reduction in the cost of government, to the unity of the law of sales in interstate and foreign commerce in the United States, and to tax reduction and budget programs. They will intensify their activities in fostering a fuller realization of the responsibilities of patriotic citizenship.

MILITIA GRANT IS INADEQUATE

Might Just as Well Wipe Out the Service, Said Mewburn.

EFFICIENCY REDUCED.

OTTAWA, July 19. — (Canadian Press).—When the main estimates for militia services, totalling $8,907,115, came up in the House of Commons last night there was a lively discussion of Canada's army. General S. C. Mewburn, former Minister of Militia, said that an adequate militia could not be maintained on so small a vote. The tendency seemed to be to reduce the service steadily in efficiency. The Government might just as well wipe out the service now and be done with it.

Brig.-Gen. J. A. Clark (Conservative, Burrard) endorsed Gen. Mewburn's remarks. Major C. G. Power (Liberal, Quebec) also agreed. However, it seemed to him that the Canadian forces had too many officers, too many generals who ought to be colonels, too many colonels who ought to be majors and too many majors who ought to be buck privates. When he mentioned the absence of any present threat of war, General Clark asked him if he did not also feel like that in 1914. Major Power said perhaps he did, but if there was one thing the world learned between 1914 and 1918 it was that preparedness did not avert war. He thought that at present Canada should stop spending money on the training of a non-permanent militia.

J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg Centre) protested against the expenditures on militia and the use of militia in strike areas. Between the Atlantic and the Pacific between a friendly republic and an unfriendly Arctic, Canada needed no military organization.

Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, interrupted to suggest that one reason why Canada must maintain a military force was that there were organizations composed of so-called Labor men, whose aim and object was to rise up and seize Canadian industries.

DOUBLE EXECUTION.

First Legal Hanging in St. Louis in 17 Years.

ST. LOUIS, July 19.—(Canadian Press).—Charles Merrell, 23, and Hugh Pinkley, 25, convicted slayers of Patrolman Michael O'Connor, were hanged at 4.08 p.m. Friday. It was the first legal execution in St. Louis in seventeen years.

The double hanging was virtually simultaneous. The men stood on parallel trap doors on the sixth floor of the City Jail and were dropped through the ceiling to the fifth floor.

MILE IN TWO MINUTES.

TOLEDO, O., July 19.—Merriman, driven by Thomas Murphy, clicked off the fastest mile of the year when he came home in 2 minutes at in the first heat of the free-for-all pace, the feature event of getaway day of the Grand Circuit meeting at Fort Miami Park. Friday, Sir Roch won the event. Margaret Dilion, the third entry, was sent into the race lame and could not hold the pace.

NEW GRAIN CROP GAINS MILLIONS AS PRICE SOARS

More Than Fifty Millions Already Added to Value of Saskatchewan's Wheat.

IF PRICE MAINTAINED

Remnant Stock From Last Year Selling at a Higher Level.

REGINA, Sask., July 19.—More than $50,000,000 has been added to the value of the Saskatchewan 1924 wheat crop by the 42 cents a bushel jump in price recorded in the past six weeks, provided, of course, the price holds till the marketing period.

That figure is arrived at by taking the wheat acreage at 12,000,000 and cutting one bushel an acre from the averages crop for the past ten years. In other words estimating the growing crop at 14 bushels to the acre. In bushels that brings the estimate of the 1924 crop to 169,000,000 as compared with 252,000,000 bushels in 1923.

Not counting the tremendous additional money paid to farmers in the past two weeks (figures are sot available as to the amount held but is known to have been considerable) $70,560,000 extra money will pour into the pockets of Saskatchewan farmers as a result of the higher price if it holds.

By reason of price fluctuations the aggregate value of the wheat produced in Saskatchewan in 1922 was $212,642,000 and in 1923 with a bigger crop, it was $164,204,000.

Five Millions Increase

WINNIPEG, July 19. —Westers Canada has been benefitted to the extent of not less than $5,000,000 on the portion of the 1923 wheat crop remaining under the control of western farmers and dealers, through the recent advance in prices.

Boon to U. S. Farmers

The wealth of farmers in the United States has been increased by $1,000,000,000 since the first of this year, according to estimates of New York bankers, all of this gain having come in the last month and a half. This rapid change in agricultural conditions, bankers say, had much to do with the marked improvement in business sentiment in the last few weeks.

With little to go on other than steadily advancing commodity prices, the stock market, which serves as a barometer of business condition in general, has advanced eight points in seven weeks in the average price of fifty representative railroad and industrial stocks. Prices have recovered their full loss suffered after February, with a margin left over.

But stock market gains have been small in comparison with the great enhancement in prices that has fallen to the lot of farmers. Further high marks for the year Thursday carried wheat to a closing price on July options of $1.30 1-2 a bushel, a gain of 26 3-4 cents in seven weeks; July corn to $1.12 3-4, a gain in the same period of 36 5-8 cents; July oats to 56 5-8 cents, a gain of 13 cents a bushel, and July rye to 85 7-8 cents a gain of 19 3-8 cents a bushel.

Underlying this spirited upward movement has been evidence that weather condition would prevent overproduction in the United States this year, and reports from Canada indicate that the record crop of last year would not be duplicated in 1924 It was the Canadian wheat crop which unsettled wheat prices last year and closed a prospective world market to American farmers. This year, if estimates prove anywhere near accurate, the Canadian crop will not repeat. Still another factor was a report from Russia that the crop of that country would be enough to meet only domestic requirements.

AMERICAN SENTIMENT.

Charles E. Hughes Makes a Statement on European Situation.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, July 19.—(United Press). — "American sentiment is strongly behind the experts' report as it now stands, and we believe prompt execution of the plan is of the greatest consequence," Charles E. Hughes, American Secretary of State, said to-day in an interview with the United Press upon his arrival aboard the Berengaria. Hughes was in a holiday mood, up and ashore before 8 o'clock this morning, checking his baggage personally through the Customs. He refused good naturedly to be drawn into a discussion of whether the experts' plan could be altered. The Secretary of State also firmly declined to discuss international affairs, saying, "I am looking forward with the happiest anticipation to meeting my colleagues of the Bar Association; otherwise my visit to Europe is a private one." Hughes will attend a convention of the Bar Association and afterwards visit Paris and probably Berlin.

APPOINTED REGISTRAR.

QUEBEC, July 19. —(Canadian Press.)—Emmanuel D'Anjou, Federal member for Rimouski county, in the House of Commons, has been appointed Registrar for the District of Rimouski by the Provincial Cabinet. This makes two Quebec seats whereby elections will be necessary, St. Antoine division being already without representation since the resignation of Hon. W. G. Mitchell.

OTTAWA HOUSE WILL WIND UP LONG SESSION

National Defence Estimates Started Another Discussion.

PROROGUE TO-DAY. A Review of the Bills Passed During Present Session.

OTTAWA, July 19 (Canadian Press). — The National Defence Estimates found the House of Commons last night in a disputatious mood, and started discussion which bade fair, with other estimates yet to be passed, to result in an all-night sitting.

Consideration of the Militia votes had not proceeded far before an amendment to reduce to the vanishing point the vote for Cadet services.

The total vote for this purpose was $450,000, and Miss MacPhail (Progressive, South-East Grey) moved that it be cut by $400,000.

"We went overseas to kill Prussianism," said Miss MacPhail, in discussing this item "and, like smallpox, we caught it."

T. G. McBride (Progrsesive, Carihoo) came out strongly in support of the Cadet movement, but it was criticised by Robert Forke, the Progressive leader, who declared that military training was one of the greatest evils of the day.

The MacPhail amendment was defeated by 73 to 33, all the Liberals and all the Conservatives and about a dozen Progressives voting in the majority.

Prorogue To-day.

When the House of Commons adjourned at 6.30 a.m. this (Saturday) morning, having deliberated since 11 a.m. on Friday, all the routine business of the House had been transacted, estimates voted and the Supply Bill passed.

The business session set for 12.30 p.m. is expected to be brief, Senate legislation being the biggest potential factor.

Prorogation is set for 3 p.m., the Governor-General having called Parliament together at that hour for the purpose.

Baron Byng leaves at 11 p.m. for a tour of the West.

Independent Progressives did not permit the passage of the Supply Bill without a struggle. On the third reading, E. J. Garland moved seconded by J. T. Shaw, that it be referred back to the Committee of the Whole, with instructions that it be reduced by $20,000, which he estimated as the probable cost of the "junket and joy ride" which the Parliamentary Party proposed to take to Wembley. In doing so, he had in mind the unemployment which was rife.

"Misery would result from the Government's failure to reimburse the Home Bank depositors" and the possibility of crop failure in the West.

Premier King said that the Government had reduced the Wembley party as ordinarily planned, to two Liberal whips, the chief Conservative whip, and the chief Progressive whip. It was hoped that the two latter could go. The press party was reduced. The entire cost of the party was not expected to exceed $6,000.

Review of Session.

Parliamentarians will leave for their homes throughout Canada, are able to review the following items adopted by Parliament.

Inauguration of a scheme for federal bank inspection.

Provision for incorporation of tariff advisory board.

Passage (in vain because of Senate action) of bills covering C.N.R. branch lines.

Redistribution of electoral districts in Canada.

Provision of legislation for Toronto viaduct and Montreal bridge.

Provision for terminal facilities at Halifax and Vancouver.

Approved trade treaties with Belgium and Finland, and decided to investigate matter of West Indian trade.

Acceptance of "moral obligation" to Home Bank depositors.

Ratification of rum running pact, Britain and the United States.

Formation of National Advisory Comittee and joint engineering board to report upon St. Lawrence development.

One divorce bill was introduced in the House of Commons for third reading just before the House concluded its all-night sitting before prorogation.

Unless some loophole is found whereby proper notice can be waved the bill will stand over until next session.

It failed by 24 hours to reach the order paper.

Outstanding Events.

The two outstanding events of the session of Parliament which closes this afternoon, were the chance of direcrtion in the Government tariff policy and the Church Union Bill. The former gave a new stimulus to political speculation and a new drift to political currents. The latter attracted more attention than has been aroused by private legislation for many a long year and precipitated a struggle which at times was marked by great bitterness.

The main fight over the Church Union Bill took place in the Private Bills Committee of the House of Commons. Two weeks were spent there in hearing statements from the opposing sides, and nearly a month was consumed before the bill was back in the House. In the meantime some amendments had been ade with a view to meeting the desire of anti-unionists that they should not have to vote themselves out of the united church, but the main amendment which was inserted at the instance of the opponents of the bill provided that it should not come into effect until after dispute as to the powers of the Presbyterian General Assembly and the powers of the Federal Parliament had been decided by the courts. The second amendment was removed from the bill in the House of Commons, but in the Senate another amendment was inserted. The Senate amendment provided for a vote by ballot at a meeting of congregations, the meeting to extend over two weeks. This amendment was acceptable to the unionists.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Two Churches Hold Picnics Yesterday Afternoon.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 19.—The annual picnics of two of the churches in town were held Friday afternoon at Percy Boom, the happy children being conveyed to the gathering place in autos, the use of which was donatd by the members of the several congregations. Many of the older people took advantage of the outing and elders and juniors alike thoroughly enjoyed themselves on the beautiful grounds. Each school had a programme and these were run off separately but the two denominations joined with true fraternal spirit at the close of the afternoon in a soft ball game, each church being represented by a nine made up of its sturdiest members, the pastor of each playing an opposing sides. Rev. G. E. Clarke and Mr. W. Baker were the battery for the Anglicans but the former was relieved toward the close by I. A. Humphries. For the Presbyterians the battery work was done by Rev. C. F. McIntosh, and J. C. Birmingham, and D. W. Douglas and Thomas Hodgson the latter a visitor from Montreal. The final score was 21 to 14 in favor of the Presbyterians.

The balloon race between four ladies and as many gentlemen, created no end of amusement and was won by the former.

The winners of the different events on the programme were as follows:

Race for boys, from 4 to 5—1 Douglas Haig, 2 Billy McEachern.

Race for girls, between 6 and 7—1 Georgie Nesbitt; 2 Phillys Adamson.

Girls between 8 and 9—1 J. McEachern; 2 Jean Haig; 3 Peggy Ketcheson.

Boys between 8 and 9—1 Paul Douglas ; 2 Walter Twigg; 3 Don Dure.

Girls from 10 to 11—1 Ruby Town send 2 Mary Ellis; 3 Ella Cock.

Boys from 10 to 11—1 Melville Dunk; 2 Lorne Scott; 3 Don Walters

Girls, from 12 to 13—1 Margaret Cock; 2 Evelyn McKelvie, 3 Maggie Waddell.

Girls 14 to 18—1 Helen McDonald 2 Jean Anderson; 3 V. Dunk .

Teacher's race 1 Miss Verna Haig; 2 Mrs. J. D. McEachern; 3 Miss Winnifred Hay; 4 Mrs. R. Bell.

Sack race No 1—1 Paul Douglas 2 Walter Twigg .

Sack race No. 2—1 Eric Douglas 2 Lester Henson.

Peanut race for scholars in classes up to 11 years— won by Ruby Town send of Mrs. D. Milne's class.

Peanut race for scholars in the older classes—won by Eric Douglas of Mrs. John Storie's class.

No record was kept of the winners of the races for the scholars of the Anglican Sunday school.

Percy Boom is the favorite picnic grounds for the Sunday Schools of the district. Besides those held yesterday the schools from Morganston Warkworth and Wooler held their annual outing there during this week

G. W. Haig and T. S. Baker have taken cottages for the summer. This is apparently a bad year for mosquitoes as none of these pests have been in evidence so far and the season for them is now over.

HASTINGS WON LACROSSE GAME

Good Brand of Lacrosse With Havelock as the Oppostion.

HASTINGS, July 19. — In the presence of an unusually large crowd of spectators, both from home and abroad, Hastings Junior lacrosse team were winners in another lacrosse feature on Friday afternoon.

The visitors are a very clever aggregation, and are speedy as well as good stick-handlers. The home team were not nearly up to their usual standard, which was largely due to their lack of practice.

The ball was faced at 4.30 p.m., and travelled nowhere in particular for a few minutes. The game started off ragged, neither team showing good lacrosse. Havelock had the edge of the play, as Hastings was weak on covering up. Jacks scored the first goal of the game for Havelock in the first four minutes of play.

In the second period Havelock again pressed strong as the locals had not as yet struck their usual stride, and much the same brand of lacrosse was shown as in the first. Wells was the only one to tally in the second, the score card then tallying 2-1 in favor of the visitors.

With the opening of the third it looked as though Hastings were not going to have a look in, but finally both teams commenced showing a decided improvement, and started to play a fair brand of lacrosse. Hastings proved too strong for the visitors, two goals being scored, one by Baker and one by Gould, tying the game, the period ending with both teams fighting hard.

The last period opened with the locals fighting like tigers, and both teams made strenuous efforts to break the tie, which Plunkett succeeded in doing. Determined not to be outwitted on their own grounds, Dit Clapper scored a nice clean goal, which again tied the score. Baker saved the day for the locals by another goal, and loud were the cheers from the spectators, who were very enthusiastic over the victory.

The goals scored were in the first and second, one each for Wells and Jacks for Havelock. In the third one each for Baker and Gould for Hastings. In the fourth one by Plunkett for Havelock and one each for Clapper and Baker.

Penalties—Hastings, Gould one minute, Scott one minute and Gould five minutes. Havelock—Brennan five minutes, Plunkett one minute.

Interim Second Class Certificates —Lois C. Garrett, Lois M. Richardson, Elsie Sayers.

In the recent High School Entrance Examinations for the Inspectorate of Centre Hastings, Tweed schols made a good showing. The Consolidated school sent up 18 candidates and all passed, 8 with honors, and one pupil, Cecil Pipe, stood third in the Inspectorate. The Separate school had 12 candidates; only one failed, and two obtained honors. Six per cent of those who wrote belonged to Tweed schools and they obtained 32 per cent. of the honors.

The staffs of the two schools have every reason to feel elated over the success of this years work.

PITCHED BATTLE IN GREEK GROUP

Deputies All Night Session Winds Up in Free For All Fight.

ATHENS, July 19. — United Press — Ambulances were summoned to the Chamber of Deputies early today, as an all-night session broke up at 7 a.m. in a pitched battle, in which an ex-minister, an admiral, and a deputy were seriously wounded and a score of deputies were badly beaten.

The Chamber was expected to reconvene later in the day, however, to express its confidence in the Cabinet.. Clashes were frequent during the night.

M. Hadjikyriacus, the former Minister of Marine, and Admiral Caccilides, were set upon by a group of Deputies and beaten unconscious.

The Cretan deputy, M. Gregoriou, suffered severe wounds from canes.

The denunciation of the government by all the opposition groups, except that of M. Michalagopus, began most of the rioting.

NEWS FROM MADOC.

Americans Like the Fishing at Moira Lake.

MADOC, July 19. — A party of Americans spent Thursday at Moira Lake fishing.. The fishing is reported to be especially good this year. Several fine lunge have been caught, and plenty of bass and pickerel.

The improvement is no doubt due to the fact that proper protection was afforded the fish last winter, when the officials of the law exercised their authority in preventing the wholesale netting and fishing through ice-holes that has been prevalent for a number of years.

Huckleberries Ripe.

Huckleberries are ripe, but the first pickers have a tale of hard luck in the vicinity of Madoc. Perhaps those who propose going further north the beginning of the week will find them more plentiful, but in this immediate district the prospects are poor.

Change Business.

Another change is about to take place in Madoc's business section. The firm of Hoard & Moorecroft, boot and shoe retailers, is selling out.

Normal Results.

The Normal School results were very encouraging to the future teachers of this town. All the students from Madoc attending Toronto and Peterborough Normal Schools were successful.

Among those who passed were Miss Eva Rupert of Toronto Normal School, and Misses Vera Keene, Aileen Higgs, Mary Foote, and Anna Smith, of the Peterborough Normal School.

COW MOOSE RELEASED.

Tragedy of the Woods Averted in the North Country.

FRENCH RIVER, Ont., July 19.—A tragedy of the woods was averted near here to-day when Conductor Tom Reynolds, on board the Canadian Pacific flyer, "The Trans-Canada," noticed a badly exhausted cow moore caught in the right of way wire fence, just west of MacKay Station.

When the Trans-Canada stopped at Mattawa for water, Reynolds notified the train despatcher there, and the telegraph wires were set to work with the result that an oncoming freight was stopped to pick up the agent at MacKay, who was quickly carried to the scene, and by means of a pair of wire cutters liberated Madame Moose, who later strolled off into the bush apparently not much the worse for the misadventure, which might easily have proved fatal.

CAUSTIC COMMENT.

W. E. Raney's Remarks Not Appreciated By Government Leaders.

TORONTO, July 19. — (Canadian Press.) — Premier Ferguson and Attorney General Nickle yesterday made brief but caustic comment upon Hon. W. E. Raney's criticism of the Government regarding the liquor plebiscite.

"I don't know that I owe any political debts. But Mr. Raney owes the province a debt he can never repay for the four years he was in here," remarked Premier Ferguson. This was the Premier's only comment on the former attorney-general's charge that he was holding the plebiscite to pay an election debt. Speaking generally of Mr. Raney's criticism the Premier said: "The only way to secure the approval of a man of his type is to subject yourself entirely to his views. He had four years' try at the problem, and as far as we can ascertain conditions have been much improved since he left office."

Part of Raney's statement yesterday was a criticism of the enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act. He referred to newspaper report about over-strength beer being sold in bars and stated: "Mr. Ferguson coud put an end to that kind of thing in Toronto, and elsewhere in Ontario where it has recently come to exist, inside of 24 hours."

"That's more than Mr. Raney could do in four years," was the laconic comment of Attorney-General Nickle when his predecessor's remarks about enforcement were brought to his attention.

HOUSE DROPPED

must be prescribed by conditions as they are. "The men working in the printing bureau and on this building," he said, "are working only 44 hours a week. Does the member ask that these government employees have foru hours added to their working week?"

Not before the House.

Mr. Meighen said the merits of the eight-hour day were not before the House. He thought the short hours were being overdone, and that where relief should be extended was to those who had to toil long hours at hard la' or rather than to clerical staffs. He agreed that Canada is bound by the principal of the Geneva convention and saw little use in taking the case to the Supreme court. The Justice Department had already defined the boundaries. On Federal prescribe an eight-hour day, and otherwise it was a matter for the provinces. Having subscribed to the eight hour principal at Geneva, the country had to consider in the not distant future whether to go on under the convention or get out from under it. He thought some progress might be made, but he opposed Woodsworth's amendment as designed to invade provincial jurisdiction.

A Vicious Thing.

R. A. Hooey thought it would be a "vicious" thing to declare certain works, the Empire Steel Corporation for example, to be "for the general advantage of Canada, and prescribe an eight-hour day, the while others alongside had a ten-hour day.

Woodsworth finally withdrew his amendment and Irvine then substituted one for an eight-hour day on Government works alone. The Woodsworth amendment had gone further and asked power to enable the government to declare certain works for the general advantage of Canada and to prescribe therein an eight-hour day. As Irvine, having spoken, was stopped from moving the amendment, Garland of Bow River fathered it.

DE VALERA OCCUPIED.

DUBLIN, July 19. — (United Press).—It was learned to-day that Eamonn De Valera, erstwhile "President of the Irish Republic," who was released from a Free State internment camp this week, after a year's imprisonment, spent his time in captivity studying Einstein's theory of relativity. De Valera was at one time a professor of mathematics.

SATURDAY, JULY 19, 1924.

THE CORNER TURNED.

In spite of the wails of the pessimists that conditions in general are very bad in Canada and are getting worse, the silver lining to the dark cloud of depression continues to grow brighter.

The Ottawa bulletin on the condition of Canada's trade furnishes good cause for rejoicing.

The figures show that the Dominion is increasing its sales abroad, while our people are reducing their purchases from other countries.

The favourable trade balance is growing steadily.

During April, May and June of this year exports from Canada totalled $240,250,376, an increase of $16,000,000 over the same period last year, and of more than $67,000,000 over those three months of 1922.

At the same time imports totalled $198,657,221, a decrease of some $36,000,000 from last year's figures for the same period.

The figures for June alone show a much greater proportionate decrease, and altogether the statement indicates that Canada's trade is in a very healthy condition.

Coupled with this optimistic return, the announcement that the jump in the price of wheat will provide the farmers of this Continent with a billion dollars more revenue this year than last, should broadcast throughout the country a confident feeling that the corner has been safely turned and that Canada is on the highway to prosperity and good times.

A LONE FIGHT.

The Ottawa Journal hastens to the defence of the Board of Pension Commissioners, intimating that the agitation against them arises because they have been concientious and efficient enough to keep those who did not deserve pensions from raiding the treasury.

In this view the Journal overlooks the fact that the protest against the Commissioners is general, and that the situation has driven such men as General Turner, V.C., to enter into the fight for justice for the men who fought and their dependents.

It is true, of course, that some of the clamour does come from a class of veterans who are entitled to no more consideration than they have received, and who have merely tried to secure some easy money.

They used to call such soldiers "lead-swingers" in the army.

But when to this clamour is added a chorus of complaints from genuine veterans in all parts of the country, and when distinguished leaders add their voice to the protest, the pressure of evidence against the board is too strong to be ignored.

The Parliament Committee of the House of Commons which has been investigating the question during the session recommends a shake-up as the only solution of the question.

Our Ottawa friend in its spirited defence of the present Commissioners finds itself outvoted—and fighting alone.

WHAT ABOUT THE QUESTIONS?

The people of Ontario now know the date on which the O. T. A. piebiscite will be held, but they will have to wait until September before learning just what questions they will have to decide by their ballots.

Premier Ferguson has at last broken silence and announced that Thursday, October 23rd, will be the day upon which the vote will be taken.

But at the same time he has issued an official statement in which he informs the people that the Cabinet will further consider the form in which the questions will be submitted, and will not announce these questions until September.

There does not seem any sound reason why the whole information could not have imparted in the one statement.

Mr. Ferguson and his associates have had plenty of time to formulate the questions to be voted upon, and why, with the date decided upon, the definite issues could not be placed before the electors at the same time is a conundrum to which the Premier alone can supply an answer.

The campaign will probably get under way at once, but until the Government sees fit to enlighten the people as to the exact nature of the various clauses of the plebiscite a good deal of the fighting in the early part of the contest will be of little purpose.

Perhaps the Government is of the opinion that a short and snappy campaign is better than a long drawn-out argument.

If so, however, why announce the date so far ahead and keep the issue a mystery?

THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS.

Thursday's Rotary Carnival not only served to show what can be accomplished by enlisting the community in an effort on behalf of a worthy cause, but it also emphasized once again the value of the Exhibition Grounds as a community asset.

The thirty-acre park, with its grandstand, racetrack, buildings, baseball diamonds and cricket and football pitches, is an ideal spot for such occasions as that of Thursday.

It was possible to play two or three games at once, and at the same time to keep the programme on the track moving.

There are few more commodious or better laid out grounds in the country, and the many visitors who saw them at their best on Thursday were outspoken in their admiration.

What Peterborough would do without such a grounds it is impossible to conjecture.

That they are still available is due to the public-spiritedness and generosity of the late R. A. Morrow in leasing them at a figure that might be described as nominal in order that the Peterborough Exhibition might continue to operate and that the grounds would remain at the service of the people of Peterborough for recreation purposes.

It was the attitude of a citizen anxious to serve the best interest of his home community, and Mr. Morrow should be held in very grateful memory by the people generally.

There are few finer grounds for exhibition or general community purposes in any part of Ontario, and it would be a calamity were they to become unavailable for their present use.

HE PROFITS BEST.

A few years ago a group of business men began to come together in different offices to discuss the problem which they had in common. Though each business had its own peculiar and special problem, these men soon learned that the basic principles were the same. And they found they could both give and receive advice which would help in meeting their own difficulties.

Out of those little gatherings there has grown one of the leading associations of business men that has become international. It represents a cross section of all the business and professional activities in which men are engaged. On the same day in the week, throughout the world, there gather great groups of these men at luncheon to listen to an address from some expert in his particular field. One new organization a day has been added to the roster during the year.

What is the secret of this tremendous interest? Why is it that great crowds of business men, most of whom are talked to death, will come together every week and listen to a speech on a subject in which they may have no direct interest?

The secret is found in the slogan which has been adopted by the organization. One of the speakers at one time dropped the little phrase, "He profits most who serves best." That phrase caught the imagination of the hearers. As men pondered over it, they felt that it summed up the higher ideals which are now winning a prominent and controlling place in the commercial world. It expressed what they felt but had not yet phrased for themselves.

That phrase has been expanded into codes of practice which has been adopted by many different groups in the business world. These codes aim to instil into the mind of the employer and employee the fundamental principle that service is the most profitable element in any business transaction. They insist not only upon clean hands, the formula that, "honesty is the best policy," but they go further and assert that a generous dealing with men brings its own reward. As a result a new definition of a successful business man is rapidly becoming recognized:

"One who gives every man and class with whom he comes into business relation an opportunity to succeed."

In the creed recently adopted by the Advertising Clubs of America there is this striking sentence:

"I recognize the fact that the first requisite in success is not to achieve the dollar, but to confer a benefit; and the reward will come automatically and as a matter of course."

Of course, it must be admitted that this high ideal of service has not penetrated all the branches of industry. There is still rapacity and avarice in some quarters who regard the policy of "every man for himself and the devil take the hindermost" as most workable. But the silent revolution in the business world is going on. Much of the brutal, competitive industrialism which marked the passing age is itself passing. Society is taking effective methods of curbing exploitation. Both the predatory captain of industry and the predatory labor union are both regarded as foes of the commonwealth. Educated public opinion is rising against both. And business itself, working from within, is expounding its more profitable theory of service.

As one hears on all sides the bitter spirit of depreciation which is directed against business and business methods, and as one reads constantly of this or that company which runs afoul with the laws of the land, it is but natural that one would accept the judgment of the street that selfishness alone is profitable. It is well to recall this new attitude and new method of dealing which far-sighted men are evolving in their various industries. It bespeaks the significant fact that at heart American business is sound. The scum on the surface does not disclose the current. In fact, it hides the current. But the tendency of the casual observer is to note only the scum. This is obtrusive and evident. But underneath there is the deep flowing current of sound ideals and lofty purposes. And if one is inclined to depreciate our present economic order, one need but to review these various code of practice which many groups have put into operation. As these codes find a more general acceptance, as their significance is more fully realized, it is not too much to hope for a new economic order when every man will regard his wealth and ability not as a personal possession but as an instrument for advancing the fortunes of his fellows, in which he will administer joyfully whatever he holds for the welfare of all. This will happen when men are convinced that "he profits most who serves best."—Hoard's Weekly.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 18.—Cattle receipts of over 6,000 head at the Union Stock Yards on Monday was the signal for immediate lower bids on the part of all buyers and further weakness followed with the other three days' receipts which brought the total up to over 7,800. For export quality steers the price was off 25 cents a cwt. on Monday and by Thursday this had widened to 50 cents. Packers made a reduction of about the same on good choice butchers and bids on Thursday were as much as a dollar a cwt. below last week. Handyweight good to choice butchers were not too plentiful and did not weaken to the same extent as others, but even these were down 25 cents a cwt.

For export steers the top was $8 a cwt., but two heavy loads bought by one of the packing houses cost $8.25 and $8.35. Short space handicapped the exporters this week, but they were able to take care of practically everything suitable although they only paid $6.75 a cwt. for rough steers on Thursday. The main trouble with this week's market has been the oversupply of heavy half fat cattle. For domestic butchering these are almost unsaleable, and they have insufficient finish for overseas. The commission men are continually urging that such cattle be not brought in but financial necessity or poor cattle judgment prevents the advice being taken.

For home butchering at this season of the year the bullock that dresses out 500 to 550 lbs. is the only one in demand, and these of the best quality are still selling from $7 to $7.25 a cwt. For the few 1,100 to 1,200 lbs. butchers of choice quality wanted the price range is as high as $7.50. Good butchers are down fifty to seventy-five cents a cwt. below this and medium butchers about a similar amount below the good ones. The hard sellers this week were unfinished steers 1,100 lbs. and over and some of these sold well below $6 a cwt. Baby beeves were actually higher this week owing to too large a demand for the supply.

Cows and bulls were lower with other butchers, but the former were pretty well bought up. Very few cows brought over $5 a cwt. and good cows sold at $4.50 with mediums $3.50 to $3.75. The bulls in this week were mainly of poor quality and went for bologna purposes at $2.75 to $3.50. For feeders and stockers there was not much enquiry and prices were easier and the same could be said about the springer trade. The slump in prices this week will curtail shipments next week, and there will probably be some recovery in values, but shippers should be careful of sending in cattle as near finished as possible.

Calves jumped a good half dollar a cwt. this week, owing to competition for shipment to Buffalo, where tops are running close to 12 cents a pound. Tops here did not go over 10 cents, and the bulk of sold at 9 to 9½ cents. Good mediums were 8 cents, heavy grasser calves sold at 3½ to 4 cents.

With two dollars a cwt. off on buck lambs, the market for ewes spurted up to 15½ and 15¾ cents a pound, but light cull lambs sold at 10 to 11 cents. Handyweight sheep were wanted at 5 to 6 cents and thin ewes for the country were 6 to 7 cents.

Packers started in bidding $7.50 a cwt. for hogs on Monday, but the supply was light and less than 6,000 came in for the week. Prices easily advanced to $8 a cwt. and some sales were reported made 10 to 25 cents a cwt. above this.

A THOUGHT

"TO MY SON"

(The following is an extract from a French mother's last letter to her son.)

Work, be strong, have pride, be indeepndent. Ignore the trivialities which go with thy youth. Conserve thy strength of character for actions which are worthy of the effort. A time will come when I will not be here, then think of me, who have suffered and worked cheerfully. We resemble each other in spirit and in appearance. I know from the present what thy intellectual life will be, I fear for thee many deep sorrows, I hope for thee many pure joys. Keep within thee the treasure of kindness. Know how to give freely, to lose without regret, and to acquire honestly. Know how to cherish in thy heart the happiness of those whom thou loveth even if thy love is not returned. Retain the hope of another life; it is there that mothers meet their sons again. Love all of God's creatures. Forgive those who have erred, avoid those who are bad and devote thyself to those who by their virtues are great.

PIONEERS

Many now living can recall when railroad building was in its infancy. People hitched up Dobbin and drove 20 miles or more to see their first train.

Today our country has two and a half miles of railroad for every 1000 Americans. Total trackage is more than 264,000 miles. Practically all of this has come is 75 years.

With this precedent, it's a bit dangerous to predict that the airplane will never come into common use by the people. Airplane is no more remarkable to us than steam trains were to grandpa.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentry and colic are most prevalent. Any one of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Ow Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 19 (Canadian Press). — Wheat underwent a decided setback in price yesterday, owing largely to reports of drenching rains over parts of the Canadian North-West, and also as a result of big deliveries on July contracts at Winnipeg.

Closing prices here for wheat were unsettled, 4c to 4 5-8c net lower, September $1.24 5-8 to $1.24 7-8, and December $1.27 1-2 to $1.27 3-4, with corn 1 5-8c to 3 1-4c down; oats 1 1-8 to 1 3-4c off; and provisions varying from unchanged figures to 17c decline.

General selling took place in the wheat market right from the outset. A prevalent opinion was that such portions of the Canadian crop which had been planted late would receive benefit from the rainfall, even though a great deal of other wheat was beyond aid. Additional selling was influenced by lower quotations at Liverpool and by assertions that the purchasing had been overdone and that a reaction was due. Besides, the heavy profit-taking sales during a three-day continuous advance had apparently filled up the demnd for t lest the time being.

Lowest prices of the dy in the wheat market were reached just before trading ended and were hand in hand with news that deliveries at Winnipeg totalled 1,562,000 bushels.

Furthermore, crop estimates from Canadian sources were construed as bearish in relation to recent estimates from Chicago experts. The fact that South-Western domestic markets were receiving good amount of wheat on consignment acted, too, as something of a weight on values.

REPORT COMMENDS SUB AREA. COMM.

Work Very Commendable, Say Government Officials.

DUTIES DEFINED.

The February report of the chairman of the County Roads Committee deals at length with the Suburban Area Commission, outlining the function of that body, as explained by Mr. Muir, Chief Engineer of Municipal Roads.

It further states that Mr. Muir and Mr. McVicor, Superintending Engineer of County Roads in this district, were satisfied with, and highly comended the work being carried on by the Suburban Area Commission in Peterboro County.

Following is the report, presented to the County Council in session, Feb 8th, by r. H. B. Rye, chairman of the County Roads Committee:

Your committee beg to report as follows:

(1) On motion of Messrs. J. Scott and Breckenridge, Mr. Muir, the Chief Engineer of Municipal Roads, presented a map indicating the proposed change in road mileage in the county that should, in his opinion, be the mileage of the highway system consistent with the rate now struct by the County Council of the County of Peterboro.

(2) Mr. Muir assured the committee that the Suburban Area Commission is a body corporate, and that their duties and jurisdiction are defined in the Highway Act, and that their work in the County of Peterboro is very commendable judging by the results of their operations and the amount of money placed at their disposal.

(3) Mr. McVicor, the Superintending Engineer of County Roads in this district, who accompanied Mr. Muir to attend this meeting, on being requested to speak, stated that that the amount of money raised determined the amount of permanent work that will be done.

He also stated that at the present time the amount of money placed at the disposal of the County Roads Committee of the County of Peterboro was such that practiaclly no construction of roads can be carried out, consequently you are arriving nowhere.

He also stated that if the money was placed in such a manner that the heavily travelled roads, no matter what township such roads passed through, could be set out an ditched and properly surfaced, then the real object of the department would be obtained, but with your mileage and rate, nothing in the line of construction can be accomplished.

He also stated that the Suburban Area Commission with a limited number of miles, are making a showing in the County of Peterboro that will be lasting, and is also creditable to that body; and if your superintendent had some such provision for your county roads, you would find just such results as he has been able to accomplish on the Suburban area.

H. B. RYE, Chairman.

Rebels Getting Stronger.

No Hope For Cessation of Brazilian Warfare.

BUENOS AYRES, July 18 (Canadian Press). — Trustworthy information received here from Brazil early to-day indicates that the rebels are getting the upper hand in the fighting around Sao Paulo.

It is stated that the Federal Government has proposed to initiate decisive operations, but "the military chiefs do not entertain hopes of definite results."

Unless a political compromise is reached, the Brazilian warfare, which has now been waged for nearly two weeks between the Sao Paulo revolutionists and the Federal troops, promises to be long drawn out.

HAS LIFE'S HARD KNOCKS TAKEN THE FIGHT OUT OF YOU

If You Are In Your Twenties or Your Sixties, Why Lag Behind Others? Your Housework a Burden—Your Job a Bore? Feel as Good, Look as Well and Be as Active as Nature Intended, Through New, Natural, Genuine Phospho-Cod Nerve, Blood and Body Building Tonic. That's Not Guesswork, But Judgment.

Weakness, Fatigue, Run Down, Coughs, Colds Mean Loss of Nerve Strength

Your brain is the central power house of your nervous system; thousands of nerves, the wires. They carry the messages—the energy. Your muscles do the work. But you're not one whit stronger than your nerves—they are the source of all your strength. Through overwork, worry, grief, colds, hardship and neglect you become generally run down, fail to get your regular sleep, find it hard to do your work, and are played out at night. Perhaps you're restless, irritable, nervous and fidgety over everything you do. Your internal organs seem to get out of gear, stomach fails to digest food, forming gas and your heart palpitates. You have mean little headaches sometimes like a band around your forehead, cramps in your neck or legs, are constipated. Food don't agree, won't assimilate, you have disagreeable feelings and weakness almost all over. You're so discouraged. Appears there's something wrong with the world—whereas, there's something the matter with you. You're one of those run-down, worn out, tired, shattered, pepless, frazzled Canadians!

When Using Phospho-Cod You Notice—

First your appetite improves — Food smells and tastes good — Next you sleep better, awake refreshed, strengthened — If you had a cough or cold this soon disappears — Digestion is toned — Gas and bloating stops — Tissues nourished — There's pink in your cheeks — Soon you're in the pink of condition and the whole world looks rosy!

Put Pink In Your Cheeks; Get In The Pink of Condition Through Phospho-Cod Nerve, Blood and Body Building Tonic—Nature's Best Assistant.

Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you can enjoy "the blues" all by your lonesome. If you're a woman you no doubt sometimes feel like crying over it and possibly do occasionally. If you're a man you generally swear or at least feel like it. You say "nothing I take seems to help me — if I could only get something to brace me up." You must remember building health and strength is a natural process. In Phospho-Cod has been brought together a vital combination of elements needed to assist perfect nutrition and create a superior building tonic containing the vital hypophosphites of Lime — Manganese — Potassium — Sodium — Quinine and Strychnia which supply required mineral salts for nerve, bone and other body structure. Phospho-Cod also contains the essential valuable soluble extractives of Cod Livers prepared in such a manner as to be pleasant in taste and entirely free from the offensive odor and disagreeable taste usually present in Cod Liver preparations. These nutritive elements are next combined with the Extracts of Malt, Wild Cherries and Blood Root to which are then added Pure Glycerine, Pepsin and delicious, appetizing, rich Port Wine. This new and original formula represents a most effective, pleasant tasting Tonic and System Builder of the highest pharmaceutical standard of excellence, strength, purity and accuracy possible. A product which is being rapidly adopted and prescribed by representative physicians everywhere because of its reliability, efficacy and safety.

THE SYMPTOMS OF IMPOVERISHED BLOOD

Show in Pale Faces, Tired Feeling and Breathlessness.

People who are pale, languid, with palpitation of the heart and shortness of breath at slight exertion are suffering from thin, impure blood. If they have the resolution to take the right remedy and stick to it, they will find new health and strength. The remedy that can always be relied upon is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. With every dose they improve and invigorate the blood, and this new blood means health and strength. Mrs. A. Griffiths, Pierson, Man., is one of the many thousands who have proved the value of these pills. She says: "I was so badly run down in health that I was almost bedfast. The least exertion would leave me breathless. I suffered from headaches and backaches, and had no appetite. I could only drag about the house and found even light housework almost impossible. I tried several remedies, but they did not do me a particle of good. Then a friend came for a visit and she urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I had finished the second box I could feel that they were helping me. By the time I had taken four boxes more I was a well woman and every symptom of my trouble had disappeared. It would not be possible for me to say too much in favor of this medicine, and I always recommend it to run-down people, and have seen it prove just as satisfactory in other cases."

If you are weak and run down you can begin getting new strength today by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by writing to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FINE SIGNS HAVE BEEN ERECTED

Patte & Wolff Foxes Limited, Wall Sign For A. E. Micks.

A contract given by Patte & Wolff Foxes Limited to Messrs Harris & Boddy, sign painters and decorators, has just lately been completed and erected. It is a well executed piece of workmanship, designed and built entirely by Harris & Boddy, and erected at the fox farm near Chemong.

Mr. Patte, of the fox farm, has consderable complaint to make of the manner in which previous signs have been damaged, and it is his intention, if the same lack of regard is shown to private property by certain individuals, to make a Court case out of the event.

The design shows a black fox in a natural environment, and is so placed that it can be seen from quite a distance by passers-by on this much frequented road.

Harris & Boddy have executed another advertising display, covering pretty well the front part of the east wall of Mr. Micks 'store on Hunter Street. It illustrates a Treasure furnace, the one handled in the store, and is a real work of art in its way. 1d

At Last—Something Effective for Wrinkles!

It has been conclusively demonstrated that a simple home-made tarkroot paste, applied to the face, will very quickly eliminate wrinkles, worry, care and age marks. You need only mix a spoonful each of powdered tarkroot and lemon juice, spread this over your face, then sit down before your mirror and watch the unwelcome line disappear. In less than fifteen minutes your face will be as smooth and firm as a young girl's! Bagginess will also melt away—youthful contour will be restored. It's simply wonderful how this harmless mixture works.

The result, after the mixture is washed off the face, is infinitely better than from the most skillful face massage. And the cost is trifling—less than three cents per treatment. Any druggist can supply powdered tarkroot in original package. So there's no excuse for any woman looking so old, haggard or careworn.

A CAUSE OF WOMEN'S ILLS

WOMEN OFTEN THINK THEY HAVE HEART TROUBLE, INDIGESTION, NERVOUS PROSTRATION, ETC., WHEN IT'S SIMPLY IRON STARVATION OF THE BLOOD.

Many women believe they are weak and nervous as a result of age, worry and overwork; they think that their disturbed digestion, headaches, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, pains across the back, etc., are due to some serious diseases instead of the real cause—iron starvation of the blood. This is proven by the fact that when many of these same women take organic iron for awhile all their alarming symtoms quickly disapepar and they become strong, robust and healthy. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living cells and tissue. Without it nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the strength out of it.

If you are not strong well do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, but take some organic Iron—Nuxated Iron—at once. But be sure it's organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take and which is made merely by the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Organic NUXATED IRON is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and it often increases the bodily and mental vigor of weak, wornout women in two week's time.

Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N.I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.

ALLOW APPEAL ASSESSMENT

Property of Canada Cement Co. Reduced From $19,168.75 to $1,770.00.

DOURO LOSES.

In 1923, a tract of land east of Lakefield owned by the Canada Cement Company, Ltd., was assessed for $1,770.00. This year the assessment was raised to $19,168.75.

The Court of Revision of the Township of Douro would not consent to reduce the assessment, so the Company appealed from the decision of the local court. The appeal was heard before His Honour Judge Huycke and in a judgment delivered July 18, 1924, His Honour restores the original assessment to $1,770.00, finding no appreciable change in the value of the property, warranting any increase in assessment.

Mr. W. F. Huycke acted as counsel for the appellant, the Canada Cement Company, Limited and Mr. E. A. Peck for the respondent Township, the Municipality of the Township of Douro.

The following is a copy of the judgment:

"This is an Assessment Appeal from the decision of the Court of Revision of the Township of Douro. The lands whose assessment is complained of are certain lands, lots and parts of lots East of Lakefield and in what is known as Buckley's Lake, in fact constitute the so-called lake, or a major part of it. There are in all 758 acres which were assessed in 1923 for $1,770.00, and before that an approximate amount. In 1924, this year, the assessment was raised to $19,168.75. The assessment of this property is therefore multiplied by eleven, without any appreciable change in the value of the property, or any material alteration in the assessment of the surrounding property, or of the township generally. Such a change rather shocks one's sense of equity and should be remedied, unless it can be upheld on strictly legal grounds, and this it is attempted to do.

It is further shown that a farmer having some 25 or 30 acres of land projecting into this lake and a part of the lake, is assessed at $100.00 for this land, an assessment of $3.00 or $4.00 per acre, which by comparison becomes somewhat grotesque.

These lands were acquired at a nominal price a number of years ago by what was known as the Lakefield Portland Cement Company, and there were certain deposits of marl taken from the bottom of the Lake used in making cement in their plant at Lakefield. Buckley's Lake is rather a misnomer, it being a marsh rather than a lake, with some quantities of water at certain places, but mostly overgrown with rushes and surrounded by willows. It is of no use agriculturally, and the whole thing is said now to be rented for pasture for $15.00 a year. It is said to have been acquired by the Lakefield Company many years ago for a mere trifle.

The Lakefield Cement Company was taken over by the Canadian Cement Company, the present owner and appellant. The old Company, as stated, took out marl from the bottom and used it in the manufacture of cement at Lakefield, ceasing such operations in 1913. The present company have not used it at all. The marl is said to be of rather inferior quality and not good or economical for the manufacture of cement. It is further stated that marl is little used now at all for this purpose—having been superseded by limestone, which makes a better product and is more economical in the manufacture. The present company have acquired limestone deposits and intend manufacturing from this. It will be seen that the value of the land assessed as above stated is nominal, but the assessment was sustained by the Court of Revision of the township, I understand, and was argued before me, pursuant to s.s. 5 of Section 40 of the Assessment Act. This sub-section 5 reads as follows: 'In no case shall mineral land be assessed at less than the value of other land in the neighborhood used exclusively for agricultural purposes". This s.s 5 must, I think, be read in connection with and interpreted to some extent by the preceding s.s. 4.

It is stated that $25.00 is the average assessed value of the agricultural land in this neighborhood, and this is probably correct. It is therefore urged that the lands in question must be assessed for not less than that, and the assessment is placed at practically $25.00 per acre. This is done on the ground that the land in question is mineral land, and that is practically the sole and only question to be determined. Is this marl that was there, and some may be there yet, mineral—and is this land mineral land?

The evidence given before me, so far as it went, was to the effect that marl in any case was not a mineral. This evidence was given by officials of the company, and particularly by Mr. Frederick Kilbourne, its superintendent, who described it from a scientific standpoint. There is no evidence given to the contrary, but I am asked to find upon the general interpretation of the term that marl is a mineral.

Marl is scientifically stated to be a combination or mixture of corbonate of lime and clay. This under the action of water assumes certain properties, and the result of the combination is a somewhat plastic material known as 'marl.' The proportions of carbonate of lime and clay differ very materially in different marl deposits. In some the lime predominates, in others the clay. It is not shown that there is marl there now; a certain quantity was taken out and there is probably some left, perhaps a good deal, but this is not shown affirmatively.

If marl is assumed to be a mineral, this land is much in the same position as a worked out gold mine which has ceased to be profitable, because this marl, if such exists, is at the present time a liability and not an asset to its owners.

I have looked into this question very thoroughly, both from a scientific and legal standpoint. There is no decision in Canada exactly bearing on the point. Marl is certainly not a metal and it does not come out of a mine, because a mine, as technically understood, is an excavation under ground from which metals more or less precious, are taken and brought up. But there is no doubt that the word "mineral" is a wider term than metal, and perhaps than the word 'mine' or the products of a mine.

I have looked at a great number of statistics and cannot find in any of them speaking of export of minerals from any country, that marl has ever been included in such a list. The legal decisions upon cognate subjects are strangely contradictory. It has been decided in England that a deposit of china clay used for making porcelain and china dishes is a mineral under certain circumstances; whereas it has been further decided that a deposit of brick clay is not a mineral.

There would appear to be little doubt that in the deposit in question, the lime is of organic origin, coming from the shells of infinitesimally small creatures (mollusks) of bygone ages, and that the ordinary acceptation of the term would preclude it from being classed as a mineral.

It has further been held, both in the English and American courts, that mineral lands to be properly called 'mineral' must be profitable. The fact that land contains some gold or silver does not constitute it mineral land if the gold or silver does not exist in sufficient quantities to pay to work it. It is difficult to see how this definition can be strictly accurate because changing conditions might very well change the net value of the products.

It has been further held that to be mineral land it must be valuable for mining purposes, and in the English cases the test is—Have the minerals in these lands a value of their own, independent and separable from the rest of the soil? The Assessment Act does not define mineral or mineral land in any way. The Mining Act of Ontario does define what minerals shall consist of and definitely states that marl is not to be included in the list of minerals, and therefore under that Act marl is not a mineral. Thas is, however, not applicable I think in the interpretation of the Assessment Act. I do not think however that the said s.s. 5 in speaking of mineral lands refers to marl deposits, or similar deposits of stone, limestone, clay or similar substances. One reason for so thinking and holding is that the preceding section 4 referring to mineral lands refers specifically to grounds for storing minerals, obtaining them from the ground, concentrators, sampling plants, etc., which are evidently applicable only to the product and reduction of the more valuable metals, such as would be taken from what are known as actual mines or excavations in the grounds. As to this I refer to remarks of Meredith, C.J.C.P. in Foster vs. St. Joseph, 39 O.L.R. 527, which bears out this view, and is the only reference to this part of the Act that I can find, or have been referred to.

I therefore hold—Firstly: That the respondents have not shown affirmatively that there is now any marl there at all. Secondly: I hold that under the authorities, as I can find them, marl is not a mineral, and therefore the section cannot apply. Thirdly: I find that even if it were it adds no value to the soil or land in question, or if a mineral under a very broad acceptation of the term, that the section does not apply to it, because s.s 5 read and construed along with s.s 4 preceding refers to the more valuable minerals and not to such substances as clay, limestone or marl, all of more or less doubtful value.

The appeal therefore succeeds. The assessment will be reduced to what it was in 1923—$1,770.00, allocated in the same way among the different parcels as in 1923.

The appeal is therefore allowed. No order as to costs."

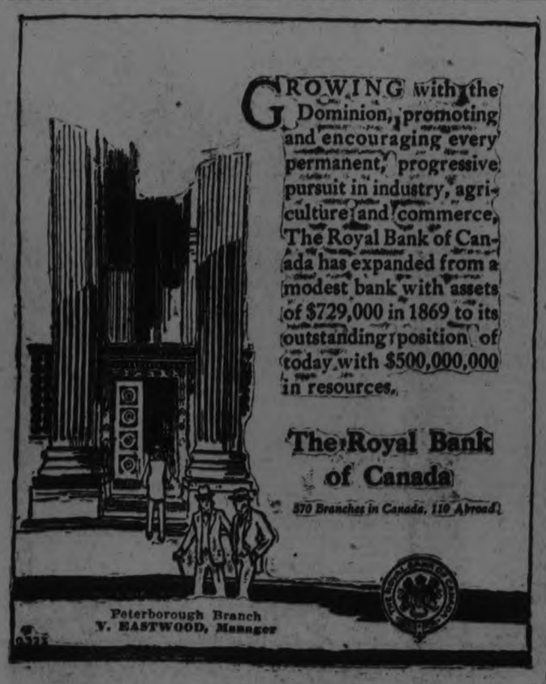
BRANCH LINE PASSED.

OTTAWA, July 19. — (Canadian Press).—In the Senate yesterday the China Clay Branch line, a distance of 2.3 miles, which was amended in the Senate restricting the expenditure to $29,750 per mile, was returned from the House of Commons with a motion that the Commons refused to accept this amendment, as the money voted was not sufficient to pay for the construction. The Senate then amended the bill making the expenditure $45,650 per mile, which was accepted by the Commons.



WHEN THE BABIES ARE CUTTING TEETH
THE MOTHER SHOULD USE

During baby's teething time, especially in the hot summer months, the bowels become loose and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps, etc. manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, and cankers form in the mouth.

This is the time when the mother should use "Dr. Fowler's," and, perhaps, save the baby's life.

FARM NEWS

PREPARE NOW FOR FALL FAIRS THE DISTRICT

Hints to Butter Makers in Preparing and Exhibiting.

MAKING BUTTER.

Neat Packages Must Be Used to Ensure Good Results.

During the next few weeks the fall fairs will be on all over the Province This means that many of the people on our farms will be very busy preparing their exhibits.

Butter is one of the many things that will require attention, because every buttermaker wants to make a creditable showing.

Clean Cows, Stables and Utensils

Have the stables, cows and all utensils, clean, and do not feed the cows anything that might give an undesirable flavor to the butter. The judge will pay particular attention to the flavor, and it is given 45 out of the 100 points on the score card.

Churn the cream sweet, or with low acidity, as that is what is wanted by most judges.

Keep the cream cool and churn at a temperature low enough to bring the butter in nice, firm granules in from twenty to twenty-five minutes.

A lot of butter shown at our rural fairs is made from cream insufficient ly cooled and is churned at too high a temperature. Because of this the body is weak and the color pale, or, if the sale is unevenly distributed, the butter will be streaky.

Points on the Score Card

All of these things are considered by the judge, as is shown by the score card, which read as follows:

Flavor	45
Texture	15
Incorporation of moisture	10
Color	10
Salt	10
Packing	10
Total	100

Keep the Cream Cool

If the weather is warm, the ice supply exhausted, and the water not cold enough to lower the cream to the required temperature,, it would be well to get a piece of ice to cool the "exhibition" cream and the water used for washing the butter.

This butter will be firm enough to stand sufficient working, and it will have better body and texture, im proved color and more even distribution of the salt.

If it should be necessary to add a few drops of coloring to the cream be careful not to add to add too much Better have the butter pale than to have it highly colored.

Do not wait until the morning of the fair to churn the cream. The butter will be in better condition and will score higher if it is made two or three days before. This will give it time to become "set" and the flavor of the butter and salt will be blended

Have Neat Packages

The packages must be as neat and tidy as it is possible to make them. Use a box or crock that looks new. A chipped or cracked crock will reduce the score under the heading of "packing."

When a person has made an effort to make a good product he has a feeling of satisfaction even though he does not win a prize. There is always this fact to bear in mind—the prizes are few in number but the competitors are often many.

MILLIONS LOST BY HOG CHOLERA.

Hog cholera caused a loss of more than $27,000,000 to the swine industry of the United States during the year ended April 30, 1924, according to a recent comilation by the United States Department of Agriculture. More than half of the total loss occurred in the corn belt states where hogs are especially numerous.

Eighty per cent of the losses from all causes are due to this dread disease. Most of this loss can be prevented by proper sanitation and the pre.entive-serum treatment.

GREY MITES ROB CHICKS' VITALITY

Impossible For Flock to Flourish When They Are Infested.

One of the greatest hot weather problems on the poultry farm is the control of external parasites. Of all such pests that trouble poultry in Canada the red mite is by far the most troublesome. These are not red in colour, as the name would lead one to suppose, but grey, and it is only when they become gorged with blood that they appear red.

They are not usually found on the fowl during the day, but in the cracks and crevices of the poultry house, where they breed rapidly. The young repeatedly cast their skins during development, and these casts appear on the roosts and at the side of the cracks as a white powder. This is often the first indication of the presence of the mites. At night when the birds are roosting, the pests will swarm over them piercing their skins with needle-like jaws, and sucking the blood. This results in a stoppage of egg-laying or in greatly reduced production.

Do not wait until you know mites are present. At the Dominion Experimental Farms the roosts and adjacent parts are painted or soaked every week or so throughout the warm weather with a solution of one of the coal tar disinfectants or a special paint made by diluting, either one of the coal tar disinfectants or crude carbolic, one part, to four or five parts of coal oil or fuel oil.

When the mites are known to be present a thorough house cleaning is in order. Remove all droppings and old nesting material, scrape and sweep out every particle of dirt and burn it. Sweep down the walls and with the aid of a spray pump saturate every crack in the house and the fixtures with a good strong disinfectant solution.

The control of lice is much easier, for while there are a number of different species, the same methods of control are satisfactory for all. The natural method of control is the dust bath; more effective if a little flowers of sulphur be added. However, there are always some birds in a flock that will not use the bath, so it is safest if lice are noticed to treat each bird individually. At the Central Expermental Farm blue ointment is used, a little being rubbed beneath the wings and below the vent, to kill the lice and any that may hatch.

For setting hens, depend on the dust and sulphur rubbed into the plumage, as the ointment will not only kill the lice but the germs in the eggs as well.

EQUIPMENT IS HIGH FOR THE RURAL WORKER

Comparison of Prices With a Few Years Back, Illustrate Farmers' Lot.

FALL WHEAT GOOD.

Large Quantities of Twine Bought by the U.F.O. Club.

The farmer was assured by the politician that the removal of the duty and sales tax on agricultural machinery would mean a saving in his expenditures for equipment; but this is how it actually works out:

A binder today costs more than it did a year ago even though the $13 sale taxes on every machine is actually saved to the farmer. Besides this the terms of payment are more rigid than they ever were.

The farmer who goes to the dealer now for a new binder finds that the price of the bare machine, the standard six-foot cut, is $255. If he wants a sheaf-carrier and a transportation truck, improvements formerly considered a part of every machine, these will cost him $21 more, bringing the total price up to $276.

There was a time when the farmers credit was good, but it is different now. On the delivery of the machine he is required to make a cash payment of at least 25 per cent. of the total price and to give a note or notes bearing interest of 7 per cent. for the balance. There was a time not so very long ago when the initial payment was not insisted upon, and when for prompt payment of his notes he was allowed a discount, equal to the rate of interest which he is now called on to pay.

The dealers are not responsible for these terms, as the conditions are insisted upon by the manufacturer.

Price of Binder Twine.

Fall wheat throughout the district is a good crop this year. Farmers and others who have travelled through the country smile in saying that they never saw a more uniform stand, with not a winter-killed spot in evidence anywhere. Harvesting this crop is now one of the problems that is confronting the farmer, as the grain is ripening rapidly in the fields. It will, it is estimated, require above eight pounds of twine to the acre this year, the quantity necessary depending, as it does, on the stand. The best quantity of twine as sold by the dealers this year, 650 feet to the pound, costs 16 cents. From present appearances the average yield will be 30 bushels of fall wheat to the acre. It will take at least one bushel of this to pay for the twine used in cutting an acre. In the old days men could be hired who would bind by hand at least three acres a day, the daily wages paid being $1, or less than the price of the twine now used to tie up one acre. The price of wheat is less, too, than it was in the days of hand labor.

There are two grades of twine in addition to the one mentioned above, that running 600 feet to the pound selling for 15 1-4 and the 500 feet to the pound brand bringing 14 cents. The variety that yields the most feet is made of a riper grade of raw material and is supposed to give the most satisfactory service.

What Co-operation Means.

Russell Peake, Secretary of the U. F. O. Club at Campbellford, brought in a quantity of twine for the members and this cost the consumer 13 1-4 cents a pound. Co-operation in buying as well as selling is keeping up the interest in the farmers' organization, although as an entity it is understood that it has dropped out of politics for good.

Other Prices Drop.

The farmer drives an expensive binder which reek out high-priced twine as it works, but the prices of what he sells are still on the toboggan. Tuesday there was another shipment of live stock from the Campbellford station. Hogs brought 7 3-4 cents, a drop of one-quarter of a cent in a week, and the price fo calves, live weight, in the same time tumbled from 8 to 5 cents a pound.

Arthur Rutherford of the Bonar Law district had six Shorthorn steers in prime condition, but for these there were no local offers, and the cattle were shipped to the Toronto market on speculation.

ALFALFA CHEAP HAY

Alfalfa hay is considered the cheapest hay, besides being the best. It costs less per ton than any other kind, recent observations in Minnesota have shown.

PEACH LEAF CURL

Peach leaf curl can be prevented wiht a spray of one to eight commercial lime-sulphur applications after the leaves fall in the autumn. Summer sprays are said to be practically worthless.

Worth Travelling To See

Old experienced cattlemen have come miles to see Sookie and her family of triplets. Sookie is a Jer sey cow, owned by J. A. Stuart, on his Ontario farm. Her family, consisting of a boy and two girls, is doing well.

LOCAL CROP REPORTS

DOURO.

DOURO, July 19.—Rain is badly needed. Haying is in full swing. Both clover and timothy are fair and in some cases poor. Winter wheat and rye are good, much better than spring crops. Late peas have been ruined with the pea louse. Early peas are also a failure in some cases. They failed to blossom probably on account of drought and the cold spring. Crops are said to be much better in the southern part of the township than the northern.

OMEMEE.

OMEMEE, July 19.—No scarcity of farm laborers was felt in this vicinity until this week when haying has commenced. Other work in town has also opened up and farmers are finding it difficult to secure help.

A gang of men arrived in town on Monday to make repairs to Crawford's Hill. The loose clay on the sides is being washed into the ditch on either side, thus filling it. The slope on the side o fthe hill is being cut down and the earth used to fill in the approach at either end of the mill bridge, which is about to be erected. Both of these jobs require a gang of men and many locals were soon ready for service.

BURNBRAE.

BURNBRAE, July 19.—Mr. Alfred Barnum of the ninth line, has started pioneer days again. He had a field which was infested with stone piles and builders, being very unpleasant to work about. About a month ago some twenty-five neighbors gathered and helped him build most of the loose stones into a stone fence, which is something of a rarity nowadays, but still quite serviceable. There still remained some large fast rocks, so Mr. Barnum was forced to resort to modern appliances, namely, dynamite. The neighborhood was treated to a slight shock one morning last week when he completed the job .The field is now in fine shape and will be seeded to fall grain.

The pastures are beginning to dry up and the milk flow in some cases is decreasing. Some farmers will feed grain to supplement the shortage, but a large number feel that with cheese below the sixteen cent mark grain feeding will not pay. Cheese prices have been very unsteady this season, rising and falling almost over night.

Mr. McConkey, of Barrie, was in the district this week buying a carload of dairy cattle. He is able to pay a fair price only for the better type of cattle as poor ones are not wanted on the market at any price.

WARSAW.

WARSAW, July 19.— A good, soaking rain to fill out the garin is very badly needed. There have been nice rains, which made farmers hopeful, but they were immediately followed by drying winds. Those who have fall wheat are thankful they have it, and wish they had more, but other garins are rushing on too fast.

In Northumberland the straw is short. Hay is light; timothy fairly good, but the aite forsts seem to have stunted the clover growth, so that while it is thick on the ground it is not high enough for the mower to cut. Corn and roots give promise of being fairly good. Allan Payne has a splendid field of corn up quite high, and healthy looking.

The above report comes about the same all around Warsaw and North Dummer.

Local starwberry corps are about done. Wild ones were quite plentiful in some places, but they, too, have suddenly come to an end. Red currants and gooseberries are coming on.

Eggs still bring 24 cents to the farmer.

TRENT RIVER.

TRENT RIVER, July 19. — The farmers of Trent River district report all grain looking fine. The recent showers were beneficial to the growth. The farmers are busy at the haying.

Garden raspberries promise an abundant crop, as the bushes are heavily loaded. Some have picked a few already, but by another week they will be ready to pick.

The wild raspberries will be plentiful, but will not be ripened for a couple of weeks yet.

EAST EMILY.

EAST EMILY, July 19. — The farm crops of all kinds in this locality are coming on very rapidly.

The fall wheat is filling out very well.

Barley is nearly all shot out, but the straw is verp short.

Some of the farmers have field peas fit for using, and some are past that stage.

The apple crop is going to be very poor this year except for a few harvest apples.

Cherries are ripe and anyone who has them around here, report the yield as being very good.

There are no plums in the country of any account.

The strawberries are nearly all over in this district, and are now selling at two boxes for 25 cents. They were 10 cents per box last week.

Most farmers are busy thinning their turnips this week.

RAIN CAUSES LOSS IN FLOW OF HONEY

Government Finds Unusually Variable Condition in Bee Activity.

WASHINGTON, July 19. — Lack of rain in some areas and too much in others have caused a considerable depreciation of the flow of honey in various parts of the country.

In California, reports the Department of Agriculture, beekeepers say that they are experiencing the worst drought in a great many years. The bees are barely making a living there and a heavy loss in bees is anticipated during the summer and fall if the dry spell continues. It is preventing the accumulation of sufficient polen, which no amount of sugar feeding can replace.

The same condition is reported from the mountain states and several of the southeast states. On the other hand through practically the entire clover belt there has been so much rain that bees have been unable to work on clover and other available honey plants.

The best crop for years, however, is reported along the Oregon coast mostly from Hungarian vetch and clover. But the flow is about over. First bloom alfalfa has yielded unusually well in Washington, but in Eastern Oregon, southwest Idaho and parts of Utah, continued dry weather and high winds, coupled with the activity of the alfalfa weevil, have dried up plant life and there has been practically no honey yield.

SWEET CLOVER AS FARM CROP HARD TO BEAT

A Campbellford Man Calls it the Savior of Old Ontario.

EARLY VENTURE.

Sweet Clover Was Once Classed With Mustard and Other Weeds.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 18. — Ask J. R. Battisby his opinion of sweet clover as a farm crop and there will be nothing equivocal in his reply which is invariably made in the same words.

"Sweet clover has already proved itself the savior of Old Ontario," he will answer in the emphatic style that has become second nature to him in calling attention to the fine points of a thoroughbred animal at an auction sale.

Mr. Battisby has more than an outsider's interest in this crop as he is held responsible for its introduction in this district. About 15 years ago, when Mr. Battisby was farming at Mongauston, a brother who came on a visit from California brought with him a bushel of sweet clover seed, which was then a favorite crop among the farmers of the South. With some misgiving, but enterprising as ever, Mr. Battisby sowed the seed, and the hundreds of acres now under sweet clover in Seymour Township owe their source of supply to the plot first sown to it by Mr. Battisby.

Mr. Battisby's venture was at the outset regarded with considerable cynicism by his neighbors, some of whom even went so far as to accuse him of introducing and propogating a foreign weed which would in time ruin the country. It takes a long time and a vast store of patiences to make an innovation popular, especially among farmers who have been wedded to age-old agricultural idols, but Mr. Battisby, after being convinced himself, succeeded in satisfying those around him that he had really found something worth while.

As Summer Pasture.

Difference of opinion on this subject still exist, but the acreage goes to show that Mr. Battisby has the majority with him. Even those who grow it most extensively differ as to its feed value as hay or ensilage, but on one point there is unanimity—sweet clover has solved the question of summer pasture for the dairy farmer and stock breeder.

One of its most vigorous supporters is P. B. Nelson, Deputy-Reeve of Seymour, who lives on a beautifully located farm about a mile and a half beyond the town limits and off the Hastings road. Mr. Nelson took a representative of the Examiner to a large field of this clover in which 17 head of pure-bred Holsteins were pasturing. The stalks were almost knee high and portions of it showed signs of mining to seed, the large herd of cattle being unequal to the task of keeping it down. The owner said he would be obliged to cut this, but that as he did not believe in putting it into the silo he would save it for hay. Once the crop reaches the seeding stage it is no longer any use for pasture, as cattle will not eat it.

Grows in All Seasons.

Time was when sweet clover was classed with wild mustard, thistles and other weeds. Perhaps one reason for this delusion was that like weeds sweet clover grew vigorously whether the season was wet or dry, or whether the soil on which it took root was high or low, rich or poor, sand, loom or clay. That quality explains its value as a summer pasture, no matter what the season it keeps on growing. Its roots will loosen up the stiffest clay soil, and besides it will kill out weeds, even that terror to farmers, quack grass, disappearing from land where sweet clover is grown. One seeding, however, lasts only for a single year.

Great With Producer.

That is the opinion of Mr. Nelson and other practical farmers who have tried out this crop. One fact must not be forgotten, however. Turn a herd of cattle into a field of sweet clover and they will eat all the other grasses to be found in the field and along the fences before they will touch the clover. The bovine taste for this must be acquired first as is the taste of the human family for raw tomatoes, oysters and other articles of diet which eventually come to be classed as cosmestibles. Cattle in the end seem to relish the feed, and dairymen say that as a milk producer it has no equal. Once a field is eaten down to the ground, the crop makes a quick recovery if the cattle are taken off it for a time, this, too, regardless of weather conditions.

Fine Herd of Holsteins.

Deputy-Reeve Nelson is regarded as one of the best judges of Holstein cattle in the district, and the herd that he owns is the best proof of this assertion. No finer types of the breed can be found anywhere, and when the cattle are placed on the market they always command the top prices. His herd sire has been pronounced by competent judges to be perfect in every point, and Mr. Nelson has been urged to take the animal to the Toronto Exhibition this year. The show ring, however, has little attraction for him, and he does not even exhibit at the Campbellford Fair.

Mr. Nelson is one of the few farmers who keeps a strict account of all expenditures and income. He is not a pessimist, but he is in a position to state with authority that at present prices it takes close management to break even in any department of farming, including the dairy business and the raising of thoroughbred stock.

FARMS IMPROVE IN RETURNS.

Farm receipts showed a better average last year than 1922, according to figures compiled by the Department of Agriculture, from 16,183 owner - operator farms.

The average cash balance at the end of 1923 on these farms was $890, and the increased inventory was $130, making the total amount higher than the $917 total of 1923.

But the cash balance of $890 last year was all the average of these farms made available to the owner to pay his living expenses, take care of debts, and make improvements. Interest on debts for 1923 averaged $230 and the outlay fo improvements averaged $140.

Not much left for living expenses.

NEW WRINKLES FEEDING HOGS

Tests Reveal Value of Organic Supplements to Reguar Diet.

The value of organic supplements for hog feeding has been demonstrated in a number of tests completed during the past few years on the Dominion Experimental Farms.

In a feeding test conducted with four lots of Yorkshire hogs, two commercial tankages and a commercial meat meal were fed in self-feeding hoppers as supplements to the meal ration which in this instance contained milk as well, while the remaining lot was used as a check in order to determine the economy of feeding these supplements and also the quantity which the hogs would consume.

The test commenced on 9th January, and continued for a period of 90 days. Each lot included seven pigs averaging from 44 to 54 pounds in weight. The meal ration for all lots consisted of ground oats, 2 parts; ground barley, 1 part; shorts, 1 part; middlings, 1 part; and lin seed oil meal, 3 per cent. The meal was fed as a milk slop in troughs. Each lot of hogs consumed 1,710 pounds of the meal mixture and 3,322 pounds skim milk. Lot 1 was used as the check and did not receive by-products, while Lot 2 consumed 9.6 per cent of tankage; Lot 3, 11.4 per cent. of No. 2 tankage; and Lot 4, 9.6 per cent of meat meal.

Lot 1 made slightly the lowest gains as well as the most economical gains followed in turn by the lot on No. 1 tankage, the lot on No. 2 tankage, and the lot of meat meal. The average daily gains per hog were 1.03 pounds, 1.05 pounds, 1.08 pounds, and 1.09 pounds, while the feed costs per pound of gain were 5.23 cents, 5.68 cents, 5.74 cents, and 5.89 cents respectively.

The addition of the meat by-products increased the gains, but this increase was not sufficiently large to compensate for the increased cost of the ration.

The results further indicate that it is not economical to add as much as 10 per cent. of meat by-products to a well-balanced meal and milk ration.

These results agree in principle with those of previous tests in that organic supplements increase the gains produced in a given period, and also that it is not usually economical to supply these much in excess of 5 or 6 per cent. of the meal ration.

China contributes between 30 and 45 per cent of carpet wool.

CROP REPORTS IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

Butter Prices Hold Firm But Eggs Are Plentiful. Here.

NEW POTATOES.

Haying General in Durham County—Late Showers Did Lot Good.

MILLBROOK, July 19.—Only a fair quantity of butter is being brought into the stores at present, the dairy variety selling at 30 cents, and creamery butter at 38 cents a pound. Eggs are about as plentiful as usual at this season retailing at 25 cents a dozen. Cauliflowers, supplied from W. Tremaine's garden this week, are a good size, firm and well-bleached and sell at 20 cents each.

The supply of strawberries from local growers has somewhat fallen off but a quantity shipped in from Port Hope or Peterborough bring 10 cents a box. New potatoes, also brought in from outside are 50 cents a peck.

A few fowl are offered, hens bringing 25 cents a pound.

The Rose Crop

Roses of all varieties and colors have a profuse bloom this season, though the heavy rains and local hail storms have destroyed the blossoms considerably during the past few days. The whitening of the foliage proves the presence of leaf hoppers—the tiny white or pale yellow insects which lodge on the undersides of the leaves. Practically all kinds of roses are subject to this pest but the crimson rambler is particularly susceptible.

To destroy the leaf-hoppers apply thoroughly to the undersides of the leaves a solution of nicotine and soap in water in the proportion of one tea spoon of Black leaf 40, and 2 ounces of soap, to one gallon of water. A small hand-spray or a sprinkling can may be used for the purpose.

Cutting the roses, as they bloom, leaving long stems, will strengthen the bushes and tend to the production of more buds. "Be liberal with your roses and they will be liberal with you." About every three weeks dust the foliage while damp with dew, with a mixture of nine parts dusting sulphur and one part finely ground lead arsenate to prevent black spot and mildew.

Early Potatoes

Early potatoes are in blossom and at least one local gardener has been using new potatoes from his patch, the tubers being the size of large hen's eggs. Commecrially the acreage planted in potatoes throughout Ontario has been increased this season. On the whole the crop is making good progress taking into account the fact that planting was late in beginning. To control the insects and fungus diseases which every season take serious toll of the potato crop use mixture of one pound of arsenate of lead to eight or ten pounds of freshly slaked lime. In a small garden apply from a long tin which has a canvas screen at the lower end, shaking as from a salt cellar, and giving the rows a thorough dusting with the powder.

Haying General

Haying is general throughout the district and the crop on the whole is much better than was anticipated earlier in the season. In some section the low-lying meadows are producing the best yield. It is fortunate that the increased acreage of alfalfa is turning out well this season. A memorial to Wendelin Grimm who in 1867, sowed the first few pounds of alfalfa which he had brought with him from Germany, has recently been erected in Carver County, Minn It takes the form of a mammoth boulder with an inscribed bronze tablet, and has been set up on the very farm where the original seed was sown. he variegated blossom of the Grimm alfalfa is thought to be the result of crossing between the variety grown in the southern States, which usually was killed out during the winters if planted in northern latitudes, and the yellow flowered alfalfa of Northern Asia.

Showers Help

The frequent showers of the past week or ten days, while hay harvest is reaching its height, has led to a repetition of the warnings issued by Department of Agriculture regarding the danger of putting hay into the barn while moist. Some farmers claim that they have followed this neglectful practice for years and have had no evil results, yet that fact is that millions of dollars have been lost annually through barn fires from spontaneous combustion. Sooner or later the right conditions will be created for a sudden bursting into flames, and careless folly will be paid for not only at the expense of new buildings, but with the possible loss of contents as well which may include valuable stock and machinery.

The Cherry Crop

Cherry trees in local gardens are loaded with fruit though the slight blight on the outside branches, in some cases, seems to show the results of late frosts while the trees were in the blossom stage. The scarecrows that are making their appearance throughout the neighborhood show that steps are being taken to guard against the menace of birds carrying off the fruit as the ripening period approaches.

EAST TO LOSE SEPARATE ENTITY

Gordon and Brethen Both Active in Debate.

Accordng to the new redistribution of constituencies the Riding of East Peterborough no longer exists, its component municipalities being allocated to the ridings of West Peterborough and West Hastings.

Both Mr. G. A. Brethren and Mr. G. N. Gordon, the members from Peterborough, took a leading part in the debate and although the former strongly resisted the bill, it was shown that he failed to support the amalgamation of the two Peterboroughs on another occasion, and that he was satisfied at one time to accept a riding in lieu of the one he now represents which would incur a violation of county boundaries.

Mr. Brethen.

In the course of the debate when the Hastings-Peterborough proposed riding came up for discussion, Mr. G. A. Brethen moved an amendment to the Ontario Schedule of Bill 2, in which he proposed to leave the East and West Ridings of Hastings, remain intact, uniting the two Peterborough ridings into one.

He declared that there was no objection to the electors of East Peterborough losing their entity as a riding and that by reason of the fact that East Peterborough was one of the smallest ridings, if not the smallest, in Ontario, it is only fair and just and in accordance with the wishes of both ridings that they be joined.

In response to the argument advocated, that a union of these ridings would create too large a district, which the speaker admitted was somewhat in excess of the standard, he pointed out that other electoral districts larger than the whole county of Peterborough, remained as they were, and were not disturbed by the Redistribution Committee.

Mr. Brethern in support of his contention, read resolutions in favor of the unino from the Peterboro County Council, from a meeting representative of the three political parties in the riding of East Peterboro, and forwarded to him by the secretary of the Liberal Association in his riding, and mentioned the fact that several townships had passed resolutions to the same effect.

Quoted Premier.

Continuing he said that not only are the people of Peterborough County practically unanimous on the question of the two ridings, but he found that they were in accordance with the principles laid down by the Right Hon. the Prime Minister, quoting his remarks on the occasion of the second reading of the Bill on March 25th, when he said:

"There are guiding principles which have been observed in the past, and which experience would seem to indicate it is advisable strictly to adhere to. The first of these is the principle of following municipal organizations as a basis in whatever may be done in arranging the constituencies. There are obvious reasons why this should be a guiding principle. The municipal oragnization is the basis of oru entire judicial system, of our municipal system, and by holding to the County unit, municipal organization, we are following a basis that is familiar to the country generally."

Political Jobbery.

In conclusion, Mr. Brethren reiterated that he had shown that the union of the Peterboros was not only in accordance with the wishes of the two ridings but in accordance with the principles laid down by the Prime Minister. He further said: "The arrangement proposed by this bill is not wanted by the people of Hastings, the people of Peterboro or, to my knowledge, to anyone, unless it be someone who is interested in making for himself a safe seat. I say that this proposal, the only explanation of which is evidently that this riding has been bartered and sold for nothing but political expediency, is something that I will never accept —never! never! never!"

Changed Attitude.

At this stage of the debate Mr. Stewart, member for Leeds, who when Peterboro County came up for discussion before in the House, moved that the two ridings in Peterboro County be consolidated into one, stated that he received, to his surprise, no support from Mr. Brethren on that occasion, although his proposal was defeated, pointing out that only two voted for the motion.

He further stated that when he sponsored the retention of the two ridings, constituting Hastings County, the member from East Peterboro was again silent. He explained that though continually protesting the matter, became the subject of negotiation and a compromise was affected, adjusting the ridings as they appear in the schedule, remarking that "although in the beginning we would have welcomed just exactly what the hon. member (Mr. Brethren) moved for, matters have arrived at such a stage that we cannot possibly accept it. To me, an agreement made with respect to any matters, political or otherwise, verbal or in writing, is binding and this compromise has been arrived at; and for that reason we are unable to accept the amendment moved at this late hour by the hon. member for East Peterboro. I appeal to the hon. members behind me in this group, whom the member for South Oxford and myself have represented in good faith throughout the negotiations, to vote against the amendment and to support the solution which has been arrived at as a compromise between all parties as set forth in the schedule."

Mr. Gordon.

Mr. G. N. Gordon, member for Peterboro West, followed Mr. Stewart in the discussion, explaining that Peterboro East was a very small riding and that the amalgamation of the two would create a riding far in excess of the desired standard. He pointed out that according to the schedule, by the addition of Otonabee, Lakefield and Douro, to West Peterboro, a total of 5,587 would be added to the riding.

It was shown that these municipalities were closely addied to the City of Peterboro as they are contigious to the City of Peterboro, some of the residents of the Townships of Otonabee and Douro working in the City. In the eastern townships the relationship is more to the east, although some come to the west, said Mr. Gordon.

If the riding of Peterboro in the amendment proposed by Mr. Brethren was carried out it would be three or four times greater than West Hastings, stated Mr. Gordon.

The schedule joins East Peterboro with the exception of the three municipalities mentioned to the riding of West Hastings. The speaker pointed out that as it was necessary to cut out a riding in this part of the Province, East Peterboro was chosen, observing that the compromise arrived at was not only reasonable, but fair and just.

Boundary Violation.

Mr. Kennedy (Glengarry) and Mr. MacDonald (Pictou), who participated in the debate, both opined that although advisable to be guided by county boundaries it was inevitable, in the solution of some situations that they be violated, the latter pointing out that Mr. Brethren on one occasion before the whole committee strongly urged the joining of Rawdon and Huntington Townships to East Peterboro as it stands, observing that although he favored county boundaries he was perfectly satisfied with the constituency which meant a violation of county boundaries.

Amendment Lost.

Mr. Brethren contradicted Mr. MacDonald on this point, but the former immediately rose to his feet, explaining that as chairman of the general committee, he was speaking of the facts as they became him in a judicial way.

This closed the debate and Mr. Brethren's amendment was defeated 86 to 40.

A WAGE CLAIM IS DISMISSED

Plaintiff's Conduct Estopped Him From Succeeding.

Mr. John Grimison brought an action against Motors and Machines Limited in the County Court, which was heard before His Honour Judge Huycke at the June sessions. The Plaintiff was a former member of the Defendant firm and claimed for wages due him or services rendered after the severance of his connection as a sharholder.

The trial Judge found that when the Plaintiff sold his interest in the company he took into considering the liability alleged to be existing.

Mr. J. A. O'Brien acted for the Plaintiff and Mr. Jos. Wearing for the defence.

Following is the Judgment delivered July 17, 1924:

"This is an action for wages and after careful consideration I have concluded the action must fail.

"In the first place the onus is on the Plaintiff. There is no doubt he was working at one time for the defendant company at the stated rate, but he left and went back to work later on under different conditions, and the defendant says under different arrangements.

"The defendant's theory is borne out to a very considerable degree by the evidence of Mr. Humpage, the accountant. I think I must find that the Plaintiff knew of the statement prepared by Mr. Humpage, and gave him assistance and information in arriving at the facts and the financial condition of the company at that time. If there was an additional liability of the claim sued on herein the Plaintiff should have at that time insisted on its being put in the list of liabilities. This he did not do and sold all his interest in the company to Mr. Wylie for the sum of $500.00, and this sale was made with the Humpage statemento as a basis for their calculations.

"The plaintiff is I think therefore stopped from making the claim set out in this action and must therefore fail.

"Action dismissed with costs.

E. C. HUYCKE."

JAMES WILSON TO GET AN EXTENSION

Receives Another Three Years From Uxbridge Magistrate.

James Wilson alias Walker, who was on Thursday sentenced to three years' imprisonment in Kingston Penitentiary for several offences in Lindsay, was yesterday taken by Provincial Constable Storey of Lindsay and C.N.R. Special Constable W. H. Howard of Peterborough to Uxbridge, where he received an additional sentence of three years and seven months.

Six charges were laid in Uxbridge, covering the theft of two automobiles, the burglarising of two stores, and of the C.N.R. stations at Sunderland and Goodwood.

The cars were the property of Duncan Bros., of Orillia, and M. Tarvis of Ashburn, and the stores were those of Robinsky and Murrison at Goodwood.

Provincial Constable G. Taylor of Uxbridge recovered one of the cars at Claremont and Detective Howard recovered the second at Sunderland.

Wilson pleaded guilty t oth six charges, and the sentence of three years and seven months will be served after that of three years given in Lindsay and two months in Toronto, making six years and nine months in all.

Magistrate Hamilton of Uxbridge commended Constable Storey and Detective Howard on the way in which they handled the case, and on their acumen in recovering the cars and property.

At the same Court, Otto Lott was fined for carrying a revolver, the fine and costs amounting to $47.50.

Wilson also packed a gun in committing his depredations, and the weapon was found in his possession when he was arrested.

Paul In Possession

By RUBY AYRES

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The story thus far:

When John Collinge died he left behind him his adopted daughter, Wanda Griffin, a headstrong, passionate and overbearing girl, and his son Paul, with whom he had quarreled, and who had gone abroad. Paul comes home for the reading of the will, and to Wanda's surprise, she finds she is disinherited, and that he is the heir. Paul dislikes Wanda intensely because of her behavior, and tells her she must leave the house immediately; she refuses and, in order to stay there, pretends to be ill. At last matters reach a crisis, and Paul orders Wanda out of the house. She goes up to London with Mrs. Garnet, her one friend, with whom she is to live. The day after she arrives, Clare's brother Harry, the "black sheep" of the family, comes home unexpectedly, and falls in love with Wanda. Paul comes to see Wanda and she realizes, all too late, that it is Paul she really loves. He objects to her friendship with Harry Courtney whom he distrusts. Wanda discovers that Paul is paying for her to live with Mrs. Garnet, and immediately leaves, having written to Harry to say that she will marry him. She asks him to meet her at Victoria Station the next day.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XXXI.—DISAPPOINTMENT.

It was ten minutes to four when Wanda reached Victoria, and at a quarter past Harry Courtney had not arrived.

From being anxious, Wanda grew angry to think that any man should so dare to disregard her. He had said that he loved her, and had asked her to marry him, and yet now she was lonely and unhappy, and would have given the world for him to come and cheer her, he had failed.

Men were all the same, she supposed bitterly, fair-weather friends. Well, she would show them how independent she could be; she would show how little she cared for any of them.

She gave a last glance round, and walked out of the station to find that the rain was pouring steadily down. The sky looked grey and unlifting, and she had neither umbrella nor raincoat; her heart sank.

Down at Grey Chumleys she had never minded a wetting, but there she had always had a luxurious room to which to return, and plenty of clothes into which to change. It was different now, when she had no home, and only a few pounds in the world.

She stood in one of the entrance doors feeling cold and dispitied. Where could she go? What could she do?

"Taxi, miss?" a porter asked.

Wanda shook her head; she had no money to waste on taxi-cabs.

She was just making up her mind to chance getting drenched and make a dash across the street to a tube station, when someone touched her arm.

"Wanda!" and turning, she looked into Paul's face.

She was so glad to see him that the tears welled into her eyes, so glad to see him that when he took her suit-case from her, and with his hand still on her arm, drew her back into the station, at first she offered no resistance.

She had been lonely and miserable, and she was lonely no longer. With Paul she felt quite safe and happy, even though she knew that he disliked her intensely and only wished to be rid of her.

She forgot to wonder why he was here, for the moment she was content.

Then he said abruptly:

"Have you had any tea? Very well, we'll go and get some."

He led the way into the restaurant, and she followed meekly. He chose seats at a corner table, and ordered tea and hot toast.

"You look frozen," he said angrily! "How long have you been hanging about here? Haven't you had any lunch?"

She lied desperately.

"Of course I have, and I'm not cold." Then all at once she realized her position. "Why are you here?" she asked defensively.

"To find you," he answered grimly. "Thank Heaven I was in time." A faint smile crept into his eyes. "You gave him every chance to keep the appointment," he said.

The hot color rushed to her cheeks.

"What do you mean?" she demanded.

"Only that I could not imagine you waiting five minutes for the best man on God's earth, and Courtney is one of the worst. I had no hope of finding you." He laughed. "It only shows how little a man can hope to know any woman."

YOUNG KIWANIS LOST IN LINDSAY

"Doc" Craig's Midgets Defeated 9-6 by Lindsay Juveniles.

LED BY DENTISTS.

(From the Lindsay Post.)

The Kiwanian team of the Lindsay Juvenile League, won from the Kiwanis team of the Peterboro Midget League Thursday night by the score of 9 to 6. Incidentally it should be mentioned that six of the Lindsay nine are able to qualify under the age limit of 16 years, and under.

The game was scheduled for seven innings but the visitors expressed the wish to go the limit, and this was granted at the expiration of the sixth innings.

Lindsay nine had the advantage with the willow and many fine clouts were registered. If anything, however, the visitors played better ball in certain sections of the field.

"Shorty" Moran and Eddie Babcock were the battery for the winners and performed well. Board relieved Moran in the last two innings and also showed that he has considerable 'stuff' on the ball. Unfortunately Babcock received a split finger in the 9th, when his hand came in contact with the bat. Fever played well in right garden and Ross Forbert and Homer Tripp covered short and third nicely. Board caught a difficult high fly in the 7th innings, and figured in a double play all by himself. He also had three safe hits to his credit and Tripp and Babcock two safeties each.

For the visitors Spry pitched the first three innings and after the first frame he handled himself well. He was relieved in the fourth by the visitors' regular pitcher, Lewis by name, who had better control, and a fast outshoot, which fooled the locals for a spasm or two. A young lad called Spencer did the receiving and for a youngster he handled himself well. Jennings at third got under a couple of flies which required some sprinting and good judgment.

As features of the game it might be stated that Moran had seven strike-outs to his credit in seven innings, and Board showed up well with five fans in two innings. Spry for the visitors had one fan in three innings. A peculiar catch was made in deep centre when Hutchinson juggled a high fly, which dropped into the hands of Martin who was also on hand to catch the elusive sphere. Fever saved the situation a couple of times in right field by nabbing a couple of long flies. Forbert at first made a couple of good catches of wide heaves to the base. Two of Lindsay's runs in the third were secured on passed balls. Spencer, the catcher for the visitors, made a fine running catch through a clump of fans.

Peterboro went to bat first, and were retired on three strike-outs although Jennings made a neat single. In Lindsay's half the entire nine men had a chance at the bat, and four runs were scored. In this frame the visitors gave out the impression that they were nervous and afflicted with stage fright. The visitors scored twice in the second innings when Moran walked the first two men up. They added another in the third, while Lindsay tacked on three more runs on three safeties, two bingles, and two walks. The visitors scored again in the fifth and Lindsay added two more runs. Peterboro scored a brace in the seventh, which ended the scoring of the evening.

"Inky" Woods (formerly of Lindsay) offiviated on the balls and strikes and handled the difficult job well. B. D. Menzies of Lindsay, acted as base umpire, and also gave good satisfaction.

Te team lined up as follows:

Right Field.
G. Neville ..... H. Fever
Third Base.
J. Jennings ..... H. Tripp
Pitcher.
H. Spry ..... Moran
Centre Field.
R. Martin ..... Ferguson
Second Base.
E. Wolfe ..... M. Board
Catcher.
A. Spencer ..... E. Babcock
First Base.
D. Marshall ..... F. Forbert
Left Field.
H. Hutchinson ..... Switzer
Short Stop.
J. McDuffy ..... R. Forbert

Lewis relieved Spry in the fourth, and Nixon replaced McDuffy in the same innings. Board and Moran changed positions in the eighth.

Notes on the Game.

It was a friendly game and both teams apreciated the spirit of the contest.

Peterboro Kiwanis were in charge of Dr. Craig and Lindsay Kiwanis in charge of Dr. Laidley, both dentists by the way.

It is expected that the Lindsay nine will give the Petes a return game some Wednesday afternoon.

The Peterboro Midget League comprises six teams, including teams sponsored by the Curlers, the Kiwanis, the Rotary, the Sacred Heart and other organizations.

Among the spectators we noticed Cheu, the speedy hockey and rugby star of Peterboro.

Carl Woods of Peterboro, handled the game well. He called them fair.

LAKEFIELD LOSE TO DOUGHBOYS

Prosser Gets a Homer and Counters Four Times.

LAKEFIELD, July 19. — In an East Peterborough League fixture between Mackey's and Lakefield, the villagers witnessed their home aggregation go down to defeat, the final score being 8 to 4.

Shiner Clarke turned in a good game on the mound and Prosser for the winners featured at the bat. He counted four times, smashing the pill for a homer in the first innings.

Payne, the youngest member on the home team, fielded well, and Hurl on the mound pitched a steady game behind none too good support.

Apaucity of players, the chronic problem of Lakefield this season, handicapped the team.

The teams lined up as follows:

Mackeys — Clark, p; Taylor, c; Hardill, 1b; Dugan, 2b; Lundy, 3b; Jobbitt, lf; Prosser, cf; spares, Henry, Powell, and Thorndyke.

Lakefield — Hurl, p; Northey, c; McMahon, 1b; Greer, 2b; Sherin, 3b; Manning, s; Doughty, rf; Dench, lf; Payne, cf.

The score by innings:

Lakefield	111020—4
Mackeys	20141x—8

Umpires—LeBarr at the plate and A. Graham on the bases.

AGNEW BURLIE

TORONTO, July 19. — Only 17 years af age, Agnew Burlie, winner of the featherweight class in the Olympic tourney, is probably the youngest boxer competing in the Paris athletic carnival.

Like Young Stribling of America Burlie is a product of the sage and began boxing at the early and undoubtedly tender age of five, his older brother furnishing the opposition in bouts staged before the footlights.

His brother Alec, incidentally, is now a professional and is esteemed as the leading flyweight of the Dominion.

TORONTO BOXER WINS CONTEST

Douglas Lewis Defeated Haggerty of Pittsburgh in Welterweight Class.

HENNING LOSES BOUT.

PARIS, July 19. — (Canadian Press).—A winner in every round, Douglas Lewis, of Toronto, defeated Hugh Haggerty, of Pittsburgh, Pa., in their welterweight boxing match in Friday's elimination round of the Olympic boxing contests.

In the opening round, after Lewis had landed a couple of heavy blows on Haggerty's jaw, the latter went into a clinch and was warned for holding. After they were separated the Canadian again assumed the offensive and landed smartly, having much the better of the round. The second round opened with some fierce milling. Lewis had the better of it at this style of fighting, and sent the American boxer to the ropes. This round was also Lewis'.

The crowd cheered the Canadian boxer lustily as he came out of his corner in the third round. Lewis, who was in fine condition and going strong, landed heavily on Haggerty, who was almost exhausted. Lewis' heavy upper cuts knocked Haggerty to the ropes, but the latter hung on desperately to save a knock out.

Won on Points.

Leslie Black, middleweight, of Toronto, secured a decision on points over his opponent, Murphy, of Ireland, last night. The first round was uneventful, but in the second round the Irishman assumed the offensive and rushed so persistently that Black's face broke into a laugh. Near the end of the round the boxers mixed clouts strenuously, and both fell to their knees. Honors were about equally divided. In the final round Black dropped a clean drive to the jaw. The men were in a clinch at the gong. Black won on points.

Henning Eliminated.

Harry Henning, of Toronto, middleweight, lost his bout with Elliott of Britain. From the opening the fighters mixed matters severely, the Englishman rushing Henning and upper-cutting, while Henning replied with body blows. Honors were about even in the first round. Elliott renewed his rushing tactics in the second round and both indulged in upper-cutting with rights and lefts. Honors were again easy. In the final session both fought fiercely for the decision. Henning landed hard to the face and Elliott fell to the floor, but was quickly up and ready for battle. The Englishman was given the decision on points.

Al. Mello, of the United States, welterweight, was defeated by Mendez, of Argentina, last night.

In the light heavyweight class, Petersen, of Denmark, defeated Geo. Mulholland, United States, on points.

Sorsdal, of Norway, defeated Tom Kirby, United States, on points in the light heavyweight class.

In the heavyweight class last night Porzio, of Argentina, defeated H. G. Greathouse, United States, on points. The Argentine thus qualified for the finals.

Weissmuller Won.

Johnny Weissmuller, Illinois A.C., won the final of the Olympic 40-metre free style swim, with Andrew Charlton, of Australia, supposedly his strongest rival, third, and Arne Borg, of Sweden, second. Weissmuller's time of five minutes 4 1-5 seconds broke the Olympic record, but was far behind Arne Borg's world mark of 4 minutes 49 seconds, which, however, has not yet been officially ratified.

World's Record.

The United States swimming team won the women's 400-metre relay, breaking the world's record for the distance by negotiating the 400 metres in four minutes 58 4-5 seconds.

Warren Kealoha, of Hawaii, won the final of the 100-metre back stroke event. Kealoha's time in winning was one minute 13 1-5 seconds, breaking the Olympic record.

MARKS RECOGNIZED.

PARIS, July 19.—The congress of the International Amateur Athletic Federation yesterday ratified seven world's record and twelve Olympic record made during the recent track and field competitions eliminated four events from future Olympic programmes. The events eliminated are the pentathalon, the 10,000 metre walk, the 3,000 metre team race, and the 10,000 metre cross-country run.

Title-Holders.

The holders of new world's records ratified yesterday are:

E. S. Liddell, Great Britain, 400 metres race.

A. W. Winter, Australia, hop, step and jump.

Willie Ritola, 10,000-metre run.

Robert Legendre, United States, broad jump.

Harold Osborne, United States, Decathlon.

United States relay teams in the 400-metre and 1,600-metre races.

The marks made by these athletes also stand as new Olympic records.

In addition, Olympic records made by the following were ratified:

Harold Osborne, United States, running high jump.

Clarence Houser, United States, discus throw.

The curtailment of the Olympic programme decided upon is likely to affect especially such nations as Finland, which depend largely upon their distance runners. The three ebents of this class eliminated gave Finland 49 points out of the 166 she scored in the 1924 games.

Saber Competition.

Posta, of Hungary, yesterday won the Olympic individual saber competition. Ducret of France was second, and Gari, of Hungary, third. Schenker, of Hungary, was fourth; Dejong of Holland, fifth; Osier, of Denmark, sixth, and Conraux, of France, seventh. Casco, of Argentine, was eighth.

Mlle. Vlasto of France, defeated Miss Kathleen McKane of Great Britain, who won the Wimbledon title from Miss Helen Wills of the United States.

The score was 0-6, 7-5, 6-1.

PONIES STILL LOSING GAMES

Almost Won Yesterday, But Oulette Was Too Much For Them.

KINGSTON, July 19. — (Special)— Despite the fact that Gallagher almost won his own game with a home run drive, the longest in the history of the field, and drove in two men aside of him in the fifth, Jack Oulette, with good pitching and heavy batting behind, carried off another victory here this evening and the Trunks won out nine to seven in a battle in which the honors were close and the issue in doubt until the last. Belleville's four runs in the second took the heart out of the home fans after they had exulted over the one lonely tally of Kingston in the first. Slowly the locals climbed and in the fifth took the lead in a six to five count. Belleville evened it in the sixth and went one ahead in the seventh. In the eighth Batstone's timely hit tied it up, but the Trunks banged Kelly, who had replaced Gallagher in the eighth, for three straight hits and two runs, which gave them their two point margin.

Gallagher's homer will long be remembered. It fell on the track beyond right field and Casey had just recovered it when the Kingston pitcher, a slow runner, was half way between third and home. It was a supreme effort and a mighty drive, but it could not turn back Gerow's hordes. Ten of the Kingston runners died on the sacks and costly errors in the pinches spoiled many chances. Daley, Compeau and Gallagher did the hitting for Kingston, and Williams, Ross, H. Mills and Casey poled out the safe ones for Belleville.

With Gallagher batting in the second, Oulette pulled a new one when he asked the umpire to call time and calmly walked to the bench and took a drink of water.

The Kingston fans, not without good reason, took exception to some of Hallinan's decisions on put-outs and foul balls. The loss here tonight shoots Kingston far to the cellar with an awful thud and their weakness and lack of co-ordination in the pinches must be corrected if they are to make a showing in the play-off. J. MAYNEORD TO DEFEND LAURELS

Old Peterborough boys Here Next Week to Attend Bowling Tournament.

BIG TIME EXPECTED.

The silver cup donated by the late Hon. J. R. Stratton in 1911, now held by Mr. J. W. Mayneord, of the Peterboro Bowling Club, and of the Warne Trophy, now held by Mr. Wm. Delaney, of Cobourg, will be at stake in the annual two-day tournament being held next Wednesday and Thursday on the local greens, under the auspices of the Peterboro Bowling Club.

Entries from the Granite Club, Toronto, Orillia, Sunderland, Port Hope, Cobourg, Belleville and Campbellford have been received.

Old Peterboro Boys.

Aside from the spirit of competition, a happy time is assured from the fact that several old Peterboro boys will be amongst the visiting rinks.

Bob Wray, Belleville, Dr. McWilliams, of the Granite Club, and Bob Kerr, of the Queen City Club, are three former Peterboro boys who will be present.

A prominent personality will be amongst the visitors in the person of "Mary" Gurran, Orillia, who twenty years ago was an outstanding lacrosse player, and is well-known to the older generation.

Fit and Ready.

Jack Mayneord is in fine shape and well prepared to defend his laurels. A strong rival is expected in Bob Wray, of Belleville, who was a runner-up in the Ottawa finals last week.

Peterboro already have ten rinks entered, and anticipate one or two more from local talent.

Ladies Help.

The Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club will serve refreshments and generally minister to the needs of the players.

The greens are in first-class condition, and will be specially decorated for the occasion. A telephone has been installed for the convenience of the players, and the addition of new lights will brilliantly illuminate the greens during the evening play.

The tournament is open to members of bona fide lawn bowling clubs, and the public are kindly requested to attend.

The tournament will be formally opened at 9 a.m. Wednesday, July 23.

GEORGE STREET AT SPRINGVILLE

Court Miller's Aggregation Show Reversal of Form.

The smart George street set journeyed to Springville last night and in a battle with the premier baseballers of that district, added another laurel to their string.

Although the score was 6 to 2 it was no fault of the native twirler. Boyd Craw socked 'em across in fine style, and it were not for passed balls he might have blanked the visitors.

Armstrong for George street held the Springville crowd with little exertion for five innings, without a counter. Maudsley relieved in the sixth frame, and under poor conditions, when good fielding was impossible because of darkness, the homesters countered twice.

For the losers Harvey Webber turned in a nice game on second base and Alex. Craw exequted the niftiest fielding play of the game by corralling a low throw with a one hand stop.

The church representatives fielded well and are rounding into fine form for their fixtures with the East Peterborough League.

Mr. George Robertson of Peterborough, handled the game.

COLONIALS WON FROM GENERALS

Sixteen Runs Cross the Plate in the Seventh For the Knitters.

The Colonial Weaving Company's girl softball team defeated the Canadian General Electric girls last night at Central Park by the score of 20 to 19, after one of the most exciting finishes ever seen at Central Park.

Last year the Colonials gave the C.G.E. some awful battles but this is the first time this season that the Colonials have been successful in coming through with a win over the C.G.E. nine.

The C.G.E. have been trimming everything before them and have no doubt one of the fastest, if not the fastest, team in the league, but last night they got the surprise of their lives when the Colonial girls were 17 runs down at the end of the sixth innings, the score being 18 to 1 in favor of the C.G.E. The Colonials started a batting rally in the seventh innings, and before the side was retired 16 runs had crossed the plate, to make the score 18 to 17.

The Colonials plugged along and when the game ended the Knitters were ahead by the score of 20 to 19.

WARNING TO RICKARD.

New York License Will Be Revoked Unless Order is Obeyed.

NEW YORK, July 19.—(Canadian Press).—Tex Rickard, promoter, Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, and his manager, Billy Gibson, will have their licenses revoked in New York State if the proposed Walker - Leonard match, scheduled for Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City on August 21, is held before Walker meets Dave Shade, Pacific Coast welterweight, the New York State Athletic Commission ruled yesterday.

Mickey Walker, of Elizabeth, N.J., world's welterweight champion, is in the bad graces of the New York Commission, due to his repeated refusal to meet Shade in a title match, after agreeing to meet any logical contender the State Commission selected for him. Walker is not a licensed boxer in this State, therefore is not eligible for suspension under this ruling, but the Board has decreed in his case that a license will not be issued to him until he signs a contract to meet Shade.

NEW FRUITS ON LOCAL MARKETS

The Strawberry Will Soon Pass From the Stage.

The strawberry, which is petering is having a temperamental time of out gradually from local fruit circles, it, with regard to prices, in the last stages of its 124 season. Prices in stores in the same block range all the way from 10 cents a large box to 18 cents. For a dime apiece, or 15 cents straight, or two boxes for a quarter, or two for 35c, one may purchase ripe ,red fruit, from local or Port Hope gardens.

Red raspberries are newcomers this week, also red currants, the former selling at 35 cents a box, the latter at 15 cents a box.

Cherries are coming in, in large quantities. Wholesalers report the Richmond brand as being the best in quality and quantity for years back, and the favourite Montmorencies are expected next week.

In the stores, sweet cherries are ing from 10 to 15 cents a quart, and ing from 10 to 1 5cents a quart, and from 75 cents to $1.00 a basket.

Bananas are comparatively low in price this year, owing to the large supplies available. Good fruit can be bought at 20 cents a dozen.

Red and blue plums and peaches have a fairly good sale, the former going in some stores at 25 cents a quart, the latter 30 cents a dozen, or half a dozen large beauties for a quarter.

The new potato crop is described as backward, particularly in this vicinity, where many of the growers report a large supply of tops, without much of the spud visible underground. This small potato and large top growth seems to be fairly general, according to wholesalers. The bugs evidently aren't working overtime this year.

An Elmira scientist claims to have discovered a way to make potatoes grow underground, and drive the bugs to the expedient of turning themselves into earth-worms.

Cucumbers stil lremain an "upstage" member of the vegetable family. The available supply still comes from Niagara District hothouses, and their wholesale price is somewhere in the neighbourhood of 12 cents apiece.

Field tomatoes are later than usual, this season. The present supply is not any too generous. Tomatoes from Kitney's local hothouses may be seen in one of the stores, retailing at 30 cents a pound.

"Canadian beans" are in, nice and fresh looking at 20 cents a quart.

One of the wholesalers handled a few baskets of the English broad bean recently, but the vogue of this overgrown member of the great bean family is not very general.

Peas may be bought at 3 quarts for a quarter, or 20 cents a pint, ready for the kettle.

Dairy products are described as firm, with not much variation in the price during the past fortnight.

Eggs remain stationary at about 28 cents a dozen, and butter from 35 to 37 cents a pound.

Flour prices are advanced considerably, owing to the present uncertain wheat situation.

Prices of porkers in the wholesale markets are at a level with last week's quotations, showing no difference in either the live or dressed variety.

LOEB MAKES STATEMENT.

Admits Hitting the Franks Boy With a Hammer.

CHICAGO, July 19.—(Canadian Press). — Richard Loeb, awaiting trial with Nathan Leopold on charges of kidnapping and slaying Robert Franks, has admitted that it was he who actually struck the blow killing their victim, says the Chicago Herald and Examiner today. The blow was struck with a chisel wrapped with tape, and Leopold drove the automobile in which they were riding at the time.

The youths, millionaires' sons and university graduate students, in their first confession told identically the same story, with the exception that each accused the other of striking the fatal blow.

Loeb, the newspaper says, made the additional confession after learning the penalty may be the same for both, regardless of which was the actual slayer. Preliminary motions in the trial are to be heard Monday.

U. S. PAIR WON.

Helen Wills and Mrs. Wightman Carried Off Olympic Tennis.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Colombes, France, July 19.—(Canadian Press) —Miss Helen Wills and Mrs. George Wightman, United States pair, won the women's doubles championship of the Olympic lawn tennis competition, defeating Miss Kathleen McKane and Mrs. Phyllis Covell in the finals to-day, 7-5 and 8-6.

BOARD DECIDED REFUSE TENDERS

Board of Health Will Not Instal New Heating System in Queen Mary Hospital.

Tenders for the re-arrangement and alterations to the heating system of the Queen Mary Hospital were formally opened at a special meeting of the Board of Health last night.

The Board decided that the heating system could be rectified without the installation of a new sytsem as required by the plans and specifications, and a resolution was passed to the effect that none of the tenders be accepted.

The members were of the opinion that certain alterations to the present system would rectify the necessary requirements and make the system efficient, and Plumbing Inspector A. Metheral was instructed to prepare new specifications along the line of making the alterations advocated, with power to consult a heating engineer from an outside centre, for the purpose of advertising for tenders in accordance with the Board's plans.

At last Monday's meeting, the tenders were not opened as a second tender submitted by W. R. Turner & Sons after the date fixed for filing tenders had closed, creating a new situation.

Mr. Turner gave as his reason that a drop in the price in materials enabled him to make a reduction.

The Board arrived at the conclusion that all tenderers should be given an opportunity to revise their estimates, in that case, for if there was a recent drop in the market the Board would benefit by it.

At last night's meeting it was stated there had been no drop in the price of materials since 26th June, and two of the plumbers who took advantage of the opportunity to revise their first offer stated that they were unable to make any reduction, in responding to the Board's notice.

Two of the members opined that they considered the allowance of the second tender unfair, as contractors have the habit of discussing their estimates after the date has closed for filing them, and that it was quite possible that a hint gained in this manner could be taken advantage of. However, as they had extended the time at Monday's meeting, it was decided to open both first and second tenders.

Following is a list of the tenders submitted:

Regan & Shaughnessy, $2,183.00.
Bruce Gardiner, $2,987.00.
Nelson Bros., $1,718.00.
W. R. Turner, 1st tender, $2,672.00
—2nd tender, $2,577.00.
Archibald & Richmond, $2,590.00.
R. T. Sturgeon, $2,200.00.
M. Jamieson, $2,500.00.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. G. Duncan (chairman), Mayor J. J. Turner, Dr. T. W. H. Young, and Claude Rogers.

RAIN IN THE WEST.

Crop Situation Will Be Improved as a Result.

WINNIPEG, July 19.—(Canadian Press).—There were heavy rains over a large section of Manitoba early to-day. In Winnipeg rain fell steadily for four hours. The fall in Brandon commenced at three o'clock, and was continuing this morning. Detailed reports from the Province are not yet available, but it is thought the downpour was fairly general, according to reports reaching here. Those in close touch with the situation, however, are of the opinion that, even with favorable weather from this time on, the Prairie Provinces, as a whole, will harvest something less than the average crop, because there are said to be large areas where little more than seed will be returned.

HOME BANK NEWS

National Committee of Depositors Meet Soon.

TORONTO, July 19 (Canadian Press). — The National Committee of the Home Bank depositors will hold a meeting here next Tuesday, or Wednesday, according to a call sent out by W. T. J. Lee, counsel for the depositors.

At the meeting will be discussed the situation which has arisen as a result of Premier King's statement in the House of Commons yesterday that no measure of relief for the depositors could be introduced at the present session of Parliament.

LEAK

Three years ago, 60 per cent of the taxes paid by Americans went to the national government, 40 per cent to cities, counties and states.

The tables are reversed now. Uncle Sam gets 40 per cent, local government 60

This is the real taxation menace. Keep an eye on spending by Congress, but don't forget local tax-eaters.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

NICK CARTER'S GREAT MELODRAMA COMING TO CAPITOL NEXT THURSDAY.

The Arizona Express Is One of the Famous Writer's Biggest Successes.

For two decades the name of Nick Carter has stood for fast moving thrills and clean stories. Lincoln J. Carter, to give the famous 'Nick" his correct name, wrote dozens of melodrama, which in their day were the most popular stories and stage plays of the time.

In "The Arizona Express," Lincoln J. Carter surpassed himself in inventing ingenious dramatic situations and the developing of thrilling climaxes.

"The Arizona Express" is a Western melodrama which should have a real appeal to everyone who likes a thrill.

"The Arizona Express" will be the feature at the Capitol Theatre next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. On the same bill will be the inimitable Stan Laurel in his latest comedy, "Near Dublin."

AL ST. JOHN IN NEWEST COMEDY AT CAPITOL ON MONDAY.

Al St. John, the long-legged comedian, who can get more laughs per foot of film than a good many of the screen comedians, is back again in his newest comedy hit, "His First Car," at the Capitol next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

St. John is one of those comedians who believe in making fewer and funnier comedies, and "His First Car" is considered one of the comedian's very best.

"THE GUILTY ONE" NEW AGNES AYRES PRODUCTION.

"The Guilty One," a mystery drama, featuring Agnes Ayres comes to the Capitol Theatre for three days next week, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. It is a Joseph Henabery production, adapted from the stage success of the same name in which Pauline Frederick made such a hit in the leading role. Critics acclaimed it a masterpiece of suspense, and this same quality makes the motion picture even more absorbing.

The story has to do with an ambitious young wife who attempts to aid her husband by cultivating the friendship of an influential man. Her husband and brother are led to believe that she plans a secret rendezvous with this man and proceed to his apartment separately to save her. A serious crime is mysteriously committed. In finding the guilty one a tremendous new twist is discovered with a smashing climax.

Edward Burns, recently seen opposite Gloria Swanson in "The Humming Bird," has the leading man's role in "The Guilty One," and heads an unusually capable supporting cost which includes among others, Cyril Ring, Clarence Burton, Crauford Kent, George Seigman, Thomas R. Mills, Dorothea Wolbert, Stanley Taylor, and Catherine Wallace.

Anthony Coldewey adapted the story for use on the screen.

"JACK O'CLUBS" AT ROYAL NEXT THURSDAY.

Popular Star Plays a Fighting Irish Cop Everybody Loves.

"Jack O'Clubs," Herbert Rawlinson's newest starring vehicle for Universal, which comes to the Royal Theatre on Thursday, finds its locale in the picturesque East Side of New York.

An entire street of tenement buildings was constructed at Universal City that the proper atmosphere might be obtained for the thrilling action of the play.

Rawlinson plays John Francis Foley, an Irish patrolman, who, single-handed, has won the respect of the denizens of the district. He is frequently called upon to put up sharp fights with the tough characters who defy law. In doing so he earns the title of "Jack O'Clubs."

The archives of the studio library were carefully searched by Robert F. Hill, who directed the picture in order that every detail of the rathskeller cafe, in which Rawlinson stages his biggest fight, should be perfect. The result is a perfect replica of one of the popular resorts of the East Side.

Gerald Beaumont, well known fiction writer, is the author of "Jack O' Clubs" which appeared in one of the big national magazines.

The supporting cast includes Ruth Dwyer, Eddie Gribbon, Esther Ralston, Joseph W. Girard, Joe Singleton, John Fox, Jr., Florence D. Lee and Noel Stuart.

Revolutionary Results Told By Walter P. Chrysler

Revolutionary riding and driving results have come rapidly during the past year in the development of both the Chrysler and the Maxwell.

They are the fruit of an experience which bridges 20 years and the manufacture of some 2,000,000 cars.

During recent months, with participation of the Chrysler engineering staff, this experience has culminated sharply in refinements of the most important character, which set the good Maxwell above and beyond four-cylinder cars as you have always known them.

The great crying demand of the motoring public today is for removal of vibration and consequently greater ease of riding and driving.

And the good Maxwell now answers that demand in a way no four-cylinder car has ever done before.

Owners are now averaging 28 miles per gallon; grinding valves, setting up tappets, and removing carbon only at long intervals; main bearings rarely if ever replaced.

Our assurance—my personal assurance, without reservation—is that the good Maxwell is the car to satisfy you on all counts; and that it will satisfy you if you give it the chance.

LOCAL OPINION ON REDISTRIBUTION

Dennis and Peck Resent the New Arrangement.

The recent distribution of constituencies by the Federal Government is the matter of much local discussion, particularly in reference to the manner in which Peterborough County has been affected.

Among the prominent Liberals and Conservatives in the City, some favor the new allocation of the municipalities in Peterborough County as the only solution of the harassing situation created in this part of the Province. Others consider with deep concern the severence of the County and strongly oppose the recent measure.

Mr. Peck

Mr. E. A. Peck, ex-M.P.P. considers it most unfortunate that the County should be severed, making it necessary for the Eastern Townships to abrogate their connection with the west.

"We have worked together for years judicially and municipally," said Mr. Peck, "and I don't see why we should not work together legislatively. The present re-arrangement is what we call gerrymander inspired by political expediency, opposing the interests of the County as a whole."

Mr. Denne

Mr. Roland Denne also disapproves of the new arrangement. He declared that the arrangement is a violation of county boundaries and contrary to the principles laid down by the Right Hon. the Prime Minister himself. He further stated that the farmers in this riding, representing the industry which forms the backbone of this country, are deprived of the privilege of carrying a Progressive candidate because of the overswceping urban majority as the riding now stands. It makes the seat safe from that possibility said Mr. Denne.

Mr. Wearing

On the other hand, Mr. Joseph Wearing when interviewed to-day favored the new distribution as it affects this County. He was of opinion that although it is advisable to keep to county boundaries it became necessary in some cases to violate that principle. The boundary rule has been followed by the Redistribution committee wherever possible but it's a hard and fast rule that cannot always be followed, declared Mr. Wearing.

Mr. Wearing was of opinion that the new arrangement would not cause any hardship to the electors of East Peterborough and it would ultimately work out for the best and the East Peterborough constituents would find the measure to their interests. It is a rural riding and they will now be associated with a rural riding," said Mr. Wearing. "As there is no conflict of interests or any powerful urban population in the riding co-operation will be an easy matter.

In conclusion Mr. Wearing observed that it became necessary to absorb a riding in this part of the province and the new arrangement will not only solve that problem but it will also work out to the advantage of the electors in the riding absorbed.

BANDITRY IN TAHITI IS BLAMED ON THE MOVIES

Four Natives Turn Outlaw, but One

PAPEETE, Tahiti, June 19.—Motion picture films depicting valiant deeds of handsome bandits, arousing great excitement among native audiences are blamed for the mild outbreak of banditry that took place during May.

Early in the month four natives, imprisoned for various offenses, escaped to the hills back of Papeete. They descended from time to time on raiding expeditions, chiefly against Chinese provision shops, unguarded clothes lines, pig pens and chicken runs. In the course of their plundering they obtained firearms and ammunition, and after that their armed forays caused something of a panic among the householders of the island.

After many unavailing efforts to capture the bandits, the Government organized parties of natives to search the mountains systematically. One of the parties found the four in a remote valley, but they were not subdued until one of the fugitives had been killed and another wounded

"From the leaves of the trees come the healing of the nations" was the Biblical quotation that impressed the hearers of a "medicine man" vendiny remedies of the "Australian Meditopped by several interesting-looking cine Cocpany." With his rostrum bottles, several of which contained a healthy-looking collection of worms, he dispensed herbal medicine at a dollar a throw, "the rich man's medicine at the poor man's price."

Next loor to him was the auctioneer, disposing, among various other articles, of 25 Brown Leghorns, crated, at a price of 40 cents apiece. Farther on, the mcvist of second-hand suspenlers were being presented to a lax audience.

A load of mixed soft white wood and hemlock slabs sold for $9.00.

In the lower entry of the hall, a triple vocal combat was going on that absorbed the attention of a small crowd of listeners. The stalwart young Italian, who cried "seedless oranges at 25 cents a dozen," while his competitor across the hall expatiated loudly on the merits of his stock, that sold "two dozen for a quarter," broke into shrill, high cries occasionally to drown the concerted voices of three small boys, calling "beans, onions, carrots and celery. Right over this way! Buy them now for to-morrow. Don't wait till to-night."

A silent purveyor in the corner had slices of watermelon at 5 and 10 cents apiece.

Upstairs there was plenty of dairy produce, with prices slightly higher than last week's. Eggs were 29 and 30 cents dozen, butter from 33c to 35c a pound, and cream was 25 and 30 cents a pint.

Spring chickens were 35 cents a pound generally, one woman offering an entire bird of a pound and three-quarters in weight for 35 cents, with a neighbouring chicken a little heavier selling at 70 cents.

Hens were 20 and 25 cents per pound.

In th open section, the new small vegetables, beets and onions and carrots, were having a brisk sale. New potatoes were fairly scarce, and sold at 65 cents a peck, with the old variety at 40 cents.

Green peas were 25 cents for three quarts, or 35 cents for the shelled samples.

Beans were two quartes for a quarter.

Gooseberries were ten cents a quart, and a dime could buy a box of straw-colored or bright red currants.

R. Ivey had new red raspberries from his own gardens, at 30 cents a box.

Sweet cherries were 35 cents a quart, with the lighter red variety selling at ten cents a quart, or 70 cents for a large basket.

A few strawberries were asking 12 cents a box.

Little Tamworth piglets were $3.50 apiece this morning, and two Rouen ducks in a shaded box sold for $2 each.

Bouquets from farm gardens were selling as briskly as usual this morning, with gypsophila and larkspur and pink roses in their makeup. One little girl had bunches of "smoke" flower, magenta red, that turns to brown in the later months.
